Notes for guidance in filling up return required under sub-section (1) or (2) of section 24.

1. On the publication of the notice referred to in sub-section (1) of section 24, every individual, Hindu undivided family or Ruler of an Indian State whose total agricultural income exceeds Rs. 3,500 but is not derived solely from lands in khas possession measuring one hundred standard bighas or less in area, and every company, firm or other association of individuals earning income which is agricultural income are required to make a return of the total agricultural income of such individuals, family, Ruler, company, firm or other association whether or not an individual notice has been served under sub-section (2) of section 24.

The maximum amount of agricultural income which is not chargeable to tax is as follows:—

In the case of—

(i) Any company, firm or other association of individuals ...	Nil.
(ii) Any Court of Wards, the Administrator-General, the Official Trustee, any Receiver or Common Manager or any Trustee or Trustees appointed under a duly executed trust deed, where the agricultural income or any part thereof is not specifically received on behalf of any one person, or where the individual shares of the persons on whose behalf such income is received are indeterminate or unknown	Rs. 3,500.
(iii) An individual or Hindu undivided family whose only source of agricultural income is the land possessed by such individual or family and cultivated by such individual or the members of such family, with or without hired labour, and the area of such land does not exceed one hundred standard bighas ...	The whole amount.
(iv) Any other individual or Hindu undivided family or a Ruler of an Indian State	Rs. 3,500.

Total agricultural income is the total amount of agricultural income chargeable to tax after computation in the manner laid down in the Act.

2. The "previous year" means—

(a) the financial year ended on the 31st March prior to the tax year;

(b) at the option of the assessee, the year ended on the date prior to the 31st March, to which his accounts have been made up; or

(c) any year determined by the Commissioner of Agricultural Income-tax for any case or class of cases.*

Certain conditions are attached to the exercise of the option referred to in (b) and certain further conditions govern the determination of "previous year" in respect of a business newly set up, and these are shown in clause (11) of section 2 of the Act.

For each source of income for which the previous year does not end on the 31st March, the last date of the previous year should be shown.

3. Sources of income.—The following income must also be included in your return under the appropriate head:—

(a) agricultural portion of the dividends on shares owned in companies including those having a mixed income;

(b) so much of the total agricultural income of your wife as arises directly or indirectly from assets transferred directly or indirectly to her by you, otherwise than for adequate consideration, or in connection with any agreement to live apart;

(c) so much of the total agricultural income of your minor child as arises directly or indirectly from assets transferred directly or indirectly to him, or her, by you otherwise than for adequate consideration, unless she is a married daughter;

(d) so much of the total agricultural income of any person or association of persons as arises from assets transferred by you to the person or association otherwise than for adequate consideration, for the benefit of your wife or minor child or both.

4. (i) Rent from land received in cash or in kind by a proprietor, tenure-holder, mortgagee in possession, lessee, patnidar, jaigirdar, brittidar, niskardar or any other holder of land, is assessable to agricultural income-tax and should be returned in the form.

(ii) Salamis (premia) or fees received by, or paid to landlords for settlement of waste lands, abandoned or khas purchased holdings used for agricultural purposes, or for recognition of the transfer of a holding from one tenant to another or for subdivision of tenancy and all malikana receipts by landlords are instances of income derived from land assessable to agricultural income-tax, and should be returned in this form.

It may be noted that the amount whether reckoned as a portion of Government revenue or otherwise annually paid by one proprietor to another proprietor is different from the malikana receipts mentioned above which are payable by Government to certain proprietors under certain conditions. The former is virtually rent, and can be claimed for allowance as such and the latter are agricultural income and are assessable to agricultural income-tax.

(iii) For the rate of depreciation permissible under the Act, see rule 3 of the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Rules, 1944. The depreciation is to be calculated on the "written down" value for the year of assessment.

*For those who keep their account according to the Bengali year, the Commissioner has determined that the "previous year" will mean the Bengali year terminating within one month after the end of the financial year referred to in Note 2(a).

5. Income from cultivation, or other agricultural operations in respect of lands, includes profit earned by a cultivator by the sale of his raw produce, even if he keeps a shop for the retail vend of such produce. Income derived by utilising the raw produce of his own lands for the purpose of manufacture of goods by a manufacturer who carries on partly agricultural and partly business operation such as those done in a sugar factory, in rice or oil mills, or by a tea estate, and the income derived by a landowner who grows on his own land, for which he pays land revenue or local rate or rent, forests or other trees or tea seeds or coffee and derives income therefrom are instances of agricultural income. All such incomes as well as those derived from dairy and poultry farming, bathans (buffalo khutis), fruits and flower gardening, lac and cotton growing which are also agricultural income, must be shown in the return.

6. If in respect of the accounting year concerned in the case, your income derived from tea business (cultivation, manufacture and sale) has been determined by the Indian Income-tax Officer, then the income to be shown against item 3(a) is the portion of the agricultural income as computed for the purpose of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922. A certified copy of the detailed Assessment Order of the Indian Income-tax Officer under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, and the demand notice served upon you should be filed in support of your statement.

7. If you utilise your agricultural raw produce, other than tea, for manufacturing goods, you must show in column 7 of Schedule B the market value of the total quantity of such raw produce in addition to the market value of any of your agricultural produce sold by you and may also claim deductions therefrom by filling up appropriate columns of the Schedule. As to what shall be deemed to be the market value of the raw produce you may refer to rule 4 of the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Rules, 1944.

8. In the case of mixed income other than income derived from cultivation, manufacture and sale of tea you should also prepare and submit a profit and loss statement in regard to your entire income derived partly from agriculture and partly from business and fill up on its basis the following statement:—

Profit or loss as per Profit and Loss Account (or Statement corresponding to the Profit and Loss Account) for the year ended ...
Add (deduct if the above figure is a loss)—
Any profits or gains not included in arriving at the above figure of profit
Reserve for bad debts
Sums carried to reserves or other funds
Interest credited to reserves or other funds
Expenditure of the nature of charity or presents
Expenditure of the nature of capital, Agricultural Income-tax, Income-tax or Super-tax
Drawings of proprietor or partners
Salaries and commission paid or credited to the proprietor or partners
Interest allowed to proprietor or partners on capital or loan accounts
Rental value of the property owned and occupied
Cost of additions to or alterations, extensions, or improvements to any of the assets of the business
Losses sustained in former years and charged in arriving at the figure of profit (or loss) shown above
Depreciation of any of the assets of the business
Private or personal expenses
Any other expenditure not incurred wholly or exclusively for the purpose of the business, profession or vocation. (Give details)
Any other expenditure which is not allowable under the provisions of section 10 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, or under the provisions of the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Act, 1944. (Give details)
	Rs.
Deduct—
Any profit or gains, capital sums or other items credited in arriving at the above figure of profit which are not taxable or upon which tax has already been paid. (Give details) ...
Interest on securities tax-free
Depreciation allowable in this return. [See Note 4(iii)] ...
Any other allowable expense which has not been charged in arriving at the above figure of profit. (Give details)
Net profit or loss carried to item 3(b) of the front page of the return form ...	Rs.

N.B—The above particulars should be given for each separate and distinct source of mixed income.

9. Agricultural income comprised in dividends from companies earning agricultural income should be computed, so far as possible on the basis of information, relating to the percentage of agricultural income comprised in the total income of the companies as obtained from them.

10. (a) Deductions from total agricultural income can only be made for insurance premia in respect of insurance on your own life or on the life of your wife or of your minor child, or in respect of a contract for a deferred annuity on your own life or on the lives of your wife or minor child. No deduction is permissible in the case of any other form of life insurance except in the case of a Hindu undivided family where deductions are permissible on account of premia paid to effect an insurance on the life of any male member of the family or of the wife or a minor child of any such member.

The original receipts or the certificate of the insurance company to which the premia were paid must be attached to the return.

(b) No deduction may be claimed in regard to any sum in respect of which you are entitled to get an exemption under section 15 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, in your assessment under that Act.

(c) The aggregate of the sums exempted under section 10(c) of the Act shall not exceed one-sixth of your total agricultural income chargeable under the Act.

11. It may be noted that Schedules A, B and C are to be filled in separately for each district when agricultural income is derived from more than one district by the assessee.

12. In filling up column 6 of Schedule B (a) area unfit for cultivation, (b) the area under double crops and (c) the area under single crop should be shown separately in acres, the total acreage being shown in the column.

13. (a) In filling up column 7 (a) of Schedule B—

(i) enter names of different crops under ordinary produce,

(ii) fill up other columns against tea when green leaves are sold;

(iii) enter vegetables, fruits, etc., separately;

(iv) give the name of the by-product.

(b) In filling up column 7(b) of Schedule B show the weight of produce or number of trees against each kind in sub-column (a).

14. The amount of rent in column 6(i)(a) of Schedule A should show the total of rent in cash and the market-value of rent-in-kind received. Column 6(i)(a) of Schedule A should be filled in thus:—"Rent Rs.....[including Rs.....being the market-value of agricultural produce received as rent-in-kind as shown in Schedule A(1)]".

ORDER.

No. 228Lab.—28th January 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, order No. 753Lab., dated the 5th November 1947, the industrial dispute between Smith Stanistreet and Company, Limited, 18, Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta-14, and their workers as represented by Smith Stanistreet Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sree Panchcowrie Sarkar, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sree Panchcowrie Sarkar, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 19(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act, that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sree Panchcowrie Sarkar, Additional District Judge, shall come into force and shall bind the said Company and their workers for a period of one year with effect from the 1st January 1948.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Smith Stanistreet & Co., Ltd., 18, Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta, and their workers as represented by Smith Stanistreet Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta.

PRESENT: P. SARKAR.

For the Company: Mr. C. A. Buxton, Senior Office Executive, and Mr. A. B. Cattanach, Works Manager.

For the Workers' Union: Sj. Dwijendra Lal Sen Gupta, Lawyer of the Union, Sj. Swadesh Gupta, Joint Secretary of the Union and Sj. Asim Addy, Secretary.

By Government Order No. 753Lab., dated 5th November 1947, an industrial dispute between Messrs. Smith Stanistreet & Co., Ltd., and their workers as represented by Smith Stanistreet Workers' Union was referred to me for adjudication as a Tribunal constituted under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. I gave notice to both the parties and the Workers' Union filed written statement on 25th November 1947 and the Company filed written statement on 16th December 1947. Thereafter issues were framed and the hearing of the case occupied five days, viz., 22nd December 1947, 30th December 1947, 6th January 1948, 8th January 1948 and 9th January 1948.

The Smith Stanistreet Workers' Union was formed in 1945 and it has since been registered under the Trade Unions Act. This is the only registered Union of the workers of the Company. It appears that certain differences arose between the workers and the Company in September 1947, and on the 25th September the Secretary of the Union sent a letter to the Managing Director of the Company placing certain grievances of the workers before him and demanding recognition of the Workers' Union. The Company in reply asked for information on certain points but it appears that these informations were not supplied and nothing came out of it. In October 1947, the Management decided to pay one month's basic salary as bonus and required the workers to sign an acknowledgment in certain terms as a condition precedent to the payment of the bonus. The workers protested against this and refused to accept the bonus on the terms stated. In the same month, the services of four of the workers were abruptly terminated and the workers demanded reinstatement of these persons. The dispute was then referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. The following issues have been framed for adjudication:—

Issues.

1. Recognition of the Union.

2. Security of service of all classes of workers and amendment of the existing Standing Orders.

3. Fixation of basic pay and grade of all classes of workers.

4. Dearness allowance.

5. Question of bonus and its conditions.

6. Question of gratuity and pensions.

7. Question of Provident Fund benefits to workers after three months' service and increasing the rates of contribution.

8. Uniform for coolies and mistris.

9. An additional allowance of Rs. 10 for persons who work with gas and acid on the ground of risk to health.

10. Proper arrangement for medical treatment and for free beds and supply of milk free to the children of the workers and regular health examination of the workers. Improvement of sanitary arrangements on the factory premises.

11. House rent allowance for the workers.

12. Administration of the Sports Fund.

13. Hours of work and interval for tiffin. Improvement of the supply of midday meal and tea in the factory premises.

14. Question of leave.

15. Reinstatement of four workers discharged by the Company, viz.,

(1) Provash Ch. Chakrabarty.

(2) Bejoy Kr. Roy.

(3) Sailendra Kr. Mandal.

(4) Rabindra Nath Bacher.

I shall now proceed to deal with the issues one by one and pronounce my award on each of them.

1. Recognition of the Union.

It does not appear that the Company is actually unwilling to recognise the Union. They have stated in their written statement that if the Union is representative, well constituted, non-political and properly run with the intention of aiding the workers, there is no objection to recognition. It appears that the Company was not aware that a Union was formed in 1945 or that it was registered. As already stated, the workers demanded recognition of the Union for the first time by their letter, dated 25th September 1947. In reply the Company wanted copies of the Union's by-laws and also inspection of the membership lists. This was refused by the Secretary of the Union by his letter, dated 17th October 1947. Copies of these letters are enclosed with the written statement of the Company. At the time of hearing, the informations required were supplied to the representative of the Company, Mr. Buxton, and he said that he would refer the matter to the Board of Directors of the Company and let me know their decision regarding recognition. Up to the last date of hearing of this case, the reply of the Board of Directors had not been received, as Mr. Buxton informed me on 9th January 1948. He told me however that there was no specific objection to recognition of the Union and that the Company would abide by the decision of the Tribunal on this point. As there is no specific objection and as the Union appears to be a representative body formed for the purpose of aiding the workers and also appears to be properly run I do not see why the Union should not be recognised by the Company. Recognition of the Union will also be of advantage to the Company in many ways. I would recommend, therefore, that the Union should be recognised by the Company. Sj. Sen Gupta appearing for the workers pleaded that the recognition should not merely be a formal affair but that the Company should take the Union officials into confidence and consult them in matters affecting the workers. I hope that the recognition of the Union by the Company will lead to co-operation between the Union officials and the Management in all matters affecting the workers for the betterment of the interests of both the Company and its workers.

2. Security of service of all classes of workers and amendment of the existing Standing Orders.

One of the grievances of the workers regarding security of service is that no rules and regulations for permanency of service, promotion and right of defence against dismissal exist. The Company has since adopted a set of standing orders for workmen. The workers have suggested certain amendments of these standing orders. According to the standing orders a permanent workman is one who has been engaged on a permanent basis and includes any person who has satisfactorily completed a probationary period of three months. In the written statement of the workers they have also demanded that a worker is to be made permanent after three months' service in the Company but in the amendment to the standing orders they suggested a probationary period of one month only. This is certainly inconsistent and at the time of hearing it was agreed that three months' probationary period should be retained. A temporary workman, according to the standing order, is one who has been engaged for work of an essentially temporary nature likely to be finished within a limited period. The workers wanted amendment limiting the period to three months exceeding which the workman should be made permanent. I do not think that any such limitation would be justified. Nor do I agree that there should be a provision that a temporary workman should not be dismissed before the work is totally finished.

As regards working hours, the workers demanded 15 minutes' grace. The Standing Order 2 (4) provides for 5 minutes' grace for late arrival. I think this ought to be sufficient. As regards the rules for leave, some amendments were suggested which are unnecessary. As regards the period of leave this will be considered in connection with issue No. 14. Rule 6 of the Standing Orders provides for search while entering and leaving the Company's premises. The workers want certain categories of staff to be exempted from search. This may best be left to the discretion of the Company. Rule 7 of the Standing Orders provides that in the event of certain catastrophes and breakdown of machinery the Company may stop any section of the establishment wholly or partially for any period without notice. The workers demand that such stoppage of work should be subject to the approval of the Union. I cannot agree that this amendment is justified. Sub-rule (2) of rule 7 provides that workmen detained in case of such stoppage for less than an hour shall not be paid for the period of detention. The workers suggest that the workman concerned should be entitled to get the whole day's wages in such a case. I think that this demand is justified as it does not appear why a concession should be made in favour of the workmen detained for just over an hour while no such concession should be made for workmen detained for less than an hour. The general principle should be that the workmen detained should receive wages for the whole of the time during which they are detained as a result of the stoppage whatever may be the period of detention. The other amendments suggested to Rule 7 do not seem to be justified. In rule 8 the workers suggested amendments to the effect that in case of notice of termination of service, a permanent worker should get some gratuity. This will be considered in connection with issue No. 6. The workers also demanded that there should be a tribunal consisting of representatives of the Management and the workers and that all questions of termination of service should be referred to this tribunal. Such a demand cannot obviously be accepted or thrust upon the Company. If the workers have any grievance regarding any dismissal or termination of service, they can always bring the matter to the notice of the Labour Commissioner and have it referred to an Industrial Tribunal, under the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947. Rule 11 of the Standing Orders specifically lays down that the employee's right to get his grievance redressed under the Industrial Disputes Act or under any other law shall not be affected by the Standing Orders. Similarly, the amendments suggested in rules 9 and 10 cannot be accepted. Thus subject to a change in rule 7(2) to the effect that in the event of stoppage of work during working hours, the workmen detained shall be entitled to receive wages for the whole of the time during which they are detained as a result of the stoppage whatever the period of detention may be, the other amendments suggested are all disallowed as unjustified. Rule 7(2) should be amended accordingly.

3. Fixation of basic pay and grades of all classes of workers.

In their written statement, the workers demanded a minimum basic pay of Rs. 40 for unskilled labour; Rs. 50 for semi-skilled labour and Rs. 80 for skilled labour. They also demanded the minimum basic pay to be fixed for a clerk at Rs. 80 per month; for Assistant Supervisor at Rs. 60, for Supervisor at Rs. 80 and for Assistant Chemist at Rs. 150. For unskilled labour they demanded annual increment of Re. 1 rising up to Rs. 60; for semi-skilled labour increment of Rs. 2 rising to Rs. 90; and for skilled labour increment of Rs. 3 rising to Rs. 150; for Assistant Supervisor, Supervisor and Assistant Chemist they demanded annual increments of Rs. 3, Rs. 4 and Rs. 10 rising up to Rs. 120, Rs. 160 and Rs. 350, respectively. In their letter to the Managing Director of the Company, dated 25th September 1947, in which they first formulated their demands, they, however, wanted that leave, basic pay and dearness allowance should be given to all employees of the Company according to the rules and regulations of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. A copy of this letter is enclosed with the Company's written statement and marked A. The Company in their written statement mentions that the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scales of pay has already been adopted for the clerical staff. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme a copy of which has been filed by the Company provides for four grades for clerical staff described as indoor clerks. These grades are as follows:—

Grade D—Rs. 60—2—90 per month.
Grade C—Rs. 80—4—124 per month.
Grade B—Rs. 100—7—170 per month.
Grade A—Rs. 150—10—250 per month.

The Company adopted these grades with effect from the month of October 1947, and 41 clerks of the Company have had on 1st October 1947 increments of pay up to Rs. 10 to bring them on the minimum grade of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme. A full list of the clerical staff of all departments was filed by the Company on 6th January 1948 and the period of service and the present salary along with the qualification of each are shown therein. It would appear from the list that 25 per cent. of the clerical staff are not even matriculates and that the majority in Grade D are either non-matriculates or only matriculates. As I have already stated the workers in their original demand sent to the Managing Director on 25th September 1947 only wanted the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme to be adopted regarding basic pay, grades and dearness allowance. There seems to be no adequate justification for demanding a basic pay of Rs. 80 for the clerical staff, as suggested in the written statement. I think that in view of the fact that the majority of the clerks are non-matriculates or only matriculates, grade D of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce adopted by the Company in respect of them is quite reasonable. I would however suggest modifications as regards Grade C. The basic pay of both Grade D and Grade C is Rs. 60. I think that there should be some difference in the starting salaries of these grades as more qualified men in future are likely to be appointed to Grade C. I would, therefore, suggest that Grade C should start with a basic salary of Rs. 70 rising with an annual increment of Rs. 4 to Rs. 130. No modification is called for in Grade B or Grade A. These grades compare very favourably with the grades mentioned in the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission considering the qualifications of the clerical staff of the Company. The clerical staff includes clerks, ledger clerks, comptometers, stenographers, typists and accountants. The list of the staff which has been filed by the Company shows also the grade in which a particular clerk has been placed. The majority have been placed in Grade D but there are also 37 clerks in Grade C, 4 in Grade B and 2 in Grade A. There are some clerks still on Rs. 55 and some of them appear to be probationers. The probationers should all be absorbed in Grade D on a salary of Rs. 60 as soon as they have been made permanent. There are some probationary clerks on Rs. 50. They should also be placed in Grade D on a salary of Rs. 60 as soon as they are made permanent. It does not, however, appear from the list that the length of service put in by a clerk has always been considered in placing him in Grade D. Clerks recruited between 1940 and 1947 are getting Rs. 60 since October 1947 with very few exceptions according to the list. The list shows that there are clerks who have put in more than 20 years' service and have been placed in Grade D, but are not getting salaries higher than Rs. 65 or Rs. 72-8. It is necessary to devise some method of fixing the initial pay of the clerks who have now been brought on to the scales recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The Central Pay Commission recommended at page 45 of the report that when persons on the existing scales of pay are brought on to the corresponding scales recommended by the Central Pay Commission, their initial pay may be fixed at the stage in the proposed scale next above the pay they are drawing in their present scale, and that to this should be added, special increments at the rate of one increment in the proposed scale for every three completed years of service. I think that a person who has been placed in grade D of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme, according to the list filed by the Company should get special increments at the rate of one increment in this scale for every three completed years of service as recommended by the Central Pay Commission. This means that a clerk who was recruited in, say, 1940 and has completed 6 years of service should get two special increments in the proposed scale, i.e., increase of pay amounting to Rs. 4, and his present pay would thus be Rs. 64 instead of Rs. 60, as is shown in the Company's list. In the list filed by the Company, several clerks of the Sales Department are shown as getting a salary of Rs. 60 in Grade C. Their salaries should be increased to Rs. 70 if they are in Grade C since I have already recommended that the initial pay of this grade should be raised to Rs. 70. Some changes will also have to be made in respect of the clerks placed in Grade C who have put in more than or about 20 years' service, e.g., (1) S. Das of the Cash Department, (2) M. L. Biswas of the Telephone Department, (3) M. L. Ghosh and (4) S. K. Chakravartty of the Sales Department, (5) N. B. Gupta of the Factory Office, (6) A. L. Karmakar and (7) A. K. Mondal of the Calcutta Branch and (8) Sk. Sher Ali of the Issue Department, who are getting much less salaries in proportion to their length of service. They should get special increments at the rate of Rs. 4 per year for every three years of service completed by them in the scale of Grade C. No change is called for in Grade A and Grade B. Promotion from one grade to another will depend on the discretion of the Company and efficiency of the employee.

Besides the clerical staff, the Company also employs certain Chemists and Assistant Chemists. The Chemists are 9 in number and excepting 3 all of them are graduates. The Assistant Chemists are 10 in number and excepting three, the rest are graduates. The minimum pay of the Assistant Chemists is Rs. 70 and the maximum is Rs. 120 according to the list filed by the Company. The pay of the Chemists varies between Rs. 130 and Rs. 260. The Company has stated that due to the wide variation in qualifications and experience, Chemists and Assistant Chemists are engaged on individual contract. The Assistant Chemists are members of the Workers' Union. The Union has demanded a starting salary of Rs. 150 for Assistant Chemists rising at the rate of Rs. 10 annually to Rs. 350. The Chemists are not members of the Union as they are regarded as Officers and I am not required to deal with them. This award will not apply to them. But if I may make a suggestion, the Company can very well offer Grade A of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme to them.

It is obviously unreasonable that the Assistant Chemists should not have a grade but should be recruited on individual contract. The Company can very well offer them Grade B of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme. The scale of pay and grade demanded by the workers for Assistant Chemists is certainly high. I have considered the matter from all aspects and I think that Grade B of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme is the proper grade which can be adopted by the Company in respect of the Assistant Chemists. Though some of the present Assistant Chemists are not graduates, it is expected that in future only Science graduates will be recruited for these posts. I, therefore, direct that the Assistant Chemists should be placed in Grade B of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme and that they should get increments equating their pay to the minimum of Grade B and those who have completed period of 3 years of service should get special increments of that grade at the rate of Rs. 7 for every such period of three completed years.

Besides the clerical staff, there are certain classes of skilled workers, e.g., printers, drivers, carpenters, binkeepers, Supervisors and Assistant Supervisors who enjoy special scales of salary. There are also compounders both passed and unpassed who get special salaries. Unpassed compounders get Rs. 40 to Rs. 49-8 and the passed compounders, Rs. 50 to Rs. 62-8. The printers, drivers and carpenters get salaries varying from Rs. 50 to Rs. 65. Binkeepers get salaries varying from Rs. 40 to Rs. 65. They are all skilled workers and for such the workers demanded a grade starting with Rs. 80 with an annual increment of Rs. 3 rising up to Rs. 150. The Company suggests a grade of Rs. 50 with an annual increment of Re. 1 rising up to Rs. 70. I think that the basic salary of Rs. 50 suggested for these skilled workers is quite reasonable and should be adopted, but I should fix the annual increment at Rs. 2 rising up to Rs. 80 in 15 years. The binkeepers and unpassed compounders who are at present on Rs. 40 should receive increment so that their basic salary may be Rs. 50 and they will also receive special increments at the rate of Rs. 2 for every three years of service completed by them. In the list of the staff filed by the Company on 6th January 1948 there occur names of certain employees of the Issue Department who have been described as binkeepers and some of them are placed in Grade C and against the rest Grade D has been indicated though their salaries vary from Rs. 40 to Rs. 62-8. Apparently Grade D has been indicated by mistake against the names of these employees if they really be binkeepers, those placed in Grade C cannot obviously be so. It is common ground between the Company and the workers that the binkeepers do not belong to the clerical staff but are skilled workers promoted from the subordinate staff. Though, therefore, Grade D may have been indicated against the names of the binkeepers in the Issue Department, they will be placed in the grade of skilled workers as already mentioned. Similarly Supervisors and Assistant Supervisors who are also promoted from the factory staff and are skilled workers should be placed in the special grade for skilled workers. An exception should be made in respect of passed compounders and they should be placed in Grade D of the clerical staff and should receive increments accordingly. As regards unskilled workers, it appears from the statement of the Company that they consist of coolies, sweepers, cleaners, lift-men, peons, bill collectors, booking jamadars, markers, packers and darwans. At present the monthly wage of coolies varies from Rs. 20 to Rs. 24. There are four sweepers on Rs. 20 each. There are two cleaners on Rs. 20 and Rs. 21, respectively. There are two lift-men on Rs. 26. The pay of the peons and bill collectors varies from Rs. 20 to Rs. 33-8. There are some markers and packers on Rs. 18, but the rest get pay varying from Rs. 20 to Rs. 31. The pay of booking jamadars and drivers varies from Rs. 20 to Rs. 31. The Company in a statement proposed that coolies, sweepers, cleaners and lift-men should be placed in Grade A for the subordinate staff mentioned in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme, the starting pay of which is Rs. 20. As regards packers and darwans, they proposed both the Grades A and B and as regards the rest, viz., peons, bill collectors, booking jamadars and markers, they proposed Grade B, the starting salary of which is Rs. 25. They also proposed an annual increment of Re. 1 for each grade with an efficiency bar after ten years and increment at the same rate for further ten years. The workers demanded a basic pay of Rs. 40 for the unskilled workers and Rs. 50 for the semi-skilled workers with an annual increment of Re. 1 and Rs. 2, respectively, rising up to Rs. 60 and Rs. 90. I do not see any necessity for the distinction of unskilled and semi-skilled workers as proposed by the Workers' Union. In view of the nature of the work done by these workers, they should all be conveniently placed in the category of unskilled workers. In view of the very liberal scale of dearness allowance proposed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme which has been adopted by the Company and which I shall presently refer to, I think that the demand made by the workers of a basic pay of Rs. 40 is quite unreasonable. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme has got another grade starting with Rs. 30. I would recommend that the Company should adopt the Grade B with starting pay of Rs. 25 for coolies, sweepers and cleaners and Grade C with starting pay of Rs. 30 for the rest, viz., peons, bill collectors, booking jamadars, markers, packers, darwans and lift-men. Both the grades will get an annual increment of Re. 1 for the first ten years with an efficiency bar at that stage and thereafter the same annual increment for the next ten years. Special increments at the rate of Re. 1 for every three years of completed service should also be granted to these workers. The grades and the increments of pay recommended in this issue will take effect from the 1st January 1948.

4. Dearness allowance.

According to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme which has been adopted by the Company, dearness allowance based on the middle class cost of living index Nos. 291 to 300 is fixed at 60 per cent. monthly on the first hundred rupees salary, subject to a minimum of Rs. 37. On the second hundred rupees of salary it will amount to 30 per cent. per month and on the remainder of salary it will amount to 15 per cent. on the same cost of living index numbers. The Company has adopted this rate of dearness allowance and is prepared to pay at this rate to all middle class employees. For the subordinate staff, a flat rate of dearness allowance of Rs. 37 based on the same cost of living index numbers has been proposed in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme and this has also been adopted by the Company. The dearness allowance proposed is therefore quite liberal and the workers' representatives had nothing to say against this. The workers and the clerical staff should therefore get dearness allowance as above and I recommend accordingly. This will take effect from the 1st January 1948.

5. Question of bonus and its conditions.

It appears from a statement of the Auditors of the Company that during 1943 to 1945 the Company paid three months' wages as bonus and during 1946 two months' wages were paid as bonus. During 1947 the Company has already paid half month's wages as Independence Bonus and has sanctioned one month's wage more as bonus. This bonus was declared on 11th October 1947 and a notice was issued by the Company on that date, a copy of which forms part of their written statement (Annexure D). In it it was stated that the Management had decided to pay one month's basic salary calculated at the June 1947 rates to all employees who have put in one or more years' service with the Company and have worked 275 days from 1st July 1946 to 30th June 1947. The notice also required all employees to sign an acknowledgment at the time of receiving payment in the following terms:—"Received with thanks an ex-gratia payment as per amount against my name. I acknowledge that it is made at the sole discretion of the Directors and I agree it does not establish a precedent or form a new term of employment". By another notice, dated 25th October 1947 (Annexure E), the Managing Director explained for clearing misunderstanding that no new terms had been introduced by the Company for payment of bonus, as in the past years also bonus had been paid under the terms prescribed in this year and that the acknowledgment was required in order to ensure that every employee was aware of these terms. The employees were also assured that the acknowledgment would in no way prejudice the question of bonus in future years and that bonus would always depend on the economic condition of the Company. The workers protested against the terms of the acknowledgment required from them and refused to accept the bonus on the said terms though they were not unwilling to accept the bonus sanctioned, if offered without any condition. In their written statement they have pleaded that bonus was a recognised feature of all industries and that to sanction anything as ex-gratia payment was an insult to the workers. On the date the issues were framed, the workers' representatives prayed for an interim order for the payment of bonus already sanctioned without any condition and without any prejudice. The Company's representatives took time to consult the Managing Director but ultimately the payment of bonus without the condition insisted upon, was refused. It is true that the bonus is an ex-gratia payment and it has been contended in many cases that being an ex-gratia payment it is outside the jurisdiction of an Industrial Tribunal because it cannot be claimed as of right. The Company's representatives did not question the jurisdiction of the Tribunal in the present case and they very frankly stated that they would abide by the award of the Tribunal on the point. Bonus is no doubt a payment which the employer makes in his discretion to his workers in addition to the wages and which the latter cannot legally demand, but that fact does not affect the right of the workers to demand payment of bonus as a reward or additional payment for work already done, and a dispute between the employers and the employees regarding the payment of bonus, it demanded and refused, is an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. As regards the terms of acknowledgment insisted upon by the Company, I do not see any real ground for objection, on principle, to the statement that the bonus depends upon the discretion of the Directors and that the payment of bonus would not be a precedent or constitute a new term of employment. The workers' objection against the terms of this acknowledgment seems, however, to be based on the fact that in the past years no such acknowledgment was demanded or insisted upon. It should be remembered that many of the workers are illiterate and that it is difficult for them to understand the terms of this acknowledgment and appreciate that it would not really affect their claim to bonus in future. In the interest of good relations and better understanding between the Company and its employees, I would suggest to the Company not to insist upon this acknowledgment and I do not also see any necessity on the part of the Company to make the signing of the acknowledgment a condition precedent to the payment of the bonus. I requested the representatives of the Company to consider whether they could not make a jesture to the workers by paying the bonus without any condition. The representatives pleaded their inability to do so but they agreed to abide by the decision of the Tribunal on the point. I would recommend that the bonus should be paid without insisting on an acknowledgment on the abovementioned terms or any terms whatsoever beyond a mere acknowledgment of payment.

The workers demanded three months' wages as bonus. The Company did pay three months' wages as bonus during 1943—1945 as already stated. In 1946 the bonus was reduced to two months' wages and it appears from the balance sheet that this was due to decrease in the net profit. In 1945 the Company's net profits amounted to nearly seven lakhs as would appear from the statement submitted by the Company's Auditors. In 1946 the net profit amounted to four lakhs and forty-eight thousand rupees. I cannot say therefore that the Company was not justified in reducing the amount of bonus in 1946, since bonus must always depend on profits. In 1947, the year ending on 30th June, the net profit amounted to four lakhs and twenty-one thousand rupees which is very nearly the same as the net profit made in 1946. It further appears from the Director's reports of 1946 and 1947 that the credit balance in those two years was nearly the same, viz., one lakh and fifty-three thousand in 1947 and one lakh and fifty-two thousand in 1946. This being the position, I think that the Company can very well afford to pay the same bonus to the workers as in 1946, viz., bonus amounting to two months' wages calculated at the June 1947 rates to all employees who have worked for 275 days from 1st July 1946 to 30th June 1947. As they have already paid half month's bonus on the occasion of Independence Day, I recommend that they should pay one and a half month's bonus more, i.e., half month's bonus in addition to the bonus declared on 11th October 1947 calculated at the same rates. The bonus for the current year ending in June 1948 will depend on the profits made by the Company in that year and all that I need say on the point is that the workers will expect payment of adequate bonus justified by the profits made by the Company.

6. Gratuity and pension.

So far as pension is concerned, the Company does as a matter of fact grant pensions in suitable cases as reward for long and faithful service to workers with between 25 to 35 years of service to their credit, as would appear from the copy of circular (Annexure G) filed with the written statement. The Company so long did not introduce any Provident Fund for ordinary staff and workers, though they had such a fund for some of the higher grade officers. The Company is introducing the Provident Fund for all classes and grades of workers with effect from this year and is already collecting subscriptions from the staff. In view of the introduction of the Provident Fund, I do not think that the workers are entitled to claim any pension as of right. The matter may best be left to the discretion of the Company and I therefore do not express any opinion on the point. As regards gratuity, the Company grants gratuity in suitable cases to workers who have put in 15 to 20 years' service or more. It would appear from the same circular that a worker who has put in 15 to 20 years' service, may be granted a gratuity of four months' basic wages and that where the service is from 20 to 25 years, then the gratuity may comprise six months' basic wages, but such gratuity will be subject to approval of the Head Office. The Company's representatives, however, opposed the grant of any gratuity on the ground that Provident Fund is being introduced from this year. I should, however, like to emphasise that since the workers have not been getting any pension as of right, their claim to the gratuity cannot reasonably be denied. The principle of having either gratuity or pension in addition to a Provident Fund has been accepted in several awards of the Bombay Industrial Court and has also been accepted by Mr. S. N. Modak in his award in the dispute between the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Limited, and its employees, published in the Calcutta Gazette of 20th November 1947. This concern does the same kind of business as the present Company.

It is but proper that an employee who has put in certain years of service should be entitled to the benefit of gratuity and the amount would depend upon the length of service and he should be paid when he leaves the service or retires or dies. The Company's contribution for Provident Fund does not fully compensate the employee so as to dispense with the necessity of paying a gratuity. The gratuity which is ordinarily paid by the Company, according to the circular (Annexure G), filed with the written statement, is certainly inadequate. The Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Limited, allows gratuity to the employees in the event of death or retirement after 10 years of continued good service at the rate of one month's pay for each year of service subject to the maximum of 12 months' pay, the pay calculated being the average pay per month during the last three years of service. The contract workers and the daily rate workers are also eligible for gratuity and their basic pay fixed for the purpose of Provident Fund is the basis of calculation of gratuity. The workers demanded that the same scale of gratuity should be paid to them by this Company and I think that this demand is eminently reasonable, and should be accepted. With regard to workers who had put in 15 years' service or more, Mr. Modak, in his award in the case of the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Limited, recommended a different system for calculating gratuity and in the case of a person who has served for 20 years or more increased the amount of gratuity to 20 years' pay. The workers demanded gratuity on the same scale for persons who have put in more than 15 years of service. I think, however, that gratuity at the rate of one month's pay for last year of service up to a maximum of 15 months' pay calculated on the average monthly pay during the last three years of service for workers dying or retiring after 10 years of service will be a liberal scale and a great improvement on the amount of gratuity which the Company has been allowing up to this time. The best course, in my opinion, is to adopt this scale of gratuity and I recommend it. Of course, salary for the purpose of calculating gratuity should be the substantive salary exclusive of allowances. The gratuity should be paid to clerks as well as members of the lower grade staff and the Company may at its discretion grant gratuity in excess of the above.

7. Provident Fund.

As already stated, the Company is introducing the Provident Fund with effect from this year. The Rules and Regulations of the Provident Fund Trust have been framed and a copy of it has been filed by the Company. The trust deed has not yet been registered, but it is expected that it will be soon registered. The workers raised certain objections to the Rules and Regulations framed and the main objection was that the contribution of both the employees and the Company should be raised from 6¼ per cent. as in the rules, to 12½ per cent. I do not, however, see any necessity at the present stage of any change in the rate of contribution. I think that a contribution of 6¼ per cent. both by the employees and the Company is quite adequate. In rule 2 it is provided that every person employed by the Company shall be eligible for membership of the fund, provided he has completed at least one year's approved service. The workers suggest three months' service. I think that it will be sufficient if the rule provides that every permanent employee of the Company shall be eligible for membership and I recommend accordingly. Rule 10 provides that the Fund shall be vested in not less than three Trustees and that two of the Trustees should be Directors of the Company, one at least being an employee-Director and the third shall be a partner in Messrs. Lovelock Lewes and Company, Auditors. The workers wanted representation on the Board of Trustees and also demanded that one representative of the workers should sit on the first Board of Trustees, which include, according to the rules, the Chairman and Managing Director of the British India Corporation, Limited, and the Managing Director of Messrs. Smith Stanistreet and Company, Limited, besides a partner of Messrs. Lovelock Lewes and Company. Reference was made in this connection to the award of Mr. Modak in the case of the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Limited. It appears that the Provident Fund of that concern is administered by a Managing Committee consisting of three Trustees and two of the employees to be co-opted by the Trustees. Mr. Modak recommended on the demand of the employees of that concern that instead of co-option one representative of the employees might be elected as the employees themselves. Since the rules of that Fund provided for a Managing Committee consisting of representatives by the employees, apart from the Trustees, it was possible to recommend election for taking in one of the employees' representatives. That is not possible in the present case. The Provident Fund is just being introduced by the present Company. I do not think that there is any necessity for introducing representatives of the employees, whether elected or co-opted in the Board of Management of the Provident Fund and I do not see why the Board of Trustees, as proposed in the rules, should not be trusted for proper administration of the Provident Fund. The administration of the Fund is a highly technical matter and the time has not yet arrived for demanding election of representatives of the workers to the Board of Trustees. I cannot, therefore, accept the workers' demand on this point. Rule 24 provides that an employee who is dismissed for misconduct or voluntarily leaves his employment otherwise than on account of ill health or other unavoidable cause before the expiration of the term of 10 years of service, will not get the benefit of the Company's contribution to the Provident Fund and rule 28 provides that an employee who shall have participated in the Fund for less than 10 years will get 1/20th of the money then standing to his credit under the head "Company's Contributions" including interest plus such portion as the Directors may in each individual case decide. Objection was taken by the workers to these rules. I think that a limit of 10 years' participation is a very high limit, specially as the Provident Fund scheme is being introduced only this year. Many of the employees of the Company have already put in long years of service and they will not be able to participate in the full benefit of the Fund if 10 years' limit is adhered to. In the award of Mr. Modak in the case of the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Limited, the limit was brought down to five years. I think that should be the limit in the present case also to allow full benefits of the Fund to the senior workers of the Company. The relevant rules should, therefore, be modified to ensure that an employee who has continuously participated in the Fund for five years and upwards will be entitled to get the entire sum standing to his credit under the head "own subscriptions" and also the sum standing to his credit under "Company's Contributions" together with interest accretions on both accounts. In rule 24 the term "five years" should be substituted in place of the term "ten years" of service. Objection was also taken to rule 25 but I do not see any valid ground for such objection. I hope that the Company will change the rules and regulations of the Provident Fund Trust as indicated above and have the Trust Deed registered as soon as possible so that the Fund may come into operation with effect from the current year.

8. Uniforms to the coolies and mistris.

The Company provides uniforms to all bearers, peons, sweepers, lift-men, darwans, booking jamadars, lorry drivers and lorry coolies. The workers demanded such uniforms for ordinary coolies and mistris also. The Company's representatives expressed their inability to comply with this demand. I do not think that such uniforms can be demanded for everybody as of right and I therefore disallow this demand.

9. Additional allowance for persons working with gas and acid.

At the time of hearing it was explained that in certain departments of the factory, viz., Ampoules Blowing Department, Ampoules Filling and Sealing Department and Strychnine Department, the approximate total number of workers in which was 98, the condition of work affected the health of the workers for which they were entitled to an extra allowance. The Company's representatives denied that the work in these departments was in any way injurious to the health of the workers, though they agreed that the work in two of these departments was more uncomfortable on account of the heat of the gas burners. There is nothing to show that the health of any of the workers in these departments had been adversely affected by the condition of the work therein. It was suggested that two of the workers in these departments were attacked with tuberculosis but no evidence has been produced showing that they were so attacked in consequence of the condition of work in these departments. In the Ampoules Blowing Department there are only piece-rate workers who get payment according to the work done. There is no objection on the part of the workers' Union to retain the piece-rate system. According to a statement filed by the Company, the average earning of piece-rate workers in this department is Rs. 64 and odd and the best workers get as much as Rs. 76 and odd. The worst get Rs. 31-4. As regards the workers in this department who get less, the workers' representatives suggested that this was due to the fact that they did not get full days' work. The Company's representatives stated that this was the fault of the workers who were slack. While it is true that an inefficient worker will suffer on the piece-rate system because of his slackness, it may also be the case that he does not get full work because he is slack. The differences in the earnings on the piece-rate system cannot really be avoided and since the workers do not want to change the system, such differences will continue. The Company should, however, see that there is no case of undue favouritism in the distribution of work to piece-rate workers and that distribution of work is fair to all workers.'

In the Strychnine Department the workers get an extra allowance of Rs. 2 per month, according to the representatives of the Company. They also get a production bonus. This bonus is fixed on the quantity of Nux Vomica seeds crushed during the month and the major portion of this goes to Mr. Chandra, head of the department. The Company should see whether any other method of distribution of production bonus in this department can be devised by which the workers can get a greater share of the bonus. In consideration of the fact, however, that it has not been shown that work in these departments is attended with any risk to the health of the workers and in view of the fact that in one department there is piece-rate system and that in another the workers get an extra allowance and something as production bonus, I am not convinced that the claim of the workers' representatives for an extra allowance of Rs. 10 per month for workers in these departments is justified. This demand is disallowed. I should state in this connection that no such claim was made by the workers of the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Limited, in which also work of the same nature is done.

10. Arrangement for medical treatment, etc., and improvement of sanitary arrangements.

The Company provides a qualified doctor with a dispensary and surgery for attending to the workers in the factory premises and medical treatment on the factory premises is free. Medicines taken away are, however, charged at the cost of materials only. It appears that medicines taken away were also free before, but the Company's representatives say that the cost of materials was recently introduced because medicines were being smuggled out of the factory. The Company's representatives have agreed to reintroduce supply of non-patent medicines free to the sick workers, whether inside or outside the premises of the Company and on 6th January 1948 they have issued a notice to this effect. This concession will apply to all employees and the Company's representatives have also agreed to supply medicines at cost rate to the sick family members of the workers. I think that this arrangement is quite liberal and adequate. The workers demanded free beds within factory premises or at private hospitals. It does not appear that there is any urgent need of free beds within the factory premises as none of the workers resides within the premises and as there are hospitals outside nearby. I cannot also accept the demand of the workers for supply of milk free to their children or of free medical diet to the workers as reasonable in the present circumstances, specially as no worker resides within the factory premises and the Company has no provision for housing them. The Company should, however, arrange for regular health examination of the workers as demanded by them. As regards sanitary arrangements, the workers have asked for more latrines and urinals and better provision for drinking water. The Company should provide for drinking water and more latrines and urinals according to the necessity of the workers.

11. House rent allowance.

The workers demanded free quarters or in lieu thereof suitable house-rent allowance. The Company owns neither property nor land on which they can build quarters for workers and as regards house-rent allowance, the Company's representatives state that this is really covered by the dearness allowance which is given on a liberal scale. I have already mentioned the liberal scale of dearness allowance sanctioned by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and since the Company has adopted that scale and also in view of the increments in pay allowed by this award, I think that the claim for house-rent allowance should not be entertained for the present.

12. Sport Fund.

The fund known as the Sports Fund has been raised by collection of subscriptions from the employees of the Company and the workers demand that this should be utilised for the welfare of the workers in general and that recreation centres like clubs and rest houses with radio sets should be immediately started. The Company's representatives state that the fund is operated by the workers and the proceeds are used for any reasonable purpose selected by an elected committee. It appears that there is a sum of Rs. 7,000 in the fund and that certain games are provided out of the fund. Subscription is, however, voluntary, according to the Company's representatives. Therefore, those who are unwilling need not contribute. The workers want fresh election of office bearers of the Managing Committee of the fund and the Company's representatives have also agreed to such election. The election should be held in course of the next month at a general meeting of the subscribers. It will be for the elected committee to decide for what purpose—for games or recreation—this fund should be utilised.

13. Hours of work and intervals for tiffin.

There is no objection to the hours of work which are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for clerical staff and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. for factory workers on week days with half-an-hour recess. The workers demand one hour recess for lunch. I do not see any justification for this demand, specially as the Company maintains a cheap canteen where mid-day meals are supplied and the workers can easily take their meals there in the course of the half hour recess. On Saturdays, the working hours are from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. for the clerical staff and 8 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. for the factory workers. Tea is distributed within working time. For the cheap canteen the Company provides the staff and all other things and only the actual cost of the food and fuel is charged. There was some out-cry against the nature of the food supplied but in this matter improvement is possible, if the work of the canteen is supervised by a committee of the workers themselves. The Company's representatives undertook to hold an election in course of this month or the next for getting a Managing Committee of five including the Medical Officer as ex-officio member for supervising the work of the canteen. I think that this would result in improvement of the quality of the food supplied in the canteen.

14. Question of leave.

At present the following leave is allowed by the Company:—Clerical Staff—10 days' continuous holidays, 10 days' special or festival holidays and 8 days' privilege leave; Workers—10 days' continuous holidays and 10 days' special or festival holidays. In the case of sickness, each case is considered by the Management on its merit. The workers have demanded 15 days' festival or special holidays, 15 days' casual leave; privilege leave for 1 month and sick leave for 15 days with full pay, 2 months with half pay and 1 year with quarter pay. The Company's representatives were not agreeable to increase the number of special or festival holidays. From the list of such holidays for 1948, announced by the Company on 5th January 1948, it appears that one day has been lost having been merged in the continuous 10 days' holidays during which the factory should be closed, according to the Factory Act. So the list of holidays, as it is, should be increased by one day more and this may be granted on the 15th August, the Independence Day. I do not think that there is any necessity to increase the list of special holidays. Reference was made to Mr. Modak's award in the case of Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Limited, and it appears that the said Company grants 20 days' special holidays in a year, but that should not be the standard and since it is urgently necessary that production should go up, the list of special holidays should not be further increased. It appears from the list of the Company, as announced on 5th January 1948 that 8 days' salary will be paid to the daily workers during the 10 days' continuous holidays since they include two Sundays. This is not, however, proper since the workers are entitled to 10 days' continuous holidays under the Factory Act and they should, therefore, also get pay for all those 10 days including Sundays.

As regards leave, the provision made by the Company is certainly inadequate. There is no privilege or sick leave for the workers and the number of days allowed as privilege leave to the clerical staff is altogether inadequate. I think that for all monthly paid permanent employees, the Company should provide 15 days' privilege leave with full pay and 15 days' sick leave also with full pay in a year. Such leave will be allowed to be accumulated for two years and in addition they should also be entitled to get 10 days' casual leave in a year with full pay, which will not, however, be allowed to be accumulated. Sick leave will be granted on production of medical certificate from a doctor in the service of the Company or from a qualified medical practitioner approved by the Company. In the case of prolonged sickness exceeding 15 days' a permanent employee will be entitled to two months' sick leave on half pay. Sick leave may not be granted if privilege leave is available. As regards permanent daily rate and contract and peace-rate workers, I recommend that 10 days' privilege leave with pay per year should be granted to them as in the case of such workers of the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Limited, according to Mr. Modak's award. Such leave will also be allowed to be accumulated for two years.

15. Reinstatement of four discharged workers.

As regards two of these workers, namely, Rabindra Nath Bacher and Probhas Chandra Chakravarty, it appears that they had been employed as temporary piece-rate workers for one month only from 10th September 1947. This is clear from the copies of the Staff Engagement Book of the Company filed by them. They were informed on 11th October 1947 that their services had been terminated with effect from 9th October 1947. The workers' representatives suggested that they had not been appointed for a month only and that they were actually discharged for their Union activities. There is, however, no reason to think that the Company made false entries in the books with regard to the engagement of these workers. There is also nothing to show that they were dismissed for Union activities or that they were active workers of the Union. The Company was thus at liberty to terminate their services at the end of the period for which they were engaged and this having been done they are not entitled to reinstatement.

The other two workers, namely, Bejoy Kumar Roy and Sailendra Kumar Mandal, were also piece-workers but they were permanent hands employed for two or three years before they were discharged on 10th October 1947. Both of them were informed on 11th October 1947 that as the work in their department had decreased considerably necessitating a proportionate reduction of the staff, their services were no longer required. Copies of these letters have been filed by the Company. The workers' representatives contended that they were really dismissed for Union activities and that their dismissal amounted to unfair labour practice. They were members of the Union from the very start and it is said that they collected subscriptions for the Union from the workers. The Company's representatives said that in discharging these men, they were influenced by certain incidents and copies of two reports regarding such incidents have been filed. The reports are to the effect that these workers had assaulted an employee, namely, Sunil Kumar Das, outside the factory. The persons who made these reports, namely, Sunil Kumar Das and K. L. Das, have not been examined. The incident itself is challenged by the workers' representatives. It cannot be said that the incident alleged has been proved by mere reports and, in any case, this is not the ground on which these workers were dismissed. Nothing has been produced by the Company to show that there was actually reduction in the volume of work in the department in which these two employees worked and that the said reduction justified their retrenchment. Even if some incident, as reported, had taken place, that should not be any bar to their reinstatement. Threatening or assaulting a worker outside the factory is no serious offence or such offence as should bar reinstatement. The report of K. L. Das does not contain the names of these two workers, namely, Sailendra Kumar Mandal and Bejoy Kumar Das. It is not stated that any enquiry was held by the authorities regarding this incident. I am not satisfied, therefore, that the dismissal of these two permanent workers who had been in the service of the Company for more than two or three years was justified and it appears to me that they were dismissed more on account of their Union activities. I direct, therefore, that these two workers, namely, Sailendra Kumar Mandal and Bejoy Kumar Roy, should be reinstated immediately on publication of the award and that the period from the date of their dismissal to the date of reinstatement should be treated as leave without pay without any break of service.

I have finished consideration of all the issues raised and have given my award on those points. In conclusion, I should like to make an appeal for better understanding and relations between the Management and the workers in future. I would ask the workers to be satisfied with what they have got as a result of this award and to combine for raising production in co-operation with the Management. I would also ask the Management of the Company to give cheerfully to the workers what they have been asked to give and to feel that these are just dues of the workers. Finally, I appeal to both sides to co-operate with each other in a spirit of absolute goodwill and with the feeling that neither can live without the other and that the prosperity of the industry depends upon existence of such goodwill and co-operation between them.

By order of the Governor.

PART III—Acts of the West Bengal Legislature.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL.
Judicial and Legislative (Legislative) Department.
NOTIFICATION.

No. 235L.—9th February, 1948.—The following Act of the West Bengal Legislature, having been assented to in His Majesty's name by the Governor General, is hereby published for general information :—

West Bengal Act XII of 1947

THE WEST BENGAL LAWS (AMENDMENT AND REPEAL) ACT, 1947.

[Passed by the West Bengal Legislature.]

[Assent of the Governor General was first published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 12th February, 1948.]

An Act to amend certain Acts and to repeal certain other Acts.

WHEREAS it is expedient to re-enact the provisions of certain Acts made by the Governor of Bengal under the legislative powers assumed to himself under the Proclamation, dated the 31st March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, and for that purpose to make certain amendments in certain other Acts; 26 Geo. V, c. 2.

AND WHEREAS since the said Acts made by the Governor of Bengal will, by virtue of the provisions of article 6 of the India (Provisional Constitution) Order, 1947, read with sub-section (4) of the said section 93 cease to have effect on such re-enactment, it is expedient that these Acts should be expressly and specifically repealed;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the West Bengal Laws (Amendment and Repeal) Act, 1947.

Amendment of certain Acts.

2. The Acts specified in the First Schedule are hereby amended to the extent and in the manner mentioned in the corresponding entries in the fourth column thereof.

Repeal of certain Acts.

3. The Acts specified in the Second Schedule are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the corresponding entries in the fourth column thereof.

Saving of orders, etc., issued under the provisions re-enacted before their re-enactment.

4. For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that any appointment, notification, order, scheme, rule, form or bye-law made or issued under any Act specified in the First Schedule as amended by any of the Acts specified in the Second Schedule shall, unless a different intention appears, continue in force and be deemed to have been made or issued under the provisions of the said Act specified in the First Schedule as amended by this Act unless and until it is superseded by any appointment, notification, order, scheme, rule, form or bye-law made or issued under the said Act as amended by this Act.

Validation of certain actions by, and proceedings before, persons appointed to assist the Registrar of Co-operative Societies for West Bengal.

5. No action taken by, and no proceedings commenced before, any person appointed under section 9 of the Bengal Co-operative Societies Act, 1940, to assist the Registrar of Co-operative Societies for West Bengal shall be invalid by reason only of the fact that the amendments made by the Bengal Co-operative Societies (Amendment) Act, 1946, or by this Act in clause (r) of section 2, section 10 and section 140 of the Bengal Co-operative Societies Act, 1940, were not in operation on the date on which such action was taken or such proceedings were commenced; and every such action or proceedings shall be deemed to be as valid as if such action had been taken or such proceedings had been commenced under the Bengal Co-operative Societies Act, 1940, as so amended by the Bengal Co-operative Societies (Amendment) Act, 1946, or by this Act. Ben. Act XXI of 1940. Ben. Act VI of 1946

AMENDMENTS.

Year.	No.	Short title.	Amendments.
1	2	3	4
Local Act of the Governor General of India in Council in force in the Province of West Bengal
1885	VIII ..	The Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.	(1) For section 49K, the following section shall be substituted, namely :—

"49K. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, no decree or order shall be passed by any Court for the sale of the right of an aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat in his tenure or holding, or in any portion thereof, nor shall any such right be sold in execution of any decree or order :

Restriction on the sale of tenant's rights under order of Court.

Provided that any tenure or holding belonging to an aboriginal may be sold in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) in execution of a decree of a competent Court to recover an arrear of rent which has accrued in respect of the tenure or holding.

(2) When a decree for an arrear of rent which accrued in respect of a tenure or holding of an aboriginal tenant has been passed, such decree shall be executable solely by the Collector and the Court shall, on application made in this behalf by the decree-holder, send the decree to the Collector for execution and the Collector in execution of the said decree may, in his discretion,—

(a) sell the said tenure or holding, or

(b) eject the said aboriginal tenant and settle the said tenure or holding or a portion thereof with another aboriginal tenant on payment of the decretal amount by such other aboriginal tenant, or

(c) place the landlord in possession of the said tenure or holding or a portion thereof for a period not exceeding seven years ;

and if the Collector, in executing a decree under this sub-section,—

(i) sells the said tenure or holding, he shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), follow the procedure applicable to sales of land by a Civil Court in execution of decrees for arrears of rent ;

(ii) places the landlord in possession of the said tenure or holding or any portion thereof for any period, the decree shall, at the end of such period, be deemed to have been satisfied in full and the Collector may then restore the said tenure or holding or portion to the aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat, as the case may be, against whom the said decree was executed or to the successor in interest of such tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat or may settle it with another aboriginal :

Provided that no portion of a tenure or holding shall be sold or settled by the Collector under this sub-section if such sale or settlement would result in bringing the rent for such portion below two rupees in the case of a tenure or one rupee in the case of a holding.

(3) (a) Before issuing a proclamation for the sale of any tenure or holding in execution of a decree referred to in sub-section (2), the Collector shall after hearing the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor divide the tenure or holding into such number of smaller areas to be specified as lots as the Collector thinks fit for the purpose of being sold separately and shall specify the lots in the proclamation ;

(b) when any tenure or holding has been advertised for sale by the issue of a proclamation referred to in clause (a), each lot specified in the proclamation shall be put up to auction separately and as soon as the total amount of the bid reaches a sum sufficient to liquidate the amount of the decree and costs including the costs of sale, the sale shall be stopped and no further lots shall be knocked down, and if even after all the lots have been separately put up to auction the total amount of the bid does not reach a sum sufficient to liquidate the amount of the decree and costs as aforesaid, all the lots shall be put up to auction together.

(4) Before restoring or settling a tenure or holding under sub-section (2), the Collector may, if he is satisfied that the rent of the tenure or holding has been illegally enhanced or is substantially in excess of the rent payable by tenants of the same class for lands of the same description with similar advantages in the vicinity, pass an order altering the amount of the rent of the tenure or holding to an amount which he considers to be fair.

Signature of Textile Licensing Officer.

Date .....

Conditions of licence.

1. This licence is being issued subject to the provisions of the West Bengal Cotton Cloth and Yarn Control Order, 1947.

2. The licensee, if a broker, a commission agent, a hawker or a weaver shall carry with him his licence when carrying on business and produce it for inspection on demand by the Controller or by any officer authorised in writing by the Director or the Deputy Commissioner or any Superintendent of Enforcement or the Controller and, if not a hawker, a broker, a commission agent or a weaver, shall display his licence in a conspicuous position at his place of business.

3. If the licensee intends to store any yarn in any place, premises or godown other than those already mentioned in the licence, he shall intimate the address of such place, premises or godown to the Textile Licensing Officer and shall not store any yarn in such place, premises or godown until the Textile Licensing Officer has endorsed it on the licence.

4. The licensee shall give all facilities to the Director or the Deputy Commissioner or any Superintendent of Enforcement or to the Controller or to any person authorised in writing by any of the said officers to inspect his stock and accounts at any shop, godown or other place used by him for the storage of yarn.

5. The licensee shall comply with all directions that may be given by the Controller in regard to the purchase, sale or storage of yarn.

6. The licensee, if he is not a hawker, shall issue to every customer a true cash memorandum or credit note as the case may be; giving his name, licence number and address, date of the transaction, the name and address and licence number (if any) of the purchaser, a detailed description of goods sold, the quantity sold, the rate at which sold, the unit of sale, the total price of each item of goods sold and the salesman's signature, and shall keep a duplicate of the same to be available for inspection on demand by the Textile Licensing Officer or any officer authorised in writing by the Textile Licensing Officer in this behalf and shall preserve every such duplicate of cash memorandum and credit note for one year from the date of issue.

7. If the licensee contravenes any of the provisions of the West Bengal Cotton Cloth and Yarn Control Order, 1947, or any of the conditions subject to which he holds this licence or any other provision of the Cotton Cloth and Yarn (Control) Order, 1945, or of any rule, direction or notification made under that Order, then without prejudice to any other action that may be taken against him, his licence may be cancelled by the Director or the Controller or any officer authorised by either of them in writing in that behalf.

8. Notwithstanding anything contained in clause 7, the Director may, without giving any previous notice or without assigning any reason, suspend or cancel this licence.

Golchha, retired Income-tax Officer of the Income-tax Department, Central Provinces and Berar, is, with effect from the forenoon of the 10th February 1948, re-employed as temporary Income-tax Officer, Grade III (Class II Service) in the Income-tax Department, West Bengal, for a period of six months in the first instance in the scale of pay of Rs. 275—25—500—30—650—E.B.—30—800 as prescribed for Grade III officers under the Central Services (Revision of Pay) Rules, 1947. His initial pay will be fixed at a point which, together with his pension, will amount to the pay last drawn by him before his retirement. If the pay so fixed is not an exact stage in the time-scale, the next higher stage in the scale will be allowed. He will be subject to the leave terms under the Revised Leave Rules for temporary Government servants.

(b) Mr. S. T. Golchha, Income-tax Officer, is posted to District V, Calcutta, as an Additional Income-tax Officer of that district from the forenoon of the 10th February 1948, vice Mr. B. K. Sarkar transferred to district Howrah as Additional Income-tax Officer.

MINISTRY OF LABOUR.

New Delhi, the 20th January 1948.

No. LR2(151).—In pursuance of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Central Government is pleased to publish the following award of the Industrial Tribunal appointed to adjudicate in the industrial dispute between the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Co., Ltd., and its workmen:—

IN THE MATTER OF INDUSTRIAL DISPUTE BETWEEN THE DARJEELING HIMALAYAN RAILWAY CO., LTD., AND ITS WORKMEN.

Present:—S. K. Sen, Esq., I.C.S.

For: D. H. Railway Company, Ltd.—Mr. A. J. Sarstedt.

For: D. H. Railway Mazdoor Union.—Mr. G. V. Karlekar.

AWARD.

By Government of India, Ministry of Labour Order No. LR2(151), dated 11th November 1947, this industrial dispute between the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Co., Ltd., and its workmen was referred to me for adjudication. Most of the employees of the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company are members of a registered Trade Union known as the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Mazdoor Union which was formed and registered in 1944. The Union served a notice of strike on the D. H. Railway Company on 13th October 1945 mentioning certain demands and saying that if the demands were not met by 26th October 1945 the workers would go on strike. After the service of this strike notice there was negotiation between the parties and an agreement was arrived at on 8th November 1945, in pursuance of which the notice of strike served on 13th October 1945 was withdrawn. The terms of the agreement, dated 8th November 1945, between the parties are contained in Annexure A of the written statement of the D. H. Railway Company. Before this agreement, the daily rated staff got four annas per day and the monthly rated workers got twelve or thirteen rupees or less and the subordinate clerical staff got the minimum of pay Rs. 20 per month. As a result of the agreement of 8th November 1945, minimum basic pay of workmen was fixed at Rs. 15 in the scale of Rs. 15—1/3—19 and the pay of the existing staff was adjusted in that scale. As to the employees other than workmen, the Company undertook to introduce Grade system and time scale of pay by the end of December 1945. By the agreement of 8th November 1945 the Company agreed to allow earned leave on full pay equal to 1/11th of the service rendered, medical leave on full pay for 15 days per year; and casual leave at 15 days per year, and agreed also to give the benefit of the Provident Fund and Provident Fund bonus to all permanent employees. The Company also agreed to improve the Busti quarters of the Railway workmen. The Company further agreed to construct running rooms for the Guards and Drivers and also agreed to other improvements in the condition of services. The Company also agreed to the application of Hours of Employment Regulations.

After this agreement the wages of workmen improved to a certain extent. As to the other staff however the Company made some delay in introducing the Grade system and time scale of pay. Instead of introducing this by the end of December 1945 as agreed, the Company introduced it from 1st April 1946 and moreover most of the staff other than workmen did not obtain any substantial benefit by the new scales introduced, as they were generally fitted on their existing pay into new scales of pay introduced. Accordingly on 30th April 1946 the Union wrote to the General Manager, D. H. Railway Company suggesting some alterations in the grades and scales of pay introduced by the Company. A copy of this letter has been filed by the Mazdoor Union. The General Manager replied to this letter by a letter, dated 13th May 1946 in which the General Manager refused to make any change in the grades introduced excepting in the case of Station clerks of Class A and Guards of Class A, Signallers, Wireless Operators and Ticket Collectors. In the meantime in the State managed Railways, the All-India Railwaymen's Federation was claiming benefits from the Railway Board and the Railway Board granted an ad interim relief of Rs. 4-8 per month to every worker with effect from 1st July 1946. And after the publication of the report of the Central Pay Commission the Railway Board gave effect to the recommendations of the Pay Commission on all State Railways. By a letter, dated 6th July 1946 the D. H. Railway Mazdoor Union claimed interim relief at Rs. 4-8 per month for every worker from 1st July 1946 and advanced the claim that the recommendations of the Pay Commission should be implemented by the D. H. Railway Company also. The D. H. Railway Company however replied that the Company had gone as far as its finances would allow in the agreement of 8th November 1945 and the revised pay scales introduced with effect from 1st April 1946 and that the finances of the Company did not allow it to pay the interim relief claimed or to introduce the grades and scales of pay as recommended by the Central Pay Commission. Moreover, the Company took the view that the employees of the Company were the best paid among all workmen and employees of the same class in the Darjeeling district, the pay of the workmen and the staff in the Tea Gardens and in the Hydro-Electric Company and other concerns in the Darjeeling district being less than the pay scales allowed by the Company. There was thus an unresolved dispute between the parties which could not be amicably settled through the efforts of the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central). Thereafter, the D. H. Railway Mazdoor Union served a strike notice on the General Manager, D. H. Railway Company, on 13th October 1947 (precisely two years after the first strike notice of 13th October 1945) stating that the workers would go on strike with effect from 28th October 1947 if the demands were not met. At the intervention of the Regional Labour Commissioner, the date of strike was postponed to 11th November 1947. At that stage the Government of India intervened and appointed this Industrial Tribunal for the adjudication of this dispute and passed an order declaring the strike illegal. The strike was thereafter withdrawn and the parties appeared before this Tribunal. They filed their written statements and adduced evidence in support of their respective cases. The case was heard partly at Kurseong and partly at Calcutta. In view of the written statements of the parties the following issues were framed in the case.

ISSUES.

1. Was there any settlement between the Company and the Union in respect of the demand Nos. 1, 2 and 7 contained in the Statement of Mazdoor Union? If so, has the Tribunal power to re-open the same?

2. Has the Tribunal jurisdiction to grant the interim relief claimed in demand No. 1? If so, what interim relief should be given?

3. What would be the fair scales for basic wages and Dearness Allowance for the different categories of workers?

4. Is the present classification of different categories of workers a satisfactory one, and if not, how should they be classified?

5. What direction, if any, should be given as to the quantity and price of the rice to be supplied under the rationing scheme?

6. What improvement, if any, should be made on the existing education and welfare measure of the Railway?

7. What direction, if any, should be given for employment of partially disabled workers of the Railway?

8. What direction, if any, should be given to the Company for repair of house and construction of running rooms?

9. What direction, if any, should be given on the demand for Hours of Employment Regulations contained in demand No. 7(b) of the Union's statement?

10. What direction, if any, should be given for payment of gratuity to the persons mentioned in the Union's demand contained in paragraph 7(c) of their statement?

11. What direction, if any, should be given to the Railway for improvement of Bustees of Railway workers?

12. Does the existing procedure as to dismissal of a workman by the Company afford sufficient security of service to the workmen? If not, what procedure should be adopted?

13. Is the claim for warm clothing for the workmen justified?

DECISION.

Issue No. 1.

The Company's case is that in view of the settlement between the Railway Company and the Union by the agreements of 8th November 1945 and 16th June 1947 the Union is not entitled to raise the demand Nos. 1, 2 and 7 contained in their schedule of demands annexed to their written statement. Demand No. 1 relates to the claim for Interim Relief at Rs. 4-8 per head per month from 1st July 1946; demand No. 2 relates to revision of scales of pay and basic wages; and demand No. 7 relates to the implementation of some terms of agreement relating to repairs of the workers' quarters, construction of running rooms and implementation of Hours of Employment Regulations and gratuity. The agreement of 8th November 1945 cannot be a bar in the way of demand No. 1 of the Mazdoor Union, for the claim of Interim Relief was raised long after the date of this agreement; and as to the implementation of certain terms of the agreement it is clear that the agreement itself cannot bar the dispute on that point. As to revision of scales of pay and basic wages it is true that as regards workmen, the Union then accepted the minimum basic pay of Rs. 15 in the scale of Rs. 15—1/3—19 but that would not prevent the Union from claiming enhanced wages after the expiry of nearly two years. As to scales of pay of the other staff there was no agreement about the same.

The Company had really Annexure B in mind when the Company raised the plea that in view of the settlement between the Company and the Union in respect of these demands the Union is not entitled to raise the demands over again. But Annexure B of the written statement of the Company is not an agreement of the parties but is only the report of the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central), dated 16th June 1947. In his report, the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central), Mr. Talib, said that in presence of representatives of the employers and of the Union, certain demands were discussed, e.g., for the revision of the basic pay and grade scales; for the payment of interim relief; for fixing up of the grades of the workshop staff; for non-implementation of the agreement as to gratuity and for non-implementation of the Hours of Employment Regulations; and that as regards revision of pay and payment of interim relief, the representatives of the employers explained that the financial position of the Railway did not permit them to grant any further increase or the interim relief and that the Union appeared to be more or less convinced about this; and that after a good deal of discussion, the employers' representatives agreed that when the financial position of the Railway improved, the question of the revision of scales of pay of the employees in the light of the recommendations of the Pay Commission would be considered. This was by no means an agreement between the employers and the Union regarding interim relief and the revision of the basic pay and grade scales. Similarly the report does not show any agreement between the parties as to gratuity and Hours of Employment Regulations. Only as regards classification of workshop staff, the report shows that there was an agreement on the point that the final revision of the grades of the workshop staff would be done by Mr. Shaw, the General Manager, when he returned from leave Thus excepting as to classification of workshop staff, I do not find any agreement between the parties in the report of the Regional Labour Commissioner, dated 16th June 1947, which is Annexure B. Even as to the classification of workshop staff, the case of the Mazdoor Union is that a detailed classification has already been made by the Railway Board, vide circular No. E47C.P.C-85, dated 1st November 1947; a copy thereof has been sent to all the Railway Companies including the D. H. Railway Company, and that classification should be according to the circular of the Railway Board and it should not be left to be done by Mr. Shaw. It is however argued on behalf of the Railway Company that the nomenclature of the workshop staff is not quite the same in the D. H. Railway Company as in the State Railways; and it is therefore necessary that the classification of the workshop staff should be first done by Mr. Shaw and in case of wrong classification it can be rectified under the advice of the Government Railways Inspector. As regards the classification of workshop staff into grades, I find that this should first be done by Mr. Shaw, the General Manager, as there are some difficulties in the application of Railway Board's circular showing classification of the staff into grades. But, if there is a dispute to any particular classification, the matter may be settled by the advice of the Government Inspector of Railways or if necessary by arbitration. Thus on this issue I find that the Union only agreed to await the classification of the workshop staff by Mr. Shaw on his return from leave; and excepting this there was no settlement as to the demand Nos. 1, 2 and 7 contained in the schedule of demands of the Mazdoor Union; and the Tribunal has, therefore, power to consider these demands.

Issue No. 2.

As to the interim relief claimed by the Mazdoor Union, the argument of the Railway Company is that the words "Interim Relief" presuppose that payments made under it are in the nature of temporary enhancement of salaries pending introduction of permanent increment, and that as the Tribunal is examining the question of permanent increments and would grant such permanent increments as it thinks fit, it has no jurisdiction to grant any interim relief pending the consideration of permanent increment which may be granted to the different categories of employees. But the phrase "Interim Relief" as used by the Mazdoor Union has another sense. When the Railwaymen's Federation wanted substantial increase of pay and allowance, the Railway Board granted the interim relief of Rs. 4-8 per head per month from 1st July 1946 pending the publication of the report of the Central Pay Commission and implementation of that report. Shortly thereafter the Mazdoor Union also claimed payment of such interim relief pending implementation of the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission by the D. H. Railway Company. As the D. H. Railway Company is not a State Railway, the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission are not binding on the Company. But the recommendations indicate what would be the fair wages for different categories of the staff and the recommendations have, therefore, great value and on the basis of the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission, the Mazdoor Union has been demanding relief. The claim for the interim relief may thus be regarded as equivalent to a claim for retrospective effect of any increase in pay that may be granted by this Tribunal. From that point of view this Tribunal has jurisdiction to grant interim relief. The question however is whether the claim for such interim relief by the Mazdoor Union can be upheld. There was an agreement between the D. H. Railway Company and the Mazdoor Union on 8th November 1945 vide Annexure A, and the Mazdoor Union then considered the minimum basic pay of Rs. 15 sufficient for a workman. In addition to the basic pay the Company pays a dearness allowance of 20 per cent. of the pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 20 per month; the Company supplies free quarters or Rs. 5 per month as house rent for a workman, and the money value of the cheap ration and ration allowance is Rs. 7-8-0 per month. Thus, with the basic pay of Rs. 15 a workman gets Rs. 20 as Dearness Allowance; Rs. 5 as the money value of the quarters supplied or Rs. 5 in cash as house rent and Rs. 7-8 as the money value of the cheap ration and the ration allowance. Altogether, therefore, he gets Rs. 15+32-8 or Rs. 47-8 per month. In November 1945 the Workers' Union was satisfied with such payments. In the letter, dated 30th April 1946, written by the Mazdoor Union to the General Manager, the Mazdoor Union still considered Rs. 15—1/3—19 as the proper scale of pay for the workmen or unskilled menial workers. The schedule of pay for the various grades suggested by the Union shows Rs. 15—1/3—19 for menials or unskilled manual workers. It was only after the Railway Board granted the interim relief to the workers of the State Railways that the Mazdoor Union pressed the demand and the demand for the interim relief finds place for the first time in the letter of 6th September 1946 from the Secretary, Mazdoor Union to the Regional Labour Commissioner, of which a copy has been filed by the Mazdoor Union. Evidence has been adduced by the Mazdoor Union about the cost of living in the localities served by the D. H. Railway employees. But it has not been suggested by any witness that there was sudden rise in the cost of living about the middle of 1946. The cost of living index does not show much variation between November 1945 and June or July 1946, although thereafter there was some rise in the cost of living index. The D. H. Railway Company allowed substantial rise in the wages of the workers with effect from 1st November 1945 in pursuance of the agreement of 8th November 1945. In the circumstances, the claim for a further rise by way of interim relief from 1st of July 1946 does not appear to be reasonable, although the cost of living index has risen since then. It does not appear to be necessary that any increase in wages which may be awarded by this Tribunal should be given retrospective effect from as far back as 1st July 1946. Accordingly, I reject the claim of interim relief of Rs. 4-8 per month from 1st July 1946 until the date on which this award may be brought into force.

Issue No. 3.

This is the most important issue regarding the minimum pay and fair scales of basic wages and dearness allowance for different categories of workers. The existing scale of pay of the different categories of workers of the D. H. Railway Company after the agreement of 8th November 1945 and the introduction of new scales from 1st April 1946 is shown in Annexure "D" of the Company's written statement. The dearness allowance is 20 per cent. of pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 20 and maximum of Rs. 250. These scales of basic pay and dearness allowance are considerably below the scales of pay recommended by the Central Pay Commission and implemented by the Railway Board (Vide the Railway Board's circular No. E47CPC/85, New Delhi, dated 1st November 1937). As against the lowest basic pay of Rs. 15—1/3—19 adopted by D. H. Railway Company for menials and unskilled workers, the scale recommended by the Central Pay Commission and adopted by Railway Board is Rs. 30—1/2—35, and as against the minimum dearness allowance of Rs. 20, the dearness allowance recommended by the Central Pay Commission is Rs. 25. In the clerical cadre, the D. H. Railway Company has scales of basic pay beginning from Rs. 30 and for the station clerks even from Rs. 25 per month. As against such scale, the lowest scale recommended by the Central Pay Commission and accepted by the Railway Board is Rs. 55 and the dearness allowance is Rs. 35 in place of Rs. 20 paid by the D. H. Railway Company. In the matter of dearness allowance I must add that the difference is not so great as it appears to be at first sight, because the money value of various concessions allowed by the D. H. Railway Company both to the menials and to the clerical cadre must be added to the dearness allowance. The D. H. Railway Company either supplies the employees of both menial and clerical cadres with free quarters or pays a house rent allowance of Rs. 5 in the case of menial workers and Rs. 10 in the case of clerical cadre. The money value of the cheap ration supplied and the ration allowance paid comes to Rs. 7-8 per month in the case of both menial workers and clerical cadres. Thus in the case of menials it can be said that the dearness allowance actually paid by the D. H. Railway Company is Rs. 32-8 and in the case of the clerical staff Rs. 37-8. The Central Pay Commission recommended withdrawal of the various concessions as to cheap ration, etc., while recommending dearness allowance of Rs. 25 for Class IV workers and Rs. 35 for Class III workers. In the case of Class IV workers the Railwaymen's Federation preferred the existing dearness allowance with the cheap ration concessions to the increased dearness allowance recommended by the Central Pay Commission; and the Railway Board's circular No. E47CPC/45/PII, dated 1st November 1947, shows that in place of the dearness allowance recommended by the Central Pay Commission, the Railway Board retained the grain shop concessions and the existing dearness allowance at 17½ per cent. of pay subject to the various minima varying from Rs. 12 to Rs. 19 in the case of employees drawing below Rs. 40, and Rs. 14 to Rs. 20 in the case of employees drawing Rs. 40 and above. The D. H.

Mazdoor Union also wants that the existing concessions in the matter of supply of free quarters and cheap ration concessions should be retained. Accordingly, the Mazdoor Union cannot really claim the enhanced cash dearness allowance as recommended by the Pay Commission; the dearness allowance granted by the D. H. Railway Company in cash in addition to these concessions is actually higher than that paid by the State Railways.

Accordingly it is chiefly the question of basic pay that has to be considered. In the matter of pay, there is considerable difference between the scales paid by the D. H. Railway Company and the scales recommended by the Pay Commission and adopted by the Railway Board. The contention of the D. H. Railway Company is that it is unable to pay the staff on the scales recommended by the Central Pay Commission, as this would involve an extra expenditure of 7½ lakhs of rupees per year (the number of employees of the D. H. Railway Company being about 2,500) whereas in the budget of 1947-48, the net cash balance after paying debenture interest and the dividend on preference shares is only Rs. 13,200 which is not sufficient to pay the ordinary share-holders even at one per cent. Thus, the D. H. Railway Company says that it has no fund for adopting the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission, as to the basic pay; and that if the D. H. Railway Company is forced to adopt these scales recommended by the Central Pay Commission it would have to close down the Railway Company and go into liquidation.

The Mazdoor Union has urged that fair living wages must be paid to the workers irrespective of the consideration whether or not the Company is able to pay the same. This, however, is an extreme position and cannot be accepted. The wages to be paid to the workers must be adjusted with reference to the paying capacity of the Company also. And if it is really true that the D. H. Railway Company is unable to bear any increase in the existing scales of pay without the risk of closing down, it would not be proper to impose any increase of pay on the Railway Company. The Mazdoor Union contends that the Railway Company is in a sound financial position and can afford a substantial rise of pay to all the employees. On this point the Mazdoor Union has examined some witnesses who are employees of the Railway Company dealing with the accounts and the traffic; and the Mazdoor Union has also produced the Statement of Accounts of the D. H. Railway Company for the year ending 31st March 1947, the Statement of Accounts of the D. H. Railway Extensions Company, Ltd., for the year ending 31st March 1947 and the Working Estimates for the year ending 31st March 1948. The Company has also examined some witnesses in support of the contention of its incapacity to incur further expenditure. The financial position of the Company must be examined with reference to the evidence adduced and the documents filed.

The D. H. Railway Company was originally created with a capital of Rs. 17,50,000 and the Company constructed and began to work a line from Siliguri to Darjeeling, the length of this line being 51·07 miles. In 1913 43,750 preference shares of Rs. 100 each were created and the capital was thus increased by 43,75,000; and with this capital, a subsidiary Company, D. H. Railway Extensions Company, was started, all the shares of the D. H. Railway Extensions Company being held by the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company, Ltd. The D.H. Railway Extensions Company constructed two lines, viz., the Siliguri—Kishengunge and Siliguri to Geillekhola lines, the total length of these two lines being 95·44 miles. The Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company is managed by Messrs. Gillanders Arbuthnot & Company. The D. H. R. Extensions Company is also managed by Messrs. Gillanders Arbuthnot & Company. The Gillanders Arbuthnot & Company gets a remuneration of Rs. 12,000 per annum as office expenditure for the Main Company and an allowance of Rs. 15,000 per annum for the Extensions Company. In addition the Managing Agents are entitled to 10 per cent. of the profits. For computing the profits of the D. H. Railway Extensions Company there is however a peculiar system, namely, irrespective of the actual working expenses of the Extensions Lines, the net profits are deemed to be 50 per cent. of the gross earnings; and after deducting the remuneration and the interest on debenture, the Managing Agents are entitled to 10 per cent. of the balance of the profits. That has resulted in loss to the D. H. Railway Company, in the Main Line Company. Thus in 1946-47 the gross earnings of the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Extensions Company, Limited, i.e., the gross income of the Siliguri to Kishengunge and Siliguri—Geillekhola lines, came to Rs. 9,91,405 and the total working expenses came to 77·52 per cent., that is, Rs. 7,68,531 leaving net balance Rs. 2,22,874 or Rs. 2,07,874 after deducting the Managing Agents' remuneration of Rs. 15,000. Out of this amount, debenture interest amounting to Rs. 60,000 had to be paid and also Rs. 1,200 as remuneration to the Clive Insurance Co., Ltd., and Rs. 500 for Trade Licence, and brokerage on debenture Rs. 3,750 was written off. Income Tax provision was made to the extent of Rs. 5,049. Still the Managing Agents Commission worked out at Rs. 41,900 on the basis of the net earnings being 50 per cent. of the gross earnings and the bonus to the Working Agents, i.e., the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company, was Rs. 93,846. Now on the 5 per cent. preference share of Rs. 43,75,000 which was raised for financing the extensions, the D. H. Railway Company has to pay Rs. 2,18,750 per year as dividend. Thus, as the result of the arrangement with the Extensions Company and their Managing Agents, the D. H. Railway Company had to suffer a loss of Rs. 1,24,904 (dividend compulsorily payable on preference shares Rs. 2,18,750 less Company's receipt from the Extensions Company for working Agency, Rs. 93,846). I must observe that the arrangement made between the D. H. Railway Company and the D. H. Railway Extensions Company and the Managing Agents is very arbitrary and it seems to have been made deliberately in order to reduce the net profits available either for distribution to the shareholders or for increasing the wages of the employees. Strictly speaking, the Managing Agents ought not to get any commission until the Company shows an actual profit after meeting all the expenses including dividend payable on the preference shares. Mr. A. J. Sarstedt, the Auditor of the Company, has explained that this peculiar arrangement was made as otherwise double income-tax and super-tax would be payable, first on the profits of the D. H. Extensions Company and then on the profits of the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company, the Main Line, for all the shares of the D. H. Extensions Company are held by the D. H. Railway Company (the main Company) and the net profits of the Extensions Company are added as profits of the main Company. It may be true that this device was adopted in order to escape double payment of income-tax and super tax. But it has tended also to reduce unjustifiably the balance shown available for increasing the wages of the employees and therefore the arrangement cannot be supported. The Government have given notice for the acquisition of the lines of the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Extensions Company and the acquisition by the Government will take effect from 20th October 1948. It is not, therefore, necessary to direct in this Award that the peculiar arrangement now in existence between the D. H. Railway Extensions Company and their Managing Agents should be altered, so that the Company does not have to conceal the profits earned or to give a large commission to the Managing Agents where no actual profits have been earned. When the lines of the D. H. Railway Extensions Company are taken over by the Government this recurring loss of about Rs. 1,24,000 will no longer appear in the accounts of the D. H. Railway Company and the net balance available for distribution by that Company among the employees as well as the shareholders will increase. As to the period up to 20th October 1948 I must hold that the Company's finances are not so bad as would appear by a look at the Working Estimates and the budget of 1947-48. It has already been pointed out that in the budget of 1946-47 the net profits after payment of the dividends on preference shares are shown as Rs. 13,200 only, which is not sufficient to pay even one per cent. dividend on the ordinary share capital. If these figures were correct it is clear that no balance is available for increasing the wages of the employees. But the net earnings appear to have been underestimated in this budget of 1947-48. I may refer to the evidence of Mr. Shivmongal Ojha, P.W. 2, Sub-Head in charge of statistics under the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company, Kurseong. By calculating the actual earnings in 1947-48 up to 30th November 1947 and by adding last year's approximate earnings for the rest of the year less 20 per cent. Mr. Ojha has estimated the gross earnings on the Main line for 1947-48 as Rs. 22,51,325 as against Rs. 20,75,000 shown in the budget. For the Siliguri-Kishengunge section, the expected gross earnings according to Mr. Ojha are Rs. 6,02,110 in place of Rs. 4,99,000 shown in the budget. For the Teesta Valley Section, the earnings estimated by Mr. Ojha are lower than that shown by the budget being Rs. 5,68,570 in place of Rs. 5,87,000 budgeted. Thus the total gross earnings in 1947-48 are expected to exceed the budgeted gross earnings, by about 2 lakhs of rupees in the Main line alone. The contention of Mr. A. J. Sarstedt, who has argued the case on behalf of the Company, is that while the gross earnings may rise, the gross expenditure would rise also and that the net earnings would be about the same. Mr. Ojha said that he did not know about the expenditure side not being in charge of that section. P.W. 4 Ganesh Chandra Ghosh, Junior Accountant, Audit Department, was cross-examined by Mr. A. J. Sarstedt on this point. Mr. Ganesh Chandra Ghosh has admitted that there would be some increase in the running expenses and some increase in the Loco expenditure but said that the increase would not be appreciable, and that most of the increase of 2 lakhs of rupees in the gross earnings of the Main line would go towards net profit. The Company has examined O.P.W. 4 Mr. J. F. Martin, Locomotive Officer at Tindharia, to show that the expenditure under the Head-Loco is expected to exceed the budgeted figure by about a lakh of rupees including the increase of pay allowed to the workmen of the Workshop and the purchase of 4 new buses for a feeder service at Ghoom and for the increased consumption of oil, cotton and tallow on the Kishengunge line with the increased traffic, and the cost of reconstruction of some carriages on Kishengunge line. From the cross-examination of the witness, it appears that from the increase in the pay allowed to the staff and the increase of the overtime rate to the shed staff, the extra expenditure is expected to be only about thirty thousand rupees and as to the increased consumption of oil, cotton and tallow on the Kishengunge that would be more than compensated from the increased traffic. As to the replacement of buses for the Ghoom Feeder service by new station wagons, it may be true that the replacement was not budgeted for in the current year. But this replacement has increased the assets of the Company and the same remark applied to the reconstruction of 3 carriages on the Kishengunge line. Taking the evidence as a whole I find that there is expected to be substantial rise in the net earnings over the budgeted figure of 1947-48 provided an extra amount is not spent on expenditure of a capital nature out of the current revenue. The evidence of P.W. 3 Mr. Notobar Ghosh, Controller of Trains Traffic Branch, posted at Kurseong, shows that there is an increased demand for goods and parcels traffic over the D. H. Railway Company as compared with 1946, and that if some more engines are put at his disposal he might substantially increase the earnings of the Company. During the War years 38 engines, plus 1 Diesel and 1 Baby engine were fully utilised, but in the current year 4 of the ordinary engines and the Diesel and the Baby engines have been laid aside. And out of the 34 ordinary engines only 30 engines are available for traffic, because according to Mr. Martin, O.P.W. 4, two engines are usually undergoing repairs at the Workshop and two more are undergoing minor repairs in the shed. As to the four ordinary engines laid aside Mr. Martin says that they could be made fit for traffic by replacing some parts. They were laid aside because they need heavy repairs and he did not undertake the repair of those engines because he received no demand for the engines from the traffic. The Company did not instruct the Loco Superintendent for the repair of those four engines as it expected that traffic would decrease and some sets of engine crews were also discharged. The evidence however shows that there is now scope for economic use of the engines laid aside after getting them properly repaired. If the Company does so, the earnings of the Company may further increase. The Mazdoor Union has also made a grievance of the fact that expenditure of a capital nature has been made from revenue systematically thus decreasing the amount available as net balance. Table No. IV at page 2 of the Statement of Accounts for the year ending 31st March 1947 of the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company shows that the Company has invested in capital expenditure an excess of Rs. 20,53,527 over the amount received from share capital and debenture. This excess of 20 lakhs odd has gradually been obtained from the current revenue. On this point there is evidence of P.W. 4 Ganesh Chandra Ghosh and O.P.W. 3 A. C. Banerjee, Assistant Auditor under the D. H. Railway Company. Mr. A. C. Banerjee said in cross-examination that the excess capital expenditure was made out of the revenue from year to year. Mr. A. C. Banerjee also said that from 1932-33 the system was introduced of writing off the capital expenditure made in a particular financial year from capital expenditure on the book. The amount thus written off up to date comes to Rs. 73,571. This also appears to be an attempt to conceal the assets and to reduce the net balance available. When there is merely replacement or repair, the expenditure incurred is rightly made out of revenue. When, however, there is expenditure on additional capital work, the expenditure ought to be shown as an addition to capital expenditure and ought not to be written off. The Statement of Accounts shows that the Company is on the whole in a sound financial position and in case of acquisition of the entire undertaking by the Government, the Company would have a credit balance of over 20 lakhs of rupees after meeting all the liabilities.

On behalf of the Railway Company it has been urged however that conceding that the Company would find itself in possession of a substantial net balance in case of acquisition of the entire undertaking by the Government, that does not show that the Company has sufficient net balance of revenue from year to year to meet the increased demand of the Mazdoor Union. As to this, however, I have already referred to the evidence adduced on behalf of the Mazdoor Union tending to show that the net balance of revenue even in the current year would be appreciably higher than that shown in the budget by the Company. Further the earnings may be increased still further by making more engines available to traffic by giving an instruction to the Loco Department to repair the four engines which have been laid aside. The Management complains of want of co-operation on the part of the Loco Staff. It is true that in the absence of such co-operation on the part of the workers it is impossible for the Management to increase the earnings. But it is expected that the workers would co-operate with the management in increasing the earnings of the Company. For only thus, the Company is expected to meet an increased Wages Bill. Apart from the likely rise in the net earnings, there is a fund of cash money which is available for meeting an increased Wages Bill. In this connection, I may refer to the evidence of O.P.W. 3 A. C. Banerjee, the Assistant Auditor under the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company. He stated in cross-examination that in 1944-45 or 1945-46 the Company purchased 9 passenger buses and some 3-ton lorries at the cost of Rs. 1,10,000. The expenditure was made out of revenue. As the Government objected that buses and lorries were too heavy for the hill road, the Company sold them in 1946-47 for Rs. 80,000 or Rs. 90,000. The sale-proceeds are kept in deposit awaiting the decision of the Agents and this balance is still available. If this deposit is utilised it is clear that the net balance available for meeting the Wages Bill is increased by Rs. 80,000 or Rs. 90,000. On behalf of the Management it has been urged that this deposit should not be brought into the general revenue for meeting the Wages Bill but that it should be kept in reserve as the Company intends to run a road service and for this purpose the Company has a plan for purchasing a number of station wagons light enough to run safely on the hill road. A reference to the Statement of Accounts, however, shows that the Company has sufficient reserve funds. There is a Contingencies Reserve of Rs. 5,73,510, Taxation Reserve of Rs. 1,00,000 and Exchange Adjustment Account of Rs. 1,06,199 and other smaller reserves, the total amount of such reserve funds coming to Rs. 9,60,804. For the Management, Mr. A. J. Sarstedt has argued that these reserves do not exist in cash, but they represent part of the excess amount invested in capital expenditure. But part of the reserves may at least be held to exist in a fluid form. For, on the side of the property and assets of the Company there is one head of "Stores" showing that the Company has stores worth over 8 lakhs of rupees. These stores are easily convertible into money. Moreover, the Extensions Lines are to be acquired by Government by the 20th October 1948, and at that time the Company will get cash money for all the capital investment including the expenditure in excess of the share capital and debentures. The Accounts of the Extensions Company show that the D. H. Railway Company advanced Rs. 2,05,784 for capital works of the Extensions Company. This amount would be available in cash as soon as the Government acquires the undertaking of the Extensions Company. Moreover, while the Book value of the Property and Assets of the Extensions Company is 62 lakhs of rupees odd, the D. H. Railway Company is likely to get 70 lakhs of rupees as the present value of property and assets and thus the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company's position would be improved by about 8 lakhs of rupees. Even if the Company gets no more from the Government than the Book value of the property and assets of the Extensions Company still the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company would get back the advance of Rs. 2,05,784 referred to above and this money could be utilised in acquiring a fleet of station wagons for service on the Siliguri-Darjeeling road. Thus, apart from the likely increase in the earnings of the D. H. Railway Company in the current financial year, the D. H. Railway Company has the sum of Rs. 80,000 to Rs. 90,000 in deposit with which to meet an increased Wages Bill. And as soon as the Extensions Company is taken over in October 1948, the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company will not only get back the money advanced for the capital expenditure of the Extensions Company but will also be saved from a recurring loss of about Rs. 1,24,000 which is the amount by which the bonus received by the D. H. Railway Company for working the Extensions Lines falls short of the dividend payable on the 5 per cent. preference shares. Thus, from October 1948 the Company will have ampler resources for meeting an increased Wages Bill.

It is true that the assets pointed out would not be big enough to meet the full demand of the Mazdoor Union. The full demand of the Mazdoor Union is in fact too high and cannot be supported. Thus for the menials or unskilled workmen who are now getting Rs. 15 as basic pay and Rs. 20 as dearness allowance, the Mazdoor Union wants Rs. 30 as basic pay and Rs. 25 as dearness allowance in addition to the existing concessions of free house and cheap ration or ration allowance. This would involve the Company in an extra expenditure of Rs. 20 per month per worker which the Company cannot afford, and the Workers' Union cannot claim such a high rise. I have pointed out that the Railway Board is not paying the workmen the minimum dearness allowance of Rs. 25 in cash, because the All-India Railwaymen's Federation preferred the existing dearness allowance of Rs. 12 to Rs. 19 with the existing grain shop concessions to the cash dearness allowance of Rs. 25 per month without the grain shop concessions. The value of the free house or the house rent allowance and the value of the cheap ration or the ration allowance has to be taken into consideration in fixing the minimum pay. I have already pointed out that the minimum pay of the workers as at present paid by the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company comes to Rs. 47-8 including all the concessions, i.e., Rs. 15 as basic pay; Rs. 20 as dearness allowance; Rs. 5 as house rent and Rs. 7-8 as equivalent to the cheap ration or the ration allowance. To bring up the real wage to Rs. 55 per month, the increase would have to be Rs. 7-8 and not Rs. 15 per month as claimed by the workers. In the case of an employee of the clerical or subordinate grade whose minimum pay is Rs. 30 the total value of his emolument comes to Rs. 67-8 (basic pay Rs. 30; dearness allowance Rs. 20; house rent Rs. 10; cheap ration or ration allowance Rs. 7-8). In this case, to bring the pay up to the recommendations of the Pay Commission, the rise would have to be Rs. 22-8 per month and not Rs. 40 as claimed by the Mazdoor Union. Taking into account the financial position of the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company I am of opinion that the Company cannot afford to raise the wages of the clerical and subordinate grades and the menial and workers' grade up to the limit recommended by the Central Pay Commission. But the Company can afford to allow a rise of Rs 5 for the workmen's grade and Rs. 10 or so in the case of the clerical and subordinate grade. In that case, in view of the number of the workmen, the resources of the Company, as pointed out by me, would be sufficient to meet the increased Wages Bill.

On behalf of the Company it has been urged that the wages paid by the Company to the various categories of workers compare favourably with the wages paid to the corresponding categories of workers by other concerns in the District, like the Tea gardens. The Company in Annexure F has given the revised scales of pay prevailing in the Tea gardens after a Tripartite Labour Conference between the Government, Tea gardens employers and Tea gardens workers. It is true that the scales of wages paid by the Darjeeling Himalayan Company generally compare favourably with the scales adopted by the Tea gardens as the result of the Tripartite Conference. But labour in the Tea gardens is notoriously underpaid, and the wages paid by the Tea gardens cannot be a basis for assessing what should be the fair wages to be paid to the workmen by the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company.

For the Company it has been next urged that the maximum wages paid to the unskilled workers by big contractors and other large scale employers of labour do not exceed Rs. 1-4 per day. In this connection, reference has been made to the evidence of O.P.W. 2, Mr. D. Basu, the Resident Engineer of the D. H. Railway Company. He stated that previously the basis of estimate for slip clearance was that each adult was paid 10 annas per day but recently tenders for slip clearance have had to be accepted at 85 per cent. to 108 per cent. above that rate. In other words the wages of an adult worker have come to about Rs. 1-4 per day. For the Company it has been urged that assuming 26 working days in the month, the wages at Rs. 1-4 per day would come only to Rs. 32-8 per month whereas the total emoluments received by the lowest paid workers of the Railway Company are Rs. 47-8, and thus there is no need for further rise in the wages paid by the Company to its workmen. But the evidence on the same cost of living in the hills as adduced by the two parties has shown that the cost of living in the hills is rather higher than in the plains, for while the cost of food is about the same, cost of clothing and fuel is higher. For the plains, the Central Pay Commission has fixed Rs. 55 per month including dearness allowance as the minimum living wage for a workman. It may not be possible for the Company to implement the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission in full, but it is clear that the wages paid by the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company to its workmen though they may compare favourably with the wages paid by the Tea gardens cannot be regarded as adequate living wage for the workmen and there is, therefore, sufficient justification for increasing the wages.

The present minimum pay for an unskilled worker is Rs. 15 in the grade of Rs. 15—1/3—19, the minimum pay of a semi-skilled worker is Rs. 19 and that for a skilled worker is Rs. 30. Accordingly I fix the minimum grades of workers as follows:—

Unskilled	...	Rs. 20—1/3—24.
Semi-skilled	...	Rs. 24—1/2—30.
Skilled	...	Rs. 35—1—45.

The dearness allowance will remain the same as at present, namely, 20 per cent. of the pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 20 plus a free house or a house rent allowance of Rs. 5 per month and cheap ration or ration allowance with the money value of Rs. 7-8 per month. For the clerical or subordinate grade the minimum pay with some exceptions should be Rs. 40 and the dearness allowance and other concessions would remain the same as at present. Annexure D of the written statement of the Company shows grades applying to monthly rated staff as introduced from 1st April 1946. It is necessary that the scales of pay of these categories of monthly rated staff should also correspondingly increase. In the Annexure of the Award I am including a statement prescribing the new scales of pay of the monthly rated staff. The new scales will come into force from 1st January 1948. To fit the employees into the new scales of pay the members of the clerical and subordinate services will receive an ad hoc rise of Rs. 10 per month and where the resulting pay is less than the minimum of new scales prescribed, they will get the minimum of the scales prescribed. In the case of workmen and menials they will get an ad hoc rise of Rs. 8 per month and where the resulting pay is less than the minimum of the new scales prescribed they will get the minimum of the new scales prescribed. The wages paid to the daily rated employees should be adjusted on the basis of the new scales prescribed.

Issue No. 4.

This issue relates to the classification of different categories of workers. The classification of labour employed in the Railway Workshop at Tindharia is considered unsatisfactory by the Mazdoor Union and the Union presses for classification of the workers, according to the circular of the Railway Board referred to, viz., E.-47CPC-85 of 1st November 1947. Annexure B shows that at a conference of the representatives of the employers and the employees it was agreed that final revision of the grades of the Workshop staff would be done by Mr. Shaw, the General Manager, when he returned from leave. Mr. Shaw returned from leave after the hearing of the case at Kurseong; and at the hearing the Company's representatives said that Mr. Shaw who was qualified for the job would classify the workers in the workshop. No material has been placed before me to enable me to classify the workers in the Workshop and elsewhere now employed under the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway Company. The Mazdoor Union asked for a direction that the Company should be asked to follow the circular of the Railway Board referred to in full. As to this, the objection of the Company is that employees of similar designation do not necessarily do the same work in the State Railways as in the D. H. Railway Company. Accordingly on this point I must leave the classification of the workers in the Workshop to be done by Mr. Shaw, the General Manager. It is expected that Mr. Shaw will consult the Railway Board's circular No. E-47CPC/85 and if there is a dispute about the classification of a particular category of workers, the matter may be settled by reference to the Government Inspector of Railways, Central.

Issue No. 5.

This issue relates to the complaint by the Mazdoor Union that the Railway Company is not supplying the quantity of rice which it promised to supply under the Cheap Ration Scheme. In para. 4 of the Schedule of Demands, the Mazdoor Union said that the Railway Administration agreed in 1944 to supply rice at a concession rate of Rs. 10 per maund at one and a half maunds per month per married worker and 20 seers per month per unmarried worker. But at present the quantity has been reduced to 25 seers per month per married worker and 7 seers per month per unmarried worker, and that the Railway Company is giving a small ration allowance to cover the difference in price for the remaining quantity of rice, but the ration allowance is not sufficient to cover the actual difference in price. Thus for a married worker to whom 25 seers of rice is given at the concession price of Rs. 10 per maund, the Administration is giving a ration allowance of Rs. 4-6 to cover the difference in price for the purchase of the remaining 35 seers at the rate of Rs. 5 per month. The ration allowance was calculated on the assumption that the workers could get rice in the open market at the control rate of Rs. 15 per maund. But actually the prevailing price of rice in the bazar is Rs. 25 per maund, and so the ration allowance given by the Company is not sufficient. The Company has explained its position in its written statement. The Company admits that the Railway Administration agreed to give each married worker 1½ maunds of rice at Rs. 10 per maund and each unmarried worker 20 seers at Rs. 10 per maund. But early in 1946 when the Government Rural Rationing Scheme was introduced, the quantity of rice supplied to each worker was cut down under the instruction of the Controller of Civil Supplies and therefore the Railway Administration had no hand in the matter. As to the Ration allowance to cover the difference in price of the remaining quantity of rice, the Company's argument is that it took note of the controlled price, the controlled price of rice being Rs. 15 per maund and that the Railway Company could not take note of the actual black market price of rice in the bazar from day to day. In view of the circumstances, it is clear that no direction can be given to the Company for supply of more rice to the workers than the Company is doing at present, and as to the ration allowance I see no reason to increase it in view of the fact that the basic wages are being increased, and in view of the increased wages, the concessions now allowed by way of cheap ration and the ration allowance appear to be sufficient.

Issue No. 6.

The Mazdoor Union wants that the Railway Company should invest more money in education and welfare measures of the workers. The Railway Administration is doing something already in these lines. The Company has a Medical Officer and 7 Assistant Medical Officers. There are some fully equipped dispensaries and a Central Hospital at Tindharia where there is a female Ward with a nurse as well as a male Ward. The Company has also a Central Sports Club and 4 Railway Institutes which receive annual grants-in-aid from the Company exceeding the subscriptions collected. Further the Company pays a grant of annas 8 per child per month for each child of a Railway employee attending school. I visited the hospital at Tindharia and found it well-equipped and sufficient to meet the needs of the employees and their families. I also visited the dispensary at Siliguri and found it well-equipped. I visited also some of the Railway Institutes and I do not consider it necessary that the Company should invest more money now in Welfare measures.

As to grant for education of the children of the employees, there is no reason to direct the Railway Company to do more for the employees than is being done by other big Companies at present.

Issue No. 7.

This issue relates to the employment of partially disabled workers in the Railway Company. The Mazdoor Union's contention is that where a worker is disabled by some accident in which he is involved while working in the Railway he should be given in addition to the compensation which he receives under the Workmen's Compensation Act, a suitable employment so that he can maintain himself and his family. The Company has said that the partially disabled men are given some jobs like wafchmen and office menials for which they are suitable. Accordingly, no further direction in this respect is necessary.

Issue No. 8.

The Mazdoor Union has demanded that the quarters provided for the employees should be thoroughly repaired and running rooms should be provided for the Guards and Drivers. As to construction of running rooms I do not think that the Workers' Union can have any grievance for new running rooms have been constructed by the Company after the agreement between the parties, dated 8th November 1945. The new running room constructed at Siliguri by the Company is a two-storied building with an accommodation for 60 heads and another running room has been constructed at Thakurganj for 20 heads. I visited the running room at Siliguri and found it in good condition, excepting for one damaged chowki. There their demand was for a permanent cook to be attached to the running rooms. This demand appears to be reasonable and the Company should provide a permanent cook for the new running room at Siliguri. As for the repair of the quarters provided for the employees and construction of new quarters, it appears from the evidence of O.P.W. 2, Mr. D. Basu, the Resident Engineer, under the D. H. Railway Company, that at Kakjhora a new reinforced concrete 16-unit menial quarters; at Darjeeling, a 10-unit menial quarters of reinforced concrete; at Ghoom, an 8-unit subordinate quarters and at Siliguri an 8-unit subordinate quarters have recently been completed. I visited the new subordinate quarters at Siliguri and found the accommodation provided for the clerical staff adequate. As to the Railwaymen's busti at Siliguri and particularly at Tindharia I found on inspection that they need certain repairs, e.g., some of them have holes in the corrugated iron sheet roofs and planks of the walls are displaced in some cases and need refixing. Further there are no adequate latrine arrangement attached to the quarters. During the inspection I expressed the opinion that adequate latrine arrangement should be provided without delay and I understand from the Resident Engineer, Mr. D. Basu, that he had already passed orders for erection of new latrine—6 units at the cricket area and 3 units at 17th mile bustee at Tindharia; and a new 3-unit latrine at Siliguri, and he has passed orders also for the repair of the existing latrines at Siliguri. The Railway quarters provided for the menials at Tindharia suffer from the fact that the hill side on which it is built is gradually sinking. The Resident Engineer has deposed that at Tindharia particularly there is no land available for construction of new bustees, but when the Government takes over the majority of the loco staff with the acquisition of the Extensions lines, the D. H. Railway Company could manage at Tindharia with building programme; for it will be possible to accommodate the subordinate staff in the quarters now used by the officers, and shift the menial quarters to the land now used by the subordinate staff quarters. The Resident Engineer's evidence shows that a comprehensive building programme is under the active consideration of the Company and until the pressure on land at Tindharia is relieved the only thing that can be done is to repair the existing bustees where they badly need repairs and provide the latrines necessary for which directions have already been issued.

Issue No. 9.

The contention of the Mazdoor Union is that the Hours of Employment Regulation has not been applied to all categories of workers and that it is necessary that this should be done. From the evidence adduced by the two sides, it appears that the workshop staff and the clerical staff have been classified as Continuous workers and the Hours of Employment Regulation has been applied in respect of them, and the maximum of 8 hours of work for a day is observed in their cases; but there is dispute as to certain categories of workers like Assistant Station Masters, Signallers and others who are classified by the Company as intermittent workers and in their case no overtime allowance is paid until they have put in 12 hours' work. The Mazdoor Union claims that Assistant Station Masters and Signallers should also be classified as Continuous workers. As to the running staff, namely, drivers, brakesmen and others, the Union's case is that they are expected to do hard work from day to day without a weekly day of rest. It appears from the evidence of P.W. 7, Prem Bahadur Singh, a running staff clerk, that Engine crew have to attend to the shed at Tindharia at 3 o'clock in the morning and then they are on duty until about 10 p.m. or 11 p.m. and that they do not get a weekly day of rest, for when the engine is given rest every ten days, the crew have 4 hours' work from 6 a.m. to 10 a.m. for looking after the engine. O.P.W. 5, Mr. Natabar Ghosh, was examined by the Company on this point. His evidence shows that the last train comes back to Tindharia shed by 8 p.m. except at monsoon time. Mr. Natabar further says that the earliest train leaves Tindharia at 4-15 a.m., but it appears that for getting the engine ready the crew of the engine have to attend at the engine shed by 3 a.m. It appears, therefore, that the working hours are from 3 a.m. to 8 p.m. On behalf of the Management it has been pointed that these men are not on duty throughout the time but they get rest at the termini, i.e., Siliguri and Darjeeling, where there is a gap of 3 or 3½ hours between the arrival of the engine with the train and the departure of the train in the reverse direction. But it appears from the evidence of Mr. Natabar Ghosh that the engine crew do not get the whole time off between the arrival of the train and its departure in opposite direction but they have to attend to the engine at least part of the time and they get about 1½ hours rest at the termini. According to Mr. Ghosh, he tries to provide the engine crew with 10 hours' duty a day; but due to untimely running of trains, the crew have practically to work more than 10 hours, including the time they are detained at Siliguri. The Management has urged that the Hours of Employment Regulations do not apply to the running staff. Whether the Regulation does or does not apply, it does not appear to be desirable that the running staff should be on duty day after day for about 10 hours or more per day and that they should get only every 10th day partially off. In this matter however it is not possible to introduce a new system off hand. A Tribunal has already been appointed by the Government of India under the chairmanship of Mr. Justice Rajadhyaksha to examine the questions among other things of Hours of Employment of different categories of Railway workers. The Workers' Union has expressed the willingness to abide by the award of Mr. Justice Rajadhyaksha provided the Company undertakes to implement the award of Mr. Justice Rajadhyaksha as to Hours of Employment. The Railway Company has not given such undertakings. But in view of the difficulties of the problem it would be better to await the award of Mr. Justice Rajadhyaksha, and after implementation of that award by the State Railways, the Mazdoor Union can move in this matter; for at that time there would be a definite standard for fixing hours of work for different categories of Railway workers.

Issue No. 10.

This issue relates to the question of paying gratuity to workers who have retired since 1944. Gratuity is ordinarily payable on retirement. By term No. 15 of the agreement between the parties, dated 8th November 1945, it was agreed that a person who resigned with consent of the Railway authorities, would be entitled to gratuity also. Previously gratuity was paid at the rate of half month's salary for each completed year of qualified service and minimum qualifying period of service was 15 years. In October 1944, this rule was revised and gratuity was made payable at one month's pay for each year of qualifying service at the end of 15 years' service; and it was provided that a quarter of month's pay for each year would be paid to those who have completed 5 years and not completed 10 years, and half month's pay for each year of qualified service to those who have completed 10 years and not completed 15 years' service. The grievance of the Mazdoor Union is that certain people who retired after the new rules had come in force were still given gratuity under the old rules, i.e., they were given at half month's pay for each completed year of qualified service even though they completed more than 15 years' service; and further the period of service after they had attained 55 years of age was not taken into consideration in calculating gratuity. The Company has referred to a rule published in its Gazette No. 5, dated 15th May 1939. Therein the staff was reminded that the age limit for service was 55 years and that any service put in after the age of 55 would be reckoned as temporary and would not count for the purpose of gratuity. The Company has acted in accordance with this rule and where an employee attained 55 years of age before October 1944, and continued in service on extension after October 1944, the Company granted the gratuity under the old rules. I must hold that the Company was legally correct for any service after attaining the age of 55 years was regarded as temporary service, permanent service terminated in these cases before October 1944, and therefore gratuity could be granted only by the old rules. On this point the Regional Labour Commissioner had discussion with the parties, vide his report Annexure B, and he gave a direction that the Company should henceforth give a formal notice to the employees at the time of extension of their service beyond the period of normal retirement that the service after 55 years of age would be temporary. In this matter there is, in my opinion, nothing further to be done, and therefore no direction in the matter of payment of gratuity to persons who retired since October 1944 is necessary.

Issue No. 11.

This issue relates to the improvement of busteos of Railway workers. I have already considered this point when dealing with issue No. 8. No further discussion is necessary.

Issue No. 12.

The contention of the Mazdoor Union is that the existing procedure as to dismissal of workers by the Company does not afford sufficient security of service to the employees and that a new procedure is, therefore, necessary. This question was considered at the time of the agreement between the Management and the Mazdoor Union on 8th November 1945. Term No. 17 of the Agreement, Annexure A provides that all workers will have the right to appeal in cases of dismissal, and the General Manager will be the Appellate Authority and that the Union will have the right to represent cases before the General Manager. The Union has argued that the General Manager of the D. H. Railway Company is also the head of some departments; and when he dismisses an employee in his capacity as the Head of a Department it is no use in filing an appeal to him as a General Manager and therefore there is not sufficient security of service for the employees. The Mazdoor Union has suggested that appeal should lie to a Committee of three men—one representative of the Union, one representative of the Administration and one representative of the local Government. I do not, however, think that it would be feasible to have such a Committee to hear appeals and such a Committee is not in existence on any other Railways. It may be true that where the General Manager in his capacity as Head of a Department dismisses an employee, there is not much use in filing an appeal to him in his capacity as General Manager. But in view of the small number of high officers in the Railway it is not possible to provide any other Appellate authority and where the Union is given the power to represent the case of the dismissed workmen before the Appellate authority that affords, in my opinion, sufficient provision against an improper dismissal. Accordingly, it is not necessary to alter the procedure agreed by Term No. 17 of the Agreement, Annexure A in the matter of appeal by a dismissed workman.

Issue No. 13.

Lastly, there is a claim for warm clothing by the workmen. On behalf of the Administration it is urged that uniforms are actually given by the Railway Company to the employees and a statement has been filed by the Railway Administration showing the scale of uniforms given to the staff. Representatives of the Union have admitted that this scale is in existence, but have urged that in the last few years regular supply of the uniforms has not been made. The Administration has explained that this was due to the difficulty in getting the clothes in time owing to cloth scarcity and supply according to the list was always made even though there might be 2 or 3 months' delay in certain cases. The representatives of the Mazdoor Union have ultimately confined their claim to warm clothing to the case of Jamadar Brakesmen. It has been urged that these men have to travel on the trains of the Company in exposed position standing between two bogies in order to operate the brake when necessary and in cold weather they suffer from the weather, in the absence of provision of warm clothing to them. The statement showing scales of uniforms shows that only one Water Proof coat to last 3 years is given to the Jamadar Brakesman. I agree that it is necessary to provide warm clothing to the Jamadar Brakesmen in view of their exposure to weather in the course of their duty and I, therefore, prescribe that they should each be provided with a blanket short coat for every 3 years in addition to the Water Proof coat to last 3 years which they are now provided with.

Accordingly, the following award is made in this case :—

The Interim Relief claimed by the workmen as represented by the Mazdoor Union is refused. But new scales of basic wages are prescribed for the different categories of workers to come into effect from 1st January 1948. The following are the scales prescribed :—

Unskilled workers	...	Rs. 20—1/3—24.
Semi-skilled workers	...	Rs. 24—1/2—30.
Skilled workers	..	Rs. 35—1—45.

The minimum of the clerical grade and subordinate grade will be Rs. 40 except for Station clerks of A class where the minimum prescribed is Rs. 35. The prescribed scales for different categories of monthly rated staff are shown in the Annexure to the Award. The pay of the daily rated staff should be adjusted in the scale prescribed, The dearness allowance and other concessions like house rent or provision of free quarters and cheap ration or ration allowance will remain the same as at present. Classification of the Workshop staff will be done in the first instance by Mr. Shaw, the General Manager, who will give due consideration to the circular of the Railway Board E47CPC/85 of 1st November 1947 and in case of dispute as to the classification of any category of workers; reference will be made to the Government Inspector of Railways. As to the supply of rice under the cheap ration scheme, education and welfare measures, employment of partially disabled workers and the payment of gratuity no direction is necessary. The Company should provide a whole-time cook for the new running room at Siliguri and should, as far as possible, effect necessary repairs to the existing Bustees and provide adequate latrine arrangement for the Bustee quarters. As to the Hours of Employment, the question is left open pending the publication of the Award of Mr. Justice Rajadhyaksha and its implementation by the State Railways. Term 17 of the agreement between the parties as to the procedure of appeal by a dismissed employee is retained unaltered. The Company should provide a blanket short coat to every Jamadar Brakesman every 3 years in addition to the water-proof coat now provided.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL.

Advertisement No. 5.

APPLICATIONS are invited from male candidates of all communities for four Stipendiary Studentships current for 1948-50 for the West Bengal Senior Forest Service. One of the studentships is reserved for a candidate belonging to the Scheduled Castes.

2. A candidate must not be less than 19 or more than 23 years of age on the 1st April 1948 and must be a graduate of a recognised University and possess—

(i) An M.Sc. degree (not lower than second class) in Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Zoology, Geology or Agriculture or a B.Sc. (Honours) degree (not lower than second class) or its equivalent in Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Zoology, Geology or Agriculture, or

(ii) A B.Sc. (Agriculture) degree without honours, provided a first class degree was obtained, or

(iii) Qualifications from a foreign University accepted by the Provincial Government as equivalent to the above.

In addition to any of the qualifications enumerated above a candidate must possess a knowledge of Mathematics up to the standard of the I.Sc. Examination.

3. Candidates must be of sound health, good physique and active habits and free from organic defect or bodily infirmity.

4. No person will be eligible for appointment who has endeavoured to enlist for his candidature the support of persons of influence or of officials of Government. Spontaneous recommendations from persons interested in or otherwise known to the candidates will be disregarded.

5. Applications are to be made on the prescribed form, copies of which may be obtained from the office of the Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House, Alipore, Calcutta, personally or on sending an addressed envelope with a nine pies stamp affixed. Application forms will not be supplied on receipt of mere stamps. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any printed or typed form, a sample of which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 21st November 1946. They must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 12th March 1948. Each candidate must furnish the following certificates as well as a declaration whether or not he has at any time been pronounced unfit for Government employment on medical grounds:—

(a) A certificate from a responsible person that the candidate is a permanent resident of West Bengal, or has come over to take up such residence in West Bengal.

(b) A certificate of age (copy of the Matriculation Certificate duly attested by a Magistrate or other responsible person).

(c) Two clear certificates preferably from responsible members of educational institutions that the candidate is of good social standing and moral character, and that he has not taken an active part in an association of a character subversive of law and order nor has he come under its influence so far as to be guilty of acts of indiscipline.

(d) A certificate testifying to the educational qualifications.

6. Applications should be submitted through the Collector of the District in which the candidate resides, or through the Divisional Forest Officer, if the candidate resides in or near a Forest Division. In case of Calcutta candidates the applications should be submitted through the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.

7. From the applications received, the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, will make a preliminary selection of some candidates. The candidates so selected will be required to undergo a medical examination by a Medical Board and to obtain certificates of fitness. The candidates will then be tested in the Forests under a Divisional Forest Officer for a period not exceeding two months commencing from a date to be fixed later on including a physical test of a journey of 20 miles on foot over hilly country in six hours. No allowance will be granted during this period.

8. The final selection of candidates for deputation to the Indian Forest College, Dehra Dun, for a two years' course to obtain the Diploma in Forestry will be made by the Provincial Government. The selected candidates will be required to execute an agreement and security bond, prescribed by Government binding themselves to work diligently while at the College and to serve Government for not less than five years after passing out of the College and in default to refund all moneys expended by the Provincial Government on their training.

9. The candidates finally selected will be required to join the Indian Forest College, Dehra Dun, by the 1st April 1948.

10. The selected candidates will be given an outright grant of Rs. 300 and camp and kitchen equipment will be supplied at the cost of Government. While at the College they will be granted a monthly stipend of Rs. 150 each. The amount of stipend is reducible at the discretion of the Provincial Government in the event of the report of work at the College not being satisfactory.

11. On obtaining the Diploma in Forestry, the candidate will be appointed on probation for two years to the West Bengal Senior Forest Service and his initial pay in the service will be Rs. 300 per mensem in the time scale of Rs. 300—50/2—500 (efficiency bar)—50/2—700 (efficiency bar)—75/2—1,000.

12. Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

13. Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

B. N. BANERJEA, Secretary,
Public Service Commission, West Bengal.

Alipore, the 14th February 1948.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL.

WITH reference to the advertisement issued by the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, inviting applications for the post of Registrar of Joint Stock Companies, West Bengal, and Registrar of Firms, West Bengal, within the 28th February 1948, it is hereby notified for general information that the domiciliary qualifications for the post should be as follows:—

"Candidates must ordinarily be nationals of Indian Dominion by birth or by domicile. Persons of Indian descent or citizens of the Indian State or of the Pakistan Dominion or of any other territory adjacent to India are also eligible, but in their case a declaration of eligibility issued by the Government of West Bengal will be necessary before appointment. Preference will be given to Bengali candidates".

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL.

THE notification (advertisement No. 2) relating to the post of Official Receiver, High Court, Calcutta, published in the "Calcutta Gazette," Part II (page 41, column 2 to page 42, column 1) should be treated as inoperative until further notice.

B. N. BANERJEA, Secretary,
Public Service Commission, West Bengal.

Alipore, the 14th February 1948.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL.

Advertisement No. 6.

APPLICATIONS are invited from male candidates to fill a post of Professor of Physics at the Presidency College, Calcutta, in the Bengal Senior Educational Service.

(1) Method of recruitment.—The appointment will be made by selection from among candidates possessing the qualifications specified below.

Persons holding substantive appointments or appointments on probation against substantive vacancies in the Education Department, Government of West Bengal, are eligible to apply.

(2) Pay.—The scale of pay is Rs. 300—50/2—700—75/2—1,000 (efficiency bar after the 14th and 18th stages).

The initial pay of a Departmental Officer, if selected for appointment, will be regulated under the normal rules. If a candidate having no substantive appointment in the Education Department is selected for the post he will be given an initial pay on the basis of his age as follows:—

Age.	Stage of time scale.
	Rs.
25 or under	300
26	300
27 and 28	350
29 and 30	400
31 and 32	450
33 and 34	500
35 or over	550

The selected candidate will be on probation for two years. If his mother-tongue is not Bengali, he will be required to pass the Departmental Examination in Bengali (Higher Standard) during the period of probation.

(3) Qualifications.—Every candidate must possess the following qualifications:—

(i) he must be a British subject or have been made eligible by declaration under section 262 of the Government of India Act, 1935, to hold such post;

(ii) he must not be over 35 years of age on the 1st March 1948. The age limit may be relaxed in the case of a candidate possessing exceptionally high qualifications;

(iii) he should possess a first class degree in Physics or Pure Physics of an Indian or Foreign University. He should also produce evidence of having conducted and directed research work in Physics and of having had experience of teaching Physics to Honours and/or Post-graduate classes. A doctorate degree and experience of organisation and administration of an Advanced Physics Laboratory will be considered additional qualifications.

(4) Date of submission of applications.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form, copies of which may be obtained from the office of the Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House, Alipore, Calcutta, personally or on sending an addressed envelope with a nine pies stamp affixed. Application forms will not be supplied on receipt of more stamps. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any printed or typed form, a sample of which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 21st November 1946. They must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 20th March 1948.

(5) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates must furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with two certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from two responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(6) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government treasury or the Reserve Bank of India, under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Provincial Receipt". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. In no circumstances will this fee be refunded.

(7) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(8) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support for their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendations from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(9) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Political.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 1055P.—23rd February 1948.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-sections (1) and (2) of section 11 of the Bengal Special Powers Ordinance, 1946 (Bengal Ordinance VI of 1946), as enacted and continued in operation by and under the Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947 (Bengal Act I of 1947), the Governor is pleased to prohibit the performance within the Province of West Bengal of any exercise, movement, evolution or drill of a military nature with or without arms or articles capable of being used as arms. With a view to securing that no unauthorised exercise, movement, evolution or drill of a military nature is performed at any place, the Governor is pleased further to prohibit the holding of or taking part in, any camp, parade, meeting or assembly in connection with any exercise, movement, evolution or drill of a military nature with or without arms or articles capable of being used as arms except as provided hereinafter.

Provided that the prohibitions hereinbefore imposed shall not apply to the performance of any such exercise, movement, evolution or drill or to the holding of or taking part in any camp, parade, meeting or assembly:—

(1) by members of the Indian Naval Military or Air Forces or of an official police force or of any force constituted under any law for the time being in force in exercise of their duty as such;

(2) by members of the association commonly known as the Boy Scouts Association in India or of the association commonly known as the Girl Guides Association in India in their capacity as such;

(3) by members of—

(i) the St. John Ambulance Brigade Overseas, Bengal Branch,

(ii) the Bengal Bratachari Society or association constituent of or recognised by the Society,

(iii) Village Defence Parties organised under the direction of the Superintendent of Police,

(iv) any other organisation which may be specified in writing in this behalf by Government;

(4) within the precincts or premises of any Government school or college, or of any school or college recognised by Government in this behalf, by persons whose participation in such exercise, movement, evolution or drill is part of the ordinary curriculum of such school or college.

No. 1056P.—23rd February 1948.—Whereas the Provincial Government is satisfied that the wearing in public of any dress or article of apparel resembling any uniform or part of a uniform required to be worn by a member of the Indian Armed Forces or by a member of any official Police Force or of any force constituted under any law for the time being in force would be likely to prejudice the public safety or the maintenance of public order;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 12 of the Bengal Special Powers Ordinance, 1946 (Bengal Ordinances VI of 1946), as enacted and continued in operation by and under the Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947 (Bengal Act I of 1947), the Governor is pleased to prohibit the wearing in public of any such dress by any person who is not a member of the said forces or a member of an association which has been authorised by the Central Government, as respects the whole of the Dominion of India, or the Provincial Government, as respects the Province of West Bengal, to wear a specified uniform.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2901L.—21st February, 1948.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (INVESTIGATION COMMISSION) BILL, 1948.

A

to provide for the appointment of a Commission to investigate certain matters relating to the Corporation of Calcutta, and for certain other matters connected therewith.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the appointment of a Commission to investigate certain matters relating to the Corporation of Calcutta, and for certain other matters connected therewith;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Corporation of Calcutta (Investigation Commission) Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal.

Definitions.

2. In this Act the expressions "Calcutta" and "the Corporation of Calcutta" have the same meanings as in the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923. Ben. Act III of 1923.

Constitution and functions of Commission.

3. The Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, constitute a Commission to be called the Corporation of Calcutta Investigation Commission (hereinafter referred to as the Commission) whose duties it shall be—

(a) to investigate and report to the Provincial Government on all matters relating to the finances and administration of the Corporation of Calcutta and the working of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923;

(b) to make recommendation for improving the finances and administration of the Corporation of Calcutta, removing abuses in relation thereto, if any, and amending the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, if necessary, for ensuring better administration.

Composition of Commission.

4. (1) The Commission shall consist of a Chairman (being a person who is or has been a Judge of a High Court) and two other Commissioners, appointed by the Provincial Government.

(2) On the occurrence from any cause of a vacancy among the Commissioners, the Provincial Government may, if it thinks fit, appoint a person to fill the vacancy.

Powers of Commission

5. (1) The Commission shall have power to administer oaths, and shall have all the powers of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for the purposes of taking evidence on oath, enforcing the attendance of any person whom it considers necessary to examine, compelling the production of documents and issuing commissions or letters of request for the examination of witnesses, and shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for all the purposes of section 195 and Chapter XXXV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and any reference in the said Chapter to the presiding officer of a Court shall be deemed to include a reference to the Chairman of the Commission. Act V of 1908. Act V of 1898.

(2) If it appears to the Commission that it is necessary to examine any accounts or documents, or to investigate any particular matter which it cannot itself conveniently examine or investigate, the Commission may authorise any person qualified in its opinion to make such examination or investigation to examine such accounts or documents or to investigate such particular matter and to interrogate for that purpose any person having charge or custody of such accounts or documents, or having knowledge of such particular matter and to make a report to the Commission; any person having charge or custody of such accounts or documents shall be bound to produce them to the person so authorised and to give such person any information in respect thereof which the person so authorised may require; and any person having knowledge of such particular matter shall be bound to give to the person so authorised any information in respect thereof which such person may require. The Commission may make such use of the report as it thinks fit.

(3) (a) The Commission may require the Corporation of Calcutta or any officer or servant of the Corporation of Calcutta to furnish any return, plan, estimate, statement, account, statistics, information or report and the Corporation of Calcutta or such officer or servant shall be bound to comply with such requisition without delay.

(b) The powers conferred by this sub-section shall be in addition to and not in derogation of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) and sub-section (2).

(4) The Commissioners and all persons authorised by the Commission under sub-section (2) shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860. Act XLV of 1860.

Procedure of Commission.

6. (1) The Commission shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, have power to regulate its own procedure (including the fixing of places and times of its sittings and deciding whether to sit in public or in private) and may act notwithstanding the temporary absence of any Commissioner or Commissioners or a vacancy in the number of the Commissioners.

(2) In making an investigation under clause (a) of section 3, the Commission shall act in accordance with the principles of natural justice and shall follow as far as practicable the principles of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872. 1 of 1872.

(3) Except with the previous sanction of the Provincial Government,—

(a) no suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall be instituted against any person in any Civil or Criminal Court for any evidence given by him in any proceedings before the Commission, and

(b) no evidence so given shall be admissible in evidence against such person in any suit, prosecution or other proceeding before such Court.

(4) No document shall be inadmissible in any proceedings before the Commission on the ground that it is not duly stamped or registered.

Bar of jurisdiction.

7. No act or proceeding of the Commission or of any person authorised by it under sub-section (2) of section 5 shall be called in question in any manner by or in any Court and no suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against the Crown or any Commissioner or any other person for anything done or intended to be done under this Act.

Power to make Rules.

8. The Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The administration of the Corporation of Calcutta has recently come in for much adverse public criticism and its finances are also in a bad way necessitating increasing subventions by the Provincial Government to run the administration. A thorough enquiry into the administration and finances of the Corporation is considered urgently necessary in order to restore the economic equilibrium of the self-governing institution. The scope of section 16 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, which is the only section in the Act authorising an enquiry into the affairs of the Calcutta Corporation, is extremely limited and there are practical difficulties in the way of having the desired enquiry made under that section. The Bill seeks to make good this lacuna by authorising the Provincial Government to appoint a Commission consisting of a Chairman (being a person who is or has been a High Court Judge) and two other persons to hold the necessary enquiries into the affairs of the Calcutta Corporation, armed with requisite powers.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 189A.R.—17th February 1948.—Whereas the Commissioners appointed under sub-paragraph (1) of paragraph 4 of Part III of the Government of India (Provincial Elections) (Corrupt Practices and Election Petitions) Order, 1936, to enquire into the petition presented by Mr. Abdul Latif against the election to the Bengal Legislative Assembly of Mr. Md. Qumruddin who is deemed to be a member of the Legislative Assembly of West Bengal under paragraph 4(1) of the India (Provincial Legislatures) Order, 1947, have reported to His Excellency the Governor that they have permitted the said Mr. Abdul Latif, after application duly made, to withdraw his petition;

Now, therefore, in accordance with the provisions of sub-paragraph (3) of paragraph 8 of Part III of the said Order, the following report of the said Commissioners is published for general information.

His Excellency the Governor is pleased further to order that in accordance with the recommendations of the said Commissioners each party shall bear his own costs.

By order of the Governor,
S. B. BAPAT, Jt. Secy.

BEFORE THE ELECTION TRIBUNAL AT ALIPORE.

PRESENT:

S. N. GUHA RAY, ESQ., I.C.S., President.

S. K. SEN, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner.

A. S. RAY, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner.

Election Case No. 6 of 1947.

In the matter of Abdul Latif, residing at No. 11, Kankinara Bustee Lane, Ward No. 3, Bhatpara, Jagatdal, 24-Parganas, Petitioner, versus

Md. Qumruddin, son of Ishaque Sardar, residing at Kankinara Bustee Lane, Kankinara, 24-Parganas, Respondent.

REPORT

This petition, dated 18th June, 1946, was filed by the petitioner Abdul Latif under rule 26(1)(a), Part III of the Bengal Legislative Assembly and the Bengal Legislative Council Electoral (Election Expenses and Election Petitions) Rules, 1936, read with rules 2 and 2(1)(a), Part III of the Government of India (Provincial Elections) (Corrupt Practices and Election Petitions) Order, 1936, to set aside the election of the respondent Mohammad Qumruddin from the Barrackpore Municipal (Urban) Muhammadan Constituency to the Bengal Legislative Assembly held in March, 1946.

The petition was duly published in the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary dated 22nd February, 1947, under Rule 30(2), Part III of the Bengal Legislative Assembly and the Bengal Legislative Council Electoral Rules, 1936. The Respondent appeared on notice and after obtaining further particulars from the petitioner filed a Written Statement on 19th May, 1947 disputing the allegations made in the Election Petition.

Issues were framed on 7th June, 1947 and after hearing both sides on a preliminary issue, the case was fixed for final hearing on 18th August, 1947.

On 25th November 1947 the petitioner applied before the present Tribunal under Rule 23(1) of the Bengal Legislative Assembly and the Bengal Legislative Council Electoral Rules, 1936, for leave to withdraw the Election Petition. The sole Respondent did not press for costs. The petition was then published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 4th December, 1947 and the Commissioners being of opinion that the said application had not been induced by any bargain or consideration which ought not to be allowed, granted the application for withdrawal under Rule 33(5). Then under Rule 33(5)(b) the order granting the withdrawal was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 1st January, 1948, and as nobody who under Rule 33(5)(c) might himself have been a substituted petitioner in place of the party withdrawing, within fourteen days of such publication, has appeared, we hereby beg to report to His Excellency the Governor of West Bengal under Rule 33(6) the fact of the withdrawal of the Election Petition. No order for costs is made as the Respondent does not press for the same.

The applicant filed a petition for withdrawal of the deposit made by him. The petition is forwarded herewith for favour of consideration.

S. N. GUHA RAY, President.

A. S. RAY, Commissioner.

Darjeeling.—No. L.S.-G.-1601-47-2B.—18th February 1948.—The following draft of a set of by-laws which has been framed by the Commissioners of the Darjeeling Municipality in the district of Darjeeling, under section 434 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), and which the Governor proposes to confirm under section 506 of the Act, is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on the 1st April 1948 and any objection or suggestion received by the undersigned through the District Magistrate and the Divisional Commissioner before that date will be duly considered:—

Draft by-laws.

Draft by-laws for regulation of dairy and milk-supply.

1. Registration of dairymen and dairies.—The Municipal Commissioners may require by public notice the registration of all dairymen or person selling milk and of all dairies within the municipality, within such period as may be fixed by them; whereupon no person shall keep any dairy within the area administered by the Commissioners, unless it has been registred, or carry on the business or trade or cow-keeper, dairyman or purveyor of milk, unless he is registered as such therein:

Provided that a person who sells milk of his own cows or buffaloes in small quantities to his workmen or to his neighbours for their convenience need not be so registered.

Note.—In these by-laws the term cow-keeper includes keeper of buffaloes.

2. No dairy or milk shop shall be registered until the premises in which such trade is carried on have been inspected by the Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector or any competent officer appointed by the Commissioners for the purpose and until the Commissioners are satisfied with the arrangements for lighting, ventilation, drainage, conservancy, water-supply and general sanitary condition of such premises.

3. Inspection.—All dairies within a municipality shall be open to inspection at all times by the Commissioners or by the Health Officer, Sanitary Inspector or a person or persons authorised in this behalf at all hours of the day and night.

4. Contamination of milk.—No cow-keeper or dairyman or purveyor of milk or occupier of a milk store or milk shop shall—

(a) allow any person residing or employed in or about the premises, suffering from a dangerous or infectious disease or having recently been in contact with a person so suffering, to milk cattle or to handle vessel used for holding or keeping milk or in any way to take part or assist in the conduct of the trade or business of the cow-keeper or dairyman or purveyor of milk or occupier of a milk store or milk shop, so far as regards the production, distribution or storage of milk, or

(b) if himself so suffering, or having recently been in contact with a person so suffering, milk cattle or handle vessels used for containing milk or in any way take part in the conduct of his trade or business so far as regards the production, distribution or storage of milk, until in each case all dangers therefrom of the communication of infection to the milk or of its contamination has ceased.

5. The cow-keeper or dairyman or purveyor of milk shall, when so required by the Commissioners, the Health Officer, Sanitary Inspector or any other person authorised in this behalf, furnish the names and addresses of his customers and the sources of supply of milk to his establishment.

6. Existence of disease among cattle.—If at any time cattle plague, pleure-pneumonia, foot and mouth diseases, anthrax, tuberculosis or any disease of the udder exist among the cattle in a dairy or cattle-shed, the dairyman or cow-keeper shall forthwith report such occurrence to the Commissioners and shall not—

(a) mix the milk of the diseased cattle therein with other milk,

(b) use or sell such milk for human consumption,

(c) use or sell such milk for consumption by any animal unless and until it has been boiled.

7. Storage, conveyance and distribution of milk.—No receptacle which is incapable of being readily cleansed, shall be used for the storage for conveyance of milk.

8. Every receptacle used for the storage or conveyance of milk shall be—

(i) marked with the name and address of the owner;

(ii) provided with a lid without openings and so constructed and fitted as to prevent the access of dirt, dust, water, or of milk which has been splashed above the lid.

9. No such receptacle shall be opened during transit, except for the purpose of checking and sampling the milk.

10. Where milk is delivered in bottles, such bottles must be filled and closed on registered premises, and not thereafter tampered with before delivery to the consumer.

11. Every person engaged in the conveyance or distribution of milk shall take all practicable precautions to prevent the milk from being contaminated.

12. Vehicles used for the conveyance of milk shall be kept clean and live animal shall be conveyed or carried at the same time as the milk.

13. Ventilation and lighting.—Every cattle-shed and every building used for keeping or storing milk (other than a cold store) shall be provided with a sufficient area of windows or external openings communicating directly with the external air in order to secure adequate lighting and ventilation.

14. Lighting.—Places in which milking is carried on after dark, shall be provided with adequate artificial lighting.

15. Air-space.—No cow-keeper or dairyman shall allow any shed to be occupied by a larger number of animals than will leave not less than eight hundred feet of air-space for each cow or buffalo, provided as follows:—

(a) in calculating the air-space for the purpose of this by-law, no space shall be reckoned which is more than 16 feet above the floor, but if the roof or ceiling is inclined, then the mean height of the same above the floor may be taken as the height thereof for the purposes of this by-law;

(b) any cattle-shed constructed and used before the date of the enforcement of this by-law shall be exempted from its operation until two years after that date.

16. Receptacles for water.—All receptacles for the storage or conveyance of water shall be kept clean. A dairyman or cow-keeper shall ensure that the drinking water for cows is protected from contamination.

17. Water-supply.—Every person in charge of a dairy shall cause it to be provided with an adequate supply of good and wholesome water for cleansing such dairy or any vessel that may be used therein for containing milk, and for all other reasonable and necessary purposes in connection with the use thereof.

18. Cleanliness of cattle-shed.—No cow-keeper or dairyman or purveyor of milk or occupier of a milk store or milk shop shall use or permit to be used any milk store or milk shop in his occupation as a sleeping apartment or for any purpose incompatible with the cleanliness of the milk shop or milk store and of the milk vessels and the milk therein or in any manner likely to cause contamination of milk therein.

19. No cow-keeper or dairyman or purveyor of milk shall keep swine or poultry in any cattle-shed or other building used by him for keeping cows or in any milk store or other place used by him for keeping milk for sale.

20. Every cow-keeper and dairyman shall cause every part of the interior of every cattle-shed or dairy in his occupation to be thoroughly cleansed from time to time and as often as may be necessary to secure that such places shall be at all times reasonably clean.

21. Every cow-keeper or dairyman shall cause the ceilings and the walls of the cattle-shed or dairy in his occupation to be properly lime-washed at least twice every year and at such other times as reasonably clean:

Provided that this requirement shall not apply to such ceilings and walls for which lime-washing is unsuitable.

22. Every cow-keeper and dairyman shall cause the floor of every such cow-shed or dairy to be thoroughly washed, and all dung and offensive matter accumulating inside such shed or dairy to be swept and removed as often as may be necessary but not less than twice every day.

23. Cleanliness of milk shop and milk store.—Every occupier of a milk store or shop shall cause every part of the interior to be thoroughly cleansed from time to time and as often as may be necessary to maintain it in a thorough state of cleanliness.

24. Health and inspection of milch animals in dairies.—The Commissioners shall cause to be made such inspections of dairy cattle as may be necessary.

25. Cleanliness of milk vessels.—Every cow-keeper or dairyman shall from time to time and as often as may be necessary cause every milk vessel that may be used by him for the sale, conveyance or storage of milk to be thoroughly cleansed with steam or clean boiling water and shall otherwise take all proper precautions for the maintenance of such milk in a constant state of cleanliness.

On every occasion when any such vessel shall have been used to contain milk or shall have been returned to him after having been out of his possession, he shall cause such vessel to be forthwith so cleansed.

26. Protection of milk against infection or contamination.—Every purveyor, seller or retailer of milk shall take all reasonable and proper precaution in connection with the storage and distribution of milk and otherwise to prevent exposure of milk to any infection or contamination.

27. No purveyor, seller or retailer of milk shall deposit or keep any milk intended for sale—

(a) in any room or place where it would be liable to become infected or contaminated by impure air or by any offensive, noxious or deleterious gas or substance or by any noxious or injurious emanation, exhalation or effluvium;

(b) in any room used as a kitchen or living room;

(c) in any room or building or part of a building communicating directly by door, window or otherwise with any room used as a sleeping room or with a water-closet, earth-closet, privy-cesspool or receptacle or a shed or with a room in which there may be any person suffering from an infectious or dangerous disease or which may have been used by any person suffering from any such disease and may not have been properly disinfected; or

(d) in any room or building or part of a building in which there is any untrapped inlet to any drain.

28. No cow-keeper or dairyman shall allow any milch cattle belonging to him or under his care or control to be milked for the purpose of obtaining milk for sale unless at the time of milking—

(a) the udder and teats of such cow are thoroughly clean; and

(b) the hands of the person milking such animals also are thoroughly clean and free from all infection and contamination.

29. All dirt shall be removed from the flanks of the cattle before milking is begun, and every person engaged in milking shall keep his body and clothing clean.

30. The floor of every milk store or milk shop shall be rendered impervious and sloping to a channel, so constructed as to prevent any liquid matter from accumulating; and to lead it directly to a drain outside the building.

31. The owner of a milk store or shop shall cleanse as often as necessary all fittings, floors and furniture.

32. No dairyman or seller of milk shall sell infected or contaminated milk, or milk suspected to be infected or contaminated.

33. No cow-keeper or dairyman shall keep, in the shed in which the cattle are milked, any animal the milk from which there is reason to believe has conveyed or is likely to convey any infectious disease.

34. It shall be lawful for the Commissioners to close, for such period as they may think fit, a dairy from which infected or contaminated milk is supplied for sale.

35. Penalty.—The penalty for the breach of any of the by-laws 3 to 22 and 25 to 33 shall be a fine which may extend to fifty rupees and when the breach is a continuing one, with a further fine not exceeding five rupees for every day after the date of first conviction during which the offender persists in the offence.

Midnapore.—No. L.S.-G.2B/1/48.—20th February 1948.—The following draft by-laws, which have been framed by the Commissioners of the Midnapore Municipality in the district of Midnapore, under sections 407 and 414 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), and which the Governor proposes to confirm under section 506 of the said Act is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on the 4th April 1948, and any objection or suggestion received by the undersigned through the District Magistrate and the Divisional Commissioner before that date will be duly considered:—

I. Draft by-laws.

1. No license shall be granted under section 407 for the use of any premises for the slaughter of animals until the Health Officer or any other competent officer appointed by the Commissioners in this behalf has certified that the premises are furnished with satisfactory arrangements for ventilation, water-supply and drainage and are otherwise suitable for the purpose.

2. Location.—The premises shall not be located within one hundred feet of any dwelling house or within fifty feet of a public street.

3. No part of the premises shall be below the level of the surrounding ground.

4. Construction.—The proposed slaughter-house shall be well paved with asphalt, concrete, cement, marble, stone or any other non-absorbent material. It shall be constructed on a slope and provided with a channel leading into a drain: the drain shall be properly trapped and covered with grating, the bars of which shall not be more than three-eighths of an inch apart. Adequate provision shall be made for the effectual drainage of the slaughter-house compound.

5. The walls of the proposed slaughter-house shall be made impermeable with glazed tiles, cement plaster or any other suitable material up to a height of six feet above the floor.

6. The proposed slaughter-house shall be surrounded by a wall to conceal it from the public view.

7. There shall be a quarantine pen, maintained for the purposes of the slaughter-house where animals which show signs of developing any disease communcable to human beings may be isolated for observation for at least twenty-four hours before slaughter. The quarantine pen shall be at least one hundred feet from any dwelling house and shall be well proved, frequently drained and ventilated. There shall be arrangements for providing the animals kept in the quarantine pen with sufficient fodder and water.

8. There shall be no water closet, earth closet, privy, urinal or cesspool within the proposed slaughter-house.

9. Adequate provision shall be made for storage of water in the proposed slaughter-house for washing the same, the bottom of the storage tank shall be at least six feet above the floor of the slaughter-house. There shall be water troughs for watering the animals before slaughter.

10. The license of any slaughter-house may be withdrawn if at any time it fails to fulfil the above conditions or if there is any breach in respect of the slaughter-house of any by-law made under section 414 of the Bengal Municipal Act.

II. Model by-laws regulating slaughter-houses for the slaughter of animals meant for human consumption. (Under section 414 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932.)

1. Animals shall be slaughtered as humanely as possible.

2. No dogs shall be permitted within the slaughter-house.

3. Hours of work.—The hours of work fixed by the Commissioners shall be conspicuously printed on a board with the name of the licensee and displayed in a conspicuous place in the slaughter-house.

4. The slaughter-house shall be sufficiently lighted to allow for work after dusk.

5. Trees shall not be permitted to overhang the premises. The slaughter-house may be enclosed by wire-netting to prevent the entrance of birds.

6. No portion of the slaughter-house shall be used for living or sleeping unless it is separated from the place where animals are slaughtered by a substantial wall and contains a window or windows opening directly to the air and of dimensions not less than one-tenth of the superficial area of the floor space.

7. No person suffering from any contagious or infectious disease shall be employed or allowed to enter the slaughter-house.

8. Bones, offal, gut, hoofs, horns and other refuse shall be kept in properly constructed, covered and removable vessels made of non-absorbent material until arrangements can be made to remove them.

9. At the close of every working day every floor or pavement shall be thoroughly washed and all fragments of gut, blood or other matters detached in the process of disembowelling and skinning shall be collected and placed in suitable vessels or receptacles to be forthwith removed with their covers from the slaughter-house for disposal in a manner approved by the Commissioners. Each such vessel shall be constructed of non-absorbent material and shall have a closely fitting cover and shall contain a sufficient quantity of deodorant or disinfectant.

10. At the close of every working day every bench, table, tub, vessel, utensil or implement, which has been in use during the day, shall be thoroughly cleansed with water containing a deodorant or disinfectant.

11. At the close of every working day all filth, blood or refuse which may have been splashed upon any inside portion of the slaughter-house shall be removed by scraping or other effectual means.

12. Every vessel or receptacle when not in use shall be kept thoroughly clean.

13. Within the first ten days of March, June, September and December the interior of the slaughter-house above the floor or pavement shall be thoroughly washed with hot lime-wash if such place has been in use as a slaughter-house since the last occasion on which it was so washed:

Provided that if any part thereof is covered with impervious material, it shall be sufficient to cleanse the same thoroughly with water.

14. The interior of the slaughter-house shall not be allowed, by reason of want of repair to the surface thereof, to facilitate the absorption of any liquid filth or refuse or other noxious or injurious matter.

15. Inspection of meat.—The licensee shall permit the meat to be inspected after slaughter by a competent person appointed by the Commissioners in this behalf to find out cyste cercus cellulose, tubercular infection or any other infective or unwholesome condition of the carcass. Carcasses showing signs of tubercular infection or encysted tape worms (cyste cercus cellulose) shall be destroyed.

16. If the Commissioners arrange for the meat to be stamped after inspection by a competent person to indicate the quality of the meat or if they fix prices for different grades of meat to be sold in public markets the licensee shall permit the meat to be so stamped and shall sell the meat at the prices fixed.

17. Penalty.—The breach of any of the above by-laws shall render the license of any private slaughter-house liable to suspension.

By order of the Governor,

S. K. GUPTA, Secy.

Industrial dispute between the Bengal Luxmi Cotton Mills, Limited, Serampore, Hooghly (Head Office 11, Clive Row, Calcutta), and its workmen as represented by Serampore Sutakal Mazdoor Union, Mahesh, Serampore.

Award.

The Bengal Luxmi Cotton Mills, Ltd., employ about 3,200 factory workers. There was a strike by the operatives of the Mill which commenced on 2nd May 1947 and continued till 3rd July 1947. The workmen resumed work on 4th July 1947 after an ad interim settlement with the employers. The disputes between the Cotton Textile Industry and its workers were referred to a Major Tribunal of three Judges by the Government of West Bengal after the termination of this strike. This Major Tribunal was entrusted, as it is understood, with the task of adjudicating on all questions in general, arising between the industry and its labour. The Union of the Bengal Luxmi Cotton Mills, however, complained that the terms of the interim settlement of strike in July last were not being implemented by the Mills. The Union also demanded pay for the period of strike. These disputes were referred to me for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, by order No. 556Lab., dated 27th September 1947.

The disputed questions will appear from the issues that are mentioned below. The Mills opposed the claim of the Union on all the issues.

The workers of the Mills were represented by the Serampore Sutakal Mazdoor Union and the reference of the Government shows this Union as the representative of the workers. This Union filed the written statement and conducted the proceedings on behalf of the workers. During the hearing of the case another Union styled as Banga Luxmi Sutakal Workers' Union appeared through its Secretary Sree Narayan Chandra Bhattacharji and prayed for representing the workers of the Mills. This Union appears, on its official seal, to bear registered No. 1152. I permitted this Union also to appear and represent the workers if they so desired. This Union appeared through Mr. Phanindranath Sannyal, Advocate, High Court, who watched proceedings and also addressed me on some of the issues.

Mr. P. K. Bose, Counsel, Mr. D. N. Sen Gupta, Pleader, Mr. Saileswar Mitra, Secretary, Appelsuri and other workers appeared for Serampore Sutakal Mazdoor Union. Mr. S. N. Biswas, Law Adviser of the Mills, represented the Mills before me.

Issues.

1. Is there any industrial dispute set out by the Union?

2. Is the Union's case barred by section 19(2) of the Act?

3. (i) Has the Mill violated any of the terms of the settlement arrived at in June 1947?

(ii) Whether the Company should refuse the food canteen and ration benefits.

4. Was there any settlement in respect of the pay for the—

(i) Period of strike in May, June and July 1947?

(ii) Are the employees entitled to pay for the strike period?

DECISIONS.

Issues Nos. 1 and 2—Is there any industrial dispute set out by the Union?

Is the Union's case barred by section 19(2) of the Act?

The Company pleaded in paragraph 1 of its written statement that the complaint by the Union of violation by the Company of the terms of a previous settlement in June 1947 could not be entertained by the Tribunal and the Tribunal had no jurisdiction over this dispute. It was further pleaded in paragraph 3 that the dispute related to matters which had already been settled in June 1947 in conciliation proceedings and that the present dispute did not lie in view of the provisions of section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The complaint of the Union was that the Company was not obeying the terms of the settlement of June 1947, that was arrived at in conciliation proceedings. This was certainly an industrial dispute. It is also to be considered that the Union does not want to alter the terms of the settlement and do not claim that it was not binding upon them at the present time. The Union's claim was not, therefore, hit by the bar of section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Union want to enforce the terms of the settlement on the plea that it was the Company which were not implementing them.

It is, therefore, decided that the Union's case is an industrial dispute over which this Tribunal is entitled to assume jurisdiction, as it has been referred to it by the appropriate Government and that the Union's case is not barred by section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Issue No. 3—(i) Has the Mill violated any of the terms of the settlement arrived at in June 1947?

(ii) Whether the Company should refuse the food canteen and ration benefits.

The Union's case is that the Mill has violated the terms of the settlement arrived at in June 1947. The Union states in its written statement that after resumption of work on 4th July 1947 by the operatives, they found violation of the following terms by the Mill authorities:—

(a) There was a cooked-food canteen where rice, chapati, etc., used to be supplied at concession rates. The Company closed it without notice after the strike.

(b) In the terms of the settlement it was explicitly written that the minimum earnings of all workers should be raised to Rs. 40 per month. But actually the workers were not receiving the sum.

(c) The Company is not supplying rations to workers and their dependants even after two months as promised in the notice of the Mill authorities on 3rd July 1947.

It, therefore, appears that the Union complains that the Mills have violated the terms of settlement to the effect that the minimum earnings of all workers would be raised to Rs. 40 per month and further, that the cooked-food canteen had been stopped and rations to workers and their dependants were not being supplied. I shall first consider if there has been a violation of the terms as to the minimum earning of all categories of workers being raised to Rs. 40 per month. The Company's plea in this respect appears in paragraph 15 of the written statement. It states that although in the document showing the terms of the settlement of the strike it appears that all workers were to get a minimum earning of Rs. 40 per month, it was never the intention of either party to include the piece-rate workers within this definition, inasmuch as, the total earnings of a piece-rate worker entirely depended upon his skill and industry. In fact, it was possible for a piece-rate worker to earn more than Rs. 40 per month, if only he was sufficiently skilful and hardworking. The Company, therefore, pleads that the provision for raising the minimum earning of a worker to Rs. 40 per month applied only to the category of time-basis workers, and not to the piece-rate workers and that, therefore, even if any piece-rate worker earned less than Rs. 40 per month it was no violation on the part of the Company of any of the terms of settlement.

The factory workers of this Mill struck work on 2nd May 1947, after serving a strike notice on 16th April 1947. The Labour Commissioner of the Government of Bengal took up the matter and started conciliation proceedings. Letter (Ext. 9) No. 4577L.C., dated 29th May 1947, addressed by the Labour Commissioner, Bengal, to Mr. Saileswar Mitra, Assistant Secretary, Serampore Sutakal Mazdoor Union, shows that the management had agreed to increase the minimum earnings of about Rs. 36 to Rs. 40 and to give due consideration to the remaining demands after the new machineries which had already been ordered for, were installed in the factory. This letter further shows that the dispute was at the same time being recommended to the Government for reference to a Board of Conciliation. After this letter the Assistant Secretary wrote a letter (Ext. 10) on 30th May 1947 asking for some details of the proposal of the employers as well as the Board of Conciliation referred to in the letter (Ext. 9). Letter (Ext. 11) from the Labour Commissioner, Bengal, to the Secretary, Sutakal Mazdoor Union, bearing No. 5251L.C., dated 26th June 1947, shows the terms of the settlement of the strike. It shows that the minimum earning of the workers of the Mills will be raised to Rs. 40 inclusive of wages, allowance, bonuses, food and cloth concessions and other privileges, provided they agreed to the cash payment, to every worker, of the sum of Rs. 6-14, as representing the value of food concessions. It also states that the question of supply of food-stuffs at concessional rates to the workers and their dependants will be reconsidered by the Mills after a period of two months and that the Company would give an advance of one month's wages to each worker which will be realised in eight equal instalments. Letter (Ext. 12) by Mr. Saileswar Mitra to the Labour Commissioner shows that the workers accepted the terms embodied in the two letters (Exts. 9 and 11) mentioned above. The strike was then called off and the workers resumed work on 4th July 1947. The question is, if the piece-rate workers were entitled to a minimum earning of Rs. 40 per month as enunciated in the letter (Ext. 11) of Mr. Azad, Additional Labour Commissioner. The plea of the Company as mentioned above is that Mr. Azad's letter should not be so construed as to include also the piece-rate workers in the term "workers" in the first paragraph where the minimum earning of a worker is fixed at Rs. 40 including all allowances and concessions. It is true that the total earning of a piece-rate worker much depends on his individual skill and energy, but the provision of a minimum amount, in case the output of a worker is not sufficient for any untoward circumstances, cannot be over-estimated. I do consider that the Company should not be permitted to add to the terms of the settlement as mentioned in Mr. Azad's letter (Ext. 11) so as to exclude the piece-rate workers from the clause of all workers getting a minimum wage of Rs. 40 per month. The Union did not press before me the instances of the individual piece-rate workers earning less than Rs. 40 in a month. As the Company denied its liability to pay the piece-rate workers at the promised rate of Rs. 40 inclusive of allowances and concessions, I do consider that there must be some piece-rate workers who earned less than Rs. 40 per month in allowances and concessions. It is decided that if after the resumption of work on 4th July 1947 any piece-rate worker was paid for a calendar month, a sum less than Rs. 40 in wages, allowances and concessions, this was in violation of the terms of the settlement and that the Company would compensate the worker in accordance with the term mentioned above.

I shall now take up the question of the restoration of the cooked-food canteen for workers and ration benefits to the workers and their dependants. Union's case is that there was a canteen of cooked-food, where rice, chapati, etc., were supplied at concessional rates to workers but that the Company had closed it after the conclusion of the strike. The Union also claims that the Company should restore the supply of rations to workers and their dependants which the Company stopped doing after the conclusion of the strike in July last. I have already mentioned above the terms of settlement of the strike of the employees in June and July last as embodied in the letters of Mr. N. Hossain, Assistant Labour Commissioner (Ext. 9), and Mr. Azad, Additional Labour Commissioner (Ext. 11). Exhibit 11 clearly shows that the minimum earning of the workers of the Mills will be raised to Rs. 40 per month inclusive of wages, allowances, bonuses, food and cloth concessions, and other privileges, provided they agreed to a cash payment to every worker of the sum of Rs. 6-14 as the value of food concessions, instead of supply of rations at cheap rates. The letter makes it further clear that the workers would be supplied rations not at cheap rates but at controlled market rates so long as the Company would maintain a ration shop and that the sum of Rs. 6-14 which represented the amount of food concessions would be paid in cash to every worker per month as a part of the total monthly earning which should be at Rs. 40 in the minimum. The Company in paragraph 14 of its written statement urged that every worker was taking the sum of Rs. 6-14 in cash as the value of food concession and that, therefore, it could not be maintained that the Company had violated the terms of the settlement as embodied in letters (Exts. 9 and 11) which were admittedly accepted by the Union. The Union do not want to add to or subtract from these terms. I have looked into the file of the Labour Commissioner on the subject of the strike by the operatives of this Mill. The letter of the Managing Agents to the Labour Commissioner, dated 10th May 1947, shows that as early as 10th May 1947, the Managing Agents wrote to the Labour Commissioner stating that they were agreeable to increase the monthly emolument of a worker to the sum of Rs. 40, provided the ration benefits were paid in cash at Rs. 6-14 which represented the value of the food concessions available to the worker as the management had decided to close the ration shop for cheap rations. The copy of this letter is Ext. F. The value of the food concessions amounts to Rs. 6-14-4½ pies as will appear from the statement, Ext. V(1). The Company confirmed the proposal of paying Rs. 6-14 as the value of food concessions in its letter, dated 4th June 1947, to the Labour Commissioner. This letter is Ext. H. It is, therefore, clear that the Company did not want to give to the workers any other food concessions at its expense and that all food concessions that the Company agreed to afford to a worker was covered by the cash payment of Rs. 6-14. The letters (Ext. 9 of Mr. Hossain or Ext. 11 of Mr. Azad) which embodied all the terms of the settlement of the strike do not contemplate of the provision of continuing the cooked-food canteen. The workers are not entitled to any pecuniary benefit out of the food canteen in terms of the settlement of the strike as shown in the letters (Exts. 9 and 11). The question of food concessions which may be allowed to a worker is intimately connected with the basic wage that may be allowed to him and this question is before the Major Tribunal which is sitting. It is not for this Tribunal to consider the propriety of granting or otherwise of any further emoluments in the shape of cheap canteen which will mean increase of wages. This Tribunal has been entrusted with the task of interpreting the settlement already arrived at in June 1947, its enforcement and to decide the question of strike pay. (Vide memo. No. 6975-L.C., dated 23rd September 1947, in the Labour Commissioner's file.) It is, therefore, decided that there was no violation of the terms of the settlement between the parties, in that the workers were not getting the advantage of the cooked-food canteen since after the settlement of the strike in June 1947.

It now remains to be considered if the workers were entitled to other ration benefits, including ration benefits for their relations and dependants. The ration benefits of the worker have, as mentioned above, been converted into a cash payment of Rs. 6-14 per month. It was urged before me that the workers were entitled to purchase rations at concessional rates from the Company's shop for their dependants, as they used to do prior to the date of the strike. It was pointed out to me that out of about 3,200 workers there were about 1,700 Bengalees, who lived with a family near the Mills and that each of these workers had 4 to 6 ration cards for their dependants for which they were supplied rations at concessional rates by the Company's ration shop. These concessions, as pointed out above, amount to Rs. 6-14 per head. The claim of the Union, therefore, means that each of these 1,700 Bengalee workmen received additional benefits to the extent of about Rs. 27-8 to Rs. 41-4 per month in the shape of ration concession for their dependants. This works out at the rate of more than Rs. 30 per worker. The expense of the Company on this account alone would exceed Rs. 50,000 in a month or Rs. 6,00,000 in the year. This is certainly a great drag on the revenues of the Company. The supply of these concessional ration benefits to dependants were urged also by the Banga Luxmi Sutakal Workers' Union who appeared to be interested only with this item of the disputes. The note of the Labour Commissioner, dated 30th April 1947, shows that "a section of the workers who got concessional rations for their family members is satisfied since their real wage is higher than others who have got no family. The single workers are raising the clamour but the Company is in a delicate position, inasmuch as they cannot stop the concessional ration being given to the dependants of the abovementioned workers nor they can give extra money to single workers or compensate their loss in not having dependants here to get extra concession". This statement was made in appreciating the various grounds that culminated in the strike on 2nd May 1947. It appears from Ext. 11, the letter of Mr. Azad, that this question was considered at the time of the settlement and was settled. It is stated "as far as the supply of ration at controlled rate is concerned, the management will, however, review the situation after two months from the date of resumption and if the situation would permit they would reconsider the question of supply of food stuffs at concessional rates to the workers and their dependants". The term of the settlement was, therefore, that the question of supply of food stuffs at concessional rates to the dependants would be reviewed by the management after two months from the date of resumption and that if the situation did permit they would restore the supply of food stuffs. This question was raised by the Secretary of the Union in his letter, dated 9th September 1947 (Ext. M). The Assistant Secretary demands in his letter for the re-opening of the canteen, the supply of rations to the families of workers at pre-strike rate and an ad interim increment to all workers at Rs. 10 per month. The Company's reply to this letter was given in a letter to the Labour Commissioner on 22nd September 1947. It states that the situation was reviewed by them and that they could not restore the system of ration benefits to the workers' dependants on the following grounds:—

(a) The expectation that the price of coarse cloth would be increased as reported to have been proposed by the Government of India had been belied, as the said proposal was reported to have been dropped for the time being.

(c) Production had not improved since the last settlement in June 1947.

(d) The Mills were still running at a loss and this loss if unchecked would force the Company to liquidation. The Company reiterated the same grounds before me as the reasons for their not restoring the ration benefits to the dependants of the factory workers. Exhibit S is a profit and loss account of the Mills for the period from April to October 1947. It shows a total loss of more than Rs. 4,14,000 for this period. Exhibit F, the statement as to production of yarn and cloth month by month from July 1946 to November 1947, shows that the yield of yarn and cloth in a month was gradually diminishing. The statement (Ext. Q) as to the expenses incurred by the Mills in labour and staff, shows that these expenses are gradually rising from year to year. Exhibit T shows a statement showing the total increase in wages allowed to the workers after July 1946 when working hours were diminished from 9 to 8 per day. These increases amount to Rs. 29,000 every month. The price of the manufactured cloth is, as is well known, fixed by the Government, and it is urged that there has been an increase in the price of raw cotton. Exhibit U is a copy of the India Gazette, dated 17th November 1947, which shows that in February 1947 the Government of India appointed an ad hoc Departmental Committee to investigate into facts bearing on the prices of cotton textiles and to recommend measures necessary for increasing the production of yarn and cloth. This Committee recommended a revision of the existing price structure which is stated to have rendered the production of coarse yarn and cloth unremunerative on account of increases in prices of Indian raw cotton and in wages. The Government of India took certain decisions to relieve the difficult condition in cotton textile industry and these decisions are to be found in this notification. It appears from this notification that there has been an increase in the price of raw cotton and in wages that rendered the production of coarse yarn and cloth unremunerative. The Company urged that on account of these circumstances the Mill was running at a loss every month. The Company placed orders for mill machineries on 19th December 1946 with a view to increase production and diminish cost of manufacture and Ext. O is the copy of the letter placing the orders to an engineering firm in Bombay. The Company expected that when the new machines arrived, they would be able to earn profit and would be able to give better wages to the labour working in the industry. The letter of the Managing Agents, dated 22nd September 1947, that explained the inability of the Company to restore the ration benefits to the dependants of the workers shows in the last paragraph "in the above circumstances we hope that the workers should realise our inability to make further concessions. They should wait till the new machines arrive and are installed, the production sufficiently improves and the Mills run at a reasonable profit. We further hope that they would not resort to action which may further endanger the Company". This statement shows that the Company have in mind giving of further concessions, commensurate with the profits earned, after the arrival and installation of the new machines, when it is expected production will increase and profits will be earned.

In the circumstances, as discussed above, it is decided that the Company was justified in refusing to restore the ration benefits to the dependants of some of the workers on a review of the financial condition of the Mills. This refusal was not in violation of any term of settlement, as the exercise of the discretion in this manner for sufficient grounds, was guaranteed in the terms of the settlement.

Issue No. 4—(i) Was there any settlement in respect of the pay for the period of strike in May, June and July 1947?

It was contended by the Company that during the course of the settlement of the strike the Company made it clear to the Conciliation Officer that they were not agreeable nor had they the capacity to pay the wages for the strike period, as the Company was incurring loss owing to repeated strikes since August 1946 and that for that reason an advance of pay was allowed as shown in the letter (Ext. 11) of Mr. Azad. The Union contended that there was no settlement as to the pay for the strike period and that this question has, therefore, been referred to the Tribunal. It is true that if the question of strike period pay was settled by conciliation in June 1947, the Union would not have been entitled to reagitate this claim before this Tribunal, in view of section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The learned Advocates for the Union contended that the bar of section 19(2) would not be in operation in this case as the settlement of the dispute was not embodied in memorandum of settlement signed by the parties as required by section 13(2) of the Act. I would only point out that such an objection is of no substance, seeing that the Assistant Secretary of the Union Mr. Saileswar Mitra wrote to the Labour Commissioner (vide Ext. 12) stating that the workers had accepted the terms embodied in the two letters Nos. 4577L.C. (Ext. 9) and 5251L.C. (Ext. 11) and that they had accordingly agreed to resume work when the management would issue a notice therefor. The irregularity of the absence of a signed memorandum is, therefore, cured by the letter (Ext. 12) which is duly signed by the Assistant Secretary. It will, however, be seen if there was any agreement in respect of the strike period pay during the conciliation proceedings. The letters (Ext. 9 and Ext. 11) which embody all the terms of the settlement and show the stages of the settlement, do not bear any reference to the pay for the strike period. It cannot be argued that if the strike period pay was not made a ground of attack or defence during the conciliation proceedings it could not be agitated before the Tribunal. On a careful perusal of letters (Exts. 9 and 11), I do consider that there was no settlement in respect of the pay for the strike period although it was raised in the Union's letter (Ext. 10, dated 30th May 1947). The Union is, therefore, entitled to agitate this question before this Tribunal. As a matter of fact, this is one of the disputes that were recommended to be referred to the Special Tribunal, as it appears from the memorandum No. 6975L.C., dated 23rd September 1947, of the Labour Commissioner to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department. It is, therefore, decided that the question of the strike pay was not settled during the conciliation proceedings in June 1947 and that the Union is entitled to raise this question before this Tribunal.

It is claimed that though the strike commenced with due notice to the authorities, the wages of the strike period was lying unpaid. Notice for a strike to be effective on 2nd May 1947 was given to the Mill authorities on 16th April 1947. The Industrial Disputes Act came into operation on 1st April 1947. Till 28th June 1947 a cotton mill was not a public utility concern. No notice was, therefore, necessary under the Act for a strike in a cotton mill before 28th June 1947. The claim of the Union that the strike wages were payable because the strike was resorted to with due notice is, therefore, of no substance. The Company opposed the claim for the wages for the strike period.

Both the parties cited before me the award of this Tribunal in the industrial dispute between Messrs. Lipton, Ltd., and their employees published in the Calcutta Gazette on 20th November 1947 (page 324) and agreed that the principles enunciated in that award may be followed in determining the availability of the pay during the strike period in this case. I shall, therefore, briefly state these principles here below:—

Under the United States National Labour Relations Act, the striking employees retain their status as employees under that Act (1) when the strike was over a current labour dispute and (2) when it is the result of an "unfair labour practice". The same principles are also followed in the Industrial Courts in India. In the circumstances, as mentioned above, the employer is under an obligation to reinstate the striking employees and if it refuses to do so, an Industrial Court would have the jurisdiction to reinstate them. The question whether the Industrial Court would also go to the length of paying the wages for the strike period, although no work was done during that period and the absence was not permitted, is a different one. It is well known that a striker is entitled to the wages for the period of strike, if the strike was both (1) lawful and (2) justified. The awards in a number of disputes discussed in the award in the Lipton's, Ltd., dispute, show that where the strike has been occasioned by the employment of an "unfair labour practice" by the management or where the employees had been willing to submit to arbitration to which management did not agree, it will be open to an Industrial Court to award pay for the strike period, provided the strike had been lawful at its inception and continuance.

It is, therefore, to be decided if the strike during the period from 2nd May 1947 to 3rd July 1947 in the Bengal Luxmi Cotton Mills was occasioned by the employment of an "unfair labour practice" by the management. If this question be answered in the affirmative, the strikers will be entitled to the wages for the strike period. If this question be answered in the negative, it is to be considered if the strike was to further a current labour dispute or in other words, to obtain improved terms of employment. In such a case the strikers will be entitled to the pay for the strike period if the strike had been both lawful and peaceful and if there were circumstances to show that the attitude of the Company was so unreasonable as to force the strike on the employees and also its continuance.

There was a strike of the workers of the Bengal Luxmi Cotton Mills in August 1946 and the written statement of the Union shows in its first sentence that with the demand of increment of wages, etc., the workers of Banga Luxmi Cotton Mills, Serampore, struck their work in August 1946 and that the strike was settled on the terms as mentioned in Ext. 1. Section 34 of the Factories Act was amended in July 1946 by Act X of 1946 and this amendment was in operation from 1st August 1946. By this amendment the weekly working hours of an adult worker was reduced from 54 to 48. In accordance with this amendment of the Factories Act, the Company arranged the shifts for 8 hours each as shown in the notice (Ext. A, dated 1st August 1946). The wages of the piece-rate workers consequently suffered very much and there was the strike. The restriction of the working hours was, however, exempted in respect of this Mill and some other Mills for a period of two months by the Chief Inspector of Factories, Bengal, under section 44 of the Factories Act. Exhibit B is a copy of that order of the Chief Inspector of Factories. The strike was settled on 12th August 1946 under the terms of agreement shown in Ext. 1 which was signed by the Managing Agents. There are 19 terms in this agreement. Item No. 2 of these terms shows that the wages for the strike period were to be paid. Item No. 3 shows that the Company was prepared to run the Mill for 9 hours and that the operatives would get an increase of 31¼ per cent. on the total earnings of 9 hours. Item Nos. 4 and 6 agree to pay attendance bonus to all employees. Item No. 19 lays down that time-basis workers who were then drawing Rs. 15 per month would have a total monthly earning of not below Rs. 40 inclusive of all allowances. I shall consider the other items when they will be necessary. It, therefore, appears that wages for this period of strike were paid and that the Company agreed to run the Mill for 9 hours, presumably under the exemption, and the operatives were promised an increase of 31¼ per cent. on the total earnings of 9 hours. The operatives were also promised payment of production bonus and attendance bonus. The Union did not deny that attendance bonus and production bonus were being paid as stipulated. The only objection raised by them was that the operatives did not get increase of 31¼ per cent. as promised in item No. 3. To this effect the Union produced the notice (Ext. 2) which shows that with effect from 14th October 1946 the shifts were arranged for 8 hours' work, piece-rates were increased by 12½ per cent., the rate of pay of time-basis workers were kept the same in spite of the reduction of the working period and a bonus of one anna in the rupee was given for both piece-rate workers and time-basis workers on the wages earned by them. On 24th March 1947 Mr. Saileswar Mitra, Assistant Secretary of the Union, prayed for revision of the wages of the workers. It appears in this letter that when dissatisfaction of the workers in respect of their wages were represented to the Manager on 22nd March 1947, the latter stated that the rate of wages of the workers would be settled by the Mill Owners' Association and Government. The Secretary urged for the revision of the wages during the course of the month. Exhibit 4 is a letter, dated 28th March 1947, by the Secretary Mr. Saileswar Mitra to the Manager informing the latter that unless the matter of the revision of the wages of the workers was settled during the course of the month a strike notice may be issued on the expiry of 31st March 1947. Exhibit 5 is a letter by the Secretary Mr. Saileswar Mitra to the Manager, dated 2nd April 1947, informing him that the strike notice was not served in view of the unsatisfactory political atmosphere of Calcutta and suburbs on account of the communal riots but that the Company should be well-advised to revise the wages without any delay, in default whereof a strike notice may be issued after a fortnight. The strike notice was really issued on 16th April 1947 and Ext. 8 is the copy of that letter by the Secretary Mr. Saileswar Mitra to the Managing Director of the Mills. The notice states that unless the demands mentioned in the notice were fulfilled within 14 days from 17th April 1947, the workers would go on strike. It is explained in this letter that this decision was due to the fact that in August 1946 the operatives went on strike and a compromise was brought about between the parties with an increment of 31¼ per cent. of the wages, but that about two months later when the Mills began to run for 8 hours per day the increments were revised in a drastic manner and 25 per cent. of the wages of the monthly-paid workers and 12½ per cent. of that of the piece-rate workers were deducted. The new demands set forth in this notice are that the minimum wages of all workers shall be Rs. 48 including allowances, that the monthly-paid and other employees of other departments shall get an increment of 25 per cent. on rates. The rates of wages of the weaving shall be increased by 9 pies per pair and the rates of wages in the Carding Department by 9 pies per marka and further, that the mistries of all departments shall also get increments accordingly. There was no revision of the wages as prayed for in this strike notice and the workers of the Mill went on strike on 2nd May 1947.

It, therefore, appears that the workers went on strike with a complaint that increments were not given to them as promised in the terms of settlement (Ext. 1) in August 1946, and they demanded other terms instead of those in Ext. 1, and went on strike as those terms were not fulfilled. The question will arise if the authorities of the Mills unfairly refused to give effect to the increments as promised in Ext. 1, and if the workers went on strike as a protest against this conduct which would be an "unfair labour practice". I have already mentioned above that if the strike was occasioned by an "unfair labour practice", the strikers would be entitled to the wages for the period of strike.

I have already stated that the Mills were exempted from the operation of the restrictions in working hours for a period of 2 months by the Chief Inspector of Factories. It appears that the Mills, therefore, worked for 9 hour-shifts from 14th August 1946 to 13th October 1946, and from 14th October 1946 the Mill had to work 8-hour shifts under the amended section 34 of the Factories Act. Item No. 3 of Ext. 1 shows that the Company was prepared to run the Mill for 9 hours and the operatives were to get an increase of 31¼ per cent. on the total earnings of 9 hours. It was explained to me by the Law Officer of the Company that the increase of 31¼ per cent. for 9 hours' work in a day was calculated in the following manner. A worker would get the same pay for 8 hours' work as he used to get for 9 hours; for the 9th hour he will get wages for 2 hours as it was by way of overtime under section 47 of the Factories Act. This accounted for an increase of 25 per cent. of the original wage. Over and above this increase the worker was to get an additional increase of 6¼ per cent., being 1 anna in the rupee over his earnings. This would make the total increment amounting to 31¼ per cent. When the Mills had to work only for 8 hours a day with effect from 14th October 1946, the management notified (vide Ext. 2) that all piece-rates would be increased by 12½ per cent. and that the rate of time-basis workers will remain the same. A bonus of 1 anna in the rupee was also allowed to both piece-rate workers and time-basis workers of the wages earned by them. It, therefore, appears that the piece-rate workers got an increment of 18¾ per cent. and the time-basis workers an increment of 6¼ per cent. with effect from 14th October 1946. This explains the complaint of the Secretary of the Union stating that when the Mill began to run 8 hours per day, the increments were so revised as to effect a cut of 25 per cent. increment of the monthly-paid workers and 12½ per cent. of that of the piece-rate workers. The question is whether a reduction of the pay which was effected from 14th October 1946 was in contravention of the term of the settlement between the parties in item No. 3 in Ext. 1. It may be observed that the increase in 31¼ per cent. was promised on the total earnings of 9 hours and it is not denied that the Mill paid this increment for the period of 2 months during which it could work for 9-hour shifts. This term does not indicate that if the Mills worked for less than 9 hours even then this increase of 31¼ per cent. was to be paid. The wage of the piece-rate workers was increased by 12½ per cent., i.e., 2 annas per rupee; this means that the piece-rate worker was paid for 8 hours' work, the emolument for 9 hours. In the same way the rate of pay of the time-basis workers was kept the same. Over and above this, all workers were given an increment of 1 anna in the rupee, i.e., 6¼ per cent. of the wages earned by them. The difference complained of is clearly explained by the fact that the workers did not get the advantage of the double pay in the 9th hour every day. It cannot be argued that the terms of settlement in item No. 3 of Ext. 1 could be enforced on the Mills although the working hours were reduced. It appears to me that the Mills allowed all other increments to the advantage of the workers and what was denied was the advantage of the remuneration in overtime. It was for this reason that the Secretary advanced fresh demands of wages in the strike notice (Ext. 8). It, therefore, appears that there was no malafides on the part of the Company in the revision of the increments payable to the workers by 14th October 1946 and that this revision was occasioned by the operation of section 34 of the Factories Act, by which the Company was compelled to diminish the working hours from 9 to 8. It is decided that there was no unfair labour practice involved in this revision of the wages of the workers.

It was also argued that item No. 19 of Ext. 1 was not implemented by the Company and that there were some time-basis workers who did not earn Rs. 40 a month. Item No. 19 shows the agreement that time-basis workers who were then drawing Rs. 15 per month should be allowed to earn not less than Rs. 40 in wages, allowances and concessions. In paragraph 15 of page 5 of the Company's written statement, it is stated that the Company's representative admitted (before the Labour Commissioner) that the term No. 19 of Ext. 1 could not be given full effect to owing to repeated strikes and consequent losses. It was agreed that it will now be given full effect. This statement is meant to relate to the negotiations in June 1947 in settlement of the strike in question. In his address before me, Mr. S. N. Biswas, the Law Officer of the Company, stated that this statement with the item No. 19 of Ext. 1 was not given full effect to was mistaken and he had instructions to state that all time-basis workers who were drawing Rs. 15 per month in August 1946 were paid at more than Rs. 40 per month. The Union representatives filed an application before me on 3rd January 1948 praying that the Company may be asked to file before the Tribunal the Register of Wages paid to the time-basis workers in the months of March and April 1947, being the months just preceding the strike in May 1947. The registers were produced before the Tribunal and the representatives of the Union inspected these registers. Exhibits X and Y are the statements made from these registers for the payments to different categories of workers in these two months. These statements were accepted as correct by the Union representatives after an inspection of the Company's registers which were returned to the Company. It appears from Exts X and Y that all time-basis workers on a monthly pay of Rs. 15 received more than Rs. 40 in March and April 1947, as stipulated for in item No. 19. I asked the Union representative on 3rd January 1947 to produce on 9th January 1947 evidence to show that any one of the workers of the category as mentioned in item No. 19, did not earn at least Rs. 40 per month in wages and allowances. At the same time the registers mentioned above were ordered to be produced by the Company. On the next date of hearing on 9th January 1947, the registers were produced and the statements (Exts. X and Y) were admitted to be correct after an inspection of the registers. It, therefore, appears that there was no violation of the term of the agreement as contained in item No. 19 of Ext. 1.

It was also urged by the learned Advocates for the Union that there were some other terms in Ext. 1 that were not implemented by the Company and that these were the terms as mentioned in the letter, dated 26th February 1947 (Ext. 6) of Mr. Zaman, the then Secretary of the Union. This letter shows that the workers of the Mill complained that the agreements in items Nos. 9, 13, 14, 17 and 19 had not been fulfilled. Reply of the Company to this letter is Ext. 7 and the Company informed Mr. Zaman that necessary steps had been taken towards implementation of the items of privileges as referred to in the letter. I have considered the question of implementation of item No. 19 above. Item No. 9 provides for establishment of a hospital and maternity ward to be completed by 1947. Item No. 13 agrees that the present school will be raised to the standard of an M. E. School. Item No. 14 promises introduction of Provident Fund. Item No. 17 promises establishment of a library for Mill workers. It appears to me from the statement of the Law Officer of the Company that the Provident Fund had already been introduced before the date of the strike in May 1947, and that the Mill authorities could not implement the other terms on account of continual loss owing to repeated strikes and the unremunerative character of old machineries. The question is if owing to the failure of the Company to implement these terms, namely, the terms in items Nos. 9, 13 and 17, there was an "unfair labour practice" that occasioned the strike in May 1947. The strike notice (Ext. B) clearly shows that the strike was contemplated not to enforce the terms in items Nos. 9, 13 or 17 in Ext. 1 but for better terms of wages. It cannot, therefore, be argued that the strike in question was occasioned by an "unfair labour practice" owing to the management not implementing the terms in items Nos. 9, 13 and 17 in Ext. 1.

It, therefore, appears that the strike in question was not occasioned by any "unfair labour practice" but was in furtherance of a current labour dispute, or in other words for securing improved terms of wages. As explained above, it is to be seen if there were circumstances to show that the attitude of the Company was so unreasonable as to force the strike on the employees and also its continuance. It is not the Company's case that the strike was unlawful. The Company's case is that it was neither justified nor peaceful.

The Company argued that the workers of the Mills had no justification for going on strike as they did and that there were circumstances to show that the Company took all possible care to prevent the strike.

I have already stated that there was a strike by the employees in the month of August 1946 when the Company attempted to reduce the working hours from 9 to 8 per day in conformity with the amendment of section 34 of the Factories Act. The strike continued from 5th August 1946 to 12th August 1946. The strike was settled on 12th August 1946 and Ext. 1 is the agreement in settlement of the strike signed by the Managing Agents. The Company paid wages for the strike period. The Company got exemption for two months of the restrictions of working hours and the period of exemption expired on 13th October 1946. On 12th October 1946 the Company issued a notice intimating the workers that as the Government refused to grant further exemption from the restrictions of section 34 of the Factories Act, the working hours of the shifts will be reduced from 9 hours to 8 with effect from 14th October 1946, and revision of the wages of the workers of the factory as noted above were made in this notice. On 16th October 1946 the spinners of the Mills without any previous notice went on a strike. The whole mill was affected and the strike continued till 21st October 1946. The workers unconditionally surrendered and resumed work. The Company paid them the wages for the strike period. There was another strike by the workers on 20th December 1946 which continued till 30th December 1946. The demand was for 10 days' holiday with pay for all workers irrespective of the fact as to whether the holiday had been earned or not. Letter (Ext. D), dated 30th December 1946, of Mr. Saileswar Mitra, Assistant Secretary, shows that the strike was undertaken by the workers on a wrong interpretation of law and that after the discovery of their mistake they were going to join their work on 31st December 1946. The workers were paid 10 days' wages also for this strike which continued for 11 days. On 26th February 1947 the then Secretary of the Union Mr. Zaman wrote to the management complaining of non-fulfilment of some of the terms of the settlement, being items Nos. 9, 13, 14, 17 and 19 of Ext. 1. Item No. 19 is as to the pay of the time-basis workers who were drawing Rs. 15 per month; item No. 14 was about the Provident Fund. Items Nos. 9, 14 and 17 related to the establishment of hospital, school and library. Mr. Zaman in his letter (Ext. 6) did not complain about the non-fulfilment of the term of the increment of wages as stipulated for in item No. 3 of Ext. 1 in his letter. The reply of the Company was that they were taking necessary steps towards implementation of items of privileges mentioned in his letter. It may be mentioned that the Provident Fund has been already introduced and it has not been found that any one of the time-basis workers on a monthly pay of Rs. 15 was not getting at least Rs. 40 per month in wages and allowances. The hospital, school and library remained incomplete. Three letters were then written by the then Secretary Mr. Saileswar Mitra to the Company successively on 24th March 1947, 28th March 1947 and 2nd April 1947, complaining about the wages and demanding an immediate revision of the wages on a threat of strike by the employees. The strike notice was served on 16th April 1947 demanding fulfilment of some terms as to wages within 14 days from 17th April. These terms were not fulfilled and the strike commenced on 2nd May 1947. The Mill authorities then locked out the Mill on 5th May 1947. It appears from the letter of the Secretary of the Union, dated 24th March 1947 (Ext. 3) that he was informed by the Manager on 22nd March 1947 that the rate of wages of the workers would soon be settled by the Mill Owners' Association and Government. This shows the stand that the Company took in the matter of revision of wages. The copy of the Gazette of India (Ext. U) shows that the Government of India appointed an ad hoc Departmental Committee to investigate into facts bearing on the prices of cotton textiles and to recommend measures necessary for increasing the production of yarn and cloth. The Mill, it appears, was expecting action by the Mill Owners' Association and the Government as a result of the deliberations of this Committee, and was not itself taking any action in the matter of revision of wages, in consideration of the unsatisfactory nature of its financial condition. The strike notice on 16th April 1947 was also sent to the Labour Commissioner of the Government of Bengal and there were discussions between the Law Officer of the Company and Mr. N. Hossain, Assistant Labour Commissioner, and the letter (Ext. E), dated 7th May 1947, by the Managing Agents to the Labour Commissioner shows that the Company could not think of withdrawing the notice of lock-out and continue to work the Mills in the face of the recurrent losses, unless the losses were minimised to some extent by the withdrawal of some concessions given to the workers, such as supply of rationed articles at concessional rates and the payment of extra 1 anna on the rupee of their wages. The letter, however, adds that the Mills will be prepared to consider the new demands when the economic position improves after the new machines ordered for are put in working order. There were further discussions between Mr. Hossain, Assistant Labour Commissioner, and the Mills representatives and the Managing Agents wrote the letter (Ext. F), dated 10th May 1947, to the Labour Commissioner in which the Company agreed to raise the minimum monthly emolument of the workers to the sum of Rs. 40 inclusive of wages, allowances, bonuses, food and cloth concessions and other privileges, provided they agreed to a cash payment to every worker of a sum of Rs. 6-14 as the value of the food concessions instead of supply of rations at cheap rates. It is reiterated here that the Company would be prepared to further consider the demands of the workers when the economic position improved after the new machineries ordered for reached them and were put in working order. Letter (Ext. G) by the Managing Agents to the Labour Commissioner, dated 12th May 1947, shows that the workers made demands for 10 days' leave pay owing to the lock-out of the Mills and threatened to commit violence upon the Mills' officers residing in the Mills compounds unless 10 days' leave pay were paid to them and that the Company, therefore, paid them 10 days' leave pay as the workers claimed. The payment of this leave pay was not denied by the Union before me at the time of the hearing. The note-sheet of the Labour Commissioner's file shows that on 14th May 1947, the Assistant Labour Commissioner Mr. Hossain sent an Express Letter to the Secretary of the Union intimating him of the terms offered by the Mill authorities in letter (Ext. F), but that the latter did not show any willingness to negotiate for conciliation. Thereafter on 27th May 1947 the Conciliation Officer went to Serampore and saw Mr. Saileswar Mitra and placed before him the terms of the settlement offered by the management, as a provisional arrangement pending decision of a Board of Conciliation which will be set up by the Government under the chairmanship of Dr. H. G. Waight, I.C.S., to enquire into the conditions of employment in cotton textile industry. Letter (Ext. 9) by the Labour Commissioner to Mr. Saileswar Mitra, Assistant Secretary, dated 29th May 1947, shows that Mr. Hossain, Assistant Labour Commissioner, had a discussion with Mr. Saileswar Mitra at Serampore on 27th May 1947 and that Mr. Saileswar Mitra was being informed that the Company had agreed to increase the minimum earnings of a worker to Rs. 40 and were agreeable to favourably consider the other demands after the new machineries were set up and further that the dispute was being recommended to Government for reference to a Board of Conciliation to be set up for the cotton mill industry. Exhibit 10, letter, dated 30th May 1947, by the Assistant Secretary Mr. Saileswar Mitra to the Labour Commissioner, shows that he wanted clarification of some points in reply to the letter (Ext 9). The information wanted were on these points:—

(1) Whether the minimum earnings of Rs. 40 for a worker were to include all allowances?

(2) If the management was prepared to announce a specified date when the demands of the workers in the notice could be considered.

(3) The specific date by which the decision of the proposed Conciliation Board would be arrived at.

(4) If the workers would be entitled to the pay for the strike period in consideration of the fact that strike had been declared after due notice.

(5) What increment the management was prepared to grant for workers drawing Rs. 40 or above?

Negotiations followed after this date and the result of these negotiations is to be found in letter (Ext. 11), dated 26th June 1947, written by the Additional Labour Commissioner Mr. Azad to the Secretary, Serampore Sutakal Mazdoor Union. It shows that the minimum earning of the workers of the Mills will be raised to Rs. 40 per month inclusive of wages, allowances and concessions, provided they agreed to accept Rs. 6-14 as the cash value of the food concessions allowed to them and this sum was to be included in the minimum earning of Rs. 40. The question of supply of food stuffs at concession rates to the workers and their dependants would be reconsidered by the Company after a period of two months, the Company will give an advance of one month's wages to each worker to be realised in eight equal instalments and a fortnight's time was allowed to those workers who were away from Calcutta to resume work. Exhibit 12 is the letter of the Secretary Mr. Saileswar Mitra to the Labour Commissioner, dated 28th June 1947, stating that the workers accepted the terms embodied in letters (Exts. 9 and 11) and that the workers were agreeable to resume work when the management would give notice to that effect Exhibit I, letter, dated 30th May 1947, by the Managing Agents to the Labour Commissioner shows that the lock-out will be withdrawn and the Mills will be opened on 1st July 1947 for work in all departments except the weaving, reeling, winding and baling departments which could not be opened before the machineries were cleaned and these departments were to be opened for work on 5th July 1947. Exhibit K is a letter by the Secretary Mr. Saileswar Mitra to the Manager of the Mills stating that the workers had agreed to run the Mills all at a time and that the terms written in the letter (Ext. 11) of the Additional Labour Commissioner were to be mentioned in the notice for resumption of work. This was done and the workers resumed work on 4th July 1947.

The final terms for settlement as mentioned in the letter (Ext. 11) of Mr. Azad show substantially the same terms as to emoluments of the workers as it was mentioned in the letter (Ext. F) of the management to the Labour Commissioner on 10th May 1947, and this letter shows that the Company was prepared to accede to other demands only if their economic position improved which was expected after the new machineries ordered for were put in working order. The only new terms that were mentioned in letter (Ext. 11) over and above the question of remuneration were that the question of the supply of food stuffs at concessional rates for the workers and their dependants would be reconsidered after two months from the date of resumption and that the Company would allow an advance to the extent of one month's wage to each worker. As has been mentioned above, after the letter of the Company, dated 10th May 1947, was written to the Labour Commissioner, the Secretary of the Union could not be contacted by the Labour Commissioner until the Assistant Labour Commissioner Mr. Hossain went to Serampore and met with the Assistant Secretary Saileswar Mitra on 27th May 1947. The letter (Ext. 9) was thereafter written on 29th May 1947. A long time elapsed even after that date in coming to the position stated in the letter of Mr. Azad on 26th June 1947. It, therefore, appears that before the strike was declared the Company informed the Secretary that the matter on the wages will be considered by the Mill Owners' Association and the Government. The Company's financial conditions were not satisfactory as it appears from the balance-sheet from April to October 1947 (Ext. S) and the balance-sheet (Ext. R) for the year ending 31st March 1947. Exhibit R shows a loss of about Rs. 3½ lacs in the year and Ext. S shows a loss of more than Rs. 4,00,000 in seven months from April 1947. It was not, therefore, possible for the Company to agree to further financial commitments without getting some relief from Government. The Company was, however, agreeable to grant further concessions to the workmen when the new machineries ordered for arrived and were put in operation. The learned Counsel for the Union pointed out that the letters, dated 23rd April 1947, 28th March 1947 and 2nd April 1947, which asked the Company to revise the wages of the workers, showed how reasonable the Union was. It should not be lost sight of that all these three letters were written in the course of only 10 days and a notice of strike was given two weeks after. The Union did not bestow any consideration on the suggestion of the Mills that the wages of the workers will soon be settled by the Mill Owners' Association and the Government. The Union pressed for an immediate decision to which the Mills could not comply for reasons beyond their control. The charge of drastic wage cut when the working hours were reduced and that in contravention of the terms of agreement between the parties in August 1946 is not also well-founded. It, therefore, appears that it cannot be argued that there were circumstances to show that the attitude of the Company was so unreasonable as to force the strike on the employees. The strike commenced on 3rd May 1947 and as early as 10th May 1947 the Company came up with a proposal of immediate revision of the minimum earnings of the workers and a promise for further concessions after the new machineries arrived when they expected a profit. The final terms accepted by the Union were substantially on the same terms as offered on 10th May 1947 and it appears from the file of the Labour Commissioner that in the middle of May 1947 the Union was not as anxious for a speedy settlement as the Company was. I have discussed above the facts showing the conduct of the parties during the period of the strike. It does not appear to me that the commencement of the strike or the continuance thereof at any stage was a result of unreasonableness on the part of the Company. It, therefore, appears to me that although the strike was lawful, it was not justified and that the Union was not entitled to claim the wages for the period of strike, being a period when the workers did not do any work and were absent without the permission of the Company.

It was also urged by the Company that the strike was not peaceful. This question is not discussed in view of the decision mentioned above, as it is unnecessary to go into the matter further.

Conclusion.

It appears to me that there have been too many strikes in this Mill since August 1946 and the financial condition of the Mill is very much deteriorated. I would urge upon the workers to appreciate the fact that unless they make the Mill financially strong, it will not be able to reward them with the remuneration they deserve and that the prosperity of the Mill will only result in their own prosperity. It is, therefore, vitally necessary to increase production and make the Mill a profitable concern so that the workers may share a part of the profits.

ORDER.

No. 460Lab.—19th February 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department., order No. 121Lab., dated the 16th January 1948, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Robert Hudson (India), Limited, of Kidderpore, Managing Agents, Messrs. Martin & Co., 12, Mission Row, Calcutta, and their four discharged workmen mentioned in the list annexed to the said Order as represented by Robert Hudson Labour Union, 47, Chowringhee, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S.;

And whereas the said Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S.. has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following Order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Mr S. K Sen, I.C.S., shall bind the Company aforesaid and their four workmen as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the 17th February 1948.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Dy. Secy.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of industrial dispute between Messrs. Robert Hudson (India), Limited, and their four discharged workmen.

PRESENT:

S. K. SEN, Esq., I.C.S.

For the Company:

Mr. K. J. Oliver, Mr. S. K. Mallik.

For the Union:

Dr. Maitreyee Bose, Mr. D. Sen Gupta.

Award.

By Government of West Bengal Order No. 121-Lab., dated 16th January 1948, this dispute between Messrs. Robert Hudson (India), Limited, and their four discharged workmen as represented by Robert Hudson Labour Union was referred to me for adjudication. The four discharged workmen are (1) Krishna Kanta Banerjee; (2) Sudhir Kumar Santra; (3) Kangali Dass and (4) Sahed Ali. Krishna Kanta Banerjee was in the service of the Company as a puncher with the basic pay of 15 annas 6 pies per day. Sudhir Kumar Santra was in the service of the Company as a fitter with the basic pay of 12 annas 6 pies per day. Kangali Dass was in the service of the Company as a holder at the basic pay of 14 annas per day. Sahed Ali was in the service of the Company as a fitter mate at the basic pay of Re. 1 per day. These four men were discharged with effect from 29th August 1947, the Company giving lack of work on account of shortage of raw materials as the ground for discharge. But the Union representing the four discharged workmen was of the opinion that the real reason for discharge was not shortage of raw materials but an endeavour of the Company to victimise the persons who are trying to improve the lot of the workmen by legal and constitutional means by playing an active part in the Union. Accordingly the present dispute arose and it was referred by the Government to this Tribunal for adjudication. On receipt of the written statements of the two parties the following issues were framed:

ISSUES.

1. Does the dismissal of any of the four workmen amount to unfair labour practice?

2. Is any of the four workmen entitled to reinstatement?

3. To what compensation, if any, is each of the workmen entitled in lieu of, or in addition to, reinstatement?

Decision.

During the pendency of the case there has happily been an agreement reached between the parties by which the Company has agreed to reinstate the four discharged men in its service with effect from this day, the 17th day of February 1948 and to treat the period from the date of discharge to 16th February 1948 as leave without pay so that there is no break in continuity of service of the four men concerned, and the Union on its part has agreed to withdraw the allegation of victimisation made against the Company. A joint petition of compromise has been filed by the parties and is quoted in extenso below:

> "In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Robert Hudson (India), Limited, and their four discharged workmen Krishna Kanta Banerjee, Sudhir Kumar Santra, Kangali Das and Sahed Ali represented by the Robert Hudson Labour Union.
> MOST RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH:
> That the above industrial disputes has been settled amicably between the parties thereto on the following terms:—
> 1. That the workers are reinstated by the Company from today.
> 2. That their service will be treated as continuous and without any break for all purposes.
> 3. That they will not get any wages or allowances for the period commencing from the date of their discharge up to the 16th February 1948 but this period will be deemed as leave without pay.
> 4. That upon reinstatement these workers would be placed above the rank of a coolie.
> 5. That the allegation of victimisation made by the Union in their statement before the Tribunal is hereby unconditionally withdrawn.
> The parties humbly pray that the said terms be recorded.
> For Robert Hudson (India), Ltd.
> MAITREYEE BOSE,
> For Martin & Co., President, Robert Hudson
> (Sd.) K. J. Oliver, Labour Union.
> Managing Agents. 17-2-1948."

In accordance with the terms of petition of compromise the following award is made:—

That the four workers Krishna Kanta Banerjee, Sudhir Kumar Santra, Kangali Das and Sahed Ali be reinstated in the service of the Company with effect from this day, the 17th February 1948;

That their service be treated as continuous and without any break, the period commencing from the date of discharge up to 16th February 1948 being treated as leave without pay;

That the four men on reinstatement be placed above the rank of coolies or unskilled workmen;

And it be noted that the allegation of victimisation made by the Union has been unconditionally withdrawn by the Robert Hudson Labour Union.

S. C. CHATTERJEE,
Secy., Board of Revenue, and Dy. Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal (ex-officio).

Land Reforms

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1395L. Ref.—13th February 1948.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 24 of the West Bengal Premises Requisition and Control (Temporary Provisions) Act, 1947 (West Bengal Act No. V of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following rules, namely:—

THE WEST BENGAL PREMISES REQUISITION AND CONTROL RULES, 1947.

Short title.

1. These Rules may be called the West Bengal Premises Requisition and Control Rules, 1947.

Definition.

2. In these rules:—

(a) the expression "the Act" means the West Bengal Premises Requisition and Control (Temporary Provisions) Act, 1947, and (b) "Section" means a section of the Act.

Manner of service of orders.

3. (1) Save as provided in sub-rule (2) an order under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3) of section 3 shall be served by tendering and delivering a copy thereof to the person on whom the order is to be served.

(2) Where the person to whom a copy of the order to be served is tendered under sub-rule (1) refuses to accept delivery thereof, the order may be served by registered post with acknowledgment due, or where such person is not readily traceable and the order cannot be otherwise served without undue delay or where the ownership of the premises is in dispute, the order shall be served by publishing it in the Calcutta Gazette, and if practicable by fixing a copy thereof to any conspicuous part of the premises to which it relates or in such manner as the Collector may deem fit in the circumstances of the case.

Form and manner of service of notice.

4. The notices referred to in section 4 and sub-section (1) of section 7 shall respectively be in Forms I and II appended to these rules and they shall be served in the same manner as is provided in rule 3 for the service of an order made under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3) of section 3.

5. The notice referred to in section 17 shall be in Form III appended to these rules and shall be given by delivering a copy thereof to the Collector or by registered post with acknowledgment due. In case where the notice is delivered to the Collector, the Collector or any other officer duly authorised by the Collector in this behalf shall acknowledge receipt of the same in writing.

Permit to the landlord to deal with his premises.

6. The permit referred to in sub-section (2) of section 18 shall be in Form IV appended to these rules.

Arbitration for settlement of compensation.

7. The appointment of an Arbitrator under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 11 shall be made by the Provincial Government by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette to exercise jurisdiction over any specified area or in respect of any specified case or cases.

8. Where the amount of compensation payable under section 11 cannot be fixed by agreement, any person interested may make an application to the Collector for referring the case to arbitration with the necessary written statement of his claim. The Collector shall on receipt of such application refer the case with all relevant papers to the Arbitrator and give an intimation of such reference having been made to the person or persons interested and the Provincial Government. Where no such application is made by any person interested within a reasonable time, the Collector himself shall refer the case to the Arbitrator and give an intimation of such reference having been made to the person or persons interested and to the Provincial Government.

9. Where the Provincial Government nominates a person having expert knowledge as to the nature of the requisitioned premises to assist the Arbitrator, the Provincial Government shall inform the Arbitrator of such nomination. On receipt of the intimation, the Arbitrator shall inform the person or persons interested about the nomination with a view to enabling such person or persons to nominate an Assessor under clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 11. The nomination of an Assessor shall be made within fifteen days of the receipt of the intimation.

10. The person to be nominated by the Provincial Government under clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 11 and the Assessor to be nominated under the said clause by the person or persons interested may be given such fees as may be fixed by the Provincial Government in each case.

11. The person to be nominated under clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 11 by the Provincial Government and the Assessor to be nominated under the said clause by the person or persons interested shall render such assistance to the Arbitrator in connection with the arbitration as may be required by the Arbitrator.

12. The Arbitrator shall have the like powers and shall follow the like procedure as the Court has and follows in the exercise of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

13. When the Arbitrator has made his award, he shall sign it and shall give notice in writing of the making and signing thereof to the parties to the reference. He shall also send to the Collector as well as to the person or persons interested a copy of the award with a note appended thereto setting forth the grounds on which the award is based and shall also forward to the Collector the award in original with the records of the proceedings.

14. The costs of the arbitration proceedings shall be in the discretion of the Arbitrator who may direct to and by whom and in what manner such costs or any part thereof shall be paid.

15. Any appeal against an award of the Arbitrator shall be preferred within six weeks from the date of receipt by the Collector or by the party by whom the appeal is preferred of the copy of the award sent under rule 13:

Provided that any such appeal may be admitted even if preferred after the said period of six weeks when the appellant satisfies the High Court that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within the said period.

16. An award of the Arbitrator shall be enforceable in the same manner and to the same extent as a decree of a Civil Court and the Arbitrator shall be deemed to be a Court.

(ii) He must possess a 1st class degree in Geology of an Indian University either at the Honours or at the M.A. or M.Sc. stage or at least a high second class Honours degree of a Foreign University.

Preference will be given to a candidate having research work and teaching experience to his credit.

(iii) He must not ordinarily be over 35 years of age on the 1st March 1948, but the age limit may be relaxed up to 45 years in the case of a candidate possessing exceptionally high qualifications.

(4) Date of submission of applications.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form, copies of which may be obtained from the office of the Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House, Alipore, Calcutta, personally or on sending an addressed envelope with a nine pies stamp affixed. Application forms will not be supplied on receipt of mere stamps. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any printed or typed form, a sample of which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 21st November 1946. They must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 22nd March 1948.

(5) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates must furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience, together with two certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications from two responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(6) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government treasury or the Reserve Bank of India, under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Provincial Receipt". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. In no circumstances will this fee be refunded.

(7) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(8) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support for their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendations from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(9) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

NOTIFICATIONS.

New Delhi, the 5th February 1948.

No. G.G.O.34.—The following Order made by the Governor-General is published for general information:—

THE INDIA PROVISIONAL CONSTITUTION (AMENDMENT) ORDER, 1948.

WHEREAS in the exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, the Governor-General was pleased to make the India (Provisional Constitution) Order, 1947, providing for adaptations and modifications of the Government of India Act, 1935;

AND WHEREAS it appears to the Governor-General to be expedient to make certain further additions to and modifications of the said Government of India Act, 1935;

AND WHEREAS sub-section (5) of section 19 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, provides that any power conferred by that Act to make any order includes power to vary any order previously made in the exercise of that power;

NOW, THEREFORE, in the exercise of the powers conferred on him as aforesaid and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order:—

1. (1) This Order may be cited as the India Provisional Constitution (Amendment) Order, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. The following further additions and modifications shall be made in the Government of India Act, 1935, as adapted by the India (Provisional Constitution) Order, 1947, namely:—

(a) in the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 219, for the words "His Majesty by Letters Patent" the words "order of the Governor-General" shall be substituted.

(b) in paragraph (b) of the proviso to sub-section (2) of section 220, for the words "if the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council on reference being made to them, report" the words "if the Federal Court, on reference being made to it, reports" shall be substituted;

(c) in section 229, for the words "His Majesty" and the words "letters patent", wherever they occur, the words "the Governor-General" and the word "order" shall respectively be substituted;

(d) in sub-section (2) of section 240, for the words "authority subordinate to the Governor-General or the Governor according as that person is serving in connection with the affairs of the Dominion or of a Province", the words "authority other than the Governor-General" shall be substituted;

(e) in sub-clause (i) of clause (b) of section 247, for the word "pay" the word "remuneration" shall be substituted; and

(f) to section 247, the following shall be added:—

"Provided that no rule made under this section shall have effect so as to give to any of the persons aforesaid less favourable terms as respects remuneration, leave or pension, or less rights as respects disciplinary matters, than were given to him by the rules in force immediately before the establishment of the Dominion.

Explanation.—In this section, 'remuneration' includes leave pay, allowances and the cost of any privileges or facilities provided in kind."

PART IV—Bills introduced in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Assembly; and Bills published before introduction in that Assembly.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

WEST BENGAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 444L.A.—27th February, 1948.—The following report of the Select Committee on the West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, 1947, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information :—

Report of the Select Committee on the West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, 1947.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, 1947, was referred to by a motion carried in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly on the 8th December, 1947, have the honour to submit this our final report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us.

2. The Committee met for the first time on the 12th January, 1948, in the Committee Room of the "Assembly House", Calcutta, under the Chairmanship of the Hon'ble Sri Kalipada Mookerji, Minister-in-charge of the Department of Land and Land Revenue. The Committee met from time to time with occasional recess but as the subject-matter of the Bill was difficult and intricate and as the Committee could not finish their deliberations on the provisions of the Bill, the Chairman presented the preliminary report at the meeting of the Assembly held on the 13th January, 1948, and moved for extension of time till the 17th February, 1948, for submission of the final report of the Select Committee.

3. The Committee thereafter continued their deliberations under the Chairmanship of the Hon'ble Sri Mohini Mohan Barman, Minister-in-charge of the Department of Land and Land Revenue, and finished their deliberations on the Bill on the 11th February, 1948.

4. The Bill was published before introduction in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, dated the 26th November, 1947.

5. We do not consider the Bill to have been so materially altered as to require republication. Matters recommended to be omitted by us have been printed in italics and included in square brackets and those recommended to be inserted have been underlined.

6. The reasons for the changes suggested in the Bill, apart from those of a purely drafting nature, are as follows:—

Clause 1.—Sub-clause (1).—The change in the short title of the Bill is due to the lapse of time.

Proviso to sub-clause (3).—We consider it desirable that the Act should be extended to urban areas.

Sub-clause (4).—We think it desirable that the period of operation of the Act should only be extended by a resolution of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly.

Clause 2.—We have thought it proper to include the definitions of "hotel or lodging house", "letting", "manager of a hotel" and "owner of a lodging house" in this clause to be more precise.

We have also thought it necessary to recast the definition of "premises" so as to exclude stalls in municipal markets and other markets owned by certain local authorities.

We have altered the definition of "standard rent" with reference to basic rent and allowed an increase on a graduated scale on the basic rent for the purpose of arriving at the standard rent.

We have altered the definition of "tenant" so as to include a "sub-tenant".

Clause 3.—Paragraph (a) of the proviso to sub-clause (1) has been omitted in view of the provisions made in clause 9.

Clauses 4 and 5.—We have recommended the deletion of these clauses as provisions have been made in clause 12.

Clause 9.—We have altered the period of time in respect of which refund of rent, etc., will be allowable.

Clause 11.—We have recommended the omission of this clause in view of the fact that provision has been made separately and in detail in Chapter IV-A.

Clause 12.—We consider that the date "1st December, 1941" should be changed to "1st October, 1946" with a view to arrive at a fair standard rent by the Controller.

Clause (h) has been inserted to provide for the fixation of standard rent in cases where a sub-tenant becomes a tenant immediately under the landlord.

Clause 13.—The changes are more or less of a drafting nature only with the exception that the standard rent as fixed under clause (f) of section 12 shall take effect from the date of increase of municipal rates, etc.

Clause 14.—We have included certain additional grounds for ejection of a tenant. We do not consider that sub-tenancies beyond the sub-tenancy of the first degree should be recognised except without the consent of all the superior landlords. We have also made provisions for a sub-tenant to become a tenant directly under the landlord.

Clause 15.—We consider that a tenant should get the benefit of protection against eviction when a suit is pending against him for arrears of rent. We have inserted new sub-clause (2) providing that a tenant who fails to pay rent for three consecutive months shall be treated as a trespasser.

New clause 15A.—We have recommended for the insertion of this new clause making special provision for tenancies for not less than ten years and expiring on or after the 1st October, 1946.

Clause 17.—We have recast clause 17 with a view to give protection to the original tenant who will be entitled to restoration if and only when the premises are relet within six months of the recovery of possession by the landlord to a person other than the original tenant without notice to the Controller.

Clauses 18 to 23.—We have dispensed with the necessity of obtaining permission of the Controller as it involves undue delay.

We have provided for a new clause 18 empowering the Civil Courts to enquire into the grounds whether the cause for eviction exists.

Clause 19.—We consider it necessary to provide for the stay of execution of decrees and orders for recovery of possession in certain cases.

Clause 24.—We have made certain changes in this clause for better facilities to both landlord and tenant.

New clause 24A.—We desire that punishment should be given to such tenants who mala fide provide with incorrect names and addresses of their landlords.

New clauses 25A to 25F.—We have provided for a separate chapter for hotels and lodging houses.

Clause 26.—We have added a new sub-clause to provide for speedy disposal of cases. We consider that a member of the Judicial Branch of the Provincial Civil Service should be appointed as a Rent Controller, Additional Controller or Deputy Controller and so sub-clause (4) has been amended accordingly.

Clause 34.—We consider that the fines should be recoverable as a public demand.

Clauses 37 and 38.—We consider it desirable to provide for the recovery of repairing charges of premises from the landlord.

Clause 41.—We consider that an order made under section 17 should be executed in accordance with rules. The changes made in clause 41(2) (g) is consequential.

In new sub-clause (3) we have made a provision for laying of the rules framed by Provincial Government before the West Bengal Legislative Assembly for the information of members.

The Schedule.—A schedule has been inserted showing what the percentage of increase of rent should be, if it is to be allowed by the Controller or agreed upon by the parties. A slab system of rise has been recommended.

Minute of Dissent by Shaikh Md. Rafique.

The Bill contemplates some stringent measures against the landlord which were absent in the Ordinance. Besides these measures the present Bill makes the offence of taking salami a cognizable offence. Clause 32 while making the offence cognizable also makes it unbailable. This sub-clause (2) of clause 32 is open to much criticism and misuse. Even in grave offences bail is allowed. An offence is made unbailable where it is apprehended that the accused will abscond and will not be produced in court. There is no such possibility of this kind where a landlord is concerned as he possesses landed property. Again there is a possibility that a mischievous tenant lodges a false report say on Saturday evening and gets his landlord arrested. The Commissioner of Police even knowing that the landlord will not abscond cannot release him on any bail because the Bill does not provide it and the landlord will have to rot in jail for two nights and one day in case Monday is not a holiday. Such occurrences will not be rare. Where the tenant fears that the case will end in a failure he can quietly leave the premises and go away with impunity for lodging a false report. I think the offence though made cognizable should be made bailable.

to make better provision for the control of rents of premises in Calcutta and in other municipalities in West Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make better provision for the control of rents of premises in Calcutta and in other municipalities in West Bengal;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, commencement, extent and duration.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Act, [1947] 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may by notification direct.

(3) It extends to the whole of Calcutta and to all areas which have been or may hereafter be constituted municipalities under the provisions of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932: Ben. Act XV of 1932.

Provided that the Provincial Government may, by notification, extend this Act or any specified part thereof to any other area specified in the notification [:] if the Provincial Government is satisfied that the area contains a number of inhabitants not less than the number required under proviso (i) to sub-section (1) of section 6 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, for the area to be declared a municipality and that three-fourths of the adult male population of the area are chiefly employed in pursuits other than agriculture: [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, ss. 1(2) and 1(3).]

Provided further that the Provincial Government may, by notification, direct that this Act or any specified part thereof shall not apply to any such area or any such class of premises as may be specified in such notification and if any question arises as to whether, or not, any premises come within such area or class, the decision of the Provincial Government thereon shall be final.

[(4) It shall remain in force only up to the 31st day of March, 1950, but the Provincial Government may, by notification, direct that it shall remain in force for a further period or periods not exceeding in the aggregate three years:]

(4) It shall remain in force only up to the 31st day of March, 1950, but the Provincial Government shall, by notification, direct that it shall continue in force for such further period or periods not exceeding in the aggregate three years if the Legislative Assembly of West Bengal by a resolution or by successive resolutions approves of such continuance:

Provided that the expiration of this Act shall not render recoverable any sum which during the continuance thereof was irrecoverable or affect the right of a tenant to recover any sum which during the continuance of this Act was recoverable by him thereunder. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 1(4), proviso.]

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,— [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 2, and the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, para. 2.]

(1) "Calcutta" has the same meaning as in clause (11) of section 3 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923; Ben. Act III of 1923.

The West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, [1947] 1948.

(Chapter I—Preliminary.—Clause 2.)

(2) "Controller" means a Controller appointed under sub-section (1) of section 26 and includes an Additional Controller and a Deputy Controller appointed under sub-section (2) of that section;

(2a) "hotel" or "lodging house" means an establishment where lodging with or without board or other service is provided for a monetary consideration;

(3) "landlord" means any person who for the time being is receiving, or is entitled to receive, the rent of any premises whether on his own account or on account, or on behalf, or for the benefit, of any other person, or as a trustee, guardian or receiver for any other person or who would so receive the rent or be entitled to receive the rent if the premises were let to a tenant and includes a legal representative, as defined in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, [a tenant who sublets any premises and every person from time to time deriving title under a landlord;] and every person from time to time deriving title under a landlord and further includes in respect of his sub-tenant, a tenant who sublets any premises; [Cf. Ordinance XXV of 1944, s. 2(a).] Act V of 1908.

(3a) "letting" includes subletting;

(3aa) "manager of a hotel" includes any person in charge of the management of a hotel;

(4) "notification" means a notification published in the Official Gazette;

(4a) "owner of a lodging house" includes any person who receives or is entitled to receive whether on his own account or on behalf of himself and others or as an agent or trustee any monetary consideration from any person on account of board or lodging or other service;

[(5) "premises" means any building or part of a building or any hut or part of a hut which is, or is intended to be, let separately for residential or non-residential purposes and includes,—

(a) the garden, grounds and out-houses (if any) appertaining to such building or part of a building or hut or part of a hut; and]

[(b) any furniture supplied by the landlord for use in such building or part of a building; and also includes a room or rooms in an hotel, boarding house or lodging house, but does not include a stall let at variable rents at different seasons of the year for the retail sale of goods in a market as defined in clause (39) of section 3 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923;] Ben. Act III of 1923.

(5) "premises" means any building or part of a building or any hut or part of a hut let separately and includes—

(a) the garden, grounds, and out-houses (if any) appertaining to such building or part of a building or hut or part of a hut;

(b) any furniture supplied or any fittings affixed by the landlord for use in such building or part of a building or hut or part of a hut;

but does not include a room or part of a room or other accommodation in a hotel or lodging house or a stall in a municipal market as defined in clause (44) of section 3 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, or in a market maintained by or belonging Ben. Act III of 1923.

The West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, [1947] 1948.

(Chapter I—Preliminary.—Clause 2.)

to a local authority other than the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta or a stall let at variable rents at different seasons of the year for the retail sale of goods in a market as defined in clause (39) of section 3 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, or clause (30) of section 3 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932; Ben Act. XV of 1932

(6) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

[(7) "standard rent" means—

Provided that if the rent at which any premises were let on the date of commencement of this Act is less than the standard rent as defined in this sub-clause, the rent at which such premises were let on the date of such commencement or the rent at which such premises were let on the first day of December, 1941, or, as the case may be, which would have been paid on the first day of December, 1941, if the premises had been let, whichever is greater, shall be deemed to be the standard rent of such premises;

(b) in relation to any premises in any other area to which this Act or any part thereof is extended by notification under the first proviso to sub-section (3) of section 1, the rent at which the premises were let on the first day of December, 1941, or if the premises were not let on that date, the rent which has been fixed under the Bengal House Rent Control Order, 1942, to be the rent which would have been paid on that date if the premises had been let or, where no such rent has been fixed, the rent which would in the opinion of the Controller have been paid on that date if the premises had been let, with the addition in each case, of twenty per centum on such rent;

(c) in relation to any premises the rent of which has been fixed by the Controller under sections 10 and 12, the rent so fixed;]

(7) "standard rent" in relation to any premises means—

(a) where the rent of any premises has been fixed under section 12, the rent so fixed;

(b) where rent has not been so fixed, the rent determined in accordance with the provisions of the Schedule;

(8) "tenant" means any person by whom, or on whose account, rent is, or but for a special contract would be, payable for any premises and includes a legal representative, as defined in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and a person continuing in possession after the termination of a tenancy in his favour and further includes in respect of any tenant or sub-tenant who sublets any premises, his sub-tenant. Act V of 1908.

(Chapter II—Provisions regarding rent and salami.—Clauses 3—8.)

CHAPTER II.

PROVISIONS REGARDING RENT AND salami.

Restriction on the increase of rents.

3. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, where the rent of any premises has been or is hereafter during the continuance of this Act, increased so as to exceed the standard rent, the amount of such excess shall, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, be irrecoverable: [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 4.]

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply [,—

(a) to any rent which accrued due before the date of the commencement of this Act; or]

[(b)] to any periodical increment of rent accrued due under any written agreement entered into before the first day of December, 1941.

(2) For the purposes of sub-section (1), the rent shall be deemed to have accrued from day to day.

[Increase of rent allowed for improvements and supply of furniture by the landlord.

4. Where some addition, improvement or alteration, not included in necessary repairs or repairs which are usually made to premises in the locality, has been made at any time after the first day of December, 1941, to any premises at the landlord's expense, or where any furniture has been supplied after the said date by the landlord for use in any premises or, where any premises which were let without any furniture on or after the said date are subsequently let furnished, the landlord may apply to the Controller to alter the standard rent.] [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 5 and the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, paras. 8(1) and 8(2).]

[Increase on account of payment of taxes.

5. Where the landlord pays any municipal rates, taxes or cesses in respect of any premises, he may apply to the Controller to increase the standard rent to the extent of the increase in the amount for the time being payable by the landlord in respect of such rates, taxes or cesses over the amount paid in the period of assessment which included the first day of December, 1941.] [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 7.]

Premium, salami or fine not to be claimed, received or asked for or advance of more than one month's rent not to be claimed or received.

6. No person shall, in consideration of the grant, renewal or continuance of a tenancy of any premises— [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s.9(1) and the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, paras. 5 and 5A.]

(a) claim, receive or invite offers or ask for the payment of any premium, salami, fine or any other like sum in addition to the rent, or

(b) except with the previous written consent of the Controller, claim or receive the payment of any sum exceeding one month's rent of such premises as rent in advance.

Exception in the case of long leases for purposes of development.

7. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 6, a landlord may receive a premium or salami or other like sum in addition to the rent in respect of any premises which are let on a lease for a period of not less than twenty years for the purposes of development either by building or re-building if the period limited by the lease is not expressed to be terminable at the option either of the landlord or of the tenant at any time within a period of five years from the date of commencement of the period so limited: [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 10.]

Provided that the rent payable for the premises during the continuance of this Act shall not exceed the standard rent.

Restriction on the sale of furniture in any premises let to a tenant.

8. (1) No person shall make the purchase of any furniture in any premises a condition of the grant, renewal or continuance of a tenancy of such premises and no person shall sell the furniture in any premises of which he is the landlord to the tenant of such premises or to any person to whom the premises are afterwards let except under a permit in the prescribed form from the Controller.

(2) No landlord shall be entitled to recover as the price of any furniture in any premises on sale of such furniture to the tenant of such premises or to any person to whom the premises are afterwards let, any sum in excess of the market-value of such furniture; and the Controller may, on application made to him by any person interested and on payment of the prescribed fee, determine the market-value of such furniture recoverable under this sub-section.

Refund of rent, premium, salami, etc., not recoverable under this Act.

9. (1) [Where any sum has, whether before or after the commencement of this Act but not earlier than the 26th day of June, 1943, been paid in respect of occupation of any premises after the commencement of this Act,—] where any sum has been paid in respect of the occupation of any premises on or after the date of the commencement of this Act or within a period of six months before such date,— [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 14 and the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, paras. 6(2) and 6(3).]

(a) on account of rent, being a sum which is by reason of the provisions of this Act irrecoverable, or

(b) as premium, salami, fine [or other like imposition] or other like sum in addition to the rent or as rent in advance, the claiming or the receiving of which is prohibited under this Act, or

(c) on account of price of any furniture in such premises, being a sum which is in excess of the market-value of such furniture and the recovery of which is prohibited under this Act,

the Controller may, on application made to him in this behalf at any time within a period of six months [from the date of commencement of this Act or from the date of such payment, whichever is later,] from the date of such payment by the tenant by whom such payment was made, order the landlord by whom such payment was received to refund such sum to such tenant, or at the option of such tenant, order the adjustment of any sum so paid in any other manner.

(2) An order of refund passed by the Controller under sub-section (1) shall be executed by the Court having jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of the premises in relation to which the sum ordered to be refunded was paid as if such order of refund were a decree of that Court.

Grant of certificate of standard rent by the Controller.

10. The Controller shall, on application made to him by any landlord or tenant, grant a certificate stating the standard rent referred to in [clauses (a) and (b)] clause (b) of sub-section (7) of section 2, of any premises leased or rented by such landlord or tenant, as the case may be. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 15.]

[Fixation of charges of any room in an hotel, etc.

11. The Controller may, of his own motion and shall, on application made to him by any person interested, fix the charge for any room or rooms in an hotel, boarding house or lodging house at such sum as, having regard to the provisions of this Act and the circumstances of the case, including the cost of food, furniture and service, and the other amenities of the hotel, boarding house or lodging house, and the charge paid for such room or rooms on the first day of December, 1941, he deems just :

Provided that where the charge for any such room or rooms has been fixed under the Bengal Hotels and Lodging Houses Control Order, 1942, the charge so fixed shall be deemed to be the charge fixed under this sub-section until it is modified or altered by an order made by the Controller under this section.]

Cases in which standard rent shall be fixed by the Controller.

12. In any of the following cases, the Controller shall, on application made to him by any landlord or tenant, fix the standard rent at such amount as, having regard to the provisions of this Act and the circumstances of the case, he deems just :—

(a) where [any] the premises have been [or are] erected [and let to tenants for the first time after the first day of December, 1941;] after the first day of October, 1946;

(b) where by reason of any premises having been let at one time as a whole, and at another time in parts, [or where by reason of a tenant having sublet a part of any premises let to him,] or where for any other reason, any difficulty arises in giving effect to this Act;

The West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, [1947] 1948.

(Chapter II—Provisions regarding rent and salami.—Clause 13.)

(c) where any premises have been or are let rent free, or at a nominal rent, or for some consideration in addition to rent;

(d) where some addition, improvement or alteration not included in necessary repairs or repairs which are usually made to premises in the locality, has been made at any time after the first day of [December, 1941,] October 1946, to any premises at the landlord's expense;

(e) where any furniture has been supplied on or after first day of [December, 1941,] October, 1946, by the landlord for use in any premises or where any premises which were let without any furniture on or after the said date are subsequently let furnished;

(f) where there has been an increase in the municipal rates, taxes or cesses in respect of any premises; [or]

(g) where for any other sufficient cause the rent at which the premises were let on the first day of [December, 1941,] October, 1946, or at which the premises are for the time being let is not, in the opinion of the Controller, just and fair [:] ; or

(h) where the provisions of sub-section (4) of section 14 or of section 15A apply and there is a dispute about the rent or the apportionment of rent;

Provided that,—

(ai) in fixing the standard rent under clause (a) the Controller shall take into account the prevailing rate of rent in the locality for similar accommodation with similar advantages and amenities;

(i) under clause (d), the Controller shall not increase the rent by more than ten per centum per annum of the amount expended on the addition, improvement or alteration made to the premises; [as provided in section 4;] and

(ii) in fixing the standard rent under clause (e), the Controller shall take into consideration the market value on the date on which the standard rent is so fixed of the furniture supplied [:]. [Cf. The Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, para. 8(5).]

[Provided further that where the amount of any increase in rent allowable on the ground specified in clause (d), or clause (e), in respect of any premises in Calcutta has been determined under sub-paragraph (5) of paragraph 8 of the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, or where the amount of any increase in rent allowable on the ground specified in clause (d) in respect of any premises in any other town or local area to which this Act or any part thereof has been extended, has been determined under sub-paragraph (3) of paragraph 9 of the Bengal House Rent Control Order, 1942, the increase in rent so determined shall be deemed to be the increase in rent determined under this sub-section and the rent so increased shall be deemed to be the standard rent fixed under this sub-section of the premises in respect of which such increase has been determined until it is modified or altered by an order of the Controller under this sub-section.]

Date on which standard rent fixed by the Controller takes effect.

13. In every case in which the Controller fixes the standard rent, [or increases] or in fixing the standard rent allows any increase in the rate of rent payable, in respect of any premises, he shall appoint a date from which the standard rent so fixed or the increase so allowed shall be deemed to have effect and such date may be any date anterior to the date of any order of the Controller under this section if the [Cf. Ordinance XXV of 1944, s. 7(5).]

The West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, [1947] 1948.

(Chapter III—Suits and proceedings for eviction.—Clause 14.)

Controller deems such anterior fixation of the date just and proper in the circumstances of the case [.]:

Provided that where the standard rent is fixed under clause (f) of section 12 such standard rent shall be deemed to have effect from the date on which the increase in the municipal rates, taxes and cesses came into force.

CHAPTER III.

SUITS AND PROCEEDINGS FOR EVICTION.

No order for ejectment ordinarily to be made if rent paid at allowable rate.

14. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, or the Indian Contract Act, 1872, no order or decree for the recovery of possession of any premises shall be made as long as the tenant pays [rent] to the full extent the rent allowable by this Act and performs the conditions of the tenancy:

[Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 11 and the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, para. 9.]

IV of 1882. XV of 1882. IX of 1872.

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply,—

(a) where the tenant has done any act contrary to the provisions of clause (m), clause (o) or clause (p) of section 108 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, or

[(b) where the tenant has, in the case where there is a contract the terms of which prevent him from subletting the premises without the consent of the landlord, sublet the premises in whole or in part without such consent unless such consent has been unreasonably withheld, or]

(b) where the tenant has in case where there is a contract in writing the terms of which expressly prevent him from subletting the premises, sublet or assigned his interest in the premises, or

(bb) where the tenant has sublet or assigned his interest in the whole of the premises or a major portion of the premises for a period exceeding six months, or

(bbb) where the tenant has been convicted of using the premises or allowing the premises to be used for immoral or illegal purposes, or

(bbbb) where the condition of the premises have materially deteriorated owing to acts of waste by or neglect or default of the tenant or of any person residing with the tenant, or

(c) where the tenant has been guilty of conduct which is a nuisance or an annoyance to occupiers of adjoining or neighbouring premises, or

(d) where the premises are bona fide required by the landlord either for purposes of building or re-building, or for his own occupation or for the occupation of any person for whose benefit the premises are held, or [where the landlord can show any cause which may be deemed satisfactory by the Court.]

(e) where the landlord can show any cause which may be deemed satisfactory by the Court.

(2) The fact that the period of the lease has expired, or that the interest of the landlord in the premises has been transferred, shall not of itself be deemed to be a satisfactory cause within the meaning of clause [(d)] (e) of the proviso to sub-section (1) provided that the tenant is ready and willing to pay [rent] to the full extent the rent allowable by this Act.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act or any other law for the time being in force, it shall not be lawful after the commencement of this Act, for a tenant inferior to a tenant of the first degree to let in whole or in part the premises let to him except with the consent of the landlord and of all the tenants of a superior degree above him.

Explanation.—In this sub-section—

(a) "a tenant of the first degree" means a tenant who does not hold under any other tenant;

(b) "a tenant inferior to a tenant of the first degree" means a tenant holding immediately or mediately under a tenant of the first degree;

(c) "landlord" means the landlord of a tenant of the first degree.

(4) Where the interest of a tenant of any premises is determined either as a result of the landlord recovering possession through court or otherwise for any other reason, any person to whom the premises or any part thereof have been lawfully sublet shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be deemed to become the tenant of the landlord on the same terms and conditions as he would have held from the tenant if the tenancy had continued.

When a tenant can get the benefit of protection against eviction.

15. (1) No tenant shall be entitled to the benefit of section 14 in respect of any premises unless,—

(a) he pays the rent due by him in respect of such premises to the full extent allowable by this Act within the time fixed in the contract with his landlord or, in the absence of such contract, by the fifteenth day of the month next following that for which the rent is payable, and

(b) in the case where any rent has accrued due before the commencement of this Act, he has also paid within one month of the date of such commencement all arrears of rent due by him in respect of such premises to the full extent allowable by this Act except where the arrears are already the subject matter of a suit or proceeding before a Court or of any order of Court, and

(c) in the case where the Controller has, in fixing the standard rent, allowed any increase in the rate of rent payable in respect of such premises with effect from any date earlier than the date of the order, he has paid also the amount that has become payable by him on account of such increase, for any period preceding the date of such order, to the full extent and within the time specified in this behalf by the Controller or, in the absence of any such specification, within one month of the date of such order, or where the landlord has refused to accept any rent referred to in clause (a), clause (b) or clause (c), or where there is a bona fide doubt or dispute as to the person who is entitled to receive such rent, unless the tenant has deposited such rent or any subsequent rent in respect of such premises as provided in section 24 together with, in the case mentioned in clause (b) of sub-section (1) of that section, the cost of transmission referred to in that clause within the time specified in that section.

Explanation.—A landlord shall not for the purposes of this section be deemed to have refused to accept any rent unless the rent is remitted within the period referred to in clause (a) or clause (b) or clause (c), as the case may be, of this section by postal money order to the address of the landlord and the rent so remitted is returned to the tenant by the postal authorities as undelivered either on account of the landlord having refused to accept payment thereof or for any other cause.

(Chapter III—Suits and proceedings for eviction.—Clauses 15A—18.)

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act or in any other law for the time being in force, a tenant who fails to pay any rent or to deposit the rent as provided in this Act for three consecutive months after such rent becomes due and payable shall ipso facto cease to be a tenant and shall be deemed to be a trespasser.

Special provision for tenancies for not less than ten years.

15A. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, where a tenant has sublet in whole or in part any premises let to him for a period of not less than ten years, and such period expires on or after the 1st day of October, 1946, the tenant shall not be entitled to the benefit of section 14 in respect of such premises to the extent sublet and in such cases the person to whom the premises have been sublet shall be deemed to be a tenant holding directly under the landlord on the same terms and conditions as he held under the tenant in so far as such terms and conditions are consistent with the circumstances and with this Act.

Meaning of allowable rent.

16. For the purposes of section 14, the rent allowable by this Act in relation to any premises means,—

[(a) where the standard rent in respect of such premises has been fixed by the Controller under section 10 or section 12, the standard rent so fixed, or]

(a) where a certificate has been granted by the Controller under section 10, the standard rent stated in such certificate, or

(aa) where the standard rent has been fixed under section 12, the standard rent so fixed, or

[(b) where such standard rent has not been so fixed, the rent agreed upon between the landlord and the tenant to be paid in respect of such premises or, when the rent so agreed upon exceeds the standard rent of such premises, so much of the rent so agreed upon as does not exceed the standard rent.]

(b) where no certificate has been granted under section 10 and no standard rent has been fixed under section 12, the rent agreed upon between the landlord and the tenant omitting the excess, if any, over the standard rent.

When a tenant is entitled to restoration of possession and compensation.

17. Where the landlord recovers possession on the ground that the premises are bona fide required by him for purposes of building or re-building or for his own occupation or for the occupation of any person for whose benefit the premises are held, and the building or the re-building of the premises is not commenced, or the premises are not occupied by the landlord or such person, within two months of the date of vacation of the premises by the previous tenant, or the premises, having been so occupied, are re-let within six months of the said date to any person other than the previous tenant without any notice being given in the prescribed manner to the Controller, the Controller may, on the application of the previous tenant made within seven months of his vacating the premises, direct the landlord to put the previous tenant in possession of the premises or to pay him such compensation as may be fixed by the Controller, or both.

[Suit or proceeding for eviction not to be instituted without previous permission of the Controller.

18. No suit or proceeding by a landlord against a tenant in possession of any premises for eviction of such tenant therefrom in which any of the grounds specified in clauses (b) and (d) of the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 14 has been taken as a ground for such eviction shall be entertained by any Court unless the landlord has been permitted by the Controller by an order in writing under section 20 to institute such suit or proceeding and has produced before such Court proof that such permission has been granted.]

(Chapter III—Suits and proceedings for eviction.—Clauses 19—21.)

[Execution of decree or order for recovery of possession to be stayed in certain cases.

19. If in any suit or proceeding by a landlord against a tenant in possession of any premises for eviction of such tenant therefrom, a decree or order for the recovery of possession of such premises has been made before the date of commencement of this Act on any of the grounds specified in clause (c) of the proviso to sub-paragraph (1) of paragraph 9 of the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, or in clause (c) of the proviso to sub-paragraph (1) of paragraph 10 of the Bengal House Rent Control Order, 1942, but the possession of such premises has not been recovered from the tenant, the execution of such decree or order shall be stayed until the landlord produces before the Court by which such decree or order may be executed or in which such execution is pending, as the case may be, proof that he was permitted by the Controller appointed under the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, or the Bengal House Rent Control Order, 1942, as the case may be, to institute such suit or proceeding or to prosecute such suit or proceeding or to recover possession of such premises by the execution of such decree or order or that he has been permitted by the Controller by an order in writing under section 20 to recover possession of such premises by the execution of such decree or order.]

[When the Controller is to make an order permitting the landlord to sue the tenant for eviction.

20. A landlord who desires to obtain from the Controller,—

(a) any order referred to in section 18 permitting him to institute a suit or proceeding referred to in that section against a tenant in possession of any premises for evicting such tenant therefrom, or

(b) any order referred to in section 19 permitting him to recover possession of the premises in respect of which any decree or order referred to in the said section has been made by the execution of such decree or order, shall apply in writing to the Controller in that behalf, and if, on receipt of such application, the Controller, after giving the tenant in possession of the premises an opportunity for showing cause against the application and after considering all the circumstances of the case, is satisfied that,—

(i) in the case referred to in clause (a), there is sufficient cause to hold that any of the grounds specified in clauses (b) and (d) of the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 14 which has been taken by the landlord as a ground for eviction of the tenant in such suit or proceeding exists, and that in the case of a suit or proceeding for eviction on the ground specified in clause (b) of the said proviso, the consent of the landlord to sublet the premises has not been unreasonably withheld, and

(ii) in the case referred to in clause (b), it is a fit case for the landlord to recover possession of the premises by execution of the decree or order referred to in that clause on any of the grounds referred to in section 19 on which such decree or order has been made, the Controller shall, after recording his reasons in writing, make the order applied for, and, if the Controller is not so satisfied, he shall, also after recording his reasons in writing, make an order rejecting the application.]

[The Controller may allow time to the tenant to vacate the premises in certain cases.

21. The Controller may, before making under section 20 any order referred to in section 19 permitting a landlord to recover possession of any premises by the execution of a decree or order, allow such time as he considers necessary to the tenant to vacate the premises and to deliver possession thereof to the landlord.]

The West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, [1947] 1948.

(Chapter III.—Clauses 22—23.)

[Suit or proceeding for eviction for non-compliance with the provisions of the Act as to payment of rent.

22. (1) No suit or proceeding by a landlord against a tenant in possession of any premises for eviction of such tenant therefrom, in which non-compliance with the provisions of this Act as to the payment or deposit of rent due by such tenant in respect of such premises to the full extent allowable by this Act within the time specified in that behalf in this Act has been taken as a ground for such eviction, shall be entertained by any Court unless the landlord has been permitted by the Controller by an order in writing under sub-section (2) to institute such suit or proceeding and has produced before such Court proof that such permission has been granted. [Cf. The Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, para. 9B, and the Bengal House Rent Control Order, 1942, para. 10AA.]

(2) A landlord desiring to obtain from the Controller any order referred to in sub-section (1) permitting him to institute a suit or proceeding referred to in that sub-section against any tenant in possession of any premises for evicting such tenant therefrom shall apply in writing to the Controller in that behalf, and if, on receipt of such application, the Controller, after giving the tenant in possession of the premises an opportunity of showing cause against the application and considering all the circumstances of the case, is satisfied that there has been no such non-compliance with the provisions of this Act as to the payment or deposit of rent due by such tenant in respect of such premises, or that reasonable grounds exist for such non-compliance, and if the tenant has paid to the landlord or has deposited in the manner in which a deposit of rent is required to be made under sub-section (1) of section 24 the rent allowable by this Act in arrear before an order under this sub-section is made, the Controller shall, after recording his reasons in writing, make an order rejecting the application, but, if the Controller is not so satisfied or if the tenant has not so paid or deposited the rent allowable by this Act in arrear, the Controller shall, also after recording his reasons in writing, make the order applied for.]

[Stay of suit and proceeding for eviction of a tenant pending appeal.

23. Where any appeal has been presented under section 30 against an order of the Controller under section 20 or under sub-section (2) of section 22 permitting a landlord to institute a suit or proceeding in any Court or against an order of the Controller under section 20 permitting a landlord to recover possession of any premises by the execution of a decree or order, all proceedings in connection with such suit or proceeding or the execution of such decree or order, shall be stayed during the period such appeal is pending on intimation of such appeal being given to the Court in which such suit or proceeding has been instituted or such suit or proceeding or the execution of such decree or order is pending, as the case may be, by the person by whom such appeal has been presented.] [Cf. The Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, para. 9D.]

Special procedure for suits and proceedings for eviction of tenants.

18. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, in every suit or proceeding by a landlord against the tenant for recovery of possession of any premises on one or more of the grounds specified in the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 14 or on the ground of non-compliance with the provisions of this Act regarding payment or deposit of rent, the Court shall before the first hearing, decide if there is sufficient cause for proceeding with the suit or proceeding.

(2) In deciding whether there is such sufficient cause the Court shall consider any arguments advanced by the parties and any affidavits filed.

(3) If the Court is satisfied that such sufficient cause exists, the Court shall make an order that the suit or proceeding be proceeded with.

(4) If the Court is satisfied that no such sufficient cause exists, the Court shall make an order that the suit or proceeding be not proceeded with.

(5) Where the Court makes an order under sub-section (4) that the suit or proceeding be not proceeded with, the Court may in addition make such order as to payment of costs and refund of court fees as it deems fit.

Stay of execution of certain decrees and orders.

19. Where a decree or order has been made before the commencement of this Act in a suit or proceeding by the landlord for the eviction of a tenant on the ground that the premises were sublet in contravention of the provisions of the Bengal House Rent Control Order, 1942, the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943 or the Calcutta Rent Ordinance, 1946 and possession of the premises has not been recovered from the tenant in execution of such decree or order, the execution of such decree or order shall be stayed unless the premises were sublet in breach of a contract in writing the terms of which expressly prevented the tenant from subletting the premises. Ben. Ord. V of 1946.

CHAPTER IV.

DEPOSIT OF RENT.

Deposit of rent by the tenant.

24. (1) When a landlord refuses to accept any rent referred to in section 15 remitted by postal money order by a tenant in respect of any premises, the tenant [may] shall, in the prescribed manner,— [Cf. The Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, para. 10.]

(a) deposit such rent within a fortnight of the date on which the rent so remitted is returned to the tenant by the postal authorities as undelivered, and

(b) unless the landlord signifies by notice in writing to the tenant his willingness to accept any subsequent rent which becomes due in respect of such premises, also deposit such rent within a fortnight of the date on which such rent becomes due, or from the expiry of the time within which such rent is required to be paid under clause (a) of section 15 together with the cost of transmission by postal money order of the money deposited to the landlord.

(2) Where any bona fide doubt or dispute has arisen as to the person who is entitled to receive any rent in respect of any premises, the tenant,—

(a) may deposit such rent, stating the circumstances under which such deposit is made, and

(b) may continue to deposit every subsequent amount of rent which becomes due in respect of such premises, also stating the circumstances under which such deposit is made, until such doubt has been removed or such dispute has been settled by the decision of any competent Court or by settlement between the parties, within a fortnight of the date on which such rent becomes due or from the expiry of the time within which such rent is required to be paid under clause (a), clause (b) or clause (c) of section 15, as the case may be, in the same manner as has been prescribed for the deposit of rent under sub-section (1).

(3) On any deposit being made under sub-section (1) the Controller shall [forthwith] within fifteen days from the date of such deposit forward the same by postal money order to the address of the landlord.

(4) Where any money has been deposited under clause (a) of sub-section (1) the cost of transmission thereof to the landlord by postal money order shall be recoverable from the landlord and in forwarding the money so deposited to the landlord by postal money order the Controller shall deduct therefrom such cost of such transmission and the cost of serving notice under sub-section (5).

The West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, [1947] 1948.

(Chapter IV—Deposit of rent—Clauses 24A, 25—Chapter—IV-A—Hotels and lodging houses—Clause 25A.)

(5) If the money sent by the Controller under sub-section (3) by postal money order to any landlord is returned undelivered, the Controller shall cause a notice of the receipt of the deposit to be served by registered post on the landlord in the prescribed manner and the amount lying in deposit may, subject to such rules as may be made under this Act, be withdrawn by the landlord on application made by him to the Controller in that behalf, and if such amount is not so withdrawn before the expiration of [one year] five years from the date of service of such notice, it shall, subject to any order of any Court, be forfeited to His Majesty, and notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any contract the landlord shall not be entitled to recover the said amount by suit or otherwise from the tenant by way of his dues in respect of the premises on account of which such deposit was made.

(6) When a deposit has been made under sub-section (2), the amount of such deposit shall be held by the Controller pending the removal of the doubt or the settlement of the dispute which has arisen as to the person who is entitled to receive the rent either by the decision of a competent Court or by settlement between the parties and the amount of such deposit may be withdrawn by the person who is declared by such Court to be entitled to it or who is held by the Controller to be entitled to it in accordance with such settlement.

(7) No suit or other legal proceeding shall be instituted against the Crown or against any officer of the Crown in respect of anything done in good faith by the Controller receiving a deposit under this section, but nothing in this section shall prevent any person entitled to receive the amount of any such deposit from recovering the same from a person to whom it has been paid under this section.

Punishment for giving incorrect address of the landlord.

24A. If a tenant while making a deposit of any rent under section 24 wilfully gives an incorrect name or address of his landlord, he shall on conviction be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Saving as to acceptance of rent.

25. When a landlord accepts rent in respect of any premises sent by postal money order by a tenant under section 15 or by the Controller under sub-section (3) of section 24 or withdraws any rent deposited under section 24, the fact of this acceptance or withdrawal shall not be used in any way as evidence that he has admitted as correct any of the particulars set forth in the postal money order form or in the application for deposit of such rent or that he has waived any notice to quit given by him to the tenant.

CHAPTER IV-A.

HOTELS AND LODGING HOUSES.

Fixation o fair rate and number of lodgers.

25A. The Controller may on application by any person interested—

(a) fix a fair rate to be charged for board, lodging or other service provided in a hotel or a lodging house and in fixing such fair rate specify separately the rate for lodging, board or other service; or

(b) fix the number of lodgers to be accommodated in each room or specified room in a hotel or a lodging house.

The West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, [1947] 1948.

(Chapter IV-A—Hotels and lodging houses.—Clauses 25B—25F—Chapter V—Appointment of the Controller and other officers, their powers and functions—Clause 26.)

Revision of fair rate and number of lodgers.

25B. The Controller may from time to time revise the fair rate or the number of lodgers fixed under section 25A.

Notice of fair rate and number of lodgers to be displayed.

25C. Where the fair rate or the number of lodgers has been fixed under section 25A for a hotel or a lodging house the manager of such hotel or lodging house shall display in a conspicuous part of the hotel or the lodging house a notice of the fair rate and the number of lodgers so fixed.

Agreement for payment of charges in excess of fair rate.

25D. An agreement for the payment of any charge in excess of the fair rate referred to in section 25A shall be null and void in respect of such excess and shall be construed as if it were an agreement for payment of such fair rate.

No eviction if fair rate paid.

25E. No manager of a hotel or owner of a lodging house shall have any right to evict or refuse board or other service to a lodger as long as he pays or is ready and willing to pay the fair rate fixed under section 25A and observes and performs the other conditions of the agreement in so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Chapter:

Provided that a lodger shall not be entitled to the benefit of this section—

(a) if the lodger has been guilty of conduct which is a nuisance or an annoyance to the other lodgers of the hotel or the lodging house; or

(b) if the lodger has continuously been absent from such hotel or lodging house for a period exceeding two months; or

(c) if the lodger having contracted to stay for a stipulated period stays beyond that period unless the Controller on an application made to him in this behalf extends the period.

Punishment.

25F. (1) Every manager of a hotel or owner of a lodging house who accommodates lodgers or permits lodgers to be accommodated in a room or specified accommodation in excess of the number fixed by the Controller under section 25A, except with the consent of all the lodgers of such room or specified accommodation, shall on conviction be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

(2) Every manager of a hotel or owner of a lodging house who fails to display a notice as required under section 25C of the fair rate or the number of lodgers fixed under section 25A shall on conviction be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

CHAPTER V.

APPOINTMENT OF THE CONTROLLER AND OTHER OFFICERS, THEIR POWERS AND FUNCTIONS.

Appointment of Controller and Additional and Deputy Controllers.

26. (1) The Provincial Government may, by notification, appoint a person to be the Controller for any area to which this Act extends to exercise the powers and discharge the duties conferred and imposed upon the Controller by or under this Act in such area.

(2) The Provincial Government may also by notification appoint any person to be an Additional Controller or a Deputy Controller for any area to which this Act extends.

(3) An Additional Controller or a Deputy Controller shall exercise such of the functions of the Controller as may, subject to the control of the Provincial Government, be assigned to him by the Controller and in the discharge of these functions an Additional Controller or a Deputy Controller shall exercise the same powers and discharge the same duties as the Controller.

The West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, [1947] 1948.

(Chapter V—Appointment of the Controller and other officers, their powers and functions.—Clauses 27—29.)

(3A) The Controller may—

(a) transfer any case pending before him for disposal to any Additional Controller or Deputy Controller, or

(b) withdraw any case pending before any Additional Controller or Deputy Controller, and

(i) dispose of the same himself, or

(ii) transfer the same for disposal to any other Additional Controller or Deputy Controller.

(4) A Controller, an Additional Controller or a Deputy Controller appointed under this section shall be either,—

(a) a member of the [Executive or] Judicial Branch of the Provincial Civil Service of not less than ten years' standing in such service, or

(b) a barrister, advocate or attorney of the High Court in Calcutta of not less than ten years' standing, who has practised as such, and has experience of rent values and land acquisition cases in Calcutta.

Final hearing of certain applications.

27. (1) The hearing of every application made to the Controller under this Act shall be completed within a period of three months in the case of an application for exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 10 [, 11] and 12, [or for obtaining his permission under sections 18, 19, 20 and 22] and within a period of one month in the case of an application for obtaining his permission under sub-section (2) of section 37, unless, for reasons to be recorded by the Controller in writing, it is not possible for him to complete the hearing within that period.

(2) The hearing of any application referred to in sub-section (1) shall, when it has begun, be continued from day to day unless for reasons to be recorded by the Controller in writing it is not possible so to do.

Notice to landlords and tenants before exercising powers under the Act.

28. Before exercising any of the powers conferred on him by this Act, the Controller shall give notice by registered post of his intention to do so to the landlord and to the tenant, if any, and shall cause a copy of such notice to be affixed in a conspicuous place at the office of the Controller, and shall duly consider any application received by him within the period specified in the notice from any person having any interest in the premises in respect of which such power is exercised.

Power to enter and inspect premises, to require information and to summon witnesses.

29. (1) For the purposes of any inquiry under this Act the Controller may,— [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, ss. 16 and 17 and the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, para. 13.]

(a) enter and inspect any premises at any time between sunrise and sunset;

(b) authorise any officer subordinate to him to enter and inspect any premises; or

(c) by written order require any person to produce for his inspection such accounts, rent receipts, books or other documents relevant to the inquiry, at such time and at such place, as may be specified in the order:

Provided that no premises shall be entered under clause (a) or clause (b), without the consent of the occupier, unless at least twenty-four hours' previous notice in writing has been given.

(2) The Controller shall, subject to any rules made under this Act, and, in so far as such powers are necessary for carrying out the provisions of this Act, have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and to compel the production of documents by the same means and, so far as may be, in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Court by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Act V of 1908.

(Chapter VI—Appeal, review, jurisdiction and penalty.—Clauses 30, 31.)

CHAPTER VI.

APPEAL, REVIEW, JURISDICTION AND PENALTY.

Appeal and review.

30. (1) Any person aggrieved by an order of the Controller may, within thirty days from the date of the order, present an appeal in writing,— [Cf. The Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, para. 14 and the Bengal House Rent Control Order, 1942, para. 12.]

(a) in respect of premises in the Presidency town of Calcutta, to the Chief Judge of the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta, and

(b) in respect of premises elsewhere, to the District Judge of the district in which the premises in respect of which such order is made are situated:

Provided that no appeal shall lie under this sub-section from any order made by the Controller under section 38.

(2) The Provincial Government may, by notification, appoint any person who has exercised the powers of a District Judge in Bengal to hear appeals presented under clause (a) of sub-section (1) to the Chief Judge of the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta and may, by notification, also appoint any person who is a judicial officer not below the rank of a subordinate judge to hear appeals presented under clause (b) of the said sub-section to a District Judge.

(3) The Chief Judge of the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta to whom an appeal is presented under clause (a) of sub-section (1) or a District Judge to whom an appeal is presented under clause (b) of that sub-section may transfer such appeal to any person appointed to hear any such appeal under sub-section (2) and may withdraw any appeal so transferred and either hear and dispose of it himself or transfer it to any other person appointed to hear such appeals under sub-section (2).

(4) The Chief Judge or the District Judge or any person appointed under sub-section (2) to whom an appeal is transferred under sub-section (3), as the case may be, shall then send for the record of the case from the Controller and after perusing such record and, if necessary, taking such evidence himself or personally making such further inquiries as he thinks fit, shall decide the appeal.

(5) Subject to such rules as may be made under this Act, any order passed under this Act by the Controller, the Chief Judge of the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta or a District Judge or a person appointed under sub-section (2) may be reviewed by the person who passed the order on the ground of the discovery of any new and important matter or evidence or on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record or for any other sufficient cause:

Provided that before any order is passed under this sub-section which is likely to affect any person adversely such person shall be given a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

(6) The High Court, on application made in that behalf by any person aggrieved by an order passed in appeal by the Chief Judge or the District Judge or a person appointed under sub-section (2), either imposing, or confirming any order passed by the Controller imposing a fine under section 31 or section 32, may, where the fine is not less than five hundred rupees and such application is made within thirty days of the date of such order, call for and examine the record of such appeal and, after giving the parties an opportunity of being heard, revise the order passed in such appeal.

(7) All decisions of the Chief Judge or the District Judge or a person appointed under sub-section (2), as the case may be, shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (6), be final.

Penalty for recovering rent in excess of the standard rent.

31. (1) Whoever knowingly— [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 19.]

(a) receives whether directly or indirectly any sum on account of the rent of any premises in excess of the standard rent, or

(b) receives whether directly or indirectly or invites, offers or asks for, any premium, salami, fine or any other like sum in addition to the standard rent except as provided in section 7, or

(c) receives whether directly or indirectly any sum as rent in advance in excess of one month's rent without the written consent of the Controller, shall on the complaint of the party aggrieved or of the Provincial Government be liable—

(i) in the case referred to in clause (a), on the first occasion to a fine which may extend to five times the amount recovered in excess of the standard rent and on a second or subsequent occasion in regard to the same or any other premises to a fine which may extend to ten times the amount of such excess;

(ii) in the case referred to in clause (b), on the first occasion to a fine which may extend to two thousand rupees and on a second or subsequent occasion in regard to the same or any other premises to a fine which may extend to five thousand rupees; and

(iii) in the case referred to in clause (c), on the first occasion to a fine which may extend to twice the amount received in excess of one month's rent and on a second or subsequent occasion in regard to the same or any other premises to a fine which may extend to four times the amount so received, to be imposed in each case after inquiry by the Controller.

(2) A person shall be deemed to receive a sum in excess of the standard rent, if he receives any consideration representing a money value in excess of such standard rent as part of such standard rent.

Criminal liability and refund of the consideration paid in addition to the standard rent.

32. (1) Whoever knowingly accepts or obtains or attempts to accept or obtain, whether directly or indirectly, any sum or valuable thing or any pecuniary advantage on account of any premium, salami or fine in addition to the standard rent, except as provided in section 7, shall also, on conviction in a Criminal Court, be liable to be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine or with both and without prejudice to any other method of recovery, the Court may order the amount paid or the value of the consideration given to be repaid to the person by whom the payment was made or the consideration given.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, an offence punishable under sub-section (1) shall be cognizable and non-bailable [Act of 1898]. Act V of 1898.

Penalty for disturbance of easements, etc.

33. Whoever, in any case in which an order or decree for the recovery of possession of any premises is prohibited under section 14, [or in the case of any premises in respect of the recovery of possession of which the provisions of sections 18, 19 and 20 apply,] without the previous written consent of the Controller, or save for the purpose of effecting repairs or complying with any municipal requisition, wilfully disturbs any easement annexed to such premises, or removes, destroys, or renders unserviceable, anything provided for permanent use therewith, or discontinues any supply or service comprised in the tenancy of such premises, shall, on the complaint of the party aggrieved, be liable, on the first occasion, to a fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, and on a second or subsequent occasion, in regard to the same or any other premises, to a fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, to be imposed, after inquiry, by the Controller. [Cf. Bon. Act III of 1920, s. 20]

Payment and recovery of fine.

34. The fine imposed under section 31 or section 33 shall be paid by the person fined in the prescribed manner within thirty days from the date of the order of the Controller imposing the fine or within such further period as the Controller may allow for such payment for special reasons to be recorded by him in writing and in default of such payment the fine shall be [levied by the Controller by the distraint and sale of a sufficient portion of the movable property of the person fined in accordance with rules made under this Act] recoverable as a public demand under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913. Ben. Act III of 1913.

(Chapter VI—Appeal, review, jurisdiction and penalty.—Chapter VII—Miscellaneous.—Clauses 35—38.)

Limitation for complaints.

35. No complaint under section 31 or section 33 shall be brought against any person after the expiration of six months from the date of the commission of the act in respect of which the complaint is brought.

Issue of distress warrants and other processes barred in certain cases.

36. No distress warrant shall be issued under Chapter VIII of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, and no process under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, in execution of a decree passed ex parte thereunder, shall be issued, either for the attachment of property or for the arrest of any tenant, in connection with the recovery of the rent of any premises situated in any area to which this Act may apply, unless the person applying for execution, when making his application, swears or affirms by affidavit or otherwise that none of the rent, in respect of which execution is applied for, is irrecoverable under this Act.

[Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 13 and the Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, para. 8A.] XV of 1882. Act V of 1908.

CHAPTER VII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Making of repairs and taking of measures for the maintenance of essential services by the tenant on the failure or neglect of the landlord to do so.

37. (1) The Controller shall, on application made to him in this behalf by any tenant in possession of any premises, cause a notice to be served in the prescribed manner on the landlord thereof requiring him to make any repairs which such landlord is bound to make to the premises or to take any measures for the due maintenance of any essential supply or service, such as, the maintenance of the supply of water or electricity, the maintenance of drainage service and the maintenance of any lift, which such landlord is bound to maintain in the premises under the conditions of the tenancy or according to local usage.

[Cf. The Calcutta House Rent Control Order, 1943, para. 11A.]

(2) If after the service of such notice the landlord fails to show proper cause or neglects to make within reasonable time such repairs or to take within reasonable time such measures, as the case may be, the tenant may submit to the Controller an estimate of the cost of such repairs or measures, and may apply to him for permission to make such repairs or to take such measures himself and, thereupon, the Controller may, after giving the landlord an opportunity of being heard and after considering such estimate of cost and making such enquiries as he may consider necessary, by an order in writing, permit the tenant to make such repairs or to take such measures, as the case may be, at a cost not exceeding such amount as may be specified in the order and it shall thereafter be lawful for the tenant to make such repairs or to take such measures himself and to deduct the cost thereof, which shall in no case exceed the amount so specified, from the rent or otherwise recover it from the landlord [.]:

Provided that the amount so deducted or recoverable in any year shall not exceed one-twelfth of the rent payable by the tenant for that year.

Taking of measures by the tenant in case of emergency.

38. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 37, if the necessity for making any repairs or for taking any measures referred to in that section, is so urgent that any delay involved in the procedure referred to therein is likely to subject the tenant to personal loss, damage or serious inconvenience, the tenant may himself cause the notice referred to in section 37 to be served in the prescribed manner on the landlord requiring him to make such repairs or to take such measures within seventy-two hours of the service of such notice and shall in every such case submit, at the same time, a copy of such notice to the Controller together with an estimate of the cost of such repairs or measures to enable the Controller to make such enquiries as he may consider necessary about the necessity of such repairs or measures and the correctness of the estimate so submitted, and if, after the service of such notice, the landlord fails to make such repairs or to take such measures within the time mentioned in the notice, the tenant may himself make such repairs or take such measures, as the case may be, and, after completion of such repairs or measures, submit to the Controller a statement of the costs thereof and thereafter the Controller, after considering such statement and making such further enquiries as he may consider necessary, may by an order in writing determine the amount of the costs which the tenant is entitled to recover from the landlord, and the tenant may thereupon deduct the amount so determined from the rent or otherwise recover it from the landlord [.]:

Provided that the amount so deducted or recoverable in any year shall not exceed one-twelfth of the rent payable by the tenant for that year.

Supply of certified copies of the order of the Controller.

39. Any person affected by any order of the Controller made under this Act, shall be entitled to be furnished with a copy thereof, duly certified by the Controller to be a correct copy, on payment of such fees as may be prescribed, and such copy shall be admissible in evidence in any Court of Law to prove the order of the Controller. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 15(6).]

Repeal and saving.

40. (1) The Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947, in so far as it enacts and continues in operation the provisions of the Calcutta Rent Ordinance, 1946, is hereby repealed. Ben. Act I of 1947. Ben. Ord. V of 1946.

(2) Any rules, orders and appointments made or any appointment deemed to have been made or anything done or any action taken or any proceedings commenced or deemed to have been commenced under any of the provisions of the said Ordinance shall continue in force in so far as they are consistent with this Act and shall be deemed to have been made, done, taken or commenced under the corresponding provision of this Act.

Power to make rules.

41. (1) The Provincial Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1920, s. 23.]

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the form of permits referred to in sub-section (1) of section 8 and the fee referred to in sub-section (2) of that section;

(aa) the manner of executing an order under section 17;

(b) the manner of depositing rent under sub-section (1) of section 24;

(c) the method of withdrawal of the deposit of rent by the landlord under sub-section (5) of section 24;

(d) the procedure for summoning and enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling the production of documents referred to in sub-section (2) of section 29;

(e) the procedure to be followed in inquiries under this Act, by the Controller, the Chief Judge of the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta, the District Judge and any person appointed under sub-section (2) of section 30;

(f) the procedure for review of orders referred to in sub-section (5) of section 30;

(g) the manner of payment of the fine referred to in section 34 [and the method of distraint and sale of movable property under that section];

(h) the manner of service of notices issued under this Act;

(i) the charging or remitting of costs and fees and the fixing of a scale of costs and fees.

(3) All rules made under this Act shall, as soon as may be after their promulgation, be laid before the West Bengal Legislative Assembly.

THE SCHEDULE.

[See section 2(7).]

PART A.

Provisions for determining the standard rent of premises in Calcutta.

1. In this part of this Schedule "basic rent" in relation to any premises means—

(a) where the rent of any premises has been fixed by the Controller under the Calcutta Rent Ordinance, 1946, the rent so fixed,

(b) where the rent of any premises has not been fixed under the Calcutta Rent Ordinance, 1946, the rent at which the premises were let on the 1st day of October, 1946, Ben. Ord. V of 1946.

(c) where the premises were not let on the 1st day of October, 1946, and the rent also has not been fixed by the Controller under the Calcutta Rent Ordinance, 1946, the rent which would, in the opinion of the Controller, have been fixed under that Ordinance.

2. Where the premises are used for residential or mainly for residential purposes, the standard rent shall be the basic rent increased by—

(a) 6¼ per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is not more than Rs. 50,

(b) 12½ per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is more than Rs. 50 but not more than Rs. 150,

(c) 18¾ per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is more than Rs. 150 but not more than Rs. 300,

(d) 20 per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is more than Rs. 300.

3. Where the premises are used other than for residential or mainly residential purposes, the standard rent shall be the basic rent increased by—

(a) 12½ per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is not more than Rs. 75,

(b) 25 per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is more than Rs. 75 but not more than Rs. 150,

(c) 37½ per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is more than Rs. 150 but not more than Rs. 300,

(d) 40 per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is more than Rs. 300.

4. Where any premises have been sub-let, the standard rent shall be the rent determined according to paragraph 2 or 3, as the case may be, omitting the excess, if any, beyond 6¼ per cent. over the standard rent or a proportionate part thereof payable by the tenant who sub-lets the premises according as the premises are sub-let in whole or in part.

PART B.

Provisions for determining the standard rent of premises in areas other than Calcutta.

1. In this part of this Schedule "basic rent" in relation to any premises means—

(a) where the rent of any premises has been fixed by the Controller under the Calcutta Rent Ordinance, 1946, the rent so fixed,

The West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, [1947] 1948.

(The Schedule.)

(b) where the rent of any premises has not been fixed under the Calcutta Rent Ordinance, 1946, the rent at which the premises were let on the 1st day of October, 1946, Ben. Ord. V of 1946

(c) where the premises were not let on the 1st day of October, 1946, and the rent also has not been fixed by the Controller under the Calcutta Rent Ordinance, 1946, the rent which would, in the opinion of the Controller, have been fixed under that Ordinance.

2. Where the premises are used for residential or mainly for residential purposes, the standard rent shall be the basic rent increased by—

(a) 10 per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is not more than Rs. 25,

(b) 20 per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is more than Rs. 25 but not more than Rs. 75,

(c) 25 per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is more than Rs. 75.

The West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Bill, [1947] 1948.

(The Schedule.)

3. Where the premises are used other than for residential or mainly residential purposes, the standard rent shall be the basic rent increased by—

(a) 20 per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is not more than Rs. 15,

(b) 40 per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is more than Rs. 15 but not more than Rs. 30,

(c) 50 per cent. if the basic rent per mensem is more than Rs. 30.

4. Where any premises have been sub-let, the standard rent shall be the rent determined according to paragraph 2 or 3, as the case may be, omitting the excess, if any, beyond 6¼ per cent. over the standard rent or a proportionate part thereof payable by the tenant who sub-lets the premises according as the premises are sub-let in whole or in part.

THE WEST BENGAL EXPIRING LAWS BILL, 1948.

A

BILL

to provide for the further continuance in operation of the provisions of certain Bengal Ordinances as enacted and continued in operation by and under the Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947.

WHEREAS the provisions of the Ordinances specified in the Schedule as enacted and continued in operation by and under the Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947 (hereinafter referred to as the said provisions) are temporary in their duration; Ben. Act I of 1947.

AND WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the continuance, as in this Act mentioned, of the said provisions for a further period;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Expiring Laws Act, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on the date on which the said provisions cease to operate under the provisions of the Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947.

Continuance of the provisions of certain Ordinances.

2. (1) The said provisions shall be deemed to be enacted by this Act and shall have effect and shall continue to operate as such until the 31st day of March, 1949.

(2) Any rules, orders, notifications or directions issued or anything done or any action taken or any proceedings commenced under any of the said provisions and in force immediately before the commencement of this Act shall continue in force and shall be deemed to have been issued, done, taken, or commenced, as the case may be, under the corresponding provision as deemed to be enacted and continued in operation by this Act as if this Act were already in force on the date on which such rules, orders, notifications or directions were issued or thing was done or action was taken or proceedings were commenced.

(Clause 3 and the Schedule.)

Effect of expiration of the provisions continued by this Act

3. On the expiration of the period during which the said provisions continue in operation under this Act, such expiration shall not affect—

(a) any penalty or punishment incurred or alleged to have been incurred under the said provisions during their continuance in operation, or

(b) any investigation, legal proceeding or remedy in respect of any such penalty or punishment as aforesaid, and any such investigation, legal proceeding or remedy may be instituted, continued or enforced and any such penalty or punishment may be imposed as if the said provisions had not ceased to operate.

THE SCHEDULE.

(See section 2.)

Ordinances promulgated by the Governor of Bengal under section 88 of the Government of India Act, 1935.

Year.	Number.	Short title.
1946	III	... The Bengal Molasses Control Ordinance, 1946
1946	V	... The Calcutta Rent Ordinance, 1946.
1946	XI	... The Bengal Jute Mills (Temporary Provision) Ordinance, 1946.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947 (Bengal Act I of 1947), enacted and continued in operation the provisions inter alia of

(1) The Bengal Molasses Control Ordinance, 1946 (Bengal Ordinance III of 1946),

(2) The Calcutta Rent Ordinance, 1946 (Bengal Ordinance V of 1946),

(3) The Bengal Jute Mills (Temporary Provision) Ordinance, 1946 (Bengal Ordinance XI of 1946), for a period of six months from the date of expiration of the said Ordinances under section 88 of the Government of India Act, 1935. By notification issued under the proviso to section 2 of the said Bengal Act, the said provisions were again continued in operation for a further period of six months expiring on the 16th March, 1948, which is the latest date up to which extension of the period of operation of the said provisions is permissible by such notification. Since the issue of the said notification, however, the situation in the Province has not materially altered so as to permit the expiry of the said provisions. The present Bill has, therefore, been drafted for the purpose of continuing the operation of the said provisions up to the 31st March, 1949, by which date it is expected to be able to have separate legislations passed in extenso on the respective subjects, if necessary.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 383L.—1st March, 1948.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE WEST BENGAL HINDU SOCIAL DISABILITIES REMOVAL BILL, 1948.

A

BILL

to provide for the removal of certain social disabilities suffered by some sections of Hindus.

WHEREAS it is expedient to foster a spirit of unity and harmony amongst all classes of people and, to that end, provide for the removal of certain social disabilities suffered by some sections of Hindus;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Hindu Social Disabilities Removal Bill, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Hindu" includes a Buddhist, Sikh, Jain, a follower of Arya or Brahma Samaj or a convert to Hinduism or any other person habitually professing himself to be a Hindu;

(b) "Local authority" means a local authority as defined in clause (23) of section 3 of the Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899, other than a cantonment authority or the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta; Ben. Act I of 1899.

(c) "place of public amusement" means any place, enclosure, building, tent, booth or other erection, whether permanent or temporary, where music, singing, dancing or any diversion or game, or the means of carrying on the same, is provided and to which the public are admitted either on payment of money or with the intention that money may be collected from those admitted and includes a fair, mela, race-course, circus, cinema, theatre, music hall, billiard-room, bagatelle-room, gymnasium or fencing school, and a stadium, stand or gallery from where any game or show is watched;

(d) "place of public entertainment" means any place, whether enclosed or open to which the public are admitted, and where any kind of food or drink is supplied for consumption on the premises for the profit or gain of any person owning or having an interest in or managing such place, and includes a refreshment room, eating house, coffee house, tea shop, boarding house, lodging house and hotel;

(e) "shop" means any premises where goods are sold either by retail or wholesale or both and includes a laundry, a hair cutting saloon or such other place where services are rendered to customers;

(f) "temple" means a place, by whatever name known, which is dedicated to, or for the benefit of, or used as of right by, the Hindu community in general as a place of public religious worship, and includes subsidiary shrines and mantapams attached to such place; and

(g) "worship" means such religious service as the bulk of worshippers at a temple may offer.

Equality of rights of all castes and class of Hindus.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in any instrument or any law, custom or usage to the contrary, no Hindu shall merely on the ground that he belongs to a particular caste or class—

(a) be ineligible for office under any authority constituted under any law, or

(b) be prevented from—

(i) having access to or offering worship at any temple;

(ii) having access to or using any river, stream, spring, well, tank, cistern, water-tap or other watering place, or any bathing place, burial or cremation ground, any sanitary convenience, any road or pathway which the members of other castes or classes of Hindus generally have a right to use or have access to, or

(iii) having access to or using any public conveyance licensed by the Provincial Government or any local authority to ply for hire; or

(iv) having access to or using any building or place used for charitable or public purposes maintained wholly or partially out of the revenues of the Province or the funds of a local authority; or

(v) having access to a place of public amusement or a place of public entertainment; or

(vi) having access to a shop to which the members of other castes and classes of Hindus generally are ordinarily admitted; or

(vii) having access to or using any place set apart or maintained for the use of Hindus generally; or (viii) enjoying any benefit under a charitable trust created for the benefit of Hindus generally.

Discrimination on grounds of caste or class prohibited.

4. No person in charge of any of the places referred to in sub-clauses (i), (ii), (iv), (v), (vi) and (vii) or any conveyance referred to in sub-clause (iii) of clause (b) of section 3 shall impose any restriction on any Hindu or act in a manner as to result in discrimination against him merely on the ground that he belongs to a particular caste or class.

Courts not to recognise any custom or usage imposing disability on a Hindu on ground of caste or class.

5. Except in matters governed by Hindu Law, no court shall in adjudicating any matter or executing any order recognise any custom or usage imposing any social disability on any Hindu merely on the ground that he belongs to a particular caste or class.

Local authorities not to recognise any custom or usage imposing disability on ground of caste or class.

6. No local authority shall in carrying out the functions and duties entrusted to it under any law recognise any custom or usage imposing any social disability on any Hindu merely on the ground that he belongs to a particular caste or class.

The West Bengal Hindu Social Disabilities Removal Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 7—10.)

No Hindu to be denied admission to any educational institution on ground of caste or class.

7. No Hindu shall be denied admission to any school, college or other educational institution, meant for the public merely on the ground that he belongs to a particular caste or class.

Penalties.

8. (1) Whoever—

(a) prevents any Hindu by reason of his belonging to a particular caste or class from having access to or using any of the places referred to in sub-clauses (i), (ii), (iv), (v), (vi) and (vii) or any conveyance referred to in sub-clause (iii) of clause (b) of section 3 or from enjoying any benefit under a charitable trust referred to in sub-clause (viii) of clause (b) of the said section or abets the prevention thereof; or shall on conviction, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months or with fine which may extend to rupees two hundred or with both and if he is the owner or occupier of any place of public amusement or of any place of public entertainment, or of any shop in regard to which the offence is committed, shall, in addition, be liable to have his license or permit, if any, in respect of such place of public amusement or such place of public entertainment or such shop cancelled.

(b) contravenes the provisions of section 4 or section 7 or abets the contravention thereof,

(2) An offence under sub-section (1) shall be deemed to be an offence included under Part A of Schedule IV of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919, and shall be tried in accordance with the provisions of that Act. Ben. Act V of 1919.

Offences under Act cognizable.

9. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, an offence punishable under this Act shall be cognizable by the police. Act V of 1898.

Power to make rules.

10. The Provincial Government may make rules for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In the December-January session of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly a resolution moved by Shri Nishapati Majhi for the removal of untouchability was passed. The present Bill has been drafted in pursuance of that resolution in order to remove certain social disabilities from which some section of Hindus are at present suffering, so that a spirit of unity and harmony may be fostered among all sections of the people of this Province.

Public Health

NOTIFICATIONS.

Midnapore.—No. P.H.2R-3/48(1).—26th February 1948.—Whereas the Governor is satisfied that the municipalities of Midnapore, Tamluk, Ghatal, Chandrakona, Ramjibanpur, Khirpai and Kharar, respectively, are threatened with an outbreak of small-pox;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (Act III of 1897), the Governor is pleased to prescribe the following temporary regulations for the prevention and control of small-pox, and for the medical inspection, isolation, observation and surveillance of persons suffering from, or suspected of being infected with, small-pox in the said municipalities:—

Temporary regulations for the prevention and control of small-pox.

1. In these regulations, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context:—

(a) "Health Officer" means the Health Officer of the municipality;

(b) "Sanitary Inspector" means a Sanitary Inspector appointed by the municipality;

(c) "Small-pox" means any disease accompanied by an eruption of vesicles or postules;

(d) "Patient" means a person suffering from or suspected to be suffering from small-pox;

(e) "Medical practitioner" means any person practising the medical profession.

Notices.

2. If in any case the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector considers that the issue of a notice under regulation 20 is likely to lead such an amount of delay as might facilitate the spread of small-pox, he may forthwith take such steps as he may think fit for carrying out the work, and shall thereafter, as soon as possible, issue a notice on the person concerned stating the reason why such work has been carried out.

3. If any measure which the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector has, by a notice issued under regulation 20, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

Cost and compensation.

4. (1) All expenses incurred in carrying out any work in pursuance of an order issued under these regulations shall be paid by the municipality except in any case where the order directs a person to carry out any work in relation to property in his possession, in which case the expenses shall be paid by such person:

Provided that where the conditions, which led the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector to pass such an order, are not attributable to any act or default of the person in possession of the property, the municipality may pay to such person the whole or a part of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The municipality may recover all expenses incurred by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector in carrying out the measure under regulation 3 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

5. The municipality shall pay adequate compensation to any person who has sustained substantial loss or damage by reason of anything done under these regulations:

Provided that no person shall receive any compensation for anything done or suffered under these regulations, if he has failed to carry out an order, issued under these regulations within the time specified in the order and to the satisfaction of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

Location of disease.

6. When a case of small-pox occurs in a house, the nearest male relative in attendance upon the patient, or in the absence of any such relative the occupier of the house, or if the occupier be the patient, the senior male inmate of the house other than patient of the house shall within twenty-four hours of the onset of the disease, give information regarding the occurrence of such case either personally or in writing to the nearest Sanitary Inspector. When the inmates of the house are all females the medical attendant or the senior male inmate of the nearest house shall give the required information.

7. (1) Every medical practitioner called in to attend upon any case of small-pox shall forthwith give notice of the case by a special messenger to the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector and the cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the municipality.

(2) The doctor-in-charge of a hospital or a dispensary within the municipality shall forthwith give notice of any case of small-pox brought to such hospital or dispensary for treatment to a Sanitary Inspector or to the Health Officer by a special messenger and the cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the municipality.

8. Registrars of births and deaths shall supply to the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector such periodical returns of cases of small-pox as he may from time to time call upon them to furnish.

9. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may examine any person who is or suspected to be, suffering from small-pox or who, in his opinion, may be infected with or likely to spread small-pox.

Isolation of patients.

10. When the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector considers that the isolation of any patient is a precaution necessary for the protection of the neighbouring population, he shall order the patient to observe isolation and may order the nearest relative in attendance on the patient, or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying to arrange for the isolation of the patient in such a manner and for such a time as may be approved by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

He shall not direct the patient to be removed from the house unless it is, in his opinion, impossible to make proper arrangements for his isolation therein.

11. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person, who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from small-pox, shall be segregated for a period not exceeding a fortnight in a manner and in a place to be approved by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

12. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from small-pox shall be vaccinated or re-vaccinated within a time to be specified in the order.

13. No person shall enter any place wherein a patient is isolated under regulation 10 without the permission of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

14. When a patient has been removed from a house for isolation under regulation 10, the municipality shall provide for him free of charge a suitable place, with necessary attendants, diet, etc.

15. No person, who is or has been suffering from small-pox, shall leave the place where he has been staying until he has received from the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector written permission to do so.

16. No person while suffering from evident symptoms of small-pox or in the convalescent state of the disease with scabs of pocks on his body shall expose himself in any street, road, public place, shop, bazar or any place used in common by persons other than members of the family or household to which such infected person belongs or shall move from place to place unless he is proceeding to a hospital for admission and treatment.

17. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may, during the prevalence of any outbreak of small-pox, order that any bazar, shop or other public place shall remain closed for such time as may appear to him to be necessary and may forbid the holding of any fair, mela or other gathering to which people from several villages commonly or periodically resort.

Miscellaneous.

18. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require any person to allow to be carried out by such agency and within such time as may be specified in the order, such measures for the disinfection of any premises in the occupation of such person or for the disinfection or destruction of any of his personal effects, as the said officer or inspector may consider necessary.

19. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may direct the owner or occupier of any premises to take steps to have vaccinated or re-vaccinated within a time to be specified in the order any person residing on such premises and under the control of such owner or occupier if the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector is of opinion that such person has been in contact with any one suffering from small-pox.

20. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may forbid any person who has been a patient or who has to his knowledge been in contact with a patient to act as vendor of any article for such period as may be specified in the order.

21. No person shall sell any article which has been in contact with a patient until it has been disinfected to the satisfaction of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

22. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may issue general orders that by a specified date certain sanitary precautions of a simple nature, such as lime-washing of house, clearing of latrines or the removal of filth or rubbish shall be carried out to his satisfaction.

23. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may prohibit persons from retaining or selling clothes taken from the bodies of persons who have died of small-pox and may cause any such clothes to be destroyed.

24. No person shall carry or permit to be carried in a public conveyance a patient except in the case where a patient is carried with proper precautions to a hospital.

25. No person shall expose in any street, shop, bazar or any public place any clothing, bedding or other article which has been in contact with a patient or shall cause or suffer such article to be carried in any public conveyance, but nothing in this regulation shall apply to a person who transmits with proper precautions against spreading the disease any such article for the purpose of having the same disinfected.

26. No person shall carry or permit to be carried in a public conveyance the dead body of any person who has died of small-pox without the previous written permission of the Health Officer, or the Sanitary Inspector, and without taking proper precautions against spreading the said disease.

27. No person shall, without the written permission of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector, dispose of any corpse except by burning or burial.

28. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may approve burning or burial grounds and may by order direct either generally or specially in respect to any specified area, that corpses shall not be burned or buried at places other than those so approved by him.

29. Any person burning or causing to be burnt any corpse shall cause the same to be completely reduced to ashes, and shall likewise cause the clothes or other articles brought with such corpse to be reduced to ashes.

30. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may direct that no person shall bury or cause to be buried any corpse, which in the opinion of the Health Officer, is likely to spread small-pox, in a grave, not constructed of a masonry of less than 6 feet deep.

31. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that no dome or other servant of the municipality employed for the disposal of corpses shall withdraw from his duties without the permission of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector unless such dome or other servant of the municipality has been given notice in writing not less than one month previously of his intention so to withdraw.

32. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may through any person authorised by such officer or inspector in that behalf seize and dispose of any corpse which in the opinion of the said officer or inspector is infected with or is likely to spread small-pox, unless the relatives or friends of the deceased person satisfy him that they are prepared and able to dispose of the corpse in a manner which will prevent the spread of small-pox.

33. (1) The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require any person who appears to be acquainted with facts in connection with any case or suspected case of small-pox to attend before him at a time to be stated in the order and at any place not more than one mile from the place where such person resides or is staying when the order is issued, and such person shall appear as so required.

(2) When the person summoned to appear under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public, suitable precaution shall be taken to respect the said custom.

34. (1) The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may examine orally any person who appears to be acquainted with the facts and circumstances of a case or suspected case of small-pox.

(2) When the person to be examined under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public, the officer shall take her statement under such conditions as shall admit of due respect to the said custom.

(3) Such person shall be bound to answer all questions relating to such case put to him or her by such officer, other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him or her to any criminal charge.

35. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may, with such assistant (if any) as he thinks fit, enter upon any land, or after two hours' notice in writing, into any premises or building used for human habitation at any time between sunrise and sunset for the purpose of carrying out any measure or making any enquiries authorised by these regulations.

36. The crew of any inland steam vessel or boat which plies in any canal or river and other persons residing on such vessel or boat shall be subject to these regulations.

37. (1) All vaccinations under these regulations shall be performed gratuitously provided they be done (a) at such public vaccination stations as may be opened by the municipality or (b) by house to house visits in the case of such females as are by the custom of the country unable to attend at public vaccination stations and are too poor to pay fees.

(2) Persons desirous of being vaccinated in their own houses other than those specially exempted under sub-regulation (1) shall pay a fee of two annas for each vaccination for which they shall get a printed receipt: provided that the total amount of fees payable for any number of operations performed in one family at the same house and at the same time shall not exceed annas eight:

Provided also the Municipal Commissioners at a meeting may, by a resolution, direct vaccination of persons in their own houses to be carried out free of charges.

38. (i) Orders issued by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector under these regulations shall be in writing.

(ii) The officer issuing such orders shall cause copies of them to be served upon any persons named in them.

(iii) The nearest relative of a patient or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying shall, if a copy of the order under regulation 10 has been served upon him, give to a Sanitary Inspector or to the Health Officer immediate notice of any disobedience of the order by the patient.

Midnapore.—No. P.H.2R-3/48(2).—26th February 1948.—Whereas the Governor is satisfied that the municipalities of Midnapore, Tamluk, Ghatal, Chandrakona, Ramjibanpur, Khirpai and Kharar, respectively, are threatened with an outbreak of cholera;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (Act III of 1897), the Governor is pleased to prescribe the following temporary regulations for the prevention and control of cholera, and for the medical inspection, isolation, observation and surveillance of persons suffering from, or suspected of being infected with, cholera in the said municipalities:—

Temporary regulations for the prevention and control of cholera.

1. In these regulations, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context:—

(a) "Health Officer" means the Health Officer of the municipality;

(b) "Sanitary Inspector" means a Sanitary Inspector appointed by the municipality;

(c) "Suspected cholera" means any disease accompanied by vomiting and diarrhoea;

(d) "Patient" means a person suffering from or suspected to be suffering from cholera;

(e) "Medical practitioner" means any person practising the medical profession.

2. Whenever any land is held jointly by two or more persons, whether as owners or occupiers of that land, such persons shall be held jointly and severally liable for carrying out any measure ordered in a notice under these regulations, and the names of any one or more of such joint-holders may be entered upon such notice at the discretion of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector and the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector shall not be bound to enter the names of all the joint-holders in the notice.

Notices.

3. If in any case the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector considers that the issue of a notice under these regulations is likely to lead to such an amount of delay as might facilitate the spread of cholera he may forthwith take such steps as he may think fit for carrying out the work, and shall thereafter, as soon as possible, issue a notice on the person concerned stating the reason why such work has been carried out.

4. If any measure which the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector has, by a notice issued under these regulations, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

Costs and compensation.

5. (1) All expenses incurred in carrying out any work in pursuance of an order issued under these regulations shall be paid by the municipality except in any case where the order directs a person to carry out any work in relation to property in his possession, in which case the expenses shall be paid by that person:

Provided that where the conditions, which led the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector to pass such an order, are not attributable to any act or default of the persons in possession of the property, the municipality may pay to such person the whole or a part of expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The municipality may recover all expenses incurred by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector in carrying out the measure under regulation 4 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

6. The municipality shall pay adequate compensation to any person who has sustained substantial loss or damage by reason of anything done under these regulations:

Provided that no person shall receive any compensation for anything done or suffered under these regulations, if he has failed to carry out an order issued under these regulations within the time specified in the order and to the satisfaction of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

Location of disease.

7. When a case of cholera or suspected cholera occurs in a house, the nearest male relative in attendance upon the patient, or in the absence of any such relative the occupier of the house, or if the occupier be the patient, some male inmate of the house shall, within twenty-four hours of the onset of the disease, give information regarding the occurrence of such case either personally or in writing to the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

8. (1) If information has not already been given under regulation 7, the medical practitioner called in to attend upon any case of cholera shall forthwith give notice of the case by special messenger to the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector and the cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the municipality.

(2) The doctor-in-charge of a hospital or a dispensary within the municipality shall forthwith give notice of any case of cholera brought to such hospital or dispensary for treatment to the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector by a special messenger and the cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the municipality.

9. Registrars of births and deaths shall supply to the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector such periodical returns of cases of cholera as he may from time to time call upon them to furnish.

10. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may examine any person who is, or suspected to be, suffering from cholera or who, in his opinion, may be infected with or likely to spread cholera.

Isolation of patients and evacuation of houses, etc.

11. When the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector considers that the isolation of any patient is a precaution necessary for the protection of the neighbouring population, he shall order the patient to observe isolation and may order the nearest relative in attendance on the patient, or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying, to arrange for the isolation of the patient in such a manner and for such a time as may be approved by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

He shall not direct the patient to be removed from the house unless it is in his opinion impossible to make proper arrangements for his isolation therein.

12. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person, who has in his opinion been exposed to infection from cholera, shall take such drugs in such quantities as may be specified by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector or shall submit himself to anti-cholera inoculation within a time to be specified in the order.

13. No person shall enter any place wherein a patient is isolated under regulation 11 without the permission of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

14. The municipality shall provide free of charge suitable places, with necessary attendants, medicine, diet and other necessaries for persons isolated under regulation 11: Provided that a private individual may provide places certified by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector as being fit for the purpose of such isolation.

14A. If it is not possible for the municipal commissioners to provide suitable places with necessary attendants, diet and other necessaries for isolation of the patient or if satisfactory arrangement for such isolation is not also possible in the house where the patient is staying, the patient shall be sent, under proper sanitary precautions, to the hospital within or outside the nearest municipality where there is suitable arrangement for isolation.

15. No person who is or has been suffering from cholera, shall leave the place where he has been staying until he has received from the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector written permission to do so.

16. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require any person to allow to be carried out by such agency and within such time as may be specified in the order, such measures for the disinfection or evacuation of any premises in the occupation of such person or for the disinfection or destruction of any of his personal effects, as the said officer or inspector may consider necessary.

17. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may direct the owner or occupier of any premises to cause to be inoculated with anti-cholera vaccine within a time to be specified in the order any person residing on such premises and under the control of such owner or occupier if the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector is of opinion that such person has been exposed to infection from cholera.

18. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may forbid any person who has been a patient or who has, to his knowledge, been in contact with a patient, to act as vendor of any article for such period as may be specified in the order.

18A. No person shall carry or permit to be carried in a public conveyance a patient except in the case where a patient is carried with proper precautions to a hospital.

19. No person shall sell any article which has been in contact with a patient until it has been disinfected to the satisfaction of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

19A. No person shall expose in any street, shop, bazar or any public place any clothing, bedding or other article which has been in contact with a patient or shall cause or suffer such article to be carried in any public conveyance, but nothing in this regulation shall apply to a person who transmits with proper precautions against spreading the disease any such article for the purpose of having the same disinfected.

19B. No person shall carry or permit to be carried in a public conveyance the dead body of any person who has died of cholera without the previous written permission of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector, and without taking proper precautions against spreading the said disease.

Water-supply.

20. (1) When the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector is of opinion that the water in any well, tank, pool or other possible source of water-supply is contaminated or is likely to be contaminated, he may at once take such steps as he deems necessary to close such well, tank, pool or other source of water-supply, or may require the owner or occupier of land upon which such well, tank, pool or source of water-supply is situated, to take steps to close the same to the satisfaction of the Health Officer or the Sanitary Inspector, as the case may be, within such time as may be specified in the order.

(2) The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require such owner or occupier to keep closed during such a period as shall be specified in the order any well, tank, pool or other sources of water-supply closed under paragraph (1) of this regulation.

Explanation.—In this regulation "to close" includes the placing of watchman to prevent access to the well, tank, pool or other source of water-supply.

21. When the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector is of opinion that the water in any well, tank, pool or source of water-supply is contaminated he may disinfect it or order its owner or occupier to disinfect it with such disinfectants as he may specify in such quantities and at such times as he may think fit.

22. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may prohibit persons from entering into or using for drinking, bathing, or any other purpose, during such period as may be specified in the order, the water in any well, tank, pool or other possible source of water-supply, which, in his opinion, is contaminated or likely to be contaminated.

23. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may, by an order published at such places as he may think fit, set apart any well, tank, part of a river, stream or channel not being private property, or being private property with the consent of the owner, for the supply of water for drinking or culinary purposes and may prohibit therein or within a distance therefrom to be stated in the order all bathing, washing of clothes or animals, or other acts calculated to pollute the water; and may similarly set apart any well, tank, part of a river, stream or channel for the purpose of bathing or for the purpose of washing animals or clothes or for any other purpose connected with the health and cleanliness of the people using such water-supply.

24. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may prohibit persons from easing themselves, or throwing, depositing or discharging any rubbish, sewage or offensive matter, into any well, tank, pool or other source of water-supply, which is used by the public, or within such a distance from such well, tank, pool or source of water-supply as he may fix.

Conservancy and sewage disposal.

25. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may (1) prohibit the committal or continuance of any nuisance, or (2) require the person causing any nuisance or the person occupying the premises on which any nuisance exists to remove such nuisance.

Explanation.—In this regulation "nuisance" means anything which in the opinion of the Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector is likely to spread or to cause the outbreak of cholera.

26. Whenever the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector is satisfied that the condition of any privy, urinal, drain, sewer or cesspool is such as to cause risk of spreading cholera to the inhabitants of the neighbourhood he may order the occupier of the land in which such privy, urinal, drain, sewer or cesspool is situated to disinfect, or to allow an officer of the municipality to disinfect, the same with such disinfectants in such quantities and at such time as the said officer or inspector shall think fit.

27. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may for the prevention of the outbreak or spread of cholera order the owner or occupier of any land to repair or make efficient to the satisfaction of that officer or inspector any drain, sewer, privy, urinal or cesspool which is situated upon such land or to remove any such drain, sewer, privy, or urinal or close any such cesspool within such time as may be fixed by the said officer or inspector.

Miscellaneous.

28. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may during the prevalence of any outbreak of cholera order that any market, shop or other public place shall remain closed for such time as may appear to him to be necessary and may forbid the holding of any fair, mela or other gathering to which people from surrounding places commonly or periodically resort.

29. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require the owner or occupier of any land to clear and remove, within the period specified in the order, any vegetation upon such land the existence of which in the opinion of the said officer or inspector conduces to the committing of nuisances upon such land.

30. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may issue general orders that by a specified date certain sanitary precautions of a simple nature, such as lime-washing of houses, clearing of latrines or the removal of filth or rubbish shall be carried out to his satisfaction.

31. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may prohibit persons from retaining or selling clothes taken from the bodies of persons who have died of cholera and may cause any such clothes to be destroyed.

32. No person shall, without the written permission of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector, dispose of any corpse except by burning or burial.

33. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may approve burning or burial grounds and may by order direct either generally or specially in respect to any specified area, that corpses shall not be burned or buried at places other than those so approved by him.

34. Any person burning or causing to be burnt any corpse shall cause the same to be completely reduced to ashes, and shall likewise cause the clothes or other articles brought with such corpse to be reduced to ashes.

35. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may direct that no person shall bury or cause to be buried any corpse which, in the opinion of the Health Officer, is likely to spread cholera, in a grave, not constructed of masonry and less than six feet deep.

36. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that no dome or other servant of the municipality employed for the disposal of corpses shall withdraw from his duties without the permission of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector unless such dome or other servant of the municipality has given notice in writing not less than one month previously of his intention so to withdraw.

37. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may through any person authorised by such officer or inspector in that behalf seize and dispose of any corpse which, in the opinion of the said officer or inspector, is infected with or is likely to spread cholera, unless the relatives or friends of the deceased person satisfy him that they are prepared and able to dispose of the corpse in a manner which will prevent the spread of cholera.

38. (1) The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require any person who appears to be acquainted with facts in connection with any case of cholera or suspected cholera to attend before him at a time to be stated in the order and at any place not more than one mile from the place where such person resides or is staying when the order is issued, and such person shall appear as so required.

(2) When the person summoned to appear under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public suitable precaution shall be taken to respect the said custom.

39. (1) The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may examine orally any person who appears to be acquainted with the facts and circumstances of a case of cholera or suspected cholera.

(2) When the person to be examined under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public, the officer shall take her statement under such conditions as shall admit of due respect to the said custom.

(3) Such person shall be bound to answer all questions relating to such case put to him or her by such officer, other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him or her to any criminal charge.

40. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may, with such assistance (if any) as he thinks fit, enter upon any land, or after two hours' notice in writing, into any premises or building used for human habitation at any time between sunrise and sunset for the purpose of carrying out any measure or making any enquiries authorised by these regulations.

41. The crew of any inland steam vessel or boat which plies in any canal or river and other persons residing on such vessel or boat shall be subject to these regulations.

42. All inoculations under these regulations shall be performed gratuitously.

43. (i) Orders issued by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector under these regulations shall be in writing.

(ii) The officer issuing such orders shall cause copies of them to be served upon any persons named in them.

(iii) The nearest relative of a patient or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying shall, if a copy of the order under regulation 11 has been served upon him, give to the nearest Sanitary Inspector or to his office, immediate notice of any disobedience of the order by the patient.

The award made by the said Sree S. C. Datta Gupta, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company aforesaid and its workmen as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the 22nd December 1947.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE S. C. DATTA GUPTA, ESQ.,

Tribunal, Industrial Disputes.

In the matter of a dispute between the Electric Construction and Equipment Co., Ltd., formerly Siemens (India), Ltd., with Head Office at 35, Chattaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and workshop at 51-2, Hazra Road, Calcutta, and its workmen as represented by the Siemens Electric Engineering Workers' Union, 51, Bondel Road, Calcutta.

By Order No. 1083 Lab., dated the 22nd December 1947, the Government of West Bengal in the Department of Commerce, Labour and Industries, appointed me under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, to be the Tribunal for adjudication of the abovementioned dispute and referred it to me.

The Electric Construction and Equipment Company, Ltd., is a public limited Company and is at present primarily engaged in repairing electric machineries and equipments. The Managing Agents of the Company took a lease for a year of the Siemens Workshop from the Custodian of the Enemy Property on and from the 1st July 1944. On the 13th June 1945 the Company, which is one of the disputants in these proceedings, came into being and took a sub-lease of the Siemens Workshop from its Managing Agents. The original lease from the Custodian of the Enemy Property to the Managing Agents was, as set out above, for one year only and thereafter it was renewed at intervals for different periods, such as one year, four months and so on. At a subsequent stage the Custodian of the Enemy Property fixed 30th June 1947 as the date for final disposal of the workshop, but as a fact he failed to finalise the disposal of it by that date. Previous to this, on the 26th June 1947 the workmen of the Company made certain demands regarding increment of wages, dearness allowance, revision of rules for leave, etc. By negotiations between the parties the question was postponed till the 30th of June 1947 as by that time the Company expected to hear finally from the Government regarding sale or lease of the machineries.

On the 28th July 1947 the Custodian of Enemy Property published an advertisement for the sale of the workshop belonging to the Siemens (India), Ltd., by the 31st October 1947. The Company was one of the parties which submitted tenders for purchase. But even now it does not know where it stands and whether it will be successful in getting the workshop. In the state of such uncertainties the Company on the 31st October 1947 issued circular No. 128 to the effect that they would be compelled to close the workshop from the 30th November 1947 and that that circular should be taken as one month's notice to all the employees of the termination of their services. On the 23rd November 1947 the Company issued circular No. 129 to the effect that the management in view of the uncertainty of the final disposal of the plant and the cessation of the war contract involving serious losses to the Company found it necessary to plan a complete reorganisation of the workshop by eliminating repair work altogether and concentrate on manufactures. The circular however contained an assurance that the new staff, which would of necessity be smaller than the then existing staff, would be recruited primarily from such suitable members of the existing staff, then under notice, as offered their services for employment. Meanwhile the workers took up the matter before the Labour Commissioner under whose direction to maintain status quo the Company issued another circular, namely, No. 132, dated the 29th November 1947, suspending the operation of the circular No. 128 referred to above, without prejudice to the rights of the management.

Owing to the insistent demands of the workers all this time, the Management on the 22nd July 1947 increased their rates of pay and dearness allowance and also agreed to offer other amenities by granting attendance bonus, sick leave, etc.

The 20th September 1947 was the date on which the Company was to have heard the fate of its tender as to whether it had been accepted or rejected. But to this day the Company has no information about the disposal of the workshop by the Custodian of the Enemy Property with anybody. The Custodian's tenancy with the landlord regarding the factory premises expired on the 31st October 1947.

The above facts were undisputed and these will have to be borne in mind in dealing with the issues.

The Union and the Management filed their written statements giving rise to the following issues:—

ISSUES.

1. Minimum basic wage and scales of pay of—
   (a) Unskilled hands,
   (b) Skilled hands,
   (c) Darwans—junior and senior,

12. Working hours of clerks.
13. Cancellation of circular No. 132 of 1947 issued by the Manager.
14. Reinstatement of—
   (a) Amrita Paramanik,
   (b) Fatik Lal Das,
   (c) Bejoy Kar,
   (d) Gour Naskar,
   (e) Kartik Naskar,
   (f) Ram Nath Chaudhury,
   (g) Sahadeo, and (h) Jogen Naskar.
15. Recognition of the Union.

My award on the issues stated above is given below.

AWARD.

Issues Nos. 1, 2 and 3—Minimum basic wage, subsistence allowance for apprentices and dearness allowance.

These three issues are interconnected. It appears that formerly the Company used to pay Rs. 22 as the basic wage to the least paid workers. On the 22nd July 1947 after certain negotiations between the Company and the workers the minimum basic salary for all daily paid workers was raised to Rs. 22-8 per month on the basis of 24 working days in a month. Dearness allowance was also raised at that time. The demand of the Union is that for the unskilled hands the minimum basic wage should be Rs. 40; for the skilled hands it should be Rs. 60; for the junior darwans it should be Rs. 40 and for the senior it should be Rs. 60; for the junior clerk it should be Rs. 80; for the senior clerk it should be Rs. 100 and for the sectional heads it should be Rs. 200. Besides dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 40 per head per month is also claimed by the workers. The Company at present pays Rs. 22-8 as the minimum basic wage to a worker together with Rs. 20 as dearness allowance and Rs. 2 or more as concession in rations, making a total of Rs. 44-8 or so.

The point to be decided is whether the minimum emolument that is being paid by the Company is adequate, for the whole wage structure is built upon minimum emolument.

The difficulties that lay on the path of the Tribunals in the past enquiring into the question of wage, dearness allowance, etc., have been much obviated after the publication of the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission, who arrived at their conclusions after long, careful and industrious investigations and review of a large mass of data. The decision of the Commission was that in no case should a man's wage be less than a living wage. There cannot be any objection to this principle. We have also in this connection to look into the financial position of the Company as it would be disastrous for the industry of the province if a greater burden were to be laid on the Company, which is the ultimate party to pay, than it can bear. The disputant Company here has been in existence since June 1945 only and its position does not seem to be very much consolidated. I have already set out the elements of uncertainty attaching to it, in that it is not yet aware whether it would get the property either by lease or by purchase. Further the tenancy of the premises of the factory with the Custodian of Enemy Property already expired on the 31st October 1947 and it is not yet known to the parties if there has been any ejectment suit or decree. The lease taken by the Company expired so far back as 30th June 1947 and its position is no better than that of a tenant holding over. In spite of all these uncertainties the attitude of the Company, it must be conceded, has not been unreasonable. After some discussion at the time of the hearing the learned Counsel Mr. G. P. Kar for the Company intimated that it would offer Rs. 24 as minimum basic wage and Rs. 30 as dearness allowance to the least paid worker, if there be reorganisation and if the lease be extended. The recommendation of the Central Pay Commission was that the minimum basic pay of a worker should be Rs. 30 together with Rs. 25 as dearness allowance and Rs. 5 as compensatory allowance, making a total of Rs. 60. The cost of living index in January 1947 which was taken by the Commission as the basis of their recommendation has gone up far higher since then. At the same time I notice from the Trading and Profit and Loss Account of the Company for the year ended 30th June 1947 that it suffered a loss of Rs. 59,992-6-10. No materials could be placed before me to justify an inference that this statement of account which was prepared by Incorporated and Registered Accountants and Auditors is inaccurate. Looking into all these aspects I consider that it would be reasonable to award Rs. 30 as minimum basic wage and a like amount as dearness allowance to the least paid worker, i.e., an unskilled hand and I decide accordingly.

For the next category of workers, viz., the skilled hands, the Company at the time of hearing offered to pay Rs. 40 as basic wage and Rs. 30 as dearness allowance per head. It was, however, urged that who is to be treated as a skilled worker must be left to the judgment of the Management. It must be conceded that the so-called skilled workers are called upon to perform various kinds of work requiring skill of many kinds and variety. The recommendation of the Central Pay Commission is that the minimum basic wage for a skilled worker should be Rs. 55. Having regard to the circumstances referred to above attaching to the Company I consider that Rs. 50 should be the minimum basic wage for a skilled worker and I award accordingly. The dearness allowance payable to this category of workers also should be Rs. 30 per head per month.

Then comes the next category, viz., darwans, junior and senior. It was contended on behalf of the Company that darwans belong to Watch and Ward Department and they are not workmen within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. "Workman" has been defined there as any person employed (including an apprentice) in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled manual or clerical work for hire or reward. In my view the definition is wide enough to include darwans as well. So their case also has got to be considered in this dispute. At present a darwan gets Rs. 28 as pay. On behalf of the Union it was contended that a junior darwan should get Rs. 40 and a senior Rs. 60. Juniority or seniority cannot and should not be the only criterion in fixation of the starting salary. Efficiency is a factor which cannot be overlooked in this matter. In my view the wages that are now being paid to the darwans need no revision. But they should not be excluded from the benefit of dearness allowance and they should also get Rs. 30 per head as dearness allowance.

Then come the cases of junior and senior clerks and sectional heads. According to the Management there are three grades of clerks: "C" or the lowest grade of clerks gets Rs. 60—7—99; "B", the next grade gets Rs. 100—10—190 and the highest grade clerks, i.e., "A" grade, which the Union designates as sectional heads, get Rs. 200—15—305. Having heard the parties, and having regard to the financial position of the Company, the nature of work these categories of workers have to do and other attending circumstances I do not consider that any revision in their existing scale of pay is called for. They should however be not deprived of dearness allowance and they also should get Rs. 30 per head as dearness allowance.

In this connection I should note that on behalf of the management a point was raised that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to enter into the question of wages of pay of darwans and clerks. It was contended that with regard to these workmen no mention was made in the Charter of Demands presented before the Labour Commissioner and that the Labour Commissioner did not inform the Management that these categories of workers had any demand against the Company. It was also urged that the Labour Commissioner not having communicated any demand of darwans and clerks, the Government could not refer the same to the Tribunal. The Tribunal was constituted by the order of the Government, dated the 22nd December 1947. The order of reference is in no way restricted to the letter sent by the Labour Commissioner to the Management. If any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended, the appropriate Government may under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by order in writing refer the dispute to a Tribunal for adjudication. The Union intimated demands on behalf of the darwans on the 11th November 1947 and on behalf of the clerks and sectional heads on the 18th December 1947 to the Labour Commissioner. So there was dispute or difference between the employers and the workmen before the order of reference. Unquestionably the dispute was an industrial dispute. There is nothing in the Act to exclude jurisdiction of the Tribunal to give its award in any matter which is an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Act. It must be held, therefore, that a Tribunal has jurisdiction to give its award in relation to darwans, clerks and sectional heads as well.

The demand of the Union is that for all apprentices as subsistence allowance of Re. 1 per day should be paid and that the period of apprenticeship should be one year only. Before qualifying himself as a skilled worker an apprentice has to work for four years. For the first three months he has to work without any allowance. For the next nine months of the first year he gets an allowance of Rs. 15 per month. For the second year his allowance is Rs. 20 per month and for the third year Rs. 30 per month. Thereafter, if retained, he is promoted to be an apprentice fitter and after completion of 12 months' satisfactory service as apprentice fitter he is taken in as a fitter with salary not less than Rs. 54. According to vacancy and the position of responsibility he can even be taken at Rs. 90. It is absolutely at the choice of the Company that apprentices are taken. On behalf of the Company it was pointed out that if the Union were insistent in its demands put forth above the management would be obliged to discontinue the practice of taking the apprentices. There can be nothing to stand in the way of the management in adopting such a course. In the interest of the future apprentices themselves the demands should not be carried too far. At the same time the period of probation for four years before an apprentice is taken in as a fitter seems to be rather too long. The period should be reduced to three years and I award accordingly. The Management will adjust the allowance to be paid during these three years according to the nature of work an apprentice has to do.

The Union demanded that annual increment of Rs. 5 without any limit should be allowed to unskilled and skilled workers and darwans. With the elements of uncertainty that is overhanging the future of the Company I do not think it would be expedient to provide in this award any grade system with time scale in the pay of the workers at present. Besides as the award cannot remain binding for any period exceeding one year any provision about time scale cannot be anything but in the nature of a recommendation which may not be acceptable to the Company. Further as set out above the Management is looking forward to reorganise the factory and to work it with fresh plant on the manufacturing side after closing down the repairing section. The Company has not had a long life in the existing way and the workers should therefore wait for relief in this respect for better days of the Company when it effects reorganisation.

Issue Nos. 4 and 14—Overtime payment and reinstatement of eight workers.

Issue No. 14 relates to the question of reinstatement of Amrita Paramanik, Fatik Lal Das, Bejoy Kar, Gour Naskar, Kartik Naskar, Ram Nath Chaudhury, Sahadeo and Jogen Naskar. Of them Gour Naskar is the Vice-President and Amrita Paramanik, Bejoy Naskar and Jogen Naskar are members of the Executive Committee of the Union. They were dismissed by the Company on 5th January 1948. The Union alleged that the workers observed a general strike on 5th January 1948 in obedience with the decision taken unanimously by them in a meeting on 2nd January 1948 and the dismissal of the eight workmen was a blow aimed at the Union and the Trade Union movement. The learned Counsel for the Management contended that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to deal with the question of their reinstatement and further maintained that even if it had jurisdiction to deal with the question, it had no jurisdiction to grant reinstatement in these cases inasmuch as they were dismissed after the date of the reference and also in view of the fact that they were dismissed for misconduct not connected with the dispute referred to in this Tribunal. The order of reference as stated above was made by the Government of the 22nd December 1947. Under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act the appropriate Government may constitute an Industrial Tribunal for adjudication of industrial disputes and under section 10 of the Act the Government may refer the dispute to a Tribunal for adjudication. Such a reference may be made when any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended. An industrial dispute, as defined in section 2(k) of the Act, means any dispute or difference between employers and workmen which is connected with the employment or non-employment or the terms of employment or with conditions of labour of any person. The question of reinstatement is connected with the employment or non-employment of a person and therefore undoubtedly is an industrial dispute. And when such a dispute is referred to a Tribunal, it is incumbent upon it under section 15(1) of the Act to give an award. I, therefore, feel unable to accept the contention on behalf of the Management that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to deal with the question of reinstatement, but for a different consideration I am of opinion that in this particular case the question cannot be gone into. Looking into the order of reference it will be seen that the industrial dispute which had arisen between the parties was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. As the order of reference is dated the 22nd December 1947, the dispute that was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication was a dispute which had arisen before that date. Though under section 10 of the Act Government may also refer a dispute, which is apprehended, for adjudication to a Tribunal, in the present case such an apprehended dispute was neither contemplated nor referred to this Tribunal by the Government. The dismissal of the eight workers was made on account of the part they are alleged to have taken on 5th January 1948 in a strike, which even according to the Union was decided upon on 2nd January 1948, i.e., long after the order of reference. This therefore had no connection with the dispute that was referred to the Tribunal, the jurisdiction of which is limited to the order of reference, as the Tribunal is a creature of the Statute. The Union also was quite alive to the fact that the question of reinstatement constitutes a new dispute absolutely unconnected with the dispute that was referred by the Government to the Tribunal. This is clear from the letter, dated 14th January 1948, which was sent over the signatures of about 200 workers to the Labour Commissioner, wherein it was said that the strike was in no way related to the then existing dispute with the Company and a request was made for the Labour Commissioner to take necessary action for the reinstatement of the eight workers and also to refer the matter to the present Tribunal. On behalf of the Union it was maintained by its Advocate Mr. Sadhan Gupta that the Government had no jurisdiction to limit the jurisdiction of the Tribunal only to existing disputes and that under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act an employer can dismiss a worker for misconduct only during the pendency of a proceeding before a Tribunal. Section 33 does not put any restriction to the employer from dismissing a workman for misconduct unconnected with the dispute regarding which a proceeding is pending before a Tribunal. The dispute regarding the dismissal of the workers in the present case is unconnected with the dispute referred for adjudication and therefore section 33 could not be attracted to the present case. Mr. Gupta pointed out that even if the strike were characterised as illegal as having been commenced in derogation of the provision of section 23 of the Act it could not be described as a misconduct. It was, he maintained, a political strike not connected with the industry and not a misconduct as it did not imply a moral blot or stain and cannot be construed as a challenge to the employer. This however cannot alter the position that the Tribunal cannot go into a new dispute not referred to it.

The question of overtime payment also stands practically on the same footing. This question also was raised by the Union for the first time by an additional written statement filed on 16th January 1948 long after the order of reference. This question was not raised by the Union either before the Government or before the employers before the order of reference. For the Union it was pointed out that it lodged a complaint with the Chief Inspector of Factories on 18th December 1947 and as it did not get any reply from him it waited till the constitution of the Tribunal. The Management did not receive any communication from the Inspector of Factories or the Labour Commissioner giving it an opportunity to accept or refuse the demands of the Union in this behalf. As the question of overtime payment was not a matter of dispute at any point of time until 16th January 1948, i.e., before 22nd December 1947, the dispute existing on which date only was referred to this Tribunal, it has no jurisdiction to enter into this question. I may however note that there is provision for payment of extra pay for overtime work in the Factories Act, 1934, in which there is provision for penalty for breach. Whether this Tribunal has jurisdiction or not the benefit which a worker is entitled to under the Factories Act in respect of overtime payment cannot be taken away by the employer.

Issue No. 5—House allowance.

The demand of the Union is that the employees should be paid Rs. 6 as house allowance in view of rent in the city having gone considerably high in recent times for various causes. The Company resists this demand on the ground that the workers employed in the factory are local residents and have not suffered owing to increase in rent. Since the inception of the factory no house allowance has been paid as people living round about have been selected as workers. Besides as has already been seen the Company has sustained a loss in the neighbourhood of Rs. 60,000 in the year ended 30th

June 1947 and also in view of the other benefits which have been awarded to the workers in the shape of increase in minimum basic wage and dearness allowance, I do not feel I shall be justified in awarding any further benefit to the workers by way of house allowance.

Issue No. 6—Ration at controlled rates.

After some discussion at the time of hearing the Management agreed that ration would be supplied to the workers at controlled rates. It must be noted however that if the rationing system be abolished no liability is to be cast upon the Company to supply ration at controlled or concessional rates.

Issue No. 7—Leave.

The demand of the Union is that the employees should be allowed 15 days' privilege leave and 15 days' medical leave with pay in a year. At present an employee enjoys 10 days' statutory leave under the Factories Act with full pay and 6 days' leave on medical ground on the certificate of the factory doctor in a year. The Company maintains that the employees should be allowed 15 days' regular leave with full pay and 15 days' sick leave, also on full pay during the calendar year and I decide accordingly. The Company has a part-time doctor who attends factory once a week and any workman seeking for leave on medical ground is sent to him for examination before leave is granted. The Company maintains that medical leave can be granted only on production of a certificate from the medical officer retained by it. This is only reasonable and the system should continue. I should only observe that whenever leave is allowed to any employee with full pay he will be entitled to dearness allowance also for the period of his leave.

Issue No. 8—Tea Canteen.

A tea canteen exists in the factory. The complaint of the Union is that it is of no real use to the employees owing to the mismanagement. The Union's demand is that the existing tea canteen should be maintained, and necessary arrangement may be made to run it properly under the joint management of the employers and the workers and that the employees should get light refreshment from the canteen at concession rates. The position taken by the Company is that it supplies to the workers tea at concession rates and the service of the Company is sufficient. It is undisputed that the Management supplies tea to the employees twice a day and charges Re. 1-8 only per head per month. This would show that the employees get tea at about half the cost price. The system is more advantageous to the employees and should continue and no further direction is necessary in respect of the tea canteen.

Issue No. 9—Provident Fund.

No provident fund system is in existence in the Company and the Union demands that this system should be introduced. The Company is fully alive to the necessity of such an introduction and has in fact prepared a provident fund scheme and proposes to introduce it after approval by the income-tax authorities. At the time of hearing after some discussion it was agreed between the parties that provident fund rules of the Vhartia Electric Steel Company as amended after the award that was made in a dispute between it and its employees should be adopted by the Company while introducing provident fund system. This issue is decided according to this agreement.

Issue No. 10—Gratuity.

No system of payment of gratuity obtains in this concern. The Union's demand is that a worker should be paid a gratuity equivalent to as many months' wages as the number of years he has served in the Company. The Company resists the demand on the ground that it is not in a position to pay it specially in view of the proposed introduction of the provident fund system. It appears that so far no gratuity had been allowed by the Company to its workers and that being so payment of gratuity is not a condition of service. I do consider that in view of other advantages given in this award and particularly in view of the proposed introduction of the provident fund system the workers are not entitled to any extra benefit in the shape of gratuity.

Issue No. 11—Service Rules.

The complaint of the Union is that there are no definite rules for appointment, discharge, warnings, etc., and provision for safeguarding the interest of the employees. Certain suggestions have been made on behalf of the Union regarding service rules. The Company maintains that in view of the temporary nature of the organisation it has not framed any special service rules applicable to its workers but has followed the provisions of Factory Act and other laws for the time being in force in this respect. The Company denies that it has been whimsical or guilty of unwarranted action in respect of appointment and discharge of its workers.

Whatever may have been the attitude of the Company in the past it appears that the Management has recently sent certain Standing Orders to the Certifying Officer for his approval. A major Tribunal is holding its sittings in respect of the engineering industry as a whole in the province and it is probable that some service rules would be framed by it for the industry while giving its award. In my view the Management should frame service rules in conformity with the provisions in the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act or should adopt the rules that may be framed by the major Tribunal deciding the disputes in the engineering industry in the province as a whole in this regard.

Issue No. 12—Working hours of clerks.

This issue was not pressed and therefore does not call for any decision.

Issue No. 13—Cancellation of circular No. 132 of 1947.

As set out above circular No. 128, dated 31st October 1947, was issued by the Management notifying its intention to close the workshop from 30th November 1947 and stating that this should be taken as one month's notice to all the employees of the termination of their services. Then owing to intervention of the Labour Commissioner the operation of this circular was suspended under circular No. 132, dated the 29th November 1947. In my view cancellation or withdrawal of circular No. 132 may not be of any substantial benefit to the employees in that such a course will only have the effect of revival of the operation of circular No. 128. It is true that the date, viz., 30th November 1947, on which one month's notice of termination of services of the employees was given under circular No. 128 is long over. But what in law will be the effect of revival of that circular on the cancellation or withdrawal of circular No. 132 is outside the scope of this proceeding. When the matter has come up before the Tribunal I do not think in the circumstances of the case that circular No. 132 should remain in operation and I decide accordingly. The parties before me however agreed that in the reorganisation that would be made in the Company the continuity of the services of those employees who would be taken in would not be effected since the date when the Company came into existence, i.e., since June 1945, by reason of cancellation of the circular No. 132.

Issue No. 15—Recognition of the Union.

The position of the Company is that it is not aware of the existence of the Union and its constitution and that if it is provided with particulars regarding it it will give its due consideration to the matter. It appears from the Certificate of Registration that the Union was registered on the 20th of September 1947, its registration No. being 1133. The number of workers in this concern vary from 275 to 300 and 202 of these workers are members of the Union. It cannot, therefore be suggested that the Union is not a representative body. About 70 per cent. of the employees are members of the Union. I do not see how anything but advantage can come to the Company by recognising the Union and dealing with its workers through it. When more than two-thirds of the number of the employees owe their allegiance to the Union there cannot be any escape from the fact that it has come to stay. From all these circumstances I propose that the Company should grant recognition to this Union. This recognition must not be in the letter only, but in spirit also which alone can be conducive to the advancement of the industry.

Before leaving this case I must express my sincere thanks to Mr. Kar, the Counsel for the Company, Mr. Gupta, the Advocate for the Union and the members of the Management and the Union who attended the proceedings and rendered considerable assistance to the Tribunal in hearing the dispute.

This award should come into force with effect from the 22nd December 1947, the date of the order of reference.

Tribunal, Industrial Disputes.

19th February 1948.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Dy. Secy.

ORDER.

No. 562Lab.—26th February 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 139-Lab., dated the 19th January 1948, the industrial dispute between the India Rubber Gutta Percha and Telegraph Works Company, Limited, 7, Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and their nineteen workmen represented by India Rubber Gutta Percha Employees' Union, 107/1C, Harish Mukherji Road, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S.;

And whereas the said Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S., has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following Order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S., shall bind the Company aforesaid and their workmen concerned as specified therein and shall take effect from the date of this Order.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the India Rubber Gutta Percha and Telegraph Works Company, Limited, and their 19 discharged workmen represented by India Rubber Gutta Percha Employees' Union.

PRESENT:

SHRI S. K. SEN, I.C.S.

For the Union:

MR. P. K. SANYAL, Advocate.

For the Company:

MR. S. C. SEN.

AWARD.

This dispute between the India Rubber Gutta Percha and Telegraph Works Company, Limited, and their 19 discharged workmen represented by India Rubber Gutta Percha Employees' Union was referred to me for adjudication by Government of West Bengal order No. 139Lab., dated 19th January 1948. The Head Office of the India Rubber Gutta Percha and Telegraph Works Company, Limited, is in London. The Company has a Branch Office at Calcutta at 7, Old Court House Street. Nineteen of the 70 or 72 employees in the service of the Calcutta Branch Office of the Company were discharged by a notice served on them on 29th November 1947. The notice served on one of the employees, Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury, has been produced in the case and runs as follows:—

"DEAR SIR,

As the Company is ceasing to carry on business in India it is necessary to reduce the staff of the Company. It is regretted therefore that your services are no longer required as from the date 30th day of November 1947, and one month's wages in lieu of notice will be tendered to you with this notice."

The 19 employees led by Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury took the view that the discharge was made on account of their Union activities and not because the Company was bona fide reducing its business by way of closing down the Branch Office. Accordingly, an application was made by them to the Labour Commissioner who tried to settle the case amicably, but as no amicable settlement was possible, the dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Both parties filed their written statements in the usual course and the following issues have been framed:—

ISSUES.

1. Does the discharge of any of the 19 workmen amount to victimisation or unfair labour practice?

2. Is any of the discharged workmen entitled to reinstatement, or in the alternative to any compensation for this discharge?

3. How much compensation, if any, should be paid to each of the discharged men?

DECISION.

Issue No. 1.

The case of the Union is that the discharge of the 19 workmen amounts to victimisation and unfair labour practice, while the case of the Company is that this discharge was made because a directive has been received from the Head Office of the Company in London to reduce the business of the Branch Office gradually with a view to closing down within a short time and that therefore it is not a case of either victimisation or unfair labour practice. Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury, one of the 19 discharged men, is the Secretary of the India Rubber Gutta Percha Employees' Union and he has deposed in this case. According to him, the Union was registered on 25th September 1946, and on 17th November 1947 the charter of demands by the Union for increase of pay and dearness allowance and for improvement of service conditions was sent to the General Manager of the Branch Office and to the Head Office of the Company in England. And the case of the Union is that shortly after the receipt of the charter of demands, the General Manager decided to curb the activities of the Union by discharging the prominent men of the Union and so the Secretary (Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury) was served with a discharge notice along with 18 other members of the Union. It appears, however, from the cross-examination of Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury that two of the 19 discharged men, namely, Munir Alam and Ram Saran who were recently employed by the Company, did not become members of the Union, and that all the remaining employees (about 70) were members of the Union. The President and the Vice-Presidents of the Union are outsiders. The remaining office-bearers, viz., the Secretary, the Assistant Secretary, the Treasurer and nine Executive Committee members are employees of the Company. Among the discharged men there are only two office-bearers of the Union, viz., Secretary and one Committee member Sri Balai Chandra Chatterjee. The Assistant Secretary, the Treasurer and the eight other Executive Committee members are still in the service of the Company. In the circumstances, it does not appear that prominent Union members were chosen for discharge. It is true that the notice of discharge followed closely at the heels of submission of the charter of demands by the Union. But this has been sufficiently explained by the General Manager, Mr. E. R. Park, who has also deposed in the case. His evidence is that in the beginning of 1947 he received instructions from his London Office to close down the Branch Office in Calcutta within one year; he has produced an authentic copy (the duplicate copy of letter sent by sea mail, the original having been sent by air mail) of the letter received from the London Office. This letter has been marked (Ext. 1) and is dated 28th January 1947. In this letter there is definite instruction on the General Manager Mr. E. R. Park to arrange to liquidate the stock and business of the Calcutta Branch and arrange to change over to an Importer-Stockist-Distributor Organisation, i.e., to arrange with some other Company in Calcutta to arrange to import and distribute the goods manufactured by the India Rubber Gutta Percha and Telegraph Works Company, Limited, instead of doing the distribution direct through the Branch Office at Calcutta. There is instruction in the letter also to arrange to curtail the staff. The evidence of Mr. E. R. Park is that until the beginning of November 1947 he did not actually take any action towards the reduction of the staff; he has explained that he could not finalise any arrangement with any other firm in Calcutta to act as importers and distributors of the goods manufactured by the India Rubber Gutta Percha and Telegraph Works Company, but on 14th November 1947 he received another letter from Mr. A. E. Hughes, the Export Manager, of the London Office, giving peremptory instructions to him to take action to close down the branch and to reduce the staff. The duplicate copy of that letter has also been filed by the Company and is marked (Ext. 2). This letter is dated 5th November 1947. Therein the Head Office says clearly that the decision to close the branch remains unaltered and preparatory steps should be taken at once to close down the branch organisation with as little delay as possible as soon as suitable distributor arrangements can be put into operation, and in the meantime to arrange direct shipment to consignees instead of importing goods to Branch Office for sale to other companies. There is instruction also in this letter to take action for curtailment of staff of the Branch Office. Mr. E. R. Park says that on receipt of this letter he considered how far the staff could be reduced at once, and as the first step, of such reduction he gave notice to 19 men with whose discharge we are now concerned. He has denied categorically that he made any discrimination against these men because of their Union activities. And he says that he could not make any discrimination because almost all the employees have become members of the Union. On behalf of the Union, attempt has been made to show that actually there is no intention to close down the Branch Office at Calcutta and that business of the Branch Office is going on as usual. To show this, the representative of the Union called for the Stock Book and other Account Books of the Company. Mr. Park has, however, admitted in cross-examination that the present stock is actually slightly larger than what it was when the letter (Ext. 1), dated 28th January 1947, containing instructions to take steps to close down the Branch Office, was received by him. But he has explained that this is because previous orders which were held up for lack of shipping were complied with in 1947 and shipments were received during 1947. It appears from the evidence of Mr. E. R. Park that he has already considerably reduced the local purchases of goods for resale, and he says that work in the quotation department decreased in 1947 and the works in the Stock and Accounts Departments also decreased so far as local purchases are concerned, although work in connection with the imported goods has not substantially decreased. He however asserts that the Branch Office will be closed down as soon as arrangement for distributor agency can be finalised and the stock disposed of. Further he says that there is no intention to replace any of the discharged men, i.e., to appoint other men in their place. In view of the correspondence filed in support of the evidence I find no reason to disbelieve the evidence of Mr. E. R. Park. I must, therefore, hold that the 19 men were discharged not on account of their Union activities, but the discharge took place in the normal course of business as one of the first steps towards the gradual closing down of the Branch Office finally.

As regards the Secretary Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury, it has been urged that in his case at least the discharge amounts to victimisation, because not only he is the Secretary of the Union but the Company discharged him on a previous occasion and availed of the present opportunity to discharge him again. As to the previous discharge however, it appears from the evidence that Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury was drawing Rs. 65 as basic pay and 15 per cent. or Rs. 9-12 as dearness allowance. In January 1947 the Company put into effect the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme as to grades and scales of pay of employees, and therefore Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury's basic pay was reduced to Rs. 60 but the dearness allowance was increased to Rs. 25, the total emolument was raised to Rs. 85 in place of Rs. 74-12 that he was drawing before. Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury wrote a letter to the General Manager protesting against reduction of his basic pay and thereupon he was served with a notice of discharge—the General Manager telling him that he might leave if he was dissatisfied. At the intervention of the Vice-President, Mr. Nirmal Kumar Sen, Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury was reinstated after 13 days. And further increment was given in February 1947 according to the length of service. At that time, moreover, Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury was not the Secretary of the Union. He has said in his cross-examination that he became the Secretary in May 1947 after the first Secretary Sri Ajit Kumar Sen had left the service of the Company in March or April 1947. The evidence does not show that between the reinstatement of Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury in February 1947 and the discharge notice served towards the end of November 1947 there was any hitch between him and the Company. Accordingly, I find no reason to hold that the Company was anxious to get rid of Sri Bankim Chandra Roy Chowdhury and availed of the opportunity to serve him with a discharge notice on 29th November 1947. Accordingly, I find on the first issue that the discharge of the 19 employees does not amount to victimisation or unfair labour practice.

Issues Nos. 2 and 3.

Since it is found that the discharge of none of the 19 workmen amounts to victimisation or unfair labour practice I must hold that none of the discharged employees is entitled to reinstatement. The discharged employees cannot also claim any compensation as a matter of right because the discharge was not wrongful. The discharged employees have already been offered one month's pay in lieu of notice and the Union has not shown that the terms of service included the payment of any compensation to retrenched men. It has been urged, however, that from general principles, the discharged employees should be given some gratuity when they are retrenched. From the Central Pay Commission Report, page 89, it appears that the scale of gratuity is, generally speaking, half month's pay for each completed year of service subject in the case of non-gazetted employees to a maximum of 15 months' pay and in the case of gazetted employees to a maximum of 12 months' pay. But there is also a minimum qualifying service of 15 years prescribed as a condition for obtaining a gratuity. And none of the discharged men have completed 15 years' service. In the letter (Ext. 1) received by Mr. E. R. Park from the London Office it appears that the Company recognised some moral obligation to old servants and asked for recommendation from the General Manager. As the result of negotiation between the General Manager and the London Office the Company has evolved a scheme which is contained in the letter (Ext. 3) written by the General Manager Mr. E. R. Park to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, on 8th January 1948. Therein, the General Manager said that the Company had decided to make exgratia payments on the following scales to retrenched employees for whom alternative employment could not be found at the date of the final closing of this branch:—

Service up to five years—One month's pay.
Service over five years and up to ten years—Two months' pay.
Service over ten years—Three months' pay.

The Union demands one month's pay for each year of completed service subject to a minimum of one month's pay in any case. Such a demand was made in the charter of demands which is Annexure C of the written statement. But there was no such condition in the terms of employment under which the employees took service under the Company, and no decision has yet been taken on the charter of demands; the Company is in fact closing down; and it is likely to close down completely before any settlement can be arrived at in a dispute over conditions of service for the remaining employees. In the circumstances I do not consider it equitable that the Company should be asked to pay gratuity at the rate of one month's pay for each year of completed service, subject to the minimum of one month's pay, but the employees should accept what the Company is voluntarily offering, i.e., one month's pay as gratuity for employees up to five years of service; none of the 19 employees with whom we are concerned in this case has over five years of completed service. This gratuity will, of course, be in addition to the one month's pay tendered in lieu of notice.

Accordingly, I make the following award:—

None of the 19 workmen discharged by the India Rubber Gutta Percha and Telegraph Works Company, Limited, with effect from 30th November 1947 is entitled to reinstatement; they are only entitled to the gratuity voluntarily offered by the Company, namely, one month's pay in addition to the one month's pay offered in lieu of notice. The pay in each case must include both the basic pay and the dearness allowance.

No. 1261-E.—26th February 1948.—The following rule, framed by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, under sections 8 and 9 of the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), amending the rules relating to the enrolment of the legal practitioners is published for general information:—

Rule No. 3 of 1948.

In the Court's Civil Rules and Orders, Volume 1, insert the following as Rule 947A:—

947A. A pleader or a mukhtar, practising in any district within the jurisdiction of the East Bengal High Court, during 1947, who desires to practise in any court within the jurisdiction of the Calcutta High Court, shall apply to the Judge of the district in which the court where he intends to practise is situated, or to the Chief Judge, Court of Small Causes, Calcutta, in the case of a pleader desiring to practise in that Court or in the courts of the Presidency Magistrates, Calcutta, for the entry of his name in the district roll of pleaders or mukhtars, or in the roll of pleaders maintained by the Chief Judge, as the case may be. Any such application shall be accompanied by the applicant's renewed certificate for 1947 or, in the event of his certificate having been renewed for 1948 by a competent authority under the East Bengal High Court, the renewed certificate for 1948, and a stamp paper of proper value for the renewal of his certificate for 1948.

Subject to the provisions of this rule being complied with, the District Judge or the Chief Judge, Court of Small Causes, Calcutta, as the case may be, is authorised to renew the certificate of the applicant for 1948, after satisfying himself by such enquiries as he may think fit, as to the applicant's identity and previous good conduct.

Explanation.—"Identity" can be established if the applicant is identified by a local legal practitioner or any respectable person. As regards "previous good conduct", an affidavit or a certificate of character from a respectable person or from a legal practitioner, preferably of the court wherein the applicant last practised, may be demanded.

Note.—This rule shall remain in force up to the 31st December 1948.

PART IV—Bills introduced in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Assembly; and Bills published before introduction in that Assembly.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 3801L.—1st March, 1948.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE BENGAL EMBANKMENT (WEST BENGAL AMENDMENT) BILL, 1948.

A
BILL

further to amend the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act II of 1882.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Embankment (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1948.

Amendment of section 7 of Bengal Act II of 1882.

2. In section 7 of the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882—

(a) for the words "or works executed" the words and brackets "or works (including any work of repair) executed" shall be substituted; and

(b) after clause (1) the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

Repair of embankments.

"(1a) that any embankment which connects public embankments or forms by junction with them part of a line of embankments or is necessary for the protection of the neighbouring country, should be repaired;".

Repeal of Bengal Act VI of 1945.

3. The Bengal Embankment (Amendment) Act, 1945, is hereby repealed. Ben. Act VI of 1945.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Sometimes it so happens that due to the negligence of the owner a private embankment falls into disrepair and breaches that occur in it are not closed. Collectors have no power, under the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 (Bengal Act II of 1882), to get the repair done without taking charge of the embankment for future maintenance nor can the owner be compelled to make necessary repairs. It may not be always convenient or expedient to take charge of an embankment for future maintenance by Government. The result is that the embankment is left unattended to with the consequence that the people whose properties used to be protected by it suffer.

It is therefore proposed to amend the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 (Bengal Act II of 1882), so that Collectors may have power to have necessary repairs done to a private embankment where considered necessary without taking charge of its future maintenance and recover the cost thereof from the people benefited by the work.

Clause 3 of the Bill proposes to repeal the Bengal Embankment (Amendment) Act, 1945 (Bengal Act VI of 1945), enacted by the Governor in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, which embodies the provisions of clauses 1 and 2 of the present Bill and is due to lapse with effect from the 24th April, 1948.

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1948

PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly; and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL* No. 73 OF 1947.

A Bill to provide for the establishment and regulation of a Corporation for the development of the Damodar Valley in the Provinces of Bihar and West Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the establishment and regulation of a Corporation for the development of the Damodar Valley in the Provinces of Bihar and West Bengal;

AND WHEREAS in pursuance of section 103 of the Government of India Act, 1935 (26 Geo. 5, c. 2), resolutions have been passed by all the Chambers of the Provincial Legislatures of the said Provinces to the effect that certain matters enumerated in the Provincial Legislative List should be regulated in those Provinces by Act of the Dominion Legislature;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PART I.

INTRODUCTORY.

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Damodar Valley Corporation Act, 1947.

(2) It extends to the Provinces of Bihar and West Bengal.

(3) It shall come into force on the 1st day of January, 1948.

2. Interpretation.—In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "Corporation" means the Corporation established by this Act;

(2) "Damodar Valley" includes the basin of the Damodar river and its tributaries;

(3) "member" means a member of the Corporation and includes the Chairman;

(4) "participating Governments" means the Central Government, the Provincial Government of Bihar and the Provincial Government of West Bengal;

(5) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under section 58;

(6) "Provincial Government" means the Provincial Government of Bihar or as the case may be of West Bengal, and "Provincial Governments" means the Provincial Governments of Bihar and of West Bengal;

(7) "regulations" means the regulations made by the Corporation under section 59.

*The Governor General has accorded the sanction required by sub-section (3) of section 299 of the Government of India Act, as adapted by the India (Provisional Constitution Order, 1947, to the introduction of the Bill, and has in pursuance of sub-section (3) of section 37 of the said Act, recommended to the Legislature the consideration of the Bill.

PART II.

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE CORPORATION.

3. Incorporation.—(1) With effect from such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, appoint in this behalf, there shall be established a Corporation by the name of the Damodar Valley Corporation.

(2) The said Corporation shall be a body corporate having perpetual succession and a common seal, and shall by the said name sue and be sued.

4. Constitution of the Corporation.—(1) The Corporation shall consist of a Chairman and two other members appointed by the Central Government after consultation with the Provincial Governments.

(2) A person shall be disqualified for being appointed, or for continuing as, a member of the Corporation—

(a) if he is a member of the Central or any Provincial Legislature; or

(b) if he has, directly or indirectly, any interest in a subsisting contract made with, or in any work being done for, the Corporation except as a shareholder (other than a director) in an incorporated company.

(3) No act or proceeding of the Corporation shall be invalid by reason only of the existence of any vacancy amongst its members or any defect in the appointment of a member thereof.

5. Conditions of service of members.—(1) Every member of the Corporation shall devote the whole of his time to the affairs of the Corporation.

(2) The remuneration and other conditions of service of the members shall be such as may be prescribed.

6. Appointment of officers and servants.—(1) The Secretary of the Corporation, who shall be its chief executive officer shall be appointed by the Central Government.

(2) The treasurer of the Corporation shall be appointed by the Corporation with the previous approval of the Central Government.

(3) The Corporation may appoint such other officers and servants as it considers necessary for the efficient performance of its functions.

7. Conditions of service of officers and servants.—The pay and other conditions of service of the officers and servants of the Corporation shall—

(a) as respects the secretary and treasurer, be such as may be prescribed; and

(b) as respects the other officers and servants, be such as may be determined by regulations.

8. Functions and duties of the treasurer.—The functions and duties of the treasurer shall, in consultation with the Central Government, be determined by regulations.

9. General disqualification of all officers and servants.—No person who has directly or indirectly, by himself or his partner, any share or interest in any contract, by or on behalf of the Corporation, or in any employment under, by or on behalf of the Corporation otherwise than as an officer or servant thereof, shall become or remain an officer or servant of the Corporation:

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any share or interest in any contract with, by or on behalf of, or employment under, by or on behalf of, the Corporation, if the same is a share in a company contracting with or employed by or on behalf of the Corporation.

10. Appointment of Advisory Committee.—The Corporation may from time to time appoint one or more advisory committees for the purpose of securing the efficient discharge of the functions of the Corporation, and in particular for the purpose of securing that those functions are exercised with due regard to the circumstances and requirements of particular local areas.

PART III.

FUNCTIONS AND POWERS OF THE CORPORATION.

General.

11. Limits of Damodar Valley and area of operation.—(1) The Central Government shall, by notification in the official Gazette, specify the limits of the Damodar Valley.

(2) The Corporation shall carry out all or any of its functions and exercise all or any of its powers within such area as the Central Government may, after consultation with the Provincial Governments, by notification in the official Gazette specify in this behalf, and the area so specified shall be called "the area of operation" of the Corporation.

12. Functions of the Corporation.—(1) It shall be the duty of the Corporation to promote by such measures as it thinks fit the agricultural, industrial, economic and public health development of the area within its operation.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing provision, the measures referred to therein may include—

(a) the promotion and operation of schemes for irrigation and water-supply;

(b) the promotion and operation of schemes for the generation, transmission and distribution of electrical energy, both hydro-electric and thermal;

(c) the promotion and operation of schemes for flood control in the Damodar river and its tributaries and for the improvement of flow conditions in the Hooghly;

(d) the promotion of navigation in the Damodar river and its tributaries;

(e) the promotion of afforestation and control of soil erosion in the Damodar Valley.

Irrigation and water-supply.

13. Provision for irrigation and water-supply.—The Corporation may, with the approval of the Provincial Government concerned which shall not be unreasonably withheld, construct canals and distributaries and maintain and operate them:

Provided that the Provincial Government may, after giving reasonable notice and subject to the payment of fair compensation, take over the maintenance and operation of any such canal or distributary.

14. Rates for supply of water for irrigation.—(1) The Corporation may, after consultation with the Provincial Government concerned, determine and levy rates for the bulk supply of water to that Government for irrigation, and fix the minimum quantity of water which shall be made available for such purpose.

(2) The rates at which such water shall be supplied by the Provincial Government to the cultivators and other consumers shall be fixed by that Government after consultation with the Corporation.

15. Rates for supply of water for industrial and domestic purposes.—The Corporation may determine and levy rates for bulk supply and retail distribution of water for industrial and domestic purposes and specify the manner of recovery of such rates.

16. Free supply of water to those whose supply has been stopped or reduced.—If with a view to operating its schemes, the Corporation stops or reduces the supply of water to any person for agricultural, industrial or domestic purposes which such person was, prior to such stoppage or reduction, enjoying by virtue of any prescriptive right, the Corporation shall arrange to make good such supply of water free of cost.

17. Construction of dam, etc., prohibited except with approval of the Corporation.—Save as otherwise prescribed, no person shall construct, operate or maintain in the Damodar Valley any dam or other work or any installation for the extraction of water, unless the plans for the construction, operation or maintenance thereof have been submitted to and approved by the Corporation.

Supply of electrical energy.

18. Supply of electrical energy by the Corporation.—Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), or any licence granted thereunder—

(a) the Corporation shall have the exclusive right to sell electrical energy to any consumer in the Damodar Valley, including a Provincial Government, where the energy is taken by the consumer at a pressure of 30,000 volts or more;

(b) no person shall, except with the permission of the Corporation, transmit electrical energy in the Damodar Valley at a pressure of 30,000 volts or more;

(c) the Corporation may, by agreement with the Provincial Government concerned, sell electrical energy to any consumer in the Damodar Valley requiring the supply at a pressure lower than 30,000 volts;

(d) the Provincial Government shall not, without the consent of the Corporation, generate or allow any person to generate any electrical energy at an installation having an aggregate capacity of more than 10,000 kilowatts in any part of the Damodar Valley lying to the north of a straight line drawn east to west passing through a point at latitude twenty-two degrees, fourteen minutes and forty-seven seconds and longitude eighty-seven degrees, fifty-one minutes and forty-two seconds except such portion of the town of Burdwan as may lie to the north of such straight line;

(e) the Corporation may, with the approval of the Provincial Government concerned, extend its transmission system beyond the limits of the Damodar Valley.

19. Effect on existing licences.—(1) Where any licence granted under the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), becomes inoperative wholly or partly by virtue of the provisions of section 18, the licence shall be deemed to have been revoked or modified so as to be consistent with those provisions.

(2) Where a licence is deemed to have been revoked under sub-section (1), the Corporation shall purchase the undertaking of the licensee, and where a licence is modified under that sub-section, the Corporation shall at the option of the licensee, either purchase the undertaking or pay fair compensation to the licensee.

(3) The purchase price or the amount of compensation payable by the Corporation under sub-section (2) shall be such as may be agreed between the Corporation and the licensee or, in the event of disagreement, as may be determined by arbitration.

20. Charges for supply of electrical energy.—The Corporation shall fix the schedule of charges for the supply of electrical energy, including the rates for bulk supply and retail distribution, and specify the manner of recovery of such charges:

Provided that the Corporation may in any contract for supply of electrical energy impose such terms and conditions including a retail rate schedule as it may deem necessary or desirable to encourage the use of electrical energy.

Other activities.

21. Other activities of the Corporation.—(1) The Corporation may establish, maintain and operate laboratories, experimental and research stations and farms for conducting experiments and research for—

(a) utilising the water, electrical energy and other products in the most economical manner and for the maximum development of the Damodar Valley,

(b) determining the effect of its operations on the flow conditions in the Hooghly,

(c) making improvements in navigation conditions in the port of Calcutta, and

(d) carrying out any other function specified under section 12.

(2) The Corporation may set up its own planning, designing, construction and operating agencies, or make arrangements therefor with the participating Governments, local authorities or any person carrying on the business of an architect, an engineer or a contractor.

Powers.

22. General powers of the Corporation.—(1) The Corporation shall have the power to do anything which may be necessary or expedient for the purposes of carrying out its functions under this Act.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing provision, such power shall include the power—

(i) to acquire and hold such movable and immovable property as it may deem necessary and to lease, sell or otherwise convey any such property;

(ii) to construct or cause to be constructed such dams, barrages, reservoirs, power houses, power structures, electrical transmission lines and sub-stations, navigation works, irrigation, navigation and drainage canals and such other works and structures as may be required;

(iii) to prevent pollution of any water under its control and to withhold any water from any person who discharges into such water effluents which are harmful to water-supply, irrigation or fish life;

(iv) to stock its reservoirs or water courses with fish and to regulate or prohibit taking out fish from the water under its control;

(v) to undertake resettlement of the population displaced by the dams, acquisition of land for reservoirs and protection of watersheds;

(vi) to aid in the establishment of co-operative societies and other organisations for the better use of facilities made available by the Corporation;

(vii) to undertake measures for the prevention of malaria.

23. Power to close roads and open spaces.—(1) The Corporation may, after giving notice to the persons concerned or to the public generally,—

(a) turn, divert or discontinue the public use of, or permanently close, any road vested in it or any part thereof, or

(b) discontinue the public use of, or permanently close, any open space vested in it or any part thereof.

(2) Whenever the Corporation discontinues the public use of, or permanently closes, any road or open space vested in it, the Corporation shall pay reasonable compensation to every person—

(a) who was entitled, otherwise than as a licensee, to use such road or open space or part thereof as a means of access, or

(b) whose immovable property was receiving air and light on account of such open space or part, and who has suffered damage—

(i) in any case falling under clause (a) from such discontinuance or closure, and

(ii) in any case falling under clause (b) from the use to which the Corporation has put such open space or part.

(3) In determining the compensation payable to any person under sub-section (2), the Corporation may take into consideration any benefit accruing to such person from the construction, provision or improvement of any other road, or open space at or about the same time that the road or open space or part thereof, on account of which the compensation is to be paid, is discontinued or closed.

(4) When any road or open space or any part thereof, is permanently closed under sub-section (1), the Corporation may sell or lease such part of it as is not required for its purposes.

24. Powers under certain other enactments.—(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Acts specified in column one of Part I of the Schedule, the Corporation may carry out all or any of the functions and exercise all or any of the powers of a Provincial Government in the Damodar Valley under the provisions of such Acts specified in column two thereof against each item of column one.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Acts specified in column one of Part II of the Schedule, any officer authorised by the Corporation may carry out all or any of the functions and exercise all or any of the powers of a Canal Officer, Collector, or Forest Officer, as the case may be, in the Damodar Valley under the provisions of such Acts specified in column two thereof against each item of column one.

Co-operation and avoidance of submersion.

25. Co-operation with other authorities to minimise inconvenience caused by submersion.—(1) The Corporation shall co-operate with the participating Governments, railway authorities and local authorities and bodies, with a view to minimising the inconvenience likely to be caused by the submersion of roads and communications and shall bear the cost of any realignment thereof rendered necessary by such submersion.

(2) The Corporation shall co-operate with the Provincial Governments and local authorities in all measures that may be necessary to minimise the inconvenience and discomfort to the population affected by such submergence, take special care in dealing with the problems of submergence of lands belonging to any particular community or religious sect, graveyards and places used for the purpose of religious worship and bear the cost of resettlement of such population.

26. Submersion of coal mines to be avoided by the Corporation.—The Corporation shall make every endeavour to avoid submersion of coal or mineral deposits and shall co-operate with the coal mining industry and the bodies set up by the participating Governments to ensure the maintenance of adequate supplies of sand for stowing purposes in coal mines and in other ways to minimise the inconvenience to the coal mining industry.

PART IV.

FINANCE, ACCOUNTS AND AUDIT.

27. Expenditure till the Corporation is established.—All expenditure incurred by the Central Government for and in connection with the establishment of the Corporation up to the date of its establishment shall be treated as the capital provided by the Central Government to the Corporation and such capital shall be adjusted between the participating Governments in accordance with the provisions of sections 30 to 35.

28. Vesting of property in the Corporation.—All property acquired and works constructed for the purposes of the Damodar Valley Scheme before the establishment of the Corporation shall vest in the Corporation and all income derived and expenses incurred in this behalf shall be brought into the books of the Corporation.

29. Fund of the Corporation.—(1) The Corporation shall have its own Fund and all receipts of the Corporation shall be carried thereto and all payments by the Corporation shall be made therefrom.

(2) Except as may otherwise be directed by the Central Government, all moneys belonging to that Fund shall be deposited in the Reserve Bank of India or the Imperial Bank of India or invested in such securities as may be approved by the Central Government.

30. Liabilities of participating Governments to provide capital to the Corporation.—The participating Governments shall, as hereinafter specified, provide the entire capital required by the Corporation for the completion of any project undertaken by it.

31. Payment by participating Government on specified date.—Each participating Government shall provide its share of the capital on the dates specified by the Corporation and if any Government fails to provide such share on such dates the Corporation may raise loan to make up the deficit at the cost of the Government concerned.

32. Allocation of expenditure chargeable to project on main objects.—The total capital expenditure chargeable to a project shall be allocated between the three main objects, namely, irrigation, power and flood control as follows, namely:—

(1) expenditure solely attributable to any of these objects, including a proportionate share of overhead and general charges, shall be charged to that object, and

(2) expenditure common to two or more objects, including a proportionate share of overhead and general charges, shall be allocated to each of such objects in proportion to the expenditure which, according to the estimate of the Corporation, would have been incurred in constructing a separate structure solely for that object, less any amount determined under clause (1) in respect of that object.

33. Capital for irrigation.—The total amount of capital allocated to irrigation shall be shared between the Provincial Governments as follows, namely:—

(1) the Government concerned shall be responsible for the capital cost of the works constructed exclusively for irrigation in its Province; and

(2) the capital cost under irrigation for both the Provinces of Bihar and West Bengal shall be shared by the Provincial Governments in the proportion of their guaranteed annual off-takes of water for agricultural purposes:

Provided that the divisible capital cost under this clause shall be provisionally shared between them in accordance with their previously declared intentions regarding their respective guaranteed off-takes and any payments made accordingly shall be adjusted after the determination of the guaranteed off-takes.

34. Capital for power.—The total amount of capital allocated to power shall be shared equally between the three participating Governments.

35. Capital for flood control.—The total amount of capital up to fourteen crores of rupees allocated to flood control shall be shared equally between the Central Government and the Provincial Government of West Bengal and any amount in excess thereof shall be paid only by the Provincial Government of West Bengal.

36. Disposal of profits and deficits.—(1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 39, the net profit, if any, attributable to each of the three main objects, namely, irrigation, power and flood control, shall be credited to the participating Governments in proportion to their respective shares in the total capital cost attributed to that object.

(2) The net deficit in respect of any of the objects shall be made good by the Governments concerned in the proportion specified in sub-section (1):

Provided that the net deficit in respect of flood control shall be made good entirely by the Provincial Government of West Bengal and the Central Government shall have no share in such deficit.

37. Payment of interest.—The Corporation shall pay interest on the amount of capital provided by each participating Government at such rate as may, from time to time, be fixed by the Central Government.

38. Interest charges and other expenses to be added to and receipts taken for reduction of capital cost.—For such period, not exceeding fifteen years, as the Corporation runs in deficit the interest charges and other expenses shall be added to the capital cost and all receipts shall be taken in reduction of such capital cost.

39. Provision for depreciation and reserve and other funds.—(1) The Corporation shall make provision for depreciation and for reserve and other funds at such rates and on such terms as may be specified by the Auditor-General of India in consultation with the Central Government.

(2) The net profit for the purposes of section 36 shall be determined after such provision has been made.

40. Corporation's share in betterment levy by Provincial Governments.—In the event of any betterment levy being imposed by a Provincial Government, the proportionate proceeds thereof in so far as they are attributable to the operations of the Corporation shall be credited to the Corporation.

41. Borrowing of money.—The Corporation may, with the approval of the Central Government, borrow money in the open market or otherwise for the purposes of carrying out its functions under this Act.

42. Exemption of the Corporation and participating Governments from Central taxation.—Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, the Corporation shall be exempted from liability to pay any tax on income, corporation tax or any other like tax levied by the Central Government and the participating Governments shall also be exempt from liability to pay any such tax in respect of any profits distributed to them by the Corporation.

43. Budget.—(1) The Corporation shall in October each year prepare in such form as may be prescribed a budget for the next financial year showing the estimated receipts and expenditure and the amounts which would be required from each of the three participating Governments during that financial year.

(2) Printed copies of the budget shall be made available to each of the three participating Governments by the 15th day of November each year.

44. Annual Report.—(1) The Corporation shall prepare, in such form as may be prescribed, an annual report within six months after the end of each financial year giving a true and faithful account of its activities during the previous financial year, with particular reference to—

(i) irrigation;
(ii) water-supply;
(iii) electrical energy;
(iv) flood control;
(v) navigation;
(vi) afforestation;
(vii) soil erosion;
(viii) use of lands;
(ix) resettlement of displaced population;
(x) sanitation and public health measures;
(xi) economic and social welfare of the people living in the area of operation.

(2) The annual report shall also give a true and faithful account of the income and expenditure during the previous financial year, the net amounts attributable to each of the three main objects and the distribution of the capital cost between the three participating Governments and show the progressive totals from the inception of the Corporation and up-to-date financial results.

(3) The payments provisionally made by each of the three participating Governments on the basis of the budget estimates shall be adjusted as soon as possible in accordance with the allocation made in the annual report.

(4) Printed copies of the annual report shall be made available to each of the three participating Governments by the 15th day of October each year.

45. Other annual financial statements.—(1) The Corporation shall also prepare such other annual financial statements in such form and by such dates as may be prescribed.

(2) Printed copies of each such annual financial statement shall be made available to each of the three participating Governments by such date as may be prescribed.

46. Accounts and Audit.—The accounts of the Corporation shall be maintained and audited in such manner as may be prescribed.

PART V.

MISCELLANEOUS.

47. Directions by the Central Government.—(1) In discharge of its functions the Corporation shall be guided by such instructions on questions of policy as may be given to it by the Central Government.

(2) If any dispute arises between the Central Government and the Corporation as to whether a question is or is not a question of policy, the decision of the Central Government shall be final.

48. Disputes between the Corporation and Governments.—Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, any dispute between the Corporation and any participating Government regarding any matter covered by this Act or touching or arising out of it shall be referred to arbitration by an arbitrator appointed by the Chief Justice of India, whose decision shall be final and binding on all the parties concerned.

49. Compulsory acquisition of land for the Corporation.—Any land required by the Corporation for carrying out its functions under this Act shall be deemed to be needed for a public purpose and such land shall be acquired for the Corporation as if the provisions of Part VII of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (1 of 1894), were applicable to it and the Corporation were a company within the meaning of clause (e) of section 3 of the said Act.

50. Application of certain provisions of the Indian Forest Act, 1927, to the forests of the Corporation.—The acts prohibited in respect of a reserved forest under section 26 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927 (XVI of 1927), shall be deemed to be prohibited in respect of any forest owned or under the supervision or control of the Corporation and all offences in respect of such forest shall be punishable under the said Act as if they were committed in respect of a reserved forest.

51. Penalty.—Whoever contravenes any provision of this Act or any rule made thereunder shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine or with both.

52. Removal of a member.—(1) The Central Government may remove from the Corporation any member who in its opinion—

(a) refuses to act,
(b) has become incapable of acting,
(c) has so abused his position as a member as to render his continuance on the Corporation detrimental to the interest of the public, or (d) is otherwise unsuitable to continue as member.

(2) The Central Government may suspend any member pending an enquiry against him.

(3) No order of removal under this section shall be passed unless the member concerned has been given an opportunity to submit his explanation to the Central Government and when such order is passed the seat of the member removed shall be declared vacant and another member may be appointed under section 4 to fill up the vacancy.

(4) A member who has once been removed shall not be eligible for reappointment to the Corporation.

(5) The Central Government may declare void any transaction in connection with which a member has been removed under sub-section (1).

53. Procedure for prosecution.—No Court shall take cognisance of an offence under this Act except on the complaint of an officer of the Corporation authorised by it in this behalf.

54. Power of entry.—Any officer or servant of the Corporation generally or specially authorised by the Corporation may at all reasonable times enter upon any land or premises and there do such things as may be reasonably necessary for the purpose of lawfully carrying out any of its works or of making any survey, examination or investigation preliminary or incidental to the exercise of powers or the performance of functions by the Corporation under this Act.

55. Officers under Act to be public servants.—All members, officers and servants of the Corporation, whether appointed by the Central Government or the Corporation, shall be deemed, when acting or purporting to act in pursuance of any of the provisions of this Act or any rules made thereunder, to be public servants within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860).

56. Bar of legal proceeding.—No suit, prosecution, or legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act or any rule made thereunder.

57. Effect of other laws.—The provisions of this Act or any rule made thereunder shall have effect notwithstanding anything contained in any enactment other than this Act or any instrument having effect by virtue of any enactment other than this Act.

58. Power to make rules.—The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, make rules to provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(1) the salaries and allowances and conditions of service of members, the secretary and the treasurer;

(2) the dams or other works or the installations which may be constructed without the approval of the Corporation;

(3) the forms of the budget, the annual report and the annual financial statements and the dates by which copies of the annual financial statements shall be made available to the participating Governments;

(4) the manner in which the accounts of the Corporation shall be maintained and audited.

59. Power to make regulations.—(1) The Corporation may, by notification in the official Gazette, make regulations for carrying out its functions under this Act.

In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power in such regulation the Corporation may make provision for—

(a) making of appointments and promotions of its officers and servants;

(b) specifying other conditions of service of its officers and servants;

(c) specifying the functions and the duties of the treasurer;

(d) specifying the manner in which water rates and charges for electrical energy shall be recovered;

(e) preventing the pollution of water under its control;

(f) regulating the taking out of fish from the water under its control;

(g) regulating its proceedings and business;

(h) prescribing punishment for breach of any regulation.

(3) All regulations made under sub-sections (1) and (2) shall, as soon as possible, be published also in the official Gazettes of the Provincial Governments.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Damodar river rises in western Bihar and flows generally in a south-easternly direction into Bengal. It is a seasonal river having a large flow of water during the rains which, apart from being generally wasted, at times causes great damage to life and property. It is now proposed to harness the water of this river and some of its tributaries and utilise it in multiple development of the Damodar Valley and the adjoining area.

2. This Bill seeks to set up a Corporation, called the Damodar Valley Corporation on the lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority in the U.S.A. It will be an autonomous body within the framework of the enactment. Its objects, constitution and powers are laid down in the Bill. Briefly, its main function will be to control flood in the Damodar, generate electric power for distribution and provide water for irrigation and other purposes. In addition, the Corporation will endeavour to promote economic development of the Damodar Valley and the adjoining areas. It will consist of three members including the chairman. These three members and the secretary and treasurer will be appointed by the Central Government. The Corporation will have power to acquire land and construct or cause to be constructed such dams, barrages, reservoirs, power houses and power structures, electrical transmission lines, irrigation and navigation works as may be necessary. The capital required by the Corporation will be provided by the Central Government and the Governments of Bihar and West Bengal. The profits and losses will be distributable between these three Governments in certain agreed proportions.

3. The provisions of this Bill are designed to give effect to the broad outlines of the agreement reached between the three Governments concerned.

NEW DELHI;
The 19th November, 1947.

Notes on Clauses.

Clauses 4-7.—The chairman and the two members of the Corporation will be appointed by the Central Government after consultation with the Provincial Governments. The members will be whole-time servants of the Corporation and their remuneration and other conditions of service will be prescribed by the Central Government under their rule-making power.

The secretary and the treasurer will also be appointed by the Central Government and the conditions of their service will also be prescribed by the Central Government under their rule-making power.

Clause 11.—The jurisdiction of the Corporation will be the Damodar Valley and such other area as may be notified by the Central Government after consultation with the Provincial Governments as the area of operation.

Clause 12.—This clause deals with the functions of the Corporation. The three main functions will be flood control, irrigation and generation of power, and through these the Corporation will endeavour to promote the agricultural, industrial, economic and public health development of the area within its operation.

Clause 14.—The bulk supply rate of water for irrigation is to be fixed by the Corporation after consultation with the Provincial Governments concerned. Similarly, the Provincial Governments will fix the rate of water-supply to the cultivators after consultation with the Corporation. The object is that the rates fixed are reasonable and do not become a source of undue profit.

Clause 18.—The Corporation shall have the exclusive right to generate, transmit and sell electrical energy in the Damodar Valley at a pressure of 30,000 volts or more. In sub-clause (d) an exception has, however, been made whereby the Provincial Government (West Bengal) may generate electrical energy within the Damodar Valley up to an aggregate capacity of 10,000 kilowatts in the southernmost part of the area defined under the sub-clause. This area has been fixed in consultation with the West Bengal Government.

Clause 19.—Existing licenses in conflict with clause 18 are to be revoked. There is provision for the Corporation either buying the undertaking or giving adequate compensation.

Clause 21.—This clause names a few of the other activities of the Corporation incidental to the functions of the Corporation.

Clauses 22-24.—Define certain powers of the Corporation which are necessary for its efficient functioning.

Clauses 25 and 26.—Specific directions are being given to the Corporation to undertake by its own activities and in co-operation with the participating Governments, to cause as little inconvenience and discomfort to the population affected by submergence and to avoid, as far as possible, submersion of coal and other mineral deposits and to secure maintenance of adequate supplies of sand for stowing purposes in the coalmines.

Clause 27.—All expenditure incurred by the Central Government in connection with the establishment of the Corporation up to the date of its establishment is to be treated as capital of the Corporation provided by the Central Government.

Clause 32.—Under this clause the way the allocation of capital expenditure, chargeable to a project, between irrigation, power and flood control is to be made, has been laid down. It follows the principle adopted by the T. V. A. and has been accepted by the three Governments concerned.

Clauses 33-35.—The capital for irrigation is to be shared between the two Provincial Governments and clause 33 lays down the manner in which this should be done. The capital for power will be shared equally between the three participating Governments. The capital for flood control will be shared by the Central Government and the Government of West Bengal—the former's contribution being limited to Rs. 7 crores. The intention is that the entire burden on this unproductive portion of the project should not fall on the Government of West Bengal alone.

Clause 38.—It is not expected that the project would yield adequate return in the first 15 years and it has therefore been provided that the interest charges and all other expenses within this period shall be added to the capital cost.

Clause 40.—The development of the Damodar Valley will add considerably to the value of land and property in the area and it is felt that in the event of a betterment levy being imposed by a Provincial Government a share thereof should go to the Corporation.

Clause 42.—This is important but self-explanatory.

Clauses 43-46.—Deal with audit, accounts and reports. Specific directions are being given on these points under these clauses.

Clause 47.—While giving autonomy to the Corporation within the bounds laid down under the Bill, the Central Government are retaining power to guide the Corporation by instructions on questions of policy.

Clause 48.—In keeping with this autonomy, provision is made for arbitration in any dispute between the Corporation and any of the participating Governments.

Clause 52.—This clause lays down how a member can be removed.

Clause 58.—The Central Government are being given power to make rules on specific items.

Clause 59.—This clause gives the Corporation power to make regulations for carrying out its functions.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 59 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926, and the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 (XXXVIII of 1926), and the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Indian Bar Councils and the Legal Practitioners (Amendment) Act, 194 .

2. Amendment of Section 10, Act XXXVIII of 1926.—To sub-section (1) of section 10 of the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 (XXXVIII of 1926), the following explanations shall be added, namely:

"Explanation (i).—The holding of any political opinion or the expression of it in any form or act provided it does not involve violence and incitement to or abatement of violence is not misconduct under this sub-section.

Explanation (ii).—Conviction under any Law or Ordinance, general, special, local or otherwise, or under any rules, including conviction under section 124-A of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860), for any political offence where the person convicted is not found guilty of violence or incitement to or abatement of violence is no proof of misconduct."

3. Insertion of new section 13A in Act XVIII of 1879.—After section 13 of the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), the following new section shall be inserted, namely:-

"13A. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 12 and 13, no pleader or mukhtar holding a certificate as aforesaid shall be liable to be proceeded against or punished under those sections for holding any political opinion or for expressing it in any form or act, provided it does not involve violence or incitement to or abatement of violence, nor for having been convicted under section 124-A of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860) or under any general, special or local law or ordinance or under any rules, if he has not been found guilty of violence, or incitement to or abatement of violence."

4. Provision for restoration of a legal practitioner to his former status.—Any advocate, pleader or mukhtar against whom any proceedings or disciplinary action have been taken under the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 (XXXVIII of 1926), or the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), before the commencement of this Act, may within one year from the commencement of this Act apply to have the proceedings dropped or the disciplinary action set aside; and if it is proved that such proceedings or disciplinary action could not have been taken if this Act were at that time in force, the proceedings shall be dropped and the disciplinary action set aside forthwith, and the person restored to his former status.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There have recently come before the Courts many cases in which legal practitioners who were convicted of offences under such emergency ordinances like the Defence of India Rules for their political activities were debarred, in spite of their admittedly high character and professional integrity and in spite of the fact that the offences did not involve violence. In a recent case in the Madras High Court the entire Bar of the country gave the opinion that acts which did not involve violence did not amount to moral turpitude; but the Court reprimanded the advocate. The opinion of the several High Courts are not uniform on this subject. The Calcutta High Court has held that such non-violent political activities did not amount to defect of character. Public opinion as also the considered opinion of the legal profession in the country is against striking lawyers off the Rolls for their non-violent political activities. In the course of a country's struggle for freedom and in view of the impending constitutional changes in the country, all citizens including lawyers should be free to serve without fear or favour. It is very often the case that persons who have been imprisoned for their political opinions or activities are persons of noble character and are the chosen leaders of the people, respected and honoured. Some of these are even called to fill high posts of honour and responsibility on political changes occurring in the country. The administration of law and justice stultifies itself by proceeding against such persons. This amendment has long been felt necessary. Even in the last assembly a Bill was introduced for the purpose. The proposed amendment seeks to bring the law into conformity with the progressive ideas of the people.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 61 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Insurance Act, 1938.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Insurance Act, 1938 (IV of 1938), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act shall be called the Insurance (Amendment) Act, 194 .

2. Amendment of section 4, Act IV of 1938.—In sub-section (1) of section 4 for the words beginning with the words "No Insurer" and ending with the words "shall pay" the words and figures "No Insurer, not being a Co-operative Life Insurance Society to which Part IV of this Act applies, shall pay" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Co-operative Insurance Societies were started mainly to help persons of small means, both in rural and urban areas. The Insurance Societies are insuring lives for Rs. 1,000 and upwards. It is not within the means of ordinary ryots and artisans, labourers and lower middle classes to make the requisite payment for policies of Rs. 1,000 and upwards. So the Co-operative Life Insurance Societies which were formed to cater to the needs of these people were exempted from the rule, restricting Insurance to Rs. 500 and above which was raised in 1946 to Rs. 1,000 and upwards for Insurance Societies. In the year 1946 when the amending Bill was before the Indian Legislative Assembly, this exemption was sought to be amplified; but by a mistake the actual amendment that was passed took away the exemption by an incorrect wording of section 5A(i) of the amending Act. The Insurance Amendment Bill introduced by the Government in 1947 recognised the mistake and wanted to rectify it by giving power to the Government to exempt the Co-operative Life Assurance Societies. The Select Committee which has reported on this Bill has made the following recommendation:—

Clause 4.—"We consider that all Co-operative Life Insurance Societies to which Part IV of the Act applies should be exempt from the minimum limits laid down in sub-section (1) of section 4 and the position of such Societies should be as it was before the Insurance (Amendment) Act, 1946. Section 5(a)(i) of that Act appears to have been incorrectly worded, and we have revised clause 4 in order to rectify this error." and revised section 4(i) as below:—

"4. Amendment of section 4, Act IV of 1938.—In sub-section (i) of section 4 of the said Act, for the words beginning with the words 'No Insurer' and ending with the words 'shall pay' the words and figure 'No Insurer, not being a Co-operative Life Insurance Society to which Part IV of this Act applies, shall pay' shall be substituted."

On account of the change made in 1946, the transactions in the Co-operative Insurance Societies have been seriously affected and the poorer section of the community have been deprived of the benefits of Insurance which were supplied by these Co-operative Insurance Societies. In the interests of ryots, labourers and artisans and other persons of limited means, it is necessary that benefits of insurance should be returned to them as early as possible. The Government Bill as amended by the Select Committee will probably be taken up by the Assembly sometime next year, in view of pressure of business in the Assembly. On account of urgency, I have given notice of this Bill separately.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 62 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Penal Code.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act, 194 .

2. Amendment of section 124A, Act XLV of 1860.—That in place of section 124A of the Indian Penal Code, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"124A. Sedition.—Whoever by words, either spoken or written or by signs or by visible representation, or otherwise, with the intention of bringing into hatred or contempt, or exciting disaffection towards Her Majesty (or the Crown Representative), or the Government established by Law in India (or British Burma), incites any person or persons to violence, or to cause public disorder, or to disturb public tranquillity, shall be punished with imprisonment which may extend to three years, to which fine may be added, or with fine.

Explanation.—The expression 'disaffection' includes disloyalty and all feelings of enmity."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The law of sedition incorporated in section 124A as it stands has undergone a great change with the advance of political thought. The section is completely out of date and its language is unduly restrictive and susceptible of a very narrow construction. It has been often interpreted by the courts of law in India in a very limited sense and it has been frequently applied by the executive to suppress the free right of speech. The present Bill aims at bringing the law of sedition in this country in line with the law on the subject as it stands in other civilized countries, that is to say, a mere expression of ideas unless accompanied with incitement to violence, etc., should no longer fall within the mischief of the offence of sedition. The recent ruling of the Federal Court reported in A.I.R. 1942 F.C. 22 has clarified the position and affords a complete justification for the change suggested.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 63 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920 (V of 1920), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Provincial Insolvency (Amendment) Act, 194 .

2. Amendment of section 28, Act V of 1920.—After sub-section (4) of section 28 of the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920 (V of 1920), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(4A) Where the insolvent is the manager of a Joint Hindu family the property of the insolvent shall comprise and be deemed to have always comprised the capacity to exercise and to take proceedings for exercising all such powers, in, or over, or in respect of property as might have been exercised by the insolvent for his own benefit or for the benefit of the joint family at the commencement of the insolvency or before his discharge."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

A Bill has been sponsored by the Government of India, on 17th March, 1947, for an amendment of the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920 (V of 1920), so as to bring it into line with the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909 (III of 1909), in respect of the vesting in the Official Receiver of a Hindu father's power to sell his son's share in the Joint Family estate for discharge of his own debts not illegal or immoral which has been held not to exist by a Full Bench of the High Court of Madras in a case reported in I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83. The statement of objects and reasons appended to the Bill is as follows:—

"As a result of the decisions of the Privy Council in Satnarayan V. Beharilal, I.L.R. 6, Lahore, 1, and Satnarayan V. Sri Kishendas, same V. Bank of Upper India, I.L.R. 17, Lahore 644, the right of a Hindu father to sell family property to discharge family debts lawfully incurred cannot be deemed to be property within the meaning of Sec. 2(c) or of Sec. 17 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909 (III of 1909), and therefore does not devolve upon the Official Assignee under Sec. 17 of the Act. The Judicial Committee held however, that the power of the father to sell his son's property to discharge his own lowful debts does devolve upon the Official Assignee by reason of Sec. 52(2)(b) of the Act.

"While the Provincial Insolvency Act contains in sections 2(d) and 28(2) provisions identical with those embodied in sections 2(e) and 17, of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, there is in the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920 (V of 1920), no provision corresponding to section 52 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. In consequence a conflict of opinion has arisen among the High Courts as to whether, in the case of an adjudication under the Provincial Insolvency Act, the power of the father to sell his son's interest in the family estate to meet his own legitimate debts devolves upon the official receiver as it does in the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act.

"In the course of a Full Bench decision reported in I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83, the Madras High Court suggested that central legislation should be promoted to bring the Provincial Insolvency Act into line with the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, in the relevant respect."

It is submitted that the Bill is defective in two very material particulars.

In the first place the Bill is not retrospective in operation, and unless the Bill is made retrospective the hardship caused to innumerable creditors and purchasers in Insolvency by the law as declared by the F. Bch. decision in I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83, does not stand remedied. Even if I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83, continued to be good Law without any Legislative interference creditors in future would not be misled. They would hereafter be regulating their own conduct according to that decision. It is the creditors who have been misled by the state of Law prior to I.LR. 1943, Madras 83, that really require to be protected. Innumerable sales in innumerable Insolvencies under the Provincial Insolvency Act must have taken place during well nigh a period of two decades that elapsed since the earlier F. Bch. ruling, reported in I.L.R. 49, Madras 849, the case of a father and the ruling is 52, Madras 246, the case of a Manager not being the father down to the later F. Bch., the later F. Bch. ruling in I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83. The titles created by such sales which stand jeopardised by the later F. Bch. ruling, deserve to be saved. Moreover, the creditors themselves for the discharge of whose debts the sales in the Insolvency might have taken place during this period would be left without a remedy, for the recovery of debts. Hence it is that the present Bill is brought forward now so that the Amendment of the Provincial Insolvency Act may be made retrospective in operation. In this connection it may not be out of place to recall the following observations made by Mr. Justice Somayya, in delivering judgment in S.A. No. 1307 of 1945, on 31st July, 1946.

"The sales which took place between 1900 and 1943 were affected by that decision (1943, Madras, 83, F.B.) and in most cases purchasers would have no remedy, whatsoever particularly as there is no warranty of title in cases of sales held by the official receiver. It was high time that the legislature moved or was moved in the matter and necessary legislation made in order to protect the title that has been acquired between 1900 and 1943 and thereafter. It was regrettable that in spite of the defect being pointed by a F. B. of the High Court as early as 1942, the legislature should not have acted during all these four years to set the matter right."

Secondly, the F. Bch. decision reported in I.L.R. 1943, Madras, P. 83, is itself the case of a manager whose power to sell the interests of the other coparceners in the family estate for discharge of debts binding on the family [like the father's power to sell for discharge of his own debts not illegal or immoral to which the F. Bch. ruling has been extended by a Bench ruling reported in 1943, (2) M.L.J.], 87, has been held by the F. Bch., not to vest in the official receiver. The consideration of hardship to creditors and purchasers which are adverted to above are as relevant to the case of the Insolvency of a Manager not being the father as to the case of a father's Insolvency. This Bill proposes an amendment comprehensive enough to cover the one class of cases as well as other.

PART IV—Bills introduced in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Assembly; and Bills published before introduction in that Assembly.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 4471L.—8th March, 1948.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE WEST BENGAL RACE-COURSES LICENSING BILL, 1948.

A

BILL

to provide for the licensing of race-courses in West Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the licensing of race-courses in West Bengal;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Race-Courses Licensing Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal.

Definitions.

2. In this Act unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) "horse" includes a pony;

(b) "horse-race" means any race in a race-course in which any horse runs or is made to run in competition with any other horse, for any prize of what nature or kind soever or for any bet or wager made or to be made in respect of any such horse, or the rider thereof, and at which more than twenty persons are present;

(c) "racing-club" includes a club, association, society or body of persons corporate or incorporate—

(i) formed for the purpose of promoting horse-race or for holding race-meetings; or

(ii) conducting or controlling such meetings; and (d) "race-course" means any ground on which a horse-race can be held.

Prohibition against horse-racing on unlicensed race-course.

3. (1) No horse-race shall be held save on a race-course for which a license for horse-racing granted under section 4 to a racing-club is in force.

(2) The terms of such license shall be published in the Official Gazette.

License for horse-racing.

4. (1) Any racing-club may apply to the Provincial Government for a license for horse-racing on a race-course.

(2) The Provincial Government may withhold such license or grant it subject to such conditions and for such period as it may think fit. Such conditions may provide for—

(a) the payment of a license fee,

(b) the measures to be taken for the training of persons to become jockeys, and

The West Bengal Race-Courses Licensing Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 5—9.)

(i) such other matters connected with horse-races for which in the opinion of the Provincial Government it is necessary or expedient in the public interests to make provision in the license.

(6) The Provincial Government may at any time cancel any license granted under this section in the event of any breach of the conditions subject to which it was granted.

Penalty for racing-club allowing racing in unlicensed place.

5. If any horse-race is held on any race-course for which no license has been granted under section 4 or for which a license granted under that section is not in force, the racing-club holding such horse-race shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

Penalty for taking part in horse-race on unlicensed race-course.

6. Whoever takes part in a horse-race on any race-course for which no license has been granted under section 4 or for which a license granted under that section is not in force shall be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees."

Penalty for contravening conditions of license

7. If any racing-club to whom a license has been granted under section 4 contravenes any of the conditions subject to which such license was granted, such racing-club shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

Cognizance of offences under this Act.

8. No Court inferior to that of a Presidency Magistrate or of a Magistrate of the First Class shall try an offence under this Act.

Exemption

9. The Provincial Government may from time to time by general or special order published in the Official Gazette exempt any horse-race from the operation of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to enable Government to make provision for the licensing of race-courses in this Province. It is proposed that for granting a license, Government may levy a license fee and impose conditions relating to the training of jockeys and such other matters connected with horse-races as may be considered necessary or expedient in the public interests. The Bill is intended to come into effect from the 1st April, 1948.

LABOUR

ORDER.

No. 635Lab.—3rd March 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department Order No. 54-Lab., dated the 8th January 1948, the industrial dispute between the Metal Press Works, Limited, 156, Victoria Road, Baranagar, and four of its workmen mentioned in the list annexed to the said Order as represented by the Metal Press Workers' Union, 166, Kutighat Road, Baranagar, was referred for adjudication to Sree P. R. Mukherji, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sree P. R. Mukherji, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sree P. R. Mukherji, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company aforesaid and its workmen concerned as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the 23rd September 1947.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE P. R. MUKHERJI, Esq., Tribunal, Industrial Disputes, Calcutta.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Metal Press Works, Limited, and its employees represented by the Metal Press Works Mazdoor Union.

Award.

By the Commerce, Labour and Industries Department (Labour) Order No. 54Lab., dated 8th January 1948, this dispute was referred to me for adjudication.

The facts of the dispute briefly stated are as follows:—that the conditions of employment of the Company have always been and still are considerably short of decent standard and that the basic wage of a large number of manual workers of the Company is four annas. The employees demanded improvement of wages and conditions of service, etc., but at the time of hearing these points were given up as in the major Tribunal these issues are being considered.

The only point that was urged before this Tribunal is the alleged illegal and improper discharge of four workers, viz., (1) Dhirendra Nath Shahu, (2) Jnanendra Hazra, (3) Sukumar Das and (4) Sibsankar Das. It is alleged by the employees' Union that these workers were elected office bearers and members of the Union's Executive Committee formed at a meeting held on 23rd September 1947, and as a result of the Union activities, these four workers have been dismissed by the Company.

Issue.

Were Dhirendra Nath Shahu, Jnanendra Hazra, Sukumar Das and Sibsankar Das improperly discharged by the Company for Union activities? If so, are they be reinstated on back pay?

I now proceed to give my award on this solitary issue.

Decision.

According to the employees, these four workers had been dismissed for Union activities and as such according to the workers this is a case of pure victimisation.

The Company, on the other hand, alleges that on 11th September 1947 the Company imposed fine on Jnanendra Nath Hazra, Sibsankar Das and Sukumar Das for misconduct and this fine was realised from their earnings of the week from 8th September 1947 to 13th September 1947. As a sequel to the above disciplinary action executed by the realisation of fines on 20th September 1947, the day of payment for the above week, the factory Supervisor Mr. A. L. Choudhury was assaulted on 22nd September 1947 at about 1-45 p.m. by Dhirendra Nath Shahu, Jnanendra Nath Hazra, Sukumar Das and Sibsankar Das. For this act of misconduct these workers were suspended.

Now the question is if these workers assaulted Mr. A. L. Choudhury as alleged. The Company tries to prove that these workers were fined at the instance of Mr. Choudhury for neglect of duty which enraged these workers.

The discharged employees have given evidence before me and they denied having taken any part in assaulting Mr. Choudhury. They have also examined independent and respectable witnesses who deposed that on the alleged date, Sibsankar Das was coming out of the factory crying when on enquiry it was learnt that he had been assaulted by Mr. Choudhury, the Supervisor. It is also in evidence that these witnesses and others came to learn from him about the assault on this person by the Supervisor. Some time after this Supervisor was going out of the factory when he was abused by some boys of the neighbourhood who apparently sympathised for the assaulted worker Sibsankar Das. The evidence of Sri Sushil Kumar Ghose, a member of the local Congress Committee, and that of Sri Makhan Lal Choudhury in front of whose shop the occurrence took place, clearly shows that none of the discharged workers had any hand in the matter. Sushil Babu had been inside the factory when the Manager was enquiring about the alleged incident. He went there apparently to conciliate the matter and he learnt from the Manager that these discharged employees were not at all responsible for the assault.

The evidence of Mr. A. L. Choudhury is not worth much and is falsified by the evidence of the independent witnesses of the employees. It is also significant that the assault took place outside the factory and that outsiders took some part in the same, and it is also significant that it was a case of a very petty assault. There was a criminal case started by the Company which was not pursued at least, no material had been placed before this Tribunal to show what became of the criminal case.

The Company unfortunately allowed the matter to be dragged on. The matter was placed before the Labour Commissioner. It appears that the Labour Commissioner suggested lines of compromise—the discharged workers were to apologise and the Company was to take them back. The workers were agreeable to apologise without admitting their complicity in the matter but the Company refused to take them in nor to compensate the discharged workers.

In my decision the Company has lamentably failed to prove the charges brought against these workers and I am of opinion that these workers were victimised solely for their Union activities. It is unfortunate that the Company is slow to understand the signs of time. In this age industrial peace is desired by everybody seeking the welfare of the country. The Company is to look with sympathy and deal liberally with its workers by the sweat of whose brow the bank balance of the Company is swelled. I refer here with regret that this Company is most unsympathetic towards its workers and the matter would not have come before the Tribunal had the very liberal terms of conciliation suggested by the Labour Commissioner been accepted. I was also informed that during the pendency of the case before the Tribunal, the Company had resorted to lock-out. I have, however, not been asked to take any action against the Company for this alleged illegal action. I can only advise the employees to seek remedy in this respect as provided in the Industrial Disputes Act by asking for a reference of the same for adjudication to Industrial Tribunal, if so properly advised. I make the following award:—

The four workers (1) Dhirendra Nath Shahu, (2) Jnanendra Hazra, (3) Sukumar Das and (4) Sibsankar Das be reinstated with full pay from the 23rd September 1947 up to this date and they would be allowed to continue to work on their previous pay thereafter. This award shall bind the Company and shall be in force for a period of one year from the 23rd September 1947.

P. R. MUKHERJI, Tribunal.

The 25th February 1948.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Dy. Secy.

NOTIFICATION.

New Delhi, the 1st March 1948.

No. S.O.4.—The following Order made by the Governor-General is published for general information:—

THE ASSAM HIGH COURT ORDER, 1948.

WHEREAS the Assam Legislative Assembly have on the ninth day of September, 1947, adopted a resolution that a High Court be established for the Province of Assam, and the said resolution has been submitted to the Governor-General;

NOW, THEREFORE, in the exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 229 of the Government of India Act, 1935, as adapted by the India Provisional Constitution (Amendment) Order, 1948, the Governor-General is pleased to make the following Order:—

1. (1) This Order may be cited as the Assam High Court Order, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on the date of its publication in the Gazette of India.

2. (1) The Interpretation Act, 1889, applies for the interpretation of this Order, as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

(2) In this Order, "the Act" means the Government of India Act, 1935, as for the time being in force in the Dominion of India.

3. (1) As from the fifth day of April, 1948 (hereinafter referred to as "the prescribed day"), there shall be a High Court for the Province of Assam which shall be a court of record, and shall consist of a Chief Justice and such other judges as the Governor-General may from time to time, whether before or after the prescribed day, appoint in accordance with the provisions of section 220 of the Act:

Provided that any appointments so made before the prescribed day shall not take effect till the prescribed day.

(2) The said High Court is hereinafter referred to as the High Court of Assam.

4. The High Court of Assam shall have, in respect of the territories for the time being included in the Province of Assam, all such original, appellate and other jurisdiction as, under the law in force immediately before the prescribed day, is exercisable in respect of the said territories or any part thereof by the High Court in Calcutta, or by the Governor of Assam exercising the functions of a High Court.

5. (1) The High Court of Assam shall have the like power to approve, admit, enrol, remove and suspend advocates and attorneys, and to make rules with respect to advocates and attorneys, as are, under the law in force immediately before the prescribed day, exercisable by the High Court in Calcutta.

(2) The right of audience in the High Court of Assam shall be regulated in accordance with the like principles as immediately before the prescribed day, are in force with respect to the right of audience in the High Court in Calcutta:

Provided that, subject to any rule made or direction given by the High Court of Assam in the exercise of the powers conferred by this Article, any person who immediately before the prescribed day, is an advocate entitled to practise or an attorney entitled to act in the High Court in Calcutta, shall be recognised as an advocate or an attorney entitled to practise or to act, as the case may be, in the High Court of Assam.

6. Subject to the provisions of this Order, the law in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court in Calcutta shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of Assam, and accordingly that High Court shall have all such powers to make rules and orders with respect to practice and procedure as are immediately before the prescribed day exercisable by the High Court in Calcutta:

Provided that any rules or orders which are in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to practice and procedure in the High Court in Calcutta shall, until varied or revoked by rules or orders made by the High Court of Assam, apply with the necessary modifications in relation to practice and procedure in the High Court of Assam as if made by that court.

7. (1) The High Court of Assam shall have a Seal of such form and design as the Chief Justice may direct.

(2) The law in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to the custody of the Seal of the High Court in Calcutta shall, with the necessary modifications, apply with respect to the custody of the Seal of the High Court of Assam.

8. The law in force immediately before the prescribed day with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court in Calcutta shall, with the necessary modifications, apply with respect to the form of writs and other processes used, issued or awarded by the High Court of Assam.

9. The law in force immediately before the prescribed day relating to the powers of the Chief Justice, single judges and division courts of the High Court in Calcutta, and with respect to all matters ancillary to the exercise of those powers, shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of Assam.

10. The High Court of Assam, and the judges and division courts thereof, shall sit at such places in the Province of Assam as the Chief Justice may, with the approval of the Governor of Assam, appoint.

11. The law in force immediately before the prescribed day relating to appeals to His Majesty in Council or to the Federal Court from the High Court in Calcutta and the judges and division courts thereof shall, with the necessary modifications, apply in relation to the High Court of Assam.

12. (1) Except as hereinafter provided, the High Court in Calcutta shall, on and after the prescribed day, have no jurisdiction in respect of the Province of Assam.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in paragraph (1) of this Article or in Article 4,—

(a) any proceedings which, immediately before the prescribed day, are pending in the High Court in Calcutta on its original side, including any proceedings then pending in that High Court as a Court of reference, shall be heard and determined by that High Court;

(b) the High Court in Calcutta shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and determine any appeal from, or to review, an order of a judge of that High Court, whether on its original or appellate side, as if this Order had not been made, and the High Court of Assam shall have no jurisdiction to hear or determine any such appeal, or to review any such order; and

(c) the High Court in Calcutta shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and dispose of any application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council or the Federal Court from an order of that High Court as it would have had if this Order had not been made, and the High Court of Assam shall have no jurisdiction to hear or dispose of any such application.

(3) All proceedings pending in the High Court in Calcutta immediately before the prescribed day, other than proceedings with respect to which that High Court retains jurisdiction by virtue of paragraph (2) of this Article, shall, where the court of origin is situated in the Province of Assam, stand transferred by virtue of this Order to the High Court of Assam.

(4) Any order made by the High Court in Calcutta

(a) in any proceedings with respect to which that High Court retains jurisdiction by virtue of paragraph (2) of this Article, or

(b) before the appointed day, in any proceedings transferred to the High Court of Assam by virtue of paragraph (3) of this Article shall for all purposes have effect, not only as an order of the High Court in Calcutta, but also as an order made by the High Court of Assam.

(5) For the purposes of this Article, proceedings shall be deemed to be pending in a court until that court has disposed of all issues between the parties, including any issues with respect to the taxation of the costs of the proceedings.

(6) References in this Article to a High Court shall be construed as including references to a judge or division court thereof and references to an order made by a court or a judge shall be construed as including references to a sentence, judgment or decree passed or made by that court or judge.

13. As from the prescribed day, the Governor of Assam shall cease to have the jurisdiction of a High Court in respect of any part of the Province of Assam, and all proceedings which immediately before that day are pending before the Governor exercising the functions of a High Court shall stand transferred by virtue of this Order to the High Court of Assam and shall be disposed of by that High Court according to law.

14. Nothing in this Order shall prejudice the application to the High Court of Assam of any relevant provisions of the Act, and this Order shall have effect subject to any provision that may be made on or after the prescribed day with respect to that High Court by any legislature or other authority having power to make such provision.

MOUNTBATTEN OF BURMA,
Governor-General.

(1) Method of recruitment.—The appointments will be made by selection from among candidates possessing the qualifications specified below.

Persons holding substantive appointments or appointments on probation in the Education Department, Government of West Bengal, are eligible to apply.

(2) Pay.—The scale of pay for—

Bengal Educational Service (Men's Branch)—Rs. 150—175—200—50/2—300—40/2—380 (efficiency bar)—40/2—500—50/2—500 (efficiency bar)—50/2—700.

Bengal Educational Service (Women's Branch)—Rs. 150—30/2—240—20/2—420.

Government will be prepared to consider higher initial pay for candidates with exceptional qualifications. The initial pay of Departmental Officers, if selected, will be regulated under the normal rules of the Department. If candidates having no substantive appointments in the Education Department are selected, they will be given initial position in the scale on the basis of age up to 31 years.

(3) Probation.—The selected candidates will be on probation for 2 years. If their mother tongue is not Bengali, they will be required to pass the Departmental Examination in Bengali (higher standard) during the period of probation.

(4) Qualifications.—A candidate (i) must be a national of the Indian Dominion by birth or by domicile. A person of Indian descent or a citizen of the Indian State or of the Dominion of Pakistan or any other territory adjacent to India will also be eligible to apply provided a certificate of eligibility issued by the Government of West Bengal is furnished before appointment. Preference will be given to candidates who are natives of or domiciled in West Bengal:

(ii) must possess a first class degree of an Indian University either at the B.A. or B.Sc. Honours or at the M.A. or M.Sc. stage, or at least a high Honours degree of a foreign University, in the subject for which he or she is a candidate. Preference will be given to a candidate who has done research work;

(iii) must not ordinarily be over 35 years of age on the 1st April 1948 but the age limit may be relaxed in the case of a candidate possessing exceptionally high qualifications.

In waiving the upper age limit for the post of Professor of Mathematics, teaching experience will also be taken into account.

(5) Date of submission of applications.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form, copies of which may be obtained from the office of the Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House, Alipore, Calcutta, personally or on sending a large stamped self-addressed envelope. Application form will not be supplied on receipt of mere stamps. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any printed or typed form, a sample of which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 21st November 1946. They must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 15th April 1948.

(6) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates must furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with two certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from two responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(7) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government treasury or the Reserve Bank of India, under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Provincial Receipt." Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. In no circumstances will this fee be refunded.

(8) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(9) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support for their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendations from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(10) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

(9) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

B. N. BANERJEA, Secretary,
Public Service Commission, West Bengal.

Alipore, the 5th March 1948.

DAVID HARE TRAINING COLLEGE, CALCUTTA.

APPLICATIONS for admission in the prescribed form, available on application from the College Office, must be submitted by aided school teachers to the Inspector of Schools through the school authorities and by others directly to the Principal to reach him not later than the 15th March 1948.

Graduates in Arts or Science who are resident in either the Presidency, Burdwan or Jalpaiguri Division or have been serving as teachers in recognised educational institutions in any of these divisions are eligible for admission irrespective of their domicile, provided they are not over 30 years of age. The Director of Public Instruction, West Bengal, may in special cases and on the Principal's recommendations relax the age rule. Candidates for the B.A. and B.Sc. Examinations this year can also apply.

Applicants must appear at an admission test which is held usually in the first week of April. Applicants who come up for the test must make their own arrangements for their stay in Calcutta and will not be paid any travelling allowance.

No tuition fees are charged from the students of the college. Thirty stipends for outsiders at Rs. 50 per month each and 25 deputation allowances for aided school teachers at Rs. 50 per month each are likely to be available for the session 1948-49.

There is accommodation for 60 students in the College Hostel for men and there is another hostel for Women accommodating 20 students.

K. D. GHOSE, Principal,
David Hare Training College, Calcutta.

PART III—Acts of the West Bengal Legislature.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 448L.—8th March, 1948.—The following Act of the West Bengal Legislature, having been assented to in His Majesty's name by the Governor, is hereby published for general information:—

West Bengal Act II of 1948

THE WEST BENGAL LAND (REQUISITION AND ACQUISITION) ACT, 1948.

[Passed by the West Bengal Legislature.]

[Assent of the Governor was first published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 11th March, 1948.]

An Act to provide for the requisition and speedy acquisition of land for certain purposes.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the requisition and speedy acquisition of land for the purposes of maintaining supplies and services essential to the life of the community and for providing proper facilities for transport, communication, irrigation or drainage;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent, commencement and duration.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

(4) It shall remain in force up to the 31st day of March, 1951.

Definitions.

2. In this Act unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Collector", "land" and "person interested" have the same meanings as in the Land Acquisition Act, 1894; I of 1894.

(b) "Court" means a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction, and includes the Court of any Additional Judge, Subordinate Judge or Munsif whom the Provincial Government may appoint, by name or by virtue of his office, to perform, concurrently with any such principal Civil Court, all or any of the functions of the Court under this Act within any specified local limits and, in the case of a Munsif, up to the limits of the pecuniary jurisdiction with which he is vested under section 19 of the Bengal, Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887; and XII of 1887.

(c) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act.

Power to requisition.

3. (1) If in the opinion of the Provincial Government or any person authorised in this behalf by the Provincial Government it is necessary so to do for maintaining supplies and services essential to the life of the community or for providing proper facilities for transport, communication, irrigation or drainage, the Provincial Government or the person so authorised, as the case may be, may, by order in writing, requisition any land and may make such further orders as appear to it or to him to be necessary or expedient in connection with the requisitioning:

Provided that no land used for the purpose of religious worship shall be requisitioned under this section.

(2) An order under sub-section (1) shall be served in the prescribed manner on the owner of the land and where the order relates to land in occupation of a tenant also on such tenant.

Acquisition of land.

4. (1) Where any land has been requisitioned under section 3, the Provincial Government may use or deal with it in such manner as may appear to it to be expedient and may acquire such land by publishing in the Official Gazette, a notice to the effect that the Provincial Government has decided to acquire such land in pursuance of this section.

(2) Where a notice as aforesaid is published in the Official Gazette, the requisitioned land shall, on and from the beginning of the day on which the notice is so published, vest absolutely in the Provincial Government free from all incumbrances and the period of requisition of such land shall end.

Notice to persons interested.

5. (1) After the publication of a notice under sub-section (1) of section 4, the Collector shall cause public notice to be given at convenient places on or near the land to be taken, stating that the Provincial Government has acquired the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land may be made to him.

(2) Such notice shall state the particulars of the land so acquired, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of publication of the notice), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interests. The Collector may in any case require such statement to be made in writing and signed by the party or his agent.

(3) The Collector shall also serve notice in the manner prescribed on the occupier (if any) of such land and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside or have agents authorised to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

(4) In case any person so interested resides elsewhere, and has no such agent, the notice shall be sent to him by registered post in a letter addressed to him at his last known residence, address or place of business.

Release from requisition.

6. (1) Where any land requisitioned under section 3 is not acquired and is to be released from requisition, the Provincial Government may, after making such inquiry, if any, as it considers necessary, specify by order in writing the person who appears to it to be entitled to the possession of such land.

(2) The delivery of possession of such land to the person specified in the order made under sub-section (1) shall be a full discharge of any liability of the Provincial Government to deliver possession to such person as may have rightful claim to possession thereof but shall not prejudice any right in respect of such land which any other person may be entitled by due process of law to enforce against the person to whom possession of the land is so delivered.

(3) Where the person to whom the possession of any land requisitioned under section 3 is to be delivered cannot be found or is not readily traceable or has no agent or other person empowered to accept delivery on his behalf, the Provincial Government shall publish in the Official Gazette a notice declaring that such land is released from requisition and shall cause a copy thereof to be affixed on some conspicuous part of such land.

The West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Act, 1948.

(Sections 7—9.)

(4) When a notice referred to in sub-section (3) is published in the Official Gazette, the land specified in such notice shall cease to be subject to requisition on and from the date of such publication and shall be deemed to have been delivered to the person entitled to possession thereof; and the Provincial Government shall not be liable for any compensation or other claims in respect of such land for any period after the said date.

Compensation.

7. (1) Wherever any land is acquired under section 4 there shall be paid compensation the amount of which shall be determined by the Collector in the manner and in accordance with the principles set out in sub-section (1) of section 23 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894: I of 1894.

Provided that the market value referred to in clause first of sub-section (1) of section 23 of the said Act shall, in respect of any land acquired under this Act, be deemed to be the market value of such land on the date of publication of the notice referred to in sub-section (1) of section 4:

Provided further that if such market value exceeds by any amount the market value of the land on the 31st day of December, 1946 on the assumption that the land had been at that date in the state in which it in fact was on the date of publication of the notice referred to in sub-section (1) of section 4, the amount of such excess shall not be taken into consideration.

(2) When the compensation has been determined under sub-section (1) the Collector shall make an award in accordance with the principles set out in section 11 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, and no amount referred to in sub-section (2) of section 23 of that Act, shall be included in the award.

(3) Where any land is requisitioned under section 3, there shall be paid to every person interested such compensation as may be agreed upon in writing between such person and the Collector, in respect of—

(a) the requisition of such land; and

(b) any damage done during the period of requisition to such land other than what may have been sustained by natural causes.

Reference to Court.

8. (1) The Collector shall in every case—

(a) where any person aggrieved by an award made under sub-section (2) of section 7 makes an application requiring the matter to be referred to the Court; or

(b) where there is any disagreement with regard to the compensation payable under sub-section (3) of section 7 between the Collector and the person to whom possession of any land is delivered under section 6, refer the matter to the decision of the Court.

(2) The provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, shall mutatis mutandis apply in respect of any reference made to the Court under sub-section (1).

Power to enter upon land, etc.

9. The Provincial Government may, with a view to requisitioning any land or for the purpose of determination by the Collector of the amount of compensation payable under this Act, by order,—

(a) require any person to furnish to such authority as may be specified in the order such information in his possession relating to the property as may be specified;

(b) direct that the owner or occupier of the land shall not dispose of it or alter it till the expiry of such period as may be specified in the order;

(c) authorise any person to perform in respect of any land all or any of the functions referred to in sub-section (2) of section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894.

The West Bengal Land (Requisition and Acquisition) Act, 1948.

(Sections 10—13.)

Penalty.

10. If any person contravenes any order made under this Act he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine which may extend to two thousand rupees or with both.

Saving.

11. Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, no decision or order made in exercise of any power conferred by or under this Act shall be called in question in any Court.

Protection of action taken under this Act.

12. (1) No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Act or any order made thereunder.

(2) Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, no suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against the Provincial Government for any damage caused or likely to be caused by anything in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Act or any order made thereunder.

Power to make rules.

13. (1) The Provincial Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing powers, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the manner of service of orders on the owner or occupier of land referred to in sub-section (2) of section 3; and

(b) the manner of service of notice on the persons referred to in sub-section (3) of section 5.

By order of the Governor,
B. K. GUHA,
Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

PART V—Acts of the Indian Legislature assented to by the Governor-General and Ordinances promulgated by the Governor-General

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Ministry of Law.

The following Act of the Dominion Legislature received the assent of the Governor-General on the 5th January 1948, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. II OF 1948.

An Act to repeal or amend certain enactments.

WHEREAS it is expedient that the enactments specified in the Schedule which are spent or have otherwise become unnecessary, or have ceased to be in force otherwise than by expressed specific repeal, should be expressly and specifically repealed;

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that certain formal amendments should be made in the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 (XI of 1922);

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Repealing and Amending Act, 1947.

2. Repeal of certain enactments.—The enactments specified in the Schedule are hereby repealed to the extent mentiond in the fourth column thereof.

3. Savings.—The repeal by this Act of any enactment shall not affect any other enactment in which such enactment has been applied, incorporated or referred to;

and this Act shall not affect the validity, invalidity, effect or consequences of anything already done or suffered or any right, title, obligation or liability acquired, accrued or incurred, or any remedy or proceeding in respect thereof, or any release or discharge of or from any debt, penalty, obligation, liability, claim or demand or any indemnity already granted, or the proof of any past act or thing;

nor shall this Act affect any principle or rule of law, or established jurisdiction form or course of pleading, practice or procedure, or existing usage, custom, privilege, restriction, exemption, office or appointment, notwithstanding that they respectively may have been in any manner affirmed, recognised or derived by, in or from any enactment hereby repealed;

nor shall the repeal by this Act of any enactment revive or restore any jurisdiction, office, custom, liability, right, title, privilege, restriction, exemption, usage, practice, procedure or other matter or thing not now existing or in force, or any provision of the Letters Patent of any High Court which under any such enactment ceased to have effect.

4. Amendment of section 10 of Act XI of 1922.—In section 10 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922,—

(a) in clause (b) of the proviso to clause (vi) of sub-section (2) for the words, brackets and letter "clause (a) of" the words, brackets and letter "clause (b) of" shall be substituted; and

(b) in sub-section (4) for the word, brackets and figure "clause (xii)", wherever they occur, the word, brackets and figure "clause (xv)" shall be substituted.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Ministry of Law.

New Delhi, the 27th December 1947.

ORDINANCE No. XXXI OF 1947.

AN

temporarily to amend the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, and the Indian Limitation Act, 1908.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary temporarily to amend the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 (XXVI of 1881), and the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 (IX of 1908), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 42 of the Government of India Act, 1935 (26 Geo. 5, c. 2), as adapted by India (Provisional Constitution) Order, 1947, the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

1. Short title and commencement. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Negotiable Instruments Act and the Indian Limitation Act (Temporary Amendment) Ordinance, 1947.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. Amendment of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881.—After section 75A of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"75B. Presentment of negotiable instruments in riot areas unnecessary.—(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act or in any other law for the time being in force, no presentment for acceptance or payment of a negotiable instrument shall be necessary, and the instrument shall be deemed to be dishonoured at the due date for presentment if it is not possible for the holder thereof, being a bank, to present the instrument for acceptance or payment on account of the prevalence of riot or other disturbances in the area in which such presentment is to be made.

(2) Every bank which treats any negotiable instrument as dishonoured under sub-section (1) shall send to the Reserve Bank of India a return signed by two responsible officers of the bank in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India.

Explanation.—For the purpose of this section a bank shall include a company or corporation incorporated by or under any law in force in any place in or outside the Provinces of India, which transacts the business of banking in any of the Provinces of India."

3. Amendment of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908.—After section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"5A. Extension of period in cases of riots.—Any suit which could not be instituted on and after the 1st day of August 1947 or cannot be instituted after the coming into force of this Ordinance within the period of limitation on account of the prevalence of riots or other disturbances may be admitted after the period of limitation prescribed therefor when the plaintiff satisfies the Court that he was unable to institute the suit within such period owing to the prevalence of riots or other disturbances."

The Calcutta Gazette

THURSDAY, MARCH 11, 1948.

PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 58 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898);

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 194 .

(2) It shall come into force on the date of its publication in the Gazette of India.

(3) It shall extend to the whole of the Dominion of India including Indian States.

2. Insertion of new Chapter XXIV in Schedule II to Act V of 1898.—After Chapter XXIII in Schedule II to the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898), the following new Chapter shall be inserted namely:—

"CHAPTER XXIV

OF OFFENCES RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL ANIMALS.

1	2	3	4
512	Killed or causing to be killed cow, calf, bullock or bull.	Shall arrest without warrant.	Warrant.
5	6	7	8
Not bailable.	Not compoundable.	Imprisonment of either description for seven years or fine or both.	Magistrate of the first class."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this amendment is to protect the agricultural animals. India being an agricultural country, is running short of food materials. Cows, bulls, bullocks being the only motive-force of Indian agricultural implements, the animals should be spared from slaughtering. Hence legislation of this nature is not only the necessity but a just and economic demand of time.

As the amendment to Indian Penal Code, 1860, has been moved, this amendment is necessary so as to provide the procedure for the amendment.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 68 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860);

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short Title extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act, 194 .

(2) It shall come into force on the date of its publication in the Gazette of India.

(3) It shall extend to the whole of the Dominion of India including Indian States.

2. Insertion of new Chapter XXIV in Act XLV of 1860.—After Chapter XXIII of the Indian Penal Code, 1860 (XLV of 1860), the following new Chapter shall be inserted, namely:—

"CHAPTER XXIV

OF OFFENCES RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL ANIMALS.

512. Whoever kills or causes to be killed a cow, calf, bull or bullock shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years and shall also be liable to fine."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this amendment is to protect the agricultural animals. India being an agricultural country is running short of food materials. Cows, bulls, bullocks, being the only motive-force of Indian agricultural implements, the animals should be spared from slaughtering. Hence legislation of this nature is not only the necessity but a just and economic demand of time.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 13th December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 69 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898), in certain respects;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 19

2. Amendment of section 496, Act V of 1898.—In section 496 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898) (hereinafter referred to as the said Code)—(i) for the words "other than a person accused of a non-bailable offence" the words "is accused, complained or suspected of any bailable offence or" shall be substituted; and (ii) between the words "Court" and "and", the words "as being accused, complained or suspected of any such offence" shall be inserted.

3. Amendment of section 497, Act V of 1898.—In sub-section (i) of section 497 of the said Code—(i) for the words "accused of any non-bailable offence" the words "is accused, complained or suspected of any non-bailable offence or" shall be substituted; and (ii) between the words "Court" and "he" the words "as being accused, complained or suspected of any such offence" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill seeks to set at rest the doubt expressed by many courts that unless the accused is apprehended or surrenders his person he cannot be released on bail in accordance with the provision of sections 496 and 497 of the Criminal Procedure Code to change the Law of such charge is necessary. Many accused persons abscond for fear of Police apprehension or torture and would gladly stand a trial and vindicate themselves before a Court of Law if they were assured they will not be unnecessarily remanded to Police custody. The present Police methods of investigation and interrogation from accused are in many places anything but desirable and it is notorious that confessions made by accused while in Police custody are but seldom stuck to in courts. It is not unheard of that the Police abuse the Provisions of Law with regard to bail even in bailable cases. Many honest and respectable persons would prefer ignobly flying away from justice rather than subject themselves to the ignominy and indignity of police arrest and custody. When it is, remembered that a very large percentage of persons prosecuted is discharged or acquitted by courts and malicious prosecutions and false implications by enemies in bailable and non-bailable offences are not rare and under the law as at present interpreted by some courts the ordeal of Police custody is necessary to be undergone by every accused howmuchsoever innocent. The need of a change in the Law or to get the doubt at rest in this regard becomes imperatively necessary. This Bill if enacted will enable accused to seek bail from courts even before they surrender themselves and in proper cases the courts will be able to save the honour and reputation of innocent accused and offer them protection from the trouble and indignity of police custody.

At present even if the accused is lying ill in Hospital and is unable to attend personally he cannot apply for bail according to the narrow interpretation of the law by the Courts.

The policy of the law is to enlarge the liberty of the subject and "make the courts more of a shield for the innocent rather than a sword for the guilty". The Courts are armed by law in matters of bail and no change is sought to be introduced in the basic principle which regulate the exercise of the powers to grant or refuse or cancel bail whenever expedient or necessary.

The change is only in respect of persons who can invoke the aid of courts to save themselves from ruthless rigidity of the system which practically enjoins Police custody before the application of bail is disposed of on merits.

THAKUR DAS BHARGAVA.

Notes on Clauses.

Clauses 2 & 3.—The change sought to be made is clear enough and there is no need of any explanation.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill, was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL NO. 70 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, commencement and extent.—(1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 194 .

(2) It shall come into force immediately.

(3) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

2. Amendment of Section 161, Act V of 1898.—In sub-section (3) of section 161 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898) (hereinafter referred to as the said Code),—

(a) for the word "may" the word "shall" shall be substituted; and

(b) the words "if he does so he" shall be omitted.

3. Amendment of Section 162, Act V of 1898.—In sub-section (1) of Section 162 of the said Code, the words "if reduced into writing" shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Considerable hardship is caused to the accused and their counsel by giving the option of recording or not the statements referred to to the fancies of the investigating officer. The provision has led also to abuse and the original intention of the Legislature has not been carried out. The amendment seeks to do away with these difficulties and help the administration of justice.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 71 OF 1947.

A Bill to regulate and validate marriages between different castes and sub-castes of Hindus.

WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate and validate marriages between Hindus of different castes and sub-castes in the manner hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title and extent.—(1) This Act may be called the Hindu Inter-caste Marriage Regulating and Validating Act, 194

(2) It extends to the whole of India.

2. Marriage between Hindus of different castes and sub-castes.—A marriage may be performed under this Act between Hindus who may or may not belong to the same caste or sub-caste upon the following conditions:—

(1) neither party must, at the time of the marriage, have a husband or a wife living;

(2) the man must have completed his age of twenty-one years, and the woman her age of sixteen years;

(3) if the woman has not completed the age of twenty-one years, she must have obtained the consent of her father or guardian to the marriage; and

(4) the parties must not be related to each other in any degree of consanguinity or affinity which would, according to any law to which either of them is subject, render a marriage between them illegal.

3. Registrar of marriages.—The Registrar of Marriages appointed by the Provincial Government under section 3 of the Special Marriage Act, 1872 (III of 1872), shall be deemed to be the Registrar under this Act also and is hereinafter referred to as "the Registrar".

4. Notice of marriage.—When a marriage is intended to be performed under this Act, both the parties, and where the woman is below the age of twenty-one years with her father's or guardian's written consent, must give notice in writing to the Registrar of the district within which one at least of the parties has resided for thirty days before such notice is given and within which the marriage is proposed to be performed.

Such notice may be in the form given in the First Schedule to this Act.

5. Marriage Notice Book.—The Registrar shall file all such notices and keep them with the records of his office, and shall also forthwith enter a true copy of every such notice in a book to be for that purpose furnished to him by the Provincial Government to be called the "Marriage Notice Book under the Hindu Inter-caste Marriage Regulating and Validating Act, 19 " and such book shall be open at all reasonable times without fee, to all persons desirous of inspecting the same.

6. Solemnization of marriage.—The marriage shall be solemnized in accordance with the religious rites and ceremonies as desired by the parties thereto within ninety days of the giving of the notice under section 4.

7. Declaration of marriage before Registrar.—Within fourteen days after the performance of the marriage the parties shall present themselves before the Registrar either at his office or at such other place within reasonable distance of the office of the Registrar as the parties desire and sign a declaration in the form contained in the Second Schedule to this Act.

8. Certificate of marriage.—The Registrar shall enter a certificate of their marriage in a book to be kept by him for that purpose and to be called "the Marriage Certificate Book under the Hindu Inter-caste Marriage Regulating and Validating Act, 19 " in the form given in the Third Schedule of this Act, and such certificate shall be signed by the parties to the marriage and at least two witnesses of such marriage on behalf of each party. A true copy of this certificate shall be given by the Registrar to each of the parties.

9. Fees.—The Provincial Government shall prescribe the fees to be paid to the Registrar for the duties to be discharged by him under this Act, provided that the same shall not be on a scale higher than those prescribed under the Special Marriage Act, 1872 (III of 1872).

The Registrar may, if he thinks fit, demand payment of any such fee before performing any duty in respect of which it is payable.

The said Marriage Certificate Book shall at all reasonable times be open for inspection, and shall be admissible as evidence of the truth of the statements therein contained. Certified extracts therefrom shall on application be given by the Registrar on the payment to him by the applicant of a fee to be fixed by the Provincial Government for each such extract.

10. When marriage under the Act to be void.—Every person who, being at the time married, procures a marriage of himself performed under this Act, shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 494 or section 495 of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860), as the case may be, and the marriage so performed is void:

Provided that in cases where the validity of a marriage, where both parties are Hindus, is uncertain or has been disputed, the parties can, by fulfilling the conditions of this Act, get themselves married to each other under this Act, and the issue of the two, if any, born before this marriage shall be regarded as legitimate and of the caste of the father for purposes of this Act.

11. Penalties for marrying again.—Every person married in accordance with this Act who, during the lifetime of his or her wife or husband, contracts any other marriage, shall be subject to the penalties provided in sections 494 and 495 of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860) for the offence of marrying again during the lifetime of a husband or wife.

12. Caste of the issue of marriage.—The issue of marriages performed under this Act shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be of the caste of their fathers.

13. Penalty for making false statements.—Every person making, signing or attesting any declaration or certificate prescribed by this Act, containing a statement, which is false, and which he either knows or believes to be false or does not believe to be true, shall be deemed guilty of the offence described in section 199 of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860).

14. Saving of other rights.—Notwithstanding any customs or any interpretation of Hindu law to the contrary, Hindus married under this Act shall enjoy all the rights and be subject to all the obligations save and except those mentioned in the Act itself, that they would have enjoyed or been subjected to as the case may be, if this Act had not been passed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under the Hindu Law as interpreted, marriages between Hindus of different castes have been held illegal in many cases. This interpretation besides causing serious hardship in individual cases, has deterred many people from making proper marriage alliances. The progress of the community has also been retarded on account of marriages being confined within very small communities resulting in harmful inter-mixture of blood. The Bill seeks to be in the nature of a permissive measure giving freedom to persons wanting to marry outside their caste or sub-caste but desiring at the same time to solemnize the marriage in accordance with the religious rites and ceremonies, having conscientious dejections to a more civil marriage. The Bill also introduces some very necessary and desirable measures of social reform for those who want to avail themselves of the proposed measure inasmuch as it introduces registration, raises the age of marriage and also prohibits polygamy. In all other matters it keeps the rights and obligations of a Hindu intact. The Bill also enables such Hindus to take advantage of its provisions who though marrying within their own caste want, as a measure of precaution or reform, to get their marriage registered, raise the age of marriage, and avoid polygamy.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 28th January 1948:—

L. A. BILL No. 1 OF 1948

A Bill further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act V of 1908), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1948.

2. Amendment of section 80, Act V of 1908.—To clause (a) of section 80 of the said Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, the following words shall be added, namely:—

"or where the suit relates to a railway, the General Manager of that railway".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 80 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (as amended by the Adaptation of the Indian Laws Order, 1937) provides for notices of suits against the Central Government being served on a Secretary to that Government, and against the Secretary of State or a Secretary to the Central Government, the Political Secretary, or a Secretary to the Provincial Government of the Province where the suit is instituted. At present notices under this provision pertaining to the affairs of the Indian Government Railways, a major portion of which relate to cases of compensation claims, are received in the Railway Board's office either direct or through other Ministries of the Central Government and in a few cases from Provincial Governments. Notices have then to be forwarded to the General Managers of the Railways concerned for disposal.

This procedure entails considerable avoidable work in the office of the Ministry of Railways, and delays the receipt of notices by Railway Administrations, in some cases with prejudicial results.

It is, therefore, proposed to amend section 80 of the Code of Civil Procedure to provide for notices of suits relating to affairs of a Government Railway being served on the General Manager of the Railway concerned.

JOHN MATTHAI.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA.

Calcutta, the 24th February 1948.

Notice under section 43 of Bengal Act V of 1911 (The Calcutta Improvement Act of 1911) as amended up to 1931.

Scheme No. LIX (Park Circus).

The Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta hereby give notice that a scheme, namely, Scheme No. LIX (Park Circus) has been framed in Ward Nos. 20 and 21 for the area bounded as follows:—

On the north.—Starting from a point on the western boundary of premises No. 191, Park Street about 85 feet from its southern corner and running in a straight line eastwards to a point at the centre of the new 100 feet C.I.T. Road about 72 feet to the north-east of the south-eastern corner of premises No. 191, Park Street and about 77 feet to the north-west of the south-western corner of No. 1, Suhrawardy Avenue, then running in a straight line in a south-easternly direction to a point on Suhrawardy Avenue about 76 feet towards the east from the south-eastern corner of premises No. 1, Suhrawardy Avenue and about 75 feet towards the north from the north-western corner of the Eastern Park.

On the east.—From the above point running southwards to a point on Park Street about 93 feet to the south-east of the south-western corner of the Eastern Park and about 90 feet to the east of the northern corner of premises No. 94, Park Street.

On the south.—From the above point running in a south-westernly direction to a point on Syed Ameer Ali Avenue about 125 feet south, westwards from the north-western corner of premises No. 1, Syed Ameer Ali Avenue and about 125 feet south-east of the north-eastern corner of premises No. 2, Syed Ameer Ali Avenue, then running north-westward to a point on Circus Avenue about 75 feet to the west of the north-western corner of premises No. 2, Syed Ameer Ali Avenue and about 74 feet to the south of the south-eastern corner of plot No. 233 of the C.I.T. Scheme VIII (now known as 33A and 33B, Circus Avenue and 86A and 86B, Theatre Road).

On the west.—From the above point northwards to a point on the junction of Park Street and Theatre Road about 90 feet to the north-west of the north-eastern corner of plot No. 233 of C.I.T. Scheme No. VIII (now known as 33A and 33B, Circus Avenue and 86A and 86B, Theatre Road) and about 131 feet to the west of the southern corner of premises No. 191, Park Street, thence in a straight line north-eastwards back to the starting point.

No acquisition of land is involved and no premises have been scheduled for levy of betterment fee.

Particulars of the scheme and map of the area comprised in the scheme may be inspected at the office of the Trust at No. 5, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, on week days between the hours of 11 a.m. and 3-30 p.m. and on Saturday between the hours of 11 a.m. and 12-30 p.m.

Copies of the above documents will be delivered on application on payment of the following fees:—

Particulars of the Scheme—Re. 0-4-0.

Map of the area—Re. 1-0-0.

Objections to the scheme will be received up to 15th May 1948.

S. N. RAY, Chairman.

CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA

Calcutta, the 6th March 1948.

NOTICE.

It is notified for general information that the Corporation of Calcutta, in exercise of the powers vested unto them, in this behalf under section 308 read with section 302 of Act III (B.C.) of 1923, have, by a resolution, dated the 1st December 1947, revised the portion of the alignment of the 20 feet projected public street connecting Nilmoney Row with Amrita Lal Mitter Road, in Ward 30, which was originally sanctioned by the Corporation, dated the 27th March 1931.

A copy of plan prepared in this behalf may be seen in the office of the Chief Valuer and Surveyor on any working day, except Saturday, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., on payment of the usual fees.

PART IV—Bills introduced in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Assembly; and Bills published before introduction in that Assembly.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 4811L.—12th March, 1948.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE WEST BENGAL FACTORIES AND MINES (CONTROL OF DISMANTLING) BILL, 1948.

to provide for the control of dismantling of factories and mines.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the control of dismantling of factories and mines;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Factories and Mines (Control of Dismantling) Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "to dismantle" a factory or a mine means to remove from its position the machinery or part of the machinery of the factory or the mine, where by such removal, the factory or the mine is rendered wholly or partly useless for its purpose; but does not include any temporary removal of the machinery or part of the machinery for purposes such as adjustment, cleaning and repairs;

(b) "factory" means a factory as defined in clause (j) of section 2 of the Factories Act, 1934, but includes also any premises which were at any time whether before or after the commencement of this Act a factory as so defined; Act XXV of 1934.

(c) "machinery" has the meaning assigned to that word in clause (k) of section 2 of the Factories Act, 1934; and Act XXV of 1934.

(d) "mine" has the meaning assigned to that word in clause (f) of section 3 of the Indian Mines Act, 1923. Act IV of 1923.

Dismantling a factory or a mine.

3. (1) No person shall, without the written permission of the Provincial Government or of an officer authorised in this behalf by the Provincial Government, dismantle any factory or mine or remove from a factory or a mine any spare parts kept for maintaining the machinery of the factory or the mine in order.

(2) Any person who contravenes any of the provisions of sub-section (1) shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine or with both.

The West Bengal Factories and Mines (Control of Dismantling) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 4—8.)

Offences by corporations or firms.

4. Where a company or other corporate body, or a firm contravenes any of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 3, every director of such company or corporate body, every partner of such firm and every manager or secretary or other officer or agent of such company or corporate body or firm, shall, unless he proves that the contravention took place without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent such contravention, be deemed to be guilty of such contravention.

Powers of entry, examination, taking evidence, etc.

5. (1) Subject to any rules made by the Provincial Government, any officer authorised in this behalf by that Government, may, if he has reason to believe that any person has contravened any of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 3 within the local limits for which he is so authorised,—

(a) enter with such assistants (if any), being persons in the service of the Crown as he thinks fit, any place;

(b) make such examination of the place and of any machinery, books or documents therein and take on the spot or otherwise such evidence of any persons as he may deem necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Act; and

(c) exercise such other powers as may be necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Act:

Provided that no one shall be required under this section to answer any question or give any evidence tending to criminate himself;

(2) Any person who wilfully obstructs an officer authorised under sub-section (1) in the exercise of any power conferred by that sub-section, or fails to produce on demand any book or document in his custody or to comply with any demand for information, or knowingly or recklessly makes to such officer a statement false in a material particular shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine or with both.

Cognizance of offences.

6. No prosecution for any offence under this Act shall be instituted except by or with the previous sanction of the Provincial Government or the officer authorised by the Provincial Government for the purposes of sub-section (1) of section 3.

Bar of legal proceedings.

7. No suit, prosecution, or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done, or intended to be done, under this Act.

Power to make rules.

8. (1) The Provincial Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power such rules may provide—

(a) for the procedure for the grant of the permission referred to in sub-section (1) of section 3;

(b) for an appeal against a refusal to grant the permission referred to in sub-section (1) of section 3 when such refusal is by an officer authorised in pursuance of that section; and

(c) for regulating the manner in which officers authorised under sub-section (1) of section 5 shall exercise their powers.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Towards the close of the year, 1947, it was brought to the notice of the Government of West Bengal that certain factory owners were contemplating to dismantle their factories and to remove the plants and machinery to places outside the Province. As such dismantling and removal of plants and machinery in factories, if allowed to take place, will result in dislocation and disruption of the economic life of the area in which the factories are located and will bring about large scale unemployment, the present Bill is being introduced with a view to prevent any such move on the part of the factory owners in West Bengal.

West Bengal Act III of 1948

THE WEST BENGAL SECURITY ACT, 1948.

[Passed by the West Bengal Legislature.]

[Assent of the Governor-General was first published in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, of the 13th March, 1948.]

An Act to make special provision for the maintenance of public order by the prevention of illegal acquisition, possession or use of arms, the suppression of subversive movements endangering communal harmony or the safety or stability of the Province, the suppression of goondas and for maintaining supplies and services essential to the life of the community.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make special provision for the maintenance of public order by the prevention of illegal acquisition, possession or use of arms, the suppression of subversive movements endangering communal harmony or the safety or stability of the province, the suppression of goondas and for maintaining supplies and services essential to the life of the community;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

Preliminary.

Short title, extent, commencement and duration.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Security Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal.

(3) The Provincial Government may, by notification, direct that all or any of the provisions of this Act shall come into force in the whole or in any part of the province of West Bengal on such date as may be specified in the notification and may, by like notification, direct that the said provisions or any of them shall cease to be in force in the said province or part, as the case may be, on such date as may be specified in the notification.

(4) It shall, in the first instance, remain in force for a period of one year; provided that if a resolution in that behalf is, before the date on which under this sub-section it would otherwise have ceased to operate, passed by the Provincial Legislature, it shall continue in force for a further period of one year from such date.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "essential commodity" means food, water, fuel, light, power or any other thing essential for the existence of the community which is notified in this behalf by the Provincial Government;

(2) "goonda" has the same meaning as in the Goondas Act, 1923; Ben. Act I of 1923.

(3) "notified" and "notification" mean notified and notification respectively in the Official Gazette;

(4) "prejudicial report" means any report, statement or visible representation, which, or the publishing of which, is, or is an incitement to the commission of, a subversive act as defined in clause 7;

(5) "prescribed" means prescribed by any order made under this Act;

(6) "public servant" includes any public servant as defined in the Indian Penal Code and any servant of any local authority or railway administration. Act XLV of 1860.

(7) "subversive act" means any act which is intended or is likely—

(a) to endanger—
  (i) communal harmony, or
  (ii) the safety or stability of the Province;
(b) to organise, further or help the illegal acquisition, possession or use of—
  (i) arms, ammunition or military stores as defined in the Indian Arms Act, 1878, XI of 1878.
  (ii) explosive substances (as defined in the Explosive Substances Act, 1908), or VI of 1908.
  (iii) corrosive substances or liquids;
(c) to further the activities of goondas;
(d) to prejudice the recruiting of, or the attendance of persons for service in, any police force or fire brigade or any other body of persons entered, enrolled or engaged as public servants or to tamper with the loyalty of such persons;
(e) to impede, delay or restrict any work or any means of transport or locomotion necessary for the supply or distribution of any essential commodity except in furtherance of an industrial dispute as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. XIV of 1947.

Explanation.—Acts bona fide indicating disapprobation of the policy or measures of the Government with a view to obtain their alteration by lawful means shall not be deemed to be acts which are intended or are likely to endanger the safety or stability of the province.

Effect of the provisions of the Act when inconsistent with other law.

3. The provisions of this Act and of any orders made thereunder shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any instrument having effect by virtue of any such law.

Saving.

4. No prohibition, restriction or disability imposed by or under this Act, unless otherwise expressly provided by an order issued by the Provincial Government or by an officer specially authorised by the Provincial Government in this behalf, shall apply to anything done by, or under the direction of, any public servant acting in the course of his duty as such public servant.

Non-compliance with the provisions of this Act or any orders made thereunder.

5. If any person to whom any provision of this Act relates or to whom any order made in pursuance of any such provision is addressed or relates or who is in occupation, possession or control of any land, building, vehicle, vessel or other thing to which such provision relates, or in respect of which such order is made—

(a) fails without lawful authority or excuse, himself, or in respect of any land, building, vehicle, vessel or other thing of which he is in occupation, possession or control, to comply with such provision or order, or (b) evades, or attempts to evade, by any means such provision, or order, he shall be deemed to have contravened such provision or order.

CHAPTER II.

Prevention of Subversive Acts.

Sabotage.

6. (1) No person shall do any act with intent to impair the efficiency or impede the working of, or to cause damage to,—

(a) any building, vehicle, machinery, apparatus or other property used or intended to be used, for the purpose of Government or any local authority;
(b) any railway (as defined in the Indian Railways Act, 1890), aerial ropeway (as defined in the Bengal Aerial Ropeways Act, 1923), tramway, road, canal, bridge, culvert, causeway, port, dockyard, lighthouse, aerodrome (as defined in the Indian Aircraft Act, 1934), air-field, air-strip or any installation thereon or any telegraph line or post (as defined in the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885); IX of 1890. Ben. Act VII of 1923. XXII of 1934. XIII of 1885.

(c) any rolling-stock of a railway or tramway or any vessel or aircraft;

(d) any building or other property used in connection with the production, distribution or supply of any essential commodity, any sewage works, mine or factory;

(e) any prohibited place as defined in sub-section (8) of section 2 of the Indian Official Secrets Act, 1923. XIX of 1923.

(2) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall apply in relation to any omission on the part of a person to do anything which he is under a duty, either to the Provincial Government or to any public authority or to any person, to do, as they apply to the doing of any act by a person.

(3) If any person contravenes any of the provisions of this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years or with fine or with both.

Prohibition of subversive acts, publications and communications.

7. (1) No person shall, without lawful authority or excuse,—

(a) do any subversive act; or

(b) make, print, publish or distribute any document containing, or spread by any other means whatsoever, any prejudicial report.

(2) The author, editor, printer and publisher of, and any person who otherwise makes or produces any prejudicial report, and any person who distributes or sells any report of that nature, knowing it to be of such nature, shall be deemed to have contravened this section.

(3) If any person contravenes any of the provisions of this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years or with fine or with both:

Provided that in any proceedings arising out of a contravention of this section,—

(a) in relation to the making or printing of any document, it shall be a defence for the accused to prove that the said document was made or printed, as the case may be,—

(i) before the Bengal Special Powers Ordinance, 1946, came into force, or Ben. Ord. VI of 1946.

(ii) with the permission or under the authority of the Provincial Government, or

(iii) as a proof intended for submission to the Provincial Government or to a person or authority designated by the Provincial Government in this behalf with a view to obtaining permission for its publication;

(b) in relation to the publication of any document it shall be a defence for the accused to prove that the said document was published—

(i) before the Bengal Special Powers Ordinance, 1946, came into force, or (ii) with the permission or under the authority of the Provincial Government.

Proscription, etc., of certain documents.

8. (1) Where in the opinion of the Provincial Government any document made, printed or published, whether before or after this Act comes into force, contains any prejudicial report, the Provincial Government may, by order,—

(a) require the author, printer, publisher or person in possession of such document not being a newspaper to inform the authority specified in the order of the name and address of any person concerned in the making of such report;

(b) provide for the safe keeping by persons in possession of such document and copies thereof;

(c) require the delivery of such document and any copy thereof to any authority specified in the order;

(d) prohibit the further publication, sale or distribution of such document, of any extract therefrom or of any translation thereof, including, in the case of a newspaper or other periodical, the publication, sale or distribution of any subsequent issue thereof;

(e) declare such document and every copy or translation thereof or extract therefrom, to be forfeited to His Majesty.

(2) Where in pursuance of sub-section (1) any document is required to be delivered to a specified authority, that authority may enter upon and search any premises whereon or wherein such document or any copy thereof is or is reasonably suspected to be.

(3) Where in pursuance of sub-section (1) any document has been declared to be forfeited to His Majesty, any police-officer may seize any copy thereof, wherever found and any Magistrate may by warrant authorise any police officer not below the rank of Sub-Inspector to enter upon and search any premises whereon or wherein such document or any copy thereof is or is reasonably suspected to be.

(4) If any person contravenes any order made under this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

Power to impose censorship.

9. (1) The Provincial Government may, for the purpose of preventing or suppressing subversive acts, by order addressed to a printer, publisher or editor, or to printers, publishers and editors generally,—

(a) require that all matters, or any matter relating to a particular subject or class of subjects, shall, before being published in any document or class of documents, be submitted for scrutiny to an authority specified in the order;

(b) prohibit or regulate the making or publishing of any document or class of documents, or of any matter relating to a particular subject or class of subjects, or the use of any press, as defined in the Indian Press (Emergency Powers) Act, 1931. XXIII of 1931.

(2) If any person contravenes any order made under sub-section (1), then, without prejudice to any other proceedings which may be taken against such person, the Provincial Government may declare to be forfeited to His Majesty every copy of any document published or made in contravention of such order and any press, as defined in the Indian Press (Emergency Powers) Act, 1931, used in the making of such document.

(3) If any person contravenes any order made under this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years or with fine or with both.

Explanation.—In this Chapter "document" includes gramophone records, sound tracks and any other articles on which sounds have been recorded with a view to their subsequent reproduction.

CHAPTER III.

Public Safety and Order.

Punishment for carrying or possessing any corrosive substance or liquid.

10. Any person who carries on his person or knowingly has in his possession or under his control any corrosive substance or liquid, under such circumstances as to give rise to a reasonable suspicion that he does not carry it on his person or have it in his possession or under his control for a lawful object, shall, unless he can show that he was carrying it on his person or that he had it in his possession or under his control for a lawful object, be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years, to which fine may be added.

Definition of looting.

11. Whoever commits dacoity, robbery, theft, or theft in a building, vessel or vehicle or criminal misappropriation, if the commission of such offence takes place,

(a) during a riot or any disturbance of the public peace at or in the neighbourhood of the riot, or the place at which such disturbance of the public peace occurs, or

(b) in any area in which a riot or disturbance of the public peace has occurred and before law and order has been completely restored in such area, or

(c) in circumstances such that a person whose property is stolen or criminally misappropriated is not, as a consequence of rioting or any other disturbance of the public peace, present or able to protect such property, is said to commit the offence of looting.

Use of force to stop looting.

12. Any police-officer may use such force as may be necessary even to the causing of death in order to stop the commission of the offence of looting within his view.

Curfew.

13. (1) The Commissioner of Police in Calcutta and the District Magistrate elsewhere may, subject to the control of the Provincial Government, by order direct that, subject to any exemption specified in the order, no person present within any area or areas specified in the order shall, between such hours as may be specified in the order, be out of doors except under the authority of a written permit granted by a specified authority or person.

(2) If any person contravenes any order made under this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine or with both.

(3) In this section "Calcutta" means the town of Calcutta as defined in section 3 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, together with the suburbs of Calcutta as defined by notification under section 1 of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866. Ben. Act IV of 1866. Ben. Act II of 1866.

Amendment of sections 127 and 128 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

14. During the continuance in operation of this Act, in sections 127 and 128 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for the words "or officer in charge of a police-station" the words "or any police-officer of or above the rank of a head constable" shall be deemed to have been substituted. Act V of 1898.

Control of processions, meetings, etc.

15. (1) The Provincial Government may, by general or special order, prohibit, restrict or impose conditions upon, the holding of or taking part in processions, meetings or assemblies which, in its opinion, are likely to disturb the communal peace.

(2) Any police-officer may take such steps, and use such force, as may be reasonably necessary for securing compliance with any order made under this section.

(3) If any person contravenes any order made under this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

Power to make orders restricting the movements or actions of or detaining certain persons.

16. (1) The Provincial Government, if satisfied on reasonable grounds, with respect to any particular person that with a view to preventing him from doing any subversive act it is necessary so to do, may make an order—

(a) directing that he be detained;

(b) directing that, except in so far as he may be permitted by the provisions of the order, or by such authority or person as may be specified therein, he shall not be in any such area or place in West Bengal as may be specified in the order;

(c) requiring him to reside or remain in such place or within such area in West Bengal as may be specified in the order and if he is not already there to proceed to that place or area within such time as may be specified in the order;

(d) requiring him to notify his movements or to report himself or both to notify his movements and report himself in such manner, at such times and to such authority or person as may be specified in the order;

(e) imposing upon him such restrictions as may be specified in the order in respect of his employment, business or movements, in respect of his association or communication with other persons, and in respect of his activities in relation to the dissemination of news or propagation of opinions.

(2) Where an order is made under sub-section (1) directing any person to be detained, the Provincial Government may, if it so thinks fit, grant to such person, in accordance with such rules as it may make in this behalf, such allowance or expenses as it may deem appropriate.

(3) If any person is in any area or place in contravention of an order made under the provision of this section, or fails to leave any area or place in accordance with the requirements of such an order then, without prejudice to the provisions of sub-section (6), he may be removed from such area or place by any police-officer or by any person acting on behalf of the Provincial Government.

(4) So long as such an order as aforesaid in respect of any person directing that he be detained, is in force, he shall be liable to be removed to and detained in such place and under such conditions, which may include conditions as to maintenance, discipline or punishment for offences and breaches of discipline, as the Provincial Government may from time to time by general or special order specify.

(5) If the Provincial Government has reason to believe that a person in respect of whom such an order as aforesaid has been made directing that he be detained has absconded or is concealing himself so that the order cannot be executed, it may—

(a) make a report in writing of the fact to a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class having jurisdiction in the place where the said person ordinarily resides; and thereupon the provisions of sections 87, 88 and 89 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, shall apply in respect of the said person and his property as if the order directing that he be detained were a warrant issued by the Magistrate; Act V of 1898.

(b) by notified order direct the said person to appear before such officer, at such place, and within such period as may be specified in the order; and if the said person fails to comply with such direction he shall, unless he proves that it was not possible for him to comply therewith and that he had, within the period specified in the order, informed the officer of the reason which rendered compliance therewith impossible and of his whereabouts, be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine, or with both.

(6) If any person contravenes any order made under this section, other than an order of the nature referred to in clause (b) of sub-section (5), he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both.

Duration of orders made under section 16.

17. Save as hereinafter in this section otherwise provided, an order made under section 16 shall be in force for such period not exceeding three months as may be specified in the order or for the period subsequent to the date of issue of such order during which this Act continues in operation, whichever is less, unless earlier cancelled by the authority making the order:

Provided that the Provincial Government may, if and so often as it thinks fit, before the date on which under this section any such order would otherwise have ceased to be in force, place before a Judge of the High Court in Calcutta, the grounds on which the order is made, the representation, if any, made under section 18 by the person affected thereby and such further materials as the Provincial Government may think fit and the Provincial Government shall, in accordance with the decision of the Judge thereon, issue an order of release or a fresh order of detention for such period not exceeding nine months as may be determined by the Judge:

Provided also that the person affected by the order shall not be entitled to be defended or represented by any lawyer or other person before the Judge:

Provided further that the Provincial Government shall be at liberty to release any such person at any time notwithstanding any provision hereinbefore contained.

Grounds of order of detention to be disclosed to person affected by the order.

18. Where an order is made in respect of any person under clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 16, the authority making the order shall, within fifteen days after the order is made, communicate to the person affected thereby the grounds on which the order has been made against him except in so far as the said authority considers that disclosure of any fact would be against the public interest and such other particulars as are in the opinion of such authority sufficient to enable him to make, if he wishes, a representation against the order and such person may at any time thereafter make a representation in writing to such authority against the order and it shall be the duty of such authority to inform such person of his right of making such representation and to afford him the earliest practical opportunity of doing so.

Control of use of loud-speakers, mega-phones, etc.

19. (1) The Provincial Government may, for the purpose of preventing or suppressing subversive acts, by general or special order, prohibit, restrict, regulate or impose conditions on—

(i) the use or operation in any street, square, public place or other open space of any apparatus for amplifying the human voice, or any reproduction of the human voice, such as a megaphone or an electrically operated loudspeaker; and

(ii) the use, operation or driving in any street, square, public place or other open space of any vehicle which carries or has attached to it any apparatus referred to in clause (i).

(2) Any police-officer may take such steps and use such force as may be reasonably necessary for securing compliance with any order made under this section and may seize any apparatus or vehicle in respect of which any contravention of any such order has in the opinion of such officer occurred:

Provided that any vehicle or apparatus seized by a police-officer under this sub-section shall be conveyed without delay before a Magistrate who may give such directions as to its temporary custody as he thinks fit, but if no prosecution is instituted for a contravention of the order in respect of the vehicle or apparatus seized within a period which is in the opinion of the Magistrate reasonable, he shall direct its return to the person from whom it was seized.

(3) If any person contravenes any order made under this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both, and any Court trying such contravention may direct that any apparatus or vehicle in respect of which the Court is satisfied that the order has been contravened shall be forfeited to His Majesty.

Unlawful drilling.

20. (1) The Provincial Government may, by general or special order, prohibit or restrict in any area any such exercise, movement, evolution or drill of a military nature as may be specified in the order.

(2) The Provincial Government may, by general or special order, with a view to securing that no unauthorised exercise, movement, evolution or drill of a military nature is performed at any place, prohibit, restrict or impose conditions on the holding of, or taking part in, any such camp, parade, meeting or assembly, or such class thereof, as may be specified in the order.

(3) If any person contravenes any order made under this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years or with fine or with both.

Unofficial uniforms, etc.

21. (1) If the Provincial Government is satisfied that the wearing in public of any dress or article of apparel resembling any uniform or part of a uniform required to be worn by a member of His Majesty's Forces or of the Forces of the Dominion of India or by a member of any official Police Force or of any force constituted under any law for the time being in force would be likely to prejudice the public safety, or the maintenance of public order, the Provincial Government may, by general or special order, prohibit or restrict the wearing or display in public of any such dress or article of apparel.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a dress or an article of apparel shall be deemed to be worn or displayed in public if it is worn or displayed so as to be visible to a person in any place to which the public have access.

(3) If any person contravenes any order made under this section, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

Powers to require the assistance of certain persons.

22. (1) Any officer of Government authorised in this behalf by general or special order of the Provincial Government may, within such area as may be specified in the order, require any male person in that area to assist in the maintenance or restoration of law and order or in the protection of property for such period and in such manner as the officer may direct.

(2) If any person fails to comply with any lawful direction given to him under sub-section (1), he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine or with both.

CHAPTER IV.

Miscellaneous Provisions.

Power to obtain information.

23. (1) Without prejudice to any special provisions contained in this Act, the Provincial Government may by order require any person to furnish or produce to any specified authority or person any such information or article in his possession as may be specified in the order, being information, or an article which the Provincial Government considers it necessary or expedient in the interests of the prevention or suppression of subversive acts to obtain or examine:

Provided that—

(i) no editor, printer or publisher of a newspaper shall be required to furnish or produce any such information or article in respect of any matter published in such newspaper, and

(ii) no person shall be required to furnish or produce any information or article which, under the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, he cannot be compelled to furnish or produce. I of 1872.

(2) If any person fails to furnish or produce any information or article in compliance with an order made under sub-section (1), he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

False statement.

24. If any person when required by or under any of the provisions of this Act to make any statement or furnish any information, makes any statement or furnishes any information which he knows or has reasonable cause to believe to be false, or not true, in any material particular, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

Requisitioning of property.

25. (1) If in the opinion of the Provincial Government it is necessary or expedient so to do for preventing or suppressing subversive acts or for maintaining supplies, and services essential to the life of the community or for rehabilitating persons displaced from their residences or shops due to communal strife, it may by order in writing requisition any property, moveable or immoveable, and may make such further orders as appear to it to be necessary or expedient in connection with the requisitioning:

Provided that no place or premises used for the purpose of religious worship shall be requisitioned under this section.

(2) Where the Provincial Government has requisitioned any property under sub-section (1), it may use or deal with the property in such manner as may appear to it to be expedient.

(3) Whenever in pursuance of sub-section (1), the Provincial Government requisitions any moveable property, the owner thereof shall be paid such compensation as the Provincial Government may determine:

Provided that where the owner of such property, being aggrieved by the amount of compensation so determined, makes an application for referring the matter to an arbitrator, the amount of compensation to be paid shall be such as an arbitrator appointed in this behalf by the Provincial Government may determine:

Provided further that, where immediately before the requisition the property was by virtue of a hire purchase agreement in the possession of a person other than the owner, the amount determined by the Provincial Government as the total compensation payable in respect of the requisition shall be apportioned between that person and the owner in such manner as they may agree upon, and in default of agreement, in such manner as an arbitrator appointed by the Provincial Government in this behalf may decide to be just.

(4) Where in pursuance of sub-section (1) the Provincial Government requisitions any immoveable property, there shall be paid compensation, the amount of which shall be determined in the manner, and in accordance with the principles, hereinafter set out, that is to say,—

(a) where the amount of compensation can be fixed by agreement, it shall be paid within three months in accordance with such agreement;

(b) where no such agreement can be reached, the Provincial Government shall appoint as arbitrator a District Judge or an Additional District Judge;

(c) the Provincial Government may, in any particular case, nominate a person having expert knowledge as to the nature of the property requisitioned, to assist the arbitrator, and where such nomination is made, the person to be compensated may also nominate an assessor for the said purpose;

(d) at the commencement of the proceedings before the arbitrator, the Provincial Government and the person to be compensated shall state what in their respective opinions is a fair amount of compensation;

(e) an appeal shall lie to the High Court against an award of an arbitrator except in cases where the amount of compensation awarded does not exceed five thousand rupees in lump or, in the case of an amount payable periodically, two hundred and fifty rupees per mensem;

(f) save as provided, in this section and in any rules made thereunder, nothing in any law for the time being in force shall apply to arbitrations under this sub-section.

(5) Where any immoveable property requisitioned under sub-section (1) is to be released from requisition, the Provincial Government may, after making such enquiry, if any, as it considers necessary, specify by order in writing the person who appears to the Provincial Government to be entitled to the possession of such property.

(6) The delivery of possession of the immoveable property requisitioned under sub-section (1) to the person specified in an order made under sub-section (5) shall be a full discharge of the Provincial Government from all liability in respect of such delivery, but shall not prejudice any rights in respect of such property which any other person may be entitled by due process of law to enforce against the person to whom possession of such property is so delivered.

(7) Where the person to whom possession of any immoveable property requisitioned under sub-section (1) is to be given cannot be found or is not readily ascertainable or has no agent or other person empowered to accept delivery on his behalf, the Provincial Government shall cause a notice declaring that such property is released from requisition to be affixed on some conspicuous part of such property and publish the notice in the Official Gazette.

(8) When a notice referred to in sub-section (7) is published in the Official Gazette, the immoveable property specified in such notice shall cease to be subject to requisition on and from the date of such publication and be deemed to have been delivered to the person entitled to possession thereof; and the Provincial Government shall not be liable for any compensation or other claim in respect of such property for any period after the said date.

(9) Where any immoveable property requisitioned under sub-section (1) is released from requisition, compensation shall also be paid in respect of any damage done during the period of requisition to such property other than what may have been sustained by normal wear and tear or by natural causes. When the amount of such compensation can be fixed by agreement, it shall be paid in accordance with such agreement; where no such agreement can be reached, the matter shall be referred to an arbitrator and thereupon the provisions of sub-section (4) shall, as far as may be, apply.

(10) The Provincial Government may, with a view to requisitioning any property under sub-section (1) or determining the compensation payable under sub-section (3), by order—

(a) require any person to furnish to such authority as may be specified in the order such information in his possession relating to the property as may be so specified;

(b) direct that the owner, occupier or person in possession of the property shall not without the permission of the Provincial Government dispose of it or where the property is a building, structurally alter it or where the property is moveable, remove it from the premises in which it is kept till the expiry of such reasonable period as may be specified in the order.

(11) Without prejudice to any powers otherwise conferred by this Act, any person authorised in this behalf by the Provincial Government may enter any premises between sunrise and sunset and inspect such premises and any property therein or thereon for the purpose of determining whether, and, if so, in what manner, an order under this section should be made in relation to such premises or property, or with a view to securing compliance with any order made under this section.

(12) If any person contravenes any order made under this section he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years, or with fine or with both.

Publication and service of notices.

26. (1) Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, every authority, officer or person who makes any order in writing in pursuance of any provision thereof shall publish or serve or cause to be served notice of such order in such manner as may be prescribed by rules made by the Provincial Government.

(2) Where this Act empowers an authority, officer or person to take action by notified order, the provisions of sub-section (1) shall not apply in relation to such order.

(3) If in the course of any judicial proceedings, a question arises whether a person was duly informed of an order made in pursuance of any provision of this Act, compliance with sub-section (1), or in a case to which sub-section (2) applies, the notification of the order, shall be conclusive proof that he was so informed, but a failure to comply with sub-section (1)—

(i) shall not preclude proof by other means that he had information of the order; and

(ii) shall not affect the validity of the order.

(4) Any police-officer, and any other person authorised by the Provincial Government in this behalf may, for any purpose connected with the prevention or suppression of subversive acts or with maintaining supplies and services essential to the life of the community or for carrying out the provisions of this Act affix any notice to, or cause any notice to be displayed on, any premises, vehicle or vessel, and may for the purpose of exercising the power conferred by this section enter any premises, vehicle or vessel at any time.

(5) Any person authorised by the Provincial Government in this behalf may, for any purpose mentioned in sub-section (4), by order direct the owner or other person in possession or control of any premises, vehicle or vessel to display any notice on, or in, the premises, vehicle or vessel in such manner as may be specified in the order.

CHAPTER V.

Supplementary and Procedural.

Attempts, etc., to contravene the provisions of the Act.

27. Any person who attempts to contravene, or abets, or attempts to abet, or does any act preparatory to, a contravention of, any of the provisions of this Act or of any order made thereunder, shall be deemed to have contravened that provision or, as the case may be, that order.

Special provision for searches.

28. (1) In any area in which the Provincial Government, as a consequence of apprehended danger to the public in such area, notifies in the Official Gazette in this behalf, any police-officer may in any road, street, alley, public place, or open space, stop and search any person in such area for the purpose of ascertaining whether such person is carrying, in contravention of any law for the time being in force, any explosive or corrosive substance or liquid or any weapon of offence or any article which may be used as a weapon of offence and may seize any such substance or liquid together with its container, if any, or any such weapon or article discovered during such search:

Provided that every such search shall be made with due regard to decency and that no woman shall be searched except by a woman.

(2) Anything seized under sub-section (1) shall be conveyed without delay before a Magistrate who may give such directions as to its temporary custody as he may think fit, so however that, where no prosecution in respect of the possession of such thing is instituted within a period in his opinion reasonable, the Magistrate may, subject to the provisions of any other law for the time being in force, give such orders as to the final disposal of such thing as he deems expedient.

General power of arrest without warrant.

29. Any police-officer may arrest without warrant any person who is reasonably suspected of having committed, or of committing a contravention of any order made under section 13.

Powers of arrest and detention.

30. (1) Any police-officer not below the rank of Sub-Inspector, or any other officer of Government empowered in this behalf by general or special order of the Provincial Government, may arrest without warrant any person whom he reasonably suspects of having done, of doing, or of being about to do any subversive act.

(2) Any officer who makes an arrest in pursuance of sub-section (1) shall forthwith report the fact of such arrest to the Provincial Government, and, pending the receipt of the orders of the Provincial Government, may, by order in writing, commit any person so arrested to such custody as the Provincial Government may, by general or special order, specify:

Provided that no person shall be detained in custody under this sub-section for a period exceeding fifteen days without the order of the Provincial Government.

(3) On receipt of any report made under the provisions of sub-section (2), the Provincial Government may, in addition to making such order as may appear to be necessary for the temporary custody of any person arrested under this section, make, in exercise of any power conferred upon it by any law for the time being in force, such final order as to his detention, release, residence or any other matter concerning him as may appear to the Provincial Government in the circumstances of the case to be reasonable or necessary.

Cognizance of contraventions of the provisions of the Act or orders made thereunder.

31. (1) No Court shall take cognizance of any alleged contravention of the provisions of this Act or of any order made thereunder, except on a report in writing of the facts constituting such contravention, made by a public servant.

(2) Proceedings in respect of a contravention of the provisions of this Act alleged to have been committed by any person may be taken before the appropriate Court having jurisdiction in the place where that person is for the time being.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in Schedule II to the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, a contravention of the provisions of section 6, shall be triable by a Court of Session, a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class. Act V of 1898.

(4) Any magistrate or bench of magistrates empowered for the time being to try in a summary way the offences specified in sub-section (1) of section 260 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, may if such magistrate or bench of magistrates thinks fit, on application in this behalf being made by the prosecution, try a contravention of any such provisions of this Act or orders made thereunder as the Provincial Government may by notified order, specify in this behalf, in accordance with the provisions contained in sections 262 to 265 of the said Code.

Power to give effect to orders, etc.

32. (1) Any authority, officer, or person who is empowered by or in pursuance of the provisions of this Act to make any order, or to exercise any other power may, in addition to any other action prescribed by or under this Act, take, or cause to be taken, such steps as may, in the opinion of such authority, officer or person, be reasonably necessary for securing compliance with, or for preventing or rectifying any contravention of, such order, or for the effective exercise of such power.

(2) Where in respect of any of the provisions of this Act there is no authority, officer or person empowered to take action under sub-section (1), the Provincial Government may take, or cause to be taken, such steps as may in the opinion of the Provincial Government be reasonably necessary for securing compliance with, or preventing or rectifying any breach of, such provision.

(3) For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that the power to take steps under sub-section (1) or under sub-section (2) includes the power to enter upon any land or other property whatsoever.

Saving as to orders.

33. (1) Subject to the provisions of section 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, no order made in exercise of any power conferred by or under this Act, shall be called in question in any Court.

(2) Where an order purports to have been made and signed by any authority in exercise of any power conferred by or under this Act, a Court shall, within the meaning of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, presume that such order was so made by that authority. I of 1872.

Protection of action taken under the Act.

34. (1) No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Act or any order made thereunder.

(2) No suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against the Crown for any damage caused or likely to be caused by anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Act or any order made thereunder.

The West Bengal Security Act, 1948.

(Chapter V.—Supplementary and Procedural.—Sections 35—37.)

Delegation of powers and duties of the Provincial Government.

35. The Provincial Government may, by notified order, direct that any power or duty which is conferred or imposed by any provision of this Act upon the Provincial Government shall, in such circumstances and under such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the direction, be exercised or discharged also by any officer or authority subordinate to the Provincial Government.

Power to make rules.

36. (1) The Provincial Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the principles and the procedure to be followed in assessing, and in making the payment of, allowances and expenses referred to in sub-section (2) of section 16;

(b) the procedure to be followed in arbitrations and the principles to be followed in apportioning the costs of proceedings before the arbitrator and on appeal referred to in section 25;

(c) the manner of publication and service of notices referred to in sub-section (1) of section 26.

Saving and Repeal.

37. (1) Any order made or deemed to have been made, any notification issued or deemed to have been issued or any direction given or deemed to have been given under any provision of the Bengal Special Powers Ordinance, 1946, and in force immediately before the commencement of this Act shall continue in force and be deemed to be an order made, notification issued or direction given under the corresponding provision of this Act and any penalty incurred, action taken or proceedings commenced under any provision of the said Ordinance shall be deemed to have been incurred, taken or commenced under this Act as if this Act were already in force when such penalty was incurred, or such action was taken or such proceedings were commenced. Ben Ord. VI of 1946

(2) The Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947, in so far as it enacts and continues in operation, the provisions of the Bengal Special Powers Ordinance, 1946, is hereby repealed. Ben. Act I of 1947.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 490.—13th March 1948.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information.

THE BENGAL JUTE REGULATION (WEST BENGAL AMENDMENT) BILL, 1948.

A

BILL

further to amend the Bengal Jute Regulation Act, 1940.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Jute Regulation Act, 1940, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act. V of 1940.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Bengal Jute Regulation (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1948.

Insertion of new section 10A. 2. After section 10 of the Bengal Jute Regulation Act, 1940 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"Special provision for licences in any particular year.

(2) When a notification under sub-section (1) has been issued, in any year, by the Provincial Government, any grower of jute or his successor in interest, who was entitled to have a licence issued to him in the immediately preceding year under sub-section (1) of section 10, but who had not taken out such licence, shall be entitled to have a licence issued to him, as if the immediately preceding year had not expired and the licence so issued, shall, for the purpose of sub-section (1), be deemed to be a licence issued under sub-section (1) of section 10 in the immediately preceding year.

(3) For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that it shall not be necessary for the Provincial Government to constitute an Advisory Board under section 8 or to consult any such Board under section 9 before issuing a notification under sub-section (1)"

The Bengal Jute Regulation (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 3-4.)

Insertion of new sections 17A and 17B.

3. After section 17 of the said Act, the following sections shall be inserted, namely:—

"Growing of jute on land not used for growing jute within three previous years.

17A. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Act, the Provincial Government, may, by notification, direct that jute may be grown on any land not included in the final record prepared under section 5, if such land has not been used for growing any crop during the jute growing season within the previous three years.

(2) When jute is grown on any land in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1), it shall not be necessary to obtain a licence under sub-section (1) of section 10.

Inclusion in the final record of land on which jute is grown under section 17A.

17B. Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Act, the Director of Land Records, shall, on application made to him in this behalf in the prescribed manner, include any land on which jute may have been grown under the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 17A, in the final record authenticated under section 5 and thereafter the provisions of this Act shall apply to such land as if such land had been included in the final record originally authenticated under section 5."

Amendment of section 23.

4. In clause (q) of sub-section (2) of section 23 of the said Act, after the word and figure "section 10" the words, figure and letter "or under section 17B" shall be added.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The acreage under jute has been controlled in this province since 1940-41 under the Bengal Jute Regulation Act, 1940, with the object of securing a fair price for this crop to the cultivators. The partition of Bengal has introduced a new situation inasmuch as most of the jute growing areas in the undivided province of Bengal have gone over to East Bengal, with the result that the production of jute in West Bengal and in the other provinces of the Indian Dominion can meet only a small fraction of the demand of the jute mills, which are mostly located within this Province. It has, therefore, become imperative to increase the production of jute in the Indian Dominion. The other provinces are taking action for this purpose. So far as West Bengal is concerned, the existing Jute Regulation Act makes it difficult to increase the area under jute, without a serious risk of a corresponding reduction in the acreage of paddy and other food crops. While, therefore, the continuance of regulation is considered essential in the interests of food production, it has become necessary to amend some of the clauses of the Bengal Jute Regulation Act, 1940, so that an increase in the production of jute may be effected by growing jute in suitable waste lands as well as by an earlier cropping of existing aman lands with jute where possible. It is also proposed to simplify the procedure in respect of regulation in years in which the proportion of jute acreage to the original recorded acreage is intended to be left unchanged as compared to the years immediately preceding.

The present amendment is intended to serve these purposes.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 493L.—15th March, 1948.—The following Act of the West Bengal Legislature, having been assented to in His Majesty's name by the Governor General, is hereby published for general information:—

West Bengal Act IV of 1948

THE WEST BENGAL SPECIAL BENCHES (CONTINUANCE) ACT, 1948.

[Passed by the West Bengal Legislature.]

[Assent of the Governor General was first published in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, of the 15th March, 1948.]

An Act to provide for the continuance of the Special Benches constituted under the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Ordinance, 1947, and for the disposal of cases pending before them.

WHEREAS the provisions of the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Ordinance, 1947, as enacted and continued in operation by and under the Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947 (hereinafter referred to as "the said provisions"), are temporary in their duration; Ben. Ord. I of 1947. Ben. Act I of 1947.

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that the Special Benches constituted under the said provisions should be continued and the cases which were allotted to them before the commencement of this Act and are pending before them at such commencement should be disposed of by the said Benches in accordance with the said provisions;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Special Benches (Continuance) Act, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on the date on which the said provisions cease to operate under the Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947.

Continuance of the Special Benches and disposal of pending cases.

2. Notwithstanding the expiry of the said provisions it shall be lawful—

(a) for the Special Benches constituted thereunder before the commencement of this Act to dispose of, in accordance with the said provisions, the cases which having been allotted to them thereunder are pending before them at such commencement, and

(b) for the Provincial Government to reconstitute, in accordance with the said provisions, if necessary, such Special Benches or any of them, for such disposal of the said cases as aforesaid, and the said Special Benches whether, reconstituted as aforesaid or not, shall continue to function as such till the disposal of the said cases as if the said provisions had not expired.

By order of the Governor,
B. K. GUHA,
Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 494L.—15th March, 1948.—The following Act of the West Bengal Legislature, having been assented to in His Majesty's name by the Governor General, is hereby published for general information:—

West Bengal Act V of 1948

THE WEST BENGAL EXPIRING LAWS ACT, 1948.

[Passed by the West Bengal Legislature.]

[Assent of the Governor General was first published in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, of the 15th March, 1948.]

An Act to provide for the further continuance in operation of the provisions of certain Bengal Ordinances as enacted and continued in operation by and under the Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947.

WHEREAS the provisions of the Ordinances specified in the Schedule as enacted and continued in operation by and under the Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947 (hereinafter referred to as the said provisions) are temporary in their duration; Ben. Act I of 1947.

AND WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the continuance, as in this Act mentioned, of the said provisions for a further period;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Expiring Laws Act, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on the date on which the said provisions cease to operate under the provisions of the Bengal Ordinances Temporary Enactment Act, 1947.

Continuance of the provisions of certain Ordinances.

2. (1) The said provisions shall be deemed to be enacted by this Act and shall have effect and shall continue to operate as such until the 31st day of March, 1949.

(2) Any rules, orders, notifications or directions issued or anything done or any action taken or any proceedings commenced under any of the said provisions and in force immediately before the commencement of this Act shall continue in force and shall be deemed to have been issued, done, taken, or commenced, as the case may be, under the corresponding provision as deemed to be enacted and continued in operation by this Act as if this Act were already in force on the date on which such rules, orders, notifications or directions were issued or thing was done or action was taken or proceedings were commenced.

Effect of expiration of the provisions continued by this Act.

3. On the expiration of the period during which the said provisions continue in operation under this Act, such expiration shall not affect—

(a) any penalty or punishment incurred or alleged to have been incurred under the said provisions during their continuance in operation, or

(b) any investigation, legal proceeding or remedy in respect of any such penalty or punishment as aforesaid, and any such investigation, legal proceeding or remedy may be instituted, continued or enforced and any such penalty or punishment may be imposed as if the said provisions had not ceased to operate.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Maternity Benefit (Tea Estates) Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "child" includes a still-born child;

(b) "employer" includes the occupier and the manager of a plantation or a factory;

(c) "expected day of her delivery" means the expected day of delivery of a woman as determined by the medical practitioner referred to in sub-section (1) of section 6;

(d) "factory" means—

(i) a factory as defined in clause (j) of section 2 of the Factories Act, 1934, or XXV of 1934.

(ii) a place declared to be a factory under sub-section (1) of section 5 of that Act, in which any process is carried on for the manufacture of tea or in which any process is carried on incidental to or connected with such manufacture;

The West Bengal Maternity Benefit (Tea Estates) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 3—5.)

(e) "maternity benefit" means the sum of money payable under the provisions of this Act to a woman employed in a plantation or a factory;

(f) "nurse" includes a midwife or a trained dhai;

(g) "plantation" means any estate which is maintained for the purpose of growing tea [the plant Camellia Thea (Linn)] and in which twenty or more women are employed, or were employed on any day of the preceding twelve months, for that purpose;

(h) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(i) "woman" means a woman worker; and (j) expressions used, but not defined in this Act, have, where they have been defined in the Factories Act, 1934, the same meaning as in that Act. XXV of 1934.

Employment of, or work by, women in factories prohibited during certain period.

3. After this Act comes into force—

(1) no employer shall knowingly employ a woman in any factory or plantation during the six weeks immediately following the day of her delivery; and

(2) no woman shall work in any factory or plantation during the six weeks immediately following the day of her delivery.

Right to, and liability for, payment of maternity benefit.

4. Subject to the provisions of this Act, every woman employed in a factory or a plantation shall be entitled to, and her employer shall be liable for, the payment of maternity benefit in respect of the period of six weeks preceding the expected day of her delivery and six weeks immediately following the day of her delivery:

Provided that a woman shall not be entitled to such maternity benefit unless she has worked in any factory or plantation of the employer from whom she claims maternity benefit for not less than one hundred and fifty days in the twelve months immediately preceding the expected day of her delivery:

Provided further that a woman shall not be entitled to such maternity benefit if she has not—

(a) permitted herself to be medically examined as required in sub-section (1) of section 6, or

(b) during the period which extends from the commencement of the six weeks immediately preceding the expected day of her delivery to the day of her delivery and during the six weeks immediately following the day of her delivery attended or permitted herself to be treated in any clinic or hospital, or permitted herself to be treated by any medical practitioner or nurse as required in sub-section (2) of section 6:

Provided further that non-compliance by the woman with the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 6 before the day of her delivery shall not disentitle her to maternity benefit if the medical practitioner referred to in sub-section (3) of section 6 certifies that in his opinion such non-compliance was due to premature delivery or to a bona fide miscalculation on the part of the woman as to the state of advancement of her pregnancy.

Amount of maternity benefit.

5. The maternity benefit which is compulsorily payable under section 4 shall be payable at the rate of five rupees and four annas a week for every week during the period of twelve weeks referred to in that section and such payment shall be made either wholly in cash or partly in cash and partly in kind.

The West Bengal Maternity Benefit (Tea Estates) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 6—8.)

Ante-natal and post-natal care of women.

6. (1) Every woman who claims or intends to claim maternity benefit from her employer under this Act shall permit herself to be medically examined by, or under the direction of, the medical practitioner referred to in sub-section (3) for the purpose of enabling him to determine the expected day of her delivery and such medical practitioner shall after such examination furnish her with a certificate as to the expected day of her delivery.

(2) Every woman who claims or intends to claim maternity benefit from her employer under this Act shall, during the period which extends from the commencement of the six weeks immediately preceding the expected day of her delivery to the day of her delivery and during the six weeks immediately following the day of her delivery,—

(a) where free ante-natal and post-natal treatment is provided for her in any hospital or clinic approved in this behalf by the prescribed medical authority, attend such hospital or clinic as required by the medical officer-in-charge thereof and permit herself to be treated therein, or

(b) where there is no such hospital or clinic, permit herself to be treated by such medical practitioner or nurse as is provided by her employer under sub-section (3).

(3) Every employer shall arrange that the services of a medical practitioner and a nurse approved in this behalf by the prescribed medical authority are always available in his factory or plantation for the purpose of giving free ante-natal and post-natal treatment or advice to the women of his factory or plantation.

Amount of work which can be undertaken by a woman during ante-natal period.

7. Notwithstanding that a woman has given notice under sub-section (1) of section 8 that she expects to be confined within one month and a half next following, she may, during the period which extends from the commencement of the six weeks immediately preceding the expected day of her delivery to the day of her delivery, undertake light work in the factory or plantation of the employer from whom she claims maternity benefit if and for so long as the medical practitioner referred to in sub-section (3) of section 6 certifies that she is physically fit so to do, and for the days that she does such work she shall be paid at the prevailing rate of pay for such work, and such pay shall be paid to her in addition to the maternity benefit which she may be entitled to receive under this Act.

Procedure regarding payment of maternity benefit.

8. (1) Any woman who claims or intends to claim maternity benefit under the provisions of this Act shall, on any day, give notice either orally in person or in writing to the employer of the factory or the plantation that she expects to be confined within one month and a half next following and submit at the same time to such employer the certificate referred to in sub-section (1) of section 6 and may nominate in the prescribed form a person for purposes of section 9.

(2) When the notice and the certificate referred to in sub-section (1) are received the employer shall permit the woman who has given the notice to absent herself from work in the factory or plantation on and from the day following that on which such notice and certificate are received until the expiration of six weeks after the day of her delivery.

(3) An employer shall pay the maternity benefit as provided in section 5 to a woman entitled thereto under this Act in twelve equal weekly instalments and the payment of the first instalment thereof shall be made within seven days of the giving of the notice together with the certificate referred to in sub-section (1) by such woman.

The West Bengal Maternity Benefit (Tea Estates) Bill, 1948.

(4) If an employer is satisfied on the report of a medical practitioner or medical officer-in-charge of the clinic or hospital referred to in sub-section (2) of section 6 that a woman has ceased according to the provisions of section 4 to be entitled to maternity benefit such employer may discontinue the payment of maternity benefit payable to such woman under sub-section (3).

(5) Any woman who considers herself aggrieved at any cessation of payment of maternity benefit under sub-section (4) may, within thirty days of the date of payment of the last instalment of maternity benefit paid to her under sub-section (3), apply in the prescribed manner to the Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, who after giving both parties an opportunity of being heard may reject the application, or direct the employer to pay to the woman the remaining portion of the maternity benefit, as he deems fit. An appeal from the decision of the Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, shall, within thirty days thereof, lie in the prescribed manner to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, whose decision shall be final.

Payment of maternity benefit in case of the death of a woman.

9. (1) If a woman entitled to maternity benefit under this Act dies on the day of her delivery or during the period thereafter in respect of which she is entitled to the maternity benefit, the liability of the employer under section 4 shall not, by reason of her death, be discharged, and he shall pay the amount of maternity benefit due, if the newly born child survives her, to the person who undertakes the care of the child; and, if the child does not survive her, to the person nominated by her under sub-section (1) of section 8 or, if she has made no such nomination, to her next of kin as determined by the employer whose decision shall be final.

(2) If a woman dies during the period in respect of which she is entitled to maternity benefit but before giving birth to a child, the employer shall be liable only for the payment of half the amount of maternity benefit due under section 5. Any amount due at the death of the woman shall be paid to the person nominated by her under sub-section (1) of section 8, or, if she has made no such nomination, to her next of kin as may be determined by the employer whose decision shall be final.

No notice of dismissal to be given to a woman in certain cases.

10. (1) When a woman absents herself from work in accordance with the provisions of this Act, it shall not be lawful for her employer to give her notice of dismissal during such absence or on such a day that the notice will expire during such absence.

(2) (a) No notice of dismissal given without sufficient cause by an employer to a woman within a period of six months before her delivery shall have the effect of depriving her of any maternity benefit to which but for such notice she may have become entitled under this Act.

(b) If any question arises as to whether any notice of dismissal is one to which clause (a) applies, such question shall be referred for decision to the Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, in the prescribed manner. An appeal from the decision of the Inspector shall, within sixty days thereof, lie in the prescribed manner to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, whose decision shall be final.

Penalty to woman for doing work in contravention of the Act.

11. If a woman—

(a) after she has been permitted by her employer under sub-section (2) of section 8 to absent herself from work in a factory or plantation, does any work, other than that provided for under section 7, before the day of her delivery, or

(b) works in a factory or plantation or elsewhere during the four weeks immediately following the day of her delivery, she shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding ten rupees.

The West Bengal Maternity Benefit (Tea Estates) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 12—16.)

Penalty for contravention of the Act by an employer and application of fine in payment of compensation.

12. (1) If any employer contravenes any provision of this Act, he shall, on conviction, be liable to a fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(2) Whenever a Court imposes a fine under this section or confirms in appeal, revision or otherwise such a sentence, the Court may, when passing judgment, order the whole or any part of the fine recovered to be applied in the payment of compensation to the woman concerned for any loss or damage caused to her by the contravention of a provision of this Act on account of which the fine has been imposed.

Cognizance of offences.

13. (1) No prosecution under this Act shall be instituted except by, or with the previous sanction of, the Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, and no such prosecution shall be instituted until the expiry of the period of appeal under sub-section (2) or, if such an appeal is preferred, unless the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, by his order thereon sanctions a prosecution.

(2) Where the Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, decides either to institute a prosecution under this Act or to grant sanction thereto, he shall forthwith communicate his order to the person complained against, who may, within thirty days of the date of the said order, appeal in the prescribed manner to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, against such decision. The decision of the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, on such appeal shall be final.

(3) No Court inferior to that of a Presidency Magistrate or of a Magistrate of the First Class shall try any offence against this Act or any rules made thereunder.

Appeal against refusal to prosecute or grant sanction thereto.

14. Where on an application by an employer or a woman in such behalf, the Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, refuses either to institute a prosecution under this Act or to grant previous sanction thereto, he shall without delay communicate to the applicant his order of refusal and an employer or a woman aggrieved by such order may, within thirty days of the date thereof, appeal in the prescribed manner to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, against such order. The decision of the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, on such appeal shall be final.

Limitation of prosecution.

15. No Court shall take cognizance of any offence against this Act or any rule made thereunder unless complaint thereof has been made to the Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, within six months of the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed.

Rules.

16. (1) The Provincial Government may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(a) the preparation and maintenance of a muster roll or register or a combined muster roll and register, and the particulars to be entered in such muster roll, register or combined muster roll and register or in the register kept or deemed to have been kept under section 41 of the Factories Act, 1934; XXV of 1934.

(b) the inspection of factories for the purposes of this Act by the Inspector of Factories, West Bengal;

(c) the exercise of powers and the performance of duties by Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, or the medical authority referred to in section 6 for the purposes of this Act;

(d) the method of payment of maternity benefit in so far as provision has not been made in this Act;

The West Bengal Maternity Benefit (Tea Estates) Bill, 1948.

(Clause 17.)

(e) the medical authority referred to in section 6;

(f) the form of nomination referred to in sub-section (1) of section 8; and

(g) the procedure to be observed—

(i) in submitting applications to the Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, and the disposal of appeals under sub-section (5) of section 8,

(ii) in referring questions for decision to the Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, and the disposal of appeals under clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 10, and

(iii) in the disposal of appeals under sub-section (2) of section 13 or section 14.

(3) Any such rule may provide that a contravention thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

(4) The power to make rules under this Act shall be subject to the condition of previous publication.

Abstract of this Act and the rules thereunder to be exhibited.

17. An abstract of the provisions of this Act and the rules thereunder in the local vernaculars shall be exhibited in a conspicuous manner by the employer in every part of a tea factory or a plantation in which women are employed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Royal Commission on Labour in India made two separate recommendations regarding the provision of maternity benefits, one for women employed in perennial factories and the other for women employed in plantations. The recommendation regarding perennial factories has been implemented by the passing of the Bengal Maternity Benefit Act, 1939. The object of the present Bill is to implement the recommendation regarding plantations.

On enquiry it transpired that the system of paying maternity benefits in one form or other was in vogue in the majority of the plantations, but some sort of legislative compulsion is considered necessary to regularise the system and to extend it to those plantations in which it does not at present exist. This Bill is designed to secure this object. The matter was discussed in a conference with the representatives of the majority of the tea plantations and the provisions contained in the Bill are based on the conclusions reached in that conference.

CALCUTTA:
The 13th March, 1948.

By order of the Governor,
B. K. GUHA,
Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 502L.—15th March, 1948.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (TEMPORARY SUPERSESSION) BILL, 1948.

A

BILL

to provide for the temporary supersession of the Corporation of Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the supersession of the Corporation of Calcutta for a short period and for carrying on the administration of the affairs of the said Corporation during the period of such supersession;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, commencement and duration.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Corporation of Calcutta (Temporary Supersession) Act, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

(3) It shall remain in force up to the 31st day of March, 1949.

Definitions.

2. In this Act unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) "the Act" means the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923; and Ben. Act III of 1923.

(b) "the Corporation" means the Corporation of Calcutta as constituted under the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923.

Supersession of the Corporation.

3. The Provincial Government may, if it so thinks fit, by an order published in the Official Gazette, supersede the Corporation from such date and for such period as may be specified in the order.

Consequences of supersession.

4. (1) When an order of supersession has been made under section 3, the following consequences shall ensue:—

(a) all the Councillors and Aldermen constituting the Corporation, all the members constituting the Committees thereof and the Mayor and Deputy Mayor of the Corporation shall, as from the date of supersession, vacate their offices as such Councillors, Aldermen, members of the Committees and Mayor and Deputy Mayor;

(b) all the powers, duties and functions which may, under the provisions of the Act or any rule or by-law made thereunder or of any other law for the time being in force, be exercised and performed by the Corporation or any Committee thereof or by the Mayor or Deputy Mayor or by Councillors or Aldermen shall, during the period of supersession, be exercised and performed by such person (to be called the Administrative Officer) as may be appointed by the Provincial Government in that behalf;

(c) all property vested in the Corporation shall, during the period of supersession, vest in His Majesty for the purposes of the Province; and

(d) during the period of supersession, the rates shall not be increased and the supplementary taxation shall not be imposed by the Administrative Officer under sub-section (2) of section 96 of the Act except with the previous approval of the Provincial Government.

(2)(a) Before the expiration of the period of supersession, there shall be a fresh general election of Councillors and a fresh election of Aldermen in conformity with the provisions of the Act and the persons who vacated their offices under clause (a) of sub-section (1) shall not be deemed disqualified for such elections.

(b) On the expiration of the period of supersession, the Corporation shall be reconstituted on the results of the elections referred to in clause (a) in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

The Corporation of Calcutta (Temporary Supersession) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 5—9.)

Administrative Officer.

5. (1) The Administrative Officer shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. Act XLV of 1860.

(2) The Administrative Officer shall receive such monthly salary not exceeding three thousand rupees and such monthly allowances not exceeding in the aggregate five hundred rupees as may be fixed by the Provincial Government.

(3) The salary and allowances fixed under sub-section (2) shall be paid from the Municipal Fund referred to in the Act.

The Executive Officer or Deputy Executive Officer, etc., shall be subordinate to the Administrative Officer.

6. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Act, or any rule or by-law made thereunder, the exercise or discharge by the Executive Officer or Deputy Executive Officer or Chief Engineer or Chief Accountant or Health Officer or Secretary of any powers, duties or functions vested in or imposed upon him by or under the provisions of the Act shall, during the period of supersession under section 3, be subject to control and revision by the Administrative Officer.

Power of the Provincial Government to vest the Administrative Officer with additional powers and duties.

7. In addition to the powers, duties and functions conferred and imposed on the Administrative Officer under clauses (b) and (d) of sub-section (1) of section 4 and section 6, the Administrative Officer shall, during the period of supersession under section 3, also exercise and perform such other powers and duties and do such other acts as in the opinion of the Provincial Government are necessary in the interest of the rate-payers of the Corporation and as the Provincial Government may by order or otherwise direct from time to time notwithstanding anything contained in the Act or any rule or by-law made thereunder.

Indemnity.

8. The Administrative Officer shall not be liable in any Court of law for anything done or purported to be done under this Act.

Power of the Provincial Government to make orders in case of difficulty.

9. Without prejudice to the powers of the Provincial Government under section 7, the Provincial Government may by order authorise any matter or thing to be done which appears to it necessary for the purpose of carrying on the administration of the affairs of the Corporation during the period of supersession under section 3 or of reconstituting the Corporation under sub-section (2) of section 4.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The administration of the Calcutta Corporation is anything but satisfactory and has evoked strong public criticisms for sometime past. Its financial condition is also precarious and Government have to grant subsidies and advance loans to enable it to run its day to day administration. The term of the present Councillors and Aldermen which has already been extended by one year, the maximum that is permissible under the provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, will expire in April next. The general election for reconstitution of the Corporation due to be held on 23rd March, 1948, cannot be held as there was a general complaint that the electoral roll was not properly prepared and as there was scarcely any time for holding the election after proper preparation of the roll; and the result is that there will be no duly constituted Corporation after the expiry of the term of the present Councillors and Aldermen.

In the circumstances, it is proposed to supersede the Corporation temporarily and to appoint an Administrative Officer to carry on its administration with a view to effect necessary reforms in the affairs of the Corporation generally, and also to find out specially whether the financial embarrassment might be relieved by proper administration of its Assessment and Collection Departments. The Bill seeks to provide for supersession of the Corporation for a short period not extending beyond 31st March, 1949, and for appointment of an Administrative Officer. In order to enable the Administrative Officer to effect all necessary reforms in the administration of the Corporation, provision has been made in the Bill to authorise Government to vest the Administrative Officer with such powers and to direct him to perform such duties as may be considered necessary in the interest of the rate-payers of the Corporation. The Bill also provides for reconstitution of the Corporation by election on the expiry of the period of supersession.

The Administrative Officer will also have the electoral roll thoroughly revised so that he might at the end of his term hand over charge to the Corporation after election in accordance with the revised rolls.

ORDER.

No. 680Lab.—5th March 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Order No. 842-Lab., dated the 19th November 1947, the industrial disputes between Messrs. Basanti Cotton Mills, 14, Clive Street, Calcutta (Mills at Panihati, 24-Parganas), and their employees as represented by Basanti Cotton Mill Workers' Union, Panihati, 24-Parganas, was referred for adjudication to Sree A. Das Gupta, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sree A. Das Gupta, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 19(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following orders and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act, that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sree A. Das Gupta, Additional District Judge, shall come into force and shall bind the said mill and their workers for a period of one year with effect from the date of this order.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE SRI ASHUTOSH DAS GUPTA, Tribunal, Industrial Disputes.

Disputes between the management of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., and their employees as represented by the Cotton Mill Workers' Union.

Award.

This is a reference by an order No. 842Lab., dated 19th November 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department.

A short history of the dispute, as it appears from the statement of the parties, is that on 17th September 1946 a demand for Puja bonus was placed before the authorities of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., that on 18th October 1946 the Workers' Union placed a chart of demands before the authorities and that when there was no favourable reply the Workers' Union placed before the authorities of the mill a memorandum of its demands asking for a considered reply of the authorities within fifteen days. Subsequent to this there were several conferences and correspondence over the demands of the Workers' Union and on failure of the authorities to implement the demands, on the plea of financial inability, beyond what had been recommended by the Mill Owners' Association for the minimum total earnings of unskilled labour, the Workers' Union served a notice of strike on the authorities on the 27th May 1947, and the workers actually went on strike from 12th June 1947. A good number of employees of the mill who were not members of the Workers' Union were discharged on and after 25th June 1947. On 19th November 1947 there was a provisional settlement between the parties and on 20th November 1947 the strike was called off. The present reference is mainly based on this settlement. By the terms of the settlement, the discharged employees were reinstated and those who could not be immediately employed were allowed leave without pay. It was, however, left to the parties to claim before this Tribunal for an award either for discharging permanently the employees, the number of whom is nine, who could not be absorbed immediately for their employment and pay for the period they were on leave. It may be noted that prior to the present reference, there has been a general Tribunal for adjudicating the disputes between 36 cotton textile mills and their workers including the Basanti Mills, Ltd. and its workers. This reference has accordingly been restricted to issues other than those to be framed by the general Tribunal. Accordingly, the following issues are framed for adjudication in the present case.

Issues.

1. Are the nine employees of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., now on leave without pay, are liable to be discharged or, are they entitled to resume work?

Are these employees and the other discharged employees since reinstated and re-employed entitled to claim their pay during the period of discharge, i.e., from the 1st August 1947 to the 19th November 1947?

2. Are the workers who joined the strike entitled to claim their wages during the period of strike?

3. Are the workers and employees entitled to an "Independence bonus"? If so, how much?

4. Are the workers of the Power House and the Boiler Department of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., entitled to the special leave hitherto prevalent in the Mill? What are the terms and conditions of such leave?

DECISION.

Issue No. 4.—Special leave to the workers of the Power House and the Boiler Department.

The Workers' Union filed its written statement on 2nd December 1947, but the claim for special leave was not there. Subsequently, on 17th December 1947 the Union filed an additional written statement in which this special leave for for the workers of the Power House and the Boiler Department was not claimed. The learned counsel for the management urges that this claim is an afterthought and was never placed before the management and was never the subject-matter of the dispute between the management and the workers. It was alleged on behalf of the Workers' Union that the Union got an assurance from the Secretary of the Mill that the question would be amicably settled. This was denied by the management. Without wasting time and energy over this controversy, I accepted the additional written statement of the Union and an issue was accordingly framed. The claim of the Union for this special leave on behalf of the workers of the Power House and the Boiler Department is said to have been based on a convention. The mill authorities filed a statement containing a detailed account of leave of different kinds (with full pay, with half pay and without pay) granted to the workers of the Power House and the Boiler Department from 1940 to 1946. The original records were also produced for scrutiny by the Union but nothing could be suggested against the correctness of the statement filed by the mill authorities. The statement shows at a glance that in 1940 out of 27 workers of the said department only 6 were allowed leave on full pay varying from 8 to 18 days. Of these 6 workers, Kristo was granted full pay leave for 18 days and leave without pay for 93 days and Abdul Latif was granted leave on full pay for 16 days and leave without pay for 16 days. If really there had been a convention for one month's leave with full pay, there was absolutely no earthly reason why these two workers were not allowed leave with full pay for full one month before they were allowed leave without pay. A good number of workers were allowed leave without pay and even sick leave without pay, although according to the Union's contention they should have been allowed leave on full pay up to 30 days out of the total leave taken by them in 1940. Similarly, in 1941 out of 29 workers only 5 were granted leave on full pay varying from 8 days to 17 days. Of these Dashu was granted leave on full pay for 11 days and without pay for 3 days and Kashi was granted leave on full pay for 17 days and for 8 days without pay. Nurulla was granted leave on half pay for 28 days but was not allowed any leave on full pay. A good number of the workers were allowed leave without pay without a single day's leave on full pay. I do not propose to enter into further details of the statement. I may only note in a tabular form the cases where leave on full pay was granted for more than 10 days from 1940 to 1946.

In 1940, 11 workers were allowed leave without pay, without being allowed any leave with pay in that particular year. The number of workers who were granted leave without pay, without being granted any leave with pay, was 15 in 1941, 14 in 1942, 9 in 1943, 13 in 1944, 12 in 1945 and 8 in 1946. A convention to be binding on the parties must be definite, invariable and must be of long standing. The very facts that a good number of workers were allowed leave without pay without being granted any leave with pay and that a number of workers had to go on leave without pay before they had exhausted the full term of leave on pay which, according to the Union is 30 days, disprove the convention. The management appears to have shown special consideration to some of the workers for reasons not known. This might be on account of their efficiency, good conduct and other considerations which weighed with the management. This special consideration to a few of the workers does not prove the convention. On a careful consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case I cannot but accept the issue in the negative.

Issue No. 4—"Independence bonus".

The workers of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., went on strike from 12th June 1947 and the strike was called off on 20th November 1947. Independence of India was declared on the 15th August 1947. On this day the workers were on strike. Most of the Mercantile and Industrial firms have, as I understand, granted "Independence bonus" to their workers and employees. Independence came to India as godsend and the whole of India commemorated the Special Day by rejoicings and celebrations and payment of "Independence bonus" to the workers and employees of Mercantile and Industrial firms was one of the items of the celebrations. It could not, by any stretch of imagination, be considered as terms and conditions of service of workers and employees who had already been in service on that special day, and does not come within the meaning of industrial dispufes as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Strikes and lock-outs have always been discouraged by the Government and after the enactment of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 there was no necessity for any strike or lock-out. The evidence is that the Company incurred heavy loss on account of the long-drawn strike of the workers of the mill and the evidence is that as a result of this strike the management had an overdratt of Rs. 5,38,215 on its debit side (Ex. 7). It is a matter of much regret that the Independence Year, which was to be a year of rejoicings for the whole of India, was a bad year for the Basanti Cotton Mills from the point of view of industrial peace and gain. The sworn testimony of Mr. A. V. Datta, Manager of the Company, is that the workers took a hostile attitude against the Company's celebrating the Independence Day. There is no denial on this point from the Workers' Union. My finding is that "Independence bonus" is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and is outside the jurisdiction of the present Tibunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act. Apart from this legal aspect of the question, on the facts and circumstances of the case, I cannot persuade myself to make any recommendation to the Company for "Independence bonus". I decide this issue accordingly.

Issues 1 and 2—Re-employment of discharged employees re-instated but on leave: pay for the period of discharge of the employees already re-employed and the employees on leave: strike pay of the workers.

I take up these two issues together inasmuch as, as will be seen from the discussions that follow, these two issues are inter-related. Both these issues hinge upon a decision as to whether the strike was justified, or in other words, whether the management was responsible for the strike.

Before I enter into the merit of the two issues I may mention that a preliminary objection has been raised as to whether the Basanti Cotton Mills Workers' Union has jurisdiction to represent the employees of the mills who are not members of the Workers' Union. The employees are members of the Basanti Cotton Mills Employees' Union (Regd. No. 1028). The workers of the mills are members of the Workers' Union (Regd. No. 901). It has been urged on behalf of the management that the Workers' Union cannot represent the employees. The question hinges mainly on a correct interpretation of section 36(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The first part of section 36(1), with which we are concerned, runs thus, "A workman who is a party to an industrial dispute shall be entitled to be represented in any proceedings under this Act by an officer of a Registered Trade Union". I am not inclined to interpret a "Registered Trade Union" as any "Registered Trade Union", for that will lead to absurdity. In that view of the case, a worker of a Cotton Textile Industry is entitled to be represented by an officer of a Registered Union of the workers of an Engineering firm or a Chemical firm, who is not usually expected to be conversant with the terms and conditions of the service of a workman of a Cotton Textile Industry and is not expected to represent a worker of the Cotton Textile Industry to his best interest. This could not be the intention of Legislature in enacting section 36 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. A plain meaning of a statute should always be taken unless such a plain meaning leads to absurdity, or to some unhappy position. The Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, was enacted for securing industrial peace and was meant for the benefit of the workmen as well as for the employees. Any interpretation prejudicial to either the employer or to the workmen which is not beneficial to the other party, cannot be accepted. If a workman of a Cotton Textile Industry is allowed to be represented by a Registered Union of workers of an Engineering firm or a Chemical firm, the best interest of the workmen of the Cotton Textile Industry will not be safeguarded, and industrial peace will not be achieved by the workmen and the employers of a Cotton Textile Industry. Having regard to such absurdities and unhappy position, I am inclined to read the words "of which he is a member" after "Registered Trade Union" in the first part of section 36(1). This position was conceded to when the employees authorised Mr. S. K. Mitter, Solicitor, to brief Mr. S. K. Acharya, Bar.-at-law, for the employees. The letter of authority has been signed by Gourmohan Ganguli, Assistant Secretary of the Employees' Union. The two employees, Jyotiprokash Mitra and Dinesh Chandra Roy, wrote to the authorities of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., submitting themselves to the decision of the authorities of the Company. They denied connection with the Workers' Union and refused to take part in the proceedings before the Tribunal. Exhibits 5A and 5C are the two letters. It is not denied that they are members of the Employees' Union. The Assistant Secretary of the union is quite competent to engage a lawyer for the union. Dinesh Roy and Jyotiprokash Mitra do not dissociate themselves from the Employees' Union. Unless and until a member of a union dissociates himself from the union, he is bound by the acts of the union, which is conducted usually by the Secretary or the Assistant Secretary. I, accordingly, hold that the employees of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., have been properly represented by Mr. S. K. Acharya, Bar.-at-law.

Now I proceed to discuss the merit of the case. The Basanti Cotton Mills was started in September 1935. On 18th October 1946 the Workers' Union placed a chart of demands before the Board of Directors of the mills. A copy of these demands was sent to the Labour Commissioner who appears to have forwarded a copy to the Manager of the mills inviting his comment thereon. The forwarding letter of the Labour Commissioner, dated 9th November 1946 (Ex. 2B), the demands of the Workers' Union, is Appendix I of the unions' statement. On 13th November 1946 the Secretary of the mills wrote in reply, that the Bengal Millowners' Association had recently taken up the question of standardization of wages, etc., of all their member Cotton Mills including the Basanti Cotton Mills and that the authorities of the Basanti Cotton Mills were awaiting the recommendations of the Bengal Millowners' Association. Exhibit C is the letter. Subsequently, on 22nd March 1947 the Secretary of the Workers' Union sent a memorandum of demands of the workers of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., to the Managing Director. This is Exhibit A (Appendix II of the written statement of the Workers' Union). The Labour Commissioner, by his letter, dated 28th March 1947 (Ex. 2D), invited comments from the authorities of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., on this memorandum as well. In reply the Secretary of the Basanti Cotton Mills wrote to the Labour Commissioner that the demands were excessive and that the existing rates of wages and allowances were in a line with the total earnings of the workers in the neighbouring Cotton Mills. The authorities also stated that the matter is under investigation by the Millowners' Association. However, the Secretary assured the Labour Commissioner that the authorities of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., would shortly announce substantial increase over the existing earnings (Ex. 2). This letter is dated 9th April 1947. On the same day the Secretary announced some increments, as stated in paragraph 5 of the written statement of the management. These increments were to take effect from the 1st of April 1947. On the 1st May 1947, further increments were announced to bring up the minimum total earnings of an unskilled worker to Rs. 40 per month. On the 11th May 1947, the union passed a resolution against the authorities of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd. It accused the management of taking an adamant attitude in not settling the demands of the workers amicably. A copy of this resolution was sent to the Labour Commissioner by the Workers' Union by a letter, dated 14th May 1947 (Ex. C). A copy of this letter appears to have been sent to the mill authorities and the Secretary told the Labour Commissioner in reply how the mill was financially affected by the increments announced on the 9th of April and 1st of May 1947. On the 27th May 1947, the Workers' Union served a notice of strike upon the management of the mills (Appendix IV of the statement of the Workers' Union). The strike was to commence on the 12th of June 1947. In the meantime there were some negotiations between the management and the workers at the intervention of the Bengal Provincial Trade Union Congress in the house of the Subdivisional Officer, Barrackpore, but there was no settlement inasmuch as the management pleaded inability to bear any additional burden, which implementation of the demands of the Workers' Union involved. The evidence is that Mr. A. K. Mitter, one of the Directors of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., explained to the Subdivisional Officer what reliefs had been granted and how the mills stood financially. The authorities pleaded inability to implement the demands and asked the workers to await the finding of a Board of Conciliation, which the Government in the meantime announced to form. These announcements were published in the newspapers from time to time. Then Manoranjan Babu suggested on behalf of the workers that additional reliefs recently granted, might be incorporated in the basic pay. The dearness allowance, which the management was paying to the workers, was proportionate to the basic pay, and if the additional reliefs recently granted were incorporated into the basic pay, the dearness allowance would automatically increase. The case of the management was that the additional burden would be about a lakh of rupees and the management pleaded inability to bear the burden. The Labour Commissioner had, in the meantime, by a letter, dated 5th June 1947, recommended Rs. 55 as the monthly minimum basic pay of a worker of a Cotton Textile Industry. In that letter it was suggested that a Board of Conciliation would be set up by the Government for investigation of the conditions of service in the Cotton Mills in general.

In reply to that letter the Millowners' Association, acting on behalf of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., reiterated the same plea of financial difficulties. The letter is dated 9th June 1947 (Ex. 1A). It appears from the Amrita Bazar Patrika, dated the 30th September 1947, Calcutta edition, that Dr. S. C. Banarji, the then Labour Minister, had suggested a flat increment at Rs. 5 per annum as a temporary measure, but that the authorities had expressed their inability to concede to the request of the Hon'ble Labour Minister on the ground that such an increment would mean a collapse of the mill as its economic conditoin was very low. Thus, while the workers insisted on some relief over and above what had been granted with effect from the 1st April 1947, the management all along pleaded financial difficulties. The contemplated strike of the workers could not be averted and the workers went on strike from the 12th of June 1947. After the strike notice was served upon the management, the management issued a notice to the workers to the effect that the workers who would join the strike would be treated as having discharged themselves from the date of commencement of strike. A copy of this notice is appended to the statement of the management. The management, apprehending that the strike would be a long-drawn one, decided to retain only a skeleton staff. It accordingly issued a discharge notice on 39 employees on the 25th June 1947, terminating their services on the 30th June 1947. They were, however, to get one month's pay in lieu of notice. Even after the strike, various attempts were made for terminiation of the strike and on 19th November 1947, i.e., after over five months, there was an amicable settlement between the workers and the management and the strike was called off. In the meantime a general tribunal was constituted to adjudicate the disputes of the Cotton Textile Industry in West Bengal by an order, dated the 7th October 1947. Appendix VIII to the union's statement is a copy of the terms of settlement. The workers who struck work were allowed to resume work and the discharged clerical employees were re-instated, a good number of whom were absorbed and only a few were given leave without pay. This special tribunal was constituted on the strength of this settlement, and we have taken up the demands of the workers and of the employees, which are not covered by the issues framed in the general tribunal. We are confronted with three very important points—(1) Are the workers entitled to strike pay? If so, how much? (2) Are the discharged employees who have since been re-instated but are on leave, liable to be discharged permanently, or are they entitled to resume work? (3) Are the discharged employees, since re-instated, including those who are on leave, entitled to pay for the period from 1st August 1947 to 19th November 1947?

The first point about the wages of the workers for the period of their strike depends mainly on the question whether the strike was legal and justified. There is no dispute about the sufficiency of the strike notice. Clear fourteen days' notice was given to the management before the workers went on strike. I am clearly of opinion that there was no legal defect either in the strike notice or in the strike. We are thus left to enquire whether the strike was fully justified. The costs of living have enormously increased and the cry for higher wages and dearness allowance is common. In a case reported in Bombay Labour Gazette of May 1940, at page 80, Mr. E. N. Nanabutty observed, "It is not every rise in the cost of living unless it could be shown that the industry has benefited to a corresponding extent by the very contingency which has occasioned the rise". In the words of Sir Govind Madgavkar, "A solution of the question is first and foremost to be sought on grounds neither of morality nor politics nor law, but rather on grounds of finance and the practical working of the business". The right of a worker to higher wages depends and should depend very rightly upon his contribution to national wealth which has got to be calculated in terms of production. These are considerations, which the workers should not lose sight of when they demand higher wages. Normally, in awarding increment of wages we are to consider social position of the workers, wage scales in neighbouring industries and the capacity of the industry to pay. Of these three considerations, capacity to pay is of foremost importance. Financial position of an industry must always be borne in mind, otherwise any improvement in the wage scale of the workers is likely to lead to a collapse of the industry itself. That would be throwing the workers out of employment, which no worker can possibly like. I have been referred to a statement of the Hon'ble Sri Jagjiban Ram, Labour Minister, Indian Union, published in the Statesman of the 7th February 1948, in commenting on a Bill for the basic wages in certain scheduled employments. The Hon'ble Minister observed, "One cannot carry on any business or industry on the exploitation of other persons. It would be beneath the dignity of the House to propound the theory that because certain persons were not in a position to pay reasonable wages to their employees, they should not pay those wages. Acceptance of this principle would mean putting a premium on the exploitation of helpless men by more resourceful and influential persons. If any industrialist is not in a position to pay minimum wages, let him close his shop. If the country found that agriculture and any particular industry was essential to the community but it could not afford to pay the minimum wages, then it is the duty of the Government to subsidise it. In no case should any industry or agriculture be allowed to exist on the exploitation of a working class". With due respect to the Hon'ble Minister, I may be permitted to say that what the Hon'ble Minister meant was to discourage exploitation of the labour. Remuneration of the managing agents have been provided in the Memorandum of Articles of Association. Under the present law, we are not in a position to interfere with these provisions and I do not propose to express myself as to whether any interference is called for in the present case. The fact remains that there are industries where managing agents are paid handsomely, although the workers are allowed to starve. In the absence of proper legislation we cannot help the exploited labour in any way. I had no opportunity to look into the Bill introduced for fixing the basic wages of labour. I am not aware if there is any provision for any interference with the remuneration of managing agents. That the Cotton Textile Industry is essential to the people cannot be denied, and unless and until Government makes suitable provisions for subsidising Cotton Textile Industry, we are not in a position to go beyond the financial limits of an industry in fixing the wages of labourers. With due respect to the Hon'ble Minister, I may say that the statement of the Hon'ble Minister referred to such industries as are not essential to the people. As the law stands today, we are to take the financial position of a particular industry as it is. I may, however, appeal to the management that efficiency requires that the workers should be kept above wants and the managing agents should, in the interest of efficiency, forego some comforts for the labourers who are crying for living wages.

As usual, various authorities were placed before me to show what should be the minimum living wages of the labour class. We are not here called upon to fix the wages of the employees and the workers. We are only to enquire whether the strike was justified or, in other words, the plea of financial inability of the management was an unjustifiable excuse. The Company has filed before this tribunal the statements of accounts from 1938 to 1946. The evidence is that the Mill was started in 1934 and was practically under-capitalised on account of the then depression of the market. The evidence is that the Company was running on loans. Ultimately, in about 1942 Rs. 16,50,000 had to be obtained by issuing debentures. The debentures were taken from the Bengal Central Bank. The money was utilized to pay up previous loans. The debentures have not as yet been repaid. The evidence is that the debentures were to carry an interest of 5½ per cent. per annum and were repayable in 1964. The Company was, however, given the right to redeem the debentures after five years from the date of issue. In consideration of the financial assistance rendered and agreed to be rendered by the Bengal Central Bank, Ltd., the mills promised to pay a sum equivalent to 1½ per cent. on the sum of Rs. 16,50,000 for 22 years from the date of issue of the debentures, irrespective of whether the debentures were redeemed prior to the date fixed for redemption. My attention has been invited to the statement of the Directors in the statement of accounts of the mills for the year 1943, "You will notice that the entire debenture loan is now covered by investments in guilt-edged security". A question has been raised why the debentures had not been fully paid. The debentures were issued in 1942 and, under the terms on which the debentures were issued, the debentures could not be paid before 27th April 1947. Although the management could pay up the debenture loan by selling some securities in 1943, the evidence is that it was not financially in a position to pay up the loan in and after April 1947. It was urged by Mr. Acharya that the mills could have and should have repaid the debenture loan in 1943 and that any agreement putting a clog on redemption is bad in law. The prohibition of clog on redemption under the Transfer of Property Act is not applicable to debentures under the Indian Companies Act. Section 126 of the Indian Companies Act is clear on this point. I am not here called upon to enquire whether the management acted on an erroneous view of the law against the interests of the mills. I am to take the position of the mill as it is. However, for my own satisfaction, I have looked into the law and have expressed my view on a plain reading of the section. About the additional remuneration of 1½ per cent. per annum on the sum of Rs. 16,50,000, it appears to me that this was agreed to be paid by way of compensation for the financial assistance the Company got and was yet to get in future from the bank. This was specifically provided for in the prospectus and sections 106 and 111 of the Indian Companies Act show that such commissions are legal. The fact that the commission was spread over for a pretty long time, does not in any way affect the position, for this might have been done in consideration of the financial difficulties of the mills. The evidence of the management is that the average expected profit from the mills is about Rs. 4,00,000 a year. Mr. Acharya has placed before me a statement to show that the estimated average profit per year cannot be less than Rs. 4,96,000. In making this statement the learned counsel appears to have left out of consideration the losses, which the mills incurred in the previous years. Mr. Acharya has also taken into account profits on sale of cars and investments and forfeiture of unpaid dividends in calculating the average estimated profit. In my opinion, it is not proper to pick and choose the profit-years and to leave out the loss-years in working out the average profit expected in future. If we take only the profit-years, we must debit the amount required to balance the accumulated loss of the previous years. I am also of opinion that profit in special circumstances in a particular year, should be left out of account in calculating the average estimated profit for future. I adopt the following procedure in calculating the average estimated profit of the mill in future:—

Year.	Net profit as per profit and loss account.	Special receipts during the year and accumulated loss of the previous year to be deducted.	Net amount to be taken for calculating expected average profit.
1	2	3	4
		Profit on sale of cars and sale of investments.
	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.
1946	4,32,378 2 9	58,076 7 0	3,74,301 11 9
		Fofeiture of dividend
1945	5,11,334 1 1	1,268 1 2	5,10,066 0 0
1944	5,35,900 15 2	Nil	5,35,900 15 2
		Profit on sale of cars and accumulated loss.
1943	[5,08,507 3 6	3,19,912 9 5	1,88,595 10 1
Total net profit in four years		..	16,08,864 5 0
Average expected profit per year		..	4,02,216 0 0

Out of this expected profit of Rs. 4,02,216 the additional reliefs already announced by the management involve an additional burden of Rs. 1,65,000. The evidence is that if further reliefs, as suggested before the Subdivisional Officer, Barrackpore, were to be given, the Company would have been saddled with an additional burden of Rs. 1,00,000. Thus deducting Rs. 2,65,000 out of the estimated profit, the Company may be left with Rs. 1,37,216. We may add to this the savings of Rs. 4,000 which was being spent for Air Raid Precautions. This will bring the amount in the hand of the Company to Rs. 1,41,216. The Company will have to pay Rs. 61,782 as income-tax on this account. Thus the Company would be left with Rs. 79,434. Out of this amount Rs. 31,250 will go for the guranteed dividend on preferential share for Rs. 50,00,000 at 6¼th per cent. Then the Company will be left with only Rs. 48,184. There are ordinary shares of Rs. 15,00,000. This is a Joint Stock Company and in all cases of Joint Stock Companies, contributions from the public supply the capital. At the time when the public made investments in the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., Government security at 3 and 3½ per cent. was available and even now fixed deposits in banks may fetch an interest of about 3 per cent. per annum. For the first few years the Company could not pay any dividend. Ordinarily, the share-holders thus got no profit from their investments. It was only in 1943 that the Company could think of paying some profit to the ordinary share-holders. In investing money in Joint Stock Companies the sare-holders took a great risk. It might be contended that since the boycott of British goods, Cotton Textile Industry has had a good prospect and there was no risk involved in this particular industry. This might be the view of the economists and this might be an incentive to the public intending to invest money in the Cotton Textile Industry. But none can think of only profits without apprehending losses, however safe and sound an industry may be considered and, in fact, the Company incurred heavy losses for the first few years of its existence. It cannot be said that the ordinary share-holders have got enough. So long as the industries are not nationalised or subsidised by the Government, industries must find their capital from the public, and if the public do not get profits higher than what they would have got from Banks; the public would not have the least liking to invest money in industries. In my opinion the ordinary share-holders cannot be given dividend less than 4 per cent. Dividend at this rate on the ordinary shares of the value of Rs. 15,00,000 will amount to Rs. 60,000, which the money in hand of the Company will be hardly sufficient to meet this demand. Besides, there will be left no money for contingent expenditure of urgent necessity nor would there be any provision for building up a reserve fund, which is a necessity in ensuring stability of an industry. The evidence is that the Company must have a sum of Rs. 8,00,000 for production cost. I may in this connection refer to Government of India Notification No. 88(2)-Tex.1/47, dated the 17th November 1947, and question No. 10 of the questionaire issued by the Indian Tariff Board to different members for an information as to how the working capital of a mill is to be calculated. Is it to be equal to three months' or four months' or six months' cost of production? This very question indicates that the minimum working capital of a mill should be equal to at least three months' cost of production. Having examined the statements of accounts filed for the mills, I am not inclined to say that the evidence about three months' cost of production is in any way exaggerated. The Company is to provide this amount to keep the mills running and must build up a reserve fund for the purpose. If the securities are sold off to pay up the debentures, the Company will have nothing left for working capital. In these circumstances the Company is not in a position to pay up the debentures even now.

I have discussed that the Company was not in a position to incorporate the reliefs announced in April and May 1947, with the basic wages. It appears from a statement of Sri Suresh Chandra Banarji, late Minister, Commerce, Labour and Industries, Government of West Bengal, published in the Amrita Bazar Patrika of the 30th September 1947, that he had suggested a flat increment of Rs. 5, but that the Company did not comply with the request of the Labour Minister on the ground of financial difficulties. This increment at a flat rate of Rs. 5 per mensem is likely to involve an additional burden of Rs. 96,000 per annum for the 1,600 workers and employees. Implementation of the suggestions made in the office of the Subdivisional Officer, Barrackpore, involves an additional burden of Rs. 1,00,000. If instead of implementing this suggestion, the employees and the workers were paid a flat increment of Rs. 5 per mensem the burden would have been Rs. 96,000. There might be a saving of Rs. 4,000. If this is added to Rs. 48,184 which might have been left to the Company, after implementing the suggestions before the Subdivisional Officer, Barrackpore, the Company would have been left with Rs. 52,184. From this Rs. 1,750 must be deducted as additional tax for the sum of Rs. 4,000 added. This will leave a net amount of Rs. 50,434 to the Company. This is hardly sufficient to pay the ordinary share-holders as dividend at 4 per cent. per annum.

If the Company was to implement the suggestions of the Labour Commissioner that would have cast a much heavier burden upon the Company and I do not propose to make any calculation on the basis of these suggestions. In any view, the Company's plea about its financial difficulties to give further relief to its workers is perfectly justified. It appears from the correspondence which the Labour Commissioner had with the authorities of the mills and the Bengal Millowners' Association that the Government was contemplating to set up a Board of Conciliation, and it is clear from the letter (Ex. 1B), addressed by the Secretary, Bengal Millowners' Association, Calcutta, to the Labour Commissioner that the Secretary, Bengal Millowners' Association, acting on behalf of the authorities of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., had asked the Labour Commissioner to keep in abeyance his recommendations pending the report of the Board of Conciliation. It is also clear from the statements of Dr. Suresh Chandra Banarji, the then Labour Minister, that the labourers of the mills were not willing to call off the strike before the award was given. The then Minister observed, "But the labourers were adamant on this point. They were determined not to call off the strike unless there was at least an interim settlement. In the absence of such an interm settlement they were agreeable to the appointment of a tribunal, provided they were allowed to call off the strike after the award was given". It was brought home to the labourers that to refer the dispute to a tribunal with the strike on, is bad in principle and dangerous in practice. "Might is right" is the main principle behind the strike. "Law is right" is the principle behind the trial in a court. The two principles are fundamentally opposed to each other and cannot be practised by the same party at one and at the same time. This was brought home to the workers of the mill but they were adamant. Man is always forgetful of his duties, although he is alive to his rights. This is dangerous to all industries and even to society. Whenever a man thinks of his rights, he must think of his duties. The workers of the Basanti Cotton Mills, Ltd., resorted to a strike and insisted on getting some reliefs from the authorities, without thinking that unless and until production by them was increased, it would not be possible for the authorities to implement their demands and without thinking that by their strike the Company would incur heavy loss and, in fact, the certificate of the Lloyds Bank, Ltd., dated the 9th January 1948, shows that there was an overdraft of Rs. 5,38,215-13-9 by the end of December 1947. The contention of the authorities is that the workers' strike was responsible for this overdraft. This is undoubtedly highly reprehensible.

My attention has been drawn to a statement which shows that in some cases the average earnings of some bonda pickers in May 1947 could not come up to Rs. 40 even with the additional reliefs granted with effect from April 1947. The evidence is that with the additional reliefs a worker with normal efficiency and normal working capacity should earn Rs. 40 per mensem. The statement shows that most of the workers could earn Rs. 40 per mensem in April and December 1947. There was absolutely no cogent reason why all the workers, if they are normally efficient and work for the normal hours, should not earn Rs. 40 per mensem. Even after the additional reliefs granted in April 1947, do not bring up the total earnings of a worker to Rs. 40 per mensem, there was absolutely no reason for the workers to strike. The Company was not in a position to give further reliefs. I do not propose to make any calculation on this point for such calculation is unnecessary.

The strike appears to me to have been ill-advised. The workers did not choose to seek the aid of the machinaries contemplated by the Industrial Disputes Act in the first instance. The whole atmosphere of the strike indicates an element of unreasonableness and it cannot be said that the strikers had exhausted all the avenues available to them to have their grievances redressed before they resorted to the drastic course of going on strike. The whole purpose of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which came into force in 1947, is to discourage strike and to encourage workers to try all possible avenues of settlement before they take any drastic action by way of strike, which is equally detrimental to production and national wealth. In the circumstances placed before me, my finding is that the strike of the workers was highly unjustified. They are not entitled to any pay for the strike period. If not entitled to any pay for the strike period. If the strike had been occasioned by unfair labour practice on the part of the employers, the workers could have justly claimed pay for the strike period. But on the evidence before me I am clearly of opinion that there was no unfair labour practice on the part of the authorities of the mills.

A good number of employees of the mills were discharged by a notice, dated the 25th June 1947. All these employees were given one month's salary in addition to the salary for June 1947. The reason was, as stated by the Company, that the Company apprehended from the attitude of the strikers that the strike would be a long drawn one and that the authorities accordingly thought of discharging the employees, only keeping a skeleton staff. This apprehension of the authorities was not unfounded. The Company had to overdraw over Rs. 5,00,000 to meet the cost for 1947 for which the strike of the workers was responsible. The Company could not, therefore, retain the full staff of employees for the period during which the work of the mills was stopped. That would have cost an additional loss to the Company. The employees were discharged on trading economic grounds. There is nothing to show that at the time of the discharge, the employees were siding with the workers and the discharge was by way of victimisation. There is, however, some evidence that after the discharge some of the employees supported the strikers actively. We shall consider this point later. The fact remains that the Company was not in a position to employ these employees so long as the strike was continuing. They were, however, re-instated when the strike was called off. Most of these employees have resumed work and only a few have been granted leave without pay. If anything was responsible for this discharge of the employees, it was the strike of the workers. Uptil 19th November 1947, the management was not to blame and I am not inclined to penalise the management by directing it to pay the salary of these discharged employees who have either been re-employed of are on leave, for the period of discharge, i.e., up to 19th November 1947. This will be against all equities. The workers should have considered the fate of the employees when they used the coercive weapon of strike. In these circumstances I am not inclined to allow any pay to the discharged employees for the period of discharge, i.e., from 1st August 1947 to 19th November 1947.

In passing, I may note here that the learned counsel for the union added the annual refund of P. P. tax to the estimated profit to show that the employers were quite in a position to give some relief to the workers. The reliefs which have got to be given to the employees and the workers, will involve additional recurring expenditure, but the deposits against P. P. tax will be refunded in three annual instalments. This refund cannot be considered as a recurring receipt. I have, therefore, left the refund of P. P. tax out of account.

The union demanded re-employment of 9 employees who had been discharged but subsequently re-instated at the time of the provisional settlement but have been compelled to stay on leave without pay. Out of these 9, one is dead and some have secured employment elsewhere. The union now demands re-emplyment of all the following five employees:—

(1) G. M. Ganguli, Time-keeper.
(2) J. P. Mitra, Spinning assistant.
(3) A. K. Chakravarty, Winding supervisor.
(4) D. C. Roy, Winding assistant.
(5) S. C. Mondal, Finishing clerk.

The evidence of the employers is that these clerks were generally negligent and unmindful. This is what the authorities found before the strike, but the latches which are said to have been detected from time to time, were condoned and the employees were allowed to continue in service of the Company. Old faults which had been condoned, cannot be raked up to make out a case for dismissal in future. The clerks were discharged on economic trading grounds and they have since been re-instated. Some of these clerks have been re-employed and only a few have been allowed to remain on leave without pay. The question before us is whether these employees should be discharged permanently or should be permitted to resume work. The learned counsel for the Company urges that this tribunal has no jurisdiction to direct re-instatement, and that if the tribunal has no jurisdiction to direct re-instatement, it cannot but direct permanent discharge of the employees. I cannot agree with the learned counsel that this tribunal has no jurisdiction to direct re-employment in suitable cases where dismissals are results of unfair labour practice or victimisation. From the definition of industrial disputes, as given in section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, it is clear that questions of employment or non-employment of any person is an industrial dispute. There is a clear authority of the Calcutta High Court on this point (vide Birla Bros., Ltd., vs. S. N. Modak and another). Thus the question of re-instatement or re-employment being an industrial dispute, covered by the order of reference, this tribunal cannot but adjudicate on the dispute. The adjudication might be either a direction on the employer to re-instate a particular employee or to prevent the employer to discharge an employee or a refusal to pass any such direction. It may be urged that this tribunal being a legal body cannot override the common law of contract of personal service. It is not disputed that this tribunal has jurisdiction to vary a contract for wages and other conditions of employment. The tribunal is constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act for the purpose of investigation and adjudication of industrial disputes. It is not a court of law. I am clearly of opinion that the tribunal has got to decide cases according to the principles of equity and good conscience and will not be hampered by the statute or common law of the land. If the tribunal has jurisdiction to override personal contracts of service regarding wages and other conditions of service, I fail to understand why it should not exercise jurisdiction to direct re-instatement of employees or workers discharged as an unfair labour practice. It might be argued that the tribunal cannot direct re-instatement of discharged employees inasmuch as it cannot force an unwilling worker to work for a master whom he does not like. As an answer to this point I may say that the tribunal has jurisdiction to direct an unwilling worker to work under a master whom he does not like, but that it should not make such a direction on the ground that it will not be beneficial to the master. I have carefully perused the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and I find that the tribunal can adjudicate upon any industrial dispute referred to it. The Act has not put any restriction upon the jurisdiction of a tribunal. The case reported in All English Law Reports, 1947, at page 693, has been placed before me more than one for the employees in support of their contention that this tribunal cannot order for or award re-instatement of dismissed and discharged workers. With due respect to their Lordships, I am clearly of opinion that the decision does not apply here where the law is quite different. Their Lordships' decision was based on two grounds—(1) that there was no express word giving the tribunal any power to re-instate, and (2) that there is no provision in the National Arbitration Order of 1940 under which the tribunal assumed jurisdiction embodying penalty on the employer if he refuses, after the award, to re-instate the man discharged whose re-employment has been awarded. In the National Arbitration Order, 1940, jurisdiction of the tribunal has been defined and there is provision for enforcing the award only on points on which the tribunal can exercise its jurisdiction, but in the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947, which is in force here, the jurisdiction of the tribunal has not been restricted and penalty has been provided for breach of the terms of an award without any qualification. On a careful consideration of the law on this point, I hold that this tribunal has jurisdiction to direct re-instatement or to prevent discharge of an employee in cases of unfair labour practice. The question was not argued at length before me. I have, however, discussed some of the points that might have been argued against the jurisdiction of this tribunal to direct re-instatement or to prevent discharge of an employee.

Unfair labour practice has not been defined anywhere in the Act, but it has been decided in a number of cases that punishment for trade union activities or taking part in a peaceful strike or picketing or sympathy for such a strike or picketing is an unfair labour practice. If the tribunals refuse to interfere with the cases of discharge, all industrial disputes will be throttled to death. Whenever any dispute arises, the industrialist may discharge the entire set of clerks and come to the tribunal and say that the discharge orders cannot be interfered with, and if the tribunal has no jurisdiction to interfere there will be no industrial dispute.

I have already said that for past latches which had been condoned, the employer cannot discharge any employee. The past latches cannot be raked up, although such latches may be taken into account along with subsequent defaults or misconduct meriting dismissal. I now take the specific cases of the five employees.

(1) S. C. Mondal, Finishing clerk, attached to the warehouse.—He was found absent from his works occasionally by the Manager and the Secretary. He was warned and allowed to continue. There was no repetition of such conduct on the part of S. C. Mondal.

(2) A. K. Chakravarty, Winding supervisor.—The Manager found him absent from his works on several occasions. He was warned and was allowed to continue in office. The Manager found him with the picketers. This time also he warned this man. There is nothing in the record to show that A. K. Chakravarty was anything but peaceful when he was found with the picketers.

(3) J. P. Mitra, Spinning assistant.—He was detected by the Manager tampering with the machines in his department without knowledge and in the absence of the head of the department. He was warned and was allowed to continue in office. There was no other complaint against him.

(4) D. C. Roy, Weaving assistant.—He was found absent from his department and warned. He assured the Manager that he would not repeat the same thing again.

(5) G. N. Ganguli, Time-keeper.—He was found absent from his duty, but his absence was condoned and he was allowed to continue in service.

The sworn testimony of Sri S. Mullick, Assistant Secretary, Sree J. Mukherji, Secretary and Sri A. V. Data, Manager, is that G. M. Ganguli and D. C. Roy led a procession of the workers during the strike, which was rather violent. In one of these processions, led by D. C. Roy and G. M. Ganguli, the processionists abused the superior officers, the Chief Engineer and others, and the processionists in another procession, in which G. M. Ganguli is said to have taken part, the car of the Secretary had been stopped and the police had to be informed. D. C. Roy and G. M. Ganguli do not come forward to deny these allegations against them. In my opinion re-employment of D. C. Roy and G. M. Ganguli is not likely to secure industrial peace. Their re-instatement is likely to lead to disturbances.

Some evidence has been led that eleven of the employees who occupied the Mill quarters did not behave properly when the Mill authorities asked them to vacate the quarters. House difficulty is very acute in Calcutta as also in the suburbs. The employees found themselves in a very inconvenient position when they were asked to vacate the quarters on the date on which their services were terminated. They naturally became exasperated and behaved rudely or rather madly. They did not leave the quarters on the 5th July. There is no specific case against S. C. Mondal, A. K. Chakravarty and J. P. Mitra that they or any of them behaved rudely when they were asked to vacate the quarters. In fact, there is no material on the record to justify an order against these three persons.

Prior to the strike the three employees, S. C. Mitra, A. K. Chakravarty and J. P. Mitra, along with others were working in the mill. It is not a case of the Manager that the Company cannot at present provide any work to these three persons. There is no suggestion that the Company has no sufficient work and that some of the employees should be retrenched. The suggestion of the Union is that the employees were discharged on account of their supposed sympathy with the workers who went on strike. That the employees had sympathy for the strikers, is in a way admitted, inasmuch as the workers and the employees have jointly placed their demands before this tribunal. Any sympathy with a strike does not merit dismissal. In the absence of any sufficient case against S. C. Mondal, A. K. Chakravarty and J. P. Mitra, I cannot but say that they were not re-employed on account of their actual or supposed sympathy with the workers who had gone on strike. This was undoubtedly an unfair labour practice. Although the Company could not be accused of any unfair labour practice when the employers were discharged, the Company's attitude towards these three employees amounted to unfair labour practice on 19th November 1947 when they were re-instated but were not employed. On a careful consideration of the circumstances of the case, I direct that S. C. Mondal, A. K. Chakravarty and J. P. Mitra shall be permitted to resume work immediately on publication of this award. As regards D. C. Roy and G. M. Ganguli, I am clearly of opinion that their employment in the Company is likely to lead to disaster. They should be discharged. I decide these two issues accordingly.

My observation about the financial position of the Company will not in any way affect the decision of the general tribunal in awarding further reliefs, if any, to the workers and the employees.

Annexure.

1. Re-employment of discharged employees.—The employees (i) S. C. Mondal, (ii) A. K. Chakravarty, and (iii) J. P. Mitra shall be permitted to resume work immediately on publication of the award.

The two employees (i) D. C. Roy and (ii) G. M. Ganguly shall be permanently discharged.

2. Strike pay for the workers and pay of the employees for the discharge period.—The workers have been disallowed strike pay and the employees have been disallowed pay for the period of discharged

3. Independence Bonus.—Independence Bonus has been disallowed.

4. Special leave for the workers of the Power House and Boiler Department.—This claim could not be substantiated.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE,
Dy Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

ORDER.

No. 734Lab.—10th March 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, Order No. 919-Lab., dated the 3rd December 1947, the industrial dispute between all branches of the Central Bank of India, Limited, in West Bengal outside Calcutta and their employees as represented by the Central Bank of India Employees' Association, 100, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S.;

And whereas the said Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S., has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S., shall bind all the branches of the Bank aforesaid and their employees as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the 1st January 1948.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Central Bank of India, Limited, and the employees of its branches in West Bengal as represented by the Central Bank of India Employees' Association of 100, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI S. K. SEN, I.C.S.,

Chairman, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Mr. S. M. Bose, Solicitor.

For the Union: Mr. J. B. Pal Chaudhuri.
Mr. A. Momin.

Award.

This dispute between the Central Bank of India, Limited, and the employees of its branches in West Bengal as represented by the Central Bank of India Employees' Association of 100, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, was referred to me for adjudication by Government of West Bengal Order No. 919Lab., dated 3rd December 1947. There are seven branches of the Central Bank of India, Limited, in West Bengal, viz., Jalpaiguri, Kalimpong, Siliguri, Raiganj, Burdwan, Bolpur and Kulti. The employees of the first six branches named above are represented by the Central Bank of India Employees' Association of 100, Netaji Subhas Road. The employees of Kulti sent a representation direct to the Tribunal stating their demands, but did not otherwise appear before the Tribunal.

Previously the Central Bank of India, Limited, did not have fixed grades and scales of pay, and people were employed in the clerical grade at a starting pay varying from Rs. 30 to Rs. 50 or more per month. In 1945 the Central Bank of India, Limited, introduced the following grades and scales of pay for the clerical grade:—

Rs. 35—5—65 (Efficiency Bar).

Rs. 65—7—100 (Efficiency Bar).

Rs. 100—10—150.

With the rise of prices during World War II, dearness allowance was introduced, which was raised ultimately to Rs. 30 per month for the clerical grade and Rs. 20 per month for the subordinate grade. Owing to the steady rise in the cost of living, these scales of pay and dearness allowance did not satisfy the employees and they demanded rise in the basic wages and pressed also for other benefits. An industrial dispute between the Central Bank of India and the employees of its branches in greater Bombay City was, in the meantime, referred to the Industrial Court of Bombay for adjudication; and the Management promised to introduce improved grades and scales of pay after the publication of the award by the Bombay Industrial Court. The award of the Industrial Court presided over by Mr. Justice H. V. Divatia was published on 9th April 1947. Mr. Justice Divatia fixed the clerical grade from Rs. 65 to Rs. 275 with efficiency bars at three stages and fixed the pay of the subordinate grade (peons and jammadars, etc.) from Rs. 30 to Rs. 65. The Central Bank of India, Limited, applied the scales fixed for the Bombay city branches to the employees of the branches within Calcutta area. For the mofussil area, the Bank divided the branches and Pay Offices into two categories, viz., Group B and Group C, the branches in Calcutta and similar places of great industrial importance being classed as Group A. For Group B, the Bank fixed the following grades and scales of pay:—

Clerical grade:

Rs. 55—5—85—7½—130 (Efficiency Bar).

Rs. 137½—7½—160—10—190.

Peon.

Rs. 20—2—40—1—50.

For Group C, the Bank fixed the following grades and scales of pay:—

Rs. 45—5—85, Efficiency Bar.

Rs. 92½—7½—130, Efficiency Bar.

Rs. 137½—7½—160.

Peon.

Rs. 15—1½—30—1—40.

Circulars regarding the new grades and scales of pay for the branches of Group B and Group C were issued by the Head Office in Bombay in May 1947 with instructions for fitting in the employees in the new grades and scales of pay.

Of the seven branches in West Bengal, with which we are concerned, only Jalpaiguri falls in Group B and the rest are included in Group C. Further, the branches or Pay Offices at Kalimpong, Siliguri and Raiganj are under the Jalpaiguri Branch and the four branches and Pay Offices in North-West Bengal, viz., Jalpaiguri, Kalimpong, Siliguri and Raiganj, are known as Jalpaiguri group of branches. The employees of the Jalpaiguri Group of branches had a separate association of their own and this Association expressed dissatisfaction at first with the new grades and scales of pay proposed to be introduced by the circulars of May 1947. The Management then gave some extra benefits in the way of adjustments of the pay of the existing staff into the new grades and scales of pay, and, thereafter, the Association of the employees of the Jalpaiguri Group passed a resolution on 1st July 1947 accepting the amended grades scheme.

Subsequently, however, the Association of the employees of the Jalpaiguri Group was dissolved and the Association was reconstituted as a branch of the Central Bank of India Employees' Association of 100, Netaji Subhas Road. The Central Bank of India Employees' Association of 100, Netaji Subhas Road, presented a fresh charter of demands which was drawn up at a general meeting of the Employees' Association held on 28th October 1947. Increased scales of pay and dearness allowance were demanded for both the clerical grade and the subordinate grade. Further a demand was included for a revised scale of pay for employees doing supervisors' work in the Bank. Thereafter the dispute between the Management and the employees was referred to adjudication, there being one case for the branches in the Calcutta area, and another one, viz., the present one, for the branches in West Bengal outside Calcutta. The employees demand roughly the same increased scales of wages and improved conditions of service for the employees of the branches outside Calcutta as for the employees of the branches in Calcutta area. The contention of the Bank, on the other hand, is that in view of the resolution passed by the Employees' Association of the Jalpaiguri Group on 1st July 1947 accepting the amended grade scheme without any reservation, the Central Bank of India Employees' Association of 100, Netaji Subhas Road, is not entitled to demand further benefits for the employees of the Jalpaiguri Group of branches and is not also entitled to represent the employees of the Jalpaiguri Group of branches. Further the Bank contends that the amended grades and scales of pay introduced by the circulars of May 1947 are fair and reasonable and there is no reason for giving further benefits to the employees. The Bank has also given their reply to the other demands set forth in the charter of demands and, accordingly, the following issues have been framed in the case.

Issues.

1. In view of the resolution of Central Bank of India Employees' Union, Jalpaiguri, dated 1st July 1947, is the Central Bank of India Employees' Union, 100, Netaji Subhas Road, entitled to represent the Central Bank of India Employees of Jalpaiguri, Group of branches, sub-branches and Pay Offices in this dispute?

2. Are the scales of pay and dearness allowance introduced recently for the Central Bank of India employees of West Bengal fair and reasonable? If not, how should they be revised?

3. What directions, if any, should be given regarding adjustment of the pay of the employees in the new scales?

4. Are the Central Bank of India employees of West Bengal entitled to a house-rent allowance in addition to pay and dearness allowance?

5. Should the Central Bank of India be directed to provide free medical aid and free medicines to employees in West Bengal?

6. Can the Central Bank of India employees in West Bengal claim a morning checking and calling allowance?

7. Is the existing Pass Book Allowance adequate? If not, what direction should be given regarding this allowance?

8. What directions, if any, should be given regarding the demands for—

(a) Children allowance and free tiffin,
(b) Gratuity,
(c) Bonus,
(d) Working hours,
(e) Overtime,
(f) Provident Fund,
(g) Service Rules,
(h) Promotion and special increment,
(i) Equal pay for equal work,
(j) Sick leave, and
(k) Existing rights and privileges.

9. From what date will the award in this case take effect?

Decision.

Issue No. 1:

The Bank has raised the point that in view of the resolution of Central Bank of India Employees' Association, Jalpaiguri, dated 1st July 1947, the Central Bank of India Employees' Union of 100, Netaji Subhas Road, is not entitled to represent the Central Bank of India Employees' Association of the Jalpaiguri Group of Branches in this dispute. Sri Sudhir Chandra Biswas, who was the Secretary of the Jalpaiguri Group Employees' Association, has deposed in this case for the employees. His evidence is that the Jalpaiguri Group Employees' Association or Union was dissolved shortly after the resolution of 1st July 1947 and the employees of the Jalpaiguri Group of branches of the Central Bank of India applied for membership of the Calcutta Association and they became members of the Calcutta Association in the general meeting held at Calcutta on 28th October 1947 at which the charter of demands for the employees of all the branches in Calcutta as well as in West Bengal was drawn up. This witness has proved the applications for membership—Exts. 3, 3(a), 3(b), 3(c) submitted on 15th October 1947 to the Secretary, Central Bank of India Employees' Association of 100, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta. He has also proved the letter of the Branch Association formed after the dissolution of the Jalpaiguri Group Employees' Union. This letter is Ext. 1 and is dated 13th November 1947. In this letter there is mention of dissolution of the original Association of the Jalpaiguri Group employees and of the formation of a Branch Association of the Association at 100, Netaji Subhas Road. The letter, Ext. 4, dated 17th September 1947, written by Sri Sudhir Chandra Biswas and another, Joint Secretaries of the old Jalpaiguri Union, to the Secretary of the Central Bank of India Employees' Association of 100, Netaji Subhas Road, shows that though the Jalpaiguri Group Union passed a resolution on 1st July 1947 accepting the amended grades and scales of pay introduced by the circulars of May 1947, the Union expected further benefits from the Management; and not getting further benefits, the Union requested the Central Bank of India Employees' Association of 100, Netaji Subhas Road, to carry on the fight for better terms both on behalf of the employees of the Calcutta branches and the employees of the mofussil branches including the Jalpaiguri Group. In view of these letters and evidence, I must hold that the Central Bank of India Employees' Union of 100, Netaji Subhas Road, is entitled to represent the employees of the Jalpaiguri Group of branches in this dispute.

Issue No. 2:

Next there is the question whether the scales of pay and dearness allowance introduced by the circulars of May 1947 for the Central Bank of India employees of West Bengal are fair and reasonable; and, if not, how they should be revised. It has been mentioned already that the Management has put the Jalpaiguri Branch in Group B and for this Group, the scale of the clerical grade is—

Rs. 55—5—85—7½—130 (Efficiency Bar).
Rs. 137½—7½—160—10—190.

The remaining six branches or Pay Offices are in Group C and for this Group the scale of the clerical grade is—

Rs. 45—5—85 (Efficiency Bar).
Rs. 92½—7½—130 (Efficiency Bar).
Rs. 137½—7½—160.

On behalf of the employees it has been urged that the nature of work in the Bank is the same—whether the branch is situated in Calcutta or in a mofussil station; and that further the cost of living in these days in the mofussil stations is not cheaper than the cost of living in Calcutta, rather it is urged that the cost of living in the mofussil is higher because the Calcutta employees get the benefit of rationed rice at the controlled price whereas the employees in the mofussil have to buy rice from the open bazar at a higher price. Reference has also been made to the award of Mr. R. Gupta, I.C.S., in the dispute between the Imperial Bank of India and its employees as published in the Calcutta Gazette of 6th September 1947. There, Mr. Gupta observed that there should be uniform scales of pay for Calcutta and other places, though he conceded that there might be grant of special allowances in more costly places. I will first consider starting pay. It is true that employees living in Calcutta have the advantage of rationed rice at the controlled price, but the quantity of rationed rice allowed per head is usually insufficient, and this ration has to be supplemented by procuring rice from other sources at a higher price. It may be doubted whether ultimately people living in Calcutta obtain their total requirements of cereals at a lower price than the people living in mofussil area. Further people living in Calcutta have to incur certain expenditure as on tram and bus fares for attending offices, while people living in mofussil do not usually incur this item of expenditure. The Central Pay Commission recognised the justice of special local allowance for costly cities like Calcutta. For employees drawing pay (including allowance) between Rs. 61 and Rs. 80, the Calcutta allowance prescribed by the Central Pay Commission is Rs. 10. Therefore at the bottom of the scale there is justification for a difference of pay of Rs. 10. The Central Pay Commission recommended Rs. 55 as minimum basic pay of the clerical grade. Thus the starting pay fixed for Bombay and Calcutta, viz., Rs. 65 per month may be deemed to include the minimum living wage of Rs. 55 per month as recommended by the Pay Commission plus Rs. 10 per month as a city allowance. From that point of view, I hold that the starting pay for the mofussil branches should be fixed at Rs. 55 per month and it is not necessary that it should also be Rs. 65 as in Calcutta. I agree, however, with the employees that there is no reason for making a further difference of starting pay between branches of Group B and Group C; for, there would be no appreciable difference in the cost of living between, say Jalpaiguri and Siliguri. The nature of work is also similar. It may be true that there is greater pressure of work at a place like Jalpaiguri. But this should make no difference to the starting pay where the minimum living wage has to be secured. The difference in pressure of work may justify a difference at the upper end of the scale.

Next I deal with the upper end of the scale. I have already indicated that higher pay at the upper end of the scale would be justified for more important branches having greater pressure of work. At the same time it is desirable that there should not be a wide divergence between scales of pay at different places. The Calcutta scale fixed for clerical grade is as follows:—

Grade D.

Rs. 65—5—85—7½—130.

Grade C.

Rs. 137½—7½—160—10—190.

Grade B.

Rs. 200—10—230.

Grade A.

Rs. 245—15—275.

In view of the difference in the pressure of work and responsibility between the holders of top posts in big and small branches, it would be reasonable to prescribe that posts in Grade A mentioned above should be limited to branches in Calcutta and similar cities, i.e., to branches falling in Group A; that posts in Grade B should be limited to branches in Groups A and B; while posts in grades C and D should exist in all branches big and small, Grade D for places outside Calcutta beginning from Rs. 55. The scale from Rs. 55 to Rs. 130 is the minimum scale for a clerical grade recommended by the Central Pay Commission. It is desirable that even for branches and pay offices falling in Group C there should be some upper grade posts above Rs. 130 and therefore grade C which rises up to Rs. 190 should be adopted in branches and pay offices of Group C; there top posts should not be limited to Rs. 160 as proposed by the Bank. Similarly I consider it equitable that employees in branches belonging to Group B like Jalpaiguri should have the opportunity to go up to Grade B, i.e., Rs. 230 and that they should not stop short at Rs. 190 which is the maximum of Grade C, mentioned above. Thus, I find that for the clerical grade the scales of pay should be slightly revised, for the mofussil branches there should be the following three grades:—

Grade D.

Rs. 55—5—85—7½—130,

Grade C.

Rs. 137½—7½—160—10—190,

Grade B.

Rs. 200—10—230,

with the proviso that there will be no posts of Grade B in branches and pay offices of Group C. In other words, the maximum pay for employees of the Jalpaiguri branch is fixed at Rs. 230 with efficiency bars at Rs. 130 and Rs. 190; while the maximum pay for employees of other branches of West Bengal is fixed at Rs. 190 with an efficiency bar at Rs. 130. The Bank authorities may transfer a competent employee from a branch of Group C to a branch of Group B and in that case he would be entitled to pay-scale fixed for Group B, i.e., he would be entitled to a rise of pay up to Rs. 230. Similarly a competent employee of a mofussil branch may be transferred to a Calcutta branch and in that case he would get the benefit of Grade A, i.e., to Rs. 245—15—275. The starting pay for mofussil branches belonging to both Group B and Group C is fixed at Rs. 55, graduate clerks will get Rs. 10 extra at the start, i.e., they will begin at Rs. 65.

As to dearness allowance the existing scale is Rs. 30 per month for the clerical grade and Rs. 20 per month for the subordinate grade. For employees of the Calcutta area the dearness allowance for the clerical grade is 25 per cent. of the pay subject to the minimum of Rs. 35 and maximum of Rs. 50 per month. The minimum of Rs. 35 is in accordance with the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission at page 47 of the Report. This recommendation was made when he cost of living index was 260. It has been urged on behalf of the employees that the cost of living index is now over 300; the latest Calcutta figure is 320; and that accordingly the minimum dearness allowance should be graded up. It may be true that the latest Calcutta figure in the beginning of the new year was 320, but, thereafter, a tendency towards lower prices is noticeable, particularly the price of pulse which forms an important item of daily diet has gone down appreciably. It is expected that the tendency towards lower prices will continue. Accordingly, I do not consider it necessary to grade up the dearness allowance beyond the scale of the Pay Commission and I fix the dearness allowance for the clerical grade at 25 per cent. of the pay with a minimum of Rs. 35 and maximum of Rs. 50 per month as in the case of Calcutta employees.

For the subordinate grade, the scales fixed by the Bank, according to the circulars of May 1947, are Rs. 20—2—40—1—50 for branches falling in Group B, and Rs. 15—1½—30—1—40 for branches falling in Group C. For branches in Group A, e.g., the Calcutta branches the scale of pay for the subordinate grade has been fixed at Rs. 30—2—50—1—65 following the recommendation of Mr. Justice H. V. Divatia.

The Central Pay Commission recommended Rs. 30 as the minimum basic pay for employees of the lowest grade falling to Class IV and also recommended a city allowance of Rs. 5 per month for them for big cities like Calcutta and Bombay. In view of the fact that the starting pay of a peon has been fixed at Rs. 30 in Bombay and Calcutta branches, I would consider it equitable that the starting pay in mofussil branches should be fixed at Rs. 25 per month, as to starting pay there is no reason to make any distinction of branches of Group B and branches of Group C. There, again, some difference at the upper end of the scale might be justified. I consider the existing scales of pay fixed for the subordinate grade by the circulars of May 1947 as inadequate. Accordingly, I fix the following scales of pay for the subordinate grade, viz., peons and jamadars of the West Bengal branches—

Group B.

Rs. 25—2—45—1—55.

Group C:

Rs. 25—2—45.

For employees of these grades a dearness allowance at a flat rate of Rs. 25 per month as recommended by the Central Pay Commission and as adopted for Calcutta is prescribed. For whole-time sweepers and scavengers, the scale of Rs. 20—2—40 as for the Calcutta branches is prescribed but in this case the dearness allowance will be at the flat rate of Rs. 15 per month. Chokras and boy peons will start with Rs. 5 less than the scale prescribed for the peons and their dearness allowance will be at a flat rate of Rs. 20 per month, but after completing 18 years of age the chokras will get the full starting pay of peons.

As to employees doing supervisor's work there is, also, a demand by the employees for fixing a revised scale of pay for them. The Bank authorities have recently abolished the nomenclature "Supervisor" and they are now known as Senior Assistants and Junior Assistants. They have been placed in the officers' cadre with the minimum starting salary of Rs. 70. It appears from the written statement of the Bank that in all the seven branches in West Bengal, there are only two employees of this grade and they were given in each case more than the starting pay of Rs. 70 per month. Accordingly, I do not consider it necessary in this dispute to revise the grade and scale of pay for this class. They should, however, have the benefit of the minimum dearness allowance of Rs. 35 per month, fixed for the clerical cadre, otherwise they will get the same dearness allowance as allowed to other employees of the officers' grades.

Issue No. 3:

Next there is the question what direction, if any, should be given regarding adjustment of the pay of the employees in the new scales. On behalf of the employees, it has been urged that all the employees should be given a flat rise equal to the difference between the minimum starting pay now fixed and the previous minimum pay. For the clerical grade the minimum starting pay was previously Rs. 35 per month and this has now been raised to Rs. 55 per month. But there is the difficulty in the way of giving a flat rise of Rs. 20 to each clerk, namely, that though the minimum starting pay of the old grade was Rs. 35, that grade came into force only in 1945, and both before and after that grade came into force clerks were employed on different starting salaries ranging from Rs. 30 to Rs. 50. A flat rise would maintain the differences in the starting pay which is not desirable in the adjusted pay. Paragraph 17 of the written statement of the Bank shows that the employees' Union at Jalpaiguri, at first, objected to the circulars of May 1947 regarding the revised grades and scales of pay and scheme of adjustment, and that thereupon the matter was further considered and some concessions were made as regards the adjustment of salaries of employees already in service before the issue of the circulars; that accordingly, the salaries of employees of the clerical grade at the Jalpaiguri branch were brought up to Rs. 65 in the case of non-graduates and Rs. 75 in the case of graduates; and the salaries of subordinate staff were brought up to the minimum starting salary of Rs. 30; and as to the employees of Kalimpong, Siliguri and Raiganj, the salaries to employees in the clerical grade were brought up to Rs. 55 in the case of non-graduates and Rs. 65 in the case of graduates; and in the case of the subordinate staff to Rs. 20, and that thereafter the employees' Union of the Jalpaiguri Group passed a resolution on 1st July 1947 accepting the scheme without any reservation. In view of these circumstances, I hold that no further adjustment in the basic pay of the employees of the clerical grade of the Jalpaiguri Group of branches is necessary except in the cases noted below, where some adjustment is necessary to put the employees at a stage under the new scale of pay:—

(1) Mr. M. Das Gupta (Jalpaiguri)—the pay be adjusted at Rs. 80 from Rs. 78 with effect from 1st January 1948;

(2) Mr. B. K. Sarkar (Jalpaiguri)—the pay be adjusted at Rs. 107-8 from Rs. 105-8 with effect from 1st January 1948;

(3) Mr. C. R. Gupta (Jalpaiguri)—the pay be adjusted at Rs. 100 from Rs. 98-8 with effect from 1st January 1948;

(4) Mr. S. Sen Sarma (Siliguri)—the pay be increased to Rs. 55 from Rs. 45 with effect from 1st January 1948, Rs. 55 being the minimum starting salary fixed;

(5) Mr. J. C. Sen Gupta (Raigunj)—the pay be adjusted at Rs. 70 from Rs. 66 with effect from 1st January 1948;

(6) Mr. S. C. Sarkar (Raigunj)—the pay be adjusted at Rs. 65 from Rs. 61 with effect from 1st January 1948.

Regarding the subordinate staff no further adjustment is necessary for the Jalpaiguri branch where the pay was brought up to Rs. 30 per month, but for Kalimpong, Siliguri and Raigunj it is necessary to adjust the pay of the subordinate staff (peons and jamadars) by giving them a flat rise of Rs. 5 each as the minimum starting has been raised to Rs. 25 per month whereas their salaries were brought up to Rs. 20 per month by the adjustment as described in paragraph 17 of the written statement of the Bank. Regarding the clerks of Burdwan, Bolpur and Kulti, their salaries were adjusted on the footing that the minimum starting salary was Rs. 45. It is, therefore, necessary that the clerks of these stations should get a flat rise of Rs. 10 each as the minimum starting salary has been brought up to Rs. 55 per month. Further in order to make the resulting pay equal to a stage in the new scale, Sri Nakari Nath De of Burdwan will get a further rise of Rs. 4 to bring up his pay to Rs. 70 in all. This adjustment will take effect from 1st January 1948. At this place the subordinate staff, the peons and jamadars will get a flat rise of Rs. 10 per head also, as their minimum starting pay has been brought up to Rs. 25 from Rs. 15.

As to the employees commonly called Supervisors, now described as Junior and Senior Assistants, it is necessary to adjust their pay in order to make their existing pay equal to a stage in the scale fixed by the Bank. For this purpose, the following adjustment will be made:—

(1) Mr. Arun Sen (Jalpaiguri) will draw pay, at Rs. 90 instead of Rs. 85 from 1st January 1948,

(2) Mr. P. K. Dutta Gupta (Raigunj) will draw pay at Rs. 100 instead of Rs. 91 from 1st January 1948, and

(3) Mr. A. C. Roy (Siliguri) will draw pay at Rs. 100 instead of Rs. 98 from 1st January 1948.

The employees will get their next increment on the usual date. The date of the next increment will not be affected by the adjustment made by this award.

Issue No. 4:

Next, there is the question whether the employees of the Bank in the mofussil branches are entitled to a house-rent allowance. The employees claim this allowance saying that even in the mofussil area the problem of accommodation is now acute and, therefore, the Bank should either provide houses for its employees in mofussil towns or in the alternative, pay a house-rent allowance. It is not possible to ask the Bank to provide accommodation for its employees. As to house-rent allowance also, I see no reason to differ from the principle laid down in the Central Pay Commission's Report that house-rent allowance should be paid in cities whose population exceeds one lakh. Accordingly, the claim for house-rent allowance is rejected.

Issue No. 5:

The employees have demanded that free medical aid and free medicine should be provided by the Bank. At Calcutta there is one doctor provided by the Bank for free consultation by the employees but medicines are not provided free. I see no reason to direct the Bank to allow free medicine to employees of West Bengal. As to free medical aid, it should not be difficult for the Bank to arrange with a local doctor attend the branch office twice a week and be available for free consultation by the employees in the Bank premises or at any other convenient places designated by the Bank authorities. I direct, therefore, that such an arrangement should be made by the Bank, viz., to make a doctor available for free consultation by the employees for at least two days in a week. It is to be noted that for the purpose, the Bank should not be required to import a doctor from outside and the arrangement should be made if a local doctor is available at the place where the office is situated.

Issue No. 6:

The employees have claimed a morning checking and calling allowance which is allowed in big cities like Bombay and Calcutta. For the Bank, it has been urged that the pressure of work in the mofussil branches is not heavy and the checking of the Ledger is done during office hours and attendance before or after office hours is not necessary for the purpose. The Bank has produced a chart showing the volume of business in the mofussil branches. I agree that in West Bengal branches outside Calcutta, morning checking and calling allowance is not necessary. Accordingly, this demand is rejected.

Issue No. 7:

The employees claim that Pass Book allowance where it exists, e.g., Burdwan and Jalpaiguri, is inadequate and this allowance should be raised and that a Pass Book allowance should be given at other stations where it does not exist. The representative of the Employees' Association says, that the Pass Book allowance at Burdwan and Jalpaiguri is Rs. 5 per month. At Calcutta the same Pass Book allowance is given. Therefore the Pass Book allowance must be considered adequate. As to other branches and Pay Offices, the volume of work is so small that it is unnecessary to introduce a Pass Book allowance at those places. Hence the claim under this head is rejected.

Issue No. 8:

(a) Children allowance and Free tiffin.

I consider these claims unreasonable in view of the scales of pay, dearness allowance and bonus allowed by the Bank to its employees. Hence these demands are rejected.

(b) Gratuity.

Regarding gratuity, it is desirable that the new rules introduced by the Bank for Bombay and Calcutta branches on the basis of the award of Mr. Justice H. V. Divatia should be made applicable to mofussil branches also. Accordingly, I direct that the following rules regarding gratuity should be made applicable to West Bengal branches:—

(1) On the death of an employee while in the service of the bank:—One month's salary for each year of service subject to a maximum of 15 months' salary to be paid to his heirs or executors or nominees.

(2) On voluntary retirement or resignation of an employee:—After 15 years' continuous service in the Bank—15 months' salary.

(3) On termination of his service by the Bank:—

(a) After 10 years' continuous service but less than 15 years' service in the Bank—¾ of one month's salary for each year of service.

(b) After 15 years' continuous service in the Bank—15 months' salary.

(4) A gratuity will not be paid to any employee who is dismissed for dishonesty or misconduct.

(5) Salary for the purpose of calculating gratuity shall mean the substantive pay (exclusive of allowances) of an employee on the date the employee ceases to be in the employment of the Bank.

(c) Bonus.

In 1946, 4½ months' basic pay was given as bouns to each employee and in 1947, 3½ months' pay was given to each employee. The Employees' Association demands that 25 per cent. of the net profit should be distributed as bonus in proportion to the salary of each employee. But I consider it undesirable that such a hard and fast rule should be laid down. I consider that the policy of the Bank as to distribution of the bonus is sufficiently liberal; and, therefore, the demand of the Employees' Association under this head is rejected.

(d) Working Hours.

As in the Calcutta branches, the working hours should be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with ½ hours recess for rest and refreshment on week days and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays.

(e) Overtime.

It has been urged that there are seasonal pressures of work in the branches, particularly at the Jalpaiguri branch, and that when a clerk is required to work beyond 5 p.m. he should be granted an overtime. The Bank's contention is that while there may be a seasonal pressure, generally the work apportioned to each employee is light rather than heavy and that a grant of an overtime allowance for work beyond 5 p.m. might encourage the employees to be slack during the regular office-hours. There is some substance in this contention. Accordingly, I reject the claim for overtime for work beyond 5 p.m. But the Bank authorities should so apportion work that no employee should be given more than a fair day's work. When, however, an employee is asked to work on holidays other than the two holidays for closing of Bank's accounts, the employee should receive overtime wages at double rate, i.e., he should get an extra day's basic pay and dearness allowance for work on each holiday, other than two Bank's closing days.

(f) Provident Fund.

The Provident Fund Rules are quite fair in my opinion and it is unnecessary to interfere with them. Further, there is one Provident Fund for all the employees of the Bank in all the branches of the Bank spread over the whole of India and the fund is administered by a Board of Trustees and it is, therefore, not possible to interfere with the Provident Fund Rules. Accordingly, the claim for alteration of the Provident Fund Rules is rejected.

(g) Service Rules.

The claim that no amendment in the Service Rules should be made affecting the interest, rights and privileges of the employees is rejected; but if such a rule is actually made by the Bank adversely affecting the interest of the employees they can bring up the matter separately. The claim that before taking any disciplinary action, an enquiry should be made at a Committee consisting of equal number of representatives from the Bank and the Employees' Association is rejected. But it is recommended that the authorities before taking any disciplinary action should give a reasonable chance to the employee to explain the charge.

The Bank has accepted the demand that godown clerks and darwans should be made permanent after completion of 24 months' service and this rule should, therefore, be given effect to.

In the matter of retrenchment of godown-keepers, when necessary, the demand that the juniormost men must be selected first is rejected, for the Bank must reserve the right to discharge an inefficient godown-keeper even if he is senior. As regards the probationary period it is fixed as 6 months, as agreed by the Bank.

The Association's claim is that promotions and special increments should be effected in consultation with the Employees' Association. The Management must have full discretion in the matter in the interests of service and, therefore, this claim is rejected.

(i) Equal pay for equal work.

This demand is not pressed.

(j) Sick leave.

The Bank grants sick leave for one month for 12 months' service but this leave is granted on half pay. The Employees' Association demands sick leave for one month for each year of service on full pay without the limitation of 12 months in the whole course of service; and the Association further demands that 6 months more on half pay should be allowed. As to sick leave, it is equitable to adopt the half pay leave rule recommended by the Central Pay Commission with the modification that this leave on half pay will be admissible only for sickness and on medical certificate. Thus the rule as to sick leave will stand as follows:

Employees commonly called supervisors and employees of the clerical grade will be entitled to sick leave on half pay at the rate of 1/16th of duty throughout their service. Employees of the subordinate grade or menials will be entitled to sick leave on half pay at 1/22nd of duty for the first 20 years of service and at 1/16th of duty for the remaining period of service. And at the discretion of the employee he will be entitled to commute sick leave of half pay that he has earned into full pay sick leave for half the period, subject to the limit that for the whole period of a man's service, the total period for sick leave on full pay shall not exceed 6 months; further an employee may be granted sick leave not due on half pay subject to 3 months at a time and 6 months in all, such leave being debited to leave subsequently earned.

(k) Existing rights and privileges.

Existing rights and privileges so far as they are not covered by the Award will not be affected by the Award.

Issue No. 9:

Lastly, there is the question from what date the Award will take effect. In the case of the Calcutta branch the Award has been made effective from the 1st day of January 1948 and I consider it equitable that this Award will take effect from that date, i.e., the 1st January 1948.

Accordingly, I make the following award:—

The scales of basic pay and dearness allowance are fixed as follows:—

Clerical Grade——Grade D.

Rs. 55—5—85—7½—130 (Efficiency Bar),

Grade C.

Rs. 137½—7½—160—10—190 (Efficiency Bar),

Grade B.

Rs. 200—10—230,

provided that employees of the branches of Group C will not be entitled to grade B. Classification of the Bank of the Jalpaiguri branch alone into Grade B and the remaining other branches and Pay Offices in West Bengal in Grade C is accepted.

Subordinate Grade—peons and jamadars.

Group B.

Rs. 25—2—45—1—55.

Group C.

Rs. 25—2—45.

Sweepers and scavengers.

Rs. 20—2—40 in both groups.

Dearness allowance for clerical grade will be 25 per cent. of pay subject to minimum of Rs. 35 and maximum of Rs. 50 per month. For subordinate grade, dearness allowance of Rs. 25 per month and dearness allowance for sweepers and scavengers at a flat rate of Rs. 15 per month are allowed. Chokras, i.e., boy peons under 18 years of age will get a basic pay of Rs. 20 per month and a dearness allowance of Rs. 20 per month, but they will get the minimum basic pay and dearness allowance of the peon as soon as they complete the age of 18 years. No revision is considered necessary for employees commonly called Supervisors but they will have the benefit of the minimum dearness allowance of Rs. 35 per month allowed to clerks and they will otherwise draw dearness allowance granted to employees of the officers' grade.

The pay of the employees in the new scales will be adjusted, as explained in the body of the Award. The claim for house-rent allowance is rejected. The claim for free medicine is also rejected; but the Bank will provide free medical consultation by arranging for a local doctor to be made available for consultation by the employees at least twice a week in the Bank's premises or at a place designated by the Bank. The next claim for morning checking and calling allowance is rejected; and the claim for enhanced Pass Book allowance or introducing it where it does not exist is rejected. The claim for children allowance and free tiffin is rejected. The rules laid down by Mr. Justice H. V. Divatia for gratuity are made applicable to the West Bengal branches. The demand for prescribing rules for bonus to employees is rejected. The working hours are fixed from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with ½ hour's recess for rest and refreshment on week days and from 10 to 2 p.m. on Saturdays. The demand for overtime for work beyond 5 p.m. on a normal working days is rejected. But the Bank authorities should see that no employee should be given more than a fair day's work. When however an employee is required to work on holidays other than the two holidays for closing of Bank's Accounts, he will be paid at double rate, i.e., he will receive an extra day's basic pay and dearness allowance. The demand for changing the Provident Fund rules is rejected. Regarding Service Rules it is provided that the godown clerks and darwans will be made permanent after 24 months' total service and that normally the probationary period will be 6 months for other employees, and that an employee should be given an opportunity to answer the charges against him before disciplinary action is taken against him. The demand in the matter of retrenchment of godown-keepers is rejected. Revised sick leave rules are prescribed in accordance with the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission for half pay leave with the proviso that such half pay leave shall be admissible for sickness on a medical certificate only. The Award will take effect from the 1st of January 1948.

S. K. SEN, Chairman,
Industrial Tribunal.

The 27th February, 1948.

By order of the Governor,
S. K. CHATTERJEE, Secy.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 742Lab.—10th March 1948.—Whereas the Provincial Government is satisfied that the public interest requires that the industries mentioned in the Schedule below should be declared as public utility services;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-clause (vi) of clause (n) of section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to declare the industries specified in the Schedule below to be public utility services for a period of six months with effect from the date of publication of this notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

The Schedule.

(1) The Tramway Services in Calcutta and Howrah.

(2) Cotton Textile industries in West Bengal.

No. 757Lab.—10th March 1948.—Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakravarty, Judge, Industrial Disputes Tribunal, West Bengal, is granted leave on average pay from the 2nd January 1948 to the 30th January 1948, under rule 184(b)(ii) of the Bengal Service Rules, Part I.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Dy. Secy.

No 751Lab.—11th March 1948.—The following draft of an amendment to the Census of Manufacturing Industries Rules, 1945, which the Government of India propose to make in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 12 of the Industrial Statistics Act, 1942 (XIX of 1942), is published as required by the said sub-section for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the said draft will be taken into consideration after a period of one month from the date of its publication. Any objections or suggestions which may be received from any person with respect to the said draft before the aforesaid date will be considered by the Government. The objections or suggestions should be addressed to the Secretary to the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department.

Draft Amendments.

In the said rules,

(1) in rule 2—

(i) the following clause shall be inserted after clause (a), and the existing clauses (b) and (c) shall be renumbered as clauses (c) and (d) respectively:—

"(b) 'company' means an incorporated company, wheresoever incorporated.";

(ii) the following clause shall be inserted after the existing clause (c), and the existing clauses (d), (e), (f) and (g) shall be renumbered as clauses (f), (g), (h) and (i) respectively:—

"(c) 'manufacturing process' means any process for—

(i) making, altering, repairing, ornamenting, finishing or packing, or otherwise treating any article or substance with a view to its use, sale, transport, delivery or disposal, or

(ii) pumping oil, water or sewage, or

(iii) generating, transforming or transmitting power.";

(2) for rules 3, 4 and 5 the following rules shall be substituted, namely:—

"3. (1) The Statistics Authority shall, before the end of December, or, in the case of a factory engaged in the sugar industry, before the end of June in each year, serve on the occupier of each factory which is engaged in an industry specified in Schedule I or which, having previously been so engaged, has temporarily suspended manufacturing processes, a notice requiring him to furnish to the Statistics Authority—

(a) a return in duplicate in the form appropriate to the industry in which the factory is or has been engaged relating to the next following calendar year or, in the case of a factory engaged in the sugar industry, the next following annual period commencing with the 1st July and ending with the 30th June, and

(b) if the factory is owned by a company, two copies each of the annual balance-sheet and profit and loss account, and of the directors' report, if any, for the period to which the return relates if the company's accounting year coincides with this period, and otherwise for the last preceding year for which the accounts of the company were closed; and when any factory which was not in existence or was not engaged in any such industry in December or, in the case of sugar industry, in June, in any year, during the next following calendar year or, in the case of sugar industry, during the next following annual period as aforesaid, engages or is about to engage in any such industry, the Statistics Authority shall serve such notice on the occupier of such factory as soon as may be, and the provisions of this sub-rule shall apply as if the period to which the return related were the portion of the said calendar year or annual period as the case may be, during which the factory is engaged in such industry.

(2) If the occupier of any factory on whom a notice has been served under sub-rule (1) (hereinafter called the first occupier), at any time during the period to which the return required to be furnished under such notice relates, ceases to be the occupier of the factory, and some other person (hereinafter called the second occupier) becomes the occupier thereof, the first occupier shall immediately on ceasing to be the occupier inform the Statistics Authority of the change of occupancy and the name and address of the second occupier, and the Statistics Authority shall as soon as may be serve on the second occupier a notice requiring him to furnish to the Statistics Authority—

(a) a return in duplicate in the form appropriate to the industry in which the factory is engaged relating to that part of the said period during which the second occupier is the occupier of the factory, and

(b) if after the change of occupancy the factory is owned by a company, two copies of each of the documents which may be required to be furnished under clause (b) of sub-rule (1).

(3) If the occupancy of a factory changes more than once during the period to which the return required to be furnished under a notice served on the occupier thereof under sub-rule (1) relates, the provisions of sub-rule (2) shall apply on each occasion as if the outgoing occupier were the first occupier and the incoming occupier were the second occupier.

4. (1) Any occupier of a factory on whom a notice has been served under rule 3 shall furnish the return and documents as required thereunder so as to reach the Statistics Authority not later than two months after the expiry of the period to which the return relates:

Provided that any such occupier, who at any time during the period to which the return required to be furnished under the notice relates, ceases to be the occupier of the factory, shall furnish a return and documents as aforesaid relating to that part of the said period during which he has been the occupier of the factory so as to reach the Statistics Authority not later than two months after his ceasing to be the occupier:

Provided further that if any factory, on the occupier of which a notice has been served under rule 3, is dismantled or otherwise ceases to be a factory at any time during the period to which the return required to be furnished under the notice relates, the occupier shall furnish a return and documents as aforesaid relating to that part of the said period during which the factory was in existence so as to reach the Statistics Authority not later than two months after the factory ceased to exist.

(2) If on representation being received from an occupier before the date on which a return is required to be furnished under this rule the Statistics Authority is satisfied that there is sufficient reason for so doing, the Statistics Authority may—

(a) allow an extension of time for submission of the return up to one month beyond the said date;

(b) in the case of a factory owned by a company, allow copies of the balance-sheet, and profit and loss account and of the directors' report, if any, to be submitted separately from the return by such date as he may specify.

5. (1) The Statistics Authority shall forward with the notices referred to in sub-rules (1) and (2) of rule 3, three copies of the form in which the occupier on whom the notice is served is required to furnish a return. Two copies of the form shall be used for the purpose of submission of the return as required by rule 4, and on the third copy of occupier shall retain an exact copy of the return submitted by him.

(2) If the occupier of any factory receives with a notice served on him under rule 3 copies of a form which is not appropriate to the industry in which the factory is or has been engaged, he shall within seven days of the receipt of the said notice intimate to the Statistics Authority the industry in which in his opinion the factory is engaged, the principal products of the factory and the anticipated approximate value of each such product during the period for which the return is required; and upon the receipt of such information, whether within time or not, the Statistics Authority shall determine the industry in which the factory is engaged and, if it is an industry specified in Schedule I, shall as soon as may be after the receipt of such intimation serve upon the occupier a notice requiring him to furnish a return and documents as provided for in rule 3 in relation to that industry, forwarding therewith three copies of the form appropriate to that industry, and the provisions of these rules shall apply and the occupier shall furnish a return as if the fresh notice were the original notice and had been received on the date on which the original notice was received.

(3) If any factory on the occupier of which a notice has been served under rule 3 at any time subsequent to such service becomes engaged in a different industry from that in which it was previously engaged, the occupier shall within seven days of the factory becoming so engaged, intimate to the Statistics Authority the industry in which in his opinion the factory will thenceforth be engaged, the principal products of the factory and the anticipated approximate value of each such product during the entire period for which the return is required; and upon the receipt of such intimation, whether within time or not, the Statistics Authority shall, after making such further enquiries as he may consider necessary, determine the industry in which the factory is engaged and, if it is an industry specified in Schedule I, shall as soon as may be serve upon the occupier a notice requiring him to furnish a return and documents as provided for in rule 3 in relation to that industry, forwarding therewith three copies of the form appropriate to that industry, and the provisions of these rules shall apply and the occupier shall furnish a return as if the fresh notice were the original notice and had been received on the date on which the original notice was received."

(3) for sub-rule (1) of rule 6, the following sub-rule shall be substituted, namely:—

"6. (1) Any notice required to be served and any return required to be furnished under these rules shall be served or furnished, as the case may be, by transmission through the post under registered cover with acknowledgment due, and on the outside of any cover—

(a) containing a notice, the Statistics Authority shall cause to be written prominently the words 'Notice under the Census of Manufacturing Industries Rules, 1945,';

(b) containing a return or other documents required to be furnished by an occupier, the occupier shall cause to be written prominently the words 'Confidential—Return under the Census of Manufacturing Industries Rules, 1945'."

(4) In sub-rule (2) of rule 6, for the words, brackets and figures "The notice referred to in sub-rules (1) and (2) of rule 3" the words "Any notice required to be served on the occupier of a factory under these rules" shall be substituted.

(5) In rule 7, for the words and figure "under rule 3" the words "to be furnished under these rules" shall be substituted.

By order of the Governor,
S. K. CHATTERJEE, Secy.

NOTIFICATION

(Navy Branch)

New Delhi, the 14th February 1948

No. 297.—An examination for the selection of cadets for entry to the permanent cadre of the commissioned ranks of the Royal Indian Navy will be held at Allahabad, Bombay, Calcutta, Delhi, Madras and Nagpur on the 21st June 1948, and subsequent days. The examination will be conducted by the Federal Public Service Commission.

2. The number of vacancies to be filled as a result of this examination is under consideration at present. It is anticipated that about 15 vacancies will be offered.

Candidates should show in the application form the order of their preference for the three branches—Executive, Engineering and Supply and Secretariat—if they wish to compete for more than one branch.

3. Candidates who qualify at the written examination will be required to appear before a Services Selection Board, which will make recommendations to the Government of India for the final selection of cadets for appointment to the vacancies offered at the examination.

4. Candidates for admission to this examination must have been born not earlier than the 2nd January 1929 and not later than the 1st January 1931. The age limits can in no case be relaxed.

5. Particulars relating to educational qualifications and subjects prescribed for the examination are stated in the rules prescribed for the examination, and published in the Ministry of Defence Resolution No. 298, dated the 14th February 1948.

6. A candidate who desires to appear at the examination is required to submit his application in the prescribed form with the necessary documents in accordance with the "Instructions to Candidates regarding the filling up and submission of applications". Applications must reach the Federal Public Service Commission, Council Chamber, New Delhi, direct on or before the 1st April 1948. Copies of the Rules and Application form, etc., may be obtained direct from the Secretary, Federal Public Service Commission, Camp Office, Council Chamber, New Delhi or from any one of the Naval authorities noted below:—

1. Commodore-in-Charge, Bombay, Vithal House, Mint Road, Bombay.
2. The Naval Officer-in-Charge, Cochin.
3. The Resident Naval Officer, Madras.
4. The Naval Officer-in-Charge, Vizagapatam.
5. The Resident Naval Officer, Calcutta.

The fact that an application form has been supplied on a particular date will not be accepted as an excuse for the late submission of an application. Candidates who delay their requests for forms until a late date will do so at their own risk.

7. Candidates who are already in Government service may compete at the examination, provided that they fulfil all the conditions mentioned in the Rules. Applications from candidates in Government service, whether employed in a permanent or temporary capacity, must be submitted through the Head of the Ministry or office concerned.

NOTE 1.—If any candidate who has applied for admission to the examination to be held in February 1948, for entry to the Royal Indian Navy, wishes to appear at the examination to be held in June 1948, he must submit his application by the prescribed date without waiting for the results of the former examination. If he is successful, his candidature for the June examination will be cancelled.

NOTE 2.—The approximate cost of training for the Royal Indian Navy is £116. This figure is most likely to be exceeded.

NOTE 3.—The undermentioned Provincial Governments and Local Administration have instituted scholarships to candidates from the Provinces/Administration coming out successful in the examination and selected as cadets for the Royal Indian Navy:—

Madras.—2 scholarships annually of the value of £116 to the candidate from Madras standing highest in the examination. Detailed rules are published in Madras Government Order No. G.O.M.S. No. 3273, dated the 4th November 1947.

Bombay.—2 scholarships annually of the value of £116 Bombay Government Resolution, Education and Industries Department No. 6975, dated the 6th August 1947 refers.

U. P.—Deficit up to £116, according to the circumstances of the cadets belonging to that Province for any number of approved candidates not exceeding 6 per annum.

Coorg.—1 scholarship of the value of £116 per annum to the first successful candidate from Coorg.

Bihar.—1 scholarship annually of the value of £116 to the first successful candidate from Bihar.

Andamans and Nicobar.—1 scholarship of the value of £116 per annum to the first successful candidate from Andamans and Nicobar.

C. P. and Berar.—1 scholarship annually of the value of £116. Government of C.P. and Berar, Education Department letter No. 3075/2064/XII, dated 30/31 July 1947.

(Other Provincial Governments and Administrations have the question of instituting similar scholarships under consideration.)

RESOLUTION

New Delhi, the 14th February 1948.

No. 298.—The Government of India hereby make the following rules for the selection of cadets for the commissioned ranks (permanent cadre) of the Royal Indian Navy. Candidates will have to appear at an examination, which will be held by the Federal Public Service Commission on the 21st June 1948 and subsequent days at Allahabad, Bombay, Calcutta, Delhi, Madras and Nagpur. Those who qualify at the written examination will be required to appear before a Services Selection Board which will make recommendations for the final selection of cadets.

RULES

1. (i) A candidate for selection shall apply to be admitted to the examination before such date and in such form as the Federal Public Service Commission may prescribe. The application shall be made direct to the Federal Public Service Commission, Simla.

(ii) A candidate who is in permanent or temporary Government service shall apply to the Commission for admission to the examination through the Head of his Ministry or office who shall forward his application to the Commission unless he refuses his consent to the application.

(iii) Cadets of the Prince of Wales' Royal Indian Military College, Dehra Dun, shall submit their applications through the Principal of the College.

(iv) No candidate shall make more than one application in respect of this examination.

2. A candidate must be an unmarried man and either—

(a) a national of the Dominion of India by birth or by domicile, or

(b) a person of Indian descent or a ruler or a citizen of an Indian State or a citizen of the Pakistan Dominion or of any other territory adjacent to India in whose favour a declaration of eligibility has been issued by the Government of the Dominion of India.

3. A candidate must furnish a declaration from his father or guardian, in the form prescribed that the latter is in a position, and will be prepared to discharge the financial obligations attaching to the candidate's training for appointment to the Royal Indian Navy. Should it be found that the declaration in regard to discharge of financial obligations during the period of training is false in any respect, the candidate will be liable to immediate removal.

NOTE.—The parents' share of cost of training amounts to £116. This is meant to meet the private expenditure of cadets on vacation expenses of £80 @ £20 per annum) plus private allowance for first year only of £36, together totalling £116. The whole amount need not be deposited in advance but parents/guardians are to make satisfactory arrangements for this payment to be made. It may further be noted that £116 is not a firm figure but an approximation of the expenditure likely to be incurred on the two items mentioned.

4. The maximum number of candidates to be admitted to the examination may in the discretion of the Government of India, be limited to such number as the Government of India may decide. If a limit is imposed and the number of candidates exceeds that limit, the Federal Public Service Commission shall select from among the applicants those who shall be admitted to the examination and shall have regard in so doing to the suitability of the applicants for employment as commissioned officers in the Royal Indian Navy.

5. A candidate must have passed—

(a) the Matriculation Examination of a recognised Indian University; or

(b) an examination accepted by any such University as equivalent to a Matriculation Examination for the purpose of admission to a University course; or

(c) the Cambridge School Certificate Examination; or

(d) any other examination which may be recognised by the Federal Public Service Commission as equivalent to the above.

or must possess one of the following certificates:—

(e) the Indian Army Special Certificate of Education ; or

(f) the Certificate issued by the Inter-Provincial Board for Anglo-Indian and European Education to 9th Standard students who join the Forces; or

(g) the Higher Educational Test of the Royal Indian Navy; or

(h) the Higher Secondary Technical Examination Certificate of the Delhi Polytechnic; or

(i) the 10th class certificate from a Higher Secondary School in Delhi/Simla and must have been admitted to the 11th Class in such a school;

(j) Junior examination of the Jamia Millia Islamia, Delhi, in the case of a bona-fide resident student of the Jamia only.

(k) Bengal (Science) School certificate.

(l) Bombay School Leaving Examination (without any condition).

6. A candidate for this examination must have been born not earlier than the 2nd January 1929 and not later than the 1st January 1931.

7. A candidate must be in good mental and bodily health and free from any physical defect likely to intertere with the efficient performance of the duties of a commissioned officer in the Royal Indian Navy. Only successful candidates will be medically examined. A candidate, who, after examination by a Medical Board, is found not to satisfy these requirements, will not be accepted for admission to the Service.

NOTE.—Candidates are recommended to consult a Government medical officer of the standing of a Civil Surgeon as to their physical suitability before entering for the examination.

8. A candidate must satisfy the Federal Public Service Commission and the appointing authority that he is suitable in all respects for employment as a commissioned officer in the Royal Indian Navy.

9. The decision of the Federal Public Service Commission as to the eligibility or otherwise of a candidate shall be final.

10. No candidate shall be admitted to the examination unless he holds a certificate of admission from the Federal Public Service Commission.

11. Any attempt on the part of a candidate to enlist support for his application will disqualify him for admission to the Royal Indian Navy.

12. The candidates must pay the following fee:—

A consolidated application and examination fee of Rs. 37-8-0 (Rs. 9-6-0 in the case of candidates belonging to the scheduled castes) with the application.

(A Treasury Receipt or a crossed postal order only for this amount will be accepted by the Federal Public Service Commission. The Commission cannot accept the fee in cash or cheques.)

No claim for a refund of this fee will ordinarily be entertained, nor can this be held in reserve for any other examination. A refund of Rs. 30 (Rs. 7-8-0 in the case of candidates belonging to the scheduled castes) will, however, be allowed to a candidate who has paid the consolidated fee of Rs. 37-8-0 (Rs 9-6-0 in the case of candidates belonging to the scheduled castes), but who is not admitted to the examination by the Commission.

13. The examination will include the following subjects and the maximum number of marks obtainable for each subject is as follows:—

	Maximum Marks.
1. English Language	300
2. General Knowledge	200
3. Lower Mathematics	300
4. Physics-plus-Chemistry	300
5. French	300
6. German	300
7. English History from 1485	300
8. Indian History	300
9. Higher Mathematics	300

All candidates must offer English, General Knowledge and Lower Mathematics and must pass in Lower Mathematics; candidates for Executive and Engineering Branches must also offer and pass in Physics-plus-Chemistry. Candidates for Executive and Engineering Branches must offer one of the subjects from 5 to 9 as an optional subject. Candidates for the Supply and Secretariat Branch must offer two of the subjects from 4 to 9 as optional subjects.

14. In order to qualify in the written examination—

(a) candidates for Executive and Engineering Branches must obtain 75 marks each in Lower Mathematics and Physics-plus-Chemistry and 630 marks in all the subjects taken together.

(b) candidates for the Supply and Secretariat Branch must obtain 75 marks in Lower Mathematics and 630 marks in all the subjects taken together.

15. From the marks assigned to candidates in each subject such deduction will be made as the Federal Public Service Commission may consider necessary in order to secure that no credit is allowed for merely superficial knowledge.

16. Deductions for handwriting which is at all difficult to read will be made up to 20 per cent. of the maximum marks for the written subjects. In English, and in every other subject, deductions for bad English spelling will be made up to 10 per cent. of the maximum marks.

17. The Federal Public Service Commission shall prepare a list of candidates in order of their merit as disclosed by the aggregate marks awarded to each candidate at the written examination. The candidates who obtain qualifying marks at the written examination shall appear before a Services Selection Board which will make recommendations for the final selection of cadets.

18. Finally selected candidates will be given a short period of preliminary training in India to enable them to gain some experience of Naval customs, routine etc. Thereafter the candidates will be sent for training to the U. K. and appointed to the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, for training. Executive and Supply and Secretariat Cadets remain at this College for one term; they are then appointed to a Training Cruiser for two terms. Engineering Cadets spend one term at the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth and one term in the Training Cruiser; they then proceed to the Royal Naval Engineering College, Devonport.

During this period of training Cadets will be subject to the same regulations as Naval Cadets generally. They will be regarded as on probation and a Cadet may be withdrawn at any time if in the opinion of the Admiralty.

(i) he fails to reach a satisfactory standard; or (ii) his conduct is unsatisfactory, or (iii) he is considered unsuitable for Naval Service.

On completion of three terms of training at the R. N. Colleges and in the Training Cruiser, Cadets are rated Midshipmen, subject to qualifying in the passing out examination, Executive Branch and Supply and Secretariat Midshipmen proceeding to Ships of the Fleet, Engineering Branch Midshipmen remaining at the Royal Naval College, Devonport. From this point they come under the ordinary regulations for Naval Officers.

NOTE.—A 'term' is of 3 months' duration.

FEDERAL PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

Advertisement No. 12.

APPLICATIONS invited for the undermentioned posts from nationals of Indian Dominion by birth or by domicile. Persons of Indian descent or citizens of the Indian States or of the Pakistan Dominion or of any other territory adjacent to India are also eligible but a declaration of eligibility issued by the Government of the Dominion of India will be necessary in their case before appointment. Women ineligible. Upper age limit relaxable by three years for Scheduled Caste candidates. Particulars and application forms from Secretary, Federal Public Service Commission, Council House, New Delhi. When applying for forms candidates must specify the name of the post.

Closing date for applications with treasury receipt or crossed Indian postal order for Rs. 7-8 (Rs. 1-14 for Scheduled Caste candidates) 10th April 1948. Cheques or money orders not accepted. Separate application with separate fee required for each category of posts. Candidates from outside India are not required to pay any application fee and may apply on plain paper if prescribed application forms not available. No candidate will be considered for appointment unless he appears for a personal interview if called upon to do so.

1. Eighteen permanent posts of Aircraft Examiners in the Civil Aviation Department.—Three posts reserved for Scheduled Caste candidates, but if qualified Scheduled Caste candidates are not available, the best available candidates will be nominated in their place. Age.—Preferably not below 25 years. Pay.—Rs. 275—25—500—E.B.—30—650—E.B.—30—800. A higher initial pay up to Rs. 350 may be granted according to age, experience and qualifications. Qualifications.—Applicants should have undergone approved apprenticeship training for a period of two to three years, followed by four years or more practical work in an Aircraft Factory engaged in the manufacture or assembly of complete aircraft or engines, and should have acquired specialised knowledge in two of the following four subjects:—

(1) Hydraulics, (2) Electrical Installation, (3) Instruments, (4) V. P. Aircrews and C. S. Units.

They must have held charge of a relative section or sections of work in which they are specially qualified for a period of not less than two years.

A good general educational and technical training is essential. Applicants below Matriculation standard will not be accepted.

Applicants who received their initial training in the D. C. A. Training Scheme and passed their examination satisfactorily will be considered as having qualified in regard to approved apprenticeship training.

Ex-service personnel of the R.A.F. and R.I.A.F. who fulfil the conditions regarding the length of experience in the trades of Fitter (e) and Fitter Aero, and who have held supervisory posts in rank of not below that of Sergeant and who have not less than two years' experience as an N.C.O. in an overhaul and maintenance unit will be eligible.

2. Nine posts of Assistant Engineers, Workshops, under the Ministry of Communications (Posts and Telegraphs).—The posts are temporary but likely to be made permanent. Two posts reserved for Scheduled Caste candidates, but if no such suitable candidates are available, all the posts will be treated as unreserved. Age.—Preferably between 20 and 25 years; relaxable in special cases. Pay.—Rs. 275—25—500—E.B.—30—650—E.B.—30—800. Higher initial pay may be granted, as a special case, to a specially well-qualified and experienced candidate. Qualifications.—Essential—B.Sc., B.E. or Diploma in Engineering considered equivalent to an Engineering Degree, or Sections A and B of the Associate of Membership Examination of the Institute of Engineers (India) or any other educational qualifications recognised by that institution as exempting from passing these sections. Desirable.—(a) Experience in Electrical or Mechanical Engineering Works; (b) Graduate or Associate Membership of the Institute of Engineers.

3. One post of Assistant Foreman for the Technical Development Establishment (Weapons), Ishapore.—The post is temporary on contract basis for three years in the first instance. No age limits. Pay.—Rs. 260—15—350 for direct recruits. For persons in continuous employ since 28th September 1931: Rs. 375—15—450—20/2—490. Higher initial pay may be granted, as a special case, to a specially well-qualified and experienced candidate. Qualifications.—An ex-soldier having qualified at the platoon and support weapons wings of the Infantry School. Must be a competent Instructor in S.A. and a suitable man at Arms himself. Must be able to take charge of the range, maintain records and apply the range discipline set forth in Army Regulations. He must have a knowledge of A.F.V. Armament (M.Ss. and Smoke Projectors). An ex-V.C.O., W.O. or S/Sgt. S.A.S. staff properly qualified from the I.A.C. or infantry would suit admirably. A departmental or Corps Officer is quite unsuitable if he is not experienced in the handling of weapons.

Students of the Evening Classes of the Government Commercial Institute and of the institutions affiliated to the Institute Board are eligible for the Special Examinations on payment of an examination fee of Rs. 5 for each subject. In Shorthand this fee entitles them to sit for two consecutive speed tests, i.e., 80 and 100 words, 100 and 120 words and so on up to 160 words per minute. For speed tests higher than 160 words per minute, they will have to pay a fee of Rs. 5 for each test up to 200 words per minute and a fee of Rs. 25 for each test at 210 and 220 words per minute.

Bona fide private candidates are also permitted to appear in these Special Examinations and the scale of fees fixed for such candidates is in every case exactly double of what is required to be paid by those appearing from the Government Commercial Institute or from the affiliated institutions except for Shorthand Speed Tests at 210 and 220 words per minute in which case the fees payable are the same for all candidates.

Bona fide private candidates are required to obtain special permission of the Institute Board to appear in the examination. Special permission is also necessary for candidates either from the Government Commercial Institute or from the affiliated institutions who are willing to sit for Shorthand Speed Tests higher than 160 words per minute. The last date for applications for permission is 15th March 1948, as a special case for this year.

Typewriting Examination will consist of both Speed and Tabulation Tests. Candidates for Typewriting Examination are allowed to bring their own machines if they so desire for the examination.

Applications in prescribed forms available at the Institute Office together with the necessary fees as under will be required from the candidates appearing at the Calcutta Centre in this office on the dates and at the hours specified below:—

(1) Fee for Final Examination is Rs. 8 and to be paid on 19th and 20th April 1948 between 12 noon and 2 p.m.

(2) Fee for each subject in Special Examinations for candidates for the Government Commercial Institute is Rs. 5 and will be received on the 8th and 9th April 1948 between 2 and 4 p.m.

(3) Fee for each subject in Special Examinations for candidates from the affiliated institutions is Rs. 5 and for bona fide private candidates Rs. 10 to be deposited on the 6th and the 7th April 1948 between 12 noon and 3 p.m.

(4) Candidates intending to remit their fees by money orders are to write their names and roll numbers distinctly on the coupons.

All the intending examinees appearing at the Final and Special Examinations should produce at the time of depositing fees, their Matriculation certificates, otherwise fees will not be accepted.

N.B.—Candidates are required to bring fee receipts with them on each day of their examinations.

K. C. DE, Secretary, Government Commercial Institute Board,
Calcutta.

PART V—Acts of the Indian Legislature assented to by the Governor-General and Ordinances promulgated by the Governor-General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Ministry of Law.

The following Act of the Dominion Legislature received the assent of the Governor General on the 20th December 1947, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XLV OF 1947.

An Act further to amend the Indian Trade Unions Act, 1926.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Trade Unions Act, 1926 (XVI of 1926), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Indian Trade Unions (Amendment) Act, 1947.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, appoint.

2. Amendment of long title and preamble, Act XVI of 1926.—In the long title and preamble of the Indian Trade Unions Act, 1926 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),—

(a) after the word "registration" the words "and recognition" shall be inserted;

(b) for the words "registered Trade Unions in British India" the words "registered and recognised Trade Unions and to certain unfair practices in industrial or trade employment" shall be substituted.

3. Amendment of section 2, Act XVI of 1926. In section 2 of the said Act,—

(a) clauses (b) to (h) shall be relettered as clauses (f), (g), (i), (j), (k), (m) and (n), respectively;

(b) for the opening paragraph and clause (a), the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) 'appropriate Government' means, in relation to Trade Unions whose objects are not confined to one Province, the Central Government, and in relation to other Trade Unions, but subject to the provisions of section 28A, the Provincial Government;

(b) 'employer' means,—

(i) in relation to an industry carried on by or under the authority of any department of the Central Government or a Provincial Government, the authority prescribed in this behalf, or where no authority is prescribed, the head of the department,

(ii) in relation to an industry carried on by or on behalf of a local authority, the chief executive officer of that authority, and includes an association of employers;

(c) 'executive' means the body, by whatever name called, to which the management of the affairs of a Trade Union is entrusted;

(d) 'industry' means any business, trade, undertaking, manufacture or calling of employers, and includes any calling, service, employment, handicraft or industrial occupation or avocation of workmen;

(e) 'Labour Court' means, in relation to a Trade Union, a Labour Court appointed by the appropriate Government under sub-section (1) of section 28B;";

(c) after clause (g) as relettered by this section, the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(h) 'recognized Trade Union' means a Trade Union recognised under this Act;";

(d) after clause (k) as relettered by this section, the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(l) 'strike' has the meaning assigned to it in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), 'illegal strike' means a strike which by virtue of any law for the time being in force is illegal, and 'irregular strike' means an illegal strike or a strike declared by a Trade Union in contravention of its rules referred to in clause (d) of section 28D."

4. Insertion of new Chapters IIIA and IIIB in Act XVI of 1926.—After Chapter III of the said Act the following Chapters shall be inserted, namely:—

"CHAPTER IIIA.

Recognition of Trade Unions.

28A. Modification of the definition of 'appropriate Government' for certain purposes.—Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the definition of 'the appropriate Government' in section 2, the Central Government shall be deemed to be the appropriate Government for the purposes of this Chapter in respect of Trade Unions consisting of workmen employed by the Central Government or by a Federal Railway or in a major port, mine or oilfield.

Explanation.—In this section and for the purposes of this Chapter, a Trade Union of which not less than fifty per cent. of the members are workmen employed by the Central Government or by a Federal Railway or in a major port, mine or oilfield shall be deemed to be a Trade Union consisting of workmen employed by the Central Government or by a Federal Railway or in a major port, mine or oilfield as the case may be.

28B. Appointment, constitution, powers and procedure of Labour Courts.—(1) For the purposes of this Chapter, the appropriate Government shall appoint such number of Labour Courts as it considers necessary, consisting of one or more persons each of whom—

(a) is, or has been, a Judge of a High Court or a District Judge, or

(b) is qualified for appointment as a Judge of a High Court:

Provided that the appointment to a Labour Court of any person not qualified under clause (a) shall be made in consultation with the High Court of the Province in which the Labour Court has or is intended to have, its usual place of sitting.

(2) Every Labour Court shall have all the powers of a Civil Court for the purposes of receiving evidence, administering oaths, enforcing the attendance of witnesses, and compelling the discovery and production of documents, and shall be deemed to be a Civil Court within the meaning of sections 480 and 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898).

(3) The proceedings of Labour Courts shall be regulated and conducted in such manner as may be prescribed.

28C. Recognition by agreement.—(1) Where an employer agrees to recognize a Trade Union, a memorandum of agreement signed by the employer and the officers of the Trade Union, or their authorised representatives, may be presented to the Registrar who shall record the memorandum in a register in the prescribed manner.

(2) Such an agreement may be revoked by either party thereto on application made to the Registrar in the prescribed manner.

(3) While such an agreement is in force, the Trade Union shall, in its relations with the employer with whom the agreement is made, have all the rights of a recognized Trade Union under this Act, and shall for all other purposes be deemed to be a recognized Trade Union.

28D. Conditions for recognition by order of a Labour Court.—A Trade Union shall not be entitled to recognition by order of a Labour Court under section 28E unless it fulfils the following conditions, namely:—

(a) that all its ordinary members are workmen employed in the same industry or in industries closely allied to or connected with one another;

(b) that it is representative of all the workmen employed by the employer in that industry or those industries;

(c) that its rules do not provide for the exclusion from membership of any class of the workmen referred to in clause (b);

(d) that its rules provide for the procedure for declaring a strike;

(e) that its rules provide that a meeting of its executive shall be held at least once in every six months;

(f) that it is a registered Trade Union, and that it has complied with all the provisions of this Act:

Provided that the reference in clause (b) to 'the employer' shall as respects recognition by an association of employers, be construed as a reference to all the employers who are members of the association.

28E. Application to, and grant of recognition by, Labour Courts.—(1) Where a registered Trade Union having applied for recognition to an employer has failed to obtain recognition within a period of three months from the date of making such application, it may apply in writing, setting out such particulars as may be prescribed, to the Labour Court for recognition by that employer.

(2) A single application may be made under sub-section (1) for recognition—

(a) by more than one employer, or

(b) by an association of employers as well as one or more members thereof.

(3) The Labour Court may call for further information for the purpose of ascertaining whether the Trade Union is entitled to recognition by the employer under this section, and if the Trade Union fails to supply the required information within the time granted, the Labour Court may dismiss the application.

(4) The Labour Court shall, after serving notice in the prescribed manner on the employer, investigate whether the Trade Union fulfils the conditions for recognition set out in section 28D, and in deciding whether the condition set out in clause (b) thereof is fulfilled, the Labour Court shall have regard to, but shall not be bound by the fact whether the proportion which the number of the workmen referred to in the said clause who are members of the Trade Union and are not in arrears of their subscription for any period exceeding three months, bears to the total number of such workmen is less, or not less, than such percentage, if any, as may be prescribed in this behalf, either generally, or in respect of any particular locality or any particular employer or class of employers, or any particular industry or class of industries.

(5) If the Labour Court is satisfied that the Trade Union is fit to be recognized by the employer, it shall make an order directing such recognition and may, where the recognition is to be by an association of employers, further direct, by the same or a subsequent order, recognition by every member of the association in relation to whom the Trade Union fulfils the condition set out in clause (b) of section 28D.

(6) Every order made under sub-section (5) shall be forwarded to the appropriate Government which shall notify it in the official Gazette, and while a recognition directed by such order is in force the Trade Union shall, in its relations with the employer concerned, have all the rights of a recognized Trade Union under this Act and shall for all other purposes be deemed to be a recognized Trade Union.

28F. Rights of recognized Trade Unions.—(1) The executive of a recognized Trade Union shall be entitled to negotiate with employers in respect of matters connected with the employment or non-employment or the terms of employment or the conditions of labour of all or any of its members, and the employer shall receive and send replies to letters sent by the executive on, and grant interviews to that body regarding, such matters.

(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall be construed as requiring an employer to send replies to letters on, or grant interviews regarding matters on which, as a result of previous discussion with the executive of the Trade Union, the employer has arrived at a conclusion, whether in agreement with the executive or not, unless a period of at least three months has elapsed since the said conclusion was intimated to the executive, or unless there has been a change in circumstances.

(3) Any dispute between the employer and the executive of a recognized Trade Union as to whether a conclusion has been arrived at, or whether there has been a change in circumstances, within the meaning of sub-section (2), shall be referred to the Registrar whose decision shall be final.

(4) The executive of a recognised Trade Union shall be entitled to display notices of the Trade Union in any premises where its members are employed, and the employer shall afford the executive reasonable facilities for that purpose.

28G. Withdrawal of recognition.—(1) Where the recognition of a Trade Union has been directed under section 28E, the Registrar or the employer may apply in writing to the Labour Court for withdrawal of the recognition on any of the following grounds, namely:—

(a) that the executive or the members of the Trade Union have committed any unfair practice set out in section 28J within three months prior to the date of the application;

(b) that the Trade Union has failed to submit any return referred to in section 28I;

(c) that the Trade Union has ceased to be representative of the workmen referred to in clause (b) of section 28D.

(2) On receipt of an application under sub-section (1) the Labour Court shall, unless it thinks fit to dismiss the application summarily, serve notice in the prescribed manner on the Trade Union to show cause why its recognition should not be withdrawn.

(3) If after giving a reasonable opportunity to the Trade Union to show cause the Labour Court is satisfied that the Trade Union is no longer fit to be recognized, it shall make an order declaring that the recognition of the Trade Union has been withdrawn, and forward a copy of the order to the appropriate Government which shall notify it in the official Gazette.

28H. Application for fresh recognition.—On the expiry of not less than six months from the date of withdrawal of recognition of a Trade Union under sub-section (3) of section 28G, the Trade Union, if it continues to be a registered Trade Union, may again apply for recognition, and the procedure laid down in this Act shall apply in respect of such application as if it were an original application for recognition.

28I. Recognized Trade Unions to submit prescribed returns.—Every Trade Union recognized under section 28E shall submit to the Registrar at the prescribed time and in the prescribed manner such returns, in addition to those referred to in section 28, as may be prescribed.

CHAPTER IIIB.

Unfair practices.

28J. Unfair practices by recognized Trade Unions.—The following shall be deemed to be unfair practices on the part of a recognized Trade Union, namely:—

(a) for a majority of the members of the Trade Union to take part in an irregular strike;

(b) for the executive of the Trade Union to advise or actively to support or to instigate an irregular strike;

(c) for an officer of the Trade Union to submit any return required by or under this Act containing false statements.

28K. Unfair practices by employers.—The following shall be deemed to be unfair practices on the part of an employer, namely:—

(a) to interfere with, restrain, or coerce his workmen in the exercise of their rights to organise, form, join or assist a Trade Union and to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of mutual aid or protection;

(b) to interfere with the formation or administration of any Trade Union or to contribute financial or other support to it;

(c) to discharge, or otherwise discriminate against, any officer of a recognized Trade Union because of his being such officer;

(d) to discharge or otherwise discriminate against any workman because he has made allegations or given evidence in an inquiry or proceeding relating to any matter such as is referred to in sub-section (1) of section 28F.

(e) to fail to comply with the provisions of section 28F:

Provided that the refusal of an employer to permit his workmen to engage in Trade Union activities during their hours of work shall not be deemed to be an unfair practice on his part,"

5. Amendment of section 29, Act XVI of 1948. (1) To sub-section (1) of section 29 of the said Act the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that the making of regulations under this section for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of Chapter IIIA shall be deemed to be a purpose of that Chapter within the meaning of section 28A."

(2) To the said section 29 the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(3) The Central Government may give directions to a Provincial Government as to the regulations to be made under this section for prescribing the percentages referred clearly to in sub-section (4) of section 28E."

6. Amendment of section 31, Act XVI of 1926. —In section 31 of the said Act,—

(a) in sub-section (1),—

(i) after the word "registered" the words "or recognized" shall be inserted;

(ii) for the word "statement" the words "statement, return" shall be substituted;

(b) in sub-clause (2), after the words "that section" the words and figures "or in or from any return referred to in section 28I" shall be inserted.

7. Insertion of new section 32A in Act XVI of 1926.—After section 32 of the said Act the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"32A. Penalty for unfair practices.—(1) Any employer who commits any unfair practice set out in section 28K shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

(2) Where a Criminal Court imposes a fine, or confirms in appeal, revision or otherwise a sentence of fine imposed, on an employer for committing an unfair practice set out in clause (c) or clause (d) of section 28K, it may, when passing judgment, order the whole or any part of the fine to be applied in the payment to any person of compensation for loss or injury caused by the unfair practice."

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 5th February 1948.

Second Forecast of Winter Rice Crop of West Bengal for 1947-48.

In the past the data required for the publication of crop forecasts were furnished to this Directorate by the District Officers. These data were compiled and consolidated and, where necessary, suitably modified before publication. It is well known that the system has not been entirely satisfactory in that we have not always got dependable results. The foregoing agency for the collection of crop statistics had been adopted as there were no other suitable agencies available for the purpose. Since 1943, however, the Indian Statistical Institute has been carrying out random sample surveys to determine the areas and production of three important crops. The work started on an experimental basis, but the method, it is learnt, has been sufficiently developed to give reliable results on which the forecasts can be based. Accordingly the estimates of areas and outturns shown below are taken from the results of the random sample survey of winter rice crop conducted by the Indian Statistical Institute. The dislocation of work as a result of the partition of the province and also this change in our method caused some delay as a result of which the First Forecast of Winter Rice Crop could not be published.

Season.—The rains set in rather late and the rainfall in the sowing period was less than normal with the result that sowing and, consequently, transplantations were delayed in most of the districts. This accounts for the area under winter rice being somewhat less than in last year. Otherwise the weather conditions were on the whole favourable and the conditions of the crop satisfactory in the districts of 24-Parganas, Burdwan, Hooghly, Howrah, Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling. The effects of weather on the growth of crop were just the opposite in the districts of Nabadwip, Murshidabad and West Dinajpur as the low yields there indicate. Some damage is reported to have been caused by excessive rains in some parts of 24-Parganas and by flood in Murshidabad and Birbhum.

Area and yield.—8,031,200 acres are estimated to be under winter rice this year compared to 8,301,000 acres in 1946-47. In the district of Darjeeling, only Siliguri subdivision is included in sample surveys. As such, an area of 12,700 acres, estimated by this Directorate to be under this crop in parts of Darjeeling other than Siliguri, is to be added to both these estimates.

The yield of the province as a whole is estimated at 81 per cent. of the normal (12·4 maunds clean rice per acre) as against 83 per cent. in 1946-47. Calculated on this basis the total outturn of the province this year works out to 2,956,300 tons as against 3,131,100 tons in last year. To these estimates should be added 4,700 tons, the estimated outturn of the parts of Darjeeling other than Siliguri subdivision.

D. BASU,
for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Undesirable Advertisements (Control) Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "advertisement" includes oral advertisement and also includes any notice, sign, announcement, bill, hand-bill, circular, book, newspaper, magazine, periodical, pamphlet or leaflet, whether pictorial or otherwise;

(2) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(3) "sexual disorder" means any ailment, irregularity, affection or diseased condition of the organs of generation;

(4) "venereal disease" means syphilis, gonorrhœa or soft chancre or any sign, symptom or sequela of such disease and includes such other venereal diseases as may be prescribed by the Provincial Government in this behalf.

Prohibition of issue of certain advertisements.

3. (1) No person shall by means of any advertisement—

(a) prescribe or offer to prescribe any medicine or appliance for use as contraceptive, or

The West Bengal Undesirable Advertisements (Control) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 4—6.)

(b) offer to treat any person for, or indicate the line of treatment of, any venereal disease, sexual disorder, irregularity of menstruation or any other prescribed disease, infirmity or abnormality or offer to prescribe, any remedy therefor, or give or offer to give any advice in connection with the treatment thereof.

(2) No person shall print or publish, or cause to be printed or published, for distribution or exhibition to the public, or circulate or cause to be circulated or exhibit or cause to be exhibited, to the public or to any person,—

(a) any advertisement referred to in sub-section (1), or

(b) any label or set of instructions, whether pictorial or otherwise, to be affixed to or delivered with, any packet, box, bottle or phial, if such label or set of instructions recommends, asserts or infers that any remedy, medicine, medicinal or herbal preparation or any appliance or charm of any kind, whether for use internally or externally, is a contraceptive or is useful or may be used as a contraceptive, or is a cure, or is useful or may be used, for the prevention, treatment or relief of any venereal disease, sexual disorder, irregularity of menstruation or any other prescribed disease, infirmity or abnormality.

Confiscation of document, etc., containing advertisement, etc., which contravenes section 3.

4. (1) Any person prescribed under sub-section (2) who may be authorised in writing in this behalf by the Commissioner of Police in Calcutta and the District Magistrate elsewhere may at any time seize and detain any document or any article or thing which such person has reason to believe contains any advertisement which contravenes any of the provisions of section 3, and the Court trying such contravention may direct that such document or such article or thing and all copies thereof shall be forfeited to His Majesty.

(2) The Provincial Government shall prescribe the persons or classes of persons who may be authorised under sub-section (1) to take the action provided for under that sub-section.

(3) Where in pursuance of sub-section (1) any document or article or thing has been declared to be forfeited to His Majesty, any police officer may seize any copy thereof, wherever found, and any Magistrate may by warrant authorise any police officer not below the rank of Sub-Inspector to enter upon and search any premises whereon or wherein such document or article or thing or any copy thereof is or is reasonably suspected to be.

Explanation.—In this section "Calcutta" means the town of Calcutta as defined in section 3 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, together with the suburbs of Calcutta as defined by notification under section 1 of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866. Ben. Act IV of 1866. Ben. Act II of 1866.

Penalty.

5. Whoever contravenes any of the provisions of section 3 shall, on conviction, be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to one year, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

Act not to apply in certain cases.

6. Nothing in this Act shall apply to,—

(a) any medical treatise or book, or any treatise or book dealing with the subject from a bona fide scientific or social standpoint, or

(b) any advertisement, or any article or thing sent confidentially in the prescribed manner only to a medical practitioner or to a wholesale or retail chemist for the purpose of his business, or

(c) any advertisement made, printed or published with the previous sanction of such person or persons as the Provincial Government may appoint in this behalf.

The West Bengal Undesirable Advertisements (Control) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 7—10.)

Explanation.—"Medical practitioner" in this section includes a person regularly practising either the allopathic, homœopathic, Ayurvedic, Unani or any other system of medicine.

Jurisdiction to try offences.

7. No Magistrate other than a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class shall try an offence punishable under this Act.

Officers to be deemed public servants.

8. Any person empowered to act under this Act shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. Act XLV of 1860.

Indemnity.

9. No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any servant of the Crown for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

Power to make rules.

10. (1) The Provincial Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the venereal diseases referred to in clause (4) of section 2;

(b) the diseases, infirmities or abnormalities referred to in section 3;

(c) the persons and classes of persons referred to in sub-section (2) of section 4;

(d) the manner of sending confidentially an advertisement, article or thing referred to in clause (b) of section 6.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Undesirable and objectionable advertisements relating to contraceptives and to alleged cures for venereal diseases, sexual disorders and conditions peculiar to women issued by unqualified medical practitioners and quacks are doing considerable harm to the public by luring them to use medicines and appliances which are injurious and even dangerous to health. The control of such advertisements is desirable for safeguarding the public health. The Bill seeks to control such advertisements by making it penal for a person to make, print or publish such advertisements without the previous sanction of such person or persons as may be appointed by the Provincial Government in this behalf, bona fide medical treatises and advertisements sent confidentially to a medical practitioner or to a wholesale or retail chemist for the purpose of his business being exempted. The Bill, however, does not contemplate prohibition or discouragement of the use of scientific and safe contraceptives.

A

BILL

further to amend the Bengal Medical Act, 1914.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Medical Act, 1914, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act VI of 1914.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Medical (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force at once:

Provided as follows:—

(a) that the term of office of the members constituting the Council at the commencement of this Act, shall continue, as if this Act had not been passed, until a date to be appointed in this behalf by the Provincial Government by notification in the Official Gazette;

(b) that the term of office of members nominated after the commencement of this Act to fill casual vacancies in that Council shall also continue until the said date.

The Bengal Medical (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clause 2.)

Amendment of section 4 of Bengal Act VI of 1914.

2. In section 4 of the Bengal Medical Act, 1914,— Ben. Act VI of 1914.

(a) in clause (d)the words "or the Dacca University" shall be omitted;

(b) in clause (f) after the words "medical institution" the words "in West Bengal" shall be inserted;

(c) in clause (g),—

(i) for the words "are qualified to be registered under the Medical Acts" the words and figures "have any of the medical qualifications included in the Second Schedule to the Indian Medical Council Act, 1933" shall be substituted, and XXIV of 1933.

(ii) after the words "medical institution" the words "in West Bengal" shall be inserted; and (d) in clause (h) after the words "medical institution" the words "in West Bengal" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill seeks to amend the Bengal Medical Act, 1914, for debarring the institutions situated in East Bengal from electing any member to the West Bengal Council of Medical Registration.

Section 4(g) of the Act is also sought to be amended so that the reference in the section to the Medical Acts (of the United Kingdom) may be read as a reference to the Second Schedule to the Indian Medical Council Act, 1933, as the qualifications registrable under the Medical Acts are included in the said schedule.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 528L.—19th March, 1948.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE WEST BENGAL DISTRICT BOARDS (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1948.

A BILL

to amend the West Bengal District Boards Act, 1947.

WHEREAS the district of Navadwip has been re-named as the district of Nadia on and from the 26th day of February, 1948;

AND WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the West Bengal District Boards Act, 1947, in the manner hereinafter appearing; West Ben. Act III of 1947.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal District Boards (Amendment) Act, 1948.

(2) It shall be deemed to have come into force on the 26th day of February, 1948.

Amendment of the second preamble to West Bengal Act III of 1947.

2. In the second preamble to the West Bengal District Boards Act, 1947 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), for the word "Navadwip" the word "Nadia" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 4.

3. In sub-section (1) of section 4 of the said Act, for the word "Navadwip" the word "Nadia" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 6.

4. In section 6 of the said Act, for the word "Navadwip" the word "Nadia" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The change of the name of the district of Navadwip to Nadia with effect from the 26th February, 1948, has necessitated amendments of the West Bengal District Boards Act, 1947, by substitution of the word "Nadia" for "Navadwip" wherever it occurs in the Act, to take effect from the aforesaid date. The Bill provides for such amendments of the Act.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 532L.—20th March, 1948—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE BENGAL TANKS IMPROVEMENT (WEST BENGAL AMENDMENT) BILL, 1948.

A

BILL

further to amend the Bengal Tanks Improvement Act, 1939.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Tanks Improvement Act, 1939, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act XV of 1939.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct.

Amendment of section 2 of Bengal Act XV of 1939.

2. In section 2 of the Bengal Tanks Improvement Act, 1939 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),—

(a) before clause (1) the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(a1) 'agricultural land' includes land used for the growing of vegetables and the like and also waste land which is capable of cultivation but does not include a fruit garden, an orchard, any temple, mosque or homestead land"; and

(b) after clause (5) the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(5a) 'person having control over a tank' does not include a person by whom the tank is held for a limited time and whose interest in the tank is not transferable;".

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 3—6.)

Amendment of section 3.

3. In section 3 of the said Act for the words "requiring him" the words "requiring such person to intimate to him within a period specified in the notice if such person is willing to carry out and in case such person is so willing," shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 4.

4. In section 4 of the said Act—

(a) in sub-section (1)—

(i) for the words and figure "If the improvements referred to in section 3 are not carried out" the following words shall be substituted, namely:—

"If the person having control over the tank does not send any intimation or sends any intimation to the Collector within the period fixed under section 3 that he is not willing to carry out the improvements referred to in that section or if such person sends any intimation to the Collector within such period that he is willing to carry out the improvements but fails to carry out the improvements", and

(ii) for the words "by a notice to" the words "by a notice served in the prescribed manner on" shall be substituted;

(b) to sub-section (2) the following words and figures shall be added, namely:—

"or the number entered in the record-of-rights finally published under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, of the survey plot comprising such tank"; and VIII of 1885.

(c) in sub-section (3) for the word "issue" the word "confirmation" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 6.

5. In sub-section (2) of section 6 of the said Act, after the words "give preference to" the words "the sole owner or" shall be inserted.

Insertion of new section 6A.

6. After section 6 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

Order for possession of lands adjoining a derelict tank for carrying out improvements in such tank.

"6A. (1) If any authorised person considers it necessary for the purpose of carrying out the improvements in a derelict tank to take possession of any land adjoining such tank, he may,—

(a) if he is the Collector, take possession of such land by order in writing,

(b) if he is not the Collector, apply in the prescribed manner to the Collector to be empowered to take possession of such land and the Collector may, if he is satisfied after considering the application that such land is required for carrying out the improvements, empower the authorised person by order in writing to take possession of such land:

Provided that the Collector shall not take possession or empower any authorised person to take possession of such land without giving in the prescribed manner the person in possession of such land reasonable opportunity of making any representation he may like to make and without considering any representation so made.

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 7—9.)

(2) Every order made under sub-section (1) shall specify the boundaries of the land to which it relates or the number entered in the record-of-rights finally published under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, of the survey plot comprising such land and shall be in such form as may be prescribed." VIII of 1885.

Amendment of section 7.

7. In section 7 of the said Act,—

(1) in sub-section (1),—

(a) for the words "If any authorised person....." the words "If any authorised person other than the Collector....." shall be substituted,

(b) for clause (a) the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

"(a) fails to carry out the improvements to the satisfaction of the Collector in accordance with the conditions referred to in sub-section (3) of section 6",

(c) after the words and figure "made under section 6" the words, figures, letters and brackets "as well as any order made under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 6A" shall be inserted,

(d) after the words "in respect of the tank" the words, figures, letters and brackets "and in respect of any land of which possession is taken as a result of an order made under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 6A" shall be inserted,

(e) after the words "shall take possession of the tank" the words "and such land" shall be added; and

(2) in sub-section (2), after the word "tank" the words "and such land" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 8.

8. For section 8 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

"Authorised person to retain possession of a derelict tank for a period not exceeding twenty-five years.

8. Subject to the provisions of this Act the Collector or an authorised person shall be entitled to remain in possession of a derelict tank of which possession has been taken under the provisions of this Act for such period not exceeding twenty-five years from the date of such possession being taken under section 5 or section 6 as may, in the opinion of the Collector, be necessary to recover the amount referred to in sub-section (4) of section 17:

Provided that the Collector, may, after considering the views of the authorised person, if any, and for reasons to be recorded in writing, vary such period from time to time subject to the maximum limit of twenty-five years referred to."

Amendment of section 9.

9. For clause (a) of section 9 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"(a) such person pays to the Collector so much of the costs incurred up to that time both by the authorised person in carrying out the required improvements in the tank and by the Collector in carrying out the purposes of this Act in respect of the tank as remains unrecovered after realisation by the authorised person under this Act of the fees referred to in section 17 or of any sum under any lease referred to in section 18, together with interest on the costs so remaining unrecovered at a rate not exceeding six and a quarter per centum per annum, and".

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clause 10.)

Insertion of new sections 9A, 9B and 9C.

10. After section 9 of the said Act the following sections shall be inserted, namely:—

Authorised person to retain possession of land adjoining a tank during the period of possession of such tank.

"9A. An authorised person shall be entitled to remain in possession of any land adjoining a derelict tank of which possession is taken under section 6A as long as such person remains in possession of such derelict tank under section 8.

Restoration of possession of land adjoining a derelict tank and the retaking of possession of such land.

9B. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 9A, if the person recorded as entitled to possession of any land adjoining a derelict tank in the record-of-rights referred to in section 22 or his successor in interest is not the person recorded as entitled to possession of such derelict tank in the record-of-rights referred in the said section or his successor in interest, then the Collector may, at the request of the person so recorded as entitled to possession of such land or his successor in interest or of the authorised person at any time after the required improvements in the tank have been completed, by an order in writing, restore the possession of such land to the person so recorded as entitled to possession of such land or to his successor in interest, although the possession of the tank by the authorised person has not terminated, and when the possession of such land is so restored all rights in the land which existed prior to the time when possession was taken of the land under section 6A shall be revived:

Provided that before the Collector takes any action under this sub-section at the request of any person other than the authorised person, the Collector shall give the authorised person a reasonable opportunity of making any representation he may like to make and the Collector shall consider any representation so made.

(2) The person to whom the possession of such land has been restored under sub-section (1) shall not use it in such manner as may cause damage to the banks of the derelict tank or may affect the use of the tank for the purposes of irrigation.

(3) If the person referred to in sub-section (2) fails, in the opinion of the Collector, to comply with the provisions of that sub-section, the Collector may,—

(a) again empower the authorised person by an order in writing to take possession of such land whereupon the authorised person shall forthwith take possession thereof, or

(b) if he is the authorised person, himself again take possession of such land by order in writing, and the authorised person so taking possession of such land again shall retain such possession as long as he remains in possession of the tank.

(4) Every order made under sub-section (3) shall specify the boundaries of the land to which it relates or the number entered in the record-of-rights finally published under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, of the survey plot comprising such land and shall be in such form as may be prescribed. VIII of 1885.

Restoration of possession of land adjoining a derelict tank on the restoration of possession of such tank under section 9.

9C. When the possession of a derelict tank is restored by the Collector under section 9, the Collector shall at the same time restore the possession of any land adjoining such tank of which possession was taken under section 6A and has not already been restored under sub-section (1) of section 9B or of which possession was retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B to the person recorded as entitled to possession of such land in the record-of-rights referred to in section 22 or to his successor in interest:

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 11—14.)

Provided that where the person to whom the possession of the tank is restored under section 9 is not the person recorded as entitled to possession of such land in the said record-of-rights of his successor in interest the possession of such land shall not be so restored until the improvements, if any, required to be carried out in the tank under clause (b) of the proviso to section 9 has been completed if the person to whom the possession of the tank is so restored agrees to pay the person so recorded as entitled to possession of such land the compensation which would have been payable by the authorised person under sub-section (1) of section 14A if such authorised person had continued to be in possession of such land."

Amendment of section 10.

11. In section 10 of the said Act, after the words "derelict tank" the words, figures, letters and brackets "or any land of which possession is taken under section 6A or is retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 11.

12. In section 11 of the said Act,—

(a) after the words "derelict tank" the words "or of any land adjoining a derelict tank under this Act" shall be inserted;

(b) after the words "said tank" the words "or land" shall be inserted; and

(c) in the proviso, after the words "where rent" the words "in respect of the tank" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 12.

13. Section 12 of the said Act shall be renumbered as sub-section (2) of that section and before the said section as so renumbered the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(1) Where a derelict tank is, at the time of the taking of possession thereof by an authorised person, in the actual possession of the owner of the tank, the authorised person shall pay, during the period he remains in possession, to such owner at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed, such rent as the Collector, after such enquiry as he thinks fit, may determine:

Provided that where the authorised person is the owner of the tank in actual possession thereof, no such payment of the rent determined by the Collector under this sub-section shall be necessary; but the amount of such rent shall be included in and form part of the costs incurred or likely to be incurred by the authorised person in carrying out the required improvements in the tank."

Amendment of section 14.

14. In section 14 of the said Act—

(a) in sub-section (1) the words "but not less than the salami paid by such cultivator for the lease" shall be omitted; and

(b) to that sub-section the following provisos shall be added, namely:—

Provided that the compensation payable to such cultivators shall not be less than an amount which bears to the total amount of salami, as determined by the Collector to have been paid for obtaining the lease, the same ratio as the unexpired period of lease bears to the total period of such lease:

Provided further that where no period of lease is expressly mentioned or agreed to between the parties concerned the total period of lease shall be taken as twelve years.

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 15—17.)

Insertion of new section 14A.

15. After section 14 of the said Act the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"14A. (1) Where the owner of a derelict tank is not the owner of any land adjoining such tank of which possession is taken under section 6A, or retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B, the authorised person shall, at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed, pay to the person in possession of such land at the time of taking or retaking possession thereof such compensation as the Collector, after such inquiry as he thinks fit, may determine. Such compensation shall not be less than the amount of the rent which the person so dispossessed is liable to pay in respect of the land and shall be deemed to be a full and complete satisfaction for all loss suffered by such person as a result of interference with his possession.

Payment of compensation to persons having rights in lands adjoining a tank of which possession is taken under this Act.

(2) Where the owner of a derelict tank is also the owner of any land adjoining such tank of which possession is taken under section 6A, or retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B, the authorised person shall—

(a) in the case where such land is in the actual possession of the owner thereof, pay at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed to such owner such rent as the Collector, after such inquiry as he thinks fit, may determine:

Provided that where the authorised person is the owner of such land in actual possession thereof, no such payment of the rent determined by the Collector under this clause shall be necessary; but the amount of such rent shall be included in and form part of the costs incurred or likely to be incurred by the authorised person in carrying out the required improvements in the tank; and

(b) in other cases, pay at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed to any person to whom such land has been leased out and who holds such land as lessee at the time such possession is taken or retaken and to every other person having at that time, on payment of any rent or charge, any right in such land, such compensation as the Collector, after such inquiry as he thinks fit, may determine, and such compensation shall not be less than the amount of the rent or charge which the person to whom the compensation is paid continues to be liable to pay to the owner or the tenant of such land and shall be deemed to be a full and complete satisfaction for all loss suffered by every such person as a result of the interference with the exercise of his right."

Amendment of section 15.

16. Section 15 of the said Act shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of that section and to the said section as so renumbered the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(2) During the period any land, of which possession is taken under section 6A, or retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B, remains in the possession of an authorised person, no person shall without the permission of the authorised person use or occupy such land or take fruits from trees on, or other produce from, such land."

Substitution of new sections for sections 16 and 17.

17. For sections 16 and 17 of the said Act, the following sections shall be substituted, namely:—

"16. During the period of possession all rights to use the water of the tank for irrigation purposes shall vest in the authorised person and no person shall use the water of the tank for such purposes except with the permission of the authorised person or in so far as he may be authorised to do so by or under the provisions of this Act.

Rights to use the water of the tank.

16A. (1) When the possession of any tank has been taken under section 5 or section 6 the Collector shall determine in the prescribed manner the maximum area of land to the limits of Maximum irrigation area.

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clause 17.)

which irrigation from the said tank may practicably be extended (hereinafter referred to as the maximum irrigation area) and the system and alignment by which and the priority in accordance with which such irrigation can be so extended to the land in that area, and shall publish a notice in the prescribed form and manner defining the limits of the maximum irrigation area and specifying the system, alignment and priority so determined.

(2) Every person possessing agricultural land within the maximum irrigation area shall, subject to the provisions of sub-sections (3) and (4), be liable to pay a fee annually during the period of possession to the authorised person at the rate fixed and in the manner provided under section 17 and such liability shall not cease by reason of such person not using water for irrigation purposes from the tank to which the maximum irrigation area relates.

(3) Any person concerned may, within thirty days of the date of the publishing of the notice referred to in sub-section (1), apply in the prescribed form and manner and on payment of the prescribed fee to the Collector for—

(a) including any land within the maximum irrigation area,

(b) excluding any land from the maximum irrigation area, and

(c) exempting any land or part of any land from liability to pay the fees referred to in sub-section (2) on the ground that such land cannot practicably be irrigated from the tank to which the maximum irrigation area relates, or cannot be benefited by such irrigation or that such land is not agricultural land, and the Collector after giving the applicant a reasonable opportunity of being heard may pass such order as to such inclusion, exclusion or exemption as he thinks fit.

(4) The Collector may of his own motion at any time after the expiry of thirty days from the date of publishing of the notice referred to in sub-section (1), include within the maximum irrigation area any land which was not agricultural land at the time of publication of such notice but has subsequently been converted into agricultural land, or otherwise revise the limits of the maximum irrigation area or exempt any land or part of any land within such maximum irrigation area from liability to pay the fees referred to in sub-section (2) and the Collector shall modify the list referred to in sub-section (1) of section 16B accordingly:

Provided that before any order for such inclusion, revision or exemption is passed all persons concerned shall by notice served or published in the prescribed manner be given a reasonable opportunity of making any representation which they may like to make and the Collector shall consider such representation.

Preparation of list.

16B. (1) As soon as may be after the Collector has disposed of any applications made under sub-section (3) of section 16A he shall prepare a list in the prescribed form and manner of the persons who are liable to pay the fees referred to in sub-section (2) of that section and such list shall specify the amount of agricultural land within the maximum irrigation area in respect of which each such person is to pay such fee and the amount of such fee which such person is to pay annually to the authorised person.

(2) The Collector shall publish the list referred to in sub-section (1) and every modification of such list in the manner prescribed and shall, where the authorised person is not the Collector, forward a copy of such list and every modification of such list to the authorised person who shall permit every person whose name is entered in the list or his successor in interest to use the water of the tank for the irrigation of the land of such person as long as the amount of the fee payable by such person is duly paid and not otherwise.

(3) If any dispute arises between persons entered in the list prepared under sub-section (1) as to any matter in respect of the use of water by such persons from the tank for the irrigation of their lands the authorised person or a person authorised in this behalf by the Collector shall decide the dispute and his decision, subject to the provisions of section 26, shall be final.

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 18, 19.)

17. (1) Every person whose name is included in the list referred to in sub-section (1) of section 16B or his successor in interest shall pay annually and in the prescribed manner and on the dates prescribed to the authorised person or to such person as may be authorised by the Collector in this behalf the fees fixed according to the provisions of this section.

Payment and rate of fees.

(2) If the fees payable under sub-section (1) are not paid within thirty days from the due date fixed for such payment, interest on the amount of the fees so outstanding shall be payable at the rate of six and one quarter per centum per annum calculated from the day on which such payment became due until the date on which the amount of the fees so outstanding is paid or recovered, as the case may be.

(3) The Collector shall fix, in respect of any tank of which possession is taken under this Act and for which the maximum irrigation area has been determined by the Collector, the rate or rates at which fees to be paid to the authorised person under sub-section (1) shall be calculated and different rates may be so fixed for classes of agricultural lands of different descriptions or having different advantages or in respect of lands for the irrigation of which any person had or had not at the time when possession was taken of the tank under the Act the prescriptive right to use water for irrigation.

(4) The rate to be fixed under sub-section (3) shall be such that all costs incurred or likely to be incurred—

(i) by the authorised person in carrying out the required improvements in the tank; and

(ii) by the Collector in carrying out the purposes of this Act in respect of the tank; may be recovered together with interest thereon at a rate, fixed by the Provincial Government, not exceeding 6¼ per centum per annum and with an amount estimated by the Collector as likely to be necessary for maintaining the tank in proper condition during the period of possession determined by the Collector under section 8.

(5) The Collector may revise the rate or rates of fees fixed under this section in respect of any tank.

(6) Any sum due to the authorised person under this section shall be recoverable as a public demand.

17A. No person shall obstruct the passage of any water taken for irrigation purposes from any tank in accordance with the system, alignment and priority for taking water as determined by the Collector under sub-section (1) of section 16A."

Passage of water.

Amendment of section 18.

18. Section 18 of the said Act shall be re-numbered as sub-section (1) of that section and to the said section as so re-numbered the following sub-sections shall be added, namely:—

"(2) During the period any land of which possession is taken under section 6A or retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B remains in the possession of an authorised person, such authorised person may, subject to the provisions of this Act and the previous permission of the Collector, lease to any person for a period not extending beyond the said period of possession any part of the said land or any right to take fruits from trees on, or other produce from, such land.

(3) Any sum due to the authorised person under any lease granted under this section shall be recoverable as a public demand.

(4) All sums realised or estimated to be realised by the Collector or by the authorised person under any lease granted under this section and any other income derived from the tank including banks thereof and from adjoining lands taken possession of under section 6A and by the sale of silt or otherwise, shall be applied to the reduction of costs recoverable under sub-section (4) of section 17".

Amendment of section 19.

19. In section 19 of the said Act, after the words "derelict tank" the words, figures, letters and brackets "or in respect of any land of which possession is taken under section 6A or retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B" shall be inserted.

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 20—23.)

Insertion of new section 19A.

20. After section 19 of the said Act the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"19A. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, no person shall acquire any occupancy right in any part of the banks of, or in any land adjoining, a tank leased out to such person under section 18 and no person who has held any part of the banks of any tank under a lease under section 18 at any time since the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have acquired any occupancy right therein."

Bar to acquisition of occupancy rights in lands leased out under section 18.

VIII of 1885.

Substitution of new section for section 20.

21. For section 20 of the said Act the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

"20. (1) When any tank has been re-excavated at the expense of the Provincial Government as a relief measure by the system commonly known as Test or Famine Relief, the Collector may after giving an opportunity to the person having control over the tank to be heard in the matter, direct that possession of such tank should be taken over by the Collector.

Application of Act to tank improved as a relief measure.

(2) When possession of any improved tank is taken over under sub-section (1) such tank shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be a tank taken over and improved under the provisions of this Act and the provisions of this Act shall thereupon apply mutatis mutandis to such tanks accordingly."

Substitution of new section for section 21.

22. For section 21 of the said Act the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

"21. (1) When the possession of a derelict tank is terminated in accordance with the provisions of section 8, the tank shall be restored to the possession of the persons who were recorded as entitled to possession thereof in the record-of-rights referred to in section 22, or their successors in interest and any land possession of which was taken under section 6A but has not been previously restored under section 9B or section 9C or possession of which has been retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B shall be restored to the possession of the persons who are recorded as entitled to possession thereof in the record-of-rights referred to in section 22 or their successors in interest.

Restoration of possession of tank.

Amendment of section 22.

23. In sub-section (1) of section 22 of the said Act,—

(a) after the words "under this Act" the words, figures, letters and brackets "and a record-of-rights in respect of the lands adjoining such tanks of which possession is taken under section 6A or retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B" shall be inserted;

(b) after the words "such tank" the words "or during the period for which any such land remains in the possession of an authorised person" shall be inserted;

(c) after the words "in the record-of-rights" the words "in respect of such tank or such land" shall be added; and

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 24—26.)

(d) after sub-section (1) the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(1a) In the record-of-rights prepared under sub-section (1) shall be shown in addition to any other details that may be prescribed, the following:—

(a) the names of all persons from the stage of actual possessor upwards upto and including the stage of the owner having permanent transferable right in the tank and adjoining lands together with their addresses, nature and extent of right and interest in the tank and adjoining lands as existing immediately before possession of such tank or land is taken under the provisions of the Act;

(b) the revenue or rent and cesses, if any, payable by the different persons referred to in clause (a) in respect of the tank or land or if that be not ascertainable in respect of the interest in which such tank or land is included; and

(c) the numbers of cadastral survey plots together with the names and addresses of possessors of such plots who may have immediately before possession of such tank is taken the prescriptive right of taking water from such tank for irrigation purposes."

Substitution of new section for section 23.

24. For section 23 of the said Act, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"23. (1) The Provincial Government may by order published in the Official Gazette direct that any tank which may have been improved under the provisions of this Act prior to the commencement of the Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1948, shall with effect from a date to be specified in such order, be deemed to have been improved in accordance with the provisions of this Act as amended by the last mentioned Act.

Application of the Act to certain tanks.

(2) When an order under sub-section (1) is made in respect of any tank, the Collector shall in the prescribed manner, prepare or revise the list of maximum irrigation area, revise the order regarding period of possession and assessment of water rate and take such other action as may be deemed necessary to give effect to such order."

Substitution of new section for section 24.

25. For section 24 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

"24. All costs incurred by the Collector in carrying out the purposes of this Act in respect of a tank of which possession is taken under section 6 or in respect of any land of which possession is taken under section 6A or retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B shall be paid by the authorised person at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed, and on default in payment thereof the same shall be recoverable by the Collector as a public demand."

Costs.

Amendment of section 25.

26. Section 25 of the said Act shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of that section, and—

(a) in the said section as so renumbered, the words, figures and brackets "or among any other persons referred to in sub-section (2) of section 16" shall be omitted; and

(b) to the said section as so renumbered, the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(2) During the period any land of which possession is taken under section 6A or retaken under sub-section (3) of section 9B remains in the possession of an authorised person, all disputes relating to the exercise of any rights in respect of such land shall be decided by the Collector in such manner as may be prescribed."

The Bengal Tanks Improvement (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 27—34.)

Amendment of section 26.

27. In section 26 of the said Act,—

(a) after the words "any action" the words "or decision" shall be inserted, and

(b) after the words "other than the Collector" the words "or any person authorised by the Collector" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 29.

28. In section 29 of the said Act,—

(a) after the word "tank" the words "or of any land adjoining such tank" shall be inserted; and

(b) after the words "period of possession" the words "of such tank or during the period for which any such land remains in the possession of an authorised person" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 30.

29. Section 30 of the said Act shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of that section and after sub-section (1) as renumbered the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(2) No suit or other proceedings shall lie against the Collector, other authorised person or any officer or worker employed by or under the Collector for anything in good faith done or intended to be done or purporting to be done under the provisions of this Act or any rule made thereunder."

Amendment of section 33.

30. In section 33 of the said Act after the word "tank" the words "or in the land adjoining such tank" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 34.

Repeal of Ben. Act V of 1946.

35. The Bengal Tanks Improvement (Amendment) Act, 1946, is hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bengal Tanks Improvement Act, 1939, was passed in 1939 for improvement of derelict irrigation tanks. Experience in the working of this Act disclosed that it was necessary to take power from the Legislature for (a) making payment of water rate compulsory, (b) to empower Collectors to take possession of lands adjoining a derelict tank where this was found necessary for properly improving the tanks, (c) enabling Collectors to modify the period of possession, (d) preventing the accrual of occupancy right on the land taken over and leased and (e) in respect of some other minor matters.

A Bill was introduced in the Assembly in 1944 for making these amendments in the original Act but before the Amendment Bill could be passed the Governor assumed to himself powers under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935. The Bill was thereafter published for eliciting public opinion and after some modifications on the basis of opinions received was enacted by the Governor in 1946 under section 93 of the said Act. The term of this Act will expire in April next. The present Bill proposes to re-enact the provisions of Bengal Act XV of 1946 with some further modifications which have become necessary in the light of the experience of the last few years. The following are the more important changes proposed:—

(a) extending maximum period of possession from 20 to 25 years,

(b) enabling tanks improved as relief measure being treated as tanks improved under the Act,

(c) providing for uniformity of procedure being adopted for tanks improved under the old and new Acts, (d) making excess water rate assessable for lands without irrigation easement optional.

With the modifications now proposed the operation of the Act will become smoother and quicker.

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 5421L.—23rd March, 1948.—The following Act of the West Bengal Legislature, having been assented to in His Majesty's name by the Governor, is hereby published for general information:—

West Bengal Act VIII of 1948

THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (TEMPORARY SUPERSESSION) ACT, 1948.

[Passed by the West Bengal Legislature.]

[Assent of the Governor was first published in the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary of the 23rd March, 1948.]

An Act to provide for the temporary supersession of the Corporation of Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the supersession of the Corporation of Calcutta for a short period and for carrying on the administration of the affairs of the said Corporation during the period of such supersession;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, commencement and duration.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Corporation of Calcutta (Temporary Supersession) Act, 1948.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

(3) It shall remain in force up to the 31st day of March, 1949.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) "the Act" means the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923; and Ben. Act III of 1923.

(b) "the Corporation" means the Corporation of Calcutta as constituted under the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923.

Supersession of the Corporation.

3. The Provincial Government may, if it so thinks fit, by an order published in the Official Gazette, supersede the Corporation from such date and for such period as may be specified in the order.

Consequences of supersession.

4. (1) When an order of supersession has been made under section 3, the following consequences shall ensue:—

(a) all the Councillors and Aldermen constituting the Corporation, all the members constituting the Committees thereof and the Mayor and Deputy Mayor of the Corporation shall, as from the date of supersession, vacate their offices as such Councillors, Aldermen, members of the Committees and Mayor and Deputy Mayor;

(b) all the powers, duties and functions which may, under the provisions of the Act or any rule or by-law made thereunder or of any other law for the time being in force, be exercised and performed by

The Corporation of Calcutta (Temporary Supersession) Act, 1948.

(Sections 5—9.)

the Corporation or any Committee thereof or by the Mayor or Deputy Mayor or by Councillors or Aldermen shall, during the period of supersession, be exercised and performed by such person (to be called the Administrative Officer), as may be appointed by the Provincial Government in that behalf;

(c) all property vested in the Corporation shall, during the period of supersession, vest in His Majesty for the purposes of the Province; and

(d) during the period of supersession, the rates shall not be increased and the supplementary taxation shall not be imposed by the Administrative Officer under sub-section (2) of section 96 of the Act except with the previous approval of the Provincial Government.

(2)(a) Before the expiration of the period of supersession, there shall be a fresh general election of Councillors and a fresh election of Aldermen in conformity with the provisions of the Act and the persons who vacated their offices under clause (a) of sub-section (1) shall not be deemed disqualified for such elections.

(b) On the expiration of the period of supersession, the Corporation shall be reconstituted on the results of the elections referred to in clause (a) in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

Administrative Officer.

5. (1) The Administrative Officer shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. Act XLV of 1860.

(2) The Administrative Officer shall receive such monthly salary not exceeding three thousand rupees and such monthly allowances not exceeding in the aggregate five hundred rupees as may be fixed by the Provincial Government.

(3) The salary and allowances fixed under sub-section (2) shall be paid from the Municipal Fund referred to in the Act.

The Executive Officer or Deputy Executive Officer, etc., shall be subordinate to the Administrative Officer.

6. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Act, or any rule or by-law made thereunder, the exercise or discharge by the Executive Officer or Deputy Executive Officer or Chief Engineer or Chief Accountant or Health Officer or Secretary of any powers, duties or functions vested in or imposed upon him by the provisions of the Act or any rule or by-law made thereunder shall, during the period of supersession under section 3, be subject to control and revision by the Administrative Officer.

Power of the Provincial Government to vest the Administrative Officer with additional powers and duties.

7. In addition to the powers, duties and functions conferred and imposed on the Administrative Officer under clauses (b) and (d) of sub-section (1) of section 4 and section 6, the Administrative Officer shall, during the period of supersession under section 3, also exercise and perform such other powers and duties and do such other acts as in the opinion of the Provincial Government are necessary in the interest of the rate-payers of the Corporation and as the Provincial Government may by order or otherwise direct from time to time notwithstanding anything contained in the Act or any rule or by-law made thereunder.

Indemnity.

8. The Administrative Officer shall not be liable in any Court of law for anything done or purported to be done under this Act.

Power of the Provincial Government to make orders in case of difficulty.

9. Without prejudice to the powers of the Provincial Government under section 7, the Provincial Government may by order authorise any matter or thing to be done which appears to it necessary for the purpose of carrying on the administration of the affairs of the Corporation during the period of supersession under section 3 or of reconstituting the Corporation under sub-section (2) of section 4.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 534L.—22nd March, 1948.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information :—

THE WEST BENGAL NON-AGRICULTURAL TENANCY BILL, 1948.

A BILL

to make better provision relating to the law of landlord and tenant in respect of certain non-agricultural tenancies in West Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make better provision relating to the law of landlord and tenant in respect of certain non-agricultural tenancies in West Bengal ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Non-agricultural Tenancy Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal, except—

(a) Calcutta as defined in clause (11) of section 3 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, Ben. Act III of 1923.

(b) such suburbs of Calcutta as may have been or may hereafter be notified under section 1 of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866, and are not included within Calcutta as so defined, and Ben. Act II of 1866.

(c) The Howrah Municipality as constituted under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932. Ben. Act XV of 1932.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) " Bengali year " means a year ending on the last day of the Bengali month of Chaitra ;

(2) " Collector " includes any officer appointed by the Provincial Government to perform all or any of the functions of a Collector under this Act ;

(3) " landlord " means a person immediately under whom a non-agricultural tenant holds and includes the Government ;

(4) " non-agricultural land " means land which is used for purposes not connected with agriculture or horticulture, and includes any land which is held on lease for purposes not connected with agriculture or horticulture irrespective of whether it is used for any such purposes or not, but does not include—

(a) a homestead to which the provisions of section 182 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, apply, VIII of 1885.

(b) land which was originally leased for agricultural or horticultural purposes but is being used for purposes not connected with agriculture or horticulture without the consent either express or implied of the landlord, if the period for which such land has been so used is less than twelve years, and

(c) land in the districts of Darjeeling or Jalpaiguri which is held for purposes connected with the cultivation or manufacture of tea :

Provided that where an order has been made under section 72 converting a parcel of land which is not non-agricultural land into a tenancy to which the provisions of this Act apply such land shall be deemed to be non-agricultural land ;

(5) "Non-agricultural tenant" means a person who holds non-agricultural land under another person and is, or but for a special contract would be, liable to pay rent to such person for that land but does not include any person who holds any such land on which any premises occupied by such person are situated if such premises have been erected, or are owned, by the person to whom such occupier is, or but for a special contract would be, liable to pay rent for such occupation.

Explanation.—In this clause "premises" mean any building such as a house, manufactory, warehouse, stable, shop or hut whether constructed of masonry, bricks, concrete, wood, mud, metal or any other material whatsoever and includes any land appertaining to such building.

(6) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act ;

(7) "pucca structure" means any structure constructed mainly of brick, stone or concrete or any combination of these materials ;

(8) all words and expressions used but not defined in this Act and used in the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, or the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, have the same meanings as in those Acts. VIII of 1885. IV of 1882

CHAPTER II.

CLASSES OF NON-AGRICULTURAL TENANTS.

Classes of non-agricultural tenants.

3. (1) There shall be, for the purposes of this Act, the following classes of non-agricultural tenants, namely :—

(a) tenants, and

(b) under-tenants.

(2) "Tenant" means a person who has acquired from a proprietor or a tenure-holder a right to hold non-agricultural land for any of the purposes provided in this Act, and includes also the successors in interest of persons who have acquired such a right.

(3) "Under-tenant" means a person who has acquired a right to hold non-agricultural land for any of the purposes provided in this Act either immediately or mediately under a tenant and includes also the successors in interest of persons who have acquired such a right.

Purposes for which non-agricultural tenant may hold non-agricultural land.

4. A non-agricultural tenant may hold non-agricultural land for—

(a) homestead or residential purposes ;

(b) manufacturing or business purposes ; or

(c) other purposes.

Tenancies held by a non-agricultural tenant.

5. A non-agricultural tenant shall be deemed to hold any non-agricultural land—

(a) for homestead or residential purposes if such tenant is entitled, under the terms of any agreement between himself and the landlord, to use or is actually using such land for homestead or residential purposes ;

(b) for manufacturing or business purposes if such tenant is entitled, under the terms of any agreement between himself and the landlord, to use or is actually using such land for carrying on therein any commercial or industrial enterprise or any trade or business ; and

(c) for religious or other purposes if such tenant is entitled, under the terms of any agreement between himself and the landlord, to use or is actually using such land for a religious purpose or for any purpose not connected with agriculture or horticulture other than—

(i) the purposes specified in clauses (a) and (b), and

(ii) the exercise of any forest-rights or rights over fisheries or rights to minerals in such land.

TENANTS.

Manner of use of non-agricultural lands.

6. (1) A tenant holding non-agricultural land may use such land in any manner which is not inconsistent with the purposes of the tenancy and which does not materially impair the value of such land.

(2) A tenant holding non-agricultural land comprised in any tenancy to which the provisions of section 7 or section 8 apply shall be entitled—

(a) to erect any structure including any pucca structure ;

(b) to dig any tank ; and

(c) to plant, enjoy the flowers, fruits and other products of, and fell and utilize or dispose of the timber of, any tree

on such land :

Provided that he shall not be entitled to convert any such land into a place of religious worship without the previous consent of the landlord.

(3) A tenant holding non-agricultural land comprised in any tenancy to which the provisions of section 9 apply shall be entitled—

(a) to erect any structure other than a pucca structure ;

(b) to plant, and enjoy the flowers, fruits and other products of, any tree, and

(c) to fell, and utilize or dispose of the timber of, any tree planted by him

on such land :

Provided that he shall not be entitled to convert any such land into a place of religious worship without the previous consent of the landlord.

Incidents of certain tenancies.

7. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any contract—

(1) if any non-agricultural land has been held with or without any lease having been entered into by the landlord and the tenant from before the commencement of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, or if the origin of any tenancy is unknown, or IV of 1882.

(2) if the non-agricultural land comprised in any tenancy which has been or is created after the commencement of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, has been held for a term of not less than twelve years without any lease in writing, or

(3) if any non-agricultural land has been held for a term of not less than twelve years under a lease in writing but no term is specified in such lease, or

(4) if any non-agricultural land held under a lease in writing for a period specified therein continues to be held with the express or implied consent of the landlord after the expiration of the time limited by such lease and the total period for which such land is so held is not less than twelve years, or

(5) if the landlord has allowed pucca structures to be erected on any non-agricultural land held under a lease in writing for a period specified therein, whether such structures have been erected,—

(a) before the expiration of the said period, or

(b) where such non-agricultural land continues to be held with the express or implied consent of the landlord after the expiration of the said period, during the period such non-agricultural land so continues to be held,

then—

(i) the tenant holding the non-agricultural land comprised in such tenancy shall not be ejected by his landlord from such land except on the ground that he has used such land in a manner which renders it unfit for use for the purposes of the tenancy ;

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Bill, 1948.

(Chapter III—Tenants—Clauses 8, 9.)

(ii) the interest of the tenant in the non-agricultural land comprised in such tenancy shall, in the case where such tenant dies intestate in respect of such interest, be transmitted by inheritance in the same manner as his other immovable property :

Provided that in any case in which under the law of inheritance to which such tenant is subject, his other property goes to the Crown, his interest in such land shall be extinguished, and (iii) the non-agricultural land comprised in such tenancy or a share or a portion thereof together with the interest of the tenant therein shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be capable of being transferred and bequeathed in the same manner, and to the same extent as his other immovable property.

Renewals of lease of tenancies held for not less than twelve years and succession to, and transfer of, such tenancies.

8. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any contract, where any non-agricultural land is held under a lease in writing for a term of not less than twelve years specified in such lease, the tenant holding such land shall, on the expiration of the period so specified, be entitled to the option of successive renewals of such lease on such fair and reasonable conditions as to rent as may be agreed upon between the landlord and such tenant :

Provided that no premium or salami shall be payable in respect of such renewal.

(2) If there is any dispute as to whether any condition for the renewal of a lease under sub-section (1) is fair and reasonable, the landlord or the tenant may apply in the prescribed manner to the Court, and the Court shall thereupon determine the conditions for renewal of the lease which it considers fair and reasonable in the circumstances of the case.

(3) A tenant holding non-agricultural land comprised in a tenancy to which the provisions of sub-section (1) apply shall not be ejected by his landlord from such land during the term specified in the lease, nor after the tenant has on any occasion exercised his option of renewal, during the term of such renewal except on the ground that he has used such land in a manner which renders it unfit for use for the purposes of the tenancy.

(4) The interest of the tenant in any non-agricultural land held under a lease to which the provisions of sub-section (1) apply shall, during the term specified in the lease, or where the tenant has exercised his option of renewal, during the term of such renewal—

(i) in the case where such tenant dies intestate in respect of such interest, be transmitted by inheritance in the same manner as his other immovable property :

Provided that in any case in which, under the law of inheritance to which such tenant is subject, his other property goes to the Crown, his interest in such land shall be extinguished ; and (ii) subject to the provisions of this Act, be capable of being transferred and bequeathed in the same manner and to the same extent as his other immovable property.

Incidents of non-agricultural tenancies held for less than twelve years.

9. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any contract, if any non-agricultural land has been held for a term of more than one year but less than twelve years—

(a) under a lease in writing for a term of more than one year but less than twelve years to which the provisions of clause (5) of section 7 do not apply, or

(b) without a lease in writing, or

(c) under a lease in writing but no term is specified in such lease, then the tenant holding such non-agricultural land shall be liable to ejectment on one or more of the following grounds and not otherwise, namely :—

(i) on the ground that he has used such land in a manner which renders it unfit for use for the purposes of the tenancy ;

(ii) on the ground that the term of the lease has expired in the case of tenancies of the class specified in clause (a) ;

(iii) on the ground that the tenancy has been terminated by the landlord by six months' notice in writing expiring with the end of a year of the tenancy served on the tenant in the prescribed manner in the case of tenancies of the class specified in clause (b) :

Provided that a tenant shall not be liable to ejectment on the ground specified in clause (iii) except on payment of such reasonable compensation as may be agreed upon between the landlord and the tenant or if they do not agree, as may be determined by the Court on the application of the landlord or such tenant.

(2) The interest of the tenant in any non-agricultural land to which the provisions of sub-section (1) apply shall,—

(i) in the case where such tenant dies intestate in respect of such interest, be transmitted by inheritance in the same manner as his other immovable property :

Provided that in any case in which under the law of inheritance to which such tenant is subject his other property goes to the Crown, his interest in such land shall be extinguished ; and (ii) subject to the provisions of this Act, be capable of being transferred and bequeathed in the same manner and to the same extent as his other immovable property.

Special incidents in case of misuse of non-agricultural land.

10. Notwithstanding anything elsewhere contained in this Act or in any other law for the time being in force or in any contract where any non-agricultural land held by a non-agricultural tenant or any share or portion thereof is used—

(a) for any immoral, illegal or unsocial purpose, or

(b) in any manner so as to become a source of grave danger to the public peace or public safety,

a co-sharer tenant or the landlord of the non-agricultural tenant may, if such land or share or portion is contiguous to any land in the actual possession of such co-sharer tenant or landlord, as the case may be, apply to the Court for such land or share or portion to be transferred to himself on payment of such consideration as may be determined by the Court :

Provided that if two or more persons apply under this section for such transfer, the Court shall determine the priority of the rights of the respective applicants to purchase under this section.

Enhancement of rent.

11. (1) The rent payable by a tenant in respect of any non-agricultural land shall not, except in the case where such land is held on a fixed rent or free of rent either under a contract or under a decree or order passed by a competent Court or authority, be liable to enhancement otherwise than as provided by this Act.

(2) The rent payable by a tenant may be enhanced up to such limit as the Court thinks fair and equitable in the circumstances of the case :

Provided that the rent shall not be enhanced so as to exceed the rent previously payable by the tenant by more than twelve and a half per centum.

(3) In determining a fair and equitable rent under sub-section (2) the Court shall, subject to such further provisions as may be prescribed in this behalf, take into consideration—

(a) the existing rent and the period during which it has remained without enhancement ;

(b) as far as can expediently be ascertained, the rent paid to other landlords for non-agricultural lands in the vicinity with similar advantages or of a similar description ;

(c) the market value of the non-agricultural land and the rent which would be payable if the rate were fixed at not more than four per centum of such market value ;

(d) the special conditions and incidents, if any, of the tenancy ; and

(e) any cost incurred in making any improvement to or on the non-agricultural land or in converting such land for the purpose for which it is being used according to the conditions of the tenancy.

Provisions as to enhancement on ground of landlord's improvement.

12. (1) When an enhancement is claimed on the ground of a landlord's improvement,—

(a) the Court shall not grant an enhancement unless the improvement has been registered in accordance with the provisions of this Act ; and

(b) in determining the amount of enhancement the Court shall have regard to,—

(i) the increase in the value of the non-agricultural land caused or likely to be caused by the improvement,

(ii) the cost of the improvement,

(iii) the expenditure (if any), required for utilising the improvement, and

(iv) the existing rent and the ability of the non-agricultural land to bear a higher rent.

(2) A decree under this section shall, on the application of the tenant, be subject to reconsideration in the event of the improvement not producing or ceasing to produce the estimated effect.

Power to order progressive enhancement.

13. If it thinks that an immediate increase of rent will cause hardship, the Court may direct that the enhancement shall take effect gradually at such intervals and by such increments extending over a period not exceeding five years as the Court may fix in this behalf.

Limitation of right to enhancement.

14. (1) When a tenant is admitted to the occupation of any non-agricultural land, the rent payable by such tenant in respect of such land shall not, except on the ground of landlord's improvement, be enhanced during the fifteen years next following the date on which the tenant has been so admitted to the occupation of such land.

(2) When the rent of a tenant has been enhanced by the Court or in pursuance of the conditions of a contract, it shall not be further enhanced during the fifteen years next following the date on which it has been last so enhanced and for the purposes of this section if an order of gradual enhancement of such rent has been made by a Court in accordance with the provisions of section 13, the full rent fixed by such order shall be deemed to have come into effect from the date of such order :

Provided that the landlord of such tenant may institute a suit for the enhancement of the rent of such tenancy during the said period of fifteen years on the ground of any improvement effected to the non-agricultural land comprised in such tenancy by, or wholly or partly at the expense of, such landlord during such period.

Reduction of rent.

15. The rent of a tenant may be reduced by the Court if the Court considers that the rate of rent payable by such tenant is unfair and inequitable, and in determining what rent is fair and equitable under this section the Court shall have regard to the provisions of sub-section (3) of section 11.

CHAPTER IV.

UNDER-TENANTS.

Application of Chapter.

16. The provisions of this Chapter shall apply to all under-tenants whether their tenancies were created before or after the commencement of this Act.

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Bill, 1948.

(Chapter IV—Under-tenants—Clauses 17—21.)

Terms on which an under-tenant may be admitted to occupation of non-agricultural land.

17. An under-tenant may be admitted to the occupation of any non-agricultural land on such terms and conditions consistent with the provisions of this Act as may be agreed upon between himself and his landlord.

Rate of rent payable by an under-tenant.

18. An under-tenant shall be liable to pay such rate of rent for the non-agricultural land comprised in his tenancy as has been agreed upon between himself and his landlord at the time of his admission to the occupation of such land :

Provided that the rate of rent payable in respect of the non-agricultural land comprised in any tenancy by an under-tenant who has been admitted to occupation of such land after the commencement of this Act shall not, except in the case where such land is held on a fixed rent or free of rent by the tenant under whom such under-tenant holds, exceed one and a half times the rate of rent payable by such tenant in respect of such land.

Enhancement of rent.

19. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any contract, the rent of an under-tenant shall be liable to enhancement up to a limit not exceeding one and a half times the rent for the time being payable in respect of the non-agricultural land comprised in the tenancy of such under-tenant by the tenant under whom such under-tenant holds in the case where such tenant does not hold such land at a fixed rent or free of rent, and up to such limit as the Court may, subject to such provisions as may be prescribed in this behalf, think fair and equitable in other cases.

(2) For the purposes of sub-section (1) the rent for the time being payable in respect of the non-agricultural land comprised in the tenancy of an under-tenant by the tenant under whom such under-tenant holds shall, in the case where such under-tenant has been admitted to the occupation of only a portion of the land comprised in the tenancy of such tenant, be determined in such manner as may be prescribed.

Ejectment of an under-tenant.

20. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any contract, an under-tenant shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be liable to ejectment on one or more of the following grounds, and not otherwise, namely :—

(a) on the ground that he has used the non-agricultural land comprised in his tenancy in a manner which renders it unfit for use for the purposes of the tenancy ;

(b) on the ground that the term of his lease has expired when he holds the non-agricultural land under a written lease :

Provided that in the case where any non-agricultural land is held by an under-tenant without a lease in writing or under a lease in writing but no term is specified in such lease, it shall be also lawful for his landlord to eject him from such land after having given him six months' notice in writing expiring with the end of a year of the tenancy, and on payment of such reasonable compensation as may be agreed upon between the landlord and the under-tenant, or in the case where they do not agree, as may be determined by the Court on the application of the landlord or such under-tenant.

Other incidents of tenancies of under-tenants.

21. The interest of an under-tenant in any non-agricultural land shall,—

(a) in the case where such under-tenant dies intestate in respect of such interest, be transmitted by inheritance in the same manner as his other immovable property :

Provided that in any case in which under the law of inheritance to which such under-tenant is subject his other property goes to the Crown, his interest in such land shall be extinguished ; and (b) subject to the provisions of this Act, be capable of being transferred and bequeathed in the same manner and to the same extent as his other immovable property.

Special incidents of a permanent tenancy of an under-tenant.

22. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any contract, where the conditions referred to in clauses (1), (2), (3), (4) or (5) of section 7 are fulfilled in relation to the tenancy of an under-tenant or where any non-agricultural land is held by an under-tenant under a lease in writing for a term of not less than twelve years specified in such lease, such under-tenant shall have as regards his immediate landlord all the rights and liabilities of a tenant as set forth in section 7 or section 8, as the case may be, and the provisions of sections 6, and 10 to 15 shall apply and the provisions of sections 18, 19 and 20, in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this section, shall not apply, to such under-tenant and the provisions of section 10 shall apply to an under-tenant also in any other case.

CHAPTER V.

PROVISIONS AS TO TRANSFER OF NON-AGRICULTURAL LAND.

Manner of transfer of non-agricultural land and notices to landlords.

23. (1) Every transfer of non-agricultural land held by a non-agricultural tenant or of any portion or share thereof shall, except in the case of a bequest or a sale in execution of a decree or of a certificate signed under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, be made by registered instrument, and a Registering Officer shall not accept for registration any such instrument unless the sale price or, where there is no sale-price, the value of the land or portion or share thereof transferred is stated therein, and unless it is accompanied by— Ben. Act III of 1913.

(a) a notice giving the particulars of the transfer in the prescribed form, together with the process fee prescribed for the service thereof on the landlord who is not a party to the transfer, and

(b) such notices and process fees as may be required by sub-section (4).

(2) In the case of a bequest of such land or portion or share thereof, no Court shall grant probate or letters of administration until the applicant files a notice similar to, and deposits a process fee of the same amount as, that referred to in clause (a) of sub-section (1).

(3) A Court or Revenue Officer shall not confirm the sale of such land or portion or share thereof put to sale in execution of a decree or a certificate signed under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, and no Court shall make a decree or order absolute for foreclosure of a mortgage of such land or portion or share thereof until the purchaser or the mortgagee, as the case may be, files a notice similar to and deposits a process fee of the same amount as that referred to in sub-section (1).

(4) If the transfer of a portion or share of such land be one to which the provisions of section 24 apply there shall be filed notices giving particulars of the transfer in the prescribed form together with process fees prescribed for the service thereof on all co-sharer tenants of such land who are not parties to the transfer.

(5) The Court, Revenue Officer or Registering Officer, as the case may be, shall in the prescribed manner serve the notices for which this section provides and after service of such notice the landlord shall not refuse to recognise the transferee as the tenant in respect of the land or portion or share thereof transferred nor omit to enter the name of the transferee in the rent roll of the landlord in place of that of the transferor or, where only a portion or share of the interest of the transferor has been transferred, along with the name of the transferor.

Power of the co-sharer or the immediate landlord of transferor to purchase.

24. (1) If a portion or share of the non-agricultural land held by a non-agricultural tenant is transferred, one or more co-sharer tenants of such land, or if the non-agricultural land held by a non-agricultural tenant or a portion or share thereof is transferred, the immediate landlord of such non-agricultural tenant may within four months of the service of notice issued under section 23 apply to the Court for such portion or share or for such land or portion or share, to be transferred to himself or to themselves, as the case may be:

Provided that—

(a) if both the co-sharer tenant and the landlord apply under this section and comply with the provisions herein contained the co-sharer tenant shall have the prior right to purchase under this section;

(b) the immediate landlord of the non-agricultural tenant shall not have any right to purchase under this section unless the non-agricultural land or the share or portion thereof so transferred is contiguous to any land in the actual possession of the landlord and the Court is satisfied that such land or share or portion thereof is required for use by such landlord for any of the purposes specified in section 4; and

(c) in the case of a transfer in execution of a decree or certificate signed under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, for arrears of rent due in respect of such land, the immediate landlord of the non-agricultural tenant shall not have any right to purchase under this section. Ben. Act III of 1913.

(2) The application under sub-section (1) shall be dismissed unless the applicant at the time of making it deposits in Court the amount of the consideration money or the value of the property or the portion or share thereof transferred as stated in the notice served on the applicant under section 23 together with compensation at the rate of five per centum of such amount.

(3) If such deposit is made, the Court shall give notice to the transferee to appear within such period as it may fix and to state what other sums he has paid in respect of rent for the period after the date of transfer or in annulling encumbrances on the property. The Court shall then direct the applicant, including any person whose application under sub-section (4) is granted, to deposit within such period as the Court thinks reasonable such amount as the transferee has paid on this account together with interest at the rate of six and a quarter per centum per annum with effect from the date on which the transferee made such payments.

(4) (a) When an application has been made by one or more co-sharer tenants under sub-section (1) any of the remaining co-sharer tenants including the transferee, if one of them, may within the period of four months referred to in the said sub-section or within one month of the application, whichever is later, apply to join in the said application, and any co-sharer tenant who has not applied under sub-section (1) or has not applied to join under this sub-section, shall not have any further right to purchase under this section.

(b) Such application to join as a co-applicant shall be dismissed unless within such period as the Court may fix, the applicant deposits in Court for payment to the applicant under sub-section (1), such sum, as the Court shall determine as the share to be paid by him for the purposes of sub-section (2). If such deposit is made, the Court shall grant the application to join and thereafter such applicant shall be deemed to be an applicant under sub-section (1).

(5) If the deposits required under sub-section (2) or clause (b) of sub-section (4), as the case may be, and under sub-section (3) are made, and, in the case where the application is made by the immediate landlord, the Court is satisfied that the conditions referred to in sub-section (1) have been fulfilled the Court shall make an order allowing the application and directing that the deposits made under sub-sections (2) and (3) shall be paid to the transferee or to such persons as the Court thinks fit:

Provided that if both the immediate landlord and the co-sharer tenant have applied under this section and the application of the co-sharer tenant is allowed under this sub-section, the application of the immediate landlord shall be dismissed.

(6) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force the Court shall, if the applicant under sub-section (1) or any person whose application under sub-section (4) is granted disputes the correctness of the amount of the consideration money as stated in the notice issued under section 23, inquire into such dispute before making an order under sub-section (5) and after giving the transferee an opportunity of being heard determine for the purposes of this section the amount of the consideration money which the transferee has actually paid for the transfer

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Bill, 1948.

(Chapter V—Provisions as to transfer of non-agricultural land—Clause 25.) of the property or the portion or share thereof, as the case may be, and the amount so determined shall be deemed to be the consideration money referred to in sub-section (2) and where the amount of the consideration money has been so determined the deposit made under that sub-section shall for the purposes of sub-section (5) be the amount so determined together with the compensation at the rate of five per centum of such amount.

(7) In making an order under sub-section (5) in favour of more than one co-sharer tenant, the Court may apportion the property comprised in the portion or share transferred among the applicants in such manner as it deems equitable after taking existing possession into consideration ; the Court shall so apportion the said property or portion thereof on the request of any applicant and, in this case, may require the applicant who makes such request to deposit, within such period as the Court may fix, such further sums as the Court considers necessary for equitable distribution among the remaining applicants :

Provided that no apportionment order under this sub-section shall operate as a division of the tenancy.

(8) From the date of the making of the order under sub-section (5)—

(i) the right, title and interest in the non-agricultural land or portion or share thereof accruing to the transferee from the transfer shall subject to any orders passed under sub-section (7), be deemed to have vested free from all encumbrances which have been annulled or created after the date of transfer, in the immediate landlord or in the co-sharer tenant, as the case may be, whose application to purchase has been allowed under this section,

(ii) the liability of the transferee for the rent due from him on account of the transfer shall cease, and

(iii) the Court, on further application of such applicant, may place him in possession of the property vested in him.

(9) An appeal from any order of a Court under this section shall lie to the Civil Appellate Court having jurisdiction to entertain such appeals.

(10) Nothing in this section shall take away the right of pre-emption conferred on any person by Muhammadan Law.

(11) Nothing in this section shall apply to—

(a) a transfer to a co-sharer in the tenancy whose existing interest has accrued otherwise than by purchase, or

(b) a transfer by exchange, sub-lease or partition, or

(c) a transfer by bequest or gift (including heba but excluding heba-bil-ewaz for any pecuniary consideration) in favour of the husband or wife of the testator or the donor or of any relation by consanguinity within three degrees of the testator or donor, or

(d) a wakf in accordance with the provisions of the Muhammadan Law, or (e) a debutter or any other dedication for religious or charitable purposes without any reservation of pecuniary benefit for any individual.

Explanation.—A relation by consanguinity shall, for the purposes of this sub-section, include a son adopted under the Hindu Law.

Saving as to statements in instruments of transfer where landlord is not a party.

25. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, nothing contained in any instrument of transfer to which the landlord is not a party shall be evidence against the landlord of the permanence, the amount or fixity of rent, the area, the transferability or any incident of any tenancy referred to in such instrument. I of 1872.

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Bill, 1948.

(Chapter V—Provisions as to transfer of non-agricultural land—Chapter VI—Record-of-rights and settlement of rents—Clauses 26—30).

Interpretation.

26. (1) In this chapter "transferee", "purchaser" and "mortgagee" include their successors in interest.

(2) In section 23,—

(a) "transfer" does not include partition or a sub-lease, or, until a decree or order absolute for foreclosure is made, simple or usufructuary mortgage or mortgage by conditional sale;

(b) "transferor" includes a person whose interest in any non-agricultural land or portion or share thereof has terminated in the circumstances mentioned in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) of that section.

CHAPTER VI.

RECORD-OF-RIGHTS AND SETTLEMENT OF RENTS.

Power to order survey and preparation of record-of-rights.

27. The Provincial Government may in any case and in particular, in any of the cases specified in sub-section (2) of section 101 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, if it thinks fit, make an order directing that a survey be made and a record-of-rights be prepared by a Revenue-officer in respect of all non-agricultural lands in any local area, estate or tenure or part thereof whether or not the said Act extends to such area, estate, tenure or part. VIII 1885

Applicability of the provisions of Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

28. When an order under section 27 has been made,—

(a) the particulars to be recorded shall be specified in the order and may include, either without or in addition to other particulars, any of those particulars specified in section 102 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885;

(b) subject to any rules made under this Act, all the provisions of Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and the rules made thereunder shall, in so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, apply as if such order is an order made under section 101 of the said Act in respect of lands used for purposes connected with agriculture or horticulture.

Order for estimate of fair and equitable rents of non-agricultural lands and preparation of a settlement rent-roll.

29. When an order has been made under section 27 in respect of any local area, estate or tenure or part thereof of which a settlement of land revenue is being or is about to be made, the Provincial Government may make an order directing the Revenue-officer, after recording under section 28 those particulars which are relevant and after publication of the draft of the record-of-rights—

(a) to estimate fair and equitable rents for non-agricultural tenants of every class in accordance with the provisions of this Act, and

(b) to estimate the rental value for all or any non-agricultural lands which are held khas by a landlord, in such local area, estate or tenure or part thereof, and then to prepare in the prescribed form and manner a settlement rent-roll in which the rents and rental values so estimated together with such other particulars as may be prescribed shall be specified.

Procedure where both non-agricultural and other lands are concerned.

30. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, when an order has been made under section 29 directing a Revenue-officer to prepare a settlement rent-roll in respect of non-agricultural lands in any local area, estate or tenure or part thereof—

(a) the rents of such non agricultural lands shall not be settled under Part II of Chapter X of the said Act; and

(b) where any of such non-agricultural lands are comprised in a tenancy which includes lands other than non-agricultural lands, the Revenue-officer shall—

(i) divide the tenancy so as to constitute separate tenancies for the non-agricultural lands and the other lands;

(ii) apportion the existing rent between the tenancies so constituted; and

(iii) estimate fair and equitable rents for the non-agricultural lands in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Publication of settlement rent-roll, hearing of objections and confirmation.

31. (1) When an order has been made under section 29 for the preparation of a settlement rent-roll, the Revenue-officer shall prepare such rent-roll in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and shall cause a draft of it to be published in the prescribed manner and for the prescribed period and shall receive and consider any objections made in regard to any entry therein or omission therefrom during the period of publication and shall dispose of such objections according to such rules as the Provincial Government may make.

(2) The Revenue-officer may, of his own motion or on the application of any party aggrieved, at any time before a settlement rent-roll is submitted to the confirming authority under section 32, revise any entry therein :

Provided that no such entry shall be revised until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Final revision of settlement rent-roll and its confirmation by prescribed Revenue authority.

32. (1) When all objections have been disposed of under section 31, the Revenue-officer shall submit the settlement rent-roll to the prescribed Revenue authority for confirmation with a full statement of the grounds for his proposals and a summary of the objections (if any) which he has received.

(2) Such authority may confirm the settlement rent-roll with or without amendment or may return it for revision :

Provided that no entry shall be amended or omission supplied until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

(3) After confirmation by such authority the Revenue-officer shall cause the date of confirmation to be published in the prescribed manner and thereafter the settlement rent-roll shall be open to inspection at such place and times as may be prescribed.

Appeals.

33. (1) Any person who is aggrieved by any entry in or omission from a settlement rent-roll confirmed under section 32 may appeal to the prescribed Revenue authority and from the decision of such authority to the Board of Revenue in the manner and within the period prescribed in this behalf.

(2) No Civil Court shall annul or alter any decision of a Revenue-officer, a Revenue authority or the Board of Revenue under section 30 or section 31 or section 32 or sub-section (1) of this section except as provided in section 34.

Suits.

34. (1) Any person who is aggrieved by any entry in or omission from a settlement rent-roll confirmed under section 32 may institute a suit in the Civil Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the possession of the land to which the entry relates or in respect of which the omission was made.

(2) Such suit shall be instituted within six months from the date of confirmation of the settlement rent-roll or from the date of the certificate of final publication of the record-of-rights, whichever is later, or, if an appeal has been presented under section 33, within three months from the date of the disposal of such appeal.

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Bill, 1948.

(Chapter VI—Record-of-rights and settlement of rents—Clauses 35—39.)

(3) Such suit may be instituted on any of the following grounds and on no other ground, namely :—

(a) that the land is not liable to the payment of rent ;

(b) that the land although entered in the record-of-rights as being held rent-free is liable to the payment of rent ;

(c) that the relation of landlord and tenant does not exist ;

(d) that in the record-of-rights the land has been wrongly recorded as part of a particular estate or tenancy or wrongly omitted from the lands of any estate or tenancy ;

(e) that in the record-of-rights there has been any omission of an under-tenant or such under-tenant has been wrongly recorded as holding the land rent-free ;

(f) that in the record-of-rights the special conditions and incidents of the tenancy have not been recorded or have been wrongly recorded ;

(g) that in the record-of-rights any right of way or other easement attached to the land has not been recorded or has been wrongly recorded ;

(h) that the land has been wrongly recorded in the settlement rent-roll as non-agricultural land ; and

(i) that there has been an omission to estimate fair and equitable rents in respect of any land under this Act.

(4) When a Civil Court has passed final orders or a decree under this section it shall notify the same to the Collector.

Notification of order under section 27 or section 29 to be conclusive evidence.

35. A notification in the Official Gazette of an order under section 27 or of an order under section 29 shall be conclusive evidence that the order has been duly made.

Presumption of rents settled under sections 30 to 33.

36. Subject to the provisions of section 34, all rents entered in a settlement rent-roll confirmed under section 32 or settled under section 33 shall be deemed to have been correctly settled and to be fair and equitable rents within the meaning of this Act.

Correction of settlement rent-roll.

37. The Revenue-officer may at any time correct any bona fide clerical mistake in or omission from the settlement rent-roll and shall make such alterations in the same as may be necessary to give effect to any decision under sub-section (1) of section 33 or section 34.

Settlement of rents in respect of non-agricultural lands by Revenue-officers in the case where a settlement of land revenue is not being or is not about to be made.

38. Where an order has been made under section 27 for the preparation of a record-of-rights in respect of all non-agricultural lands in any local area, estate or tenure or part thereof of which a settlement of land revenue is not being made or is not about to be made, the Revenue-officer shall, in settling the rents of such non-agricultural lands under sections 105 and 105A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, have regard to the provisions of this Act as to the determination of a fair and equitable rent and to such rules as may be made in this behalf under this Act.

VIII of 1885.

Stay of proceedings in Civil Court during preparation of record-of-rights under section 27.

39. When an order has been made under section 27, directing the preparation of a record-of-rights, then, subject to the provisions of section 34, a Civil Court shall not,—

(a) where a settlement of land revenue is being or is about to be made—until after the final publication of the record-of-rights, and

(b) where a settlement of land revenue is not being made or is not about to be made—until four months after the final publication of the record-of-rights, entertain any suit or application for the alteration of the rent or the determination of the status of any non-agricultural tenant in the area to which the record-of-rights applies.

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Bill, 1948.

(Chapter VI—Record-of-rights and Settlement of rents—Chapter VII—General Provisions as to rent of non-agricultural tenancies.—Clauses 40—45.)

Date from which settled rents take effect.

40. When a rent is settled by a Revenue-officer under this Chapter or under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, after an order under section 27 has been made, such rent shall take effect from such date as may be fixed by the Revenue-officer. VIII of 1885.

Period for which rents as settled are to remain unaltered.

41. (1) When the rent of the non-agricultural land comprised in a tenancy is settled under this Chapter, or under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, after an order under section 27 has been made, it shall not, except on the ground of a landlord's improvement or of a subsequent alteration in the area of such land, be enhanced, in the case where such land is held by a tenant or by an under-tenant having under section 22 the rights and liabilities of a tenant, for fifteen years, and in the case where such land is held by an under-tenant having no such rights and liabilities, for five years ; and no such rent shall be reduced within the period aforesaid save on the ground of alteration in the area of the non-agricultural land comprised within the tenancy.

(2) The said periods of fifteen years and five years shall be counted from the date on which the rent settled takes effect under this Chapter.

Interpretation.

42. In this Chapter—

(a) "Revenue-officer" includes any officer whom the Provincial Government may appoint to discharge all or any of the functions of a Revenue-officer under that Chapter ;

(b) the term "settlement of land-revenue" includes a settlement of rent in an estate or tenure which belongs to the Crown.

CHAPTER VII.

General Provisions as to rent of non-agricultural tenancies.

Payment of rent.

Rent to be paid yearly.

43. Subject to agreement, a money-rent payable by a non-agricultural tenant shall be paid yearly according to the Bengali year and shall fall due on the last day of the Bengali year in respect of which it is paid.

Time and place for payment of rent.

44. (1) Every non-agricultural tenant shall pay or tender the yearly rent before sunset of the day on which it falls due :

Provided that the non-agricultural tenant may pay or tender the rent payable for the year at any time during the year before it falls due.

(2) The payment or tender of rent may be made—

(i) at the landlord's local office or at such other convenient place as may be appointed in that behalf by the landlord ; or (ii) by postal money-order in the manner prescribed.

A tender may also be made by depositing the rent in Court in accordance with the provisions of section 51.

(3) Where rent is sent by postal money-order in the manner prescribed, the Court may presume until the contrary is proved that a tender has been made.

(4) When a landlord accepts rent sent by postal money-order, the fact of this acceptance shall not be used in any way as evidence that he has admitted as correct any of the particulars set forth in the postal money-order form.

(5) Any yearly rent or part of any yearly rent not duly paid at or before the time when it falls due shall be deemed to be an arrear.

Appropriation of payments.

45. (1) When a non-agricultural tenant makes a payment on account of rent, he may declare the year or years in respect of which he wishes the payment to be credited, and the payment shall be credited accordingly.

(2) If he does not make any such declaration, the payment may be credited to the account of such year or years as the landlord thinks fit.

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Bill, 1948.

(Chapter VII—General Provisions as to rent of non-agricultural tenancies.—Clauses 46—48.)

Receipts and accounts.

Non-agricultural tenant making payment to his landlord entitled to a receipt.

46. (1) Every non-agricultural tenant who makes a payment on account of rent to his landlord shall be entitled to obtain forthwith a written receipt for such payment either from such landlord, or, where the agent of such landlord has been authorised in writing by such landlord to issue and sign such receipts on behalf of such landlord, from such agent.

(2) The landlord or such agent, as the case may be, shall prepare and retain a counterfoil of the receipt.

(3) The receipt and counterfoil shall be in such form and shall specify such particulars as may be prescribed either generally or for any particular local area or class of cases.

(4) If a receipt does not contain substantially the particulars required by this section, it shall be presumed, until the contrary is shown, to be an acquittance in full of all demands for rent up to the date on which the receipt was given.

Non-agricultural tenant entitled to full discharge or statement of account at close of year.

47. (1) Where a landlord admits that all rent payable by a non-agricultural tenant to the end of the Bengali year has been paid, the non-agricultural tenant shall be entitled to receive free of charge, within three months after the end of the year, a receipt in full discharge of all rent falling due to the end of the year, either from the landlord, or, where the agent of such landlord has been authorised in writing to issue and sign such receipts on behalf of such landlord, from such agent.

(2) Where the landlord does not so admit, the non agricultural tenant shall be entitled, on paying a fee of four annas, to receive, within three months after the end of the year, a statement of account in such form and specifying such particulars as may be prescribed either generally or for any particular local area or class of cases.

(3) The landlord or such agent, as the case may be, shall prepare and retain a copy of the statement containing similar particulars.

Penalties and fine for withholding receipts and statements of account and failing to keep counterparts.

48. (1) If a landlord or his agent without reasonable cause refuses or neglects to deliver to a non-agricultural tenant a receipt in accordance with the provisions of section 46 for any rent paid by the non-agricultural tenant, such tenant may, within three months from the date of payment, institute a suit to recover from such landlord or agent, as the case may be, such penalty, not exceeding double the amount or value of that rent, as the Court thinks fit.

(2) If a landlord or his agent without reasonable cause refuses or neglects to deliver to a non-agricultural tenant demanding the same either the receipt in full discharge or, if the non-agricultural tenant is not entitled to such a receipt, the statement of account for any year required by section 47, such tenant may, within the next ensuing Bengali year, institute a suit to recover from such landlord or agent, as the case may be, such penalty as the Court thinks fit, not exceeding double the aggregate amount or value of all rent paid by such tenant to the landlord during the year for which the receipt or account should have been delivered.

(3) If a landlord or his agent, without reasonable cause, fails to deliver to the non-agricultural tenant a receipt or statement or to prepare and retain a counterfoil or copy of a receipt or statement, as required by either of the said sections, such landlord or agent, as the case may be, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, to be imposed, after summary inquiry, by the Collector.

(4) The Collector may hold a summary inquiry under sub-section (3), either on information received from a Revenue-officer within one year, or upon complaint of the party aggrieved made within three months, from the date of failure, or upon the report of a Civil Court.

(5) Where, in any case instituted under sub-section (3), the Collector discharges any landlord or agent, and is satisfied that the complaint of the non-agricultural tenant on which the proceedings were instituted is false or vexatious, the Collector may, in his discretion, by his order of discharge, direct the non-agricultural tenant to pay to such landlord or agent such compensation, not exceeding fifty rupees, as the Collector thinks fit.

(6) An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division against any order of the Collector imposing a fine under sub-section (3) or awarding compensation under sub-section (5); and the order passed by the Commissioner on such appeal shall, subject to any order which may be passed on revision by the Board of Revenue, be final.

(7) Any fine imposed or compensation awarded under this section may be recovered in the manner provided by any law for the time being in force for the recovery of a public demand.

(8) For the purpose of an inquiry under this section the Collector shall have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and compel the production of documents in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Act V of 1908.

(9) The existence of a dispute as to the rent or area of a tenancy on account of which rent is paid shall not be deemed to be a reasonable cause for refusing, neglecting or otherwise failing to deliver—

(a) a receipt for any amount actually paid on account of rent, or

(b) the statement of account required by section 47, and the refusal of the non-agricultural tenant to accept the receipt shall not be deemed to be a reasonable cause for failing to prepare and retain a counterfoil of such receipt as required by section 46.

Provincial Government to prepare forms of receipt and account.

49. (1) The Provincial Government shall cause to be prepared and kept for sale to landlords at all subdivisional offices forms of receipts with counterfoils and of statements of account suitable for use under sections 46 and 47.

(2) The forms may be sold in books with the leaves consecutively numbered or otherwise as the Provincial Government thinks fit.

Effect of receipt by registered proprietor, manager or mortgagee.

50. Where rent is due to the proprietor, manager or mortgagee of an estate, the receipt of the person registered under the Land Registration Act, 1876, as proprietor, manager or mortgagee of that estate, or of his agent authorised in that behalf, shall be a sufficient discharge for the rent; and the non-agricultural tenant liable for the rent shall not be entitled to plead in defence to a claim by the person so registered that the rent is due to any third person: Ben. Act VII of 1876.

Provided that nothing in this section shall affect any remedy which any such third person may have against the registered proprietor, manager or mortgagee.

Deposit of rent.

Application to deposit rent in Court.

51. (1) In any of the following cases, namely:—

(a) when a non-agricultural tenant tenders money on account of rent and the landlord refuses to receive it or refuses to grant a receipt for it;

(b) when a non-agricultural tenant bound to pay money on account of rent has reason to believe, owing to a tender having been refused or a receipt withheld on a previous occasion, that the person to whom his rent is payable will not be willing to receive it and to grant him a receipt for it;

(c) when the rent is payable to co-sharers jointly and the non-agricultural tenant is unable to obtain the joint receipt of the co-sharers for the money and no person has been empowered to receive the rent on their behalf; or

(d) when the non-agricultural tenant entertains a bona fide doubt as to who is entitled to receive the rent, the non-agricultural tenant may present to the Court having jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the rent of his tenancy an application in writing for permission to deposit in the Court a sum not less than the amount of the money then due.

(2) The application shall—

(a) contain a statement of the grounds on which it is made;

(b) state—

(i) in the cases referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (1) the name of the person to whose credit the deposit is to be entered,

(ii) in the case referred to in clause (c) of that sub-section, the names of the co-sharers to whom the rent is due, or of so many of them as the non-agricultural tenant may be able to specify, and

(iii) in the case referred to in clause (d) of that sub-section, the names of the person to whom the rent was last paid and of the person or persons now claiming it;

(c) be signed and verified in the manner provided in sub-rules (2) and (3) of rule 15 of Order VI in Schedule I to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, by the non-agricultural tenant, or, where he is not personally cognizant of the facts of the case, by some person so cognizant; and Act V of 1908.

(d) be accompanied, in the cases referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (1) by the prescribed cost of transmission of the money deposited to the landlord and in the cases referred to in clauses (c) and (d) of that sub-section by a fee of the prescribed amount.

Receipt granted by Court for rent deposited to be a valid acquittance.

52. (1) If it appears to the Court to which an application is made under section 51 that the applicant is entitled under that section to deposit the rent, it shall receive the rent and give a receipt for it under the seal of the Court.

(2) A receipt given under this section shall operate as an acquittance for the amount of the rent payable by the non-agricultural tenant and deposited as aforesaid in the same manner and to the same extent as if that amount of rent had been received—in the cases referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (1) of section 51 by the person specified in the application as the person to whose credit the deposit was to be entered; in the case referred to in clause (c) of that sub-section, by the co-sharers to whom the rent is due; and in the case referred to in clause (d) of that sub-section, by the person entitled to the rent.

Procedure for payment to the landlord of rent deposited.

53. The Court receiving a deposit—

(i) in the case referred to in clause (a) or in clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 51 shall forthwith forward the same by postal money-order to the address of the landlord; and

(ii) in the case referred to in clause (c) or in clause (d) of that sub-section shall forthwith cause to be affixed in a conspicuous place at the Court-house a notification of the receipt thereof containing a statement of all material particulars, and, if the amount of the deposit is not paid away under section 54 within the period of fifteen days next following the date on which the notification is so affixed, the Court shall forthwith in the case referred to in clause (c) of that sub-section cause a notice of the receipt of the deposit to be posted free of charge at the landlord's local office, if any, and in some conspicuous place in the village or town in which the non-agricultural land comprised within the tenancy or any portion thereof is situated, and in the case referred to in clause (d) of that sub-section cause a like notice to be served free of charge on every person who it has reason to believe claims, or is entitled to, the deposit.

Payment or refund of deposit.

54. (1) The Court may pay the amount of the deposit notified under section 53 to any person appearing to it to be entitled to the same, or may, if it thinks fit, retain the amount pending the decision of a Civil Court as to the person so entitled.

(2) If no payment is made under clause (i) of section 53 or under sub-section (1) before the expiration of three years from the date on which a deposit is made, the amount deposited may, in the absence of any order of a Civil Court to the contrary, be repaid to the depositor upon his application and on his returning the receipt given by the Court with which the rent was deposited.

(3) No suit or other proceeding shall be instituted against the Crown or against any officer of the Crown, in respect of anything done by a Court receiving a deposit under section 52 but nothing in this section shall prevent any person entitled to receive the amount of any such deposit from recovering the same from a person to whom it has been paid under this section.

Penalty for refusing to receive rent.

Penalty for refusing to receive rent tendered by postal money-order or deposited.

55. If a landlord or his agent refuses without reasonable cause to receive payment of rent remitted by postal money-order or deposited in Court, the landlord shall be precluded from recovering, by suit, interest, costs or damages in respect of the same, and the Court may in addition award to the non-agricultural tenant damages not exceeding twelve and a half per centum on the whole amount claimed by the plaintiff.

The plea of the existence of any dispute as to the amount of rent of or the area of the land comprised in the tenancy shall not be deemed to be a reasonable cause under this section :

Provided that, when a landlord accepts rent, which has been deposited, or remitted by postal money-order, the fact of his acceptance shall not be used in any way as evidence that he has admitted as correct any of the particulars set forth in the application for permission to deposit or in the postal money-order form.

Arrears of rent.

Liability to sale for arrears.

56. A non-agricultural tenant shall not be liable to ejectment for arrears of rent, but his tenancy shall be liable to sale in execution of a decree for the rent thereof, and the rent shall be a first charge thereon.

Interest on arrears.

57. (1) An arrear of rent shall bear simple interest at the rate of six and a quarter per centum per annum from the expiration of the Bengali year in which the rent falls due to the date of payment or of the institution of the suit, whichever date is earlier.

(2) Nothing in any contract between a landlord and a non-agricultural tenant made before or after the commencement of this Act shall affect the provisions of sub-section (1) relating to interest payable on arrears of rent.

Power to award damages on rent withheld without reasonable cause, or to defendant improperly sued for rent.

58. (1) If, in any suit brought for the recovery of arrears of rent, it appears to the Court that the defendant has, without reasonable or probable cause, neglected or refused to pay the amount of rent due by him, the Court may award to the plaintiff, in addition to the amount decreed for rent and costs, such damages, not exceeding twelve and a half per centum on the amount of rent decreed, as it thinks fit :

Provided that interest shall not be decreed when damages are awarded under this section :

Provided also that where damages are awarded—

(i) the amount of such damages shall not be less than the interest accruing up to the date of the institution of the suit, and

(ii) interest on the arrear may be awarded from the date of the institution of the suit up to the date of payment at such rate as the Court directs.

(2) If, in any suit brought for the recovery of arrears of rent, it appears to the Court that the plaintiff has instituted the suit without reasonable or probable cause, the Court may award to the defendant, by way of damages, such sum, not exceeding twelve and a half per centum on the whole amount claimed by the plaintiff, as it thinks fit.

Liability for rent on change of landlord or after transfer of tenancy.

Non-agricultural tenant not liable to transferee of landlord's interest for rent paid to former landlord without notice of the transfer.

59. (1) A non-agricultural tenant shall not, when his landlord's interest is transferred, be liable to the transferee for rent which became due after the transfer and was paid to the landlord whose interest was so transferred, unless the transferee has before the payment given notice of the transfer to the non-agricultural tenant.

(2) Where there is more than one non-agricultural tenant paying rent to the landlord whose interest is transferred, a general notice from the transferee to the non-agricultural tenants published in the prescribed manner shall be a sufficient notice for the purposes of this section.

Liability for rent before transfer of tenancies.

60. When a non-agricultural tenant transfers his tenancy in whole or in part, the transferor and transferee shall be jointly and severally liable to the landlord for arrears of rent due before the transfer:

Provided that the transferor shall not be liable to the landlord for such arrears of rent if the transferee has agreed to pay such arrears to the landlord and the fact has been mentioned in the instrument of transfer.

Illegal impositions.

Abwab, etc., illegal.

61. All impositions upon non-agricultural tenants under the denomination of abwab, mathat or other like appellations, in addition to the actual rent, shall be illegal, and all stipulations and reservations for the payment of such shall be void.

Fine for realisation of abwab, etc.

62. (1) If a landlord or his agent realises from a non-agricultural tenant any imposition declared under section 61 to be illegal, such landlord or agent, as the case may be, shall be liable to the same fine, to be imposed in the same manner, as in sub-section (3) of section 48, and the provisions of sub-sections (4), (7) and (8) of the said section relating to inquiry, fine and procedure shall, mutatis mutandis and so far as may be, apply to proceedings under this section.

(2) An appeal shall lie to the District Judge against an order imposing a fine under this section, and the order passed by the District Judge on such appeal shall be final.

(3) The imposition of a fine on a landlord or landlord's agent under this section shall not operate as a bar to the institution of a suit under section 63.

Penalty for exaction by landlord from non-agricultural tenant of sum in excess of the rent payable.

63. Every non-agricultural tenant from whom, except under any special enactment for the time being in force, any sum of money is exacted by his landlord in excess of the rent or interest lawfully payable, may, within six months from the date of the exaction, institute a suit to recover from the landlord, in addition to the amount so exacted, such sum by way of penalty as the Court thinks fit, not exceeding two hundred rupees; or, when double the amount so exacted exceeds two hundred rupees, not exceeding double that amount.

CHAPTER VIII.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Definition of "improvement."

64. For the purposes of this Act the term "improvement" used with reference to a tenancy shall mean any work which adds to the value of the non-agricultural land comprised in the tenancy, which is suitable to such land and consistent with any of the purposes specified in section 4 for which it is being used and which, if not executed on such land, is either executed directly for its benefit, or is, after execution, made directly beneficial to it, and subject to the foregoing provisions, shall include the following, namely :—

(a) laying out of passages or roads,

(b) providing open spaces for ventilation,

(c) providing facilities for taking water,

(d) laying out drainage connections, but shall not include any work executed by a non-agricultural tenant if it substantially diminishes the value of his landlord's property.

Rights to make improvements.

65. (1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), neither the non-agricultural tenant nor his landlord shall, as such, be entitled to prevent the other from making an improvement in respect of the tenancy.

(2) If both the non-agricultural tenant and his landlord wish to make the same improvement the non-agricultural tenant shall have the prior right to make it, unless it affects another tenancy or other tenancies under the same landlord.

(3) Any fee realised from a non-agricultural tenant for permission to make any improvement in respect of his tenancy shall be deemed to be an abwab and the provisions of section 61 shall apply thereto.

Collector to decide question as to right to make improvement, etc.

66. (1) If a question arises between the non-agricultural tenant and his landlord—

(a) as to the right to make an improvement, or

(b) as to whether a particular work is an improvement, the Collector may, on the application of either party, decide the question.

(2) An appeal, if presented within thirty days from the date of the order appealed against, shall lie to the District Judge from every order passed by the Collector under sub-section (1) and the order passed by the District Judge on such appeal shall be final.

Registration of landlord's improvements.

67. (1) A landlord may, by application to such Revenue-officer as the Provincial Government may appoint in this behalf, register any improvement which he has lawfully made or which has been lawfully made wholly or partly at his expense or which he has assisted a non-agricultural tenant in making.

(2) Every such application shall be in the prescribed form and shall contain such particulars and shall be verified in such manner, by local enquiry or otherwise, as may be prescribed.

(3) The Revenue-officer receiving the application may reject it if it has not been made within twelve months,—

(a) in the case of improvements made before the commencement of this Act, from the commencement of this Act ; and

(b) in the case of improvements made after the commencement of this Act, from the date of the completion of the work.

Application to record evidence as to improvement.

68. (1) If any non-agricultural tenant holding any non-agricultural land or his landlord desires that evidence relating to any improvement made in respect thereof be recorded, he may apply to the Revenue-officer to whom an application for the registration of such improvement may be made under sub-section (1) of section 67 and such Revenue-officer shall thereupon, at a time and place of which notice shall be given to the parties, record the evidence :

Provided that such Revenue-officer shall not so record the evidence if he considers that there were no reasonable grounds for the making of the application, or if it appears to him that the subject-matter thereof is under inquiry in a Civil Court.

(2) When any matter has been recorded under this section, the record thereof shall be admissible in evidence in every subsequent proceeding between the landlord and the non-agricultural tenant or any persons claiming under them.

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Bill, 1948.

(Chapter IX—Other incidents of non-agricultural tenancies —Chapter X—Conversion of agricultural lands into non-agricultural tenancies.—Clauses 69—72.)

CHAPTER IX.

OTHER INCIDENTS OF NON-AGRICULTURAL TENANCIES.

Eviction of non-agricultural tenants holding tenancies conditional upon employment in industrial concerns.

69. Where a tenancy is held by a non-agricultural tenant subject to the condition of employment in any industrial concern, such tenant shall, notwithstanding anything elsewhere contained in this Act, be liable to be ejected from the land comprised in such tenancy on the termination of such employment.

No ejectment except in execution of decree.

70. No non-agricultural tenant shall be ejected from the tenancy or from any non-agricultural land which he holds except in execution of a decree of a competent Civil Court.

Application of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, or other law.

71. The provisions of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, and of any other law for the time being in force, in so far as they may be applicable and in so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, shall continue to apply to all tenancies to which the provisions of this Act apply. IV of 1882.

CHAPTER X.

CONVERSION OF AGRICULTURAL LANDS INTO NON-AGRICULTURAL TENANCIES.

Conversion of agricultural lands into non-agricultural tenancies in certain cases.

72. (1) A tenant holding any land not being non-agricultural land which is situated within any area to which this Act extends or his landlord, may apply to the Collector for the conversion of such land into a tenancy to which the provisions of this Act apply and, on receipt of such application, the Collector shall, by order in writing, direct such conversion subject to payment of such rent not exceeding twice the rent for the time being payable for such land, as the Collector may fix :

Provided that no landlord shall be entitled to apply under this sub-section for such conversion of any land except in the case where such land is being used by the tenant by whom it is held for any purpose not connected with agriculture or horticulture without the express or implied consent of the landlord :

Provided further that no order under this sub-section shall be passed without notice, the prescribed process fee for which shall accompany the application,—

(i) in the case where such application is made by a tenant, to the landlord or the entire body of landlords and to the co-sharer tenants, if any, and

(ii) in the case where such application is made by a landlord, to the co-sharer landlords, if any, and to the tenant or if there be more than one tenant to all such tenants.

(2) Every order passed under sub-section (1) directing the conversion of any land which is not non-agricultural land into a tenancy to which the provisions of this Act apply shall state the date from which such conversion shall have effect and shall specify the rent which shall be payable in respect of the tenancy into which such land is converted and the rent so specified shall not be enhanced during a period of not less than fifteen years from the date of such order.

(3) An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division from any order of the Collector under this section if it is presented within thirty days from the date of such order and is accompanied by the prescribed fee and the decision of the Commissioner on such appeal shall be final.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any contract, where any land which is not non-agricultural land is converted into a tenancy to which the provisions of this Act apply by an order under this section such land shall with effect from the date on which such conversion takes effect become non-agricultural land and the non-agricultural tenant of such land shall for the purposes of this Act be deemed to have held it as such a tenancy with effect from the date on which such tenant or his predecessor in interest was first inducted into the land.

(Chapter XI—Judicial Procedure.—Clauses 73—78.)

CHAPTER XI.

JUDICIAL PROCEDURE.

Regard to be had by Civil Courts to entries in record-of-rights.

73. In all areas for which a record-of-rights has been prepared in pursuance of an order made under section 27 and finally published, a Civil Court shall, in all suits between landlord and non-agricultural tenant as such, have regard to the entries in such record-of-rights relating to the subject-matter in dispute which may be produced before it, unless such entries have been proved by evidence to be incorrect; and, when a Civil Court passes a decree at variance with such entries, it shall record its reasons for so doing.

Execution of decrees for arrears of rent by assignees of such decrees.

74. Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 16 of Order XXI in Schedule I to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, an application for the execution of a decree for arrears in respect of any non-agricultural land obtained by a landlord shall not be made by an assignee of the decree unless the landlord's interest in the non-agricultural land has become and is vested in him. Act V of 1908.

Relief against forfeitures in certain cases.

75. A suit for the ejectment of a non-agricultural tenant, on the ground that he has used the non-agricultural land in a manner which renders it unfit for use for the purposes of the tenancy shall not be entertained unless the landlord has served in the prescribed manner, a notice in writing on the non-agricultural tenant—

(i) specifying the particular misuse complained of; and

(ii) if the misuse is capable of remedy, requiring the tenant to remedy the same, and unless the tenant has, where the misuse is capable of remedy, failed within a reasonable time from the date of the service of the notice to remedy the misuse.

Protection of the interest of an under-tenant having the rights and liabilities of a tenant in case of sale for arrears of rent.

76. Where the interest of a non-agricultural tenant in any non-agricultural land is sold in execution of a decree or of a certificate signed under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, for arrears of rent due in respect of such land, the purchaser shall take free from all encumbrances which may have been created by such non-agricultural tenant or his predecessor in interest and is subsisting immediately before the purchase takes effect, but subject to the interest of any under-tenant having under section 22 the rights and liabilities of a tenant. Ben. Act III of 1913.

Delivery of possession of land sold for arrears of rent which has any structure erected on it by a non-agricultural tenant.

77. Where a non-agricultural tenant or his predecessor in interest has erected any structure on any non-agricultural land held by such tenant and such land is sold in execution of a decree or of a certificate signed under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, for arrears of rent due in respect of such land, the purchaser shall be entitled to obtain delivery of possession of the land sold by the removal of such structure:

Provided that the judgment-debtor shall be allowed reasonable time by the Court to remove such structure from the property sold before the possession of such property is delivered to the purchaser:

Provided further that it shall be open to the purchaser to obtain possession of such land together with such structure on payment of such compensation for the value of such structure to the judgment-debtor as may be agreed upon between the purchaser and the judgment-debtor or, in the case where they do not agree, as may be determined by the Court on application by the purchaser, and, on payment of such compensation, the interest of the judgment-debtor in such structure shall vest absolutely in the purchaser.

Purchase of non-agricultural tenancy in execution of a decree for arrears of rent to take effect from the date of confirmation of the sale.

78. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, whenever the interest of any non-agricultural tenant in any non-agricultural land is sold in execution of a decree for arrears of rent, and the sale confirmed, the purchase shall take effect from the date of confirmation of the sale. Act V of 1908.

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Bill, 1948.

(Chapter XI—Judicial Procedure.—Clauses 79—81.)

Rules for disposal of sale proceeds.

79. (1) In disposing of the proceeds of a sale of the interest of a non-agricultural tenant in any non-agricultural land in execution of a decree for arrears of rent the following rules instead of those contained in section 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall be observed, that is to say— Act V of 1908.

(a) there shall first be paid to the decree-holder the costs incurred by him in bringing the tenancy to sale;

(b) there shall, in the next place, be paid to the decree-holder the amount due to him under the decree in execution of which the sale was made;

(c) if there remains a balance after these sums have been paid, there shall be paid to the decree-holder therefrom the costs of the application made under this section and any rent which may have fallen due to him in respect of the tenancy between the institution of the suit and the date of the confirmation of the sale;

(d) the balance (if any) remaining after the payment of the rent mentioned in clause (c) shall, upon the expiration of two months from the confirmation of the sale, be paid to the judgment-debtor upon his application unless the Court, for reasons to be recorded in writing, otherwise directs.

(2) If the judgment-debtor disputes the decree-holder's right to receive any sum on account of rent under clause (c) of sub-section (1), the Court shall determine the dispute, and the determination shall have the force of a decree.

Release from attachment of non-agricultural tenancies on payment into Court of the amount of decree or on confession of satisfaction by the decree-holder.

80. (1) The provisions of rules 58 to 63 (both inclusive) of Order XXI in Schedule I to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall not apply to the interest of any non-agricultural tenant in any non-agricultural land attached in execution of a decree for arrears due thereon.

(2) When an order for the sale of the interest of any non-agricultural tenant in any non-agricultural land in execution of such a decree has been made, the interest of such non-agricultural tenant in such land shall not be released from attachment unless, before it is knocked down to the auction-purchaser, the amount of the decree including the costs decreed together with the costs incurred in bringing such interest to sale is paid into Court, or the decree-holder makes an application for the release of such interest from such attachment on the ground that the decree has been satisfied out of Court.

(3) The judgment-debtor or any person whose interests are affected by the sale may pay money into Court under this section.

Amount paid into Court to prevent sale to be a mortgage-debt on the tenancy in certain cases.

81. (1) When any person whose interests are affected by the sale of a tenancy of a non-agricultural tenant advertised for sale in execution of a decree for arrears of rent due in respect thereof or in execution of a certificate for arrears of rent due in respect thereof signed under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, pays into the Court the amount requisite to prevent the sale— Ben. Act III of 1913.

(a) the amount so paid by him shall be deemed to be a debt bearing interest at six and a quarter per centum per annum and secured by a mortgage of such tenancy to him;

(b) his mortgage shall take priority over every other charge on such tenancy other than a charge for arrears of rent; and

(c) he shall be entitled to possession of the tenancy as mortgagee of the non-agricultural tenant, and to retain possession of it as such until the debt, with the interest due thereon, has been discharged.

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect any other remedy to which any such person would be entitled.

Inferior tenant paying into Court may deduct from rent.

82. When a tenancy to which the provisions of this Act apply is advertised for sale—

(a) in execution of a decree for arrears of rent due in respect of such tenancy from a superior non-agricultural tenant defaulting, or

or when such sale is set aside under rule 89 of Order XXI in Schedule I to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and an inferior non-agricultural tenant pays money into Court in order to prevent or set aside the sale, as the case may be, such inferior non-agricultural tenant may, in addition to any other remedy provided for him by law, deduct the whole or any portion of the amount so paid from any rent payable by him to his immediate landlord, and that landlord, if he is not the defaulter, may, in like manner, deduct the amount so deducted from any rent payable by him to his immediate landlord, and so on until the defaulter is reached. Act V of 1908.

Decree-holder may bid at sale, judgment-debtor may not.

83. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 72 of Order XXI in Schedule I to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, the holder of a decree for arrears of rent in respect of a tenancy of a non-agricultural tenant in execution of which such tenancy is sold may, without the permission of the Court, bid for or purchase the tenancy.

(2) The judgment-debtor shall not bid for or purchase a tenancy so sold.

(3) When a judgment-debtor purchases by himself or through another person a tenancy so sold, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the decree-holder or any other person interested in the sale, by order set aside the sale, and the costs of the application and order and any deficiency of price which may happen on the resale, and all expenses attending it shall be paid by the judgment-debtor.

Meaning of "arrears" and "arrears of rent".

84. For the purposes of this Chapter the terms "arrears" and "arrears of rent" shall be deemed to include interest decreed under section 57 or damages awarded in lieu of interest under sub-section (1) of section 58.

CHAPTER XII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Bar to application of Act to certain lands and to certain leases.

85. Nothing in this Act shall apply to—

(a) any land vested in, or in the possession of—

(i) a port authority of a major port, or

(ii) a railway administration, or

(iii) any local authority, or

(b) any lease in respect of any forest-rights or rights over fisheries or rights to minerals in any non-agricultural land, or

(c) any land acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, for the use of any Department of Government which is for the time being held by the Revenue Authorities on behalf of that Department, or 1of 1894.

(d) any land which is required for carrying out any of the provisions of the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911. Ben. Act V of 1911.

Certain contracts not to affect the provisions of the Act.

86. Nothing in any contract between a landlord and a non-agricultural tenant made after the commencement of this Act shall take away or limit the rights of such tenant as provided for by this Act, and any contract which is made in contravention of the provisions of this section or which is inconsistent with, or purports to alter the effect of, any of the provisions of this Act, shall, to the extent of such contravention or inconsistency or to the extent it purports to alter such effect, be void and without effect.

Jurisdiction in proceedings under this Act.

87. When under this Act a Court is authorised to make an order on the application of a landlord or a non-agricultural tenant, the application shall be made to the Civil Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit for possession of the non-agricultural land comprised in the tenancy in connection with which the application is made.

Application.

88. The provisions of this Act shall have effect in respect of all suits, appeals or proceedings including proceedings in execution for ejectment of a non-agricultural tenant which are pending at the date of commencement of this Act.

Saving of limitation.

89. In computing the period provided by any law for the time being in force for the execution of a decree for ejectment which was stayed under the Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy (Temporary Provisions) Act, 1940, or for the institution of a suit for the ejectment of a non-agricultural tenant, the period during which the said Act continued in force shall be excluded. Ben. Act IX of 1940.

Repeal of Bengal Act XIX of 1936 and Bengal Act IX of 1940.

90. (1) The Bengal Non-Agricultural Lands Assessment Act, 1936, and the Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy (Temporary Provisions) Act, 1940, are hereby repealed. Ben. Act XIX of 1936. Ben. Act IX of 1940.

(2) All rents settled, records-of-rights or rent-rolls prepared, orders or notifications issued, suits or other proceedings instituted and other things duly done under the Bengal Non-Agricultural Lands Assessment Act, 1936, shall, in so far as they are consistent with the provisions of this Act, be deemed to have been respectively settled, prepared, issued, instituted or done hereunder.

Rules.

91. (1) The Provincial Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

(a) the manner in which the landlord or the tenant may apply to the Court under sub-section (2) of section 8 ;

(b) the determination of a fair and equitable rent referred to in sub-section (3) of section 11;

(c) the limit of enhancement of rent referred to in sub-section (1) of section 19 and the manner of determination of rent referred to in sub-section (2) of that section ;

(d) the forms of the notices and the amount of the process fees referred to in section 23 ;

(e) the manner of making a survey and preparing a record-of-rights in pursuance of an order under section 27 and the procedure to be followed and the powers to be exercised by Revenue-officers when an order under the said section is made ;

(f) the form of a settlement rent-roll referred to in section 29, the manner of preparing the same and the particulars to be specified therein ;

(g) the division of a tenancy and the apportionment of the rent under clause (b) of section 30 ;

(h) the manner and period of publication of a draft settlement rent-roll under sub-section (1) of section 31 and the disposal of objections under that sub-section ;

(i) the Revenue authority referred to in sub-section (1) of section 32 ;

(j) the publication of the date of confirmation of a settlement rent-roll under sub-section (3) of section 32 and the place and times of inspection of such roll ;

The West Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy Bill, 1948.

(Chapter XII—Miscellaneous.—Clause 91.)

(k) the Revenue authority referred to in sub-section (1) of section 33, the manner of presentation of appeals to such authority and the Board of Revenue and the periods within which such appeals shall be presented under the said sub-section ;

(l) the settlement of rents referred to in section 38 ;

(m) the manner of payment or tender of rent by postal money-order under section 44 ;

(n) the forms to be used generally or for any particular local area or class of cases for the receipt and counterfoil referred to in section 46 and for the statement of account referred to in sub-section (2) of section 47 and the particulars to be specified in such receipt, counterfoil and statement ;

(o) the cost of transmission of the money deposited in the cases referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (1) of section 51 and the amount of the fee referred to in clause (d) of sub-section (2) of that section ;

(p) the manner of publication of the general notice referred to in sub-section (2) of section 59 ;

(q) the form of, the particulars to be contained in, and the manner of verification of, applications referred to in sub-section (2) of section 67 ;

(r) the amount of process fee referred to in the second proviso to sub-section (1) of section 72 and the amount of fee referred to in sub-section (3) of that section ;

(s) the manner of service of notice issued under this Act where the mode of such service is not provided in this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

With the rapid growth of town population, there has been an insistent demand specially since 1937 for a legislative measure regulating the rights and interests of non-agricultural tenants. At present the tenants in urban areas enjoy no statutory rights. Their present rights are only what may be embodied in a contract with the landlord. The provisions of the Transfer of Property Act afford them little protection against arbitrary eviction and enhancement of rent. To meet such a situation, the Government set up a Committee of Enquiry in 1938 to investigate the existing rights and obligations of the non-agricultural tenants in the Province and to recommend necessary measures for safeguarding the interests of both the landlords and the tenants. The appointment of the Committee was a signal for a large scale eviction of tenants by the landlords. Matters came to a head and Government had to pass a Temporary Provisions Act in 1940 stopping such evictions in all municipal areas other than Calcutta.

A comprehensive Bill regulating the rights of landlords and tenants in respect of non-agricultural lands was introduced in the last session of the Bengal Legislative Assembly before the partition of the Province and was passed by it after referring it to a Select Committee. But it could not become law as it was not considered and passed by the Bengal Legislative Council.

The present Bill contains the same provisions as the previous Bill passed by the Assembly with some minor changes.

PART IV—Bills introduced in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Assembly; and Bills published before introduction in that Assembly.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE (LEGISLATIVE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 535L.—22nd March, 1948.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE WEST BENGAL LAND DEVELOPMENT AND PLANNING BILL, 1948.

A

BILL

to provide for the acquisition and development of land for public purposes.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the acquisition and development of land for public purposes;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the West Bengal Land Development and Planning Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal; but it shall not apply to the Calcutta Municipality as defined in clause (b) of section 2 of the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911, or to any area to which that Act has been extended under sub-section (3) of section 1 thereof before the commencement of this Act. Ben. Act. V of 1911.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) the expressions "land", "Collector" and "Company" respectively have the same meanings as in the Land Acquisition Act, 1894; I of 1894.

(b) "development scheme" means a scheme for the development of land for any public purpose;

(c) "notified area" means an area declared under sub-section (1) of section 4 to be a notified area;

(d) "public purpose" includes—

(i) the settlement of refugees and other persons who have migrated to West Bengal under circumstances beyond their control,

(ii) the establishment of satellite towns with facilities for business, commerce and industry and of model villages and agricultural colonies,

(iii) the creation of better living conditions in urban and rural areas for the economic betterment of the local people,

(iv) the improvement of agriculture, forestry and fisheries, and

(v) the development of industries;

(e) "rules" means rules made under this Act.

The West Bengal Land Development and Planning Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 3—8.)

Appointment of the Prescribed Authority.

3. The Provincial Government may appoint, in accordance with the rules, an authority to be called the Prescribed Authority for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

Declaration of notified area.

4. (1) The Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare any area specified in the notification to be a notified area if it is satisfied that any land in such area is needed or is likely to be needed for any public purpose and the Collector shall cause public notice of the substance of such notification to be given at convenient places in the locality in such manner as he may think fit.

(2) Thereupon it shall be lawful for any person either generally or specially authorised by such Government in this behalf and for his servants and workmen,— to enter upon and survey and take levels of any land in such area;

to dig or bore into the subsoil;

to do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is suitable for such purpose;

to set out the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken and the intended line of the work (if any) proposed to be made thereon; to mark such levels, boundaries and line by placing marks and cutting trenches; and, where otherwise the survey cannot be completed and the levels taken and the boundaries and line marked, to cut down and clear away any part of any standing crop, fence or jungle.

Preparation and sanctioning of development scheme.

5. (1) The Provincial Government may direct the Prescribed Authority, or, if it so thinks fit in any case, authorise any Company or local authority, to prepare, in accordance with the rules, a development scheme in respect of any notified area and thereupon such scheme shall be prepared accordingly and submitted, together with such particulars as may be prescribed by the rules, to the Provincial Government for its sanction.

(2) A development scheme submitted to the Provincial Government under sub-section (1) may be sanctioned by it either without any modification or subject to such modifications as it may deem fit.

Declaration for acquisition of land needed for development scheme.

6. (1) When a development scheme is sanctioned under sub-section (2) of section 5 and the Provincial Government is satisfied that any land in the notified area for which such scheme has been sanctioned is needed for the purpose of executing such scheme, a declaration to that effect shall, unless already made in pursuance of section 7, be made by the Provincial Government.

(2) The declaration shall be published in the Official Gazette, and shall state the district or other territorial division in which the land is situate, the purpose for which it is needed, its approximate area, and, where a plan shall have been made of the land, the place where such plan may be inspected.

(3) The said declaration shall be conclusive evidence that the land is needed for a public purpose and, after making such declaration, the Provincial Government may acquire the land.

Special provision in cases of urgency.

7. In cases of urgency, if in respect of any notified area the Provincial Government is satisfied that the preparation of a development scheme is likely to be delayed, the Provincial Government may, on the expiration of fifteen days from the publication of the notice referred to in sub-section (1) of section 4, make a declaration under section 6, in respect of such notified area or any part thereof though no development scheme has either been prepared or sanctioned under section 5.

Application of Act I of 1894 subject to special provision for compensation.

8. A declaration under section 6 shall be deemed to be a declaration made for the acquisition of land for a public purpose under section 6 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, and thereupon the provisions of the said Act shall, so far as may be, apply: I of 1894.

The West Bengal Land Development and Planning Bill, 1948.

(Clauses 9-13.)

Provided that in determining the amount of compensation in respect of any land acquired in pursuance of this Act the market value referred to in clause first of sub-section (1) of section 23 of the said Act shall be deemed to be the market value of such land on the date of publication of the notification under sub-section (1) of section 4 for the notified area in which such land is included:

Provided further that if, in the case of any land included in a notified area for which the notification under sub-section (1) of section 4 is published on or before the 31st day of March, 1951, such market value exceeds by any amount the market value of the land on the 31st day of December, 1946, on the assumption that the land had been at that date in the state in which it in fact was on the date of publication of the said notification, the amount of such excess shall not be taken into consideration.

Power to dispose of land without development.

9. Notwithstanding anything elsewhere contained in this Act or in any rule or order made thereunder, the Provincial Government may, if it so considers expedient, dispose of any land acquired in pursuance of this Act in such manner and to such parties as it may think fit without having any development scheme prepared, executed or fully executed, as the case may be.

Execution of development scheme and disposal of land.

10. (1) The Provincial Government may direct the Prescribed Authority to execute any development scheme sanctioned under sub-section (2) of section 5 or cause it to be executed in accordance with the rules and upon the execution of the scheme as so directed the lands comprised therein shall be disposed of by the Collector in such manner as may be directed by the Provincial Government.

(2) If the Provincial Government so thinks fit, it may also empower a Company or a local authority to execute, at its own cost, any such development scheme and to dispose of the lands comprised therein on such terms and conditions including conditions relating to the manner of disposal of land as may be settled by the Provincial Government and embodied in an agreement to be entered into by the Provincial Government and the Company or local authority, as the case may be.

Withdrawal of power from Company or local authority to execute development scheme or to dispose of land.

11. If, at any time, the Provincial Government is satisfied that any of the terms or conditions contained in an agreement referred to in sub-section (2) of section 10 is not being complied with, it may, by order served in accordance with the rules on the Company or local authority, as the case may be, withdraw the power conferred on it to execute any development scheme or to dispose of the lands comprised therein or both and may thereafter make such arrangement in that behalf as it may deem fit and proper.

Protection of action taken under this Act.

12. (1) No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Act or any rule or order made thereunder.

(2) Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, no suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against the Provincial Government for any damage caused or likely to be caused by anything in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Act or any rule or order made thereunder.

Power to make rules.

13. (1) The Provincial Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the personnel, and the manner of appointment of, the Prescribed Authority referred to in section 3;

(b) the preparation of development schemes and the particulars to be submitted with development schemes referred to in sub-section (1) of section 5;

(c) the execution of development schemes referred to in section 10;

(d) the manner of service of orders referred to in section 11.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The continued large-scale migration of people from East Bengal to West Bengal has given rise to a serious situation which requires to be tackled immediately in its three-fold aspects, namely:—

(1) to settle the refugees in a planned way;

(2) to spread them out in the different parts of the Province so that they may be effective producers of wealth by engaging themselves in gainful occupations; and

(3) to augment the yield of food crops by bringing more areas under cultivation with a view to meet the food requirements of the Province.

Apart from this, the city of Calcutta with its growing pressure of heavy population also present a problem which is causing the greatest anxiety. It has, therefore, become urgently necessary to develop the suburbs of Calcutta and other suitable places in the province with facilities for development of commerce and industry creating thereby opportunities for gainful occupation with less expensive living, so that a large number of people who gather in Calcutta, in the absence of suitable avenues of employment elsewhere, may be diverted to such newly developed areas. Better living conditions are also to be created in the country-side by improvement of agriculture and by bringing more lands under cultivation. And the need for all such measures is no less urgent for the people of the Province than for the refugees.

Accordingly, the Bill has been prepared to provide for the following objects in view, namely:—

(i) to settle refugees and other persons who have migrated to this Province under circumstances beyond their control;

(ii) to establish satellite towns with facilities for business, commerce and industry, model villages and agricultural colonies;

(iii) to create better living conditions in the urban and rural areas with the object of the economic betterment of the local people;

(iv) to improve the conditions of agriculture, forestry and fisheries; and

(v) to develop industries.

Labour.

ORDER.

No. 888Lab.—23rd March 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 777Lab., dated the 7th November 1947, the industrial dispute between the Howrah Municipality, Howrah, and their employees as represented by the Howrah Municipal Employees' Association, Howrah, was referred for adjudication to Sree S. N. Modak, I.C.S. (Retd.);

And whereas the said Sree S. N. Modak, I.C.S. (Retd.), has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sree S. N. Modak, I.C.S. (Retd.), shall bind the municipality aforesaid and their employees as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of six months with effect from the date of this order.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE SREE S. N. MODAK, I.C.S. (RETD.).
Chairman, Industrial Tribunal, Calcutta.

In the matter of the industrial dispute between the Howrah Municipality, Howrah, and their employees as represented by the Howrah Municipal Employees' Association, Howrah.

Award.

1. By Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 777Lab., dated the 7th November 1947, this industrial dispute between the Howrah Municipality, Howrah, and their employees as represented by the Howrah Municipal Employees' Association was referred to me for adjudication.

The Howrah Municipality was represented by Mr. P. B. Mukherji and Mr. A. N. Roy, Barristers-at-Law, and Mr. Jitendriya Banerjee, Secretary and Mr. Lalit Mohan Roy, law officer of the municipality. The Employees' Union was represented by Mr. Sibnath Banerjee and others.

On the statements submitted by the parties the following issues have been framed:—

(1) Does the present dispute constitute an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act?

(2) How far, if at all, the Central Pay Commission's recommendations should be and can be adopted by the municipality in respect of—

(a) basic pay, (b) dearness allowance, (c) gradation of pay, (d) house rent allowance, (e) compensatory allowance, (f) extension of retiring age and (g) leave facilities, with retrospective effect from January 1947?

(3) (a) Can immediate effect be given to the Provident Fund Scheme as adopted by the Municipal Commissioners as per resolution No. 232, dated 30th March 1946, with retrospective effect from 1st April 1946?

(b) What should be the rates of subscriptions and contributions to the Provident Fund?

(4) What provision, if any, should be made for the menials in respect of—

(a) suitable quarters,

(b) suitable uniforms?

(5) Should there be any retrenchment of the existing staff?

(6) What should be the rate of conveyance allowance for outdoor officers and what should be the basis of such rate?

(7) What, if any, overtime allowance should be given for work for extra hours and what should be its basis?

(8) What should be the principles of filling up vacancies by promotion or otherwise?

(9) Should orders of appointment, transfer, dismissal and promotion be made in consultation with the Employees' Association?

(10) What should be the principles governing the grant of gratuity?

Issue No. 1.

2. Before proceeding further in this matter, it is necessary to deal with Issue No. 1. The question under this issue is whether the present dispute is an industrial dispute under the Industrial Disputes Act, or in other words, whether this Tribunal has jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the dispute. To be an industrial dispute it must be a dispute between employers and workmen, that is, persons employed in an industry, as indicated by the definitions in section 2(k) and (s) of the Act. The point therefore is whether it can be said that the employees of the Howrah Municipality are employed in an industry. We must then proceed to examine the definition of industry as given in section 2(j) of the Act, which states that "industry means any business, trade, undertaking, manufacture or calling of employers, and includes any calling, service, employment, handicraft, or industrial occupation or avocation of workmen". The operative part of this definition is to the effect that "industry" means one or other of five things, namely, business or trade or undertaking or manufacture or calling of employers. The remaining part of the definition is more or less illustrative and does not constitute the definition proper, and is controlled by what I have just mentioned as the operative part.

2a. Certain English cases have been placed before me on behalf of the municipality in support of the contention that in so far as the municipality is not a buying and selling or profit-making concern it is not an industry. Similarly other English cases have been brought to my notice on behalf of the Employees' Association in support of the proposition that the municipality is a trade or business in a wide sense. On careful examination of the English cases cited by both sides I am of opinion that they are not very helpful inasmuch as they were decided under the particular circumstances of those cases and in the light of interpretation of language used in English Statutes which have no application here. On a careful scrutiny of the provisions of our Industrial Disputes Act, I have come to the conclusion that it is not necessary for our purposes to refer to English cases of doubtful applicability and it is enough to interpret our own statute according to the usual canons of interpretation.

2b. My attention has been drawn to a recent award given by another Tribunal in connection with another municipality, the decision being that a dispute of this kind is an industrial dispute. I have come to the same conclusion. But I feel that I must give proper and adequate reasons justifying that conclusion. It is not quite sound to say that because the Howrah Municipality maintains a system of public conservancy and sanitation which is a public utility service under section 2(n)(v) of the Act, the municipality must be an industry. The definition under section 2(n) does not make out that a public utility service must necessarily be an industry. It appears to me that a public utility service may or may not be an industry. The varieties of public utility service as per clauses (ii), (iv) and (vi) are clearly industries and the other three varieties as per clauses (i), (iii) and (v) may be industries if they are covered by the definition of industry as per section 2(j). For certain purposes, the Act makes a distinction between an industrial dispute arising out of an ordinary industry and that arising out of a public utility service industry, attaching greater importance to the latter, as indicated by the provisions of the proviso to section 10(1) and section 12(1) among others. In any case the position is that a public utility service may or may not be an industry, and it cannot be said that a municipality is or carries on an industry merely by reason of the fact that it maintains a system of public conservancy or sanitation. We must seek our reasoning from a different angle.

2c. At this stage it will be useful to dispose of the contention raised on behalf of the municipality that in view of the language used in section 2(g) with regard to the meaning of "employer", a local authority like a municipality cannot be an industry, as in that case section 2(g) (ii) would convey the idea of an industry being carried on by or on behalf of an industry which is an incongruity. In my opinion, this contention may be met on the following basis. A department of Government or a local authority may carry on an undertaking constituting an industry without being itself an industry. In our case, the Commissioners of the Howrah Municipality do not constitute an industry, but the undertaking carried on by them may very well be an industry within the meaning of section 2(j). To my mind section 2(g) presents no difficulty whatever, and the real point in our case is whether the undertaking carried on by the municipality is an industry. In the light of the words actually used in section 2(j), I must say that it makes no difference whether the undertaking was undertaken by the municipality by reason of the provisions of any statute or otherwise, as the word "undertaking" used in the clause is plain and unqualified.

2d. The crucial point for consideration is what is the meaning of the word "undertaking" in section 2(j). Is its meaning influenced by the preceding words "trade" and "business" or by the following words "manufacture" and "calling of employers"? There is no canon of interpretation to the effect that mere juxtaposition of words must necessarily convey the idea that they must influence one another. Ordinarily speaking words are to be taken to bear their usual meanings. It has been contended on behalf of the municipality that by the application of the doctrine of "ejusdem generis" the word "undertaging" must be held to be akin to the preceding words "trade" or "business", and therefore to be connected with the concepts of buying and selling, profit-making, or earning money, and in so far as a municipality does none of these things it cannot be said to be or to carry on an industry. I have carefully considered the implications of the doctrine of "ejusdem generis" as elucidated in Chapter XI, particularly section V (Generic words following more specific), of Maxwell on the Interpretation of Statutes, and am definitely of opinion that that doctrine has no application to our case. The principle may be briefly enunciated in the following manner, as we can gather from Maxwell's book—"The general word which follows particular and specific words of the same nature as itself takes its meaning from them, and is presumed to be restricted to the same genus as those words. In other words, it is to be read as comprehending only things of the same kind as those designated by them, unless, of course, there be something to show that a wider sense was intended. Unless there is a genus or category there is no room for the application of the "ejusdem generis" doctrine. Looking into the different illustrations given in Maxwell's book one gets the unavoidable impression that the general word must be the concluding word in the string and all the words must belong to the same genus, in order that the doctrine may apply. In our case, we are considering the word "undertaking" as the general word and the preceding words "trade" and "business" are described as the more specific or less general words. But the word "undertaking" is not the concluding word in the string and it is not only preceded by two other words but is also followed by two other expressions conveying concepts of an entirely different nature. It is clear therefore that in our case there is no genus or category in existence, such as would properly attract the doctrine of "ejusdem generis". Consequently the five expressions used in the definition of "industry" must be held to be independent of influence by one another, and there is no justification for holding that the word "undertaking" means an "undertaking by way of trade or business" or a profit-making concern or an "undertaking by way of manufacture" or a productive concern. The result is that the word "undertaking" stands by itself in the definition and bears its ordinary meaning, which need not have any flavour of trade or business or manufacture. I may notice here in passing that in rule 81 of the Defence of India Rules it is explicitly laid down that the word "undertaking" in that rule means

"any undertaking by way of any trade or business", indicating that without this explicit restrictive definition the word "undertaking" would have its usual meaning of a wide character. In our case, there are no such qualifying words, and it must be held that the word "undertaking" bears its ordinary wide meaning, without any restriction whatever. There is therefore no difficulty in holding that the undertaking carried on by the Howrah Municipality is an industry within the meaning of section 2(j) of the Industrial Disputes Act. I therefore decide that the present dispute is an industrial dispute and this Tribunal has complete jurisdiction to adjudicate upon it.

2e. Before I leave this issue, I should like to observe that the matter presents difficulties and intricacies, and it is unfortunate that a fundamental definition of this character should be couched in words which cannot be easily understood and which are likely to give rise to long-drawn controversies. It is not unlikely that different Judges may interpret them in different ways. I therefore consider it highly desirable that the pointed attention of the Government and of the Legislature be invited to this fundamental subject, and that speedy steps be taken to amend the definitions in such a manner that there may be no room for doubt or controversy.

3. Before I proceed to deal with the other issues relating to the different demands made by the Howrah Municipal Employees' Association it is necessary to make some general observations with regard to the capacity of the Howrah Municipality to meet those demands and the financial condition of the Municipality. I feel it is necessary to indicate at this stage the proper line of approach in the matter of an adjudication of this character relating to a Municipality which must be distinguished from an ordinary profit-making concern or even from a Government whose resources are much more extensive. With regard to a Municipality it is a dangerous theory to propound that if the Municipality is not able to pay adequate wages and to provide for substantial amenities for its employees it ought to be closed down. As a matter of fact no right-thinking person will agree that a Municipality should be allowed to be closed down even for a day, as it must be admitted on all hands that a Municipality exists for the entire population inhabiting the area concerned and the services rendered by the Municipality affect the daily life of all the inhabitants from the sanitary, hygienic and other points of view, so intimately that it is unthinkable that any one should contemplate the idea of closing down of the Municipality even for a part of a day. The position is that while it may in proper circumstances be said that a factory which is unable to pay adequate wages had better be closed down, the same thing cannot be said in respect of a Municipality, and a Municipality must be made to carry on its activities without any interruption whatever. The resources necessary for carrying on these essential activities affecting the lives of lakhs of people must be found either by the Municipality or for the Municipality. The question of the financial condition of the Howrah Municipality therefore should be scrutinised with the utmost care, and it should be closely examined how far the Municipality is able to bear any additional burden, before we can justly decide upon the dimensions of the additional burden to be imposed under the particular circumstances. The process of this examination involves a delicate balancing of the present resources of the Municipality, and the potential resources which may be available either through the efforts of the Municipality itself by working the existing machinery more efficiently and diligently or through the aid of the State which may feel called upon to come to the assistance of the Municipality by way of grant of subventions or of advances of loans to be repaid, or by bringing about legislation or amendments in the existing law to open out further avenues of income for the Municipality. At the same time the demands made by the Employees' Association on behalf of poorly paid employees should receive our sympathetic consideration and should not be brushed aside merely on the ground that the Municipality, as it is situated at present, has no resources at all to meet any part of these demands.

3a. At this stage it will be pertinent to give an indication of the financial condition of the Howrah Municipality at the present moment. I have carefully gone into this question in a somewhat detailed manner, and I have got the impression that the Howrah Municipality is at present facing a financial crisis, and the situation is positively alarming. I have examined the statements of actual receipts and expenditure for the twelve months of the financial year 1946-47, and also for the nine months from April to December 1947. I have also gone into the Budget Estimates for the years concerned. In spite of a subvention of 6 lakhs of rupees granted by the Government and an advance of Rs. 1,41,000 made by the Government, the position is that at the best the income and the expenditure on the existing scale of wages and allowances are just balanced, and yet several bills of contractors still remain to be paid, and there are practically no resources which can be utilised for meeting at lease some of the demands put forward on behalf of the employees for the purpose of improving their condition. As I have already said the demands put forward should be met at least partially in the interests of bare justice to the employees. At the same time I hope the employees will realise and appreciate the position that it is impossible for the Municipality to find adequate funds all at once in order to be able to meet their demands in full. It must be a process of mutual appreciation of difficulties, and in that process our Government of West Bengal can and should be expected to play an effective part. The Howrah Municipality is, in respect of importance and extensiveness, the second municipality in the Province, next to the Corporation of Calcutta. This Municipality cannot be permitted, in the interest of the State itself to carry on a moribund existence, without being able to meet its legitimate day-to-day expenditure and to carry out various projects of improvement which can be expected to be provided by such an important Municipality. So far as I can see there are and should be ways and means of improving the financial condition, and these can be considered mainly under three heads, namely—

(1) self-help,

(2) help from the Provincial Government by way of subventions, loans, etc.,

(3) fresh legislation and amendments of the existing law.

3b. Under the heading of self-help we may consider whether the municipality has adequately helped itself in the past and whether it is determined to help itself at the present moment and in the future. For the present ills of the municipality, the present Board of Commissioners may not be wholly to blame, as it is possible that the present Board has inherited a legacy of the past, and certain practices and ideas have taken root in the soil in such a manner and to such an extent that it is perhaps difficult for the present Board, with all its good intentions, to eradicate all at once the roots of the evil which have a tendency to persist. The greatest evil which has overtaken the municipality for many years past appears to be the evil of under-valuation and under-assessment. There must be a determined effort to eradicate this evil as soon as possible. I realise, and I hope all concerned will appreciate, that the accumulated sins of a generation cannot be atoned for in a day. But it is up to the present Board of Commissioners to start the atonement without the loss of any time whatever. It is pleasing to see that the present Board is already making some tangible efforts in the direction of proper valuation of holdings and proper assessment, and for the speedy realisation of consolidated rates and arrears thereof. It is pleasing to note that the present Chairman of the Municipality has put forward an improved policy of assessment for Ward VI in particular in respect of which the work of quinquennial reassessment is going on. I do not wish to express any definite opinion about the scales of valuation of lands which have been fixed for the guidance of the assessor. But I should urge that greater efforts be made for securing a proper and adequate valuation in the light of the existing conditions, although I realise that it may be unjust to rate-payers to value lands and buildings with absolute strictness on the basis of the present high prices under circumstances of abnormal inflation. The point is that the matter should be handled with both fairness and strictness without giving rise to any suspicion of favouritism or undue leniency. In the present condition of the Municipality undue leniency will be wholly misplaced. It has been brought to my notice that the Appeal Committee dealing with questions of assessment has been over-lenient in many cases, and the standard of assessment has remained practically stationary in several cases, without much justification. The Board of Commissioners of the Municipality can best embark on an organised effort of self-help by discouraging all such tendencies towards misplaced leniency. The resources of the Municipality are mainly available from the rates and license fees. It is noticeable that the consolidated rates have already reached the level of 21¾ per cent, as against the maximum of 23 per cent. of the annual valuation permissible under the law. While it may not be desirable to raise the percentage to the maximum of 23 per cent., it is not only desirable but also practicable to raise the valuation itself to a proper standard. Strenuous efforts should also be made for collecting the current rates in proper time without allowing them to fall into arrears and for realising the arrears as well. As regards the fees levied by the Municipality under other heads, it is noticeable that the maximum permissible under the law is being levied in several cases, and in some cases, where there is no statutory limit the rates have been increased substantially. Even then there may be some room for increasing the rates still more in suitable cases, for example, in the case of amusements, etc., the organisers of which are said to be making huge profits. It is needless for me to go into further details of the efforts which the authorities of the Municipality can and should make in order to tide over the present difficulties.

3c. I next pass on to the question of direct aid given by the Provincial Government. In this connection the difficulties of the Government itself should not be lost sight of, and it should not be imagined that the Government has unlimited resources. So far as the present proceedings are concerned Government was not a party and I do not think the Municipality can expect the Provincial Government to undertake unreasonably heavy burdens for one Municipality in the Province. It appears that the Government has been making a grant of 6 lakhs per year by way of subvention, and has also advanced Rs. 1,41,000 by way of loan which is to be repaid. I think the Municipality can expect the Provincial Government to come to its aid by way of increased subventions and loans within reasonable limits for the purpose of tiding over the present crisis. That is, however, a matter for the Governmetn to consider and all that I can do is to recommend the case of Howrah Municipality for sympathetic consideration. As regards loans, I may observe that the Municipality may be in a better position to repay loans in the coming years as the problems of adequate valuation and assessment, by way of quinquennial reassessment, are tackled with vigour and efficiency in the different wards of the municipality from year to year.

3d. I am almost tempted to suggest for the consideration of the Provincial Government that the law relating to quinquennial assessment may be suspended temporarily to enable the Municipality to undertake the work of reassessment on a proper and adequate basis simultaneously in all the wards without any loss of time. I feel that the financial position is so critical that even such a course would be completely justified. I have in a preceding paragraph referred to the question of self-help. It should be observed at this stage that the Municipality is not free even to help itself in many directions by reason of the fact that it has to carry on its activities under the weight of many fetters provided by the law. In my opinion many of these fetters can and should be removed, at the intervention of the Government, for revitalising this Municipality. I do not propose to go into the minute details of the different directions in which fresh legislation can be undertaken or amendments of the existing law can be made by the Government. It is up to the authorities of the Municipality to bring the details of such matters to the notice of the appropriate Government for favourable consideration. The provisions of section 154 of the Government of India Act relating to railway property within the limits of Howrah Municipality, and of section 142A of the same Act relating to taxes on professions have the effect of acting as heavy fetters on the Municipality. The removal of these fetters may with justice be considered by the Provincial Government and the Government of India. As the impact of financial helplessness of the Howrah Municipality is bound to come eventually on the Provincial Government, and as in the last resort the Provincial Government may have to take over the administration of the Municipality in the event of a total financial breakdown, and as in that case the Provincial Government cannot absolve itself of its liability to carry on the activities of the Municipality with justice to its employees, it will after all be a wise policy to bring about fresh legislation or amendment of the existing law and rules for the purpose of enlarging the freedom of the Municipality to open up avenues of revenue in different directions, so that it may gather up its own strength and help itself and stand upon its own legs, rather than being thrown upon the Government as an unwelcome burden. I, therefore, earnestly invite the attention of the Government to this most important aspect of the situation relating to the Howrah Municipality.

3e. In this connection I consider it fair to support the Chairman of the Municipality in his representation to the Government, dated the 4th November 1947, in which he sought the immedaite and active help of the Government with regard to the following among other items:—

(1) Immediate payment of the accumulated motor vehicles tax fund for seven years amounting to Rs. 2½ lakhs.

(2) Restoration of the motor vehicles tax grant annually.

(3) Immediate payment of compensation for damage to the roads of the Municipality by heavy military traffic out of the subvention received from the Central Government amounting to Rs. 8 lacs.

(4) Payment of additional subventions for a period of five years besides the 6 lacs already sanctioned.

(5) To make available to the Municipality additional sources of revenue from the following heads of taxes:—

(a) share of amusement tax collected in Howrah,

(b) share of electricity duty tax collected in Howrah,

(c) share of commercial sales tax collected in Howrah,

(d) share of stamp duty on transfer of properties in Howrah,

(e) enhancement of schedules of rates of license fees on trades and professions.

I earnestly recommend all these for the sympathetic consideration of the Government. I find that the Chairman of the Municipality in his statement on the Budget Estimates for 1948-49 has suggested new sources of income to the Municipality such as poll tax on all buses, lorries and other vehicles coming to and passing out beyond the limits of Howrah Municipality, additional terminal tax of all passengers and goods arriving at Howrah or carried by water or railway transport, a production tax on the turn-over in mills and factories within Howrah, a levy on motor cars, buses and lorries for consuming water for cleaning, and such other things. In my opinion these proposals deserve the close consideration of all authorities concerned.

3f. Although the present resources of the Howrah Municipality do not really admit of any substantial improvement in the condition of its employees I am of opinion that with diligence and alertness exercised by the authorities of the Municipality and with the active aid within reasonable limits received from the Government, the potential resources of the Municipality in the near future will admit of some improvement on the lines of the demands put forward on behalf of the employees, though of course those demands cannot be met in full for the present. I now proceed to deal with the issues from issue No. 2 onwards one by one.

Issue No. 2.

4. I now take up issue No. 2 which is the most important and comprehensive issue dealing with basic pay, dearness allowance, gradation and other items of amenities. The Employees Association has claimed all kinds of amenities on the scales recommended by the Central Pay Commission in respect of employees of the services of the Central Government of India. On behalf of the Municipality it has been contended that these recommendations do not apply to employees of a Municipality like the Howrah Municipality. As I have already indicated the determination of scales of wages and other amenities must necessarily depend on the capacity of the particular employers to pay, and as the Municipality is an institution which cannot be allowed to be closed, it must be carefully examined whether the necessary funds can be found either by or for the Municipality. The scales recommended for the Central Services by the Central Pay Commission were expected to be paid by the Central Government whose resources are practically unlimited. On the other hand, the present resources or the potential resources of the near future in respect of the Howrah Municipality are meagre, and the Government of West Bengal, with all its initial troubles of an extraordinary character after the partition of the country, cannot be expected like the Central Government to have unlimited resources, and it must be given breathing time to measure its steps, and to formulate its plans of help for the municipalities of the Province with some degree of caution. There are no clear indications that the Government of West Bengal is going to adopt in full all the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission in respect of the emoluments payable to its own employees. Nor is there any likelihood of the Provincial Government taking over the administration of the Howrah Municipality and starting straightaway to pay the municipal employees on scales which the Government may not adopt for its own employees. I hope therefore that the municipal employees concerned in the present dispute will take a realistic view of the situation and appreciate that they should not except in full the scales recommended by the Central Pay Commission for employees of a different character working in entirely different environments. At the same time the authorities of the Howrah Municipality should appreciate that there is such a thing as a living wage of human beings in general, and all employers should be able to find the money required for payment of living wages, more or less above what is somewhat vaguely known as the poverty line, to all their employees. The Central Pay Commission has, in its report, referred to minimum living wages, but it should be understood that it did not seek to lay down any hard and fast standard in this direction, applicable to all cases, and each case must be decided on its own merits. In some cases the scales may even be higher than those recommended by the Pay Commission, and in others they may be lower, and in some others they may be the same. Keeping all the principles and particular circumstances in mind, I shall proceed to determine the basic wages and gradations as per items (a) and (c) of issue No. 2, which, I consider, should be made applicable to the employees of the Howrah Municipality with effect from such date as the Government may specify. It may be worthwhile to note here some of the broad principles which I have followed in arriving at my conclusions.

4a. I do not propose to interefere with the salaries of the higher grade officers who are already on scales with a starting salary of Rs. 250 per month or more, and it will be my endeavour to improve to some extent the prospects of the lower scale employees. It will however be open to the authorities of the Municipality to raise the scales of the higher grade officers if they so desire, without my exercising any compulsion. I do not also propose, in most cases, to raise the starting salary of those who may be said to be above the poverty line, though something is proposed to be done towards improving the maximum limit in many cases. Those who are now below the poverty line and cannot be said, in the light of fair human standards, to be receiving what may be called minimum living wages are proposed to be placed on fair and just standards more or less on the lines recommended by the Central Pay Commission. From the practical point of view, some distinction has been inevitable in some cases between clerical employees of the educated type entrusted with more responsible work and other clerical employees of the semi-educated type, usually known as non-Matric. In fixing the new scales, the ranges of the existing scales have been borne in mind, and blind-folded imitation of the Pay Commission scales has in many cases been avoided, as I do not admit blind-folded action to be a virtue, and in my view the existing conditions cannot be ignored in the process of determining future conditions. With regard to the scales applicable to the conservancy menials, it was argued on behalf of the Municipality that these workers make extra earnings from other sources and many of them work as family units consisting of husband, wife and adult children, and consequently their scales should be on a lower basis. No adequate and dependable data have been brought to my notice, to support these general contentions. On the other hand, it was submitted on behalf of the Municipality, in course of the hearing that only less than 25 per cent. of the conservancy menials do additional work elsewhere, and I am given to understand, with the concurrence of both sides, that these workers are studiously refraining from doing any work for other employers during the usual working hours from 5-30 a.m. to 10-30 a.m. in the morning, since after the recent illegal strike, and shall continue to do so. Under these circumstances, the contentions raised in respect of a small minority cannot be allowed to affect the whole body of conservancy menials. As regards the question of family units no data are available. I am therefore unable to attach much importance to the contentions raised by the Municipality, and all conservancy menials must therefore be treated as employees on the same level. In determining the scales, the nature of the work done, the degree of responsibility involved, and the standard of skill or education possessed by the individual employees have been borne in mind as far as practicable. The graded scales of pay are necessarily applicable to those employees who are regarded as whole-time workers. Consequently, some categories of employees like the molla for the slaughter house, carters, and evening service coolies who are part-time workers and are now on fixed wages are proposed to be retained on fixed wages, though on a somewhat increased scale.

4b. Having made a survey of the broad principles pursued, I proceed to give below the basic pay and gradations of pay as per items (a) and (c) of issue No. 2, which I have determined for the purposes of my award.

4c. The above chart is based on the representations definitely made before me. If it happens that there has been no representation made by the parties regarding any employee or category of employees, the authorities of the Howrah Municipality should determine the basic pay and gradation of pay of such employees in the light of the principles I have followed.

4d. Then arises the question of fitting the existing employees into the new scales decided upon in my award. In trying to solve this question in accordance with any scheme, some anomalies and inconsistencies are likely to occur. On giving careful thought to the subject I have decided that the best course is to adopt the method described in paragraph 70 of the Central Pay Commission Report, and I direct that that method be adopted on the following lines. When persons on the existing scales of pay are brought on to the corresponding scales now decided upon, their initial pay should be fixed at the stage in the proposed scale next above the pay they are drawing, in their present scale. To this should be added special increments at the rate of one increment in the proposed scale for every three completed years of service. Some ceiling should however be fixed on the increases to be thus allowed. The ceiling should be the next stage above the amount that may be arrived at after adding to the present pay the sums stated below.

For persons drawing a salary not exceeding—

Rs. 100	...	Nil
Rs. 101 to Rs. 250	...	Rs. 20

The pay to be allowed to a person on the above basis should not exceed what he would draw if his entire service in the existing scale had been on the corresponding new scale of pay.

4e. Having thus disposed of items (a) and (c), I now pass on to a consideration of item (b) relating to the question of dearness allowance. It is noticeable that with regard to dearness allowance, the Municipality has to depend on the gratuitous grant received from Government, and it is not known how far the Government of West Bengal will be able to help the Municipality in the matter of further increases of dearness allowance on the lines of the recommendations of the Pay Commission Report, as demanded by the Employees' Association, in the light of the substantial increases in the basic wages already directed in respect of at least the lowest paid workers, which I felt to be an absolute necessity and therefore unavoidable. I feel under the circumstances besetting the Municipality, that it is not practicable to adopt the Pay Commission Report scales of dearness allowance to the very letter, and I appeal to the employees to appreciate the critical position of the finances of the Municipality at the present moment and to reconcile themselves to lower scales of dearness allowance, consistently with the capacity of the Municipality, aided by the Provincial Government, to pay. It is up to the employees to look up to the Municipality as their own, and to try to adjust and accommodate the surrounding elements round about them along with their ownselves, and to wait for better times for effecting a further improvement for themselves along with an all-round improvement of the totality of their environment including the Municipality, the State and other factors. It is in the pursuance of this spirit of mutual give and take that both the employees on the one hand and the Municipality on the other can conjointly advance on the road of progress for the benefit of all. With these observations I proceed to consider the question of dearness allowance.

4f. I am not considering the employees of the Serampore Waterworks appertaining to the Howrah Municipality whose case was dealt with separately in an award of another Tribunal. It will not serve any useful purpose, under the circumstances which I have discussed, to consider the prevailing cost of living index figures in the manner of the Pay Commission. Taking all factors into consideration from the point of view of fairness to the employees and of the capacity of the Municipality to survive even with a reasonable amount of Government aid, I must decide upon a workable formula for dearness allowance. The scales of dearness allowance per month prevailing at present are as stated below:—

Up to Rs. 50 basic pay.

		Rs.
Conservancy menials	...	20
Other menials	...	18
Clerical staff and others	...	20

From Rs. 51 to Rs. 200 basic pay.

		Rs.
All categories of employees	...	20

All employees	...	10 per cent. of basic pay.

4g. In my opinion, there is no justification for making any distinction between one category of employees and another as regards dearness allowance. The dearness allowance for other menials should be the same as for the others. Dearness allowance should be determined solely on the basis of ranges of basic pay irrespective of the posts held, as the question of dearness of commodities affects all equally. One range of basic pay may very well be up to Rs. 50, as at present. Another range should be Rs. 51—100, to meet the needs of employees of medium status. Another range, under the circumstances of our particular case, may be Rs. 101—250. On giving careful thought to the whole question, I am going to improve the scales of dearness allowance to a small extent, and I regret that it is not practicable under present conditions or under the conditions expected in the near future to do much in this direction. It may be noted that fairly substantial increases in basic pay in the case of lower scale employees has been directed. I give the following directions in my award as regards dearness allowance per month, in respect of all categories of employees without any distinction:—

	Rs.
Up to Rs. 50 basic pay	20
From Rs. 51 to Rs. 100 basic pay ...	22
From Rs. 101 to Rs. 250 basic pay ...	25
Above Rs. 250 basic pay	10 per cent. of pay.

4h. I next take up the question of house-rent allowance as per item (d) of Issue No. 2. There is no system of house-rent allowance at present, and what is demanded is an innovation. As regards quarters it appears that quarters have been provided for a good proportion of the conservancy menials. A scheme for quarters for conservancy menials involving a cost of about 4 lakhs of rupees is pending for the consideration of the Government. The Municipality should do its best to induce the Provincial Government to sanction the scheme and provide suitable funds. As regards these and other employees, I regret that no comprehensive scheme of house-rent allowance, on the lines of the Pay Commission Report, can be decided upon for the present and the question should await the arrival of better times for the finances of the Municipality, which the authorities should strive hard to bring about as quickly as possible.

4i. I now pass on to item (e) as regards compensatory allowance, which appears to have been considered by the Central Pay Commission for special categories of employees under entirely special circumstances. These circumstances are not in existence in our case. It is therefore not necessary to consider this matter.

4j. Item (f) relating to extension of retiring age is next taken up. The present rule is that the age of retirement is 55 years and extensions may be granted in suitable cases up to 60 years. The Central Pay Commission recommended 58 years. After a certain amount of discussion, the Employees Association has decided not to press its demand on the basis of the Pay Commission's recommendation. I therefore give no directions regarding this matter, and the present system will continue.

4k. I then proceed to consider the subject of leave facilities as per item (g) of Issue No. 2. In the demands put forward by the Employees Association and in course of the hearing the Association stressed the question of privilege leave alone. The demand is that all employees without any distinction should be allowed one month's privilege leave for every 11 months of service, and such leave should be allowed to be accumulated up to 120 days. No question of casual or any other kind of leave has been raised, and with regard to these the present system will continue. I am to consider the question of privilege leave. At present, under rule 64 of the existing Leave Rules, only persons holding substantive or permanent appointments are eligible for privilege leave. Till recent times, conservancy menials were regarded as temporary employees, and consequently there was no question of leave for them. As regards other menials that is persons belonging to the inferior service, the present rule as per note under rule 78 is that no one in inferior service shall be granted privilege leave if it involves any extra expenses to the Municipality. By a recent resolution passed by the Commissioners of the Municipality, the note under rule 78 was proposed to be deleted, and under an added rule numbered 78A, it was proposed as follows: "No employee in the inferior service shall be granted privilege leave if it involves any extra expenses to the Municipality". Then follows a list of the categories of inferior service. By proposing to add another rule numbered 78B, the Commissioners proposed to provide for 15 days' privilege leave for conservancy menials within a calendar year under certain conditions. This privilege was previously denied to the conservancy menials, and the proposed rule is a distinct advance in favour of this class of workers who are now being regarded as permanent employees. It is somewhat incongruous that even by proposing the new rule 78A, the Commissioners did not make any adequate advance so far as other employees of the inferior service were concerned. I understand these new Leave Rules have since been approved by the Government, possibly with effect from 1st April 1946, as proposed by the Commissioners. It is true that under rule 128 of the rules framed under the Bengal Municipal Act sanction of the Local Government is required for effecting changes in the Leave Rules. That however does not preclude me from making an award on reasonable lines, and if necessary, the Commissioners should approach the Government, in its appropriate department, for the necessary sanction. In my opinion the present rules regarding privilege leave for employees other than conservancy menials and other employees in inferior service, under which privilege leave for one month for every 11 months of service can be earned and such leave can be accumulated up to three months require no change and are adequate. As regards conservancy menials conditions have started to be made better for them, in spite of the fact that they stand on a somewhat different footing from other menials, as regards the nature and conditions of service, and the provision made by the new rule 78B is a good advance. In my opinion, no further advance will be practicable for the present, and the results of working the new rule 78B may be watched before making any further proposal for advance. I direct that the proposals in rule 78B should be given effect to. As regards other employees of the inferior service, I am not satisfied that rule 78A is adequate. There is no reason why they should not get some privilege leave irrespective of the question of extra expenses to the Municipality. There is no objection to this rule 78A being retained for what it is worth under the condition imposed, and on the condition being fulfilled an employee of the inferior service would, I presume, be entitled to privilege leave just like employees of the superior service. But in my view, a person of the inferior service, as defined under rule 78A should, without being fettered by conditions, be entitled to some privilege leave. I direct that even when extra expenses to the Municipality may be involved, an employee of the inferior service shall be entitled to 20 days' privilege leave out of every 12 months of service (the 12 months including the period of leave), and such leave shall be allowed to be accumulated up to 60 days. If necessary a proposal of a new rule on these lines should be submitted to Government for approval.

4l. It is open to the Government in its appropriate department to sanction the leave rules with effect from 1st April 1946, as proposed by the Commissioners of the Municipality.

4m. Issue No. 2 raises the question as to whether the directions given in my award will take effect from January 1947. This is a matter which, under the law involved in the Industrial Disputes Act, should be left to the discretion of the Government in the Labour Department, and I leave it to be decided by the Government as it thinks fit.

Issues Nos. 3 and 10.

5. I now take up Issues Nos. 3 and 10 relating to the questions of Provident Fund and gratuity respectively. These two issues are taken up together as the questions involved are of an allied nature, and it is not practicable to consider them separately. At present the Provident Fund Rules in existence do not apply to the conservancy menials and to other menials who belong to the inferior service. The Commissioners of the Municipality have put forward a proposal for amendment of the Provident Fund Rules in order to extend the benefit of Provident Fund to all non-pensionable whole-time permanent employees including the inferior service-holders and conservancy menials with retrospective effect from 1st April 1946, and this proposal, I am told, is now pending for the approval of the Provincial Government. The amendment of rule 2 of the Provident Fund Rules on the lines proposed by the Commissioners in order to make the rules applicable to all persons of the conservancy service or of the inferior service as defined in the proposed new rules 78A and 78B of the Leave Rules is a substantial and distinct advance, and I hold that this proposal should be accepted and given effect to. The central factor in these proposals is that the conservancy menials and employees of the inferior service will under the new conditions get the benefit of the Provident Fund system exactly on the same lines as the employees of the superior services. It will of course be open to the Government in its appropriate department to approve of the position that the amended rules will have retrospective effect from 1st April 1946 as proposed by the Commissioners of the Municipality. It has been pointed out that section 69 of the Bengal Municipal Act lays down that the Commissioners of the Municipality can frame rules for Provident Fund, gratuity, etc., subject to the approval of the Provincial Government. This however does not preclude me from making an award on the subject of Provident Fund and gratuity on reasonable lines, and if necessary, the directions given in my award may be incorporated by the Commissioners in the form of a resolution and sent to the Government in its appropriate department for approval. In any case the directions given in my award will be binding on the Municipality.

5a. The next point is about additional contribution under rule 25 of the Provident Fund Rules as sanctioned by Government letter No. 297M., dated 30th January 1928, and recorded by resolution No. 106, dated 14th September 1928. Now that all employees including the conservancy menials have been placed on a permanent footing, and as fairness demands that the benefit of the rule about additional contribution should be available to all employees without any distinction, I hold that this benefit should be extended to the conservancy menials and to other menials in the inferior service and make my award accordingly. I also hold that the language of the first paragraph of sub-clause (I) of rule 25 relating to additional contribution should be recast on the following lines:—

> "In addition to the sum payable out of the Provident Fund, any servant who has subscribed to the Provident Fund and has rendered continuous good service for not less than 15 years will, at the time of retirement, be paid an additional contribution at the rate of half a month's pay for each complete year of service rendered by such servant, subject to a maximum of 15 months' pay but not exceeding Rs. 5,000, unless the Commissioners, on the recommendation of the Chairman, decide, for reasons to be recorded, to withhold such privilege from any particular servant. The amount of the contribution shall be calculated on the pay drawn by him at the time of retirement".

There is no objection to the amendment of rule 25, marked "C" proposed by the Commissioners of the Municipality by way of inserting after the words "15 years" the words—

> "Or for such less period as the Government in any particular case may sanction as a special case on the recommendation of the Commissioners at a meeting in consideration of any special fact or circumstances".

So much about the amendment of rule 25.

5b. The Commissioners of the Municipality have proposed that in view of the fact that the conservancy menials have been admitted to the benefits of the Provident Fund Rules, the rules for the grant of Fidelity Bonus to the conservancy menials as sanctioned by the Government in their letter No. 1759, dated 9th September 1942, be cancelled This matter requires further scrutiny. Under the rules relating to Fidelity Bonus the conservancy menials are entitled to some amount in the shape of Fidelity Bonus even if they have done service for less than 15 years provided that they have served for 5 years or more. Under the amended rule 25 of the Provident Fund Rules the benefit of additional contribution will not ordinarily be available to any employee who has done less than 15 years' service. There is no reason why the previous privilege relating to Fidelity Bonus available to conservancy menials with service between 5 and 15 years should be discontinued. It is noticeable that in the new proposal of the Commissioners relating to cancellation of the rules for the grant of Fidelity Bonus, there is no mention about the cancellation or retention of the gratuity rules for inferior service, under which employees of the inferior service would be entitled, on retirement, to a lump sum even after having done less than 15 years' service, provided that the service is not less than 5 years' duration. Here again there is no reason why by extending the benefit of the rule regarding additional contribution under the amended rule 25 of the Provident Fund Rules to employees of the inferior service, persons who have done less than 15 years' service should be deprived from existing privilege. I therefore hold that the Commissioners of the Municipality, after securing the approval of the Government in its appropriate department, should introduce the following modifications of the rules in respect of the conservancy menials and the employees of the inferior service as now defined in the new rule 78A of the Leave Rules. The definition of "inferior service" in the existing gratuity rules for inferior service should be changed and brought in line with the note to the new rule 78A of the Leave Rules. In cases of conservancy menials or of employees in inferior service as now defined, where the benefit of additional contribution under the amended rule 25 of the Provident Fund Rules does not become available for the reason that such employees have not done service for 15 years or more, the benefit of the existing rules relating to Fidelity Bonus applicable to conservancy menials and of the existing gratuity rules for inferior service made applicable to all employees of inferior service as now defined should continue to be applied to such conservancy menials or employees of the inferior service as the case may be. The gist of the matter is that in the cases of conservancy menials and employees of the inferior service, even a period of service from 5 years up to 15 years would entitle them on retirement, to such amounts as they would be entitled to get under the existing rules. In the cases of those employees who have done service for 15 years or more the provision regarding additional contribution under rule 25 of the Provident Fund Rules would come into operation, and the rules regarding Fidelity Bonus or the gratuity rules for inferior service would not be applicable. I direct that the Commissioners of the Municipality should put forward modified proposals on these lines and submit those proposals, if necessary, to the Government in its appropriate department for approval.

5c. I next proceed to deal with the subject of gratuity under Issue No. 10 The demand of the Employees Association in this respect is couched in words which are rather vague and unintelligible. This subject should be expressed in a precise form, and it is not clear what the Association really meant. What I have said above means that apart from the benefit of a Provident Fund for all categories of employees without any distinction they would all be entitled to a certain lump sum at the time of retirement either under the amended rule 25 of the Provident Fund Rules, relating to additional contribution, or under the rules relating to Fidelity Bonus, or under the gratuity rules for inferior service, as the circumstances of particular cases may require. That position really amounts to a grant of gratuity as distinguished from the benefit of a Provident Fund. The directions set forth above really mean that both kinds of benefit will be available to all categories of employees. There is, therefore, no need to consider the question of gratuity from any other angle. Some practical difficulties may arise in connection with the computation of length of service in respect of conservancy menials for whom no service records were hitherto maintained. These difficulties may arise in connection with the question of additional contribution or Fidelity Bonus which may be payable to an employee at the time of retirement. In the absence of proper service records, the periods of service rendered will have to be computed on independent evidence of direct or circumstantial character, and that evidence may be oral or otherwise. It is expected that the authorities of the Municipality will carry out this task of computing the length of service with a sympathetic outook.

5d. The question under Issue No. 3(a) is whether immediate effect can be given to the new Provident Fund scheme with retrospective effect from 1st April 1946. This matter will depend on the orders of the Government in its appropriate department, and it is open to the Government to direct that the new scheme will have retrospective effect from 1st April 1946 as proposed by the Commissioners of the Municipality.

5e. The question under Issue No. 3(b) is what should be the rates of subscriptions and contributions to the Provident Fund. So long the benefits of the Provident Fund were not given to the conservancy menials or to employees of the inferior service. They have now been made available to them. In addition all employees will get the benefit of lump sums in the nature of gratuities payable to them on retirement. In the face of these two-fold benefits which will now be available, it will not be proper for the Employees Association to insist on any increase of the rates of subscriptions and contributions to the Provident Fund over the present rate of 6¼ per cent., particularly in the light of the present deplorable financial condition of the Municipality. I, therefore, direct that the rate will for the present continue to be 6¼ per cent. till better times arrive.

Issue No. 4.

6. I next proceed to consider Issue No. 4 relating to the question of provision for the menials in respect of suitable quarters and suitable uniforms. As already discussed in connection with the question of house-rent allowance under Issue No. 2, a good proportion of the conservancy menials have already been provided with quarters, and a comprehensive scheme of building quarters for all conservancy menials likely to cost about 4 lakhs of rupees is pending for the consideration of the Government. At the present moment, in view of the extremely adverse financial condition of the Municipality it does not seem practicable to consider any broad scheme of building quarters for all categories of menials. In the preceding paragraphs the more important questions of basic pay, gradation of pay, dearness allowance, provident fund and gratuity have been considered, and I have directed substantial improvements in spite of the financial stringency which obtains at the moment. After having done all that, though not to the extent which I would personally desire, I do not think it will be fruitful to go into the question of furnishing quarters for the menials at the present stage. The Municipality however should pay its earnest attention to this question and do something substantial as soon as practicable.

6a. The next question is about suitable uniforms for the menials. It is mentioned in the statement submitted by the Municipality that uniforms are provided for outdoor menials other than conservancy menials, but in recent times owing to the circumstances of Government control in respect of cloth, such uniforms could not be regularly supplied. Now that the control in respect of cloth has been withdrawn, and suitable cloth is likely to be available in the open market at reasonable prices in the near future, I direct that the practice of supplying suitable uniforms to outdoor menials other than conservancy menials be regularly carried out, as soon as the circumstances permit. As regards the question of supplying uniforms to the large number of conservancy menials, the matter should be sympathetically considered by the Municipality as soon as the financial condition is placed on a more sound footing.

Issue No. 5.

7. Taking up Issue No. 5 relating to the question of retrenchment of the existing staff, I observe that the demand of the Employees Association that there should be no retrenchment of the existing staff does not seem to be reasonable from the practical standpoint. There may be various circumstances necessitating action by way of retrenchment of unnecessary personnel, and it will be unreasonable to fetter the discretion of the employers in the matter of taking such appropriate action under suitable circumstances as may be necessary in the interest of efficiency or economy or otherwise. It will, however, be reasonable to lay down the principle of "Come last go first", that is to say, the principle that when retrenchment has to be carried out for legitimate reasons employees with the least period of service should be eliminated first, and employees with longer period of service should be retained, as far as practicable. It will also be a salutory rule to observe that new appointments should not be made so long as retrenchment is carried out, and sincere efforts should be made to absorb surplus personnel as far as practicable. With regard to this issue I make my award accordingly.

Issue No. 6.

8. Coming to issue No. 6 regarding the rate of conveyance allowance for outdoor officers I find that a conveyance allowance meant ordinarily for the up-keep of a bicycle is allowed to outdoor employees such as Overseers, Sub-Overseers, Sanitary Inspectors, Medical Inspectors, Vaccinating Inspectors, Collection Inspectors, License Inspectors, Ward Surveyors, Amins, etc. It appears that the conveyance allowance for old employees appointed up to 1935 was Rs. 10 per month, and that fixed for new employees appointed after 1935 was fixed at Rs. 5 per month. I do not see any justification for maintaining this difference as the expenses involved must be the same in all cases. I, therefore, direct that the conveyance allowance should be equal for all employees old and new who may be entitled to it under the rules, and it should be fixed at Rs. 10 per month.

Issue No. 7.

9. I now pass on to Issue No. 7 relating to overtime allowance. It appears that the hours of work in the office of the Municipality are at present from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. without any recess, that is to say, the number of working hours is 6. Any work beyond these hours will count as overtime work. It is represented on behalf of the Municipality that in the cases of some particular employees work beyond the usual closing hour of the office has necessarily to be done, and it is not possible to avoid this kind of overtime work. For instance, the Chairman's clerk and those who have to work in connection with meetings which usually take place after the office hours, or some employees who have to work in connection with the stores godown, or do despatch work have to do work occasionally beyond the usual office hours. It further appears that some employees like the Chairman's clerk, the Vice-Chairman's clerk, the stores godown assistant, the meeting daftry, orderlies of the Chairman, Vice-Chairman and the Secretary and others are paid certain consolidated allowances as remuneration for over-time work which they have to do. It is likely, however, that some cases of over-time work are not being remunerated in that manner or as I gather that extra allowances for over-time work are paid in the Motor Workshop, the General Workshop and certain other places where work of a mechanical and technical character is done. On the whole there is no regular system for payment of extra allowances for over-time work which is occasionally done by different categories of employees. On giving careful consideration to all facts and circumstances I give the following directions, relating to the subject of over-time allowance.

9a. The working hours in the office should be 6 hours preferably with half an hour's gap by way of a recess, and the starting and closing hours may be determined by the authorities of the Municipality according to the convenience of all concerned. Work done beyond the recognised office hours will count as over-time work. Ordinarily speaking, over-time work should be avoided as far as practicable. The circumstances relating to the working of the Municipality are such that it may not always be practicable to avoid over-time work particularly with regard to certain aspects of the working in which the Commissioners of the Municipality who are non-official gentlemen are involved. There is nothing before me to indicate that the present system of paying consolidated allowances to employees like the Chairman's clerk, Vice-Chairman's clerk, the orderlies of the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman and the Secretary, the meeting daftry and others are unreasonably low in consideration of the quantity of over-time work they usually have to do. The present system of payment of consolidated allowances to such employees should therefore continue. The question that really arises for my consideration under this issue relates to employees who are actually employed on over-time work from time to time, and yet are not paid either any consolidated allowance or any extra remuneration whatever. As I have already said work done beyond the usual office hours which will be 6 apart from any recess period which may be introduced will count as over-time work. The calculation of the quantity of over-time work done in the office should not be difficult. Difficulties may however arise in the cases of employees who do both outdoor work and work in the office. It has been brought to my notice that despatch peons, for example, belong to this category of employees. With regard to such employees and others, it will not be necessary for the Municipality to insist on punctual attendance at the usual starting hour and the authorities of the Municipality will be at liberty to fix suitable working hours for such employees. The question may arise as to how the hours spent on outdoor work are to be converted in terms of work at the office, in order to determine whether any over-time work beyond the usual 6 hours is being done or not. It will not be reasonable or safe to count all the hours spent outside by outdoor workers of this nature as solid working hours in the usual sense of the term, as I fear that the tendency on the part of some at least may be to while away time unnecessarily on so-called outdoor work. The authorities should be at liberty to devise some method of converting hours spent on outdoor work in terms of working hours in the office on a reasonable and sensible basis, so that chances of dilatoriness on the part of the employees may be eliminated as far as practicable. The last question is what should be the remuneration for over-time work which may be actually done by employees of different categories. I direct that the allowance for over-time work shall be one and a half times of the usual wages payable to the employee concerned on the footing that he is being paid so much per month consisting of 30 days each day being equivalent to 6 hours.

Issue No. 8.

10. I next proceed to take up Issue No. 8, the question being what should be the principles of filling up vacancies by promotion or otherwise. The question of filling up vacancies should of course be regulated by the rules in existence as regards the qualifications required and other factors. The demand of the Employees Association seems to be that proper scope for promotion to higher appointments should be given to efficient employees who may not have the requisite academic qualifications, and what is asked for is that the rule of minimum academic qualifications should be relaxed to some extent, if an experienced employee is found otherwise fit and efficient. This demand of the Employees Association appears to me to be quite reasonable, and I have no doubt that the Commissioners of the Municipality would not mind relaxing the rule regarding minimum academic qualifications in suitable cases. I therefore direct that in considering the question of filling up vacancies the question of promoting suitable persons from lower ranks should be taken into consideration, and mere rule of minimum academic qualifications should not stand in the way if an experienced person in the lower ranks is found otherwise fit. The question of fitness and efficiency must of course be left to the judgment of the authorities.

Issue No. 9.

11. I next take up Issue No. 9 which raises the question of consultation with the Employees Association on matters relating to appointment, transfer, dismissal and promotion. After a certain amount of discussion it is conceded on behalf of the Employees Association that in case of difference of opinion on matters like this the views of the Commissioners of the Municipality should prevail. The Association has contended that there should be previous consultation, while the Municipality has stated that it has no objection to consider the suggestions of the Employees Association. So far as I can see a system of previous consultation may not ensure speedy working of the machinery of administration, but the matter may be considered later on when the Association reaches further stages of development in respect of efficiency and speedy disposal of work. Under present conditions I am unable to direct that in every case the authorities of the Municipality should consult the Employees Association beforehand. I direct however that in matters of appointment, transfer, dismissal, promotion, etc., the authorities of the Municipality should consult the Employees Association and consider its suggestions with sympathy as far as practicable. In conclusion I should like to impress on both the employers and the employees that it is only in a spirit of mutual appreciation of the needs of each other that they can ensure the advancement of both, and that neither can really exist or thrive without the other and it may, therefore, be legitimately hoped that both sides will work in an atmosphere of complete amity and goodwill.

Malda.—No. P.H. 2R-18/48.—20th March 1948. —Whereas the Governor is satisfied that the district of Malda is threatened with an outbreak of small-pox:

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (Act III of 1897), the Governor is pleased to prescribe the following temporary regulations for the prevention and control of small-pox, and for the medical inspection, isolation, observation and surveillance of persons suffering from, or suspected of being infected with, small-pox in the said district for a period of four months:—

Temporary regulations for the prevention and control of small-pox.

1. In these regulations, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) "District Health Officer" means the Health Officer of the district appointed by the District Board under sub-section (3) of section 91 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885);

(b) "Sanitary Inspector" means a Sanitary Inspector appointed by the District Board under sub-section (3) of section 91 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885.

(c) "Board" means a District Board constituted under the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885;

(d) "Union Board" means a Union Board constituted under the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919;

(e) "small-pox" means any disease accompanied by an eruption of vesicles or pustules;

(f) "patient" means a person suffering from or suspected to be suffering from small-pox;

(g) "medical practitioner" means any person practising the medical profession.

Notices.

2. If in any case the District Health Officer considers that the issue of a notice under regulation 20 is likely to lead to such an amount of delay as might facilitate the spread of small-pox he may forthwith take such steps as he may think fit for carrying out the work, and shall thereafter, as soon as possible, issue a notice on the person concerned stating the reasons why such work has been carried out.

3. If any measure which the District Health Officer has, by a notice issued under regulation 20, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice the District Health Officer shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

Costs and compensation.

4. (1) All expenses incurred in carrying out any work in pursuance of an order issued under these regulations shall be paid by the Board except in any case where the order directs a person to carry out any work in relation to property in his possession, in which case the expenses shall be paid by such persons:

Provided that where the conditions which led the District Health Officer to pass such an order, are not attributable to any or default of the person in possession of the property, the Board may pay to such person the whole or a part of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The Board may recover all expenses incurred by the District Health Officer in carrying out the measure under regulation 3 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

5. The Board shall pay adequate compensation to any person who has sustained substantial loss or damage by reason or anything done under these regulations:

Provided that no person shall receive any compensation for anything done or suffered under these regulations if he has failed to carry out an order issued under these regulations within the time specified in the order and to the satisfaction of the District Health Officer.

Location of disease.

6. When a case of small-pox occurs in a house, the nearest male relative in attendance upon the patient, or in the absence of any such relative the occupier of the house, or if the occupier be the patient, the senior male inmate of the house other than the patient of the house shall, within twenty-four hours of the onset of the disease, give information regarding the occurrence of such case either personally or in writing or by means of the chaukidar or other village watchman to the nearest Sanitary Inspector.

7. (1) Every medical practitioner called in to attend upon any case of small-pox shall forthwith give notice of the case by a special messenger to the nearest member of the outdoor staff of the Board and to the District Health Officer by post and the cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the Board.

(2) The doctor-in-charge of a hospital or a dispensary within the district shall forthwith give notice of any case of small-pox brought to such hospital or dispensary for treatment to the nearest Sanitary Inspector by a special messenger and to the District Health Officer by post, and the cost in each case shall be defrayed by the Board.

8. Presidents of Union Boards in union board areas and thana officers in non-union board areas shall supply to the District Health Officer such periodical returns of cases of small-pox as he may from time to time call upon them to furnish.

9. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may examine any person who is, or suspected to be, suffering from small-pox or who, in his opinion, may be infected with or likely to spread small-pox.

Isolation of patients.

10. When the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector considers that the isolation of any patient is a precaution necessary for the protection of the neighbouring population, he shall order the patient to observe isolation and may order the nearest relative in attendance on the patient, or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying, to arrange for the isolation of the patient in such a manner and for such a time as may be approved by the District Health Officer.

He shall not direct the patient to be removed from the house unless it is, in his opinion, impossible to make proper arrangements for his isolation therein.

11. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person, who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from small-pox, shall be segregated for a period not exceeding a fortnight in a manner and in a place to be approved by the District Health Officer.

12. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from small-pox shall be vaccinated or re-vaccinated within a time to be specified in the order.

13. No person shall enter any place wherein a patient is isolated under regulation 10 without the permission of the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

14. When a patient has been removed from a house for isolation under regulation 10, the Board shall provide for him free of charge a suitable place, with necessary attendants, diet, etc.

15. No person, who is or has been suffering from small-pox, shall leave the place where he has been staying until he has received from the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector written permission to do so.

15A. No person while suffering from evident symptoms of small-pox or in the convalescent state of the disease with scabs of pocks on his body shall expose himself in any street, road, public place, shop, bazar or any place used in common by persons other than members of the family or household to which such infected person belongs or shall move from place to place unless he is proceeding to a hospital for admission and treatment.

Miscellaneous.

16. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require any person to allow to be carried out by such agency and within such time as may be specified in the order, such measures for the disinfection of any premises in the occupation of such person or for the disinfection or destruction of any of his personal effects, as the said officer or inspector may consider necessary.

16A. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector authorised by the District Health Officer in writing in that behalf may, during the prevalence of any outbreak of small-pox, order that any bazar, shop or other public place shall remain closed for such time as may appear to him to be necessary and may forbid the holding of any fair, mela or other gathering to which people from several villages commonly or periodically resort.

17. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may direct the owner or occupier of any premises to take steps to have vaccinated or revaccinated within a time to be specified in the order any person residing on such premises and under the control of such owner or occupier if the District Health Officer is of opinion that such person has been in contact with any one suffering from small-pox.

18. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may forbid any person who has been a patient or who has to his knowledge been in contact with a patient to act as vendor of any article for such period as may be specified in the order.

18A. No person shall carry or permit to be carried in a public conveyance a patient except in the case where a patient is carried to a hospital with the following precautions against spreading the disease, namely:—

(i) that he is so well covered that the discharge and scabs from the lesions do not come directly into touch with the body of the conveyance;

(ii) that he is taken to the hospital direct and the conveyance does not halt at any other place for transacting any business; and

(iii) that excepting one or two attendants for the patient no other person is carried in the conveyance at the same time.

18B. Every conveyance in which a patient or a dead body of a person who has died of small-pox or any article that has been in contact with a patient is carried shall be disinfected before it is used again. The disinfection will be effected—

(i) in the case of a conveyance carrying a patient to hospital, by the authorities of the hospital before such conveyance leaves the hospital;

(ii) in the case of a conveyance carrying any clothing, bedding or other article of a patient to the disinfecting station, by the authorities of such station; and

(iii) in the case of a conveyance carrying a dead body to the burial or cremation ground, by the owner of the conveyance himself and such owner shall effect the disinfection with a strong solution of formalin (1 in 400), lysol (1 in 500), izol (1 in 500) or of saponified cresol (1 in 160).

19. No person shall sell any article which has been in contact with a patient until it has been disinfected to the satisfaction of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

19A. No person shall expose in any street, shop, bazar or any public place any clothing, bedding or other article which has been in contact with a patient or shall cause or suffer such articles to be carried in any public conveyance, but nothing in this regulation shall apply to a person who transmits any such article for the purpose of having the same disinfected with the following precautions against spreading the disease:—

(i) the article is so well covered with a cloth soaked in strong solution of formalin (1 in 400), lysol (1 in 500), izol (1 in 500) or of saponified cresol (1 in 160), that it does not come directly into touch with the body of the conveyance;

(ii) the article is taken to the disinfecting station direct and the conveyance does not halt at any other place for transacting any business; and

(iii) excepting one attendant for the purpose of taking the infected articles to the disinfecting station no other person is carried in the conveyance.

20. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may issue general orders that by a specified date certain sanitary precautions of a simple nature, such as lime-washing of houses, clearing of latrines or the removal of filth or rubbish shall be carried out to his satisfaction.

20A. No person shall carry or permit to be carried in a public conveyance the dead body of any person who has died of small-pox without the previous written permission of the District Health Officer, or a Sanitary Inspector and without taking the following precautions against spreading the said disease:—

(i) the dead body is so well covered with a cloth soaked in a strong solution of formalin (1 in 400), lysol (1 in 500), izol (1 in 500), or of saponified cresol (1 in 160) that the discharge and scabs from the lesions do not come directly into touch with the body of the conveyance;

(ii) the dead body is taken to the burial or cremation ground direct and the conveyance does not halt at any other place for transacting any business; and

(iii) excepting attendants for the dead body no other person is carried in the conveyance at the same time.

21. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may prohibit persons from retaining or selling clothes taken from the bodies of persons who have died of small-pox and may cause any such clothes to be destroyed.

22. No person shall, without the written permission of the District Health Officer, dispose of any corpse except by burning or burial.

23. The District Health Officer may approve burning or burial grounds and may by order direct either generally or specially in respect to any specified area, that corpses shall not be burned or buried at places other than those so approved by him.

24. Any person burning or causing to be burnt any corpse shall cause the same to be completely reduced to ashes and shall likewise cause the clothes or other articles brought with such corpse to be reduced to ashes.

25. The District Health Officer may direct that no person shall bury or cause to be buried any corpse, which in the opinion of the District Health Officer, is likely to spread small-pox, in a grave, not constructed of masonry and less than 6 feet deep.

26. The District Health Officer may order that no dome or other servant of the Board employed for the disposal of corpses shall withdraw from his duties without the permission of the District Health Officer unless such dome or other servant of the Board has given notice in writing not less than one month previously of his intention so to withdraw.

27. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may through any person authorised by such officer or inspector in that behalf seize and dispose of any corpse which in the opinion of the said officer or inspector is infected with or is likely to spread small-pox, unless the relatives or friends of the deceased person satisfy him that they are prepared and able to dispose of the corpse in a manner which will prevent the spread of small-pox.

28. (1) The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require any person who appears to be acquainted with facts in connection with any case or suspected case of small-pox to attend before him at a time to be stated in the order and at any place not more than one mile from the place where such person resides or is staying when the order is issued, and such person shall appear as so required.

(2) When the person summoned to appear under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public, suitable precaution shall be taken to respect the said custom.

29 (1) The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may examine orally any person who appears to be acquainted with the facts and circumstances of a case or suspected case of small-pox.

(2) When the person to be examined under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public, the officer shall take her statement under such conditions and shall admit of due respect of the said custom.

(3) Such person shall be bound to answer all questions relating to such case put to him or her by such officer, other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him or her to any criminal charge.

30. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may, with such assistants (if any) as he thinks fit, enter upon any land, or after two hours' notice in writing, into any premises or building used for human habitation at any time between sunrise and sunset for the purpose of carrying out any measure or making any enquiries authorised by these regulations.

31. The crew of any inland steam vessel or boat which plies in any canal or river and other persons residing on such vessel or boat shall be subject to these regulations.

32. (1) All vaccinations under these regulations shall be performed gratuitously provided they be done (a) at such public vaccination stations as may be opened by the District Board or (b) by house to house visits in the case of such females as are by the custom of the country unable to attend at public vaccination stations and are too poor to pay fees.

(2) Persons desirous of being vaccinated in their own houses other than those specially exempted under sub-regulation (1) shall pay a fee of two annas for each vaccination for which they shall get a printed receipt: provided that the total amount of fees payable for any number of operations performed in one family at the same house and at the same time shall not exceed annas eight.

33. (i) Orders issued by the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector under these regulations shall be in writing.

(ii) The officer issuing such orders shall cause copies of them to be served upon any persons named in them.

(iii) The nearest relative of a patient or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying shall, if a copy of the order under regulation 10 has been served upon him, give to the nearest Sanitary Inspector or to his office immediate notice of any disobedience of the order by the patient.

By order of the Governor,
S. K. GUPTA, Secy.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE, LABOUR AND INDUSTRIES

Labour

ORDER.

No. 787Lab.—15th March 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department order No. 975-Lab., dated the 11th December 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Wachel Mollah and Sons, Limited, 8, Dharamtolla Street, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by Nikhil Banga Dokan Karmachary Samity, 7, Puddo Pukur Road, Bhowanipur, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sree S. C. Dutta Gupta, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sree S. C. Dutta Gupta, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sree S. C. Dutta Gupta, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company aforesaid and its employees as specified therein. The said award shall take effect from the 11th December 1947 and shall remain in operation for a period of one year from that date except with regard to the questions of re-instatement and provident fund which shall remain in force for one year with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE S. C. DATTA GUPTA, Esq., Tribunal, Industrial Disputes.

In the matter of a dispute between Messrs. Wachel Molla and Sons, Ltd., 8, Dharamtolla Street, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by Nikhil Banga Dokan Karmachary Samity, 7, Puddo Pukur Road, Bhowanipur, Calcutta.

By order No. 975Lab., dated the 11th December 1947, the Government of West Bengal in the Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, referred the abovementioned dispute to me as Tribunal, under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication.

The Nikhil Banga Dokan Karmachary Samity is also known as Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal, which was registered under the Indian Trade Union Act, the registration No. being 193. Messrs. Wachel Molla and Sons, Ltd., is a flourishing concern in the city and is one of the largest of its kind transacting business in retail basis. The concern was first founded by Mr. Wachel Molla who died in February 1945. With the death of the founder there was some consequential dislocation, but the concern was stabilised again by being converted into a Limited Company in June 1947. This Limited Company treated the services of the employees of the old firm as having terminated with the formation of the Company, but did not in point of fact throw them out and reappointed them under new conditions.

There had been discontent among the employees of the firm regarding wages, bonuses, leave, welfare schemes, etc., and a demand by them was placed before the management setting forth their grievances through the Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal on the 20th of October 1947. The demands were not met and the assistants decided to wear "hungry employee" badges and some of them at any rate started wearing such badges on the 2nd of November 1947. The management took serious exceptions to such a conduct on the part of their employees and their persuasion to some of the employees to do away with the badges proved abortive. For this or other reasons 16 of the employees were discharged, some on the 2nd of November and some on the 6th. The Secretary of the Wachel Molla Shop Assistants' Union was suspended on the 2nd of November last. This Union claims to have affiliation with the Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal. The position taken by the management is that the present business is accountable only from June 1947 when it was actually started and is not bound to take into account the mode and manner in which Wachel Molla and his heirs dealt with the employees in granting bonuses and allowances. It maintains that at the suggestion of the employees themselves the heirs of the deceased Wachel Molla added the dearness allowance to their substantive pay and the Company has fixed the salaries accordingly and no other allowance is claimable from it by the employees. The locus standi of the Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal to represent the employees of the Company is also assailed by it.

The parties to this dispute put in their written statements stating the demands and objections thereto and the same will appear from the undermentioned points in dispute between the parties, in the form of issues:—

Issues.

1. Recognition of the Union.
2. Security of service.
3. Scale of salaries of—
   (a) Assistant or Departmental Managers.
   (b) Workmen including packers, clerks, salesmen, purchasers, memo-writers, cashiers, cutters and compounder.

9. Monthly notice.
10. Welfare scheme.

During the hearing of the proceedings Mr. A. K. Bhattacharjee, Counsel, assisted by Mr. Indu Bhusan Sarkar, Pleader, and the Manager of the firm appeared for the management and Mr. Dwijendra Sen Gupta, Pleader, assisted by Mr. Nikunja Behari Dutt, General Secretary of the Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal and Mr. Khurshid Ahmed, Secretary, Wachel Molla Shop Assistants' Union, appeared for the Union.

At the very outset Mr. Bhattacharjee raised a question of jurisdiction of the Tribunal in entering into the dispute. His contention was that there cannot be any dispute of any of the employees with Messrs. Wachel Molla and Sons, Ltd., because, it was said that all the employees were appointed by an agency, viz., the Managing Agents of Messrs. Wachel Molla and Sons, Ltd. This Managing Agency, it was contended, is the only body entitled to deal with questions of employment, discharge and all matters incidental thereto. All such matters, it was stated, had been vested and delegated to this agency under certain arrangements. The Limited Company started business with effect from the 1st of June 1947 after its registration and several formalities. Under Article 187 of the Memorandum of Articles of Association of the Limited Company the business of it is to be carried on by the Managing Agents. So the learned Counsel argued that the dispute, if any, was between the Managing Agents and the employees and not between the Limited Company and the employees. In support of his contention the learned Counsel produced a notice, dated the 21st May 1947, issued by Wachel Molla and Sons to the effect that the business had been sold to Messrs. Wachel Molla and Sons, Ltd., and the services of the employees would therefore be terminated with effect from the 31st May 1947. I was also referred to page 11 of the Memorandum of Articles of Association of the Limited Company for showing that there were four outsiders (not related to the late Khan Shaheb Wachel Molla) in the Board of Directors. I must observe that the point raised is of a highly technical nature. There is a dispute between the employers and the workmen connected with the employment and non-employment and terms of employment of some persons. It is therefore an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act. So in view of the existence of the dispute the Government constituted this Tribunal to adjudicate on it and referred it to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Act. The Tribunal thus is a creature of the Statute and its jurisdiction on that account cannot be challenged. It is incumbent upon the Tribunal, when the dispute has been referred to it, to hold its proceedings and to submit its award under section 15 of the Act to the Government. The Managing Agency itself is a creature of the Limited Company, having been created under Article 187 of the Articles of Association. It is so to speak the Manager of the Company which is the parent body. So if there be a dispute existing between the employees and the Managing Agency it is really a dispute between the employees and the Company. I do not see how in such a view the jurisdiction of the Tribunal can be ousted from entering into the dispute. It was urged for the management that even if an award were made by the Tribunal the Limited Company could not implement it as the question of implementation lay with the Managing Agents. The Tribunal, it must be observed, cannot decline to give an award on the ground that there might be difficulty in implementing it. The award, when made, will be binding on the disputants after a declaration by the Government and there is provision for penalty in the Act for breach of any term of the award, in section 29. Even if there be any difficulty, though I do not envisage any, the Company at all events may direct its Managing Agent to implement the award. For the reason given above I fail to see how any question of jurisdiction can stand in the way of the Tribunal in making an award in the dispute in question.

I now proceed to give my award on the various issues raised in the dispute.

AWARD.

Issue No. 1—Recognition of the Union.

On behalf of the employees recognition is demanded in respect of Messrs. Wachel Molla and Sons, Ltd., Karmachary Samity, i.e., Wachel Molla and Sons, Ltd. Shop Assistants' Union. The demand was resisted on behalf of the management. It was maintained that not even 50 per cent. of the employees are members of this Union. The total number of employees in the firm is 217 and the actual strength of the employees in the Union is over 125. It appears that about 100 employees with their signatures pledged their allegiance to the Union on the 13th of October 1947. Some others joined it after that. On the very date, viz., on the 13th October 1947, the Secretary of the newly formed Union sent a letter to the Secretary of the Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal for affiliation and the affiliation was granted by the latter Association on the 15th of October 1947. A certificate of this affiliation is on record and it is not open to any challenge by the management as it is in the nature of a domestic affair between Wachel Molla and Sons, Ltd. Shop Assistants' Union and the Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal. About a week after, viz., on the 20th of October 1947, the newly formed Union sent a letter to the Managing Agent describing him as Sirajul Islam Molla. It was pointed out for the Company that there is no one of that name in the Managing Agency and that Mr. Serajul Haque Molla, the third son of the late Khan Shaheb Wachel Molla now manages the firm with the assistance of his sister's husband Mr. Mahabubar Rahaman, who is the Secretary of the Managing Agents. In spite of the inaccuracy there can be no mistake about the identity of the addressee.

For the Company it was urged that the employees formed a Union named Wachel Molla Shop Workers' Union in September 1947 and that about 180 employees are at present members of it. Mr. Abdul Motaleb, who is the General Manager of the Company, is the President of this Union. Though this Union is alleged on behalf of the management to have been formed in September 1947 no intimation about its formation was sent in writing to the Company until so late as 3rd of January 1948, i.e., long after the filing of written statements by the parties. On the 5th January last the Company signified its recognition to this new Union by a letter addressed to its Secretary. When the General Manager of the firm is the highest office bearer of this Union it is probable that some of the employees who previously pledged their allegiance to the disputant Union saw their way to repudiate it and join in the new Union. But that by itself cannot be any ground for withholding recognition of the disputant Union. There is no bar in law to the existence of two or more unions of employees in any particular firm. In this particular case we are not concerned with the question whether the new Union alleged to have been formed should be recognised or not. I may, however, note in passing that at page 3 of its written statement, which was filed on the 30th December 1947, the Management asserts that the employees of the limited business had no union of their own and that they did not require any. At the time when the dispute was referred to the Tribunal more than 100 members of the disputant Union were employees of the firm. The dispute concerns that Union only. In the absence of definite proof that the majority have repudiated their allegiance to it withholding of recognition would not be justified. If all repudiated the allegiance, of course it would die a natural death. But that situation has not yet taken place. As I fail to see how anything but advantage can accrue to the Company by recognising the disputant Union I propose that the Company should recognise it and give my award accordingly.

Issue No. 8—Reinstatement or grant of any other relief to certain employees.

This issue concerns 13 employees of whom Bansari Mohan Guin is the President, Khurshid Ahmed, the Secretary and the rest are members of Messrs. Wachel Molla and Sons, Ltd. Shop Assistants' Union. Bansari Mohan Guin was dismissed on 2nd November 1947 and Khurshid Ahmed was suspended on the same date. The rest were all discharged on 6th November 1947. The suspension and dismissals, according to the Union, are acts of victimisation on the part of the Management for Trade Union activities in which these employees took active part. With regard to the demand for reinstatement the Company took up the stand that it has certainly the right to discharge an employee if he is found to be acting in a manner calculated to injure his master's interest and that the conduct and management of every business undertaking would be impossible if the servant flouts his master. The Company alleged that there was no victimisation.

The National Labour Relations Act of the United States in section 7 provides that it is an unfair labour practice for an employer to refuse to bargain collectively with the representatives of its employees. Though in India there is no enactment laying a statutory duty on an employer to bargain with his workmen or defining an unfair labour practice, the principle that has been well established by the decisions of Industrial Courts is that such courts would give relief to the employees where the Management has been found to have employed what they consider to be unfair labour practice. Mr. Justice Divatia in the India Mills Dispute went so far as to observe that an Industrial Court is justified in awarding even strike pay provided the conduct of the employees has been peaceful. So two points are of primary importance in questions relating to reinstatement: first, whether there has been any unfair labour practice on the part of the Management and secondly, if the conduct of the employees has been peaceful. For the employees it was urged that as their demands for augmentation of pay and betterment of service conditions were not listened to or even met half way by the Management they decided to wear "hungry employee" badges and in fact started wearing such badges on the 2nd November 1947. The Management tried to persuade the employees to take off the badges but in vain so far as the dismissed and suspended employees are concerned. Some of the officers of the Management on the top, it was contended, even went to the length of tearing away badges from some of the employees. But as no method succeeded with the 13 employees in question in changing their decision they were suspended and discharged on the 2nd and 6th of November. It is not in dispute that these employees started wearing "hungry employee" badges on the 2nd of November. Abdul Khaleque, the first witness examined for the Company admitted that the 13 persons sacked were discharged for neglect of duty and for objectionable behaviour with the customers. The wearing of "hungry employee" badges might also, according to this witness, be one of the minor causes. With these observations I proceed to deal with the cases of the individual employees.

Re: Bansari Mohan Guin.

He, as I have already observed, is the President of the Union and was dismissed on the 2nd of November 1947. At the time of hearing the Company produced a letter bearing 1-11-1947 as the date of it and purporting to have been addressed by S. H. Molla (apparently one of the Managing Agents) to Bansari Mohan Guin with the intimation that his services were dispensed with with immediate effect (from the 2nd November, 1947) due to breach of trust committed by him in respect of purchases of goods made by him for the Cloth Department on behalf of the firm. No materials were placed before me sufficient for finding that he committed any breach of trust in respect of purchase of goods. No specific allegation was made in the written statement of the Management that his dismissal was the result of misconduct in the shape of breach of trust. The fact remains that he is the President of the Union and started wearing "hungry employee" badge on the 2nd of November. It looks like a rather strange coincidence that a person who was in the employ of the firm for about 12 years and had reached the pay of Rs. 97 starting from a low beginning of Rs. 35 and being aged 54 or 55 should have received the order of discharge on a charge of breach of trust on the very day he started wearing "hungry badge". Wearing of such a badge is a peaceful demonstration by an employee about his neglected position. However humiliating to the Company such a conduct on the part of the employee it might appear to be, the extreme step of dismissing an employee on that ground seems to be incommensurate with the offence. Dismissal on the ground of wearing a "hungry badge" cannot but be characterised as an unfair labour practice as the conduct of the employee was otherwise peaceful. I am, therefore, of opinion that Bansari Mohan Guin should be reinstated. If he has been guilty of any breach of trust action may be taken against him in other proceedings.

Re: Khurshid Ahmed.

He is also an office bearer of the Union, being its Secretary. He was suspended on 2nd November 1947. He also started wearing "hungry employee" badge on that day and was served with a letter on the very day by the Management that he had misappropriated the stock of the disposal goods. I may note in the case of this employee also that no specific charge of misappropriation was laid against him in the written statement of the Company. All that has been stated there in respect of the discharged employees is that an employee must be discharged if he be found to be acting in a manner prejudicial to the interest of the master and flouts him. Probably wearing of the "hungry employee" badge and refusal of the employees to take it away was considered by the Management to be flouting of its authority. With regard to Khurshid Ahmed it appears that Mr. M. Rahaman, the Director and Secretary of the Management, on the 2nd of November 1947 granted him a certificate to the effect that his conduct was very praiseworthy and that during the period of 3 years he was in employment he was found honest, sincere and a businesslike man. This testimonial is directly in conflict with the charge of misappropriation conveyed in the letter of suspension. In view of these circumstances I feel myself unable to hold that the charge of misappropriation has been brought home against this employee. To my mind from the evidence on record it appears to be abundantly clear that the suspension was the immediate consequence of the wearing of the "hungry badge". Union activities on the part of this employee also contributed to the action taken by the Management in the form of suspension. He also therefore should be reinstated as he has been a victim of unfair labour practice on the part of the Management.

Re: the other 11 employees, viz., Mohd. Israil, Debendra Nath Singha, Sailendra Nath Das, Mani Mohan Singha, Mohd. Shafiuddin, Kazi Noor Ahmed, Mir Mumtaz Ali, Mohd. Mansur Ahmed, Anil Kumar Guin, Lalit Mohan Nandi and Kaloo Mullick.

All these 11 workers are members of the disputant Union. Their evidence is that they were discharged for having worn the hungry badge. Excepting what was vaguely alleged in the written statement of the Company that they were acting in a manner calculated to injure the employer's interest and flouted the master no definite charge was made against them in regard to their dismissals. The evidence establishes that wearing of hungry badges as members of the disputant Union was their only fault for which they were visited with extreme punishment of dismissal. Here also there was unfair labour practice on the part of the Management and all these 11 employees are entitled to be reinstated.

As I have already observed the action of the Management in suspending and dismissing the employees was provoked to a certain extent by their wearing the badges, so they cannot be allowed all the advantages which they might otherwise claim consequent on reinstatement. The 13 employees concerned in this issue should be reinstated immediately on the publication of the award and the period from the date of their suspension and dismissal as the case may be to the date of reinstatement should be treated as leave without any break of service and for this leave period they should get half pay.

Issues Nos. 3 and 4—Scale of salary and dearness allowance.

On behalf of the Union it was contended that the minimum emolument that is being paid by the Management is very inadequate and in its written statement the demand made was that the workers' scale of pay should be fixed at Rs. 75—20—300 and Assistant or Departmental Manager's scale should be fixed at Rs. 300—50—500. The workmen as stated by the Union, include packers, clerks, salesmen, purchasers, memo-writers, cashiers, cutters, and compounders. The Company maintains that the wages and salary that the different categories of employees have been getting are adequate and at the time of hearing the learned counsel on behalf of the Company stated that the Company would be prepared to introduce some new scale consistent with the responsibility and duties of the different categories of workers.

As regards Assistants or Departmental Managers, it appears that there are 8 departments in the firm. In every department there are sections except in the Shoe and Drapery Department. There is one head for each department and it is the Company's case that such heads are really Head Salesmen. So according to the Company there are no Assistants or Departmental Managers but only Head Salesmen. The Company suggests that for future entrants it would be prepared to introduce a scale of Rs. 75—5—110 for Head Salesmen. Some of the present staff in this category are getting Rs. 90 and some Rs. 100 at present.

Now that the report of the Central Pay Commission has been published, their recommendations as to the minimum wage and the scales of pay of different categories of employees are of first importance and must be given very careful consideration by any Tribunal. Their conclusions were arrived at after long, careful and industrious investigations and review of a very large mass of data. The remark of the Commission that in no case should a man's pay be less than a living wage cannot be taken exception to by anybody and the whole structure is based on this living wage. In fixing the total earnings of the lowest paid class of workers at Rs. 70, the Pay Commission made up that amount as follows:—

Basic pay—Rs. 30 per month.

Dearness allowance—Rs. 25 per month (at the level of prices prevailing in January 1947).

Compensatory allowance for cities like Calcutta —Rs. 5 per month.

House allowance—Rs. 10 per month.

At the same time the capacity of the firm to pay, the nature of the work a particular employee is called upon to do and many other factors have also got to be taken into account. Having all these circumstances in view, I proceed now in fixing the scale of salaries of different categories of workers. In my view the scale of pay of the Head Salesmen, described as Assistants or Departmental Managers by the Union should be Rs. 100—5—125 (E.B.) —6—185.

At the time of hearing the Union demanded that the scale of packers should be Rs. 75—5—150. Of the packers the existing minimum salary is Rs. 47. Some are getting Rs. 60 which is the maximum. The learned counsel for the Company suggested that for future entrants, it would be prepared to adopt Rs. 50—2—65 as the scale for packers. Having regard to the duties they have to perform and other factors, I consider that Rs. 50—3—80 should be the scale introduced in respect of packers.

The minimum existing salary of a clerk is Rs. 55 and the maximum is Rs. 100. The Company proposes to adopt a scale of Rs. 50—2—80 for future entrants. The Union at the time of hearing demanded that the scale should be Rs. 100—200. My award is that the scale for clerks should be Rs. 60—4—120 (E.B.)—6—150.

At present the minimum salary of a salesman is Rs. 45 and the maximum is Rs. 75. For future entrants the Company proposes to introduce a scale of Rs. 50—2—60 in respect of ordinary salesman and Rs. 55—3—85 for salesman in the superior grade. The Union demands the introduction of a scale from Rs. 100—200. I propose that for ordinary salesman the scale should be Rs. 55—3—85, and for salesman in the superior grade, the scale should be Rs. 60—4—120 (E.B.)—6—150.

There are no whole-time purchasers. Purchase is done mostly by the departmental heads. This is the position taken by the Company and I accept it. So no separate scale is necessary to be laid down in respect of the purchasers.

As regards the memo-writers, the Union demands that their scale of pay should be from Rs. 100—200. The Company maintains that the memo-writers should be paid on commission basis at the rate of Rs. 1-8 per 100 memos. It appears that the system of payment on commission basis to the memo-writers has been discontinued for the last 5 or 6 months and at present the minimum salary of a memo-writer is Rs. 45; the maximum is Rs. 55. The commission system may lead to unwholesome rivalry and unfair practices amongst the employees. A time scale would be better suited for this category of workers and I propose that a scale of Rs. 55—3—85 should be introduced regarding them.

The minimum pay of cashier is Rs. 67 and the maximum is 100. Besides, some had to pay a security of Rs. 500 and others Rs. 1,000. For the future entrants the Company wants to introduce a scale of Rs. 50—3—80 with a cash security of Rs. 1,000. The Union demands that the scale should be from Rs. 150—300. The scale of pay of a cashier in my view should be Rs. 100—5—150. As the scale has been increased, there should be a corresponding increase in the security, which is fixed at Rs. 1,000.

The next category of employees are the cutters of whom the lowest paid gets Rs. 90 and the highest paid Rs. 150. For future entrants the Company proposes to introduce a scale of Rs. 85—5—125. The cutters' job is a very responsible one and to be skilful cutters should have a fair knowledge of art.

The Union demands that their scale should be from Rs. 150—300. This is rather high and I propose that the scale should be Rs. 100—5—125—6—185.

As regards compounders, it appears that there has not been any since January 1948. No scale, therefore, for compounders need be fixed by this Tribunal.

For darwans the Company proposes to introduce a scale of Rs. 50—5—65. At present the minimum pay of a darwan is Rs. 55 and the maximum is Rs. 80. I consider that the scale proposed is fair for darwans and I give my award accordingly.

Similarly for bearers the minimum and maximum salary of whom are Rs. 40 and Rs. 50, the scale should be Rs. 50—5—60 as suggested by the Company.

The method to be adopted for fitting each member of the existing staff into the time scale should be as follows:—First, his pay will be seen, and this will determine his place in the time-scale. This will frequently fall between two fixed points on the scale. When his next annual increment is due, he will get such increment as will bring him to the next higher point on the scale even though this may be less than the ordinary annual increment. As for example take the case of a salesman whose pay is Rs. 70. The nearest fixed points on the time-scale are Rs. 68 and Rs. 72. On becoming entitled to his next annual increment he will get Rs. 72.

I should also make it clear that in no case the emolument one actually is getting will be reduced by reason of any scale that is being introduced by this award.

The Union demands that dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 30 or 20 per cent. of the salary, whichever is higher should be allowed. The Company does not pay anything called as D.A. Everything including allowances has been consolidated in the figures given by the Company as emoluments of the employees. The cost of living index in this city has been very high and it is on the increase. The Pay Commission in view of this rise in the cost of living index recommended grant of dearness allowance to all categories of workers. I consider that Rs. 30 or 15 per cent. of the salary, whichever is higher should be granted as dearness allowance to all categories of workers.

Issue No. 5—Increment in the present salary.

The demand of the Union is that the salary of the present staff is to be increased forthwith by 50 per cent. The Company resists this demand. This demand has been raised for the first time in the written statement, long after the Order of Reference. On the 27th of October 1947, the Union sent their charter of demands to the Management and the same has been appended as "annexure A" to the written statement of the Union. In this charter we do not find any claim regarding any increment at flat rate over the existing pay of the staff. The dispute which had arisen before the 11th December 1947, which is the date of the Order of Reference, was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication by the Government. Any dispute or difference which has accrued after that date cannot be gone into in these proceedings. I am unable, therefore, to allow any increment in the present salary of the staff apart from the benefit they are getting by reason of the introduction of the grade and scale dealt with in connection with issue No. 3.

Issue No. 6—Provision for Provident Fund, gratuity and bonus.

The Company is agreeable to consider a scheme of Provident Fund in future when it is more organised. Though the Company has been converted to a limited concern not very long ago, the goodwill of the business which the founder has succeeded in creating is still an asset and I do not think that there is any reasonable ground for not introducing the Provident Fund scheme at the present time. Provident Fund system should, therefore, be introduced with a contribution of one anna in the rupee by the employees and a like amount by the Management immediately on the publication of the award.

The Union demands that the Company should grant one month's pay for each year of service to the employees either at death or at the time of retirement, as gratuity. Regarding this claim I notice that this also was not included in the original charter of demand, dated 27th October 1947, referred to above. This question also cannot, therefore, be gone into in these proceedings.

The demand of the Union is that 25 per cent. of the profit should be distributed per capita or three months' pay in the year by way of bonus. The Company resists this demand.

Bonus is an ex-gratia payment in that it is not a condition of service of the employees, but there is a growing recognition in industrial concerns that the workers who play a part in creating the Company's profit may reasonably claim a share of it by way of Bonus. As it is an ex-gratia payment and depends on the annual profit a Company may make, I leave the question of Bonus to the Management with the recommendation that it should pay an annual Bonus of one month's salary if its finances permit.

Issues Nos. 2 and 7.—Security of service and retrenchment.

The complaint of the Union under these heads is as follows:—

There is no written agreement between the employer and the employees and the employer has exercised their right to discharge their employees and terminate their services without any cause and assigning any reason whatsoever for their action. It is necessary for the welfare of the workers that in future no Assistant or worker who has to his credit service of 6 months or more be dismissed or discharged on any account other than moral turpitude. It is also alleged that the firm throws out of employment a number of workers during lean months who are employed during busy season. The demand, therefore, is that the employment be maintained at a high level all the time ensuring security of worker to the employment. I have heard the learned lawyers of both sides regarding these points and in order to ensure a greater security of service to the employees consistently with efficient discharge of their duties, I make the following observations and provisions:—

(i) Floating workers engaged during busy season when thrown out in a lean season should have preferential claim, other things being equal, at the time of new appointment if their work was found satisfactory.

(ii) There should be attempt to reduce the number of men thrown out and in case retrenchment is found absolutely necessary, the principle of last come, first go should be adopted.

(iii) (a) A man should be made permanent after 6 months service.

(b) Before dismissal or discharge of any employee, the Union should be consulted, and charges in writing should be handed over to the employee calling for an explanation.

(c) Leave in all cases granted should be in writing.

(d) The Company should frame standing orders under the Industrial Employment Standing Order Act and such standing orders should embody rules under which a worker may be discharged.

(e) Service Books of the employees should be maintained and periodical comments should be made there.

(f) When it is found necessary to retrench a man from one department, attempt should be made to absorb him in another department.

Issue No. 9.—Monthly notice.

The demand of the Union is that in case of temporary employment it should be binding on the employer to serve a month's notice on the employee or pay one month's salary in lieu of such notice. On behalf of the Management it has been stated that such practice obtains in the firm. A worker in temporary employment should be served with one month's notice if it is necessary to retrench him or should be paid one month's pay in lieu of one month's notice.

Issue No. 10.—Welfare scheme.

The Union demands that the firm should inaugurate welfare schemes for the benefit of their workers in consultation with their Union, contributing a sum not less than 10 per cent. of their net profits each year towards their maintenance. This demand is resisted on behalf of the Management which, however, has agreed to provide accommodation of a room for a club or some such organisation of the workers. The Management further agrees to make occasional contribution to such club or organisation. It has been urged for the Union that to provide against contingencies such as accidents, incurable diseases or death of an employee, the Management should make grants to the employee concerned or his successor to tide over their difficulties. This is a question concerning the generosity of the Management and a Tribunal is unable to make any direction regarding it. If the relationship between the employer and the employees be cordial, as it should be, direction of any outside authority is not necessary for charitable grants by the employer in case of genuine difficulty of the employees. With this observation, I leave this issue here.

This award should come into force from the 11th December 1947 which is the date of the Order of Reference, except with regard to the questions of re-instatement and provident fund.

I should like to express my sincere thanks to the learned counsel for the Management and the learned pleader for the Union and the representatives of the parties who assisted them for the assistance they have all given to this Tribunal during the full course of a rather protracted hearing of this dispute. The employees are very much benefited by this award and I must impress upon them that the advantages they are getting by it should be always borne by them in mind and they should exercise their utmost in discharging their duties to the public as also to the Management to the best of their abilities.

S. C. DATTA GUPTA,
Tribunal, Industrial Disputes.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJI, Dy. Secy.

ORDER.

No. 796Lab.—15th March 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department order No. 688-Lab., dated the 17th October 1947, the industrial dispute between the flour and atta mills in West Bengal specified in the schedule to the said order and their workmen represented by Howrah Zillah Flour Mills' Workers' Union, 3/1 Kali Banerji Lane, Howrah, was referred for adjudication to Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S.;

And whereas the said Mr. S. K. Sen, I. C. S., has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Mr. S. K. Sen, I.C.S., shall bind the parties concerned as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the 1st January 1948.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the 13 flour and atta mills specified in the schedule and their workmen as represented by Howrah Zillah Flour Mills' Workers' Union.

PRESENT: SHRI S. K. SEN, I.C.S., Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Mr. Shibnath Banerj, Mr. Shyampada Mukherjee and Mr. P. K. Sanyal.

For the Mills: Mr. S. C. Sen, for Mills Nos. 1 to 12; and Mr. Maniklal Pal for Mill No. 13.

Award.

This industrial dispute between 13 flour and atta mills specified in the schedule and their workmen as represented by Howrah Zillah Flour Mills' Workers' Union was referred to me for adjudication by Government of West Bengal order No. 688-Lab., dated 17th October 1947. Notices were issued in usual course on both the parties and the Workers' Union filed a written statement making the following demands:—

(1) Nationalisation of Flour Mill Industry.

(2) Minimum wages Rs. 30, Rs. 45 and Rs. 60 per month for unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled workers respectively.

(3) Dearness allowance Rs. 30 per month for all.

(4) Grade system with scale of annual increment according to the recommendation of Central Pay Commission.

(5) Provident Fund system with 8⅓ per cent. contribution from the employees and equal contribution from the employers.

(6) Old age, or retirement gratuity at one month's pay per one year's service.

(7) Cheap rate rations of all kinds and clothes.

(8) Dearness allowance for overtime work period.

(9) Double rate of payment of wages and dearness allowance for Sundays and Holidays, if worked.

(10) Sundays holidays and Saturdays' half days with full pay, and dearness allowance.

(11) One month's casual leave and one month's sick leave with full pay and dearness allowance.

(12) All Gazetted holidays with full pay and dearness allowance.

(13) Free medical treatment for workers and their dependants.

(14) House-rent as recommended by the Central Pay Commission.

(15) Recognition of the Union and its factory committees.

Subsequently the Workers' Union filed a supplementary written statement making two more demands, viz.:—

(16) Production bonus which is to be equally distributed to all.

(17) Puja bonus of not less than one month's pay annually.

The 13 mills may be classified into two categories, viz., Major Mills with a monthly capacity of 55 thousand maunds to 130 thousand maunds and the Minor Mills with a capacity of 12 thousand maunds to 40 thousand maunds of wheat products per month. The 7 Major Mills are United Flour Mills, Bengal Flour Mills, Howrah Flour Mills, Hooghly Flour Mills, Reform Flour Mills, Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills and Calcutta Flour Mills. On behalf of 5 of these Major Mills, viz., United Flour Mills, Bengal Flour Mills, Howrah Flour Mills, Hooghly Flour Mills and Reform Flour Mills, a joint written statement was filed along with the Workers' Union on 11th December 1947 stating that these 5 mills had arrived at a settlement with the Workers' Union on all but three of the demands, there being differences on three points, viz., fixation of grade system with scales of pay; details of the Contributory Provident Fund, and gratuity as claimed by the Workers' Union. Accordingly, as between these 5 Major Mills and the Workers' Union, there remained only three issues at that time. The Calcutta Flour Mills filed a separate written statement giving replies to the demands set forth by the Workers' Union and stating that the Calcutta Flour Mills was willing to accept the terms of settlement between the Workers' Union and the 5 Major Mills just mentioned. No separate written statement was filed on behalf of Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills. The representative stated that Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills would also be willing to accept the terms of settlement between the 5 Major Mills and the Workers' Union.

Of the 6 Minor Mills, five, viz., Nandan Bagan Flour Mills, New India Flour Mills, Marwari Flour Mills, Imperial Roller Flour Mills and Narikeldanga Roller Flour Mills filed a joint written statement stating that each of these mills employed less than 60 workers and the outturn was never so high as to enable the mills to earn much profit, and that further these mills did not get a regular supply of wheat and other cereals for milling and these mills had to be kept closed periodically for uncertain periods; that the mills had already increased wages of the workmen from time to time until the wages bill was about three times the bill paid in 1939 and the circumstances did not justify a further rise in the wages of the workmen, and the mills would not be able to bear the financial burden of any further rise. These mills refused to accept the other demands of the Workers' Union regarding Contributory Provident Fund, gratuity, etc. The Brahmamoyee Atta Mills filed a separate written statement, stating that the Major Mills were working under a 10 per cent. guaranteed Profit Scheme with the Civil Supplies Department of Bengal Government and that they could, therefore, afford to pay higher wages, and that further the Major Mills were of long standing, had large capital and had built up considerable reserves and that the Major Mills received considerably higher quota from the Civil Supplies Department enabling them to keep their cost of milling per maund of wheat at a low figure; and that in view of the corresponding disadvantages of the Minor Mills and particularly the Brahmamoyee Atta Mills which was started recently in 1946, the Brahmamoyee Atta Mills could not afford to pay any rise in the wages of the workmen or to meet the other demands of the workers. The Brahmamoyee Atta Mills also brought to the notice of the Tribunal that from 27th October 1947, i.e., after the date of the order appointing this Tribunal, the workers had suddenly gone on strike and had remained absent from that date until 10th November 1947; and that, in the meantime, they had picketed the mill premises and adopted violent means to stop any work being done or any people entering the premises; and that, in the circumstances, the workers could not get any wages for the strike period. The Secretary of the Workers' Union claimed verbally that the proprietor and the Manager of the Brahmamoyee Atta Mills had promised to give a maintenance allowance for the strike period and that on that undertaking the strike was withdrawn on 10th November 1947. But this point was denied by the Proprietor and the Manager of the Brahmamoyee Atta Mills.

Accordingly, the following issues were framed in this case:—

Issues.

Regarding Major Mills and Minor Mills.

1. Should there be scales of pay providing increments for workers of different categories? If so, what should be the scales of pay and how should the existing workers be fitted into the scales?

2. Should a system of Contributory Provident Fund be started in mills in which it does not exist? If so, what should be the rate of contribution by employers and employees and from what date should the contribution be levied?

3. Should the mills be required to pay a gratuity to the employees, and if so, under what terms?

Regarding Minor Mills only.

4. Would it be fair to impose the same terms as to wages and conditions of service on all the flour and atta mills regardless of their size and financial position?

5. Are the existing wages and dearness allowance paid by the Minor Mills to the workers sufficient? If not, what should be the minimum wages and dearness allowance paid to each category of workers and how should the workers be divided into categories?

6. Should the mills be required to supply rations and clothes at a cheap rate to workers, and if so, under what terms?

7. Should dearness allowance be paid for overtime work?

8. What should be the rate of payment for work on Sundays and holidays?

9. Are the daily-rated workers entitled to claim wages and dearness allowance for Sundays, holidays and half-holidays?

10. What leave should be allowed to workers and under what terms?

11. Should the mills be required to pay a house-rent allowance to workers?

12. Should the mills be required to recognise the Workers' Union?

13. Should there be any direction issued in the matter of bonus, including production and Puja bonus?

14. Should the mills be required to provide for medical treatment for workers and their dependants?

Special additional Issue for Brahmamoyee Mills.

15. Are the workers entitled to any pay or allowance for the period of strike from 27th October 1947 to 10th November 1947?

Decision.

Regarding Major Mills.

It has been stated already that before the framing of the issues, the 5 Major Mills, viz., United Flour Mills, Bengal Flour Mills, Howrah Flour Mills, Hoogly Flour Mills and Reform Flour Mills had arrived at a settlement with the Union regarding all demands but three. And accordingly issues were framed regarding the Major Mills only as to the three points on which the parties differed. At the time of hearing the parties, i.e., the 5 Major Mills and the Workers' Union, came to an agreement regarding these three points also. Thus, regarding issue No. 1, i.e., regarding grades and scales of pay, parties have agreed that workers will get an increment of one anna per day after one years' continuous service, at 2 annas per day after 5 years' continuous service and at one-anna per day after 10 years' continuous service, i.e., a total rise of 4 annas per day after 10 years' continuous service. It may be mentioned that the parties have agreed to the following scales for basic pay and dearness allowance and grades:—

Basic Pay.

(a) Unskilled at Rs. 1-2-6 per day = Rs. 30-1-0 per month on the basis of 26 working days per month.

(b) Semi-skilled at Rs. 1-6-9 per day = Rs. 36-15-6 per month on the above basis.

(c) Skilled at Rs. 2-2-0 per day = Rs. 55-4-0 per month on the above basis.

Dearness Allowance.

A uniform dearness allowance at the flat rate of Re. 0-15-3 per day = Rs. 24-12-6 per month. On the basic pay there is to be the above scale of increments in the course of 10 years. As to Contributory Provident Fund, the parties have agreed that the Companies will start Contributory Provident Fund in which both the employers and the workers would contribute at the rate of 6¼ per cent. of pay and that this should take effect retrospectively from 1st April 1947. Regarding gratuity, the parties have agreed that the question be left open for the present and that the award of the Jute Textile Tribunal regarding gratuity will be implemented by the Companies and accepted by the Workers' Union, without prejudice to the remarks regarding gratuity made by Mr. R. Gupta in his award dated 20th December 1946 in the previous dispute between these 5 mills and the Workers' Union. Accordingly, these issues are decided accordingly.

The representative of the Calcutta Flour Mills has accepted the terms settled between the 5 Major Mills and the Workers' Union subject to the alteration that in the Calcutta Flour Mills, the Contributory Provident Fund will commence from 1st January 1948. This alteration is accepted by the Workers' Union. The representative of the Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills has also accepted the terms settled between the 5 Major Mills and the Workers' Union, subject to the alteration that the date of starting the Contributory Provident Fund will be the date on which the Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills has actually started the Contributory Provident Fund. This alteration is accepted by the Workers' Union. Thus the dispute between the Major Mills and the Workers' Union is disposed of in the terms of the compromise.

Regarding Minor Mills.

Issue No. 4.

Regarding the Minor Mills, there is first the question whether it would be fair to impose the same terms as to wages and conditions of service on all the Flour and Atta Mills regardless of their size and financial position. There is undoubtedly a great difference between the Major Mills and the Minor Mills regarding their size and financial position. A statement has been obtained from the Deputy Director of Procurement and Supply, Wheat Section, regarding the monthly capacity of these mills and a statement has also been obtained as to the quota supplied to each mill in the last three years, i.e., 1945, 1946 and 1947. In the case of the Major Mills, the monthly capacity varies from 55 thousand and 130 thousand maunds of wheat products, the average being about 91 thousand maunds per month. In the case of the 6 Minor Mills, the monthly capacity varies from 12 thousand to 40 thousand maunds of wheat products per month, the average being 27 thousand maunds per month. Of these mills again the Brahmamoyee Atta Mills is the smallest, having a capacity of 12 thousand maunds only per month, and moreover it is the most recently started mills, having started work from the 1st of January 1946. The quota issued to each of these mills shows similar difference the quotas being issued roughly in proportion to the capacity of the mills. Further, it appears from the evidence of Sri Sudhangshu Kumar Ghosh Roy, Assistant in the Directorate of Procurement and Supply, Wheat Section, that an agreement was made between the Major Mills and the Civil Supplies Department by which 10 per cent. profit on the outlay was guaranteed to these mills and correspondingly when the profit was above 10 per cent, the balance above 10 per cent. was to be surrendered to the Government. This witness deposed on 27th January 1948, and at that time this agreement was still operative. It lapsed only from 1st of March 1948. It is, therefore, clear that the Major Mills had a big advantage in their favour and they could afford therefore to pay more to their workers. Moreover it is clear that the bigger mills, being long established have built up substantial reserves and that the Brahmamoyee Atta Mills in particular, of the Minor Mills has not been able to build up any reserve, vide evidence of Sri Maniklal Pal, Proprietor of the Brahmamoyee Atta Mills. On this ground, the representatives for the Minor Mills have urged that it would not be fair to impose the same terms as to wages and conditions of service on all the Major and the Minor Flour Mills. On behalf of the Workers' Union, it has been urged that a workman should receive the same wages whether he is working in a big mill or in a small mill and that a Company which cannot afford to pay fair wages to the workmen employed by it should cease to exist. I do not, however, subscribe to the extreme view taken by the representative of the Workers' Union, viz., that a Company which cannot afford to pay standard wages as recommended by the Central Pay Commission should rather close down than continue to work by offering lower wages to the workmen. It would be to the interest of the workmen themselves that the Company should continue to work even if it cannot afford to pay standard wages as laid down by the Central Pay Commission, provided that the wages given are not absolutely inadequate. On this issue I, therefore, hold that it would not be fair to impose the same terms as to wages and conditions of service on all the Flour and Atta Mills irrespective of their size and financial position.

Issue No. 5.

Next there is the question whether the existing wages and dearness allowance paid by the Minor Mills to the workers is sufficient, and if not, what should be the minimum wages and dearness allowance paid to each category of workers and how should the workers be divided into categories. Mr. S. C. Sen on behalf of the 5 Minor Mills, i.e., Nandan Bagan Flour Mills, New India Flour Mills, Marwari Flour Mills, Imperial Roller Flour Mills and Narikeldanga Flour Mills, has stated that in these mills the workers are divided roughly into two categories, viz., unskilled and skilled and that the minimum wages paid to unskilled workmen are about Rs. 40 per month and the minimum wages paid to skilled workmen are about Rs. 50 per month. He has stated further that in these 5 minor mills, the wages are consolidated, i.e., wages include basic pay and the dearness allowance and the workers are paid on the monthly system, and they are paid even when the mills are closed for want of wheat or barley for milling. But the statement filed showing the actual wages paid to the workers of the Narikeldanga Flour Mills shows that the wages paid to unskilled workmen vary from Rs. 32 to Rs. 45 per month and on behalf of the Narikeldanga Mills, Sri Dashrath Sharma has deposed and has said that the ordinary coolies are paid Rs. 32 to Rs. 35 per month. The statement of wages paid to the workmen of Marwari Flour Mills shows that no one is paid below Rs. 44 per month. For the other three mills of this group, no detailed statement of the wages bill has been submitted.

For the Brahmamoyee Atta Mills, Sri Manik Lal Pal has deposed and has said that the workers are on the daily-rated system and they are divided into three categories, viz., unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled and the minimum wages are as follows:

Unskilled	...	Re. 1 per day,
Semi-skilled	...	Rs. 1-8 per day,
Skilled	...	Rs. 2 per day, plus 8 annas per day in each case as dearness allowance or grain allowance. On the basis of a month of 26 working days, the total minimum remuneration of an unskilled worker, semi-skilled worker and skilled worker comes respectively up to Rs. 39, Rs. 52 and Rs. 65.

The total minimum remuneration agreed for the Major Mills is Rs. 54-13-6 per month for unskilled, Rs. 61-12 for semi-skilled and Rs. 81-10-6 per month for skilled workman. As compared with these wages, the existing wages in the Minor Mills are substantially lower. But it appears that the Minor Mills remained closed for a greater number of days per year owing to lack of wheat and barley for milling. Thus the Imperial Roller Flour Mills was closed for 130 days in 1947 in addition to Sundays and holidays for lack of wheat and barley for milling. Similarly it appears from the evidence of Sri Manik lal Pal that in 1947 the Brahmamoyee Mills were closed for about 40 per cent. of the working days for want of wheat and barley for milling. The 5 Minor Mills, which pay the workers on monthly system, go on paying full wages even when the mills are closed for want of wheat and barley. In the Brahmamoyee Mills the workers are on the daily-rated system, but they are paid even when there is no wheat or barley for milling. From the evidence of Sri Maniklal Pal, it appears that in 1946 some temporary workers were retrenched for lack of work, but in 1947 though the mills had to be kept closed for greater number of days, no temporary worker was retrenched for fear of labour trouble. I must accept the contention raised by the representatives of the Minor Mills that in view of the uncertain supply of wheat and barley and the fact that the mills have to be kept closed for a number of days for lack of supply and in view of the financial position of the Minor Mills, it is not possible for Minor Mills to raise the wages to the level of the Major Mills, unless the Minor Mills are permitted to stop payment when there is no work. The following suggestions were made to the Workers' Union regarding these Minor Mills, viz., that the basic wages and dearness allowance should be brought up to the level settled for the Major Mills, but the workers would be changed over to the daily-rated system, and during involuntary unemployment the following scheme of payment would be adopted, viz., 75 per cent. of total remuneration for the first 15 days and 50 per cent. of total remuneration for the second 15 days of involuntary unemployment in each half year, with no further payment if unemployment of this nature extends beyond 30 days in any half year. The representatives of the Workers' Union took time to consult the workers about this offer; and ultimately the representative of the Workers' Union said that they were not willing to accept the offer, i.e., to change over from the monthly to a daily-rated system with the above scheme of cuts during periods of involuntary unemployment in each half year. The rejection of the offer shows that actually the Minor Mills have to remain closed for lack of supplies for a good many days in each half year; and it would be unfair to bring up the wages to the level of the Central Pay Commission, or to the level demanded by the Workers' Union, unless relief can be given to the mills by reducing the wages or stopping the wages when there is no work. As it is desired to retain the present system of paying the workmen even when there is no work for lack of supplies, the workers must be satisfied with a somewhat lower pay. It has been urged that with the withdrawal of the system guaranteed Profit Scheme, there is now no difference between the Major Mills and the Minor Mills. It is true that from 1st of March 1948, the Major Mills are more or less in the same position as the Minor Mills, but the Major Mills have enjoyed the benefit of guaranteed Profit Scheme for several years and they are long established and have sufficient reserves and they are thus able to pay the workmen higher than the Minor Mills.

On the other hand, I consider the rate of Rs. 32 to Rs. 35 per month as paid to the coolies in the Narikeldanga Flour Mills as unduly low. The minimum consolidated monthly wages paid to an unskilled workman should be Rs. 45; correspondingly the minimum monthly wages for a semi-skilled worker should be Rs. 52 and the minimum consolidated monthly wages for a skilled worker should be Rs. 65 per month.

It is desirable that the workers should be divided into three categories, viz., unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled as in the Major Mills. Thus on this issue I hold that the existing wages and the dearness allowance paid by the Minor Mills are not quite sufficient in all cases; that the workers should be divided into three categories, viz., unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled, and the minimum monthly consolidated wages of workers of these categories should be Rs. 45, Rs. 52 and Rs. 65, respectively. In the case of the 5 mills which have a monthly system of payment, wages should be brought up to the minimum figures mentioned above. In the case of the Brahmamoyee Mills where the worker is paid on the daily-rated system, the existing rates for semi-skilled and skilled worker correspond to the minimum prescribed as above but for the workers of the unskilled category the daily remuneration should be increased by annas 3 pies 9 per day.

Issue No. 6.

This issue relates to the demand for supply of rations and clothes at a cheap rate to workers. In the case of Major Mills, the Workers' Union has withdrawn this demand in view of the revision of the rates of wages and dearness allowance. In the case of the Minor Mills also, I hold that the mills should not be required to supply ration and clothes at cheap rate to workers.

Issue No. 7.

This issue relates to the claim for dearness allowance for overtime work. Usually extra payment for overtime work is calculated on the basic pay and not on the dearness allowance. It has been agreed between the Major Mills and the Workers' Union that the overtime pay will include dearness allowance. I consider it desirable to enforce the same rule for the Minor Mills also, viz., that overtime pay should include dearness allowance.

Issue No. 8.

This issue relates to the claim for double pay inclusive of dearness allowance when there is work on a Sunday or any of the 6 festival holidays. The Major Mills have agreed that double pay inclusive of dearness allowance would be paid if the workers are required to work on a Sunday or any of the 6 festival holidays. That should be the rule for the Minor Mills also.

Issue No. 9:

This issue relates to the claim for payment for Sundays and holidays. If the workers are paid by the month, question of separate payment for Sundays and holidays does not arise. Even when the workers are paid by the day, there should not be any payment for Sundays and holidays, for the rate of pay for the working days has been so fixed as to make the total pay received by a worker equal to the required minimum wages for a month. Further it has been agreed with the Major Mills that there should not be payment for Sundays and holidays. Accordingly, I find that this issue does not arise.

Issue No. 10:

This issue relates to the revision of Leave Rule. The Major Mills have agreed that in one year, the workers will get 15 days' leave on full pay including the 10 holidays under the Factories Act; 15 days' sick leave on half pay and 6 festival holidays with full pay and a further leave without pay up to a month and a half may be granted at the discretion of the Mill Manager. The representative of the Brahmamoyee Mills has urged that leave should be limited to leave prescribed by the Factories Act; in other words, the workers should be allowed only 10 days' leave per year and not 15 days' leave inclusive of the 10 annual holidays under the Factories Act; but in this respect I consider the leave rules adopted by the Major Mills as fair and reasonable. And I hold that the leave rules should prevail in the case of the Minor Mills also including the Brahmamoyee Mills.

Issue No. 11.

The Workers' Union demands that a house-rent allowance should be paid to the workers. In the agreement with the Major Mills, the claim for the house-rent allowance was given up. I do not consider it reasonable that the Minor Mills should be required to pay a house-rent allowance to workers when the demand has been withdrawn in respect of the Major Mills. Accordingly, I hold that the mills should not be required to pay a house-rent allowance to the workers.

Issue No. 12.

This issue relates to recognition of the Workers' Union. The amended Trade Unions Act contains provision as to obtaining recognition for the Workers' Union and the Union should proceed to obtain the recognition following the procedure laid down by the new Act, and it is unnecessary that any direction should be given in this matter by this Tribunal.

Issue No. 13.

This issue relates to the claim in the matter of bonus including production and Puja bonus. Out of the 6 Minor Mills, Nandan Bagan Flour Mills, New India Flour Mills and Imperial Roller Flour Mills have already paid a bonus for 1947. The Workers' Union does not claim any further bonus from these mills. Narikeldanga Flour Mills have not paid any bonus for 1947. The Proprietor or the Manager of the Mills has not come to say that the Narikeldanga Mills cannot afford to pay any bonus for 1947. Accordingly, I direct that the Narikeldanga Flour Mills should pay a bonus for 1947 in the same way as the Major Mills had done, viz., it should pay a bonus equal to 21 days' pay to each worker who completed one year's continuous service with the Company and became eligible to annual holidays under condition laid down in Factories Act on the 30th September 1947 and bonus equal to 15 days' pay to workers in service from 30th September 1946 and who worked not less than 180 days during the period from 1st October 1946 to 30th September 1947. As to the Marwari Flour Mills, there has been no work in the mills from October 1947 as soap-stone was found in the mill premises and a case was started against the mills and supply of wheat suspended. Accordingly, the Marwari Mills cannot afford to pay any bonus and I cannot direct the Marwari Mills to pay bonus for 1947. As to Brahmamoyee Atta Mills, the Manager has deposed that the Mills worked at a loss in 1947 and this evidence has not been challenged. Therefore, there will not be payment of any bonus for 1947 by the Brahmamoyee Mills also.

Issue No. 14.

This issue relates to the provision of medical treatment for workers and their dependants. As to dependants, there is no law requiring the mill authorities to provide medical treatment for them. As to workers themselves, it appears that all the mills have some arrangement for attending to the workers who get ill or suffer injuries. Accordingly, no further direction is required in this matter.

Issues Nos. 1 to 3:

These issues were framed before the final settlement between the Major Mills and the Workers' Union. These issues concern both the Major Mills and the Minor Mills. The first issue relates to the question whether there should be scales of pay providing increments for workers of different categories and what should be the scales of pay and how should the existing workers be fitted into the scales. It has been mentioned already that the Major Mills who pay their workers on daily system have agreed to the following increments of pay, viz., one anna per day up to one year's continuous service, two annas per day after 5 years' continuous service and at one anna more after 10 years' continuous service. For the Minor Mills, in view of the uncertain supply position of wheat and in view of the financial position of most of the Minor Mills, it has been urged that no scale of pay providing increments should be fixed for the present. It is also pointed out that the award would be effective only for one year. In view of the fact that the Workers' Union has not accepted the proposal that the monthly workers of 5 Minor Mills should be converted into daily-rated workers as in the other Mills, there is difficulty in the way of introducing the same scale of pay in the Minor Mills as in the Major Mills, until conditions become more crystallized. I agree that it would be useless to try to fix uniform scales of pay for all the mills. Accordingly, for the present, I hold that no scales of pay providing increments for workers need be fixed in respect of the Minor Mills.

Issue No. 2 relates to the system of Contributory Provident Fund. For the Minor Mills, it has been urged that the mills have a small fluctuating labour force and there is no worker who has been in continuous service for more than 10 years; and, that, in the circumstances, it would be very difficult for the Minor Mills to start a system of Contributory Provident Fund. It is also urged that there is a Government Scheme for social insurance and that the matter should, therefore, be kept pending for at least one year to see what steps for old age benefit are taken by the Government. I agree that for the small mills with a small and fluctuating labour force, it would be difficult to start a Contributory Provident Fund; moreover, it would be difficult to ensure that the workers' contributions lying with the employers' contribution are really kept separate and are available even if the mills go into liquidation. It is also true that labour legislation as to old-age benefit is expected. Accordingly, in respect of the Minor Mills it is not necessary that there should be direction now for starting a Contributory Provident Fund.

Issue No. 3 relates to gratuity. As in the case of Major Mills it is directed that the Minor Mills should await the decision of the Jute Textile Tribunal on the point and implement the award of the Jute Textile Tribunal in this respect.

Issue No. 15.

This issue is an additional issue relating to the Brahmamoyee Mills only, and the question is whether the workers of the Brahmamoyee Mills are entitled to any pay or allowance for the period of strike from 27th October 1947 to 10th November 1947. The order referring this dispute to adjudication was passed by the Government on 17th October 1947. The strike in the Brahmamoyee Mills was started from 27th October 1947. It was, therefore, in contravention of Section 23 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Sri Manik Lal Pal on behalf of the Brahmamoyee Mills has deposed that the strike was unconditionally withdrawn by the President of the Union; and there was no undertaking that any pay or allowance for the strike period would be paid. On behalf of the Workers' Union it was suggested that the Proprietor and the Manager of the Mills had agreed to give an allowance to the workers for the strike period, but no evidence in support of the demand has been adduced I hold, therefore, that the workers of the Brahmamoyee Mills are not entitled to any pay or allowance for the period of strike from 27th October 1947 to 10th November 1947.

Accordingly, the following award is made:—

1. By agreement between the five Major Mills, viz., United Flour Mills, Bengal Flour Mills, Howrah Flour Mills, Hooghly Flour, Mills and Reform Flour Mills and the Workers' Union, as follows:

The minimum basic wages of unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled workers are fixed as follows:

(a) Unskilled at Rs. 1-2-6 per day = Rs. 31-1-0 per month.
(b) Semi-skilled at Rs. 1-6-9 per day = Rs. 36-15-6 per month.
(c) Skilled at Rs. 2-2-0 per day = Rs. 55-4-0 per month.

If any dispute arises in future regarding the classification of any worker the matter will be settled by Mr. Champalal Jatia, Mr. Sibnath Banerjee and Mr. S. C. Sen.

2. Dearness allowance is fixed at the flat rate of Rs. 0-15-3 pies per day = Rs. 24-12-6 per month. With the revision of wages and dearness allowance all foodstuff concession would cease and all workers would be charged food at controlled rates for rationed articles and cost price for non-rationed foodstuffs.

3. Grades and Scales of Pay.—All workers will get increments at one anna per day after one year's continuous service, at two annas per day after 5 years' continuous service and at one anna per day after 10 years' continuous service, i.e., after 10 years continuous service a worker will get an increment of 4 annas per day, i.e., Rs. 6-8 per month in his wages.

4. Provident Fund.—The Company will introduce Contributory Provident Fund with retrospective effect from 1st April 1947. Both employers and the workers would contribute 6¼ per cent. of the pay.

5. Gratuity.—The matter is kept pending for the decision of the Jute Textile Tribunal. The mills have agreed to implement the decision of the said Tribunal in this matter.

6. Cheap Ration.—In view of the revision of the rates of wages and dearness allowance, this demand is withdrawn by the Union.

7. Dearness Allowance for overtime work.—Overtime pay will also include dearness allowance.

8. Double rate for overtime work.—Double pay inclusive of dearness allowance will be paid for all overtime and for work on Sundays and on any of the six festival holidays.

9. Pay for Sunday.—This demand for pay for Sundays and holidays without work, is dropped.

10. Leave Rules.—In a year, the workers will get 15 days' leave on full pay including the annual holidays under the Factories Act; 15 days' sick leave with half pay and 6 festival holidays with full pay; further leave without pay up to a month and a half may be granted at the discretion of the Mill Manager.

11. Medical Aid.—This demand is dropped by the Union.

12. House-rent allowance.—This demand is dropped by the Union.

13. Recognition of the Union.—The Howrah Zillah Flour Mill Workers' Union is accorded recognition by these five Mills.

14. Bonus.—The bonus for 1947 is fixed as equal to 21 days' basic pay as on 30th September 1947 to each worker who completed one year's continuous service by that date and became eligible to annual holidays under the Factories Act by that date and as equal to 15 day's basic pay to each worker in service after 30th September 1946 who worked not less than 180 days during the period from 1st October 1946 to 30th September 1947. These mills have already paid the bonus at this agreed rate.

15. The above terms excepting the term relating to Provident Fund will come into force retrospectively from 13th October 1947.

Regarding the Calcutta Flour Mills and Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills.

The terms noted above for the 5 Major Mills will also apply to Calcutta Four Mills and Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills with the modification that in the case of Calcutta Flour Mills the Contributory Provident Fund will become effective from 1st January 1948, and in the case of Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills from the date on which the fund was actually started.

Regarding the Minor Mills, viz., Nandan Bagan Flour Mill, New India Flour Mills, Marwari Flour Mills, Imperial Roller Flour Mills, Narikeldanga Flour Mills and Brahmamoyee Mills.

1. Pay and dearness allowance.—For the first 5 Minor Mills, named above, who pay their workers on the monthly system the minimum wages including dearness allowance are fixed as follows:—

	Per month. Rs.
(a) Unskilled	45
(b) Semi-skilled	52
(c) Skilled	65

The workers must be divided into three categories—unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled. And in the case of dispute regarding the classification, the matter will be referred to Mr. Champalal Jatia, Mr. Sibnath Banerjee and Mr. S. C. Sen jointly for arbitration and their decision accepted. In the case of Brahmamoyee Mills, in which the workers are paid on the daily system, the total wages inclusive of dearness allowance will be as follows:—

	Per day. Rs. a. p.
(a) Unskilled	1 11 9
(b) Semi-skilled	2 0 0
(c) Skilled	2 8 0

In the case of dispute as regards the classification, the matter will be referred to the same three persons jointly for arbitration and their decision accepted.

2. Scales of pay.—In view of the present uncertain condition in the Minor Mills no scales of pay providing increments are fixed.

3. Provident Fund.—No direction is made on these six Minor Mills to start Contributory Provident Fund at present.

4. Gratuity.—The question is left open pending the decision on the point by the Jute Tribunal; the decision of the Jute Tribunal on the point must be accepted by the parties and implemented by the mills.

5. Cheap ration.—The demand that the mills should be required to supply ration and clothes at a cheap rate is rejected.

6. Dearness allowance for overtime work.—Overtime pay will include also dearness allowance as in the case of Major Mills.

7. Double rate for overtime work on Sundays and holidays.—Double pay inclusive of dearness allowance will be paid for work on Sunday and any of the six festival holidays.

8. Pay for Sundays, without work.—This demand is rejected, in the case of daily-rated workers. The question does not arise for monthly-rated workers.

9. Leave Rules.—The same leave rules will apply to Minor Mills as the Major Mills, viz., in a year, the workers will get 15 days' leave on full pay including the annual holidays under the Factories Act; 15 days' sick leave will half pay and 6 festival holidays with full pay; further leave without pay up to a month and a half may be granted at the discretion of the Mill Manager. The 15 days' leave on full pay will be admissible to workers who have put in one year's continuous service as defined in the Factories Act.

10. Medical Aid.—The existing arrangement for medical aid to workers will continue. No direction is made for additional arrangements.

11. House-rent allowance.—This demand is rejected.

12. Recognition of the Union.—The Union should obtain recognition under the procedure laid down by the amended Trade Unions Act.

13. Bonus.—The Narikeldanga Flour Mills is directed to pay bonus to the workers on the same scales as paid by the Major Mills, viz., bonus equal to 21 days' pay to each worker who had completed one year's continuous service with the Company on the 30th September 1947 and become eligible to annual holidays under condition laid down in Factories Act by that date; and bonus equal to 15 days' pay to workers who joined service after 30th September 1946 but worked not less than 180 days by 30th September 1947. The Marwari Mills and the Brahmamoyee Mills are not directed to pay bonus for 1947. The three other Minor Mills have already paid bonus for the year.

14. The workers of the Brahmamoyee Mills will not get any pay or allowance for the period of strike from 27th October 1947 to 10th November 1947.

15. The award as to the Minor Mills regarding wages, etc., will be effective from the 1st January 1948.

S. K. SEN,
Chairman,
Industrial Tribunal.

The 4th March 1948.

By order of the Governor,
S. K. CHATTERJEE, Secy.

ORDER.

No. 843Lab.—19th March 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 341Lab., dated the 7th February 1948, the industrial dispute between the Bengal Textile Association, Post Box No. 2169, 22, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and their employees represented by Bengal Textile Association Mazdoor Union, 90, Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sree S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sree S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 15(2) read with section 19(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sree S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge, shall come into operation and shall bind the Association and their employees aforesaid for a period of three months or the life of the said Association, whichever is earlier, with effect from the date of this order.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of Industrial Disputes between the Bengal Textile Association and their employees as represented by the Bengal Textile Association Mazdoor Union.

For the Bengal Textile Association—Dr. S. K. Gupta, Counsel, instructed by Mr. Charu Chandra Bosu, Solicitor.

For the employees as represented by the aforesaid Union—Sri Ajit Kumar Dutt, Advocate and Sri Prasun Chandra Ghosh, Advocate.

Award.

An industrial dispute between the Bengal Textile Association of 22, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and their employees, as represented by the Bengal Textile Association Mazdoor Union at 90, Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta, has been referred to me for adjudication by Government order No. 341Lab., dated the 7th February 1948.

The following points for determination will show the nature of the dispute:—

1. The question of retrenchment.
2. Increment to different category of workmen.
3. Dearness allowance.
4. Puja bonus.
5. Division of accumulated profits.
6. Gratuity.
7. General bonus.
8. House allowance.
9. Privilege leave, casual leave and sick leave.
10. Free medical aid.
11. Compensation for injury.
12. Pension.
13. Question of discharge.
14. Recognition of Union.

The Bengal Textile Association is under orders of dissolution and everything will be over in about three months. Therefore all the points about long-term arrangements fail. The only question is now to make some adjustments for the next few months. In lieu of all the demands made by the Union, by mutual negotiations it is settled that in addition to the pay or wages the persons are getting they shall, when asked to leave the Association, be paid a month's wage in addition to gratuity to the extent of a month's pay for one year's service or more and proportionately for lesser service. This payment shall also be made to those persons who have been discharged during the pendency of this Tribunal. It is also made clear that the interim bonus granted by the Association some time in October 1947, is approved. No further demand for payment of bonus or anything else shall arise. The coolies will be discharged as occasion arises and no notice in advance shall be given.

S. C. CHAKRABARTY,
Chairman, Tribunal.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 797Lab.—16th March 1948.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 76 of the Factories Act, 1934 (XXV of 1934), the Governor is pleased to make the following amendment in the Bengal Factories Rules, 1940, as subsequently amended, namely: —

Amendment.

In the Abstract of the Factories Act, 1934, and the Bengal Factories Rules, 1940, appended to the said rules-

(1) for item 7 substitute the following.

"7. No worker shall, except under any order or rule for exemption, be allowed to work in a factory on a Sunday unless he is given a holiday on one of the three days immediately before or after that Sunday; and where under any order or rule for exemption a worker is deprived of a weekly holiday, he shall be allowed a compensatory holiday as soon as circumstances permit";

(2) after item 8 add the following heading and items: —

"Holidays with pay in non-seasonal factories. 8A. Every worker in a non-seasonal factory who has completed a period of twelve months' continuous service shall be allowed, during the subsequent period of twelve months, holidays for a period of ten, or, if a child, fourteen, consecutive days inclusive of weekly holidays, if any.

8B. A worker in a non-seasonal factory shall, for each day of the period of holidays except a weekly holiday, be paid at a rate equivalent to the daily average of his wages as defined in the Payment of Wages Act, 1936 (IV of 1936), for the days on which he actually worked during the preceding three months, exclusive of any earning in respect of overtime.

8C. A worker in a non-seasonal factory shall be paid half the total pay due for the period of holidays before his holidays begin and the remainder with the first payment of wages after he resumes work.

8D. A worker in a non-seasonal factory who is discharged by his employer before he has been allowed his holidays or who, having applied for and having been refused his holidays, quits his employment, the employer shall pay him the amount payable in respect of the holidays".

No. 801Lab.—16th March 1948.—In exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (1) of section 92 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor is pleased to direct that the Coal Mines Labour Welfare Fund Act, 1947 (XXXII of 1947), shall, on and from the date of publication of this notification in the Calcutta Gazette, apply to the Darjeeling district subject to the modification that sub-section (2) of section 1 of the said Act shall be omitted.

K. C. BARMAN, Asst. Secy.

Land Acquisition

NOTIFICATIONS.

24-Parganas.—No. 2261L.A.—16th March 1948.—The following agreement is published under section 42 of the Land Acquisition Act, I of 1894, for general information.

S. BANERJEE,
Member, Board of Revenue, and Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal (ex-officio).

Agreement.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT made this thirteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and forthy eight BETWEEN THE CALCUTTA ELECTRIC SUPPLY CORPORATION LIMITED a Company incorporated under the English Companies Acts and having its registered office at Victoria House, Vernon Place, Bloomsbury Square in London, and having an India Branch Office at Victoria House, Chowringhee Square in Calcutta, (hereinafter called "the Company") of the one part and THE GOVERNOR OF THE PROVINCE OF WEST BENGAL (hereinafter called "the Governor") of the other part.

WHEREAS for the purpose of the construction of a Transformer House for the supply of electrical energy in S. N. Roy Road in Mouzah Sahapur within Thana Behala in the District of 24-Parganas, the Company has applied to the Government of West Bengal for the acquisition under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, of a plot of land containing an area of 4 cottahs 8 chittacks and 10 Sq. Ft. or thereabouts particularly described in the Schedule hereto and delineated in the plan hereunto annexed.

AND WHEREAS the said Government of West Bengal, being satisfied by an enquiry held under Section 40 of the said Act that the proposed acquisition is needed for the aforesaid purpose and that the said work is likely to prove useful to the public, has consented to acquire on behalf of the Company the plot of land hereinbefore described.

AND WHEREAS the said Government of West Bengal has required the Company under the provisions of Section 41 of the abovementioned Act to enter into the Agreement with the Governor hereinafter contained.

NOW THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH that it is hereby agreed and declared as follows:—

1. On demand the Company shall and will pay to the said Government of West Bengal all and every compensation in respect of the said land tendered paid or awarded or to be tendered paid or awarded by the Collector under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, or by the Court to which a reference under part III of the said Act may be made, or by the Court or Courts to which an appeal from the award of the said Court may be preferred and all costs, charges and expenses of the proceedings in the aforesaid Courts, or otherwise incidental to the proposed acquisition or payable in respect thereof under the provisions of the said Act.

2. On demand made by the said Collector the obligations of the Company under the last preceding Clause not being thereby limited, the Company shall and will deposit with the said Collector such sum or sums of money as in his discretion the said Collector may in anticipation estimate to be necessary for the purpose mentioned in the last preceding clause.

3. On payment by the Company of all demands under the foregoing first clause, or, in the discretion of the said Government of West Bengal (on deposit by the Company of all estimated amounts as provided in the second clause), but not before possession shall have been taken under the provisions of the above-mentioned Act, the Governor shall make over possession of the said land to the Company and shall execute and do all such acts and deeds as may be necessary and proper for effectually vesting the same in the Compay.

4. The said land shall be held by the Company for the purpose of such supply of electrical energy as is hereinbefore mentioned and purposes incidental thereto and without the sanction in writing of the said Government of West Bengal first had and obtained for no other purpose whatsoever.

5. The said Transformer House shall be completed and fully equipped in all respects ready for use within two years from the date on which possession of the said land shall have been given to the Company.

6. Should the Transformer House not be completed (and fully equipped in all respects ready for use) within the period stated in the last preceding clause or within such further period as in its discretion may be prescribed or allowed by the said Government of West Bengal or should the said land at any time thereafter cease for a period of six consecutive months to be held and used or cease to be required for the purpose or purposes provided for in the foregoing fourth clause then and in any such case, the said Government may summarily re-enter upon and take possession of the said land together with all buildings thereon, whether such buildings were erected before or after transfer of the said land to the Company, and thereupon the interest of the Company in the said land and buildings shall absolutely cease and determine.

7. On taking such possession the said Government may sell or otherwise deal with the said land and buildings as it may think proper.

(i) Should the said Government sell the land with the buildings the said Government after deducting the expenses incurred in connection with the said taking of possession and with such sale shall pay the proceeds to the Company.

(ii) Should the said Government decide not to sell the land and buildings, the said Government shall retain the said land and buildings thereon in which case the Governor shall repay to the Company the market value as on the day of re-entry of all the buildings erected by the Company and all sums received from the Company in respect of all and every compensation as provided in the foregoing first clause (less the statutory allowance of 15 per cent. and less any amount received on account of trees and buildings which are not in existence at the time of resumption), but will not repay any sums paid and received on account of costs, charges and expenses.

(iii) Should the said Government decide to sell the buildings only, upon such sale the Governor shall, after deducting the expenses of taking possession and selling, pay the balance of the proceeds of sale to the Company, together with the sum received from the Company in respect of the compensation for the land (less the statutory allowance of 15 per cent. and less any amount received from the Company on account of trees and buildings which are not in existence at the time of resumption) but will not repay any sum paid and received on account of costs, charges and expenses.

8. The Public shall be entitled to the use of the said land on the following terms, that is to say, subject to the provisions of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, and Rules made thereunder or to the provisions of any other legislative enactment or rules in that behalf for the time being in force, the public in the vicinity of the said Transformer House and in the adjoining licensed area shall, when the proposed Transformer House is completed be supplied with electrical energy from such Transformer House within the limits of the power available at such Transformer House and in pursuance of the terms of the electrical Licence granted to the Company.

9. Should any dispute or difference arise touching or concerning the subject matter of this agreement or any covenant clause or thing herein contained the same shall be referred to the said Government of West Bengal and the opinion and decision of the said Government upon such dispute or difference shall be final and conclusive and binding on the parties hereto.

The Schedule above referred to.

Students of the Evening Classes of the Government Commercial Institute and of the institutions affiliated to the Institute Board are eligible for the Special Examinations on payment of an examination fee of Rs. 5 for each subject. In Shorthand this fee entitles them to sit for two consecutive speed tests, i.e., 80 and 100 words, 100 and 120 words and so on up to 160 words per minute. For speed tests higher than 160 words per minute, they will have to pay a fee of Rs. 5 for each test up to 200 words per minute and a fee of Rs. 25 for each test at 210 and 220 words per minute.

Bona fide private candidates are also permitted to appear in these Special Examinations and the scale of fees fixed for such candidates is in every case exactly double of what is required to be paid by those appearing from the Government Commercial Institute, or from the affiliated institutions except for Shorthand Speed Tests at 210 and 220 words per minute in which case the fees payable are the same for all candidates.

Bona fide private candidates are required to obtain special permission of the Institute Board to appear in the examination. Special permission is also necessary for candidates either from the Government Commercial Institute or from the affiliated institutions who are willing to sit for Shorthand Speed Tests higher than 160 words per minute. The last date for applications for permission is 15th March 1948, as a special case for this year.

Typewriting Examination will consist of both Speed and Tabulation Tests. Candidates for Typewriting Examination are allowed to bring their own machines if they so desire for the examination.

Applications in prescribed forms available at the Institute Office together with the necessary fees as under will be required from the candidates appearing at the Calcutta Centre in this office on the dates and at the hours specified below:—

(1) Fee for Final Examination is Rs. 8 and to be paid on 19th and 20th April 1948 between 12 noon and 2 p.m.

(2) Fee for each subject in Special Examinations for candidates for the Government Commercial Institute is Rs. 5 and will be received on the 8th and 9th April 1948 between 2 and 4 p.m.

PART V—Acts of the Indian Legislature assented to by the Governor-General and Ordinances promulgated by the Governor-General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Ministry of Law.

The following Act of the Dominion Legislature received the assent of the Governor-General on the 15th December 1947, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XXXVIII OF 1947.

An Act to amend the Foreigners Act, 1946.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Foreigners Act, 1946 (XXXI of 1946), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Foreigners (Amendment) Act, 1947.

2. Substitution of "India" for "British India" in Act XXXI of 1946.—In the Foreigners Act, 1946 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), for the words "British India", wherever they occur, the word "India" shall be substituted.

3. Amendment of section 2, Act XXXI of 1946.—In clause (a) of section 2 of the said Act—

(a) for the words "Indian State" the words "acceding State" shall be substituted;

(b) for the words "Tribal areas" the words "Assam tribal areas" shall be substituted.

4. Amendment of section 3, Act XXXI of 1946.—(1) In sub-section (2) of section 3 of the said Act,—

(a) after clause (c) the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(cc) shall, if he has been required by order under this section not to remain in India, meet from any resources at his disposal the cost of his removal from India and of his maintenance therein pending such removal;";

(b) after the words "and may make provision" the words "for any matter which is to be or may be prescribed and" shall be inserted.

(2) To the said section 3 the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(3) Any authority prescribed in this behalf may with respect to any particular foreigner make orders under clause (e), clause (f) or clause (g) of sub-section (2)."

5. Amendment of section 6, Act XXXI of 1946.—In section 6 of the said Act, sub-section (4) shall be renumbered as sub-section (6), and after sub-section (3) the following sub-sections shall be inserted, namely:—

"(4) If any foreigner enters India in contravention of any provision of this Act or any order made thereunder, the prescribed authority may, within two months from the date of such entry, direct the master of the vessel or the pilot of the aircraft on which such entry was effected or the owner or the agent of the owner of such vessel or aircraft, to provide, to the satisfaction of the said authority and otherwise than at the expense of Government, accommodation on a vessel or aircraft for the purpose of removing the said foreigner from India.

(5) The master of any vessel or the pilot of any aircraft which is about to carry passengers from a port or place in India to any destination outside India, or the owner or the agent of the owner of any such vessel or aircraft shall, if so directed by the Central Government and on tender of payment therefor at the current rates, provide on the vessel or aircraft accommodation to such port or place outside India, being a port or place at which the vessel or aircraft is due to call, as the Central Government may specify, for any foreigner ordered under section 3 not to remain in India and for his dependents, if any, travelling with him."

6. Amendment of section 7, Act XXXI of 1946.—To section 7 of the said Act, the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(4) If in any area prescribed in this behalf the prescribed authority by notice published in such manner as may in the opinion of the authority be best adapted for informing the persons concerned so directs, it shall be the duty of every person occupying or having under his control any residential premises to submit to such person and in such manner such information in respect of foreigners accommodated in such premises as may be specified; and the provisions of sub-section (2) shall apply to every person accommodated in any such premises."

7. Insertion of new section 7A in Act XXXI of 1946.—After section 7 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"7A. Power to control places frequented by foreigners.—(1) The prescribed authority may, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, direct the owner or person having control of any premises used as a restaurant or as a place of public resort or entertainment or as a club and frequented by foreigners—

(a) to close such premises either entirely or during specified periods, or

(b) to use or permit the use of such premises only under such conditions as may be specified, or

(c) to refuse admission to such premises either to all foreigners or to any specified foreigner or class of foreigners.

(2) A person to whom any direction has been given under sub-section (1) shall not, while such direction remains in force, use or permit to be used any other premises for any of the aforesaid purposes, except with the previous permission in writing of the prescribed authority and in accordance with any conditions which that authority may think fit to impose.

(3) Any person to whom any direction has been given under sub-section (1) and who is aggrieved thereby may, within thirty days from the date of such direction, appeal to the Central Government; and the decision of the Central Government in the matter shall be final."

PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly; and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 65 OF 1947.

A Bill to preserve the milch and draught cattle of the country.

WHEREAS, India being agricultural country, it is expedient to preserve the cattle to help agriculture and to increase and preserve the milch and draught cattle;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Indian Cattle Preservation Act, 194

(2) It shall extend to the whole of the Dominion of India.

(3) It shall come into force on the 1st day of 1948.

2. Definitions.—In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Cattle" shall mean and include cows, bullocks, their young calves, he and she-buffaloes and their young calves.

(b) "Person" shall mean and include any Company or Association or Body of persons whether incorporate or not.

3. Stopping of cattle slaughter.—No person shall wilfully kill or slaughter a cattle either for food or any other purpose either in a licensed slaughter house or any public or private place.

4. Penalty and procedure.—(1) Any person who wilfully contravenes the provision of section 3 and kills or causes to be killed a cattle shall be punishable with fine for each such offence up to a maximum of rupees five hundred or with rigorous imprisonment for six months or with both. In addition to the above sentence the convicting magistrate may, in his discretion, at the time of the passing of the sentence for the offence under section 3 above, call upon the person convicted to execute a Bond for a sum proportionate to his means with or without sureties for abstaining from commission of such offence during such period not exceeding two years as he thinks fit to fix.

(2) The Inspector of Police or any Officer specially authorised or appointed in this behalf by the Local or Central Government shall take cognizance of the offence committed under this Act.

5. Application of the Act by Provincial Governments.—The provisions of this Act shall be made applicable by the Provincial Governments to the territories governed by them within six months of the passing of this Act by a notification in Provincial Gazette.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

India is an Agricultural country and needs draught animals. India is deficient in milk and also needs milch cattle. The cows and buffaloes and the bullocks provide these two pressing needs. It is therefore necessary to preserve and increase supply of draught animals and milch animals by stoppage of slaughter of cows, bulls, bullocks, he and she-buffaloes and calves of these animals.
